The imputed expense cost factors are provided by the Office of Personnel and Management to the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness) (OUSD(P&R)). The DFAS provides civilian employees base salary and number of employees electing health benefits by reporting entity to OUSD(P&R). The OUSD(P&R) will compute and validate the imputed expenses for civilian employees retirement and other retirement benefits and provide to the reporting components for inclusion in the annual financial statements. The imputed expense amounts in this note should equal the imputed revenue amounts in Note 17.

★101710. Note 16.J. Other Disclosures. Include other disclosures applicable to the Statement of Net Cost. For example identify material amounts of extraordinary items (gains/losses) included on line 2, Costs not assigned to Programs. Any DWCF non-recoverable costs included in Program Costs on line 1.A or 1.B. should be fully discussed in this note.

★101802. Instructions to Note 17.A. Disclose the nature and amount of significant prior period adjustments. Any amounts over $100 million should be specifically identified. The total in section A should agree with the amount on line 4 of the Statement of Changes in Net Position.

A. Changes in Accounting Standards. Include in this category those adjustments that result from changes in SFFASs or DoD application of those standards. This includes the offsetting charge for any cleanup cost liability recognized upon implementation of the standard that requires such recognition shall be shown on the Statement of Changes in Net Position as a prior period adjustment. In addition, the amounts involved shall be disclosed in a note, and to the extent possible, be categorized as current or prior periods. Under most circumstances changes in accounting standards will be recognized as current period activity. Prior period adjustments should not be made without prior approval from OUSD(C).

B. Errors and Omission in Prior Year Accounting Reports. Include in this category those adjustments that result from accounting errors and omission of data in prior year accounting records.

★C. Other. Include any prior period adjustment that is not identified in the above categories. Specifically identify any amounts reported in this category. Any component of this line that represent more than 10 percent of the value of the line should be separately disclosed.

★D. Other Information. Disclose any other information relative to prior period adjustments that is not disclosed in the above.

★101803. Instructions to Note 17.B. Disclose the imputed revenue for a civilian employee retirement and other civilian retirement benefits. The imputed revenue is equal to the imputed expense recognized in the Statement of Net Cost and disclosed in detail in note 16. I.

A. Net Amount of Budgetary Resources Obligated for Undelivered Orders at the End of Period. Disclose the net amount of budgetary resources obligated for undelivered orders as of September 30. Standard general ledger accounts 4801 and 4802 are used for this line.

B. Available Borrowing and Contract Authority at the End of Period. Disclose the amount of available borrowing authority on September 30. Standard general ledger accounts 4139 and 4149 are used for this line.

C. The statement should exclude any amounts for which The Department of the Treasury is willing to accept corrections to cancelled appropriation accounts, in accordance with SFFAS Number 1.

D. Other Information. Disclose that intra-agency transactions have not been eliminated because the statements are presented as combined and combining. Reference the disaggregated Statements of Budgetary Resources in the Required Supplementary Information section of the financial statements, if applicable. Disclose material adjustments during the reporting period to budgetary resources available at the beginning of the year and an explanation thereof. Also if applicable, the existence, purpose, and availability of permanent indefinite appropriations; and information about legal arrangements affecting the use of unobligated balances of budget authority such as time limits, purpose, and obligation limitations. Explain any abnormal balances and disclose any other information relating to the reporting entity that provides a further understanding of the entity's Statement of Budgetary Resources. In the event that the accounting records do not support the identification and reporting of eliminating entries, management is required to disclose in this footnote its best estimate of the amounts that should have been eliminated from the various lines on the consolidating statement. Disclose repayment requirements, financing sources for repayment, and other terms of borrowing authority used. Explain the amount of any capital infusion received during the reporting period. Explain any material differences between the information required by the statement and amounts described as “actual” in the “Budget of the United States Government.” Eliminating entries for this statement are deferred by the revised OMB 97-01 bulletin for FYs 1998 and 1999. A combined Statement of Budgetary Resources will be prepared and labeled accordingly.

REQUIRED SUPPLEMENTARY STEWARDSHIP INFORMATION REPORTING★1101 GENERAL110101. Purpose.

A. All stewardship information is deemed “required supplementary stewardship information” (RSSI) by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and all federal agencies are required to report RSSI. This reporting requirement is predicated on stewardship over resources entrusted to federal agencies and the responsibilities assumed by that stewardship. The need to report information in this manner is due to the unique nature of the federal government.

B. This chapter provides the Department of Defense (DoD) guidance and instructions for preparing the RSSI.

★110102. Stewardship Categories. There are three categories of RSSI (Stewardship property, plant, and equipment (PP&E); Stewardship Investments; and Stewardship Responsibilities). The DoD shall report RSSI for the categories of Stewardship PP&E and Stewardship Investments. The DoD is not required to report RSSI for Stewardship Responsibilities. For the DoD, the two applicable categories of RSSI and their subcategories follow:

A. Stewardship PP&E. Stewardship PP&E (also referred to as Stewardship Assets) is PP&E owned by the DoD that meets the definition of one the following:

1. National Defense PP&E. National Defense (ND) PP&E consists of weapon systems, components of weapon systems, mission support PP&E, and weapon systems support real property used by the DoD or its Components in the performance of military missions.

2. Heritage Assets. Heritage Assets are items of historical, natural, cultural, educational, or artistic significance or items with significant architectural characteristics.

★3. Stewardship Land. Land not acquired for, or in connection with items of General PP&E, is Stewardship Land. “Acquired for or in connection with” is defined as including land acquired with the intent to construct General PP&E and land acquired in combination with General PP&E, General PP&E’s common grounds. Land classified as Stewardship Land shall be reported as required supplementary stewardship information accompanying the financial statements of the DoD, and each DoD Component responsible for such land. Stewardship Land shall be reported in terms of physical units (acres) rather than cost or fair value. Without exception, all land provided to DoD from the public domain, or at no cost, shall be classified as Stewardship Land, regardless of its use. Therefore, public domain or no-cost land used in a General PP&E context shall be reported as Stewardship Land and not reported as General PP&E.

B. Stewardship Investments. Stewardship Investments are expenses that are part of net cost calculation and merit special treatment to highlight their substantial investment and long-term benefit nature. There are three subcategories of Stewardship Investments (Non-Federal Physical Property, Research and Development, and Human Capital). The DoD is only required to report investments in Non-Federal Physical Property and Research and Development. The Human Capital subcategory is not applicable to the DoD.

★1. Non-Federal Physical Property Investments. Investments in Non-Federal Physical Property are incurred by the DoD for the purchase, construction, or major renovation of physical property owned by state and local governments, including major additions, alterations, and replacements; the purchase off major equipment; and the purchase or improvement of other physical assets. In addition, Non-Federal Physical Property Investments includes Federally-owned physical property transferred to state and local governments.

★2. Research and Development Investments. Investments in Research and Development are included in calculating the cost of research and development programs that are intended to increase or maintain national economic productive capacity or yield other future benefits shall be reported as investments in research and development in a supplemental stewardship report. For the DoD, Budget Activities 1 through 7 contain research and development programs that are applicable to this reporting requirement.

★1102 ND PP&E

★110201. General. The Military Departments shall disclose Supplementary Stewardship Report information pertaining to their National Defense PP&E. A report (Figure 11-1), titled “National Defense Property, Plant, and Equipment,” shall be used to disclose the quantities, additions, and deletions of ND PP&E, and a report (Figure 11-2), titled “National Defense Property, Plant, and Equipment - Yearly Investment,” shall be used to disclose the annual acquisition costs of ND PP&E. Specific guidance for the preparation of each report follows.

★110202. ND PP&E - Quantities Report. The DoD Components shall report the quantities of ND PP&E for which they are accountable. The ND PP&E to be included are those assets that are in an active status, including assets in a regular maintenance cycle and assets being overhauled, refurbished, and modified. The ND PP&E that have entered the disposal cycle or are in long-term storage (e.g., mothballed ships) should not be included in the report but must be disclosed in the narrative statement to the table. The report format is shown in Figure 11-1.

A. Specific guidance for report preparation follows.

★1. Column (a). Only the categories and major types of ND PP&E shown in Figure 11-1 shall be used. Do not use a category or major type not shown. If a category or major type is not applicable to a Military Department, it shall not be displayed in the report (e.g., ships by the Department of the Air Force). Category definitions and examples of each major type of ND PP&E are included in the DoD PP&E Accountability Regulation to be issued by the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition & Technology) (OUSD(A&T)). If a Military Department identifies ND PP&E that is not properly classified in one of the specific subcategories of the major asset groupings shown in Figure 11-1, those assets should be classified as “Other” within that major asset grouping. For example, if the Navy has an aircraft which is not considered combat or airlift, then the quantities of that aircraft should be included in the “other aircraft” subcategory.

★2. Column (b). Report the quantity of ND PP&E for each major type identified in Column (a), as of the close of the prior year (or as of the beginning of the reporting year). Draft accountability guidance proposed by OUSD(A&T) may necessitate the need for DoD Components to reclassify assets reported as of the close of fiscal year (FY) 1998. For FY 1999, this column may not agree with the quantities reported for each category at the end of FY 1998. The reclassifications made between categories as of the beginning of the reporting year should be explained in the narrative statement to the table. These reclassifications should not affect columns (c) through (f).

★3. Column (c). Report the additions of ND PP&E acquired after the beginning of the fiscal year for each major type identified in Column (a).

Narrative Statement

★4. Column (d). Report the quantity of ND PP&E dispositions for each major type identified Column (a). Dispositions may include assets that have been sold, transferred, involved in accidental crashes, or lost during military conflicts. Dispositions also include the number of items transferred into the disposal cycle or long-term storage.

5. Column (e). Report the year-end balance of ND PP&E for each major type identified in Column (a). The amount in this Column (e) shall equal the amount in Column (b) plus the amount in Column (c) minus the amount in Column (d).

★6. Column (f). Report the percentage of the ND PP&E year-end balances that are operational. Operational ND PP&E is defined as those items that are mission capable. Items that have entered the disposal cycle and long-term storage are not included in this table but are reported in the narrative statement.

B. Narrative Statement. The report shall include a narrative statement that provides the following:

★1. Include the following information in the Required Supplementary Stewardship Information section verbatim for all DoD reporting entities that have National Defense PP&E Stewardship information to report for FY 1999:

As of the date these statements were prepared, the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) had not determined the final reporting requirements for National Defense property, plant and equipment (ND PP&E). Therefore, the Department of Defense (DoD) elected to report ND PP&E in FY 1999 in the same manner as ND PP&E was reported in fiscal year (FY) 1998. For FY 1998, the DoD implemented early, as encouraged by the FASAB, then proposed amendments to the Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) No. 6, "Accounting for Property, Plant and Equipment," and No. 8, "Supplementary Stewardship Reporting." Those amendments required ND PP&E quantities, condition and investment trends to be reported for major types of ND PP&E. Since the FASAB did not adopt the proposed amendments to SFFAS No. 6 and No. 8, in electing to report in accordance with the proposed amendments to the standards, the DoD is not in full compliance with the existing reporting requirements contained in SFFAS No. 8 (SFFAS No.8 requires the Department to report acquisition costs). The DoD cannot fully comply with the SFFAS No. 8 reporting requirement because many of the Department's ND PP&E accountability and logistics systems do not contain a value for all or a portion of the ND PP&E assets. These systems were designed for purposes of maintaining accountability and other logistics requirements of ND PP&E, and not for reporting on the value of ND PP&E. Consequently, many of these systems do not accumulate costs or otherwise report values for individual items of ND PP&E.

The ND PP&E cost information is captured in the DoD accounting systems and reported in the Department's "Statement of Net Costs." However, the Department's accounting systems were designed to provide appropriated fund accounting reports required by the Congress, the Department and other applicable federal agencies. In addition, the Department's accounting systems were not designed to accumulate and retain costs for individual items of ND PP&E. Further, in many instances, even where values were recorded for some ND PP&E in some of the Department's systems, documentation (such as copies of purchase receipts) no longer is available to support such amounts. In part, such documentation is not available, because until recently, the Department was not required to maintain such documents for audit purposes. According to Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter XII, "National Archives and Records Administration," receipts for the purchase of items such as ND PP&E are required to be retained for only 6 years and 3 months. Therefore, much of the supporting documentation that would be required to validate the reported values of ND PP&E for audit purposes no longer is available.

Due to the difficulties noted above, implementing the reporting requirements of the SFFAS No. 8 would be an enormous undertaking involving significant cost (requiring the expenditure of perhaps hundreds of millions of dollars). Given the complexity of the reporting requirements contained in the SFFAS No. 6 and SFFAS No. 8, the enormous cost of implementing those reporting requirements and the interim nature of the current reporting requirements, the Department is continuing its FY 1998 reporting display until such time as the Department has a better indication of the more permanent reporting requirements expected to be recommended by the FASAB. In the meantime, the Department believes that the most reasonable and responsible course of action is to report quantity information for the DoD's weapons systems until such time as the FASAB adopts permanent reporting requirements for ND PP&E.

★2. Information pertaining to significant increases or decreases in the quantities of ND PP&E, as shown in Columns (c) and (d). The information should identify or describe significant procurements and other actions, such as: excess disposals, sales, transfers, accidental crashes, losses during military conflicts, etc.

★3. Information explaining the condition percentages shown in column (f) of the report, when such percentages indicate that a significant quantity of the ND PP&E are not mission capable.

★4. Items in the disposal cycle and items in long-term storage should be disclosed separately. These items are not included in the quantities contained in this table. For items in the disposal cycle, the Components should include a discussion on the number of items disposed during the year and the expected timing of disposal of the items remaining.

★5. The narrative statement shall include a reference to the ND PP&E deferred maintenance disclosure in the required supplemental stewardship information of the financial statements.

★110203. ND PP&E - Yearly Investment Report. The DoD Components shall report their annual procurement outlays for all ND PP&E assets—not just the investment in major types of ND PP&E, as reported in Table 11-1. Annual amounts disclosed in this report shall be derived from the DoD Components' budget execution 1002 Report, "Appropriation Status by Fiscal Year Program and Subaccounts." The ND PP&E – Yearly Investment report format is shown in Figure 11-2. For FY 1999, only FY 1998 and FY 1999 investments shall be reported.

A. Specific guidance for preparing the report follows.

★1. Column (a). Only the categories shown in Figure 11-2 shall be used. Do not use a category not shown. If a category is not applicable to a Military Department or there are no acquisition costs for the reporting years, it should not be displayed in the report (i.e., ships by the Department of the Air Force). If a Military Department identifies ND PP&E that is not properly classified in one of the specific subcategories of the major asset groupings shown in Figure 11-2, those assets should be classified as "Other" within that major asset grouping. For example, if the Navy has an aircraft which is not considered combat or airlift, then the quantities of that aircraft should be included in the "other aircraft" subcategory.

★2. Columns (b) and (c). Report procurement outlays, rounded to millions of dollars, by the types of ND PP&E in Column (a) for each year. Such amounts shall be obtained from the fiscal year-end 1002 Report, "Appropriation Status by Fiscal Year Program and Subaccounts." Column (c) is the cost for the reporting year (FY 1999). Column (b) is the year prior (FY 1998).

★3. Report Footnotes. The report shall contain three footnotes. The first and second footnotes shall provide examples of the ND PP&E reflected in the subcategories of General Mission Support PP&E and Weapon Systems Support Real Property. The third footnote shall state the following "Investment values included in this report are based on outlays (expenditures). Outlays are used instead of acquisition costs, because current DoD systems are unable to capture and summarize Procurement Appropriation acquisition costs in accordance with accounting standards."

★1103 HERITAGE ASSETS★110301. General.

★A. The DoD Components shall report the quantities, additions, and deletions of Heritage Assets under their control in a Supplemental Stewardship Report titled, “Heritage Assets” (Figure 11-3). Information regarding the general condition of Heritage Assets is required in the narrative statement.

B. Heritage Assets are items that are unique for one or more of the following reasons:

- 1. Historical or natural significance;
- 2. Cultural, educational or artistic importance; or
- 3. Significant architectural characteristics.

C. Heritage Assets are generally expected to be preserved indefinitely.

★110302. Reporting Guidance.

★A. The quantity of Multi-use Heritage Assets (i.e., Heritage Asset buildings used predominantly for government operations) shall be included in the quantities disclosed in this report even when these assets are also accounted for as General PP&E.

B. Specific guidance for the preparation of the report follows.

1. Reporting Categories. Heritage Assets shall be reported by type within the two following categories:

a. Collection Type. The Collection Type category includes items gathered and maintained for exhibition such as museum collections, art collections, and archival collections. The Collection Type category contains four subcategories: Archeological Artifacts, Archival, Artwork, and Historical Artifacts. Definitions of each subcategory can be found in the a draft Accountability Regulation to be issued by the OUSD(A&T).

b. Non-Collection Type. The Non-Collection Type category includes real property PP&E that exemplify the characteristics that make Heritage Assets unique and/or are eligible for or listed on the National Register. The Non-Collection category contains four subcategories: Archeological Sites, Buildings and Structures, Cemeteries, and Memorials and Monuments. Definitions of each subcategory can be found in the Accountability Regulation issued by the OUSD(A&T).

2. Column (a). Examples of Heritage Assets within the two categories (Collections Type and Non-Collection Type) of Heritage Assets are provided in Figure 11-3. Do not list PP&E categories that are not applicable. Additional PP&E categories may be listed, as appropriate.

3. Column (b). The DoD Components must use the measurement method for each category shown in Column (a).

4. Column (c). Report the quantity in Column (a) of Heritage Assets as of the close of the prior year (or as of the first day of the reporting year) for each line. Because of the clarification to be issued in the Accountability Regulation, the Components may need to reclassify assets reported in FY 1998 between categories. For FY 1999, this column may not agree to the quantity for the category at the end of FY 1998. The reclassifications made between categories should be explained in the narrative statement to the table.

5. Column (d). Report the increase in the number of Heritage Assets by type. When an increase is significant, it should be explained in the narrative statement to the table (i.e., identify whether by donation, purchase, etc.).

6. Column (e). Report the decrease in the number of Heritage Assets by type. When a decrease is significant, it should be explained in the narrative statement to the table (i.e., identify the decrease was by sale, exchange, donation, abandonment, etc.).

7. Column (f). Report the year-end balance for each type.

8. Narrative Statement. The report shall include a narrative statement that provides the following:

a. Information on the process used to establish assets as Heritage Assets.

b. Information pertaining to significant increases or decreases in the quantities of Heritage Assets, as shown in Columns (c) and (d). The information should identify or describe significant sales, exchanges, donations, etc.

★c. Information pertaining to the condition of the Heritage Assets. The measurement of condition must be applied to the entire class and is, therefore, general in nature. The criteria used to establish the condition should be explained in sufficient detail to allow readers of the report to understand the measurement. The discussion may, for example, provide information on whether the condition of the assets is generally improving or deteriorating.

★d. A statement, if applicable, that financial information pertaining to multi-use heritage assets is included in the balance sheet.

★1104 STEWARDSHIP LAND

★110401. General.

A. The DoD Components shall disclose the quantities and condition of Stewardship Land under their control in a Supplemental Stewardship Report titled, “Stewardship Land” (Figure 11-4). Specific guidance for the preparation of the report is provided below.

★B. A military base or installation predominantly comprised of Stewardship Land may also include General PP&E land, when that land was subsequently purchased. General PP&E land shall not be reported in the Supplemental Stewardship Report; rather, the cost of that land shall be reported on the Balance Sheet.

C. Some Stewardship Land may have a dual identity, as both Stewardship Land and a Heritage Asset (i.e., a battlefield or cemetery), and should be reported in both Supplemental Stewardship Reports. Guidance for reporting Heritage Assets is provided at paragraph 1103, above.

★110402. Stewardship Land Supplemental Report. Specific guidance for the preparation of the Stewardship Land Supplemental Report follows.

A. Column (a). Report the number of acres of Stewardship Land based on the predominant use of the land. The predominant use categories are defined as follows:

1. Mission. Stewardship Land used as military bases, installations, training ranges, or other military mission related functions shall be reported as mission.

2. Parks and Historic Sites. Battlefields, cemeteries, and memorials. These sites should also be reported as Heritage Assets. Other land included as a Heritage Asset should also be reported here.

3. Wildlife Preserves. Stewardship Land on a DoD installation which is designated a Wildlife Preserve.

B. Column (b). Report the number of acres for each category as of the close of the prior year (or as of the first day of the beginning of the reporting year).

C. Columns (c) and (d). Report any changes during the reporting year. Report acreage increases in Column (c) and decreases in Column (d).

D. Column (e). Report the total acreage by category as of the end of the reporting year.

E. Narrative Statement. The report shall include a narrative statement that provides the following:

1. Information pertaining to significant increases or decreases in the acreage of Stewardship Land, as shown in Columns (c) and (d). The information should identify or describe significant sales, exchanges, donations, etc.

2. Information pertaining to the condition of the Stewardship Land.

★1105 INVESTMENT IN NON-FEDERAL PHYSICAL PROPERTY

★110501. General. The DoD Components shall disclose in a Supplemental Stewardship Report the expenses included in calculating the net cost of Investments in Non-Federal Physical Property (INPP) programs. The dollar amount of those investments shall be disclosed for the reporting year (current year) and the preceding four years. Additional years' data also may be reported if such data would provide a better indication of the nature of the investment.

110502. Definition. The INPP refers to those recorded acquisition or estimated costs incurred by DoD from the transfer of DoD property, and the purchase, construction, or the major renovation of physical property that will be or is owned by state and local governments, including major additions, alterations and replacements; the purchase of major equipment; and the purchase or improvement of other physical assets. Grants for maintenance and operations are not considered investments.

110503. Measurement.

A. The INPP shall be measured on the same basis of accounting as used for financial statement purposes, including appropriate accrual adjustments, general and administrative overhead, and costs of facilities. Amounts shall be reported in nominal dollars.

B. Cash grants related to Non-Federal Physical Property programs are recognized and reported as expenses in arriving at the net cost of operations.

C. Expenses incurred for Non-Federal Physical Property program costs, contracts, or grants with split purposes shall be reported on the basis of an allocation of the expenses. If allocation is not feasible, the investment shall be reported on the basis of the predominant application of the expense or transfer. An example of an investment with a split purpose is a grant issued to a state government to construct an armory and to conduct military construction safety research.

★110504. Minimum Reporting.

A. The annual INPP shall be reported, including a description of federally-owned physical property transferred to state and local governments. The annual investment includes more than the annual expenditure reported by character class for budget execution. The annual investment is the full cost of the investment. This information will be provided for the current year and each of the four years preceding that year. If data for additional years would provide a better indication of the investment, reporting of the additional years' data is encouraged. However, because existing DoD financial systems do not readily support reporting INPP on the same basis of accounting as used for financial statements, which include accrual adjustments, general and administrative overhead, and costs of facilities, INPP costs disclosed in this report shall be derived from alternative financial sources of the highest quality, until financial systems support the foregoing approach.

B. Reporting shall be at a meaningful category or program. The report for disclosing INPP, provided below (Figure 11-5), identifies National Defense Mission Related, Environmental Improvement, Base Realignment and Closure, and Other as the most probable categories. Disaggregation of these categories and other information may be provided in the notes to this Supplemental Stewardship Report, if the costs are significant and warrant individual disclosure.

C. In some cases, the information called for above is not available because the DoD Components have maintained records on the basis of outlays rather than expenses. For some DoD Components, to reconstruct their accounts on the basis of expense data may be impracticable. In this situation, the DoD Components shall continue to report historical data on an outlay basis for any years for which reporting is required and for which expense data are not available. If neither historical expense nor outlay data are available for each of the five years, the DoD Components shall report only expense data for the current reporting year and such other years as available.

D. Reporting shall include a description of the categories or programs involving INPP, as well as a description of programs or policies under which noncash assets are transferred to state and local governments.

110505. Non-Federal Physical Property Supplement Report. The Non-Federal Physical Property information shall be disclosed in the report format (Figure 11-5) provided below.

A. The report provides information in columnar form. The columns in the report shall provide the following information:

1. Column (a). Identify and list the appropriate categories and programs for grouping like INPP. Transferred Assets are assets that have a physical existence (buildings, land, etc.), as opposed to monetary (funds). Funded Assets result from DoD payments (funding the acquisition of an armory), as opposed to providing physical assets.

2. Columns (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f). Report the investments in state or local governments by fiscal year. Report the investments for the reporting year (FY CY) in Column (f). Report the investments for the appropriate fiscal years in Columns (b), (c), (d), and (e). Column (e) is the year immediately prior to the reporting year and is labeled "FY CY-1." Column (d) is two years prior to the reporting year and is labeled "FY CY-2." This logic continues through Columns (c) and (b), "FY CY-3" and "FY CY-4."

3. Reported INPP are not cumulative, are reported in millions of dollars, and represent only INPP incurred for the year shown in the appropriate Columns (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f).

4. Narrative Statement. A narrative statement shall be included in the report and shall contain a description of the categories and programs, including a description of programs or policies under which noncash assets are transferred to state and local governments. For transfers of noncash assets, when the value of the assets materially differs from the expense reported, the narrative statement will address this difference.

★5. The report shall also include the following language as a footnote:
 “Investment values included in this Report are based on Research and Development(R&D) outlays (expenditures). Outlays are used because current DoD systems are unable to capture and summarize costs in accordance with the accounting standards.”

★1106 RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

★110601. General. The DoD Components shall disclose in a Supplemental Stewardship Report information pertaining to their research and development programs. A report (Figure 11-6), titled “Investment in Research and Development,” shall be used to disclose expenses incurred for research and development programs.

★110602. Definition. Investment in R&D refers to those expenses incurred in the search for new or refined knowledge and ideas and for the application or use of such knowledge and ideas for the development of new or improved products and processes with the expectation of maintaining or increasing national economic productive capacity or yielding other future benefits. All material amounts of DoD R&D shall be reported in the table provided at Figure 11-6.

A. Basic Research: Basic Research is the systematic study to gain knowledge or understanding of the fundamental aspects of phenomena and of observable facts without specific applications toward processes or products in mind.

B. Applied Research: Applied Research is the systematic study to gain knowledge or understanding necessary for determining the means by which a recognized and specific need may be met.

C. Development: Development is the systematic use of the knowledge and understanding gained from research for the production of useful materials, devices, systems, or methods, including the design and development of prototypes and processes.

★110604. Measurement. The following reporting requirements are applicable to DoD R&D programs.

A. The financial investment amounts reported shall be measured on the same basis of accounting as used for financial statement purposes, including appropriate accrual adjustments, general and administrative overhead, and costs of facilities. Amounts shall be reported in nominal dollars.

B. The R&D amounts are also recognized and reported as expenses in arriving at the net cost of operations.

C. By not later than FY 2000, the DoD Components shall provide information on the outcomes for the R&D programs for which investments are reported. If outcome data are not available, the outputs that best provide indications of the intended program outcomes shall be used until outcome data are available. Definitions and characteristics of outputs and outcomes follow.

1. Output. When appropriate, significant and substantial scientific outputs shall be presented as a tabulation, calculation, or recording of activity or effort that can be expressed in an aggregated and brief quantitative or qualitative manner. Outputs shall have two key characteristics: (1) an output shall be systematically or periodically captured through an accounting or management information system, and (2) there shall be a logical connection between the reported measure and the R&D program's purpose. In research and development programs, this could consist of data for the year concerning the number of new projects initiated, the number continued from the prior year, the number completed and the number terminated. It also could consist of such quantitative measures as bibliometrics (for example, publication counts, citation counts and analysis, and peer evaluation); patent counts and analysis; science indicators that assess the ongoing vitality of the research.

2. Outcome. When appropriate, outcomes shall be presented in a aggregated and brief manner as an assessment of the results of a program compared to its intended purpose. Because of the difficulty of measuring the results of research and development programs in financial, economic, or quantitative terms, outcome data for such programs shall consist of a narrative discussion of the major results achieved by the program during the year, such as:

a. Basic Research. An identification of any major new discoveries that were made during the year.

b. Applied Research. An identification of any major new applications that were developed during the year.

c. Development. The progress of major developmental projects including the results of projects completed or otherwise terminated during the year and the status of projects that will continue.

3. Outcome information should be concisely written in a plausible manner for judging the extent to which the program is achieving its purpose.

★110605. Reporting Requirements.

★A. The DoD Component shall report the R&D made in the year ended this reporting period, as well as the investments in the 4 years preceding that year. In those unusual instances when there is no historical data, only the current reporting year data shall be reported. Reporting shall be at the category levels indicated in Figure 11-6. At a minimum, DoD components should report the FY 1998 amounts reported last in addition to the FY 1999 amounts. Reporting shall be at the category levels indicated in Figure 11-6.

★B. Existing DoD financial systems do not readily support reporting R&D on the same basis of accounting as used for financial statements, which include accrual adjustments, general and administrative overhead, and costs of facilities. Until financial systems support the foregoing approach, R&D costs disclosed in this report shall be derived from R&D outlays reflected in budget execution 1002 reports, "Appropriation Status by Fiscal Year Program and Subaccounts." Only unreimbursed costs that are direct to the reporting Component shall be reported. The 1002 report categories are provided below.

1. Basic Research. In the DoD budget, Basic Research is categorized as Budget Activity 1. Basic Research is defined as systematic study directed toward greater knowledge or understanding of the fundamental aspects of phenomena and of observable facts without specific applications towards processes or products in mind.

a. Explanation. Basic Research includes all efforts of scientific study and experimentation directed toward increasing fundamental knowledge and understanding in those fields of the physical, engineering, environmental, and life sciences related to long-term national security needs. It provides farsighted, high payoff research that provides the basis for technological progress. It forms a part of the base for: (a) subsequent applied research and advanced technology developments in Defense-related technologies, and (b) new and improved military functional capabilities in areas such as communications, detection, tracking, surveillance, propulsion, mobility, guidance and control, navigation, energy conversion, materials and structures, and personnel support.

2. Applied Research. In the DoD budget, Applied Research is categorized as Budget Activity 2. Applied Research is defined as systematic study to gain knowledge or understanding necessary to determine the means by which a recognized and specific need may be met. It is a systematic application of knowledge toward the production of useful materials, devices, and systems or methods, including design, development, and improvement of prototypes and new processes to meet specific requirements.

a. Explanation. Applied Research translates promising Basic Research into solutions for broadly defined military needs, short of development projects. This type of effort may vary from systematic mission-directed research beyond that in basic research to sophisticated bread-board hardware, study, programming and planning efforts that establish the initial feasibility and practicality of proposed solutions to technological challenges. It includes studies, investigations, and nonsystem specific technology efforts. The dominant characteristic of this category of effort is that it be pointed toward specific military needs with a view toward developing and evaluating the feasibility and practicability of proposed solutions and determining their parameters.

3. Development. Development is a systematic use of the knowledge or understanding gained from research, directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, or methods, including the design and development of prototypes and processes. Investments in Development shall be subdivided into a five-line presentation. The five lines correlate to the following budget activity categories: Budget Activity 3, Advanced Technology Development; Budget Activity 4, Demonstration and Validation; Budget Activity 5, Engineering and Manufacturing Development; Budget Activity 6, Research, Development, Test and Evaluation Management Support; and, Budget Activity 7, Operational System Development.

a. Advanced Technology Development. Includes all efforts that have moved into the development and integration of hardware for field experiments and tests. The results of this type of effort are proof of technological feasibility and assessment of operability and producibility rather than the development of hardware for service use. Projects in this category have a direct relevance to identified military needs. Advanced Technology Development is used to demonstrate the general military utility or cost reduction potential of technology when applied to different types of military equipment or techniques. Advanced Technology Development also includes evaluation and synthetic environment and proof-of-principle demonstrations in field exercises to evaluate system upgrades or provide new operational capabilities. Projects in this category do not necessarily lead to subsequent development or procurement phases.

b. Demonstration and Validation. The demonstration and validation (Dem/Val) phase includes all efforts necessary to evaluate integrated technologies in as realistic an operating environment as possible to assess the performance or cost reduction potential of advanced technology. The Dem/Val phase is system specific and also includes advanced technology demonstrations that help expedite technology transition from the laboratory to operational use.

c. Engineering and Manufacturing Development. Includes those projects in engineering and manufacturing development for Service use but which have not received approval for full-production.

d. Research, Development, Test and Evaluation Management Support. Includes R&D effort directed toward support of installations or operations required for general research and development use. Included would be test ranges, military construction, maintenance support of laboratories, operation and maintenance of test aircraft and ships, and studies and analyses in support of the research and development program.

e. Operational System Development. Includes those development projects in support of development acquisition programs or upgrades still in engineering and manufacturing development, but which have received Defense Acquisition Board or other approval for production, or production funds have been included in the DoD budget submission for the budget or subsequent fiscal year.

C. A narrative description of the major research and development programs, those considered significant and substantial, shall be included in the notes. The narrative will address significant and substantial scientific elements or projects that compose the major programs contained in the report.

A. The report provides information in columnar form. The columns in the report shall provide the following information:

1. Column (a). The report for disclosing R&D, provided below (Figure 11-6), identifies categories and subcategories. Information shall be provided for the categories illustrated in Figure 11-6. When appropriate, additional meaningful category or program information may be provided in the narrative statement.

2. Columns (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f). Report the investments for the reporting year (FY CY) in Column (f). Report the investments for the appropriate prior fiscal years in Columns (b), (c), (d), and (e). Column (e) is the year immediately prior to the reporting year and is labeled “FY CY-1.” Column (d) is two years prior to the reporting year and is labeled “FY CY-2.” This logic continues through Columns (c) and (b), “FY CY-3” and “FY CY-4.”

3. Reported R&D are not cumulative, are reported in millions of dollars, and represent only investments incurred for the year shown in the appropriate Columns (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f).

4. A narrative statement shall be included in the report and shall contain a description of significant and substantial scientific accomplishments or program discontinuance for each category identified in Figure 11-6. These disclosures shall be developed so as to satisfy the outputs and outcomes requirements discussed above.

REQUIRED SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION1201 DISAGGREGATED STATEMENT OF BUDGETARY RESOURCES

120101. Disaggregated Statements of Budgetary Resources must be prepared and reported in the Required Supplementary Information section of the financial statements as described below. The format of the disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources will follow the format in Section 0701 of this Volume. The Office of Management and Budget does not require consolidated and consolidating statements of budgetary resources. Therefore, the Department of Defense (DoD) has elected to prepare for fiscal year (FY) 1999 a combined Principal Statement of Budgetary Resources and a combining Disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources. The statements will be appropriately titled combined or combining.

A. DoD Agency-Wide Disaggregated Statement of Budget Resources. The DoD Agency-wide Statement of Budgetary Resources will be disaggregated into nine appropriation/fund account groupings. Provide column headings and breakout by: (1) Military Personnel; (2) Operations and Maintenance; (3) Procurement; (4) Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation (RDT&E); (5) Military Construction/Family Housing; (6) Military Retirement Trust Fund; (7) Other General Fund Accounts; (8) Civil Works; and (9) Working Capital Fund (WCF) (see Table 12-1).

B. Military Department General Funds (GF) Disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources. The Department of the Army General Funds (GF), Department of the Navy GF, and the Department of the Air Force GF will be disaggregated into six appropriation/fund groupings. Provide column headings and breakout by: Military Personnel, Operations and Maintenance, Procurement, RDT&E, Military Construction/Family Housing, and Other GF Accounts (see Table 12-1).

C. Military Retirement Trust Fund and US Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) Disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources. A disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources for the Military Retirement Trust Fund is not applicable; and the US Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) Civil Works may disaggregate as appropriate the Treasury Index 96 accounts in the stand-alone USACE financial statements.

D. WCF Disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources. The stand-alone Army WCF, Navy WCF, and Air Force WCF will be disaggregated by business activity (see Table 12-2).

E. Narrative Information. Include the following language as the first disclosure under narrative information. "The Department has identified the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) performance measures based on missions and outputs. However, the Department is unable to accumulate costs for major programs based on those performance measures, because its financial processes and systems were not designed to collect and report this type of cost information. Until the process and systems are upgraded, the Department will break out programs by its nine major appropriation groupings.”

★120102. Appropriation Groupings for the Disaggregated Statement of Budgetary Resources. The following Table 12-1 identifies the appropriation and fund accounts to be included in the disaggregated groupings for the DoD Agency-wide and stand-alone Army GF, Navy GF, and Air Force GF, Statements of Budgetary Resources.

★1202 DEFERRED MAINTENANCE REQUIRED SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION. The DoD is required to disclose in annual financial statements material amounts of deferred maintenance on property, plant, and equipment (PP&E). This reporting requirement is prescribed in the Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) No. 6, “Accounting for Property, Plant, and Equipment” and the Statement of Recommended Accounting Standards (SRAS) No. 14, “Amendments to Deferred Maintenance Reporting.”

★120201. Policy. Implementation Strategy A.6., “PP&E Deferred Maintenance,” requires the Department to report:

A. Deferred maintenance amounts reported by the DoD Components in the budget process for General PP&E Real Property, and

B. Depot-level deferred maintenance amounts reported by the DoD Components in the budget process for National Defense PP&E.

★120202. General Disclosure Requirements.

A. The Department has material amounts of deferred maintenance for General PP&E Real Property and National Defense PP&E at the depot level. The Department’s amount of deferred maintenance for the General PP&E Personal Property, Heritage Assets, or Stewardship Lands are not material. Therefore, the DoD Components, as applicable, shall prepare two tables:

1. General PP&E Real Property Deferred Maintenance Table, and
2. National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table.

★120203. Narrative Statement. The narrative statement must disclose and describe the method used to determine the estimated amounts of deferred maintenance and information on asset condition. In addition, the component must disclose that it has no material amounts of deferred maintenance for General PP&E Personal Property, Heritage Assets, or Stewardship Lands.

B. Instructions.

★ 1. General PP&E Real Property Deferred Maintenance. The DoD Components shall report in the table (Figure 12-1) material amounts of deferred maintenance on General PP&E Real Property assets.

a. If a DoD Component does not have any material deferred maintenance amounts for real property, the table may be replaced by a brief statement indicating that the DoD Component does not have any material deferred maintenance on its PP&E assets.

★ b. Real Property assets will be reported by the three major classes shown (Buildings, Structures, and Land).

2. Multi-Use Heritage Assets Deferred Maintenance. If deferred maintenance amounts for multi-use heritage assets are included in the buildings and structures major classes, a comment in the narrative statement shall disclose this fact.

3. Real Property Deferred Maintenance. The real property deferred maintenance amounts disclosed in the table shall be consistent with the amounts reflected in:

a. Budget Exhibit OP-27, Backlog of Maintenance and Repair. Reduce the budget exhibit amounts by the cost of demolition that is included in those amounts;

b. Any other budget exhibits in which real property deferred maintenance is reported, regardless of appropriation or funding by a WCF.

4. Budget Authority. Guidance for the preparation of these budget exhibits is contained in Volume 2 of this Regulation. Although the updated budget exhibits are not due to the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) until January, the DoD Components must ensure that the same amounts reported in the updated budget exhibits also are reported in the General PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table. According to the schedule contained in Chapter 2 of this Volume, the financial statements must be prepared and submitted to the DoD Chief Financial Officer by November 15, 1999. Therefore, it is imperative that the DoD Components move up their schedules for preparation of the updated budget exhibits to ensure that the deferred maintenance amounts are available for this reporting requirement.

★5. Condition Assessment Survey Method. A narrative statement shall be included with the table to explain the method used to value the deferred maintenance amounts, any changes to the method that may have taken place, and a description of requirements or standards for acceptable operating condition. In addition, the narrative statement will disclose the original date of the maintenance forecast and an explanation for any changes to the forecast, prior year balance of the cumulative deferred maintenance amounts, dollar amount of maintenance that was defined by the professionals who designed, built or managed the PP&E as required maintenance for the reporting period, dollar amount of maintenance actually performed during the period, difference between the required amount and the performed amount, adjustments to the scheduled amounts deemed necessary by the managers of the PP&E and the ending cumulative balance for the reporting period for each major class of asset experiencing deferred maintenance.

★6. Real Property Condition Information. Information on the condition of the real property shall be included. Condition information may be presented using: (1) averages of standardized condition rating codes, (2) percentage of assets above, at or below acceptable condition, (3) narrative information, or (4) any other method management believes useful. Figure 12-1 may be modified to display this information.

B. Instructions. The Military Departments shall report in a table (Figure 12-2) material amounts of deferred maintenance on National Defense PP&E assets.

1. National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance. Implementation Strategy A.6. requires that the deferred maintenance amounts reported in the updated (January time frame) Budget Exhibit OP-30 that accompanies the President's Budget be used to report amounts in the National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table (Figure 2).

a. Guidance for the preparation of the OP-30 Exhibit is contained in Volume 2 of this Regulation. Although the updated Budget Exhibit OP-30 is not due to the OUSD(C) until January, the Military Departments must ensure that the same amounts reported in the updated OP-30 also are reported for deferred maintenance in National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table. According to the schedule contained in Chapter 2 of this Volume, the financial statements must be prepared and submitted to the DoD Components by November 19, 1999. Therefore, it is imperative that the Military Departments move up their schedules for preparation of the updated Budget Exhibit OP-30 to ensure those amounts are available for this reporting requirement.

b. The prior fiscal year dollar amounts contained in the “Total Unfunded Requirement” column of the Budget Exhibit OP-30, titled “Summary of Unfunded Deferred Requirements,” shall be used.

★ c. The amounts reflected in the Budget Exhibit OP-30 are reported by lower level categories (i.e., for Aircraft: Airframe Maintenance, Engine Maintenance, Software Maintenance, and Other Maintenance) than the categories reflected in the National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table. Therefore, such amounts shall be rolled up to reflect the major asset type categories in Figure 12-2.

d. The Military Departments shall consolidate the amounts disclosed in their National Defense PP&E Deferred Maintenance Table to include the amounts reported in the Budget Exhibits OP-30 for their Reserve and Guard Components.

2. Narrative Statement. A narrative statement shall be included with the table to explain the method used to value the deferred maintenance amounts, any changes to the method that may have taken place, and a description of requirements or standards for acceptable operating condition.

3. National Defense PP&E Condition Information. Information on the condition of the National Defense PP&E shall be included. Condition information may be presented using: (1) averages of standardized condition rating codes; (2) percentage of assets above, at or below acceptable condition; (3) narrative information; or (4) any other method management believes useful. Figure 2 may be modified to display this information.

1203 SEGMENT INFORMATION

120301. Reporting entities are required to provide specific information for each franchise fund or other intragovernmental support revolving fund that is not separately reported on the entity’s principal statements.

120302. Within DoD segment information is to be provided for each of the WCF organizations that are not required to report as individual entities. Segment information is required for: (1) the Defense Information Systems Agency, (2) the Defense Commissary Agency, Defense Logistics Agency, Defense Finance and Accounting Service, and (3) the Joint Logistics Systems Command. In addition, segment information must also be provided for other significant revolving funds operated with the Department’s appropriated funds.

120303. Required Information.

A. Fund Description. A brief description of the services provided by the fund and the identity of the funds major customers (major customers are organizations that account for more than 15 percent of the fund’s revenues).

B. Assets and Liabilities. Condensed information about assets, liabilities, and net position showing, as of the reporting date: (1) fund balance, (2) accounts receivable,

(3) PP&E, (4) other assets, (5) liabilities due and payable for goods and services received, (6) deferred revenues, (7) other liabilities, and (8) cumulative results of operations.

C. Revenue and Expenses. A summary, for the reporting period, by product or line of business of: (1) the full cost of goods and services provided, (2) the related exchange revenues, and (3) the excess of costs over exchange revenues.

D. Reporting Format. The required format for providing the required segment information is contained in Figure 12-1, below.

★1204 INTRAGOVERNMENTAL TRANSACTIONS FROM THE CONSOLIDATING TRIAL BALANCE

120401. Information on intragovernmental balances must be provided in the Required Supplemental Stewardship Information (RSSI) section of the financial statements. The following schedules will be included in all DoD annual financial statement reports.

A. Intragovernmental balances. Report, as required supplemental information, intragovernmental balances for assets and liabilities. Certain reporting entities shall also report intragovernmental revenues and the full cost of generating intragovernmental revenues. Except for the full cost of generating intragovernmental revenues, partner agencies shall be presented for each intragovernmental balance presented. The schedules of intragovernmental balances may be prepared for the consolidated agency-wide financial statements only and all balances should be net of intraentity transactions.

B. FY 1999 Reporting. For fiscal year 1999 financial statements, reporting entities are encouraged to reconcile asset and liability balances reported in these schedules with related balances at the listed partner agency. Balances reported in the “Other” categories of the schedules may be excluded from reconciliation.

C. FY 2000 Reporting. For fiscal year 2000, reporting entities shall reconcile intra-governmental balances with their partner agencies at least quarterly, starting with the quarter ending March 31, 2000. The Department of the Treasury, Financial Management Service, will provide guidance for reconciling intragovernmental transactions in its Intragovernmental Accounting Guide.

120402. Intragovernmental assets. Intragovernmental assets reported in this schedule should agree with the intra-governmental asset line items and totals on the reporting entity’s consolidated agency-wide balance sheet. For purposes of this presentation, reporting entities may aggregate partner agencies whose individual totals for a particular asset category collectively comprise less than 20 percent of the total asset category. For example, assume a reporting agency has the following intragovernmental assets: Fund Balance with Treasury-$200; Accounts Receivable-$100 (Treasury-$82, Agency A-$9, Agency B-$9); Investments-$100 (Treasury-$9, Agency A-$50, Agency B-$41); and Other-$15 (Treasury-$5, Agency A-$5, Agency B-$5). In this case, the reporting entity’s intragovernmental assets schedule may be presented as follows (this example is for illustrative purposes only):

★ 120404 Intragovernmental revenues and related costs: For fiscal year 1999, agencies with total intragovernmental revenues (net of intraentity activity) greater than $2 billion shall report such intragovernmental revenues by trading partners. For fiscal year 2000, agencies with total intragovernmental revenues (net of intraentity activity) greater than $500 million will be required to report such revenues. For purposes of this presentation, reporting entities may aggregate partner agencies whose individual totals for a particular revenue category collectively comprises less than 20 percent of the total revenue category. Agencies reporting intragovernmental revenues should also report the full cost of goods, services, and other transactions, which generated the intragovernmental revenues. For example, a providing/selling agency should report the full cost of providing products or services to an acquiring agency. A federal agency that acquires revenue from another federal agency should report the costs or expenses, which generated the revenue.

DISCLOSURE CHECKLIST1401 GENERAL

This disclosure checklist was prepared to assist preparers of federal financial statements by providing a list of disclosures required by the Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS). It is not a comprehensive or an authoritative list of required disclosures. The standards and the other provisions of this Volume provide that guidance. Furthermore, it does not address the portion of the standards that provide guidance for the recognition and measurement of information contained in the principal statements and related notes. The checklist begins by listing the SFFAS and their effective dates. It then presents each SFFAS in order, identifies the subtopic for which disclosure is required, cites the SFFAS paragraph number, refers to the section of this Volume that addresses the disclosure requirement, and describes the category in which the information is to be disclosed.

140101. The following provides an explanation of the information included in the columns of the crosswalk (all balances are preclosing balances, except where noted):

- Column (1) SFFAS, represents the SFFAS that addresses the disclosure identified in column (5),
- Column (2) Subject Area, identifies the title of a subject area within one of the SFFASs,
- Column (3) SFFAS Para. No., identifies the SFFASs paragraph number that addresses the disclosure contained in column (5),
- Column (4) DoD Financial Management Regulation (DoDFMR) Volume 6B Chapter, identifies the “DoDFMR” Volume 6B Chapter that address the disclosure identified in column (5),
- Column (5) Disclosure Requirement, identifies the specific disclosure requirements,
- Column (6) Fin. Stmt., an “X” or comment in this column indicates the disclosure is contained on one of the principal statements.
- Column (7) Footnote, an “X” or comment in this column indicates the disclosure is contained on one of the footnotes,
- Column (8) Required Supplementary Stewardship Information (RSSI), an “X” or comment in this column indicates the disclosure is contained on one of the RSSI section of the financial statements,
- Column (9) Required Supplementary Information (RSI) & Other Accompanying Information (OAI), an “X” or comment in this column indicates the disclosure is contained on one of the RSI section or in the OAI section of the financial statements.

7	Exchange Revenue	46 & 47	Chapter 10, Section 1017, Note 16	Each reporting entity that provides goods or services to the public or another government entity should disclose the following: (1) Differences in pricing policy from the full cost or market pricing guidance in Office of Management and Budget Circular A-25, "User Charges," for exchange transactions with the public. (2) Exchange transactions with the public in which prices are set by law or executive order and are not based on full cost or on market price. (3) The nature of intragovernmental exchange transactions in which the entity provides goods or services at a price less than the full cost or does not charge a price at all, with explanations of the amount and reason for disparities between the billing and the full cost. (4) The full amount of the expected loss when specific goods are made to order under a contract, or specific services are produced to order under a contract, and a loss on the contract is probable and measurable. When disclosing (1) and (2), cautionary language should be added to the effect that higher prices based on full cost or market price might reduce the quality of goods or services		X		X

RECONCILIATION REQUIREMENTS FOR THE ANNUAL FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The following are the required reconciliations. The first section shows the reconciliations within the annual financial statements (i.e., Balance Sheet to Balance Sheet or Balance Sheet to Statement of Changes in Net Position). The remaining three sections are reconciliations between the annual financial statements and the Report on Budget Execution, the Accounting Report (M) 1307, and the Report on Reimbursements (DD 725).

In each section, the lines listed under the left column should equal the statements and lines listed under the right column. Special considerations will be noted at the beginning of a section as well as throughout the section.

FOREWORD

This Volume of the "Department of Defense Financial Management Regulation" is issued under the authority of DoD Instruction 7000.14, "DoD Financial Management Policy and Procedures," dated November 15, 1992. It governs financial management by establishing and enforcing requirements, principles, standards, systems, procedures, and practices necessary to comply with financial management statutory and regulatory requirements applicable to the Department of Defense. It directs financial management requirements, systems and functions for all appropriated, working capital, revolving, and trust fund activities. In addition, it directs statutory and regulatory financial reporting requirements.

Military Pay Policy and Procedures is divided into three volumes: Volume 7A, "Military Pay Policy and Procedures Active Duty and Reserve Pay," Volume 7B, "Military Pay Policy and Procedures for Retired Pay," and Volume 7C, "Special Military Pay/Personnel Programs and Operating Procedures." This Volume, Volume 7A, describes active duty and reserve component military pay and allowances entitlements.

This Volume of the Regulation applies to the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Military Departments, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, and the DoD Field Activities (hereafter referred to collectively as "DoD Components").

This Volume of the Regulation is effective immediately and is mandatory for use by all DoD Components. Heads of DoD Components shall ensure that it is adhered to in day-to-day operations and in the design, modification, and maintenance of their Components' financial management and reporting system or systems. The Heads of DoD Components shall not issue supplementary directives/regulations without prior written approval of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller).

The reporting requirements in this Regulation are exempt from licensing in accordance with paragraph E.4.f. of DoD 8910.1-M, "DoD Procedures for Management of Information Requirements," November 1986.

Recommended changes to and requests for deviations from or exceptions to the provisions of this Volume of the Regulation should be forwarded through appropriate chain of command channels, along with specific justification, to:

Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) Deputy Chief Financial Officer
1100 Defense Pentagon
Washington, DC 20301-1100

All 15 volumes of the "DoD Financial Management Regulation" are available on the Internet at <http://www.dtic.mil/comptroller/fmr/>. Printed or CD-Rom copies of the Regulation may be purchased through the Internet Homepage or directly from the Defense Automated Printing Service at 1401 S. INTRODUCTION
TO DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT REGULATION

1. Purpose. This regulation provides statutory provisions for entitlements, deductions, and collections, and establishes Department of Defense policy on the pay and allowances of military personnel. It is issued by the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) in coordination with the Director, Defense Finance and Accounting Service.

2. Applicability. The provisions of this regulation apply to all Department of Defense activities. The regulation is issued for the information, guidance, and compliance of all personnel in the administration of military pay. It is the sole entitlement implementation by the Military Services. The regulation supersedes existing directives on military pay entitlement.

3. Relationship to Other Directives. Use this regulation with the systems and procedural pay directives of each of the Military Services. Appropriate references are included in the regulation text. Travel allowance entitlements are not included, as these instructions are covered by the Joint Federal Travel Regulations (JFTR) and Service directives.

4. Arrangement of Text:

a. Format. This regulation consists of one Volume with sixty-four chapters. The chapters are grouped as follows:

Chapters 01 through 21 -- Basic and Special Pay.

Chapters 22 through 24 -- Incentive Pay.

Chapters 25 through 31 -- Allowances.

Chapters 32 through 37 -- Miscellaneous Payments.

Chapters 38 through 40 -- Payment of Service Academy Cadets, Midshipmen, Academy Officials, and Aviation Cadet and Service Academy Preparatory School Students.

Chapters 41 through 43 -- Allotments of Pay.

Chapters 44 through 54 -- Deductions and Collections.

Chapters 55 through 64 -- Pay and Allowances for Members of the Reserve Components (Not on Extended Active Duty) and ROTC.

Supersedes DoD 7000.14-R, Volume 7, DoD Financial Management Regulation, 1 July 1996, Interim changes 5-96 thru 13-97.

No. of Printed Pages: 763

b. Appendices. Appendices such as comparable grades, comparable terms, etc., follow the text of the regulation.

c. Contents Page. A contents page, which lists contents of the regulation down to section level, precedes the introduction.

d. Numbering Paragraphs and Pages:

(1) For the system used for numbering paragraphs, please see page xviii.

(2) In correspondence, messages, etc., refer to this regulation as DoDFMR, Vol 7A by paragraph number (subparagraph or DLT if appropriate). For example: "DoDFMR, Vol 7A, subparagraph 080104.A."

e. Use of Decision Logic Tables (DLT). Decision logic tables have been used throughout the regulation to simplify technical instructions.

(1) Format. DLTs usually contain the following parts:

(a) Table heading to identify the type of instruction.

(b) Column headings, alphabetically designated. A heavy black line separates condition column headings from action column headings.

(c) Condition and action statement rules, numerically designated. A heavy black line separates condition and action headings from condition and action statement rules.

For example:

TABLE HEADING
R U L E	A	B	C	D	E
	Column Heading	Column Heading	Column Heading	Column Heading	Column Heading

(2) Reading DLTs. Follow this sequence in reading DLTs:

(a) Table heading, to identify instructions.

(b) Heading for column A, which leads you to the condition statements that describe the problem you are solving. Condition statements may be an extension of data in column headings, or may be limited to "X" or "Y" or "N." "Y" means yes. "N" means no. If the condition does not apply for that rule, the condition statement is left blank.

(c) If additional conditions are to be considered, you will know this from column headings B, C, etc.

(d) Then follow the rule line for the conditions describing your precise problem to the specific action statement which applies. Action statement may be an extension of data in action column headings, or may be limited to an "X." "X" means "take this action." The action statement is left blank if that action does not apply, or you are not to take that action.

5. Revisions:

a. Regular Changes. Revisions will be published by means of dated changes to the regulation. New or revised instructions appearing on the pages of a change are indicated by a star placed immediately before the new or revised paragraph, subparagraph, DLT, etc., and are listed in the Summary of Changes.

b. Interim Changes. All changes requiring rapid dissemination will be made by normal means employed by the Service concerned. Such instructions will be formalized and incorporated in the next regular change to the regulation.

c. Effective Date of Changes. The effective date of changes to the regulation will be as stated in the cover sheet accompanying a regular change or as dictated in an interim change message.

6. Requests for Technical Assistance:

- a. Send requests for technical assistance through channels of the Service concerned to:
- (1) Army-Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army for Financial Operations
 - (2) Navy-Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Financial Management and Comptroller)
 - (3) Air Force-Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force (Financial Management and Comptroller)
 - (4) Marine Corps-Head, Liaison and Technical Services Division, Fiscal Division.

b. When required, the above offices submit requests for technical assistance to Defense Finance and Accounting Service-HQ/FMM, 1931 Jefferson Hwy, Crystal Mall #3, Room 404, Arlington VA 22240-5291.

DEFINITIONS

1. Absence Over Leave. Absent beyond the period for which leave was authorized.
2. Absent Without Leave (AWOL). Absence from a place of duty without permission or authorization and without the intention of deserting.
3. Academic School Year. Commences with the date required to report for courses of instruction for the member's chosen degree or naval or military science classes, whichever occurs first, and terminates upon completion of either of the above, whichever occurs later.
4. Active Duty. Full-time duty in the active service of a Uniformed Service, including full-time training duty, annual training duty, full-time National Guard duty, and attendance, while in the active service, at a school designated as a Military Service school by law or by the Secretary concerned.
5. Active Duty for a Period of More Than 30 Days. Active duty under a call or order that does not specify a period of 30 days or less.
6. Active Duty for Training. Full-time duty in the active military service of the United States for training purposes.
7. Active Duty List. A single list for the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps which contains the names of all officers of that Armed Force who are serving on active duty, other than officers described in 10 U.S.C. 641 (reference (c)).
8. Active Service. Active service means service on active duty.
9. Advance Payment. Payment of pay (pay and allowances in certain cases) before it is earned.
10. Advanced Leave. Leave authorized in advance of that accrued.
11. Air National Guard of the United States. The part of the Air Force Ready Reserve whose members are also members of the Air National Guard.
12. Allotment. A definite portion of the pay and allowances of a person in the Military Service, which is authorized to be paid to a qualified allottee.
13. Allottee. The person or institution to whom the allotment is made payable.
14. Allotter. The person from whose pay the allotment is made.
15. Allowance. A monetary amount paid to an individual in lieu of furnished quarters, subsistence, or the like.

16. Appropriation. An amount of money specifically authorized by Congress against which obligations may be incurred and from which payments may be made.
17. Armed Forces of the United States. Includes the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, and all components thereof.
18. Army National Guard of the United States. The part of the Army Ready Reserve whose members are also members of the Army National Guard.
19. Aviation Service Career (Not on Extended Active Duty). An officer not on extended active duty who holds an aeronautical rating and is qualified for aviation service under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, shall be considered to be performing aviation service on a career basis, as prescribed in 37 U.S.C. 301a (reference (aa)), so long as he or she is performing operational flying duty, or is assigned to a rated position in a Reserve Component or is considered by that component as an asset to the rated inventory and within the preceding 24 months was either on extended active duty as a rated officer or assigned to a rated position in a Reserve Component.
20. Basic Allowance for Quarters (BAQ). An amount of money prescribed and limited by law which an officer or enlisted member receives to pay for quarters not provided by the government.
21. Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS). A cash allowance, by law payable to officers at all times, to help reimburse them for the expense of subsisting themselves. For enlisted personnel, a cash allowance payable when rations in kind are not available; when permitted to ration separately; or when assigned to duty under emergency conditions where no messing facilities of the United States are available.
22. Basic Pay. The pay of an officer or enlisted member according to the rank and longevity before additional amounts are added for quarters, subsistence, flying status, overseas duty, etc.
23. Beneficiary. The recipient of certain benefits due as a result of relationship to or designation by a member.
24. Cadet or Midshipmen (ROTC). A member of the SROTC program under chapter 103 of Title 10, U.S.C. (reference (c)).
25. Captive Status. A missing status resulting from a member's involvement in a hostile action. Hostile action is determined by the Secretary of Defense.
26. Captivity-Related Offense. An offense, committed while in a captive status and related to the status, which is listed in 5 U.S.C. 8312(a) or (b) (reference (cl)), or which is listed in chapter 47 of the UCMJ (reference (i)) that is punishable by dishonorable discharge, dismissal, or confinement for a minimum of 1 year.

27. Cash Maintenance Allowance. Refers to the several types of clothing maintenance allowances paid by cash; for example: standard, basic, special, etc.
28. Certifying Officer. A person authorized to attest to the accuracy or legality of facts, especially those which support a demand for payment.
29. Commissioned Officer. Unless otherwise qualified, means a member of the Uniformed Services having rank or grade of second lieutenant, ensign, or above, either permanent or temporary, in any of the Uniformed Services.
30. Commuted Rations. The monetary allowance given in lieu of subsistence to entitled personnel on leave or otherwise authorized to mess separately.
31. Competent Orders. Orders issued by the Secretary concerned or such officer or officers as the Secretary may designate, to members of their respective Services or to members of other Services when such latter members are performing duty with a Service other than their own.
32. Continental United States. Unless otherwise qualified, means the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia.
33. Contingency Operation. Any military operation that:
- a. Is designated by the Secretary of Defense as an operation in which members of the armed forces are or may become involved in military actions, operations, or hostilities against an enemy of the United States or against an opposing military force; or
 - b. Results in the call or order to, or retention on, active duty of members of the Uniformed Services under section 672(a), 673, 673b, 673c, 688, 3500, or 8500 of Title 10, U.S.C. (reference (c)); under chapter 15 of Title 10, U.S.C. (reference (c)); or under any other provision of law during a war or national emergency declared by the President or the Congress.
34. Critical Speciality. A medical speciality that is manned at, or is projected within two fiscal years to be manned at, less than 95 percent of budget authorized allowance with fully qualified physicians.
35. Currency-Blocked Country. A country, specified by the Treasury Department, to which dollar instruments may not be transmitted.
36. Dependent. With respect to a member of a Uniformed Service, dependent means:
- a. Spouse;
 - b. Unmarried child under the age of 21, including an adopted child or a stepchild, but not after the divorce of the member from the stepchild's natural parent;

c. An unmarried illegitimate child under the age of 21 provided the parentage on the part of the member is established by court-order, by a signed statement of parentage submitted by the member or, in the case of a female member, the birth certificate showing the member as the natural mother of the child;

d. An unmarried child under the age of 21 who has been placed in the member's home by a local, state, or foreign government placement agency or a government-approved adoption agency as a part of a normal adoption process, provided the member produces a document from such agency establishing the fact of relationship and the effective date of relationship.

e. An unmarried child who is at least 21 years of age but under 23 years of age who is enrolled in a full-time course of study at an educational institution approved by the Secretary concerned when the member demonstrates in a statement listing the child's income and expenses that the child is in fact dependent on the member for over one half of the child's support.

f. An unmarried child, 21 years of age or older, who is incapable of self-support because of a mental or physical incapacity and who is in fact dependent upon the member for more than one half of the incapacitated child's support.

g. A parent, including a stepparent, parent by adoption, or any person who has stood in loco parentis at any time for a continuous period of at least five years before the member's 21st birthday, or a parent, a stepparent or adopted parent of the member's spouse, any of whose dependency on the member has been determined in accordance with the rules and regulations established by the Secretary concerned.

h. Effective 1 July 1994, a ward, who is an unmarried person who meets each of the following criteria:

1. A court of competent jurisdiction in the United States, Puerto Rico, or a possession of the United States has placed the person in the custody of the member either permanently or for a period which lasts at least 12 months from the date of the order.

2. The person must be:

(a) Under 21 years of age;

(b) At least 21 years of age, but under 23 years of age who meets the criteria for a student set forth in e, above; or

(c) Incapable of self support because of a mental or physical incapacity that occurred while the person was considered a dependent ward of the member.

3. The person must be dependent upon the member for over one-half of the person's support.

4. The person must reside with the member unless separated either by the necessity of Military Service; to receive institutional care as a result of disability or incapacitation; or under such other circumstances as the Secretary concerned may by regulation prescribe.

5. The person may not be a dependent of any member under any other part of this definition.

★6. The person is considered to be in the same class of dependents as a member's other children for the purpose of determining entitlement.

37. Desertion. Absence without leave with intent to remain away permanently.

38. Designated Applicant (ROTC). A student at an institution where a unit of the Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (SROTC) is established who did not participate in the SROTC program during the first two academic years, but desires to participate in the advance portion of the program during the two remaining academic years (or three remaining years in an approved 5-year program) and possesses all other qualifications.

39. Disbursing Officer. An officer responsible and accountable for the disbursement and collection of public funds, especially military pay and allowances.

40. Dual Status. Enlisted members of the Naval or Marine Corps Reserve on duty as temporary officers under 10 U.S.C. 5596 (reference (c)).

41. Duty Station. The place at which the member is assigned for regular duty; also, the place at which the member performs an assigned duty.

42. Enforced Separation. Involuntary separation of the member from dependents as a result of official orders.

43. Enlisted Member. A person enlisted, enrolled, or conscripted into a Military Service.

44. Enlistee. A person who has voluntarily enlisted for military service.

45. Enlistment.

a. A voluntary entrance into military service under enlisted status, as distinguished from induction through Selective Service.

b. A period of time, contractual or prescribed by law, which enlisted members serve between enrollment and discharge.

46. Entitlement. The legal right to receive items of pay and/or allowances.

47. Erroneous Payment. A payment of pay and/or allowances to a member to which he/she is not entitled.
48. Excess Leave. Leave granted in excess of that accrued or advanced.
49. Exigencies of the Service. Urgent demands of a Military Service.
50. Expiration of Term of Service. The end of a required or contracted period of service.
51. Extension of Enlistment. Contracted agreement which extends an enlisted member's current enlistment for a stated period beyond normal expiration of that enlistment.
52. Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) (reference (ci)). The federal statute that requires the withholding of tax from salaries of employees covered by the Social Security Act (reference (ca)) and the payment of employer's tax by federal agencies.
53. Field Duty. Serving with troops participating in maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar types of operations, and
- a. The member is subsisted in a government mess or with an organization drawing field rations, and is quartered in accommodations normally associated with field exercises, or
 - b. Students are participating in survival training and forage for subsistence and improvise their own shelter.
- Members furnished quarters and subsistence obtained by contract may also be considered as performing field duty when so declared by competent official.
54. Financial Organizations. Any bank, savings bank, savings and loan association or similar institution, or federal or state chartered credit union.
55. Flag Officer. A Navy term for an officer comparable to Army, Air Force and Marine Corps general officer.
56. Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve. A component of the Regular service to which members may be transferred and released from active duty after obtaining 20 or more years of active federal service.
57. Flight Requirement. The number of hours or minutes of flying time required to qualify for entitlement to incentive pay for a specific period of time.
58. Flying Status. The status of a member who is required by orders to participate in frequent and regular aerial flights.
59. Former Captive. A member who was held in a captive status.

60. Full-Time National Guard Duty. Training or other duty, other than inactive duty, performed by a member of the Army or Air National Guard of the United States in the member's status as a member of the National Guard of a state or territory, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia under Title 32, U.S.C. 316, 502, 503, 504, or 505 (reference (bq)), for which the member is entitled to (or has waived entitlement to) pay from the United States.

61. Fully Qualified. A physician that has completed a residency training program or is board certified or board eligible in a medical speciality and, if involved with independent patient care, is credentialed to practice medicine in that speciality by a credentialing authority.

62. Government Mess. Government mess means any of the following, provided it is made available to, or utilized by, the member concerned, even though officers are assessed a charge therefore:

- a. Any general or Military Service organizational mess, including messing facilities of a state-owned National Guard camp;
- b. Any Army or Air Force officers' or student officers' field mess;
- c. A Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard officers' closed mess; or an officers' wardroom mess or warrant officers' and chief petty officers' mess afloat;
- d. Box lunches, in-flight meals, or rations furnished by the government.

63. Government Quarters or Housing Facilities. Includes the following:

- a. Any sleeping accommodations or family-type housing owned or leased by the United States Government;
- b. Lodgings or other quarters obtained by United States Government contract;
- c. Dormitories or similar facilities operated by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors;
- d. Any sleeping or housing facilities furnished by a foreign government on behalf of the United States Government;
- e. Transient facilities such as guest houses, hostess houses, and hotel-type accommodations. (Accommodations built and operated by nonappropriated fund activities are considered to be rental quarters for the purpose of BAQ eligibility.) Payment of service charges for laundering of linens, janitorial services, etc., has no effect on whether the facilities are considered government quarters or housing facilities;
- f. Quarters in a state-owned National Guard camp.

64. He, His, Him. "He," "his," and "him" include the terms "she," "her" and "hers."
65. Home. The place recorded as home when the member was ordered to active duty.
66. Inactive Duty Training
- a. Duty prescribed for members of a Reserve Component by the Secretary concerned.
 - b. Special additional duties authorized for members of a Reserve Component by an authority designated by the Secretary concerned and performed by them on a voluntary basis in connection with prescribed training or maintenance activities of the units to which they are assigned.
 - c. This term also includes duties in a. and b. above when performed by members of the National Guard. Such duties include:
 - (1) Unit training assemblies.
 - (2) Training or other duty the member is required to perform, with or without member's consent. This includes, but is not limited to, appropriate duty or equivalent training and additional flying training periods.
 - d. This term does not include work or study for a correspondence course of a Uniformed Service.
 - e. For pay purposes, inactive duty training must be performed under orders, cover a specific assignment, and have a prescribed time limit.
67. Inductee. One who is inducted.
68. Induction. The act of taking a person into any of the Armed Services of the United States without voluntary action on his or her part, conscription.
69. Initial Residency Training. That period of time in residency training before formal completion of an officer's first residency that qualifies the officer to take the speciality board, which qualifies the officer for board certification equivalency.
70. In Loco Parentis. A person who stood in place of the natural parent(s) to the Military Service member. (See also "Parent.")
71. Issue in Kind. An issue in goods rather than in money.

72. Legal Process. The term legal process means any writ, order, summons, or other similar process in the nature of garnishment, which:

a. Is issued by:

(1) A court of competent jurisdiction in any state, territory, or possession of the United States;

(2) A court of competent jurisdiction in any foreign country with which the United States has entered into an agreement which requires the United States to honor such process; or

(3) An authorized official pursuant to an order of such a court of competent jurisdiction or pursuant to state or local law, and

b. Is directed to, and the purpose of which is to compel, a governmental entity, which holds money which is otherwise payable to an individual, to make a payment from such money to another party in order to satisfy a legal obligation of such individual to provide child support or make alimony payments.

73. Lost Time. That period of time not included in determining cumulative years of service for all military purposes.

74. Medical Officer. An officer of the Medical Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a medical officer who is on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of not less than 1 year.

75. Medical or Osteopathic Internship and Residency Training

a. Medical or Osteopathic Internship. The first year of graduate medical education, immediately following medical or osteopathic school whether a formal internship or the first year of a residency. For the purposes of variable special pay, this includes the period during which the active duty medical corps officer is waiting to begin internship training as well as the period in which such an officer is awaiting separation because of failure to complete that training.

b. Medical or Osteopathic Residency. A formal program of medical or osteopathic specialty or subspecialty training.

76. Medical or Osteopathic Specialty. Any specialty for which there is an identifying specialty skill identifier number, a Naval officer billet classification number, or an Air Force specialty code number.

77. Member. A person appointed or enlisted in, or conscripted into, a Uniformed Service. (Cadets or midshipmen of the Service academies are considered members only for the purpose of establishing entitlement under the provisions of Chapter 34).

78. Member (ROTC). A student who is enrolled in the senior ROTC of an Armed Force, under 10 U.S.C., chapter 103 (reference (c)).

79. Militia. Includes all able-bodied males at least 17 years of age, but under 45 years of age (or under 64 years of age and a former member of the Regular Army, Regular Navy, Regular Air Force or Regular Marine Corps), who are U.S. citizens or who have declared the intention to become U.S. citizens; and female citizens who are commissioned officers of the National Guard.

80. Missing Status. Includes missing, missing in action, interned in a foreign country, captured, beleaguered, besieged by a hostile force, or detained in a foreign country against a member's will.

81. National Guard. The Army and the Air National Guard. The National Guard is that part of the organized militia of the 50 States, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, and the District of Columbia, active and inactive, that is:

- a. Either a land or an air force;
- b. Trained, and has its officers appointed under the 16th clause of section 8, article I of the Constitution (reference (dy));
- c. Organized, armed, and equipped wholly or partly at federal expense; and
- d. Federally recognized.

The Army and the Air National Guard of the United States are subsets of the Army and the Air National Guard, respectively.

82. Nurse Corps Officer. An officer of the Nurse Corps of the Army or the Navy, or an officer of the Air Force designated as a nurse.

83. Officer. A commissioned or warrant officer.

84. Operational Flying Duty. Flying performed under competent orders by rated or designated members while serving in assignments in which basic flying skills normally are maintained in the performance of assigned duties as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, and flying performed by members in training that leads to the award of an aeronautical rating or designation.

85. Overpayment. An amount paid to a member which is in excess of that to which entitled.

86. Parachute Accident. An accident which results in injury to a qualified parachutist or parachute rigger, or a member in training for such rating during a regular tour of duty. To be considered a parachute accident the injury must occur while the member is on board an aircraft incident to assigned duties, or as a result of jumping from, being thrown from, or being struck by an aircraft or any part or auxiliary thereof.

87. Parent. The natural father or mother, and father or mother through adoption. It also includes persons who have stood "in loco parentis" to a member. See also definition for "Dependent."

88. Permanent Change of Station. The assignment, detail, or transfer of a member or unit to a different duty station under competent orders which neither specify the duty as temporary, nor provide for further assignment to a new station, nor direct return to the old station. (For more detailed definition, see volume 1, Joint Federal Travel Regulations, Appendix J (reference (d))).

89. Permanent Station. In general, the post of duty or official station to which member is assigned for permanent duty. (For more detailed definition, see Joint Federal Travel Regulations, volume 1, Appendix J (reference (d))).

90. Prisoner of War. A member who was/is held in captivity by another nation's government as a result of hostilities between that nation and the United States (whether or not by declaration of war).

91. Public Quarters. See "Government Quarters or Housing Facilities."

92. Punitive Discharge. A dishonorable or bad conduct discharge ordered as punishment under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (reference (i)).

93. Rations in Kind. Meals furnished rather than money in lieu thereof.

94. Ready Reserves. Units or individual Reservists liable for active duty under Title 10 U.S.C., sections 672 or 673 (reference (c)).

95. Reenlistment Bonus. Special pay to an enlisted member who reenlists under provisions of 37 U.S.C. 308 (reference (aa)).

96. Rental Charge. Refers to a charge made on account of occupancy. Does not include service charges for linen, cleaning, maintenance, etc.

97. Reserve Components. The Army National Guard of the United States, Army Reserve, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard of the United States, Air Force Reserve, Coast Guard Reserve, and the Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

98. Retired List. Any one of several lists of military members retired from the regular or Reserve Components of the Armed Forces.

99. Retired Reserves. Members of the Reserve Component of the Armed Forces who are or have been retired, or who have been transferred to the Retired Reserves upon their request, but are not necessarily eligible to begin receiving retired pay. Although in a retired status, Retired Reserves retain their status as Reserves.

100. Saved Pay. Special pay provisions that allow military members, under certain circumstances, to retain entitlement to amounts of pay and/or allowances authorized under prior laws or for a lower grade from which promoted.

101. Selected Reserves. That part of the Ready Reserves which consists of units and, as designated by the Secretary concerned, individual Reservists trained as prescribed in 10 U.S.C. 10147(a)(1) (reference (c)) or 32 U.S.C. 502(a) (reference (bq)). Most Selected Reserve members are required to participate in a minimum of 48 scheduled drill or training periods annually and serve on active duty for training at least 12 days annually.

102. Separate Rations. See "Commuted Rations."

103. Separation. Discharge, release from active duty, retirement, death, or in the case of enlisted members, the date when they begin to serve on a voluntary extension of enlistment for any period of time.

104. Service Academy Cadet or Midshipman. A person in training at one of the Service academies to become a commissioned officer.

105. Statutory Limitations. The legal limits or restrictions as provided by law.

106. Stipend Payment. A fixed sum of money paid periodically for services or to defray expenses, especially payment to medical officers on duty at civilian medical facilities.

107. Temporary Officer Status. A member of the Navy or Marine Corps appointed a temporary officer under the provisions of 10 U.S.C. 5596 (reference (c)).

108. Total Forfeiture. Forfeiture of all pay and allowances as punishment under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

109. Uniformed Services. The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard, Public Health Service and the commissioned corps of the Environmental Science Services Administration now known as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

110. United States. The 48 contiguous states, the District of Columbia, and the States of Alaska and Hawaii.

111. Variable Reenlistment Bonus. Special pay to an enlisted member with a critical skill, in addition to a regular reenlistment bonus, under provisions of 37 U.S.C. 308g (reference (aa)).

112. Warrant Officer. A person who holds a commission or warrant in a warrant officer grade.

CHAPTER 1CREDITABLE SERVICE*0101 SERVICE WHICH IS CREDITABLE*010101. General

A. The military pay and personnel systems use a variety of dates to determine various entitlements. Among them is the date which denotes how much service a member has for the purpose of determining longevity pay rates. The Army refers to this as the pay entry basic date, the Navy and Marine Corps refer to this as the pay entry base date, while the Air Force calls it simply the pay date. This chapter will refer to it as the basic pay date, which is defined as reflecting all service which is creditable towards longevity.

B. The member's servicing personnel office is responsible for providing, when necessary, a statement of service which can include the basic pay date, total active federal military service date, total commissioned federal military service date, and a variety of other dates, depending on the nature of the individual member's service. This regulation details only the computation of the basic pay date, since Military Service personnel regulations control the computation of all other dates.

010102. Computation of Creditable Service. For most members who enter and serve on active duty without a break in service, the basic pay date is the date the member enters active or inactive service. If, however, there is a break in service, the time between periods of service usually is not included. Also, there are statutory periods when service in a particular component may not be counted. Conversely, there are periods for which some members are given constructive service, even though they were not actually serving on active or inactive duty. Use the following to compute the basic pay date when there has been a break in service of any kind or if there is a need to include constructive service.

010103. Creditable Service Periods. Include active or inactive service in any of the following components without restriction:

- A. Air Force, Army, Naval, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard Reserves
- B. Air Force of the United States (Service without specification of component)
- C. Air National Guard
- D. Air National Guard of the United States
- E. Army of the United States (service without specification of component)

- F. Army National Guard
- G. Army National Guard of the United States
- H. National Guard
- I. National Guard of the United States
- J. Nurse Corps and Nurse Corps Reserve of the Public Health Service
- K. Public Health Service and Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service
- L. Regular service in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps

010104. Other Creditable Service (With Restrictions as Noted). Include the following periods of service:

A. Officer, deck officer, or junior engineer service in the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, including similar periods of service in the former Corps of the Environmental Science Services Administration and the US Coast and Geodetic Survey.

B. Service on a Military Service retired list, temporary disability retired list, or honorary retired list of any Uniformed Service, or service as a member of the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve.

C. Any period of service during which a member is entitled to retired, retirement, or retainer pay from any Uniformed Service.

D. Any period of service during which the member is entitled to compensation from the Department of Veterans Affairs on account of service.

E. Periods after 11 December 1941, when an enlisted member is retained after expiration of term of service of an Armed Force for medical care or hospitalization for disease or injury incident to service. Do not credit such periods of service if the underlying medical condition requiring medical care or hospitalization was due to the member's misconduct.

F. Service otherwise creditable that is performed before a member reaches the statutory age for enlistment unless the enlistment contract was voided or invalidated for fraud.

G. Active service performed as a temporary member of the Coast Guard Reserve.

H. Service terminated by desertion or dishonorable discharge, unless the enlistment was fraudulent and was voided for that reason.

★I. Service as a cadet or midshipman, provided the member has concurrent Enlisted Selected Reserve status covering the period on or after 1 August 1979.

J. Periods of service when a member is detailed to and receiving pay and allowances from any other agency of the United States, even though accrual of military pay and allowances is suspended.

★K. Service as a member of the Army, Navy, or Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, provided the member has concurrent Reserve status for duty performed on or after 1 August 1979.

L. Effective 26 December 1974, service as an aviation midshipman under the Act of 13 August 1946, 60 Stat. 1057, (reference (a)).

M. Service as an enlisted member in a Reserve Component before beginning active duty in a Regular Component, provided the member enlisted in the Reserve Component before 1 January 1985. This is frequently referred to as the delayed enlistment program.

N. Inactive service as an enlisted member in a Reserve Component between the time of enlistment and the date the member began active duty, or active duty for training, in a Reserve Component, provided the member enlisted in the Reserve Component before 28 November 1989. If the enlistment began after 27 November 1989, it is creditable service only if the enlisted Reserve member performed inactive duty training before beginning service on active duty for training.

O. Any period of service which was creditable under any federal statute in effect on 10 January 1962.

★P. Prior provisions of law excluded the Simultaneous Membership Program from creditable service for commissioned officers effective 13 October 1964. Public Law 104-201, Section 507, 23 September 1996 (reference (el)), amended these provisions to provide service credit retroactive to 1 August 1979. These amendments, as referenced in subparagraphs 010104.I and 010104.K, above, will result in no increase in pay, retired or retainer pay before the date of enactment, 23 September 1996. Service in the program for enlisted members who retain that status remains creditable under all provisions.

010105. Constructive Service

A. Some medical and dental officers are entitled to extra credit for longevity purposes to reflect the time spent in medical or dental school. Medical and dental officers must meet one or more of the following criteria to be entitled to the constructive credit:

1. On or before 15 September 1981, the officer already had the constructive service credit; the credit is not lost if there is a break in service either before or after that date. This includes PHS officers.

2. On 14 September 1981, the individual was enrolled in either the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program or the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences, completes such program, and is appointed as a medical or dental officer.

3. On 14 September 1981, the individual was participating in a program which credits years of service and leads to an appointment as an officer in the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine Corps.

B. Medical and dental officers who meet the criteria in subparagraph A, above, are entitled to 4 years constructive service credit. Also, those medical officers who have completed medical internship or its equivalent, or who entered military status while serving such an internship, are entitled to a fifth year of constructive service credit.

C. Where a member is entitled to service credit for a period covered by the constructive credit, reduce the constructive service credit by an amount equal to the actual service credit.

010106. Examples:

A. An individual completes dental school on 11 June 1977, and accepts commission as a dental officer on 3 August 1977. Credit the member with 4 years of constructive service and set basic pay date at 3 August 1973.

B. An individual completes medical internship on 30 June 1979, and accepts commission as a medical officer on 11 August 1979. Credit the member with 5 years constructive service and set basic pay date at 11 August 1974.

C. An individual enters medical school in 1970, and accepts a commission on 12 January 1972, he graduates from medical school on 10 June 1974, and completes a civilian residency during the period from 1 July 1974 through 30 June 1975. Compute basic pay date as follows:

First compute dual status period, which is the period of time between date of commission and date of graduation.

	YR	MO	DAY
Graduated:	74	06	10
Commission Date:	72	01	12
Dual Status Period:	02	04	28+1 (inclusive day)

Then compute constructive service credit, which is the 4 years constructive credit less the time already credited as commissioned service:

Maximum constructive
service credit:	03	11	30
Less dual status time:	02	04	29
Constructive Credit:	01	07	01

The member's basic pay date is 1 year, 7 months, and 1 day before his commission date of 12 January 1972, or 11 June 1970.

D. The scenario is the same as in subparagraph C, above, except the member accepts the commission on 12 July 1974, after starting the internship, so he is entitled to 5 years of constructive service credit instead of 4.

	YR	MO	DAY
Date finished internship:	75	06	30
Commission date:	74	07	12
Dual status period:	00	11	17+1 (inclusive day)

service credit:	04	11	30 (5 years)
less dual status time:	00	11	18
Constructive credit:	04	00	12

The member's basic pay date is 4 years, no months, and 12 days before his commission date, or 1 July 1970.

E. An officer who had been commissioned on 19 November 1962, enters dental school on 9 September 1970, and graduates 28 May 1974. To compute constructive service credit:

First, compute dual status:

	YR	MO	DAY
Graduated:	74	05	28
Started School:	70	09	09
Dual Service:	03	08	19+1 (inclusive day)

Then deduct the dual service from the 4-year constructive credit period to arrive at net constructive service credit.

	YR	MO	DAY
Maximum constructive service credit:	03	11	30 (4 years)
less Dual Service:	03	08	20
Constructive credit:	00	03	10

Change the member's basic pay date 3 months and 10 days before his previous one (19 November 1962) to 10 August 1962.

0102 SERVICE NOT CREDITABLE

010201. In general, do not use any service which is not listed as creditable service to compute a basic pay date. The following list includes a few types of service which are not creditable:

A. Time served in an enlistment which is terminated, voided, or invalidated as fraudulent.

B. Time served as a commissioned officer in the Philippine Army.

C. The constructive time authorized by the Act of 28 December 1945 (59 Stat 664), (reference (b)), for determining grade and eligibility for promotion.

D. The period of time a member was on the Emergency Officers' Retired List.

E. Time an individual was a member of a State, home, or territorial Guard.

★F. For commissioned officers, any period of service performed prior to 1 August 1979 in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, even if such member held concurrent Reserve status.

G. Time an individual was a member of the inactive National Guard. This does not apply to an individual who was a member of the National Guard Reserve and the National Guard of the United States. Time during which the individual had dual status, enlisted or commissioned, in the inactive National Guard and the National Guard of the United States is creditable.

H. The time a member serves while enrolled in the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance Programs, (reference (c)), or while a student at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS). Use any time creditable on the date the member enters USUHS to compute basic pay for longevity purposes while a student, not to exceed the limit of grade O-1 as shown in Table 2-5 or O-1E as shown in Table 2-6.

I. The time between the date of enlistment in the Delayed Enlistment Program and the date the member begins serving on active duty in a Regular Component, if the date of enlistment in the Reserve component is after 31 December 1984.

J. For Reserve enlistments after 27 November 1989, the time served in a Reserve Component prior to the member's entry on active duty or active duty for training. This time is creditable however, if the member performs inactive duty training between the date of enlistment in the Reserve Component and the date of entry on active duty, or active duty for training.

★K. Prior provisions of law excluded the Simultaneous Membership Program from creditable service for commissioned officers effective 13 October 1964. Public Law 104-201, Section 507, 23 September 1996 (reference (el)), amended these provisions to provide service credit retroactive to 1 August 1979. These amendments, as referenced in subparagraph 010104.I and 010104.K, above, will result in no increase in pay, retired or retainer pay, before the date of enactment, 23 September 1996. Service in the program for enlisted members who retain that status remains creditable under all provisions.

010202. Effect of Absence from Duty on Creditable Service

A. A commissioned or warrant officer is entitled to credit for every day in a commissioned or warrant status, without regard to absence of any kind, whether authorized or unauthorized, and including confinement prior to and during trial. In addition, absence during which a member was serving on active duty as an enlisted member is creditable if the enlisted member is also a Reserve officer.

B. See Table 1-1 to determine the creditability for absence while in enlisted status.

C. Enlisted members must make up any lost time. The period of service during which a member makes up lost time is creditable service. However, the time a member is held in a non-duty status while awaiting trial, as well as the time during trial, does not count towards making up lost time and is not creditable.

0103 COMPUTATIONS OF CREDITABLE SERVICE

010301. Computing a Basic Pay Date

A. All basic pay date computations start from the date of the member's most recent entry on duty without a break in service. Use the following dates:

1. For enlisted members, the date of enlistment, but see subparagraphs 010104.M and N, and 010201.I and J, above, for service under a delayed entry program.

2. For officers, the date of acceptance of a commission. The date of acceptance for officers graduating from a Military Service academy is the date of graduation.

3. For officers entitled to count service as an acting assistant surgeon, intern, or hospital steward in the Public Health Service or the Public Health Marine Hospital Service, the date of acceptance of the appointment. Do not count service performed before that date.

B. After determining initial basic pay date, compute creditable service for all service prior to that date. Use the following to compute basic pay date. If the member had any periods of service during which there was lost time, do not use those periods here. Instead, compute according to paragraph C, below.

1. List beginning dates of service for each separate period of service, without changing any of them, then add them together.

2. List all ending dates. If the day is the 31st day of the month, change it to 30. If the day is 28 February in a non-leap year, change it to 30 February for computation purposes. If the day is 29 February, change it to 30 February for computation purposes. Do not change 28 February of a leap year to 30 February. Then add all ending dates together.

3. Subtract the result in 1 above from the result in 2.

4. For each noncontinuous period of service, add 1 day to account for inclusive days. Explanation: Any period of service is at least one day. If, for example, the member had one day of service on 17 January 1962, the computation would look like this:

	YR	MO	DAY
Ending Day:	62	01	17
Less Beginning Day:	62	01	17
	00	00	00

It is necessary to add one day for inclusive days to avoid this erroneous answer.

5. Convert to full years, months, and days. The result is years of service creditable for pay purposes.

EXAMPLE:

Member served as follows:

	From:	To:
RA (enlisted)	1 Jan 51	28 Feb 54
AUS (Com)	1 Jun 54	26 May 61
AFUS (Com)	1 Aug 63	31 Mar 68
EASF (Com)	1 Apr 68	4 Jun 75

Beginning dates:

Ending Dates:

YR	MO	DAY	YR	MO	DAY
51	01	01	54	02	30
54	06	01	61	05	26
63	08	01	75	06	04
168	15	03	190	13	60

Convert 28 February 1954 to 30 February 1954, since 1954 was not a leap year. Convert 31 March 1968 to 30 March 1968, since the 31st day of a month does not count as an ending date, though it would count as a beginning date. The period from 1 August 1963 through 4 June 1975 is continuous, so it is all included in the third line of the computation.

Subtract total of beginning dates from total of ending dates:

YR	MO	DAY
190	13	60	(total of ending dates)
189	25	60	(borrowed twelve months from year column)
-168	15	03
21	10	57

Add one day for each of the 3 periods used in the computation. The result is 21 years, 10 months, and 60 days, which converts to exactly 22 years of creditable service.

C. Computations involving lost time. When a member has lost time, compute the creditable service for the period served separately, as shown below. Add the results to any creditable service computed separately under paragraph B, above.

1. When there is a period of lost time that has not been made good, compute the lost time on a 30-day month basis; but, if the lost time begins on the 31st day of a month, include that day as a lost day. Compute as follows:

Determine the years, months, and days of lost time and deduct that amount from the total service during the period.

Example 1: Member enlisted for 4 years on 18 July 1970, but was absent without leave (AWOL) from 10 February 1973 through 16 March 1973. Member received a hardship discharge on 10 August 1973, without making up the lost time. Member reenlisted 20 February 1975. Compute creditable service and basic pay date as follows:

First compute the lost time:

	YR	MO	DAY
Ended AWOL:	73	03	16
Began AWOL:	73	02	10
Lost Time:	00	01	06+1	(inclusive day)

Then compute first period of service:

Discharged:	73	08	10
Entered AD:	70	07	18
Subtotal:	03	00	22+1	(inclusive day)
Deduct lost time:	00	01	07
Creditable Service:	02	11	16

Subtract 2 years, 11 months, and 16 days from reenlistment date of 20 February 1975, to arrive at a new basic pay date of 4 March 1972.

2. A member who makes good lost time, does so on a day-to-day basis. When the member makes good lost time and completes the enlistment or contract period, compute the period of lost time on both a 30-day month basis and a day-to-day basis and use the result that is most to the member's advantage. To illustrate, if a member is AWOL on 30 March through 1 April, it would be 3 days on the day-to-day basis but only 2 days on a 30-day month basis. Compute creditable service as follows (and separately from periods of service which do not have lost time):

First step: Compute total lost time on both a 30 day basis and a day-to-day basis. Convert the day-to-day basis computation to years, months, and days and compare it to the computation on the 30-day basis. Discard the one which shows a higher total of days lost.

Second step: Compute the gross amount of service during the period by subtracting the entry date from the discharge date and adding one day for inclusive day.

Third step: Subtract the lost time from the result of the second step. If the result is at least as long as the enlistment contract, use this amount. If the result is less than the enlistment contract, increase it to equal the enlistment contract.

Fourth step: Add this creditable service to any other periods and use the total to figure the member's basic pay date.

Example 2: Assume the member in example 1 had not received a hardship discharge; instead, he had completed the enlistment contract, including making good the lost time. He made up the 35 days of lost time computed on a day-to-day basis. The days served to make good the lost time were 18-31 July 1974 (14 days), and 1-21 August 1974 (21 days).

When member reenlists on 20 February 1975, compute creditable service as follows:

YR	MO	DAY
74	08	21	(ending date of last period of service)
-70	07	18	(beginning date of last period of service)
04	01	03 +1	(inclusive day)

Result: 4 years, 1 month, and 4 days before deducting lost time. Note the lost time computed on a 30-day month basis was 37 days, but was only 35 days when computed on a day-to-day basis. Subtract the 35 days lost time from the period of service computed above.

YR	MO	DAY
- 00	01	05
03	11	29	(total service)

The result is less than the enlistment contract of 4 years, but since the member completed the enlistment contract, he is entitled to credit for the entire 4 years. Set basic pay date at 20 February 1971, when the member reenlists on 20 February 1975.

Example 3: A member enlisted on 18 July 1970 for 4 years. She was AWOL from 28 July 1973 through 3 September 1973, which is 38 days on a day-to-day basis (28-31 July, 4 days; 1-31 August, 31 days; and 1-3 September, 3 days). She is discharged on 24 August 1974, after making good the 38 days of bad time by serving 18-31 July (14 days) and 1-24 August (24 days).

When she reenlists on 20 February 1975, compute prior service as follows:

YR	MO	DAY
74	08	24	(ending date of last period of service)
-70	07	18	(beginning date of last period of service)
04	01	06+1	(inclusive day)

Result is 4 years, 1 month, and 7 days before deducting lost time.

Lost time on a day-to-day basis was 38 days. Lost time on a 30-day month basis is:

28-30 Jul 1973	03 days
1-30 Aug 1973	30 days
1-3 Sep 1973	03 days
Total	36 days

Following the rule set out in step 2, above, deduct the lost time in the manner most beneficial to the member.

YR	MO	DAY
04	01	07	(service before deducting lost time)
-00	01	06	(lost time)

Set basic pay date at 19 February 1971, when the member reenlists on 20 February 1975.

D. Adjusting Basic Pay Date when Member has Lost Time. Lost time does not change an officer's basic pay date. However, when an enlisted person returns to duty after a period of lost time, add the number of days lost time to the member's basic pay date to reflect the lost time.

Example: An enlisted member with no prior service enlisted on 18 July 1973. He was AWOL from 10 February 1975 through 16 March 1975. When member returns to duty status, change his basic pay date as follows:

Compute lost time:
10-30 February	21 days
1-16 March	16 days
	37 days lost time

YR	MO	DAY
73	07	18	(original basic pay date)

New basic pay date is 25 August 1973.

010302. Procedure when Basic Pay Date Falls on 29 February. When basic pay date falls on 29 February, entitlement to longevity increases begins on 1 March in non-leap years and on 29 February in leap years.

ABSENCE FROM DUTY IN ENLISTED STATUS

3		is not administratively excused as unavoidable	not creditable (note 2).
4	civil detention of a Navy or Marine Corps member	occurred before 24 Jul 1956 and the member was not acquitted or released without trial, and without making restitution

10		the confinement occurred before 24 Jul 1956	(note 3).

NOTES:

1. If the member is released without trial or acquitted, or if conviction is set aside on legal grounds (as distinguished from clemency), the period of absence is creditable. If the member is released upon agreement to make restitution or is later convicted by court-martial on the same facts, the period of absence is not creditable.
2. Absence during which a member was serving on active duty as an enlisted person and was also a Reserve officer is creditable.
3. The period of absence is not creditable only if the confinement was under general court-martial sentence and/or while awaiting (and during) trial which resulted in a sentence by a general court-martial to confinement and total loss of pay and allowances.
4. Period spent in confinement is creditable when the member is acquitted or the sentence is set aside or disapproved.

SUBJECT: Interim Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding Active Enlisted and Warrant Officer Service for Officers in Pay Grades O-1 to O-3 (DFAS Item #I-7)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 16-99 concerning commissioned officers in pay grade O-1 through O-3 who had more than four years of active duty as enlisted/warrant officer. This change is effective immediately.

This change incorporates paragraphs which were inadvertently omitted in the printing of the July 1996 revision to Volume 7A.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, and the interim change.

Our point of contact, Mr. Roger Castillo may be contacted at DSN 327-1907 or 607-1907.

1. In the table of contents, renumber Section 0103 as 0104 and insert the following new Section 0103 titled as follows:

0103 ACTIVE ENLISTED AND/OR WARRANT OFFICER SERVICE
FOR MEMBERS IN BASIC PAY GRADES O-1E, O-2E, OR O-3E

2. Delete the last sentence in subparagraph 010201.H and insert the following in lieu thereof:

“However, use any service creditable on the date of the officer’s entry into USUHS to compute the officer’s basic pay for longevity purposes while a USUHS student, not to exceed the maximum rate of O-1 pay in Table 2-5 or, if applicable, the maximum O-1E pay in Table 2-6 in this volume.”

3. Renumber Section 0103 as 0104 and insert new Section 0103 to read as follows:

“0103 ACTIVE ENLISTED AND/OR WARRANT OFFICER SERVICE FOR MEMBERS IN BASIC PAY GRADES O-1E, O-2E, OR O-3E

010301. Service Counted.

A. General. Commissioned officers with over 4 years of prior active service as an enlisted member, warrant officer, or combined service in both grades are entitled to count such service for purposes of computing basic pay for longevity purposes. Such prior service includes all active service, in either the Regular or Reserve Component or both (i.e., active duty for training in enlisted or warrant officer status, annual Reserve training duty, and full-time National Guard duty). Service on active duty or active duty for training for at least 4 years and 1 day satisfies the over 4 years of service requirement under this section. See subparagraphs 010201H and applicable notes to Tables 2-5 and 2-6 for Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS) students’ entitlement to basic pay for longevity purposes while attending USUHS.

B. Creditable Prior Enlisted Service. Effective 20 May 1958, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e. at least 4 years and 1 day) of prior active service as an enlisted member are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

C. Creditable Prior Warrant Officer Service. Effective 1 September 1980, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e. at least 4 years and 1 day) of prior active service as a warrant officer are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

D. Creditable Combined Prior Service. Effective 1 October 1993, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e. at least 4 years and 1 day) of combined prior active service as an enlisted member and warrant officer are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

010302. Service Not Counted. In computing active service, do not count:

A. Active service in a dual status (temporary officer-permanent enlisted) in the Navy or Marine Corps.

B. Service as a National Guard technician.

C. Except for periods of active duty service performed while a USUHS student, time served as a student at USUHS. See paragraph 010201.H and applicable notes to Tables 2-5 and 2-6.

4. In Table 2-5 in the pay grade column, “(note 3)” should be listed under grades O-3 and O-2, and “notes 3 and 4” should be listed under grade “O-1”.

5. Revise the first sentence in note 3 in Table 2-5 to read:

“3. O-1, O-2, or O-3 rates do not apply to commissioned officers who have been credited with over 4 years (i.e. at least 4 years and 1 day) of active duty service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer.”

6. Revise note 4 in Table 2-5 to read:

“4. These rates, or, when applicable, the O-1E rates in Table 2-6 apply during periods of active service while a student at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS). Also see subparagraphs 010201H and 010301A.”

7. In Table 2-6, remove “(Note)” from the heading and insert “(Note)” beneath “O-1E” in the pay grade column.

8. Place the note for Table 2-6 at the end of the second part of the table and revise the text of the note to read:

“NOTE: These rates do not apply to students of the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS) who do not have over 4 years (i.e. at least 4 years and 1 day) of active duty service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer. See Table 2-5 for applicable rates. USUHS students with over 4 years of prior enlisted and/or warrant officer service are entitled to the O-1E rate of basic pay in this table during such active duty periods. Also see subparagraphs 010201.H and 010301.A.”

9. In the bibliography renumber Section 0103 as 0104 and insert a new Section 0103 titled as follows:

“0103 Active Enlisted and/or Warrant Officer Service for Members in Basic Pay Grades O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E”.

10. Add the following to the bibliography:

	“010201H	10 U.S.C. 2114(b)

COMPUTATION OF PAY0201 BASIC PAY ENTITLEMENTS

020101. When Entitled to Basic Pay. The pay of Military Service members is prescribed by law. Members are entitled to receive pay according to their pay grades and years' service, if they are:

- A. On active duty in a pay status.
- B. Not prohibited by law from receiving such pay.

020102. Employment of Members in Another CapacityA. Employment Under the Government

1. Unless otherwise provided by law (such as during the period a member is on terminal leave pending retirement, separation, or release from active duty under honorable conditions), a member may not be employed in another capacity by the government and receive pay therefor, other than the pay and allowances which accrue by reason of the military status. A member may be employed, however, on a voluntary basis, during off-duty hours in connection with nonappropriated fund activities.

2. Under agreements such as that between the Department of Defense and the Agency for International Development (AID) of the Department of State, military members may be detailed to agencies such as AID for certain types of service for specified periods. As provided in pertinent agreements, members so detailed are entitled to the pay and allowances of employees of the agency (AID foreign service personnel, in the case of that agency) holding comparable positions. Such members are paid by the agency in question, not by the Military Service involved.

B. Acceptance or Holding Civil Office

1. An officer of an armed force on active duty may not be employed on civil functions, if the civil duties separate the member from the parent organization or interfere with the performance of military duties. This applies to employment on civil works or internal improvements, by an incorporated company, or as acting paymaster or disbursing agent of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

2. Unless otherwise provided by law, an officer of a Regular Component of the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps may not hold a civil office by election or appointment under the United States, a territory, possession or state. Acceptance of such position terminates the officer's appointment and any further entitlement to receive pay and allowances whether or not the officer continues to fulfill the duties as an officer subsequent to accepting the office.

C. Medical Officers. Medical officers on active duty who receive any compensation or stipend payments for services they perform as interns or resident physicians in private or public institutions (state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospitals) receive such payments for the benefit of the United States. Collect these payments from the officer for deposit in the United States Treasury. See Table 26-3, rule 24; Table 26-8, rule 2; and Table 25-1, rules 6 and 7, for BAQ and BAS payments.

020103. Formal Acceptance of Appointment-Officers

A. Pay and allowances generally accrue from the date of acceptance of appointment as an officer. The normal method of acceptance is taking the oath of office. Commencement of travel in compliance with an order is considered acceptance for pay purposes, but payment will not be made until formal signing of the oath of office. See Table 2-1 for specifics and for graduates of the academies.

B. An officer need not take the oath of office upon promotion if service has been continuous since the last oath.

020104. Restriction Against Dual Payments

A. A Reserve member who is called to active duty for more than 30 days in time of war or national emergency is entitled, while on that active duty, to the pay and allowances prescribed for active duty. Exception is authorized if the member is entitled to a pension, retired pay, or disability compensation for earlier military service, in an amount greater than that prescribed for active duty.

B. Except as prescribed in subparagraph A, above, a Reserve member who is entitled to payments for earlier military service, and is called to active duty and is entitled to pay, may elect to receive either:

1. The payments for the earlier military service; or
2. If member specifically waives those payments, the pay and allowances authorized for the active duty.

020105. Posthumous Promotions. Members may be posthumously promoted. The amount of bonus, gratuity, pay, or allowances is not changed by these promotions. This payment restriction does not apply to promotions of members while in a missing status where a Secretarial determination is subsequently made that the member died before the date of the promotion.

0202 COMPUTING MONTHLY PAY020201. Monthly Pay

A. Service of 30 Days or More. Compute monthly compensation as if each month had 30 days. When service begins on an intermediate day of the month, pay for the actual number of days served during that calendar month, but only through the 30th day of that month. If active military service begins on the 31st day of any month, compensation does not accrue for that day. Any person who enters active service during February and serves until the end of the month is entitled to the pay for 1 month (30 days), less the prorated amount for the number of days expired before entry on duty. If the service ends before the last day of February, pay the member only for the actual number of days served.

B. Service of Less Than 30 Days. Members of the Uniformed Services entitled to receive compensation for continuous periods of less than 1 month are entitled to pay and allowances for each day of the period at the rate of 1/30 of the monthly amount of such pay and allowances. Include the 31st day of a calendar month in the computation. Members who are obligated to serve on active duty for 30 days or more, but who were released before performing such active duty for at least 30 days, are entitled to receive pay and allowances on a day-to-day basis.

020202. Absence Without Pay

A. Deduct 1/30 of 1 month's pay for each day's absence in a nonpay status.

B. No pay is lost for unauthorized absence on the 31st day of a month, except when it is the first day of absence or when the member is paid for the day under subparagraph 020201.B, above.

C. Absence in a nonpay status on the 28th of February in a non-leap year results in loss of pay for 3 days. If member is absent only on the 28th day of February in a leap year, deduct the pay for 1 day for the 28th. If absence occurs on the 29th of February, deduct pay for 2 days. When payment is made under subparagraph 020201.B, above, on the basis of each day actually served, deduct only for the actual period of unauthorized absence.

020203. Annual Salary. Annual salary is divided into 12 equal installments. One installment represents the pay for each calendar month. The daily rate is 1/30 of the monthly rate. The above instructions for monthly pay also apply to annual salary.

020204. Basic Pay Rates

Pay Tables. Tables 2-5 through 2-8 contain monthly rates of basic pay.

0203 SAVED PAY020301. Saved Pay and Allowances

A. Enlisted. An enlisted member who accepts an appointment as an officer will, following appointment, be paid the greater of:

1. The pay and allowances to which such member would be entitled if the member had remained in the last enlisted grade held before appointment as an officer and continued to receive increases in pay and allowances authorized for that grade; or

2. The pay and allowances to which the member thereafter becomes entitled as an officer.

B. Warrant Officers. A warrant officer who accepts an appointment as a commissioned officer will, following appointment, be paid the greater of:

1. The pay and allowances to which the member thereafter becomes entitled as a commissioned officer; or

2. The pay and allowances to which such member would be entitled if the member had remained in the last warrant officer grade held before appointment as a commissioned officer and continued to receive increases in pay and allowances authorized for that grade; or

3. In the case of an officer who was formerly an enlisted member, the pay and allowances to which entitled, under subparagraph A.1, above, before appointment as an officer.

C. Restrictions

1. A member entitled to saved pay is not authorized the pay for one grade and an allowance for another grade.

2. The saved pay amount may be reduced when the member loses entitlement to specific items; however, these specific items shall be included in saved pay if the member again qualifies for such items. (See subparagraph C.8, below.)

3. In the case of a temporary officer, a member is not entitled to an increase in saved pay because of a promotion to a higher grade.

4. BAQ may be continued as an item of saved pay, and will be paid whenever it is not forfeited because the member is assigned to government quarters.

5. For enlisted members, basic allowance for subsistence (BAS) is the alternative for subsistence in kind. Since officers are not authorized subsistence in kind, a member eligible for saved pay is entitled to the appropriate BAS rate (including the "when permitted to mess separately rate" even when subsistence in kind would otherwise be provided or made available) under the conditions prevailing for enlisted members at their permanent station. Credit BAS at the "when permitted to mess separately rate" at all times except when the member would otherwise be entitled to a different rate. (See subparagraphs 250102.C and E.)

6. Special duty assignment pay, incentive pay for hazardous duty, special pay for diving duty, and sea and foreign duty pay may be retained as an item of saved pay only for as long as the member continues to perform the duty and would be eligible to receive payment had the member remained in the former status.

7. The enlisted cash clothing allowances prescribed in Chapter 29 may not be included in the saved pay computation if the officer is entitled to the initial uniform allowance prescribed in section 3002.

8. FSA-I may be continued as an item of saved pay under the same conditions as BAQ. See subparagraph 4, above. If the member was entitled to FSA-II due to enforced separation from the member's family at the time of appointment, the allowance may be included in the computation of saved pay until entitlement ends. FSA-R, FSA-S, or FSA-T may be reinstated for future periods if the member again qualifies for FSA-II due to enforced separation from the family. Similarly, other items of overseas station allowance and/or special or incentive pay may be reinstated if a member again qualifies for those entitlements.

D. Breaks in Service. A break in service (released from active duty, discharged) does not disqualify an officer for the saved pay and allowances entitlements of this section.

0204 INCREASED BASIC PAY DURING PERIOD OF SERVICE ESSENTIAL TO PUBLIC INTERESTS

020401. Entitlement to Increased Basic Pay. This section applies only to enlisted members of the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or Naval or Marine Corps Reserve, whose enlistments expire while serving on a naval vessel in foreign waters.

A. Retention in Service. Such members may be retained on active duty until the naval vessel returns to the CONUS, if the period of retention is determined "service essential to the public interests." The senior officer present afloat makes this determination.

B. Pay and Allowances. During the period of retention, members are entitled to regular pay and allowances, plus a 25 percent increase in the basic pay, to which they were entitled on the day before the period of retention began.

020402. Members Not Eligible for Increase

A. Enlisted members are not entitled to the increased basic pay if retained on active duty after expiration of enlistment:

1. At shore stations.
2. On ships on duty in waters in or around possessions and territories of the United States.
3. On ships on duty in ports or waters within the sovereign jurisdiction of the United States.
4. Due to lack of transportation.
5. Merely because it is desirable to continue their services, or some benefit may be derived therefrom.

B. A member of the Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve is not entitled to the 25 percent increase while retained beyond period of obligated service, as distinguished from normal date of expiration of enlistment.

020403. Inclusion of Increase in Death Gratuity. Include the 25 percent increase in basic pay in computing amount of death gratuity payable.

020404. Restrictions in Use. Do not use the 25 percent increase in computing:

- A. Cash settlement for unused leave on discharge.
- B. Physical disability, or temporary disability retired pay.
- C. Disability severance pay.
- D. Reenlistment bonus.

020405. Termination of Increase in Basic Pay

- A. The 25 percent increase in basic pay continues through:
1. Date of discharge, if the member is discharged within 30 days after arrival in CONUS.
 2. Date of transfer to a hospital for treatment.

B. See Table 2-3, rule 19, for the date of termination of normal pay and allowances.

0205 ALLOWABLE TRAVEL TIME FOR RESERVE MEMBERS CALLED TO OR RELEASED FROM ACTIVE DUTY

020501. Pay and Allowances Entitlement for Allowable Travel Time

A. Reserve members called to active duty are entitled to active duty pay and allowances for time allowed for necessary travel from:

1. Home to a first duty station; and
2. Last duty station to home (except when released from active duty for retirement, or dismissal, when discharged, or upon resignation).

B. Pay and allowances for allowable travel time is an earned entitlement. The payment for the return home may be made upon the member's release from such duty without regard to actual performance of the travel. If the member dies after payment, but before payment would otherwise be due, no part of the payment will be recovered by the United States.

020502. Terms and Special Conditions

A. Allowable travel time is considered active duty for all purposes normally ascribed to active duty. The computation of allowable travel time, whether actual or constructive will:

1. For periods of active duty of 30 days or less, be based upon the rules contained in Table 2-4.
2. For periods of active duty if more than 30 days, be based upon the rules and provisions of the JFTR, Vol I (reference (d)).

B. A member of a Reserve Component who:

1. Is ordered to perform active duty training (ADT);
2. Performs authorized inactive duty training (IDT) immediately before or after ADT at or near the same site; and
3. Receives orders which direct performance of necessary travel to and from the ADT site immediately before and after combined ADT/IDT, is entitled to active duty pay and allowances for allowable travel time, if any. The travel date will be specified in the active duty orders. Full retirement point credit is earned for the period of IDT performed.

Table 2-1. When Active Duty Pay Begins

NOTES:

1. Original appointments include officers appointed from warrant officer, enlisted member, or civilian status.
2. Pay accrues from date of graduation even though appointment is issued and accepted at later date.
3. See section 0205 of this chapter and Table 2-4 for allowable travel time to include in computation. Pay and allowances do not accrue if the member begins travel or reports earlier than the travel time necessary to comply with the active duty orders.
4. Pay status does not begin if the ARNG or ANG member is unable to respond to the call to active duty because of illness or other reason.
5. If member passes the physical examination, pay and allowances accrue for travel time to first duty station when later ordered to active duty for more than 30 days.
6. If the member fails the physical examination, pay and allowances accrue for period required for the examination and travel time to and from the examination.
7. If the member is ordered to active duty solely to take a physical examination, not incident to being ordered to active duty, then active duty pay and allowances do not accrue.

Table 2-2. Increases In Pay On Promotion or Restoration of Grade

INCREASES IN PAY ON PROMOTION OR RESTORATION OF GRADE
	When member is a(n)	and action is	in the	and	then effective date of increase in pay and allowances is
12		appointment or promotion to a higher grade	Army or Air Force		1. date cited in orders, or date of orders, whichever is later (note 5); or 2. date of oral appointment or promotion, if later confirmed in writing (note 4).
13		restoration of former grade		reason for reduction was non-judicial punishment	may be retroactive to date of reduction.
14				reason for reduction was inefficiency	date of restoration orders.

NOTES:

1. If the officer's assignment is terminated because of:
 - a. Assignment to another position also designated a special assignment, the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated assignment through the day before assuming the new position.
 - b. Hospitalization, the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated assignment for the full period of hospitalization, but for not more than 180 days.
 - c. Retirement, the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated position through the day before retirement, but for not more than 90 days.
2. A retroactive amendment of active duty orders is authority to serve in the higher grade from date of the amendment only. Increased pay and allowances are authorized from that date. Such orders do not create entitlement to increased pay and allowances for the retroactive period.
3. A retroactive promotion date is to be used only for consideration of seniority and time in grade for future promotions. Such orders do not create entitlement to increased pay and allowances for the period between the eligibility date for promotion and the effective date of the promotion order or letter. The effective date of promotion for purposes of entitlement to increased pay and allowances must not be earlier than the date the officer is assigned to a position requiring a grade equal to or higher than the grade to which promoted.
4. An appointment, promotion, or advancement to a higher grade with an effective date beyond the expiration date of the current enlistment and which is contingent upon the member's extension of enlistment or reenlistment, entitles the member to increased pay and allowances from the effective date of extension or reenlistment, whichever is later. Payment for the higher rank or rating is not authorized for a period prior to date of current enlistment.
5. This restriction does not prevent payment to enlisted members for retroactive promotions or advancements that are made pursuant to 10 U.S.C. 1552(a)(2) (retroactive promotion or advancement without decision of the Board for Correction of Military Records), effective 23 Oct 1992.

NOTES:

1. Discharge orders do not of themselves relieve the government of its obligation to an officer. The officer must have received actual or constructive notice by the effective date, unless the officer willfully avoids notice of separation. If kept in Military Service without fault, in ignorance of an order of dismissal, the officer is entitled to all salaries and benefits of the office. If held in Military Service under orders after the date shown in separation orders, the officer is entitled to pay if there is nothing in the records showing non entitlement.
2. Includes discharge for underage enlistment. Does not include discharge for fraudulent contract of enlistment. (See Chapter 4.)
3. A member whose enlistment is extended involuntarily by law comes under rule 15, not rules 16-21.
4. If medical care or hospitalization was due to member's misconduct, pay and allowances terminate on date of expiration of term of Military Service.
5. See paragraph 020405 for date of termination of the 25 percent increase in basic pay.
6. An erroneous promotion is later voided by revoking promotion orders (certificates of appointment or other documents used by the Military Service concerned to administratively effect promotions) from the original effective date. Payment of the pay and allowances of the higher grade through the date prior to the date of discovery is contingent, in each case, upon an administrative determination of the commander that service performed while serving in the higher grade may be regarded as service performed in a "de facto" status, that is, the member was promoted by competent authority and performed duties of the higher grade. (See procedural regulations of the Military Service concerned.)
7. A member who reverts from a temporary officer appointment to a permanent enlisted or warrant officer grade is entitled, if otherwise proper, to the active duty pay and allowances of the temporary officer grade through and including the date of reversion.

ALLOWABLE TRAVEL TIME, TRAVEL BETWEEN PLACES WITHIN THE UNITED STATES
	If ordered active duty is for	and travel by	and total distance is	then travel time allowed is	using
1	30 days or less	all transportation is reasonably available (note 3)		computed on the basis of air transportation (not more than 1 day for travel between places within the continental United States) (note 4)	actual commercial air schedules, and including the actual or estimated time to travel to and from air terminal(s) (but not more than 2 hours for each trip) (notes 1 and 2).
2		air transportation is not reasonably available for entire travel (note 3)		computed as if actually performed by public surface transportation	actual schedules of fastest available mode (notes 1 and 2).

NOTES:

1. Travel is not expected to start or end between midnight and 0600.
2. Travel days will not exceed the computed travel time. In the computation of travel time, use existing commercial schedules to determine the latest departure time that would permit arrival at the duty station on the reporting date and hour. On release from active duty, use earliest schedule after release which would permit arrival home by fastest available means, without regard to actual performance of travel. A member of a Reserve Component who:
 - a. is ordered to perform active duty training (ADT),
 - b. performs authorized inactive duty training (IDT) immediately before or after ADT at or near the same site, and
 - c. receives orders which direct performance of necessary travel to and from the ADT site immediately before and after combined ADT/IDT is entitled to active duty pay and allowances for allowable travel time per paragraph 020502. The travel date will be specified in the active duty orders. Full retirement point credit is earned for the period of IDT performed.
3. When the air terminal is within 50 miles of the active duty station and direct or connecting flights are obtainable within 50 miles of the place from which ordered to active duty.
4. Additional time may be allowed when there is an actual delay in air travel. The delay must have been due to reasons beyond the control of the member, such as mechanical failure, adverse weather conditions, excess passenger load, cancelled flights, illness of other passengers, etc.

- 1 For rank titles, see Appendix 2, Comparable Terms
- 2 Basic pay for grade E-9 is $4,503 00 regardless of years of service while serving as:
 - a Sergeant Major of the Army
 - b Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy or Coast Guard
 - c Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force
 - d Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps

If a member is placed on terminal leave pending retirement immediately following the completion of service as the senior enlisted member of a Military Department, then the member is entitled to the higher pay rate $4,503 00 up to a maximum of 60 days. If a member is hospitalized and during or immediately before such hospitalization, completed service as the senior enlisted member of that Armed Force, the member shall continue to be entitled, for not more than 180 days while so hospitalized, to the rate of basic pay ($4,503 00) authorized for the senior enlisted member.

ABSENCE FROM DUTY, EFFECT ON PAY AND ALLOWANCES0301 AUTHORIZED LEAVE

030101. Authority. All Military Service members on active duty for 30 consecutive days or more are entitled to accrue leave under applicable Military Service leave regulations. While on authorized leave they are entitled to full pay and allowances except as otherwise provided in Table 3-1.

030102. Applicable Service Leave Regulations. Applicable Military Service leave regulations are:

- A. Army. AR 630-5 (reference (e)).
- B. Navy. MILPERSMAN (reference (f)).
- C. Marine Corps. MCO P1050.3 (reference (g)).
- D. Air Force. AFR 35-9 (reference (h)).

030103. Reserved030104. Pay and Allowances During Leave

A. Entitlement. See Table 3-1.

B. Full Pay and Allowances Defined. This term means (includes) the following:

- 1. Basic pay
- 2. Special pays
- 3. Incentive pay for hazardous duty
- 4. Basic allowance for subsistence (enlisted leave rations)
- 5. Basic allowance for housing
- 6. Personal money allowances
- 7. Clothing maintenance allowances

8. Family separation allowances

9. Station allowances. (See Joint Federal Travel Regulations, Volume 1, Chapter 9 (reference (d).))

030105. Advance Leave Carryover or Change to Excess Leave (Effective 14 November 1986).

A. When Carryover Allowed. Members may elect to carry all or part of an advance leave balance over to a new term of service when discharged for the purpose of:

1. Reenlisting within 24 hours of discharge or extending an enlistment; or

2. Accepting an appointment as a warrant or commissioned officer of the Armed Forces. Carryover will not exceed the number of days or fraction of days the member will accrue in the new enlistment or term of service or 30 days, whichever is less.

Example 1: Member's current term of service ends 870430. Member reenlists for 6 years on 870301 and has a 5.0-day advance leave balance. The 5.0-day advance leave balance can be carried into the new term of service.

Example 2: Member's current term of service ends 870930. On 870501 member agrees to serve a 12-month extension and has a 12.5 day-advance leave balance which will be offset by leave accrual through 870930. Between 870501 and 870930 the member was charged for 30 days' leave. When the extension becomes operative (871001), the member may elect to carry the 30.0-day advance leave balance into the new term of service (12-month extension).

B. Advance leave becomes excess leave and requires collection of pay and allowances under the following conditions:

1. Discharge for the purpose of reenlisting, extending an enlistment or accepting a warrant or commission, and advance leave exceeds 30 days.

2. Advance leave balance exceeds that which will accrue in the new enlistment or term of service (for example, enlistment or extension(s)) including when an agreement to extend is cancelled by the Military Service. If an agreement to extend is cancelled by the member for the purpose of immediate reenlistment, collect under subparagraph 030105.B.1, above, if applicable.

3. Relief from active duty.

4. Appointment as a cadet or midshipman at a Service academy.

5. Death.

6. Return from a period of leave which was in excess of the number of days leave and fractions thereof member will accrue before the normal expiration of current enlistment or term of active service. The term of an extension(s) will be considered when determining the normal expiration of current enlistment or term of active service. Extension(s) will be considered from the date the member agrees to the extension(s). Excess leave properly charged before the date a member extends a term of service (reenlistment, appointment or agrees to extend voluntarily or is involuntarily extended) will not be affected and under no circumstances will pay and allowances previously collected be refunded. (See paragraph 030106, below, when it is known at the time leave is granted that the member will be in excess leave status.)

Example 3: Member's current term of service ends 880331. Member reenlists for 6 years on 870101 and has a 35.5-day advance leave balance. The member can carry 30.0 days of advance leave into the new term of service. The remaining 5.5-day advance leave balance will change to excess leave and will require immediate collection of pay and allowances. Paragraph 030106, below, applies.

Example 4: Same as example 2 except the member takes 34 days of leave between 870501 and 870930. Since a maximum of 30.0 days advance leave can be carried into the new term of service (12-month extension), the remaining 4.0 days would require immediate collection of pay and allowances when the leave was used. Paragraph 030106, below, applies.

C. Amount to be Collected. Compute collection under subparagraph B, above, on the basis of pay and allowances actually received by the member during the period of leave involved.

030106. Pay and Allowances During Excess Leave. Members on excess leave are not entitled to pay and allowances, except as provided by Chapter 26, subparagraph 260501.C. Apply the above as follows:

A. When the complete period of leave is granted as excess leave, pay and allowance accrual will be stopped beginning with the first day of leave.

B. When a portion of the leave is granted as advance leave and a portion granted as excess leave, pay and allowance accrual will be stopped beginning with the first day of excess leave. Members in an excess leave are considered to have a rate of pay.

030107. Leave Pending Review of Certain Courts-Martial Convictions. Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned, members sentenced to unsuspended dismissal or unsuspended dishonorable or bad conduct discharge by court-martial may be required to take leave pending review of their conviction as provided by Article 76a, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ (reference (i))).

A. Such leave shall be charged against any accrued leave to the member's credit on the day before the day such leave begins unless the member elects to be paid for accrued leave under subparagraph 350101.C.

1. If the member does not elect to be paid for accrued leave or does not have sufficient accrued leave to cover the total period of leave required to be taken, the leave not covered by accrued leave shall be charged as excess leave.

2. If the member elects to be paid for accrued leave, the entire period of leave shall be charged as excess leave and pay and allowances will not accrue for such period except under the provisions of subparagraph B, below.

B. A member required to take leave under Article 76a, UCMJ (reference (i)), whose sentence by court-martial to dismissal or dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is set aside or disapproved on appellate review, shall accrue pay and allowances for the period of leave charged as excess leave (except for any day of accrued leave for which the member has been paid under subparagraph A.2, above), unless a rehearing or new trial is ordered and dismissal or dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge results from the rehearing or new trial and such dismissal or discharge is later executed.

1. Computation of Payment. The amount of gross pay and allowances accrued under this subparagraph shall be reduced by the total gross income from wages, salaries, tips, other personal service income, unemployment compensation, and public assistance benefits from any government agency during the period the member is deemed to have accrued gross pay and allowances. However, the total gross income described above cannot reduce the amount of gross pay and allowances to the extent that the member becomes indebted to the government.

a. Approved Sentence Does Not Include Reduction. Pay and allowances under this section will be paid in the pay grade held by the member on the day before the day on which the court-martial sentence was approved by the convening authority.

b. Approved Sentence Includes Reductions. If the pay grade of the member was reduced to a lower grade as a result of the court-martial sentence and the reduction has not been set aside, disapproved, or otherwise vacated, pay and allowances accrued under this paragraph will be paid at the lower pay grade.

2. Time of Payment

a. Payment shall be made within 60 days from the date of the order setting aside or disapproving the sentence by court-martial to a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge if no rehearing or new trial has been ordered.

b. Payment shall be made within 180 days from the date of the order setting aside or disapproving the sentence by court-martial to a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge if a rehearing or new trial has been ordered but charges have not been referred to a rehearing or new trial within 120 days from the date of that order.

c. If a rehearing or new trial has been ordered, and a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is not included in the result of the rehearing or new trial, payment shall be made within 60 days of the date of the announcement of the result of such rehearing or new trial.

d. If a rehearing or new trial has been ordered, and a dismissal for a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is included as the result of such rehearing or new trial, but such dismissal or discharge is not later executed, payment shall be made within 60 days of the date of the order which set aside, disapproved, or otherwise vacated such dismissal or discharge.

e. If a member who is entitled to be paid under this section, fails to provide sufficient information in a timely manner regarding his/her income when such information is requested under subparagraph C, below, the periods of time prescribed in this paragraph shall be extended until 30 days after the date on which the member provides the requested information.

C. In all cases where payment must be made under subparagraph B, above, the member is solely responsible for providing the information as to sources and amounts of income received by the member during periods of required appellate leave. Pay will be computed only on the basis of a written record. Information as to sources and amounts of income should include, at a minimum, copies of all pertinent income tax returns, employer statements of income earned from wages, salaries, tips, and documentation of other personal service income. In cases where the member has been unemployed, the required information shall include affidavits or written evidence of lack of employment and documentation to verify the duration of unemployment compensation and public assistance benefits received from any government agency.

0302 UNAUTHORIZED ABSENCE AND OTHER LOST TIME

030201. Effect on Pay and Allowances. The types of unauthorized absence and other lost time and their effect on pay and allowances are shown in Table 3-2. (Compute for forfeitures of pay and allowances as instructed in Chapter 2, paragraph 020202.)

030202. Unauthorized Absence and Desertion

A. Determination by Courts-Martial. A member found guilty of unauthorized absence by a courts-martial forfeits pay and allowances for the period of absence. An acquittal (or disapproval by the reviewing authority, in case of conviction) affects only the disciplinary aspects of the absence. It does not prevent an administrative determination that the member was absent without leave.

B. Administrative Determination of Unauthorized Absence. When a member is in an unauthorized absence status, an administrative determination must be made as to whether the absence was unavoidable. Table 3-3 contains rules for determining whether the absence was unavoidable. If it is not excused as unavoidable, the member (including one mentally incompetent) forfeits pay and allowances for the period of absence. This applies even though a court-martial finds the member not guilty of a charge of unauthorized absence, or when a finding of guilty has been disapproved by the reviewing authority.

C. Discharge for Desertion. A discharge for desertion is conclusive evidence of desertion for purpose of forfeiture of pay, even in the absence of trial by courts-martial.

D. Dropped From Rolls. A commissioned officer of the Army or Air Force who is dropped from the rolls by the President for absence without authority for 3 months, forfeits all pay due or to become due. However, pay and allowances due at the time the officer is dropped from the rolls will be used to satisfy debts due the United States and its instrumentalities.

E. Disposition of Forfeitures as a Result of Desertion. When an enlisted member, warrant officer, or limited duty officer forfeits pay as a result of desertion, deposit the gross amount of such forfeited pay to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. However, do not deposit this pay beyond the expiration of term of enlistment for enlisted members.

030203. Computing Periods of Unauthorized Absence. Unauthorized absence of 24 consecutive hours or less does not affect pay or allowances. This applies even though the absence involves parts of 2 days. When the period of unauthorized absence exceeds 24 consecutive hours, use Table 3-4 to determine the first and last day of the period of absence.

030204. Absence in the Hands of Civil Authorities

A. General. Pay member all pay and allowances earned through the day before the first day of unauthorized absence. If the member is delivered to civil authorities by military authorities, member is entitled to all pay and allowances earned through the day prior to the date of such delivery. For entitlement to pay and allowances during confinement, see Table 3-2, rules 4, 5, and 6.

B. Finding of Insanity. An administrative determination under the rules contained in Table 3-3 must be made as to whether the absence was unavoidable when a member is found not guilty by reason of insanity by a civil court and transferred to a mental institution for an indefinite period of time. Table 3-2 contains rules for determining the effect of the absence on pay and allowances.

C. Work Release Program. In some states and local jurisdictions a person convicted and sentenced to a term of civil confinement may be released from the confinement facility to the cognizance of an employer during the normal workday. Work release, job rehabilitation, or employment retention programs of this type are generally conducted for the purpose of providing prisoners a means to continue support of their dependents and to demonstrate that they are capable of self-rehabilitation. When members are paroled to military authorities under a "work release" or similar program, they are entitled to pay and allowances for each day of full duty performed commensurate with their grade and military specialty.

030205. Absence Due to Disease

- A. When Pay Is Forfeited. See Table 3-2, rule 3.
- B. When Pay Is Not Forfeited. Pay is not forfeited for absence from duty caused by:
1. An injury.
 2. A disease, except under Table 3-2, rule 3.
 3. Simple drunkenness, if not coupled with chronic alcoholism or intemperate use of habit-forming drugs.
 4. Venereal disease, whether or not due to misconduct.

C. Personal Expense Money. A member whose pay is forfeited under Table 3-2, rule 3, for more than 1 month is entitled to $5 for personal expenses for each full month that member forfeits pay. This payment will be made even though the member is indebted to the United States. The term "full month" is the period from a date in 1 month through the preceding date in the following month. For example, 3 July through 2 August is 1 month.

030206. Military Confinement

- A. General. Pay and allowances accrue to a member in military confinement except:
1. When confined by military authorities, for civil authorities. See Table 3-2, rules 6 and 8.
 2. When pay and allowances are forfeited by court-martial sentence. See Chapter 48, and Table 3-2, rule 10.
 3. When the term of enlistment expires. See paragraph 030207, below.

030207. Term of Enlistment Expires

A. General. Pay and allowances accrue to a member upon return to a full duty status. Full duty is attained when a member not in confinement is assigned useful and productive duties (as opposed to duties prescribed by regulations for confinement facilities), on a full-time basis which are not inconsistent with the grade, length of service, and military occupational specialty (MOS). While placement in the same MOS is not essential, the decision to place a member in that MOS or to assign the member available duties consistent with the grade and service rests with the appropriate military commander.

B. Absentee Returned to Military Control. An absentee who surrenders or is apprehended after a term of enlistment has expired is not entitled to pay and allowances until restored to a full-duty status for the purpose of making good lost time. While held in retention, a member may be assigned duties as prescribed by regulations governing detained prisoners without being returned to full-duty status.

C. Enlistment Expires Before Trial. An enlisted member retained in the Military Service for the purpose of trial by court-martial is not entitled to pay for any period after expiration of the enlistment unless acquitted or the charges are dismissed, or the member is retained in or restored to a full-duty status.

D. Confined Awaiting Trial by Court-Martial. If a member is confined awaiting court-martial trial when the enlistment expires, pay and allowances end on the date the enlistment expires. If the member is acquitted when tried, pay and allowances accrue until discharge.

E. Confined Serving Court-Martial Sentence. If a member is confined serving court-martial sentence when the enlistment expires, pay and allowances end on the date the enlistment expires unless the sentence is completely overturned or set aside as specified in section 4809. Pay and allowances will not accrue again until the date the member is restored to a full-duty status.

F. Confined While in a Status of Being Held in the Service To Make Up Lost Time. If confined while in a status of being held in the Military Service to make up lost time, an enlisted member continues in a pay status, except to the extent that pay may be forfeited by court-martial, the same as during the regular enlistment period. This pay status terminates if the member is in confinement on the date the normal term of service as extended to make up lost time would have expired, even if restored to duty at a later date.

G. Confinement Deferred or Prisoner Restored to Duty. A prisoner in a non-pay status is entitled to pay and allowances when service of sentence to confinement is deferred or the member is restored to a full-duty status. The date restored to duty is the date the member reported present for duty.

H. Absentee Confined Upon Return to Military Control. An enlisted member, whose term of enlistment has expired while in a status of absence without leave or desertion, is not entitled to pay and allowances upon return to military control while confined awaiting trial and disposition of the case, if the conviction becomes final and the member has not been returned to a full-duty status. However, a member returned to military control and restored to full duty for the purpose of making good lost time before being confined to await trial, continues in a pay status except to the extent that pay may be forfeited by court-martial, the same as during the regular enlistment period. This pay status terminates if the member is in confinement on the date the normal term of service as extended to make up lost time would have expired, even if restored to duty at a later date.

I. Confined Under Sentence of Death. The pay and allowances of a member serving in confinement under sentence of death and pending completion of the appellate review of the record of trial, do not accrue after the expiration of the enlistment.

J. Appellate Review of Court-Martial Sentence. A confined member who is pending appellate review of his/her court-martial sentence is not entitled to pay and allowances after expiration of term of enlistment, unless the conviction is completely overturned or set aside.

030208. Reserve Officer Absent From Duty. A Reserve officer whose term of active service expires while confined as a result of court-martial action, continues to be entitled to pay and allowances, except when forfeited under an approved sentence of a court-martial or a period of service is terminated by proper orders.

2		In advance of that accrued		charged against leave as it accrues (note 1).
3		such leave is: a. graduation leave b. sick or convalescent leave c. pass or liberty d. proceed time		not chargeable against leave.
4	at home on PCS orders awaiting final action on physical evaluation board proceedings		entitled to pay and allowances as follows: a. basic pay b. special pay (if a health professional officer) c. BAS officers and enlisted (note 3) d. BAQ (note 2) e. clothing maintenance allowance	chargeable to leave to the extent possible (note 4).
5	on excess leave		not entitled to pay and allowances except BAQ as provided in subparagraph 260501.C (note 7)	not chargeable to accrued leave (note 6).
6	on authorized educational leave of absence not to exceed 2 years		entitled to basic pay (member is not entitled to BAQ, BAS, or any other pay and allowance to which member might otherwise be entitled for period of leave of absence)	not chargeable to accrued leave.
7	on authorized rest and recuperative absence for not more than 30 days for extending duty under DoDFMR, Volume 7A, sections 1401-1403		entitled to otherwise proper credit of full pay and allowances during the period of absence (note 5)	not chargeable to accrued leave.

NOTES:

- See paragraph 030105 for collection requirements when advance leave is changed to excess leave.
- Members without dependents are entitled to BAQ as prescribed in Table 2-3, rules 20 and 21.
- Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate shown in subparagraph 250406.B except for days of leave specifically authorized by the PCS orders. Pay BAS at the rate shown in subparagraph 250406.A for the PCS order-authorized leave period.
- A negative leave balance which existed prior to the member being ordered home continues until separation or retirement and will be collected as excess leave.
- Member is not entitled to special pay under Chapter 14, section 1402.
- Under DoDD 1327.5, a member does not accrue leave during periods of excess leave (here referred to as "non-accrual"). Computation of the number of days involved in an excess leave balance which accounts for this nonaccrual may result in a total which includes a fraction. Effective with leave taken on or after 1 Feb 1987, the total is not rounded to eliminate the fraction when pay and allowances are collected for excess leave. The fractional one-half day is considered to occur on the first day of the excess leave involved. Collect pay and allowances for the number of days, to include fractional days, according to paragraph 030105 or 030106.
- A member separating effective 1 Mar whose separation leave period through 28 Feb (or through 29 Feb during leap year) results in excess leave, is not entitled to pay and allowances for 29 and 30 Feb (or for 30 Feb during leap year). These days are not considered days of excess leave; however, the member is considered to be in a non-pay status through 30 Feb. See paragraph 020202.

NOTES:

1. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate prescribed when permission to ration separately is granted unless they were subsisted at government expense.
2. Member is not entitled to pay or allowances for period of hospitalization after expiration of enlistment.
3. Pay and allowances due on date of desertion and on date an officer was dropped from the rolls will be used to satisfy debts due the United States and its instrumentalities.
4. In any case where the commander of the military installation retains the discretionary authority to decide to incarcerate a member (or to merely restrict to the duty station and assign to perform useful and productive duties on a full-time basis), such member will not be considered as being "constructively absent" for the purposes of entitlement to pay and allowances.
5. A member is not entitled to pay and allowances if granted a pass or liberty to serve civil confinement.
6. See section 2605 for entitlement to basic allowance for quarters in a non-pay status.
7. Under existing DoD policy and Status of Forces Agreements, the United States Commander always retains discretionary authority to incarcerate or restrict a Military Service member to the installation when such a member is pending civil charges, even in cases where incarceration or restriction is requested by foreign authorities. Such member is not considered as being "constructively absent" for the purpose of entitlement to pay and allowances.

SUBJECT: Interim Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Hostile Fire/Imminent Danger Pay, (DFAS Item H-39)

Attached is a Interim Change 44-98 to Chapter 10 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It was effective October 17, 1998.

The purpose of this change is to issue revisions to policy resulting from Section 621 of the FY 1999 National Defense Authorization Act and ASD(FMP) Memorandum dated October 29, 1998, which eliminate prorating of Hostile Fire/Imminent Danger Pay.
This is a complete rewrite and replacement of Chapter 10.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft proposal of this change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change incorporates your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

My point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN

HOSTILE FIRE/IMMINENT DANGER PAY

1. Replace the entirety of Chapter 10 with the attached revision.
2. Delete subparagraph 560401F as now being obsolete and replace the second sentence in subparagraph 560401A with the following:

For exceptions, see subparagraphs B, C, D, and E below, and paragraphs 560402 through 560408.
3. Delete reference to Table 10-1 in the Table of Contents.
4. Replace Note 6 to Table 3-2 with the following:

See section 2605 for entitlement to basic allowance for housing in a non-pay status. See chapter 10 for entitlement to hostile fire/imminent danger pay which is payable in full for each month in which qualification is made.
5. In the Bibliography under Chapter 10, Section 1001:
 - a. Add citation: ASD(FMP) Memo, 29 Oct 1998.
 - b. Add citation: Public Law 105-261, 17 Oct 1998.

CHAPTER 10

SPECIAL PAY-DUTY SUBJECT TO HOSTILE FIRE OR IMMINENT DANGER1001 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

100101. Policy. A member shall be paid the entire monthly amount of special pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger (hereinafter referred to as HF/IDP) for any month, during any part of which the member, while on duty in a foreign area and entitled to basic pay, is:

- A. Subjected to hostile fire or explosion of a hostile mine, or
- B. On duty in an area in close proximity to a hostile fire incident and the member is in danger of being exposed to the same dangers actually experienced by other Service members subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines, or
- C. Killed, injured, or wounded by hostile fire, explosion of a hostile mine, or any other hostile action, or
- D. On official duty in a designated IDP area (figure 10-1).

100102. Payment. HF/IDP is in addition to all other pays or allowances. It is payable in the full amount of $150, without prorating or reduction, for each month, during any part of which, a member qualifies. Active and Reserve component members who qualify, at any time during a month, will receive the full amount of HF/IDP regardless of the period of time on active duty or the number of days they receive basic pay during that month.

1002 DETERMINATIONS OF FACT

100201. Eligibility. The appropriate commander must certify that the member has met the requirements for entitlement to HF/IDP for a given month, except when the member is under orders on official duty in one of the designated IDP areas listed in figure 10-1.

- A. A death certificate or injury report may be substituted in place of the certification if the document establishes the cause of the death or injury was due to hostile fire or an explosion of a hostile mine in a foreign area.
- B. Certification of entitlement should be made at the lowest level of command that includes all the vessels, aircraft, or units subjected to the hostile fire or explosion of hostile mine incident. For example, in the case of a single vessel subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines, the vessel's commanding officer should certify payment for all Service members on board. If two or more vessels are involved, the commanding officer of the unit that includes all of the vessels should certify eligibility.

C. Certification must include the name and social security number of each member entitled to the hostile fire pay, a short description of the incident, and when and where it occurred. The certification should be forwarded directly to the servicing financial support office, with a copy to the cognizant Regional Combatant Commander.

D. A member is not considered to be on official duty in a designated IDP area and is, therefore, not eligible for HF/IDP pay if the member is in the area:

1. on leave from a duty station outside the IDP area;
2. while merely transiting (as distinguished from performing official duty) by any means (including vessel, aircraft, and land conveyance) the IDP area as a consequence of traveling between two points, both outside the IDP; or
3. solely for personal convenience.

E. When the airspace is specifically included in an IDP area designation, members who perform official duty while flying over the area are eligible for HF/IDP, even if they do not land in the area. When airspace is not specifically designated, members who perform duty over the area are not entitled to HF/IDP unless they land in the area.

F. Members who perform duty on a vessel performing operational duty while in an area designated for IDP are eligible for HF/IDP.

100202. Administration. Any determinations of fact made by commanders in the certification of hostile fire are conclusive. Such determinations are not subject to review by any officer or agency of the Government, unless there has been fraud or gross negligence. Such determinations, however, may be changed on the basis of new evidence or for other good cause.

1003 SPECIAL SITUATIONS

100301. Member Captured or Missing. A member entitled to HF/IDP immediately before entering a status of missing, missing-in-action, interned in a foreign country or captured by a hostile force shall continue to be credited with HF/IDP for each month while in such a status. (See Chapter 34 for more detailed instructions.)

100302. Hospitalization. A member entitled to HF/IDP, who is hospitalized for a wound or injury incurred as a result of hostile action, is entitled to HF/IDP for each month hospitalization continues, up to an additional 3 months after the month in which the wound or injury occurred.

100303. Absence. A member, otherwise entitled to HF/IDP as a consequence of assignment to a designated IDP area, who is absent from the designated area for an entire calendar month is not entitled to HF/IDP for that month.

NOTES:

1. The designation of a land area encompasses all internal waters, unless otherwise noted. For HF/IDP purposes, the term "internal waters" is defined as waters landward of the baseline drawn in accordance with international law.
2. The designation of a water area (such as the Persian Gulf) includes the territorial seas of those waters, but not the internal waters of the coastal lands. For example, all waters of the Persian Gulf seaward of the baseline of the coastal states, drawn in accordance with international law, would be included in the Persian Gulf designation.
3. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, airspace is NOT part of the included area. When airspace is specifically included, it will normally be that space directly vertically above the approved land or sea area.
4. This figure reflects all designated areas which were active within the last ten years.

CHAPTER 4PAYMENT IN CASES OF VOID, VOIDABLE, OR REJECTED ENLISTMENTS OR INDUCTIONS*0401 VOIDABILITY OF CONTRACT

A fraudulent contract of enlistment or induction is not void but is voidable at the option of the government. When the government becomes aware of the fraud, it may void the contract or waive the objection and allow the contract to stand. (See Table 4-1.)

0402 FRAUDULENT ENLISTMENTS-PAY AND ALLOWANCES

Members under investigation or determined to be serving in fraudulent enlistments are due pay and allowances for periods shown in Table 4-1.

0403 DONATIONS AND TRAVEL PAYMENTS

See Chapter 35, of this volume.

0404 DISBURSING OFFICER ENTITLED TO CREDIT

A disbursing officer is entitled to credit for proper payments to a member who fraudulently enlisted, if payments were made without the knowledge of the fraud and before the government rescinded the contract.

0405 FAILURE TO DISCOVER PHYSICAL CONDITION OF ENLISTEE OR INDUCTEE

Failure to discover that the physical condition of an enlistee or inductee was such as would warrant rejection for military service does not deprive member of right to pay and allowances or of the status of being entitled to basic pay. (See Table 4-1.)

CHAPTER 5

SPECIAL PAYS FOR MEDICAL OFFICERS

0501 VARIABLE SPECIAL PAY

050101. Entitlement

A. Active Duty for at Least One Year. An officer of the Medical Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a medical officer who is on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of at least one year is entitled to special pay as provided in this section and sections 0502 through 0504, below.

B. Active Duty Less than One Year in Support of Persian Gulf Conflict. Any officer of the Medical Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a medical officer who served on active duty in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict may be entitled to special pay benefits for medical officers. See Chapter 64, Health Care Officers on Active Duty in Support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, to determine eligibility and entitlement.

★C. Effective December 5, 1991, the following categories of medical officers on active duty less than one year, other than active duty for training are eligible to receive special pay provided under this section, in the same manner as a regular medical officer. Note: See paragraph 050601 for medical officers serving on active duty for training.

1. Reservists called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

2. Active duty medical officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

3. Active duty medical officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained on active duty under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

4. Retirees recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

D. Payment of special pay authorized by subparagraph 050101.C, above, may be made on a monthly basis, prorating for partial months when appropriate. The officer shall refund any amount received in excess of the amount that corresponds to the actual period of active duty served by the officer.

050102. Rates Payable. The monthly rates payable are:

- A. If the officer is an intern$ 100.00
- B. If the officer has less than 6 years' creditable service and is not an intern416.66
- C. If the officer has 6 but less than 8 years' creditable service.....1,000.00
- D. If the officer has 8 but less than 10 years' creditable service.....958.33
- E. If the officer has 10 but less than 12 years' creditable service.....916.66
- F. If the officer has 12 but less than 14 years' creditable service.....833.33
- G. If the officer has 14 but less than 18 years' creditable service.....750.00
- H. If the officer has 18 but less than 22 years' creditable service.....666.66
- I. If the officer has 22 or more years' creditable service.....583.33
- J. If the officer is serving in a pay grade above O-6, regardless of years of creditable service.....583.33

050103. Special Provisions

A. A medical officer is entitled to variable special pay if an ordered tour of less than one year is amended to require continuous active duty for 1 year or more. Entitlement begins on the date the amending orders are issued to extend the tour to 1 year or more.

B. Entitlement to this variable special pay is in addition to any other pay and allowances of the officer.

050104. Creditable Service Defined. Use creditable service to compute the medical officer's entitlement to variable special pay. Creditable service includes:

A. All periods of internship and residency training successfully completed while not on active duty; and

B. All periods of internship and residency training not completed, if they were terminated or interrupted as the result of military operational requirements; and

C. All periods of active service in the Medical Corps of the Army or Navy, as an officer of the Air Force designated as a medical officer, or as a medical officer of the Public Health Service.

NOTE: Internship or residency in a foreign medical facility, which is not acceptable under the credentialing criteria of an American Medical or Osteopathic Specialty Examining Board, may not be included in the computation of creditable service.

0502 BOARD CERTIFIED PAY

050201. Entitlement. Medical officers as defined in paragraph 050101, above, are entitled to board certified pay for active duty when they meet the requirements of this section.

050202. Rates Payable. The monthly rates payable are:

- A. If the officer has less than 10 years' creditable service.....$208.33
- B. If the officer has 10 but less than 12 years' creditable service.....291.66
- C. If the officer has 12 but less than 14 years' creditable service.....333.33
- D. If the officer has 14 but less than 18 years' creditable service.....416.66
- E. If the officer has 18 or more years' creditable service.....500.00

050203. Special Provisions

A. A medical officer is entitled to board certified pay if:

- 1. Entitled to variable special pay (section 0501, above); and
- 2. Board certified (paragraph 050205, below).

B. Entitlement to this board certified pay is in addition to any other pay and allowances of the officer.

050204. Creditable Service Defined. See paragraph 050104, above.

050205. Board Certified Defined. A medical officer is considered board certified if:

A. Certified by an American Medical or Osteopathic Specialty Examining Board. (American medical or osteopathic examining boards are those recognized by the American Board of Medical Specialties and the Advisory Board for Osteopathic Specialists. Listings of the recognized certifying boards are published annually in the Directory of Residency Training Programs, published by the American Medical Association, and the American Osteopathic Association Yearbook and Directory of Osteopathic Physicians.) or

B. Board certification equivalency has been established for specialties unique to military medicine for which there is a formal postgraduate medical training program of not less than two academic years. Successful candidates will receive a certificate of board certification equivalency.

0503 ADDITIONAL SPECIAL PAY

050301. Entitlement. Medical officers as defined in paragraph 050101, above, are entitled to additional special pay when they meet the requirements of this section and the requirements of the administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned.

050302. References

A. Army: DA Msg 041500Z Nov 88, as amended by DA Msg 201300Z Dec 89 (reference (k)).

B. Navy: SECNAVINST 7220.75 Series (reference (ac)).

C. Air Force: AFR 36-4 (reference (j)).

050303. Eligibility Criteria. To qualify for additional special pay under this section, a medical officer must:

A. Not be undergoing internship or initial residency training; and

B. Sign an agreement to remain on active duty for at least one additional year from the effective date of the agreement. For medical officers on active duty less than one year in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, see Chapter 64 to determine eligibility and entitlement.

C. Effective December 5, 1991, the following categories of medical officers on active duty less than one year, other than active duty for training are eligible to receive special pay provided under this section.

1. Reservists called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

2. Active duty medical officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

3. Active duty medical officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained on active duty under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

4. Retirees recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

050304. Creditable Service Defined. See paragraph 050104, above.

050305. Rates Payable

A. If eligible under subparagraphs 050303.A and B, above, a medical officer is entitled to additional special pay of $15,000 for each 12-month period.

B. If eligible under subparagraph 050303.C, above, a medical officer is entitled to a monthly pro rata portion of the annual additional special pay.

050306. Time of Payment

A. Pay additional special pay annually at the beginning of each 12-month period, starting with the effective date of the written agreement.

B. For medical officers eligible under subparagraph 050303.C, above, pay a pro rata portion of the applicable annual amount for additional special pay as a monthly entitlement. If service during any month is less than a full month, prorate the additional special pay on a daily basis.

050307. Termination, Recoupment and Refund of Unearned Additional Special Pay

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may terminate, at any time, an officer's entitlement to additional special pay. If entitlement is terminated, recoup the unearned additional special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to subparagraph C, below.

B. If an officer enters internship or initial residency training or does not serve on active duty for the period of the agreement, recoup the unearned additional special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to subparagraph C, below.

C. Recoupment of unearned additional special pay is not required when the officer's failure to complete the period of active duty specified in the agreement is due to:

1. Death or disability that is not the result of misconduct or willful neglect and not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence;

2. Separation from military service by operation of laws or regulations of DoD or Service regulations, when approved by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; or

3. In other cases, when the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs (ASD(HA)) determines recoupment is not in the best interest of the government.

D. Effective October 1, 1985, a discharge in bankruptcy that is entered less than 5 years after the termination of an additional special pay agreement does not discharge the medical officer from a debt arising under the terminated additional special pay agreement.

E. Medical officers on active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training, who do not serve the full term of active duty that corresponds to a monthly amount must refund any amount received in excess of the amount that corresponds to the actual period of active duty.

0504 INCENTIVE SPECIAL PAY

050401. Authorization. Medical officers as defined in paragraph 050101, above, may be authorized incentive special pay when they meet the requirements of the administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned.

050402. References

- A. Army: DA Msg 251350Z Jul 95 (reference (n)).
- B. Navy: CNO Msg 212325Z Aug 95 (reference (l)).
- C. Air Force: HQ AFMPC letter, 16 Aug 1995 (reference (m)).

050403. Eligibility Criteria. To be eligible for incentive special pay under this section, a medical officer must:

- A. Not be undergoing medical internship or initial residency training; and
- B. Be serving in pay grade O-6 or below; and
- C. Sign an agreement to remain on active duty for at least one year. For medical officers on active duty less than one year in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, see Chapter 64 to determine eligibility and entitlement. The effective date of the agreement will be as prescribed in regulations issued by the Secretary concerned and will be included in the agreement; and
- D. Be determined by the Military Department concerned to be:
 - 1. Fully qualified in a medical specialty designated as critical and practicing in that specialty a substantial portion of the time, or
 - 2. Assigned to a position as the sole professional resource in the officer's category, or

3. Assigned to a position which has limited professional growth opportunities because of the nature of practice in the assignment, or

4. Isolated from medical educational opportunities, or

5. Lacking any opportunities to interact with the medical community, or

6. Affected by other similar factors. Such determinations will be approved by the Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designee.

E. Effective December 5, 1991, the following categories of medical officers on active duty for less than one year, other than active duty for training, are eligible to receive special pay provided under this subparagraph.

1. Reservists who are called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

2. Active duty medical officers who are retained involuntarily under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

3. Active duty medical officers who agree voluntarily to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained on active duty under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

4. Retirees recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

050404. Creditable Service Defined. See paragraph 050104, above.

050405. Amount Payable

★A. Effective October 1, 1992, an officer authorized incentive special pay may be paid an amount in accordance with amounts published annually by the military departments in conjunction with DoD Instruction 6000.13, Medical Manpower and Personnel (reference (r)). The maximum for any incentive special pay is $36,000 per year.

B. For medical officers eligible under the provisions of subparagraph 050403.E, above, pay a monthly pro rata portion of the applicable annual amount, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned. Prorate on a daily basis when service during any month is less than a full month.

050406. Time of Payment

A. Pay incentive special pay in a lump sum at the beginning of the 12-month period for which the officer is entitled to such payment or on a monthly basis when the officer is entitled under subparagraph 050403.E, above. Prorate on a daily basis when service during any month is less than a full month.

B. DoD policy generally precludes payment of ISP during the fiscal year in which the qualifying residency training is completed. This policy presents an injustice when the training is completed out of the normal cycle (at a time other than the end of June). In cases where the reason for this out of cycle completion is not the fault of the medical officer, the Surgeon General concerned is delegated the authority to waive DoD policy and grant ISP. The effective date for ISP shall be calculated from the completion date of the qualifying training plus 3 months.

★C. Medical officers who enter into a MSP contract at the rates authorized October 1, 1998, may enter into an ISP contract during FY99 at the amount listed for the same specialty as the MSP contract. An officer must sign a new MSP contract with an equal or longer obligation in order to receive any future increase in ISP rates.

050407. Termination, Recoupment, and Refund of Unearned Incentive Special Pay

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or designee, may terminate at any time an officer's entitlement to incentive special pay because of unprofessional conduct or medical incompetence, under pertinent departmental directives. If entitlement is terminated, recoup the unearned incentive special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to the provisions of subparagraph C, below.

B. If an officer does not serve on active duty for the period of the agreement, is promoted to O-7, or enters internship or initial residency training, recoup the unearned incentive special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to subparagraph C, below.

C. Recoupment of unearned incentive special pay is not required when the officer's failure to complete the period of active duty specified in the agreement is due to:

1. Death or disability that is not the result of misconduct or willful neglect and not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence;

2. Separation from military service by operation of laws or regulations of the Department or the cognizant Services, when approved by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; or

3. In other cases, when the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs (ASD (HA)) determines recoupment is not in the best interest of the government under the terminated incentive special pay agreement.

D. Effective October 1, 1985, a discharge in bankruptcy that is entered less than 5 years after the termination of an incentive special pay agreement does not discharge the medical officer from a debt arising under the terminated incentive special pay agreement.

E. Medical officers on active duty other than active duty for training under the provisions of subparagraph 050403.E, above, who do not serve the full term of active duty that corresponds to a monthly amount must refund any amount received in excess of the amount that corresponds to the actual period of active duty.

★F. With approval by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or designee, a medical officer with an existing single-year ISP contract may terminate that contract on or after October 1, 1998, in order to enter into a new single-year contract only when the new contract will result in a higher ISP rate than the ISP contract being terminated. NOTE: This provision is not intended to allow medical officers arbitrarily to terminate an agreement solely for the purpose of changing the anniversary date to coincide with an Additional Special Pay agreement or a resignation/release from active duty.

0505 INTERSERVICE TRANSFERS

050501. Entitlement Policy. The following instructions apply to the interservice transfers of medical officers serving under additional special pay agreements and incentive special pay agreements:

A. The gaining Military Service will determine the special pay status of the transferred officer.

B. The gaining Military Service's approval of the interservice transfer will convey approval of any special pay agreement(s) then in effect.

C. Gaining and losing Military Services will prorate payments of special pay to the transferred officer based on effective date of the interservice transfer.

0506 SPECIAL PAY FOR ACTIVE DUTY OF RESERVE MEDICAL OFFICERS

★050601. Entitlement. A Reserve officer on active duty for less than one year is entitled to special pay at the monthly rate of $450 for each month of active duty for annual training, active duty for training, or active duty for special work. The amount will be prorated for periods less than one month. A member cannot receive any other type of medical pay under this provision.

★050602. Active Duty of 1 Year or More. A Reserve medical officer who is on active duty for other than training for 1 year or more or whose orders are amended to require continuous active duty for 1 year or more (from date of amendment) is entitled to the special pays provided in sections 0501 through 0504, above, and 0509 and 0510, below, if otherwise qualified.

050603. Active Duty for More than 30 Days But Less than One Year, Other than Active Duty for Training.

A. If otherwise qualified, medical officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or recalled to active duty under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)), or medical officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty when other officers are involuntarily retained pursuant to 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or when the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify payment of special pay under this subparagraph, are entitled to the special pays provided in sections 0501 through 0504, 0509 and 0510, below. Payment of special pays pursuant to this paragraph shall be paid on a monthly basis at a monthly pro rata portion of the annual amount. If service during any month is less than a full month, prorate on a daily basis.

B. Medical officers who receive special pay under this paragraph are not entitled to special pay under paragraph 050601, above, for the same period of time. No dual compensation is permitted. Any payment made under paragraph 050601 for the same period shall be recouped before special pay under this paragraph is authorized.

0507 MEDICAL OFFICER RETENTION BONUS (MORB)

050701. Entitlement. For the period January 1, 1989 through September 30, 1990 only, medical officers who are fully qualified in a designated specialty and who meet the provisions of this section are eligible to enter into a written agreement for medical officer retention bonus (MORB). A medical officer who enters into a MORB agreement and who also enters into an incentive special pay (ISP) agreement under section 0504 of this chapter may not be paid more than $16,000 ISP during each year of the MORB agreement.

050702. References

A. Army: DA Message 051300Z Feb 90 as amended by DA Message 071200Z Feb 90 (reference (p)).

B. Navy: SECNAVINST 7220.75 Series (reference (ac)).

C. Air Force: HQ AFMPC/SGYF Messages 122200Z, Jan 89 and 311800Z, Mar 89 and HQ AFMPC/DPMMF Message 092205Z, Feb 90 (reference (o)).

050703. Special Provisions. To be eligible for the MORB, a medical officer must:

A. Be serving in pay grade O-6 or below;

B. Have at least 8 years' creditable service as defined in paragraph 050104, above, or have completed any active duty service commitment incurred for medical education and training;

C. Have completed initial residency training (or will complete before 1 October 1991) and not be pursuing a medical residency or fellowship subsequent to completing initial residency training.

D. Agree to remain on active duty for at least 2 years, but not more than 4 years.

050704. Payments and Rates Payable

A. MORB is payable in equal annual installments. The initial installment is payable upon execution of the MORB agreement. Thereafter, annual installments are payable on the anniversary of the agreement.

B. Officers with a training obligation under subparagraph 050703.C, above, must understand that they might receive one or more MORB installments before their MORB active duty commitment begins. See also subparagraph 050703.D, above.

0508 MULTI-YEAR SPECIAL PAY (MSP)

050801. Authorization and Entitlement. Medical officers who are fully qualified in a designated specialty and who meet the provisions of this section are eligible to enter into a written agreement for Multi-Year Special Pay (MSP). Subject to acceptance by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned, or designee, a medical officer with an existing MORB or MSP contract may terminate that contract in order to enter into a new MSP contract, with an equal or longer obligation, at the MSP annual rate in effect at the time of execution of the new MSP contract. Any unearned portion of the terminated contract shall be recouped. The earliest effective date for existing contracts under this authority is October 1, 1992.

050802. References

A. Army: DA Msg 251350Z Jul 95 (reference (n)).

B. Navy: CNO Msg 212325Z Aug 95 (reference (l)).

C. Air Force: HQ AFMPC letter, 16 Aug 1995 (reference (m)).

050803. Eligibility Criteria. A medical officer who is below the grade of O-7 is eligible for MSP when the officer:

A. Has at least eight years of creditable service or has completed any active duty service commitment incurred for medical education and training; and

★B. Has completed specialty qualification (or is scheduled to complete initial residency training before October 1, 1998); and

C. Executes a written agreement to remain on active duty for two, three, or four years, that is accepted by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee).

D. The Secretary concerned, or designee may, based on Service-unique requirements, decline to offer MSP to any specialty that is otherwise eligible or restrict the length of an MSP contract for a specialty to less than four years.

050804. Service Obligation. Active duty service obligations for MSP will be established as follows:

A. The officer must sign a written agreement to stay on active duty for either two, three, or four years, as applicable. The duration of the agreement will determine the amount payable.

B. Obligation for MSP begins after the obligation incurred for medical education and training and/or previous multi-year pay agreements, such as MORB, current at the time of agreement execution, expire.

C. Obligation for additional special pay, incentive special pay, promotion, PCS, and other miscellaneous obligations may be paid back concurrently with the MSP obligation.

050805. Payments and Rates Payable

★A. Annual payment amounts for multi-year contracts are published annually by the Military Departments in conjunction with DoD Instruction 6000.13, "Medical Manpower and Personnel" (reference (r)). Subspecialties of a primary specialty are included with the primary specialty except for subspecialties of general surgery, internal medicine, and pediatrics. Medical officers may be paid at the rate for any specialty for which they currently are credentialed; however, the MSP and ISP specialty must be the same.

B. Payment is due upon acceptance of the agreement by the Secretary of Military Service concerned, or designee. Thereafter, payments are due on the anniversary date of the effective date of the agreement for the term of the agreement (i.e., two, three, or four years).

C. The ASD(HA), in consultation with the Military Departments, will reassess the assignment of specialties to each category every 2 years and direct changes as appropriate to support desired staffing levels.

050806. Recoupment

★A. The provisions of paragraph 050407, above, apply to unserved portions of MSP agreements. However reduce the amount to be recouped by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D, above.

B. MSP payments for officers promoted to O-7 will be recouped on a pro rata basis from the effective date of the promotion to O-7.

0509 BOARD CERTIFIED PAY FOR NON-PHYSICIAN HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS

★050901. Entitlement. Officers in the Medical Service Corps of the Army or Navy, or Biomedical Science in the Air Force, Army Medical Specialist Corps, the Nurse Corps of the Army or Navy, or designated as a Nurse in the Air Force who are health care providers (other than psychologists) are entitled to this special pay in equal monthly amounts. SPECIAL PAY FOR SELECT RESERVE HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS IN CRITICALLY SHORT WARTIME SPECIALTIES

1. Add the following to the TABLE OF CONTENTS to read:

"0511 SPECIAL PAY FOR CRITICALLY SHORT WARTIME HEALTH SPECIALISTS IN SELECTED RESERVES.....46B"

2. Add the following new section 0511 to read:

0511 SPECIAL PAY FOR CRITICALLY SHORT WARTIME HEALTH
SPECIALIST IN SELECTED RESERVES.

051101. Entitlement. Beginning on and after 10 February 1996, an officer of a reserve component who executes a written agreement to serve in the Selected Reserve of an armed force for a period of at least one year and not more than three years is entitled to Special Pay for Critically Short Wartime Specialists in Selected Reserves. Such individual must be an officer in a health care profession who is qualified in a specialty designated by DoD regulations as a critically short wartime specialty. No agreement under this section may be entered into after 30 September 1999.

051102. Rates Payable. Special pay under this section shall be paid annually at the beginning of each twelve-month period for which the officer has agreed to serve. The annual rate may not exceed $10,000.

051103. References

A. Air Force:

B. Army:

C. Navy:

051104. Termination and Refund of Special Pay. If an officer voluntarily terminates service before the end of any twelve-month period of the contract, recoup the full amount of the annual payment made at the beginning of that twelve-month period. A discharge in bankruptcy that is entered less than 5 years after the termination of Special Pay for Critically Short Wartime Health Specialists agreement does not discharge the medical officer from a debt arising under the terminated additional special pay agreement.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding Effect on Bonuses from Death of a Member,
(DFAS Item I-33)

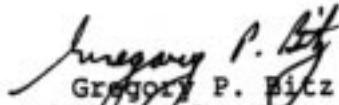

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 37-99 to Chapters 5, 6, 9, and 20 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A.

The purpose of this change is to establish parity with regard to the payment of outstanding bonus obligations upon death of enlisted and officer members. This change also clarifies the payment policy with regard to death determined to be the result of a member's own misconduct. This change was effective
June 29, 1999

EFFECT ON BONUSES FROM DEATH OF MEMBER

1. Use the following standard paragraph to establish payment procedures for unpaid bonus balances in the event of death of a member. The paragraph is to be added to affected chapters of the DoD Financial Management Regulation; Volume 7A as set forth below.

" If a member dies before receiving the full amount of the bonus due (including contracted future year anniversary payments) and death is not caused by the member's misconduct, the remaining unpaid bonus balance is payable as a lump sum for inclusion in the settlement of the deceased member's final military pay account. If death is determined to be the result of the member's own misconduct, termination of future payments and proration or recoupment of the bonus, as applicable, will be made in accordance with procedures established for members whose inability to complete a contracted period of service is voluntary or the result of misconduct."

2. In Chapter 5, add a new paragraph numbered 050805D using the wording from the paragraph in number 1 above.

3. In Chapter 6, take the existing text under paragraph 060805 and renumber it as 060805A. Add a new paragraph numbered 060805B using the wording from the paragraph in number 1 above.

4. In Chapter 9, replace existing subparagraphs 090106B and 090205A with the wording from the paragraph number 1 above.

5. In Chapter 12, add a new paragraph 120203E using the wording from the paragraph in number 1 above.

6. In Chapter 20, add a new paragraph 200403 using the wording from the paragraph in number 1 above.

7. In Chapter 36, replace existing subparagraph 360201D with the wording from the paragraph in number 1 above.

8. Add the following citation to the bibliography under the entries for each of the new paragraphs:

CHAPTER 6SPECIAL PAYS FOR DENTAL OFFICERS*★0601 ACCESSION BONUS*★060101. Entitlement

★A. An individual, who executes a written agreement to accept a commission as an officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer, to serve on active duty for a period of not less than four years, and upon acceptance of the agreement by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned is entitled to dental officer accession bonus.

★B. A former dental officer who no longer holds an appointment, and is otherwise eligible, must have been discharged from any Uniformed Service at least two years prior to execution of the written agreement to be entitled to dental officer accession bonus.

★C. An individual who holds an appointment as a dental officer in either the active or Reserve Component is not eligible for the accession bonus.

★060102. Special Provisions

★A. The individual must not have received financial assistance from the Department of Defense to pursue a course of study in dentistry in exchange for an agreement to accept an appointment as a dental officer. Includes, but is not limited to, participants of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program and Financial Assistance Program.

★B. Individual must be qualified to become and remain certified and licensed as a dentist as determined by the requirements of the Military Service concerned.

★D. Eligible officers who sign a written agreement, on or after 1 October 1996 through 30 September 2002, to serve on active duty in exchange for receiving the accession bonus are entitled.

★060103. Rates Payable. For the period 1 October 1996 through 30 September 1997, if eligible under paragraph 060102, above, a dental officer may receive an amount not to exceed $30,000.

★060104. Termination, Recoupment, and Refund of Unearned Accession Bonus

★A. An officer who fails to become and remain certified or licensed as a dentist during the period for which the payment is made shall refund the full amount of the bonus.

★B. An officer who voluntarily terminates service on active duty before the end of the obligated period shall refund the unserved portion of the accession bonus.

★C. A discharge in bankruptcy under Title 11 (reference (aj)) that is entered less than five years after the termination of an accession bonus agreement does not discharge a person from a debt arising under such agreement or subparagraphs A and B, above. This applies to any case commenced under Title 11 (reference (aj)) after 1 October 1996.

★0602 VARIABLE SPECIAL PAY

★A. Active Duty for at Least One Year. An officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer who is on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of at least one year is entitled to special pay as provided in this section and sections 0603 through 0605, below.

★B. Active Duty Less Than One Year in Support of Persian Gulf Conflict. Any officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer who served on active duty in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict may be entitled to special pay benefits for dental officers. See Chapter 64, Health Care Officers on Active Duty in Support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, to determine eligibility and entitlement.

C. Effective 5 December 1991, the following categories of dental officers on active duty less than one year, other than active duty for training, are eligible to receive special pay provided under this section, in the same manner as a regular dental officer.

1. Reservists called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

2. Active duty dental officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

3. Active duty dental officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained on active duty under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

4. Retired dental officers recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

★060202. Rates Payable. The monthly rates payable are:

★A. If the officer is an intern or has less than 3 years creditable service.....$250.00

★B. If the officer has 3 but less than 6 years' creditable service and is not an intern.....$583.33

★C. If the officer has 6 but less than 10 years' creditable service.....$583.33

D. If the officer has 10 but less than 14 years' creditable service.....$500.00

E. If the officer has 14 but less than 18 years' creditable service.....$333.33

F. If the officer has 18 or more years' creditable service.....$250.00

G. If the officer is serving in a pay grade above O-6, regardless of years' of creditable service.....$83.33

★060203. Special Provisions

A. A dental officer is entitled to variable special pay if an ordered tour of less than one year is amended to require continuous active duty for one year or more. Entitlement begins on the date the amending orders are issued to extend the tour to one year or more.

B. Entitlement to this variable special pay is in addition to any other pay and allowances of the officer.

★060204. Creditable Service Defined. Use creditable service to compute the dental officer's entitlement to variable special pay. Creditable service includes:

A. All periods of internship and residency training successfully completed while not on active duty; and

B. All periods of internship and residency training not completed, if they were terminated or interrupted as the result of military operational requirements; and

C. All periods of active service in the Dental Corps of the Army or Navy, as an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer, or as a dental officer of the Public Health Service.

★0603. BOARD CERTIFIED PAY

★060301. Entitlement. Dental officers as defined in paragraph 060201, above, are entitled to board certified pay for active duty when they meet the requirements of this section.

★060302. Rates Payable. The monthly rates payable are:

★A. If the officer has less than 10 years' creditable service.....$208.33

- ★B. If the officer has 10 but less than 12 years' creditable service.....$291.66
- ★C. If the officer has 12 but less than 14 years' creditable service.....$333.33
- ★D. If the officer has 14 but less than 18 years' creditable service.....$416.66
- ★E. If the officer has 18 or more years' creditable service.....$500.00

★060303. Special Provisions

- A. A dental officer is entitled to board certified pay if:

- ★1. Entitled to variable special pay (section 0602, above); and
- ★2. Board certified (paragraph 060305, below).

B. Entitlement to this board certified pay is in addition to any other pay and allowances of the officer.

★060305. Board Certified Defined. A dental officer is considered board certified if:

A. Certified by an American Dental Specialty Examining Board recognized by the American Dental Association (ADA); or

B. Awarded a Board Certification Equivalency Certificate issued by the Department of Defense or a Military Department for a Service-recognized dental specialty which is unique to military dentistry. To be eligible for certification, a dental officer must have completed a formal postgraduate training program of not less than two academic years in a military dental specialty for which there is a documented requirement.

★0604 ADDITIONAL SPECIAL PAY

★060401. Entitlement. Dental officers as defined in paragraph 060201, above, are entitled to additional special pay when they meet the requirements of this section and the requirements of the Military Service concerned.

★060402. References

- A. Army: DA Msg 061843Z Aug 86 (reference (s)).
- B. Navy: SECNAVINST 7220.61F (reference (t)).
- C. Air Force: AFR 36-4 (reference (j)).

★060403. Eligibility Criteria. To qualify for additional special pay under this section, a dental officer who is entitled to variable special pay under section 0602, above, must:

A. Not be undergoing internship or initial residency training; and

B. Sign an agreement to remain on active duty for at least one additional year from the effective date of the agreement. For dental officers on active duty less than one year in support of the Persian Gulf conflict, see Chapter 64 to determine eligibility and entitlement.

★A. Less than 3 years' creditable service is entitled to additional special pay of $4,000 for each 12-month period.

★B. At least 3, but less than 14 years' creditable service, is entitled to additional special pay of $6,000 for each 12-month period.

★C. At least 14, but less than 18 years' creditable service, is entitled to additional special pay of $8,000 for each 12-month period.

★D. Eighteen or more years' creditable service is entitled to additional special pay of $10,000 for each 12-month period.

★E. If eligible under subparagraph 060403.C, above, pay a monthly pro rata portion of the applicable annual amount for additional special pay. If service during any month is less than a full month, prorate on a daily basis.

★060406. Time of Payment. Pay additional special pay annually at the beginning of each 12-month period, starting with the effective date of the written agreement. For dental officers eligible under subparagraph 060403.C, above, pay a monthly pro rata portion of the annual amount on a monthly basis, prorating on a daily basis for any month in which service is less than a full month.

★060407. Termination, Recoupment, and Refund of Unearned Additional Special Pay

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may terminate at any time an officer's entitlement to additional special pay. If entitlement is terminated, recoup the unearned additional special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to subparagraph C, below.

B. If an officer enters internship or initial residency training or does not serve on active duty for the period of the agreement, recoup the unearned additional special pay on a pro rata basis (based on 360 days per year), subject to subparagraph C, below.

C. Recoupment of unearned additional special pay is not required when the officer's failure to complete the period of active duty specified in the agreement is due to:

1. Death or disability that is not the result of misconduct or willful neglect and not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence;

2. Separation from military service by operation of laws or regulations of DoD or Military Service regulations, when approved by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; or

3. In other cases, when the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs (ASD(HA)) determines recoupment is not in the best interest of the government.

D. A discharge in bankruptcy that is entered within 5 years after the last day of a terminated additional special pay agreement which had specified the period of time an officer had agreed to serve, does not discharge the dental officer from a debt arising under the terminated additional special pay agreement.

E. Dental officers on active duty for less than one year, other than active duty for training, who do not serve the full term of active duty that corresponds to a monthly amount must refund any amount received in excess of the amount that corresponds to the actual period of active duty.

★0605 TRANSITION (SAVINGS) PROVISIONS

A. Effective 1 October 1985, a dental officer who is entitled to the special pays of this chapter is entitled to such pays in an annual amount at least equal to the total annual amount of special pay for active duty plus dental continuation pay, if any, the officer would have been entitled to on 30 September 1985, under the then existing provisions of law and DoD regulation.

★B. The computation under this section will include the dental officer's continuation pay entitlement amount (under previous law and DoD regulation in effect on 30 September 1985) only if the officer enters into an additional special pay agreement under section 0604, above, chapter. Otherwise, only the officer's monthly special pay for active duty (under previous law in effect on 30 September 1985) will be included.

C. The DoD regulation in effect 30 September 1985, provided that a dental officer who was in a residency training program or a formal dental education program was entitled to continuation pay in an amount equal to 2 months' basic pay at the rates in effect on 1 October 1979. When an officer was in a training status on 30 September 1985, the officer's continuation pay entitlement (2 months' basic pay) is the amount which will be used to calculate the officer's saved pay. Effective 14 November 1986, and when no longer in such a training status, the officer's saved pay may be recalculated as if the officer had not been in a training status on 30 September 1985.

D. A dental officer who was accepted for a residency training program or a formal dental education program on or before 30 September 1985, which is scheduled to begin after 30 September 1985, is entitled to saved pay while in that program based upon his or her continuation pay entitlement on 30 September 1985.

★0606 SPECIAL PAY FOR ACTIVE DUTY OF RESERVE DENTAL OFFICERS

★060601. Entitlement. A Reserve dental officer on active duty for less than one year is entitled to special pay at the monthly rate of $350 for each month of active duty, including active duty in the form of annual training, active duty for training, and active duty for special work. The amount will be prorated for periods less than one month.

★060602. Active Duty for More Than 30 Days But Less Than One Year, Other Than Active Duty for Training

★A. Reserve dental officers serving on active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training (37 U.S.C. 302f, subsection (b) (reference (aa))), are entitled to Variable Special Pay, Additional Special Pay, and Board Certified Pay at rates specified in sections 0602 thru 0604, above. Payments shall be paid monthly and amounts shall be prorated for periods of less than one month. Reserve dental officers receiving additional special pay under Title 37, U.S.C. subsection 302f (b) (reference (aa)) above, are not required to execute a written agreement to remain on active duty for at least one year.

★B. Reserve dental officers who receive special pay under this paragraph are not entitled to special pay under paragraph 060601, above, for the same period of time. No dual compensation is permitted.

★0607 INTERSERVICE TRANSFERS

★060701. Entitlement Policy. The provisions of paragraph 050501 apply to dental officers.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A, Multiyear Retention Bonus for Dental Officers (DFAS Item G-56)

This is DFAS Interim Change 11-98 to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A. This change is effective November 18, 1997. It authorizes a multiyear retention bonus for dental officers of the Armed Forces.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change.

Our point of contact, Lt Col Wies, may be contacted at DSN 327-5068 or (703) 607-5068.

1. In the Table of Contents, Part One, Basic and Special Pay, renumber the section of Chapter 06-Special Pay for Dental Officers to read:

"0601 ACCESSION BONUS.....	47A
0602 VARIABLE SPECIAL PAY.....	47
0603 BOARD CERTIFIED PAY.....	48
0604 ADDITIONAL SPECIAL PAY.....	48
0605 TRANSITION (SAVINGS) PROVISIONS.....	49
0606 SPECIAL PAY FOR RESERVE DENTAL OFFICERS.....	50A
0607 INTERSERVICE TRANSFERS.....	50
0608 MULTIYEAR RETENTION BONUS (MRB).....	50B

2. Add the following new section 0608 to read:

"0608 MULTIYEAR RETENTION BONUS (MRB)"

060801. Authorization and Entitlement. A dental officer who executes a written agreement to remain on active duty for two, three, or four years after completion of any other active-duty service commitment may, upon acceptance of the written agreement by the Secretary of the military department concerned, be paid a retention bonus. The earliest effective date for contracts under this authority is 18 November 1997.

060802. References

- A. Army:
- B. Navy:
- C. Air Force: AFI 41-109

060803. Eligibility Criteria. An officer of the Armed Forces who is below the pay grade of O-7 is eligible for MRB when the officer:

A. is an officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer;

B. has a dental specialty in oral and maxillofacial surgery;

C. has at least eight years of creditable service or has completed any active-duty service commitment incurred for dental education and training; and

D. has completed initial residency training (or will complete such training before 30 Sep of the fiscal year in which the officer enters into an agreement under paragraph 060801).

060804. Special Provisions. At the discretion of the Secretary concerned, the Secretary may enter into a written agreement described in paragraph 060801 with a dental officer who does not have the dental specialty specified in paragraph 060803, and pay a retention bonus to the dental officer as provided in this section, if the officer otherwise satisfied the eligibility requirements specified in paragraph 060803.

060805. Rates Payable. The annual Dental Officer Multiyear Retention Bonus (DOMRB) payment authorized shall not exceed the following:

- a. $14,000 for a four-year written agreement
- b. $8,000 for a three-year written agreement
- c. $4,000 for a two-year written agreement

060806. Recoupment. If the officer who has received payment fails to complete the total period of active duty specified in the agreement, as conditions and circumstances warrant, repayment on a pro rata basis is required. An obligation to reimburse the United States imposed under this section is for all purposes a debt owed to the United States. A discharge in bankruptcy under Title 11, United States Code, that is entered less than five years after the termination of an agreement under this section does not discharge the member signing such an agreement from a debt arising under such agreement. This applies to any case commenced under Title 11 after 18 November 1997."

Fiscal Year 1999 Dental Officer Multiyear Retention Bonus
(DOMRB) Pay Rates

1. Change Paragraph 060805, to read as follows:

"060805. Rates Payable. The annual Dental Officer MRB payment is determined by the length of the agreement and the level, which depends upon eligibility specialties. These payments are paid on the anniversary date of the written agreement. Eligible specialties in Level 1 are Oral-Maxillofacial Surgeons, Endodontics, Orthodontics, and Periodontics. Eligible specialties in Level 2 are Comprehensive/Operative Dentistry, General Dentistry/Dental Research, Oral Pathology/Oral Diagnosis/Oral Medicine, Pediatric Dentistry, Prosthodontics, and Public Health Dentistry. Payment shall be paid at the following rates:

- a. $14,000 for a four-year agreement at Level 1
- b. $12,000 for a four-year agreement at Level 2
- c. $ 8,000 for a three-year agreement at Level 1
- d. $ 6,000 for a three-year agreement at Level 2
- e. $ 4,000 for a two-year agreement at Level 1
- f. $ 3,000 for a two-year agreement at Level 2"

CHAPTER 7

SPECIAL PAY FOR VETERINARIANS AND OPTOMETRISTS0701 ENTITLEMENT

070101. Active Duty For at Least One Year. Veterinary and optometry officers who are on active duty for one year or more, or whose orders are amended to require continuous active duty for one year or more (from date of amendment) are entitled to special pay at the monthly rate of $100.

070102. Active Duty Less Than One Year in Support of Persian Gulf Conflict. Any veterinary or optometry officer who served on active duty in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict may be entitled to special pay benefits for veterinary or optometry officers. See Chapter 64, Health Care Officers on Active Duty in Support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, to determine eligibility and entitlement.

070103. Effective 5 December 1991, the following categories of veterinary and optometry officers on active duty less than one year, other than active duty for training, are eligible to receive special pay provided under this section.

A. Reservists called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

B. Active duty veterinary or optometry officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

C. Active duty veterinary or optometry officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained on active duty under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

D. Any retired veterinary or optometry officer recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

CHAPTER 8

SPECIAL PAY—PROFICIENCY PAY AND SPECIAL DUTY
ASSIGNMENT PAY—ENLISTED MEMBERS0801 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS AND POLICY080101. Entitlement

A. Proficiency Pay. An enlisted member entitled to basic pay and proficient in a designated military skill may qualify for proficiency pay unless the member occupies one of the grade E-9 positions listed in Table 2-8, note 2, of this volume. A member entitled to proficiency pay may receive such pay in addition to any other pay or allowances to which entitled. Proficiency pay status is awarded according to the applicable regulations of the Military Service concerned. Only members entitled to proficiency pay on 30 September 1984, may continue to be paid such pay if otherwise entitled. However, no member may be paid proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay.

B. Special Duty Assignment Pay. An enlisted member entitled to basic pay may qualify for special duty assignment pay when the member performs duties designated by the Secretary concerned as extremely difficult or involving an unusual degree of responsibility. A member entitled to special duty assignment pay may receive such pay in addition to any other pay or allowances to which entitled. Special duty assignment pay status is awarded according to the applicable regulations of the Military Service concerned.

C. Certification. Appropriate authorities annually review eligibility and payment authority for each member receiving proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay. Payment stops automatically on the annual anniversary date of either pay if positive certification is not made that a member is still eligible for proficiency pay or special duty assignment pay.

080102. DefinitionsA. Military Specialty

1. An element of the enlisted classification structure (MOS, AFS, rating, Navy enlisted classification, career field subdivision, career management field, and occupational field, as appropriate to the Military Service concerned) that identifies an individual position or a group of closely related positions on the basis of the similarity of the duties involved. It is also the primary identifier of individuals who possess the ability, knowledge and other occupational qualifications required for effective performance in such positions.

2. A military specialty provides occupational standards for procurement, training, classification, and career development; identifies military skills so closely related that a degree of interchangeability exists between members assigned to the military specialty; provides a normal career progression pattern for members within that military specialty.

B. Special Duty Assignment. A duty assignment characterized by extremely demanding duties or duties demanding an unusual degree of responsibility.

C. Continuous Active Duty. Active federal military service (other than active duty for training as a Reserve), without a break in service of more than 3 months as computed in accordance with subparagraph 090301.C, of this volume.

D. Career Personnel

1. Members of the Army, Marine Corps, and Air Force on second or subsequent terms of active duty enlisted service and first term personnel who are serving in an enlistment, an enlistment as extended, or an extension of enlistment that will total 6 or more years of active service.

2. Members of the Navy on second or subsequent terms of active duty enlisted service and first term personnel who are serving in an enlistment, an enlistment as extended, or an extension of enlistment that will total 7 or more years of active service.

080103. Reserved

080104. Retired and Reserve Personnel

A. Retired enlisted members, Navy/Marine Corps Fleet Reserve members, and members of other Reserve Components, may be awarded proficiency pay when they are on extended active duty beyond obligated periods of active service. Those members recalled to active duty on or after 1 October 1984, are not entitled to proficiency pay.

B. Enlisted members of the Reserve Components are eligible to receive special duty assignment pay when on active duty. This includes active duty defined under subparagraph 570101.A, (other than active duty for training for less than 180 days).

080105. Maximum Monthly Rates

A. Proficiency Pay. The amount of proficiency pay may not exceed the maximum applicable rate shown in this subparagraph:

Proficiency Rating	Monthly Rate
P-1	$ 50
P-2	100
P-3	150

B. Special Duty Assignment Pay. The amount of special duty assignment pay may not exceed the maximum applicable rate shown in this subparagraph:

★Special Duty Assignment	Monthly Rate
SD-1	$ 55
SD-2	110
SD-3	165
SD-4	220
SD-5	275
SD-6	375
(for production recruiters only)

C. The specific current monthly rates for each proficiency and special duty assignment rating are prescribed in the applicable regulations of the Military Service concerned.

★D. Designations of military specialties for proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay are in the applicable regulations of the Military Service concerned. The criteria for designation of military specialties are in DoDI 1304.27 (reference (u)).

0802 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

080201. Eligibility Requirements. A member who meets the requirements in Table 8-1 may be awarded a proficiency pay rating or a special duty assignment rating under procedures in regulations of the Military Service concerned.

080202. Conditions Affecting Entitlement

A. Conditions affecting entitlement to proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay are shown in Table 8-2.

B. Detailed instructions on maintenance, retention, and termination of proficiency pay status are specified in regulations issued by the Secretary of each Military Department:

1. AR 600-200 (reference (v))
2. NGR 600-200 (reference (w))
3. OPNAVINST 1160.2 Series (reference (x))

4. MCO 7220.12 Series (reference (y))
5. AFR 39-45 (reference (z))

080203. Date to Stop Proficiency Pay and Special Duty Assignment Pay.

Table 8-2 shows how to determine the last day on which proficiency pay or special duty assignment pay accrues to a member. Stop proficiency pay or special duty assignment pay on the date shown in this table, unless an earlier date is specified in the order terminating such pay status.

080204. Effect of Proficiency Pay and Special Duty Assignment Pay on Other Computations. As special pay, neither proficiency pay nor special duty assignment pay is used in the computation for reenlistment bonus, severance pay, separation pay, or cash settlement of accrued leave. However, as special pay, either is included in the computation for death gratuity.

080205. Collection of Erroneous Payments. Collect from a member when a purported proficiency rating assignment or special duty assignment is revoked because either assignment was made without original basis of authority.

080206. Removal From Rating Status Without Original Basis of Authority. Military Service administrative regulations allow certain authorities to revoke orders which removed a member from proficiency rating or special duty assignment rating if the removal was without original basis of authority. When orders are so revoked, the member is entitled to proficiency pay or special duty assignment pay for the entire period involved (if otherwise entitled to either pay).

080207. Tax. Proficiency pay or special duty assignment pay is subject to withholding of income tax. Neither is subject to withholding of FICA taxes.

CHAPTER 9

SPECIAL PAY-ENLISTMENT AND REENLISTMENT BONUS-ENLISTED MEMBERS0901 ENLISTMENT BONUS

090101. Basic Conditions of Entitlement. An enlistment bonus may be paid to an enlistee when an enlistee meets the following conditions:

A. Enlists for a period of 4 years or more for the purpose of qualifying and serving in a military specialty designated as critical, as specified by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

B. Is one of the following:

1. Non-Prior Service Enlistee. This term applies to a person who has never served or has served less than 180 days on active duty as a member of the Armed Forces. A non-prior Military Service enlistee who has received an enlistment bonus under the Selected Reserve Incentive Program (SRIP) retains eligibility for the Regular Component enlistment bonus under this section if other eligibility criteria are met.

2. Prior-Service Enlistee. This term applies to a person who has not previously received an enlistment or reenlistment bonus or who is not currently entitled to a reenlistment bonus; or

3. Reservist Not on Active Duty who Enlists in the Regular Component of the Military Service Concerned. This term applies to a person who has not previously received an enlistment or reenlistment bonus or is not currently entitled to a reenlistment bonus. (A Reservist who has received an enlistment or reenlistment bonus under SRIP retains eligibility for the Regular Component enlistment bonus if the Reservist meets all other eligibility criteria in the paragraph.)

C. Is not a Delayed Entry Program Reservist currently obligated to any other Military Service.

D. Qualifies for award of one of the designated military specialties.

E. Meets such additional eligibility criteria as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

★F. The entitlement provisions to enlistment bonuses for critical skills expire on 30 September 1998.

090103. Time of Payment. An enlistment bonus may be paid upon completion of training and award of the designated military specialty in periodic installments, as determined by the appropriate Secretary, except that the first installment may not exceed $7,000 and the remainder shall be paid in equal periodic installments which may not be paid less frequently than once every 3 months. Prior Service enlistees who require formal training of 30 days or more may be paid their enlistment bonus upon completion of that formal training. Prior Service enlistees who do not require military specialty training may not receive payment earlier than 30 days after arrival at the first permanent duty station following reentry on active duty.

★090105. Reduction and Termination of Award. When a military specialty is designated for reduction or termination of award, an effective date for reduction or termination of awards is established and announced at least 30 days in advance. All awards on or after that effective date in military specialties designated for reduction or termination of award level are at the bonus level contracted on the date of enlistment.

★090106. Determinations Affecting Enlistment Bonus Payments

A. When a member enlists in a Reserve Component under the Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP) with a concurrent commitment to serve in a Regular Component for a period of at least 4 years in a skill designated as critical, the award level of the enlistment bonus is fixed on the date of enlistment in the DEP, rather than on the date of entry on active duty.

B. When a member dies before receiving the full amount of the enlistment bonus due, the remaining unpaid balance is payable as a lump sum for inclusion in the settlement of the deceased member's final military pay account.

C. Unpaid installments of the enlistment bonus are payable to members separated prior to completion of enlistment when separated under conditions which do not require recoupment. (See section 0904, below.)

★090107. Special Pay: Bonus for Enlistment in the Army

★A. Entitlement Conditions. A bonus may be paid to an enlistee who meets the following conditions: Enlists in the Army for a period of at least 3 years in a skill designated as critical, scores at or above the fiftieth percentile on the Armed Forces Qualifications Test, and is a high school graduate (or has a high school equivalency certificate).

★B. Amount of Bonus. The bonus may be paid in an amount prescribed by the Secretary of the Army not to exceed $4,000. The bonus may be paid in a lump sum or in equal periodic installments, as determined by the Secretary of the Army.

★C. Loss of Entitlement and Recoupment of Bonus. See paragraph 090401, below, for legal requirements regarding recoupment of unearned portions of enlistment bonuses.

★D. Expiration of Entitlement. No bonus may be paid under this paragraph with respect to an enlistment in the Army after 30 September 1997.

0902 SELECTIVE REENLISTMENT BONUS (SRB) (37 U.S.C. 308 (reference (aa)))

090201. Reenlistment Zones. Three zones of consideration are established. Zone A is composed of those reenlistments falling between 21 months and 6 years of active service. Zones B and C are composed of those reenlistments or extensions falling between 6 and 14 years of active service.

A. General Eligibility. Enlisted members are eligible to receive a SRB if they meet all of the following conditions and the conditions of Zones A, B, or C eligibility:

1. Are qualified in a military specialty designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned for award of the SRB;

2. Are serving in pay grade E-3 or higher;

3. Reenlist within 3 months (or within a lesser period if so prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned) after the date of their discharge or release from compulsory or voluntary active duty (other than for training) (see subparagraph 090301.C, below, for computation of 3-month period); or extend their enlistment; or enlist in a Regular Component within 3 months (or within a lesser period if so prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned) after the date of discharge or release from active duty (other than active duty for training) as a member of the Reserve Component. Veterans with more than a 3-month but less than a 4-year break in active duty may qualify for a broken service Selective Reenlistment Bonus Program in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

4. Attain eligibility before the effective date of termination of awards in any military specialty designated for termination of the award. (Members must attain eligibility before the effective date of a reduction of award level to be eligible for the higher award level. Eligibility attained through any modification of an existing service obligation, including any early discharge granted under 10 U.S.C. 1171 (reference (c)), must have been attained before the effective date of the termination or reduction of award in the military specialty); and

5. Meet such additional eligibility criteria as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

6. An exception to subparagraph A.1 and A.4, above, is available to members who agree to train and reenlist for service in a military specialty which, at the time the agreement is executed, is designated by the Military Service concerned for award of the SRB. Upon completion of qualification training and reenlistment in the specialty in which trained, if otherwise qualified, the member may be paid the bonus even if that specialty is no longer designated for award of the SRB. The bonus may be paid at the award level in effect at the time the agreement to train is executed or the award level in effect at the time of reenlistment, whichever is higher.

B. Zone A Eligibility. The enlisted member must:

1. Have completed at least 21 months of continuous active duty (other than active duty for training as a Reserve) but not more than 6 years of active duty on the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment. Continuous active duty is active federal military service (other than active duty for training as a Reserve), without a break in service of more than 3 months. A break in service of less than 3 months is considered continuous active duty; however, the actual period of the break in service is not included in the computation of continuous active duty. Effective 9 December 1994, the following applies for Marine Corps members: When computing the 6 years of active service for Zone A eligibility, prior active service in any other Military Department is excluded and only active service in the Marine Corps is included. However, this exclusion does not apply to the 14-year service cap on Marine Corps members' eligibility which considers a member's total active service.

2. Reenlist or voluntarily extend an enlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service concerned for a period of at least 3 years provided the reenlistment or extension, when coupled with existing active service, provides a total period of active service of at least 6 years.

3. Not have previously received a Zone A SRB.

4. Except for members serving in the Navy 6-YO Program, not have previously received a variable reenlistment bonus (VRB).

C. Zone B Eligibility. The enlisted member must:

1. Have completed at least 6 but not more than 10 years of active duty on the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment.

2. Reenlist or voluntarily extend an enlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service concerned for a period of at least 3 years provided the reenlistment or extension, when coupled with existing active service, provides a total period of active service of at least 10 years.

3. Not have previously received a Zone B SRB.

D. Zone C Eligibility. Enlisted members must:

1. Have completed at least 10 but not more than 14 years of active duty on the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment.

2. Reenlist or voluntarily extend enlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service concerned for a period of at least 3 years, provided the reenlistment or extension, when coupled with existing active service, provides a total period of active duty of at least 14 years.

3. Not have previously received a Zone C SRB.

E. Special Conditions

1. Members with exactly 6 years of active duty at 2400 hours on the date before the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment are entitled to a Zone A SRB if otherwise eligible and they have not previously received a Zone A SRB. If members have received a Zone A SRB, or no Zone A SRB is designated, they are entitled to a Zone B SRB if all other eligibility requirements are met. Members with exactly 10 years of active duty at 2400 on the date before the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment are entitled to a Zone B SRB if otherwise eligible and they have not previously received a Zone B SRB. If they have received a Zone B SRB, or no Zone B SRB is designated, they are entitled to a Zone C SRB if all other eligibility requirements are met. Members with exactly 14 years of active duty at 2400 hours on the date before the date of reenlistment or beginning of an extension of enlistment will be entitled to a Zone C SRB if otherwise eligible.

2. Two or more extensions may not be combined to gain entitlement to an SRB. Additionally, entitlement gained through an extension cannot be increased by future extensions.

3. For the purposes of determining the eligibility of a member for a SRB and of computing the amount of that bonus, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned, the following may be considered as part of an immediately subsequent term of reenlistment (or as part of an immediately subsequent voluntary extension of an enlistment):

- a. Any period of enlistment (including any extension of an enlistment) that is incurred by a member for the purpose of continuing to qualify for continuous submarine duty incentive pay under Chapter 23, section 2302, or

- b. Any unserved period of 2 years or less of an extension of an enlistment for which no bonus has been paid or for which no bonus is otherwise payable, provided the immediately subsequent term of reenlistment or immediately subsequent voluntary extension of an enlistment provides additional obligated service of at least 2 years.

4. Members who reenlist or extend to gain sufficient obligated service to participate in a program leading to a commissioned or warrant officer status are not entitled to an SRB.

5. Officers of Uniformed Services who reenlist in the Military Service concerned within 3 months after their release from active duty as an officer are entitled to a SRB provided they served on active duty as an enlisted member in that Military Service immediately before serving as an officer and meet all other eligibility criteria. Pay grade for SRB computation is the grade of reenlistment.

6. Members who have received readjustment pay, severance pay, or separation pay are not eligible to receive a SRB.

7. The SRB is not payable for an enlistment in a Regular Component, following a discharge from a Reserve Component, during or at the completion of the period of active duty for training.

8. A member who is also eligible for the regular reenlistment bonus is paid either bonus, whichever the member elects. (See subparagraph 090303.B.)

9. Members receiving nuclear petty officer continuation pay are not eligible to receive an SRB.

090202. Amount of Payment. Bonus payments are based on multiples, not to exceed ten, of the member's monthly basic pay at the time of discharge, release from active duty, or the day before beginning of extension, multiplied by years of additional obligated service.

A. Additional Obligated Service

1. Additional obligated service is defined as any active service commitment beyond an existing contractual service agreement. Existing contractual service agreements include enlistments, extensions of enlistment, enlistment as extended, and reenlistments. However, members who entered into an extension agreement before 10 May 1974, and who cancel the extension before it becomes operative to immediately reenlist for a period of at least 2 years beyond the extension agreement, are allowed to use the period of the extension for SRB computation.

2. An extension of enlistment which is cancelled by the Military Service concerned before becoming operative is not considered as previously obligated service for SRB computation purposes. This applies only to cancellations initiated by the Military Service concerned and not to cancellations initiated by the member. Military Service-initiated cancellations occur when the basis for the extension no longer exists. An example of a Military Service-initiated cancellation would be a member who extends an enlistment for a special duty assignment, and before the extension becomes operative the Military Service denies the member the assignment.

3. Under authority provided to the Chief of Naval Operations, certain nuclear trained and qualified enlisted members of the Naval Service who enter into an extension agreement on or after 10 May 1974, and who cancel the extension before it becomes operative to immediately reenlist for a period of at least 2 years beyond the extension agreement are allowed to use the period of the extension for SRB computation.

4. Members discharged before expiration of enlistment or operative extension may not receive an SRB based on any unserved full months of obligated service of the enlistment or extension when such discharge is specifically for the purpose of immediate reenlistment.

Example 1: Member discharged 30 June 1982 from an enlistment which expires 29 October 1982 and reenlisted 1 July 1982 for 4 years, would be paid for 3 years and 8 months of additional obligated service. (Subtract date following old ETS from the new ETS date.)

Members discharged within 3 months of their normal ETS for the purpose of immediate reenlistment are considered to have completed that contract, but the unserved period within the last 3 months is considered as existing obligated service when computing the SRB entitlement. (A member who is discharged no more than 3 days early, in accordance with the regulations of the Military Service concerned, is considered to have completed current enlistment for SRB computation.)

Example 2: Member discharged 2 months and 3 days before expiration of enlistment, and immediately reenlisted for 4 years, could not receive a SRB for 3 months of the reenlistment period.

5. Members discharged involuntarily before expiration of enlistment or operative extension in connection with Military Service early separation programs, who are reenlisted immediately following discharge, are considered to have completed their service agreement under the prior contract. The unserved period under the prior contract is considered to terminate on the date of involuntary discharge. Any Military Service member who elects an option for an early discharge, as opposed to being required to separate early, is not considered to have been involuntarily discharged and therefore the provisions of this subparagraph do not apply.

B. Computation Factors. Specifically, the SRB is:

1. Paid in the amount of basic pay for 1 month times the multiple assigned to the military specialty (not to exceed ten), times the years, or fractions of years (months), of additional obligated service as defined above. In the case of a member reenlisting after release from active duty as an officer, use the basic pay rate applicable on the day of reenlistment. (See subparagraph 090201.E.5, above.)

2. Not paid for obligated active service (including active duty for training) in excess of 16 years.

Example: Member with 13 years, 3 months, and 15 days active duty; 3 months, 5 days active duty for training; and 2 months, 15 days of existing obligated service, who enlists for 4 years, can be paid a SRB (Zone C) based on 2 years, 2 months as follows:

	YR	MO	DAY
Active duty	13	3	15
Active duty for training		3	5
Existing obligated service	—	2	15
Total	13	8	35
Maximum SRB years	16	0	0

3. Does not exceed a maximum amount of $45,000 per SRB. However, no more than 10 percent of the SRB's awarded during any fiscal year shall exceed $20,000. (See maximum SRB years in example above.)

	YR	MO	DAY
Less obligated active service (partial months count as a whole month)	13	10	0
Time for which SRB (Zone C) is payable	2	2	0

4. Is not paid more than once within each zone of eligibility.

C. Computation Factors for Commissioning Program

1. Any member in the commissioning program with a class start date before 1 June 1983 is unaffected.

2. Any member with a class start date on or after 1 June 1983, bonus payments are suspended.

Example 1: Assume member reenlisted 820404 for 4 years. SRB Due: $16,000. Member was paid first installment of $8,000 (50 percent) on 820404, and second installment of $2,666.66 on 830404. Total SRB paid to date: $10,666.66.

Member entered officer training school (OTS) with class start date of 830601. The member's third and fourth installments would be suspended pending completion of OTS and commissioning. Given successful completion, the member would forfeit the remaining installments. However, had the member washed out of the program and returned to enlisted status in the same bonus skill, the remaining installments would be payable but at a rate reduced by the number of days spent in the OTS program. Computation is as follows:

Initial Bonus Information

SRB Entitlement	$16,000
No. Days Paid	1440
Daily Rate	$11.1111 ($16,000 / 1440)
No. Days in OTS	96 (member washed out of TS 830906 (30-day basis))
New No. Days Paid	1344 (1440 - 96)
New SRB Entitlement	$14,933.32 (1344 x $11.1111)

Balance to be paid over remaining two (2) installments: $4,266.66 ($14,933.32 - $10,666.66 paid to date)

Due final two (2) installments: $2,133.33 ($4,266.66 divided by 2).

Example 2: Assume member reenlisted on 811229 for 4 years. SRB Due: $8,000. Member was paid first installment of $4,000 (50 percent) on 811229, and second and third installments on 821229 and 831229, of $1,333.33 each installment. Total SRB paid to date: $6,666.66.

Member entered education and commissioning program (ECP) with class start date of 840101. Member's fourth installment would be suspended pending completion of ECP and commissioning. Given successful completion, the member would forfeit the remaining installments. However, had the member washed out of the program and returned to enlisted status in the same bonus skill, the remaining installments would be payable, but at a rate reduced by the number of days spent in the ECP program. Computation is as follows:

Initial Bonus Information

SRB Entitlement	$8,000
No. Days Paid	1440
Daily Rate	$5.5555
No. Days in ECP	430 (member washed out of ECP 850310 (use 30-day basis))
New No. Days Paid	1010 (1440 - 430)
New SRB Entitlement	$5,611.06 (1010 x $5.5555)

Balance to be paid over remaining installment: 0. (Member due $5611.06; paid previously $6,666.66.) No overpayment exists; however, for recoupment purposes, member is permitted to keep payments received before entrance in ECP.

Example 3: Assume member reenlisted on 820604 for 4 years. SRB Due: $16,000. Member was paid first installment of $8,000 (50 percent) on 820604, and second installment is due on 830604.

Member entered OTS with class start date of 830610. Member's acceptance in OTS was granted on 830310. Under this set of circumstances, the member would be due the second SRB installment as it fell due before the class start date. Member should be paid the second SRB installment, but the third and fourth installments would be suspended pending completion of the commissioning program.

Example 4: Assume member reenlisted on 820604 for 4 years. SRB Due: $16,000. Member was paid first installment of $8,000 (50 percent) on 820604, and second installment is due on 830604.

Member entered ECP with class start date of 830602. Member's acceptance in ECP was granted on 830310. Under this set of circumstances, the member would not be due the second SRB installment as it fell due after the class start date. The member's second, third, and fourth SRB installments would be suspended pending the completion of the commissioning program.

Example 5: Assume member enlisted 830101 for 4 years. Member completed training 830331, and was awarded military specialty, entitling to enlistment bonus (EB) of $6,000. Paid first installment of $5,000, on 830401.

Member entered OTS with class start date of 830601. Member washed out of the commissioning program on 831130. Computation is as follows:

Initial Bonus Information

EB Entitlement	$6,000
No. Days Paid	1,440
Daily Rate	$4.1666 ($6,000 / 1440)
No. Days in OTS	180 (member washed out of OTS 831130 (use 30-day basis))
New No. Days Paid	1260 (1440 - 180)
New EB Entitlement	$5,249.92 (1260 x 4.1666)
Balance to be Paid	$249.92 ($5,249.92 - $5,000 paid to date)

090203. Method of Payment. SRB payments are paid by installments. Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned, up to 50 percent of the total SRB may be paid as the first installment with the remaining portion paid in equal annual amounts over the remainder of the reenlistment period. The initial payment will normally be made on the day of reenlistment or the date a member begins serving in the extension. Initial payment of the SRB to an eligible individual who reenlists with a break in active duty greater than 24 hours will be made no earlier than 30 days after arrival at the first permanent duty station following reenlistment. Later installments of a Zone A and B SRB are payable on the anniversary date in each year of the reenlistment. Later installments of a Zone C SRB are payable on the reenlistment anniversary dates which occur before the individual completes 16 years of active service. In either case where there is lost time, the subsequent installment payments will be delayed by the number of days of lost time. Discharge for the purpose of immediate reenlistment does not affect a member's entitlement to subsequent SRB installment payments.

090204. Reduction and Termination of Awards. When a military specialty is designated for reduction or termination of award, an effective date for reduction or termination of award shall be established and promulgated to the field at least 30 days in advance. Except as provided in subparagraphs 090201.A.6, above, and 090205.C, above, all awards on and after the effective date in the military specialty designated for reduction of award will be at the reduced level, and no new awards will be made on or after the effective date in a military specialty designated for termination of award.

090205. Determinations Affecting SRB Payments

A. When a member dies before receiving the full amount of the SRB due, the remaining unpaid balance is payable as a lump sum for inclusion in the settlement of the deceased member's final military pay account.

B. Once a member establishes a right to a SRB upon reenlistment on or before 30 June 1977, the member is entitled to continued receipt of annual installment payments without further qualification in a critical military skill. The continued receipt of such payment does not depend upon performance of duties in the specialty for which the SRB is authorized. SRB payments for reenlistments on and after 1 July 1977 are subject to recoupment when a member is not technically qualified in the skill for which a bonus was paid, as provided in section 0904 of this chapter.

C. When a member extends an enlistment, SRB payments are based on the award level multiplier in effect on the date the extension agreement is executed rather than on the date the extension agreement becomes operative.

D. Unpaid installments of a SRB are payable to members separated prior to completion of enlistment when separated under conditions which do not require recoupment. (See section 0904, below.)

★090206. Expiration of Entitlement. No SRB may be paid with respect to any reenlistment, or voluntary extension of an active duty enlistment, in the Armed Forces entered into after 30 September 1998.

0903 REGULAR REENLISTMENT BONUS (RRB) 37 U.S.C. 308 (reference (aa))

090301. Basic Conditions of Entitlement. This section is applicable only to members who were on active duty on 1 June 1974.

A. To determine the number of reenlistments for which RRBs are payable, count the following:

1. An enlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service concerned within 3 months from date of discharge or separation, on or after 1 October 1949, after compulsory or voluntary active duty (except active duty for training) in the Military Service concerned. See subparagraph 090301.C, below, for computation of 3-month period.

2. A reenlistment between 1 October 1949 and 15 July 1954 in a Regular Component following extended active duty of 1 year or more as a member of a Reserve Component.

3. A voluntary extension of an enlistment for 2 years or more. (For combined enlistment extension coverage, see paragraph 090304, below.)

4. An enlistment or reenlistment on or after 1 October 1949 for which a member received an enlistment allowance instead of a reenlistment bonus because the former was the greater amount.

5. Any former reenlistment for which a reenlistment bonus was payable by another Uniformed Service.

6. An enlistment in the Regular Component, on and after 16 July 1954, within 3 months after release from active duty as a commissioned or warrant officer under an appointment made on or after 12 October 1949. The commissioned or warrant service must have immediately followed active enlisted service in the same branch of Military Service.

B. Do not count:

1. Any enlistment or reenlistment entered into before 1 October 1949 for which an enlistment allowance was paid.

2. Any reenlistment for which a reenlistment bonus was not authorized, even if an erroneous payment was made and then remitted.

3. Any enlistment for which a minority discharge was issued.

C. The period of 3 months prescribed in this section (and in section 0902, above) that begins on the day following the date of discharge or separation and ends with the day of the month 3 months later corresponding to the date of discharge or separation.

1. Example: Member discharged 3 September 1978; period of computation begins 4 September 1978 and ends 3 December 1978.

2. If members are kept in the Military Service beyond the date their term of service would normally end for the purpose other than rendering service (retained for purposes of trial by court-martial, etc.) the 3-month period begins on the day following their normal expiration of term of service instead of the actual date of separation. (Example: Member's ETS date is 3 September 1978; member is retained for trial by court-martial 4 September 1978 and discharged 3 November 1978; period of computation begins on 4 September 1978.) There is no authority to waive the 3-month limitation on eligibility to receive a RRB or SRB.

090302. To Whom Payable. A RRB may be paid to an enlisted member who was on active duty on 1 June 1974, and who:

A. Enlists or reenlists in the Regular Component of the same Military Service within 3 months from the date of discharge or separation after compulsory or voluntary active duty (except active duty for training). This includes members enlisting under subparagraph 090301.A.6, above. See subparagraph 090301.C, above, for computation of 3-month period.

B. Was paid a reenlistment bonus under a prior law for a reenlistment on or after 16 July 1954, and who during that enlistment elects to be paid, if otherwise eligible, the difference between the amount received and that which would have been due as a RRB under this section.

C. Was inducted into the Armed Forces and who before the expiration of required service, was discharged in order to immediately enlist in the Regular Component of the same Military Service.

D. Was inducted into the Armed Forces, completed required service, and enlisted in the Regular Component of the same Military Service within a 3-month period.

090303. Computing Regular Reenlistment Bonus

A. Compute RRB as provided in Table 9-1. (See paragraph 090304, below, for restrictions.)

B. Members who also are eligible for the SRB may be paid either bonus, whichever they elect. If members receive the SRB in an amount of less than $2,000 and if for a subsequent reenlistment they are eligible for the RRB under this section, they may at that time be paid the RRB, but only in an amount which when added to the award of the SRB (and RRB, if any) previously received, does not exceed a total of $2,000.

090304. Extensions of Enlistments. Compute RRB as for actual reenlistment when members voluntarily extend their enlistment for 2 years or more. This includes combined extensions of enlistment as provided below. When part of a year is involved, compute the bonus by using as a multiplier the total number of years and fractions of years for which the enlistment was extended. Members who were paid a RRB when they first extended their enlistment for at least 2 years, but less than 4 years, are entitled to an additional RRB for later extensions. The additional bonus payable is computed on the basis of the combined extensions, not to exceed 4 years. Compute at pay rate applicable on day before they begin serving on the first extension. Deduct the bonus paid for the first extension. A single extension for less than 2 years, or a combination of extensions totaling less than 2 years, does not constitute a reenlistment for bonus purposes. Time lost made good is not considered an extension of enlistment. When members reenlist and qualify for a RRB after completing an extension, compute the bonus at the rate of basic pay they received on the date of actual discharge. If extensions entered into total 2 years or more, they constitute a reenlistment as provided in subparagraphs A and B, below.

Example 1: Members who extend for 20 months, and subsequently for 6 months, are entitled to a bonus on the day they start serving the 6 month extension. No bonus is payable for the 20 month extension if, before entry on the 6-month extension, the 6-month extension is cancelled.

Example 2: Members who extend their enlistment for 11 months, and then for 6 additional months, and then for 12 months are entitled to a bonus on the day they start serving the third extension.

A. Army and Air Force. Before 2 January 1968, Army and Air Force members could not combine extensions of enlistment to get a RRB. Two or more extensions entered into on or after 2 January 1968 are treated as a single extension. If the extensions total 2 years or more, they constitute a reenlistment. For the purpose of combining extensions of an enlistment, an extension entered into prior to 2 January 1968 may not be combined with extensions entered into on or after 2 January 1968.

B. Navy and Marine Corps. Two 1-year extensions of an enlistment before 10 August 1956 did not constitute a reenlistment. On or after 10 August 1956, extensions of 1 year or less which, when combined, equal 2 years or more, constitute one reenlistment for entitlement to RRB.

090305. Time of Payment. Payment of a RRB is normally made on the day the member reenlists. Members who extend their enlistment for 2 years or more are not paid the bonus for the extension until they actually begin serving the extension. Members who become entitled to a RRB by having extended for two or more times for a combined total of 2 years or more may not be paid a bonus until they actually begin serving the extension that, when combined with the previous extension(s), results in a service commitment of 2 years or more.

090306. Restrictions

A. Grade

1. Members in pay grade E-1 on date of last discharge or release from active duty are entitled to a RRB for a first reenlistment computed on the basis of only two-thirds of their monthly basic pay on date of last discharge or release from active duty.

2. A member in pay grade E-1 or E-2 on date of last discharge or release from active duty is not entitled to a RRB for second or subsequent reenlistments.

3. A member in pay grade E-3 on date of last discharge or release from active duty is not entitled to a RRB for a third or subsequent reenlistment.

B. Length of Service. A RRB may not be paid to members who reenlist:

1. During their prescribed period of basic recruit training (while a resident at a basic military training school where they receive both processing and training), or

2. After completing a total of 20 years of active federal service. Active federal service includes active duty for training.

3. After a break in service of more than 3 months subsequent to 1 June 1974. However, this is not a bar to entitlement for a subsequent reenlistment within 3 months of separation.

C. Cumulative Amount. The cumulative amount of a RRB paid to a member under any provisions of law may not exceed $2,000.

1. Include any reenlistment bonus paid by one or more of the Uniformed Services, less any portion later recouped, in determining the cumulative total payable under this section.

2. Any amount of erroneous payment (no entitlement to bonus existed) or overpayment (amount in excess of that authorized) made under this section, which is later remitted, is not counted as part of the $2,000 cumulative amount.

3. Amounts of any unearned RRB requiring recoupment which are remitted must be included in determining the cumulative amount of $2,000.

4. Amounts paid as enlistment allowances after 1 October 1949 are not included in the $2,000 cumulative amount limitation.

D. Discharge From Another Service. A RRB is not payable for an enlistment entered into, following discharge or separation from another branch of the Uniformed Services.

E. Members on Temporary Disability Retired List. A member whose name was placed on the temporary disability retired list, and who was later discharged and reenlisted in a Regular Component of the Uniformed Services more than 3 months after date of placement on such list, is not entitled to a RRB.

F. Members on Active Duty for Training. A RRB is not payable for an enlistment in a Regular Component, following a discharge from a Reserve Component, during or at the completion of a period of active duty for training.

G. Reenlistments Which Will Extend Service Beyond 20 Years. The RRB is payable for only the number of years, months, and days needed to complete 20 years' active federal service.

0904 RECOUPMENT OF ENLISTMENT AND REENLISTMENT BONUS

090401. Legal Requirements. Recoupment of unearned portions of enlistment bonuses and reenlistment bonuses (regular and selective) is required:

A. When a member voluntarily or because of misconduct does not complete the term of enlistment, reenlistment, extension of enlistment, or anniversary year for which the bonus was paid. Members discharged 3 months or less before expiration of enlistment for reasons set forth in subparagraph 090403.N, below, are considered to have completed the terms of enlistment, reenlistment, extension of reenlistment, or anniversary year for which the bonus was paid. For Army, Air Force, and Marine Corps members, this provision became effective 2 January 1968. In computing the period "3 months or less," the date of normal expiration of enlistment is excluded.

B. When a member is not technically qualified in the skill for which a bonus was paid (other than a member who is not qualified because of injury, illness, or other impairment, not the result of misconduct). This provision was effective 30 June 1977 for members paid an enlistment or selective reenlistment bonus.

090402. Recoupment Not Required

A. A member paid an enlistment bonus, who is discharged and immediately reenlisted prior to the completion of the term of service for which the bonus was paid, is not required to refund the unearned portion of the enlistment bonus provided a regular reenlistment bonus was not paid. The reenlistment must be for a period of at least 2 years beyond the period for which the enlistment bonus was paid.

B. A member paid any reenlistment bonus, who is discharged early for the purpose of immediate reenlistment for which no reenlistment bonus is paid, is not required to refund the unearned portion of the bonus provided the term of the reenlistment following the early discharge includes the remaining period of service in the prior enlistment.

090403. Reasons for Recoupment. For purpose of recoupment of any unearned portions of enlistment or reenlistment bonuses, the term "who voluntarily or because of misconduct" includes (but is not limited to) members separated for the reasons listed below:

A. Transfer to Fleet Reserve, Fleet Marine Corps Reserve, or the Army or Air Force Reserve (and placement on the retired list of the regular Army or Air Force) with release to inactive duty before expiration of the number of years' service for which a bonus was paid. Retirement for disability is excluded.

B. Marriage - female member.

C. Resignation-separation by reason of acceptance of member's resignation (includes resignation for the good of the Military Service in lieu of trial by court-martial).

D. As a result of a writ of habeas corpus.

E. Reduction to permanent grade member voluntarily separated, or transferred to a Reserve Component if required by law, following reduction to a lower permanent grade from a higher temporary grade in which the member was erroneously reenlisted.

F. Disability not in the line of duty.

G. Approved sentence of court-martial or conviction by a civil court.

H. Misconduct.

I. Homosexuality.

J. Defective enlistment (includes erroneous and fraudulent enlistments).

K. Entry level performance and conduct.

L. Unsatisfactory performance.

M. Drug and alcohol rehabilitation failure.

N. As directed by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned in individual cases. Includes voluntary separation, or transfer to a Reserve Component if required by law; and for the convenience of the government upon the application and interest of the member because of special or unusual circumstances including, but not limited to, the following:

1. To permit attendance at a civilian school.

2. To permit enlistment in another Military Service. Recoupment of unearned bonus is not required if the member is separated to permit acceptance of, or entry into a program leading to a commission or warrant appointment in the same or another Military Service; entitlement to additional unpaid bonus is suspended and will terminate upon commissioning or appointment. However, the entitlement to additional unpaid bonus will be reinstated and paid on a pro rata basis if the member is not commissioned or appointed and returns to an enlisted status in the same bonus skill.

a. Commissioning programs are defined as those programs which, upon successful completion, may lead to an appointment as a warrant or commissioned officer of the Armed Forces. These programs include attendance at:

(1) Colleges or universities to fulfill educational requirements for completion of baccalaureate degree, or

(2) Military Service academy preparatory schools to obtain educational requirements for entrance to Service academy, or

(3) Military Service schools for the purpose of training and screening eligible applicants for an appointment as a warrant or commissioned officer.

3. To permit enlistment of aliens in the armed forces of their country.

4. Sole surviving family member.

5. Conscientious objection.

6. Overweight/obesity or lack of physical fitness.

7. Pregnancy. Recoupment is required only where member is voluntarily separated, not when pregnancy causes loss of qualification in bonus skill.

8. Public office.

9. Parenthood.

★10. Personality Disorder. Recoupment is required for administrative discharges. Recoupment is not required when member is medically discharged with a physical disability.

EXCEPTIONS: Hardship and dependency separations are considered involuntary for the purposes of this paragraph and do not require recoupment of unearned portions of a bonus.

O. Reasons established by Military Departments (reasons will be approved by ASD (FMP)). The decision to recoup will be made by DASD (MPP).

P. See the Military Services' procedural instructions for lists of separation reasons and the corresponding separation program designator (SPD) codes.

090404. Additional Reasons for Recoupment. Except for members not qualified because of injury, illness, or other impairment not the result of their own misconduct, entitlement to the full amount of an enlistment or selective reenlistment bonus awarded after 30 June 1977, will be contingent upon a member maintaining the technical qualification required for effective performance in the military specialty for which the bonus was awarded.

A. A member will be considered not technically qualified in the bonus specialty when no longer classified in that specialty, when the specialty designator is removed from the member's records, and when current and future assignment in that military specialty is precluded for any of the following reasons within the member's control:

1. Refusal to perform certain duties required for effective performance in the military specialty when the member had volunteered for such duties in writing before accepting the bonus.

2. Disciplinary action taken under UCMJ or civil court conviction when such action renders the individual unqualified for future performance in the military specialty.

3. Injury, illness, or other impairment resulting from own misconduct, as established through existing line of duty determination procedures, which interferes with effective performance in the military specialty.

4. Withdrawal of the minimum security clearance, loss of qualification under the Personnel Reliability Program (PRP), or loss of any other mandatory qualification required for effective performance in the military specialty, when such withdrawal or loss is voluntary or caused by the member's own misconduct and results in removal from the military specialty.

B. In addition to the criteria specified in subparagraph A, above, a member of the Navy will be considered not technically qualified for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants for the following reasons within the member's control:

1. Removal of the Navy Enlisted Classification Code (NEC) as a result of the member's demonstrated inability to maintain the required proficiency, or failure to meet the qualification or requalification measures required for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

2. Removal of the NEC as a result of the member's demonstrated lack of reliability for assignment to duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

090405. Recoupment Due to Lost Time. Time lost during a period for which an enlistment or reenlistment bonus was paid must be made good before discharge or a pro rata part of the bonus must be recouped.

090406. Computation of Recoupment of Enlistment and Reenlistment Bonuses

A. Regular Reenlistment Bonus (RRB) (37 U.S.C. 308 (reference (aa))). Recoupment is required on a percentage basis for the time remaining to be served. Reduce the amount paid to an amount per month. Multiply the number of months and fractions of months not served, including lost time, by the amount of bonus paid per month. The product is the amount to be recouped. When a member receives a RRB for a period less than that for which reenlisted because obligated service would extend beyond 20 years, recoupment is computed on the basis of the actual period for which paid. For purposes of this computation, a month consists of 30 days.

Example: A member reenlists for 4 years on 16 July 1973. Monthly basic pay on discharge was $390.60; $$390.60 \times 4 = $1,562.40$, the total amount of the RRB paid. The amount per month is computed at $$1,562.40 / 48$ months or $32.55 per month. This member served 2 years, 11 months, and 15 days and was discharged on 30 June 1976 for a reason requiring recoupment. One year and 15 days were not served. Twelve and one-half months $\times $32.55 = \406.88 , the amount to be collected from the member.

B. Selective Reenlistment Bonus (SRB). The same principle that is applied to the recoupment of the RRB applies to the SRB. However, a member who received a SRB did not receive a RRB for the same reenlistment. Also, the recoupment of a SRB is based on the period of additional obligated service and not on the entire enlistment period. Further, the total amount of a SRB is earned upon completion of 16 years of active service.

Example 1: A member reenlisted for 6 years with additional obligated service of 4 years. Member qualified for a SRB totaling $6,000. Member received the first installment of $1,000 on reenlistment and additional installments of $1,000 on the first and second anniversary dates of the reenlistment, or a total of $3,000. If the member is discharged for a reason requiring recoupment of the SRB after serving 2 years, 6 months of the 6-year reenlistment period, compute the amount due the United States as follows:

The member served only 6 months of additional obligated service. Since additional obligated service was 4 years or 48 months, the SRB was earned at the rate of \$125 per month during the 6-month period of additional obligated service ($\$6,000 / 48 = \125). $\$125$ per month $\times 6$ months = \$750 earned. Since the member was paid a total of \$3,000 in an initial and anniversary payments, \$2,250 is due the United States.

Example 2: A member reenlisted for 4 years with additional obligated service of 3 years 9 months. Member qualified and was paid a SRB of $4,232.25. If the member is discharged for a reason requiring recoupment of the bonus after serving 1 year, 4 months, 20 days of the 4-year reenlistment period, compute the amount due the United States as follows:

The member served only 1 year, 1 month, and 20 days of the additional obligated service. Since additional obligated service was 3 years and 9 months (45 months), the SRB was earned at the rate of $94.05 per month ($$4,232.25 / 45 = \94.05). The amount earned for the 1 year, 1 month, and 20 days of service was $1,285.35 ($1320/30$ months $\times $94.05 = $1,285.35$ earned). Since the member was paid a total of $4,232.25 and $1,285.35, then $2,946.90 is due the United States. Although the above example shows the recoupment computation in terms of months, the computation may be made using a daily rate with each whole month converted to 30 days.

C. Enlistment Bonus. The same principle that is applied to the recoupment of a RRB applies to the enlistment bonus.

D. For all enlistment/reenlistment bonuses, reduce the amount to be recouped by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D.

NOTES:

1. The designation of a land area encompasses all internal waters, unless otherwise noted. For HF/IDP purposes, the term "internal waters" is defined as waters landward of the baseline drawn in accordance with international law.

2. The designation of a water area (such as the Persian Gulf) includes the territorial seas of those waters, but not the internal waters of the coastal lands. For example, all waters of the Persian Gulf seaward of the baseline of the coastal states, drawn in accordance with international law, would be included in the Persian Gulf designation.

3. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, airspace is NOT part of the included area. When airspace is specifically included, it will normally be that space directly vertically above the approved land or sea area.

4. This figure reflects all designated areas which were active within the last ten years.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding an Increase in the Maximum Authorization of Army Enlistment Bonuses, (DFAS Item, H-56)

Attached is interim change 8-99 to Chapter 9 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The purpose of this change is to increase the Army's Enlistment Bonus maximum from $4,000.00 to $6,000.00 based on an increase dictated by the FY 1999 National Defense Authorization Act. This is effective October 17, 1998.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Captain Jennifer Carter, may be reached at DSN 327-5113, (703) 607-5113 or e-mail address Jennifer.Carter@dfas.mil.

CHAPTER 10

SPECIAL PAY-DUTY SUBJECT TO HOSTILE FIRE OR IMMINENT DANGER

1001 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

100101. Policy. A member shall be paid the entire monthly amount of special pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger (hereinafter referred to as HF/IDP) for any month, during any part of which the member, while on duty in a foreign area and entitled to basic pay, is:

- A. Subjected to hostile fire or explosion of a hostile mine, or
- B. On duty in an area in close proximity to a hostile fire incident and the member is in danger of being exposed to the same dangers actually experienced by other Service members subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines, or
- C. Killed, injured, or wounded by hostile fire, explosion of a hostile mine, or any other hostile action, or
- D. On official duty in a designated IDP area (figure 10-1).

100102. Payment. HF/IDP is in addition to all other pays or allowances. It is payable in the full amount of $150, without proration or reduction, for each month, during any part of which, a member qualifies. Active and Reserve component members who qualify, at any time during a month, will receive the full amount of HF/IDP regardless of the period of time on active duty or the number of days they receive basic pay during that month.

1002 DETERMINATIONS OF FACT

100201. Eligibility. The appropriate commander must certify that the member has met the requirements for entitlement to HF/IDP for a given month, except when the member is under orders on official duty in one of the designated IDP areas listed in figure 10-1.

A. Certification of entitlement should be made at the lowest level of command that includes all the vessels, aircraft, or units subjected to the hostile fire or explosion of hostile mine incident. For example, in the case of a single vessel subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines, the vessel's commanding officer should certify payment for all Service members on board. If two or more vessels are involved, the commanding officer of the unit that includes all of the vessels should certify eligibility.

B. Certification must include the name and social security number of each member entitled to the hostile fire pay, a short description of the incident, and when and where it occurred. The certification should be forwarded directly to the servicing financial support office, with a copy to the cognizant Regional Combatant Commander.

C. When the airspace is specifically included in an IDP area designation, members who perform official duty while flying over the area are eligible for HF/IDP, even if they do not land in the area. When airspace is not specifically designated, members who perform duty over the area are not entitled to HF/IDP unless they land in the area.

D. Members who perform duty on a vessel performing operational duty while in an area designated for IDP are eligible for HF/IDP.

E. A death certificate or injury report may be substituted in place of the certification if the document establishes the cause of the death or injury was due to hostile fire or an explosion of a hostile mine in a foreign area.

F. A member is not considered to be on official duty in a designated IDP area and is, therefore, not eligible for HF/IDP pay if the member is in the area:

1. on leave from a duty station outside the IDP area;
2. while merely transiting (as distinguished from performing official duty) by any means (including vessel, aircraft, and land conveyance) the IDP area as a consequence of traveling between two points, both outside the IDP; or
3. solely for personal convenience.

100202. Administration. Any determinations of fact made by commanders in the certification of hostile fire are conclusive. Such determinations are not subject to review by any officer or agency of the government, unless there has been fraud or gross negligence. Such determinations, however, may be changed on the basis of new evidence or for other good cause.

1003 SPECIAL SITUATIONS

100301. Member Captured or Missing. A member entitled to HF/IDP immediately before entering a status of missing, missing-in-action, interned in a foreign country or captured by a hostile force shall continue to be credited with HF/IDP for each month while in such a status. (See Chapter 34 for more detailed instructions.)

100302. Hospitalization. A member entitled to HF/IDP, who is hospitalized for a wound or injury incurred as a result of hostile action, is entitled to HF/IDP for each month hospitalization continues, up to an additional 3 months after the month in which the wound or injury occurred.

100303. Absence. A member, otherwise entitled to HF/IDP as a consequence of assignment to a designated IDP area, who is absent from the designated area for an entire calendar month, is not entitled to HF/IDP for that month.

Imminent Danger Pay For the Adriatic and Ionian
Areas, (DFAS Item I-12)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 12-99 to Chapter 10 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It was effective April 12, 1999.

This change implements the designation of Imminent Danger Pay for the Adriatic and Ionian Sea areas. It also clarifies existing designations for Serbia and Montenegro.

Due to the routine nature and noninterpretive aspect of this change, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment.
Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

NOTES:

1. The designation of a land area encompasses all internal waters, unless otherwise noted. For HF/IDP purposes, the term "internal waters" is defined as waters landward of the baseline drawn in accordance with international law.
2. The designation of a water area (such as the Persian Gulf) includes the territorial seas of those waters, but not the internal waters of the coastal lands. For example, all waters of the Persian Gulf seaward of the baseline of the coastal states, drawn in accordance with international law, would be included in the Persian Gulf designation.
3. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, airspace is NOT part of the included area. When airspace is specifically included, it will normally be that space directly vertically above the approved land or sea area.
4. This figure reflects all designated areas which were active within the last ten years.

NOTES:

1. The designation of a land area encompasses all internal waters, unless otherwise noted. For HF/IDP purposes, the term "internal waters" is defined as waters landward of the baseline drawn in accordance with international law.
2. The designation of a water area (such as the Persian Gulf) includes the territorial seas of those waters, but not the internal waters of the coastal lands. For example, all waters of the Persian Gulf seaward of the baseline of the coastal states, drawn in accordance with international law, would be included in the Persian Gulf designation.
3. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, airspace is NOT part of the included area. When airspace is specifically included, it will normally be that space directly vertically above the approved land or sea area.
4. This figure reflects all designated areas which were active within the last 10 years.

CHAPTER 11

SPECIAL PAY—DIVING DUTY1101 ENTITLEMENT

110101. Members entitled to basic pay are entitled to special pay for diving duty for periods during which they are:

- A. Assigned by orders to diving duty;
- B. Required to maintain proficiency as a diver by frequent and regular dives;
and
- C. Actually performing diving duty. Situations or conditions which further affect a member's entitlement to diving duty pay are contained in section 1103 and Table 11-1.

110102. In time of war the President may suspend diving duty pay.

1102 QUALIFICATIONS FOR DIVING DUTY

110201. Army. Except as noted in section 1103, an Army member must be a rated diver in accordance with AR 611-75 (reference (ab)) and be assigned to:

- A. A TOE or TDA position in SC/MOS, SQI, or ASI specified in table 1-1, AR 611-75; or
- B. A position designated diving duty by the Deputy Chief of Staff Personnel.

110202. Navy and Marine Corps. Members must be designated divers, be assigned to diving duty under competent orders, and maintain their qualifications for diving.

110203. Air Force. Members must:

- A. Successfully complete an approved DoD course for underwater swimmers;
- B. Be under orders for diving duty as authorized by the major air command;
- C. Meet the other qualification standards prescribed by current Air Force instructions.

1103 RATES PAYABLE

110301. Officers. Officers assigned to diving duty are entitled to special pay for diving duty at a rate of not more than $200 per month.

A. Army Officers

1. Army officers assigned to and performing initial diving duty under instruction (at an approved Armed Services diving school) will be paid diving duty pay at the rate of $110. The period of entitlement will be the date of first dive under instruction through the date dropped from the course or the date of graduation, whichever is earlier.

2. After initial training, Army officers assigned to diving duty are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the following monthly rates:

Marine Diving Officers (ASI 5V).....	$200
Combat Diver.....	$175

The combat diver rating applies to officers serving primarily in Special Operations Forces (SOF) units who are assigned to positions that require Special Forces Underwater Operations Systems qualifications and who hold a combat diver rating in accordance with AR 611-75 (reference (ab)).

B. Navy Officers

1. Navy officers assigned to diving duty are entitled to special pay for diving duty at the monthly rates specified below. Entitlement commences on the date of graduation from the requisite diving course or, for the UDT/SEAL officer (113X designator) rate, on assignment of the naval special warfare officer (113X) designator.

Diving Officer (SCUBA)	$110
Diving Officer	200
EOD Officer	200
UDT/SEAL Officer (113X designator)	200
UDT/SEAL Officer (118X designator)	110
Undersea Medical (Diving) Officer.....	200
Medical Service Corps (Diving) Officer	200
Ship Salvage Operations Officer.....	200
(effective 1 February 1983)

2. Navy officers assigned to and performing diving duty under instruction (DUINS, TEMDUINS, TEMADDUINS) in a diving curriculum will be paid at the rate of $110. Entitlement commences the date of the officer's first dive. However, if the officer is entitled to a higher rate prescribed in subparagraph 110301.B.1, above, the entitlement to the higher rate will continue.

C. Marine Corps Officers

1. Marine Corps officers assigned to and performing initial diving duty under instruction (at an approved Armed Services diving school) will be paid special pay for diving duty at the rate of $110 per month. The period of entitlement will be the date of the first dive under instruction through the date dropped from the course or the date of graduation, whichever is earlier.

2. After initial training, Marine Corps officers assigned to duty involving the use of SCUBA equipment are entitled to special pay for diving duty at the rate of $150 per month. Marine officers assigned to billets designated as combatant swimmers are entitled to special pay for diving duty at the rate of $200 per month.

3. See subparagraph 110302.C.3, below, concerning the limitation on Marine Corps members assigned to diving duty for pay purposes.

D. Air Force Officers Air Force officers assigned to diving duty are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the rate of $150 per month.

110302. Enlisted Members. Enlisted members assigned to diving duty are entitled to special pay for diving duty at a rate of not more than $300 per month.

A. Army

1. Army enlisted members assigned to and performing initial diving duty under instruction (at an approved Armed Forces diving school) will be paid diving duty pay at the rate of $110. The period of entitlement will be the date of first dive under instruction through the date dropped from the course or the date of graduation, whichever is earlier.

2. After initial training, Army enlisted members assigned to diving duty are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the following monthly rates:

Master Diver.....	$300
Diver First Class.....	175
Salvage Diver.....	135
Diver Second Class.....	110
Combat Diver.....	175

The combat diver rating applies to enlisted members serving primarily in Special Operations Forces (SOF) units who are assigned to positions that require Special Forces Underwater Operations Systems qualifications and who hold a combat diver rating in accordance with AR 611-75 (reference (ab)).

B. Navy

1. Navy enlisted members assigned to diving duty are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the following monthly rates:

Master Diver (SNEC 5341, 5346).....	$300
Saturation Diver (SNEC 5311)	275

SEAL Delivery Vehicle Pilot/ Navigator (EOD Qualified) (SNEC 5324)....	300

2. Navy enlisted members assigned to and performing diving duty under instruction (DUINS, TEMDUINS, TEMADDUINS) in a diving curriculum will be paid at the rate of $110. Entitlement commences the date of the member's first dive. However, if the member is entitled to a higher rate prescribed in subparagraph 110302.B.1 above, entitlement to the higher rate will continue.

C. Marine Corps

1. Marine Corps enlisted members assigned to and performing initial diving duty under instruction (at an approved armed services diving school) will be paid special pay for diving duty at the rate of $110 per month. The period of entitlement will be the date of first dive under instruction through the date dropped from the course or the date of graduation, whichever is earlier.

2. After initial training, Marine Corps enlisted members assigned to diving duty as SCUBA divers are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the rate of $110 per month. Enlisted Marines assigned to billets designated as combatant swimmers are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at a rate of $175 per month.

3. The number of Marine Corps members entitled to receive special pay for diving may not exceed the total number of officer and enlisted divers authorized for an activity by the commandant of the Marine Corps.

D. Air Force. Air Force enlisted members assigned to diving duty are entitled to receive special pay for diving duty at the following monthly rates:

SCUBA.....	$110
Pararescue.....	150

1104 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Special Pay for Diving Duty Entitlement Criteria,
(DFAS Item H-38)

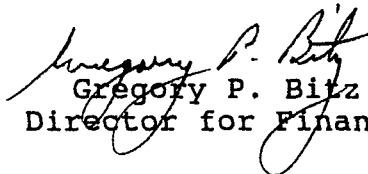

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 42-98 to Chapter 11 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A.

This change adds criteria for entitlement to Diving Duty Pay resulting from the FY 1999 National Defense Authorization Act.
This change also corrects an erroneous reference within the chapter. The criteria change was effective October 1, 1998.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft proposal of this change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change incorporates your comments where appropriate.

Modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

SPECIAL PAY FOR DIVING DUTY ENTITLEMENT CRITERIA

1. Revise paragraph 110101 to read as follows:

Members entitled to basic pay are entitled to special pay for diving duty for periods during which they are:

- A. Assigned by orders to diving duty;
- B. Required to maintain proficiency as a diver by frequent and regular dives; and
- C. They are either -
 1. Actually performing diving duty while serving in an assignment for which diving is a primary duty; or
 2. Meeting the requirements to maintain proficiency as described in paragraph 110101B while serving in an assignment that includes diving duty other than as a primary duty.

2. Insert a new paragraph 110103 to read as follows:

Situations or conditions which further affect entitlement to diving duty pay are contained in section 1103 and table 11-1.

3. Revise paragraph 110501 to read as follows:

Diving Duty Pay and Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay. When assigned by orders to both diving duty and hazardous duty, a member may be paid special pay for diving duty and one payment of hazardous duty incentive pay under chapter 22, section 2201 or chapter 24 for the same period.

4. Revise the bibliography by inserting a reference to paragraph 110101 with the citation: Public Law 105-261, Section 616, 17 Oct 1998.

CHAPTER 12

SPECIAL PAY FOR NUCLEAR-QUALIFIED OFFICERS★1201 NUCLEAR POWER ACCESSION BONUS PROGRAM★120101. Entitlement

★A. Individuals accepted, before 1 October 1998, for officer naval nuclear power training for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants may be entitled to accession bonuses not to exceed a total of $8,000.

★B. The Secretary of the Navy is assigned, under law, responsibility for issuing regulations which prescribe specific eligibility requirements and, annually, the value of the bonus payments, not to exceed the limit cited above. The amounts payable to an individual under this entitlement become fixed upon acceptance, by the Secretary of the Navy, of the individual's written agreement to participate in the training program. The regulation governing this program, including effective bonus rates, is SECNAVINST 7220.65 series (reference (ac)).

★C. The bonus is made of two parts, which the Secretary of the Navy has identified as follows:

★1. Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus. The Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus is payable upon selection and acceptance, by the Secretary of the Navy, of the individual's written agreement for participation in officer naval nuclear power training.

★2. Nuclear Career Accession Bonus. The Nuclear Career Accession Bonus is payable upon successful completion, as a commissioned officer, of training for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

★120102. Eligibility Requirements

★A. Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus. The following requirements must be met to qualify for the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus:

★1. If individuals already are commissioned officers, they must not be restricted in performance of duty; that is, they must be officers of the unrestricted line;

★2. The individual must be selected and execute a written agreement to participate in officer naval nuclear power training; and

★3. The Secretary of the Navy must accept the individual into the training program.

★B. Nuclear Career Accession Bonus. An officer must meet the following requirements to qualify for the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus:

Bonus;

- ★1. Fulfill the above requirements for the Nuclear Officer Accession

- ★2. Be on active duty and entitled to basic pay; and

- ★3. Successfully complete the nuclear propulsion training program.

★120103. Payment

★A. Upon acceptance of a request for admission into the program, the Chief of Naval Personnel will provide an official written notification of acceptance to the individual. The date of acceptance will fix the value of both the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus and the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus. Change 1 to SECNAVINST 7220.65H (reference (ac)) established the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus at $6,000 and the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus at $2,000, both effective 12 August 1996.

★B. Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus. A properly executed acceptance document will establish authority to make payment of the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus.

★C. Nuclear Career Accession Bonus. The commanding officer, Nuclear Power Training Unit (NPTU), shall certify the eligibility of each officer upon successful completion of the training program which will establish authority to make payment of the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus.

★120104. Recoupment

★A. An individual who has received a Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus and fails to commence or satisfactorily complete the nuclear power training specified in the agreement with the Secretary of the Navy, will, except for the reasons listed in SECNAVINST 7220.65 series (reference (ac)), be required to refund the entire bonus.

★B. Reduce the amount to be recouped by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D.

1202 NUCLEAR-QUALIFIED OFFICER EXTENDING PERIOD OF ACTIVE SERVICE (CONTINUATION PAY)

120201. Entitlement

★A. Nuclear qualified officers with applications for extension on active duty accepted, prior to 30 September 1998, may be entitled to a bonus not to exceed a total of $12,000 for each year of the active service agreement.

★B. The Secretary of the Navy is assigned, under law, responsibility for issuing regulations which prescribe specific eligibility requirements and, annually, the value of the bonus payments, not to exceed the limit cited above. The amounts payable to an individual under this entitlement become fixed upon acceptance, by the Secretary of the Navy, of the individual's written agreement to extend on active duty. Acceptance may not be made more than one year in advance of the end of an officer's initial existing period of obligated active service. The regulation governing this program, including effective bonus rates, is SECNAVINST 7220.65 series (reference (ac)).

★120202. Eligibility Requirements

★A. The following requirements must be met to qualify for Continuation Pay. The individual must:

★1. Be an officer on active duty, receiving basic pay and not restricted in the performance of duty (i.e., unrestricted line officer);

★2. Currently be qualified for duty in connection with supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants;

★3. Have not completed 23 years of commissioned service at the time of application;

★4. Be serving in pay grade 0-6 or below (not frocked to 0-7) and, at the time of application, not be selected for promotion to pay grade 0-7;

★5. Have executed a written agreement to remain on active duty in connection with supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants for a period of 3, 4, or 5 years; and

★6. Have the agreement accepted by the Chief of Naval Personnel on behalf of the Secretary of the Navy.

★B. A qualified officer may execute successive continuation agreements so long as any new period of obligated active service does not extend beyond the end of 26 years of commissioned service.

120203. Payment

★A. Upon acceptance of a request for extension, the Chief of Naval Personnel will issue an official written notification of acceptance to the individual. The date of acceptance will fix the value of the annual payments for the entire period of the extension. Change 1 to SECNAVINST 7220.65H established Nuclear Officer Continuation bonus at $12,000 per contract year effective 12 Aug 1996.

★B. When an officer's agreement is accepted before the end of an existing service obligation, continuation pay may be paid in a:

1. Number of installments equal to the number of years covered by the contract plus 1; the first upon acceptance of the application, the second upon expiration of existing obligated service, and the remaining payments annually (12-month intervals) thereafter. (Note: this provision only applies to the first contract for continuation pay.)

2. Number of annual installments equal to the number of years covered by the contract; the first upon expiration of existing obligated service and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

★C. When an officer's agreement is accepted after an existing service requirement expires, continuation pay is paid in equal annual installments over the length of the contract, commencing upon acceptance of the application and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

★D. Should the amount be increased that is paid to officers, who subsequently apply for continuation pay, officers with a contract in effect at a lower rate may execute a new agreement at the higher rate. The period of this new agreement shall be equal to or exceed the original period of the officer's existing agreement, but may in no case extend the obligation beyond 26 years of commissioned service. Upon execution of a new contract, the previous contract shall be canceled effective on the day before the anniversary date after the date on which continuation pay is increased.

120204. Recoupment

A. An officer who fails to maintain eligibility requirements for or who does not complete the full period of 3, 4, or 5 years of active duty as agreed, may not be paid any unpaid installments of continuation pay. Except under certain conditions prescribed in SECNAV Instruction 7220.65 series (reference (ac)), an officer must repay the unearned portion of any installments already paid. To arrive at an amount to be recouped, reduce the total continuation pay to an amount per month and multiply the monthly amount by the number of months, and fractions of months, for which payment was made that the officer has not served.

B. Reduce the amount to be recouped by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D.

1203 NUCLEAR CAREER ANNUAL INCENTIVE BONUS

★A. Nuclear qualified unrestricted line officers serving on active duty on the last day of the fiscal year, prior to 1 October 1998, may be entitled to an annual bonus not to exceed $10,000. Nuclear qualified limited duty and warrant officers serving on active duty on the last day of the fiscal year, prior to 1 October 1998, may be entitled to an annual bonus not to exceed $4,500. Officers, otherwise eligible, but not on active duty on the last day of a nuclear service year (fiscal year) or who are not eligible for a portion of the year, may be paid a bonus on a pro rata basis.

★B. The Secretary of the Navy is assigned, under law, responsibility for issuing regulations which prescribe specific eligibility requirements and, the value of the annual bonus payments, not to exceed the limits cited above. The regulation governing this program, including effective bonus rates, is SECNAVINST 7220.65 series (reference (ac)).

★120302. Eligibility Requirements

★A. The following general requirements must be met to qualify for the Nuclear Career Annual Incentive Bonus. The individual must:

- ★1. Be an officer on active duty, receiving basic pay;
- ★2. Have current technical qualifications for duty in connection with supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants;
- ★3. Be serving in pay grade W-2 through W-4 or O-1 through O-6;
- ★4. Not be serving in a period of obligated service incurred as a result of the acceptance of Nuclear Officer Continuation Bonus (this does not preclude pro rata payments);
- ★5. Not be also entitled to receive aviation career incentive pay, except in the case of officers serving billets that require the officer to :
 - ★a. Be technically qualified for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants; and
 - ★b. Be qualified for the performance of operational flying duties.

★B. Additional requirements for eligibility are as follows:

- ★1. Unrestricted line officers must also have completed their period of initial obligated active service incurred from initial source training as extended for nuclear power training.
- ★2. Chief warrant officers and limited duty officers must be serving in an assignment with duties involving the direct supervision, operation, or maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

★120303. Payment

★A. The Nuclear Career Annual Incentive Bonus will be paid annually on 30 September to all eligible officers on active duty. Change 1 to SECNAVINST 7220.65H (reference (ac)) established the Nuclear Career Annual Incentive Bonus at $10,000 for unrestricted line officers and $4,500 for chief warrant and limited duty officers, both rates effective for bonus accruing after 30 Sep 1996.

★B. An officer eligible on 30 September or last working day of the fiscal year, but who had a period or periods of ineligibility during the fiscal year, shall be paid a pro rata share of the bonus for all periods of eligibility during the year.

★C. An officer separated from the naval service or who has lost technical qualification for duty involving the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants prior to 30 September, shall be paid a pro rata share of the bonus for all periods of eligibility during the year provided the separation or loss of technical qualification was not the result of:

- ★1. Voluntary separation or voluntary loss of technical qualification;
- ★2. Voluntary request for relief;
- ★3. Refusal to accept orders to assignment in connection with supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants;
- ★4. Disability resulting from or during misconduct, willful neglect, or unauthorized absence;
- ★5. Misconduct; or
- ★6. Detachment for Cause.

★D. An officer promoted to pay grade 0-7, or selected for and assuming the rank of 0-7 (frocked) prior to 30 September shall be paid a pro rata share of the bonus for all periods of eligibility during the year.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Nuclear Bonuses, (DFAS Item G-65)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 07-98 to Chapter 12 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective retroactively to October 1, 1997.

This change is the result of the Fiscal Year 1998 National Defense Authorization Act and increases the allowable ceiling on certain Nuclear Officer Bonus rates. Although this change raises the allowable maximums, the Navy Department has indicated they will not initially raise the current rates to the maximum.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or (703) 602-5280.

NUCLEAR OFFICER BONUSES

1. Revise paragraph 120101A to read as follows:

"Effective 1 October 1997, individuals accepted, on or before 30 September 1999, for officer naval nuclear power training for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants may be entitled to accession bonuses not to exceed a total of $10,000."

2. Revise paragraph 120201A to read as follows:

"Effective 1 October 1997, nuclear qualified officers with applications for extension on active duty accepted, on or before 30 September 1999, may be entitled to a bonus not to exceed a total of $15,000 for each year of the active service agreement."

3. Revise paragraph 120301A as follows:

- a. Replace "1 October 1998" with "1 October 1999" at both occurrences.

- b. Replace "$10,000" with "$12,000" and replace "$4,500" with "$5,500".

4. Revise the bibliography under paragraphs 120101A, 120201A and 120301A by replacing the current Public Law citation with "Public Law 105-85, Sections 613 and 624, 18 Nov 1997" in each instance it appears.

5. Note that this chapter under went extensive revision by DFAS Interim Change Number 43-96 and that the bonus dates and the bibliography were again revised by DFAS Interim Change Number 52-96.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Nuclear Officer Bonuses, (DFAS Item H-36)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 04-99 to Chapter 12 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. This change is effective on the dates specified herein.

This change extends effective periods for certain Nuclear Officer Bonuses resulting from the FY 1999 National Defense Authorization Act. This change also revises the maximum bonus amounts authorized by the Department of the Navy.

Due to the routine nature, non-interpretive aspect and minimal perceived systems impact of this change, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

NUCLEAR OFFICER BONUSES

1. Revise paragraph 120101A by replacing 30 September 1999 with 31 December 1999.

2. Revise paragraph 120103A to read as follows:

Upon acceptance of a request for admission into the program, the Chief of Naval Personnel will provide the individual with official written notification of acceptance. The date of acceptance will fix the value of both the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus and the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus.

1. Effective 12 August 1996, Navy set the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus at $6,000 and the Nuclear Career Accession Bonus at $2,000.

2. Effective 1 October 1998, Navy set the Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus at $8,000. The Nuclear Career Accession Bonus remained unchanged at $2,000.

3. Revise paragraph 120201A by replacing 30 September 1999 with 31 December 1999.

4. Revise paragraph 120203A to read as follows:

Upon acceptance of a request for extension, the Chief of Naval Personnel will provide the individual with official written notification of acceptance. The date of acceptance will fix the value of the annual payments for the entire period of the extension.

1. Effective 12 August 1996, Navy set the Nuclear Officer Continuation Bonus at $12,000 per contract year.

2. Effective 1 October 1998, Navy set the Nuclear Officer Continuation Bonus at $15,000 per contract year.

5. Revise the bibliography for paragraphs 120101A and 120201A by replacing the current Public Law citations with Public Law 105-261, Section 613, 17 Oct 1998.

6. Note that this chapter under went extensive revision by DFAS Interim Change Number 43-96 and the bonus dates and amount were again revised by DFAS Interim Changes Numbered 52-96 and 7-98.

CHAPTER 13

SPECIAL PAY FOR OFFICERS SERVING IN POSITIONS OF UNUSUAL RESPONSIBILITY AND OF A CRITICAL NATURE

1301 ENTITLEMENT

Certain Navy officers entitled to the basic pay of grades O-6 and below are entitled to special pay while serving in a position of unusual responsibility and of a critical nature as designated by the Secretary of the Navy. This special pay will be referred to as responsibility pay.

1302 RATES PAYABLE

The monthly rates of responsibility pay are:

Pay Grade	Amount
O-6	$150
O-5	100
O-4 and below	50

1303 AUTHORIZED PAYEES

Subject to the entitlement condition in section 1301 and the restrictions in section 1304, Navy officers are entitled to responsibility pay while serving as commanding officer or commander of a unit listed in a directive promulgated by the Chief of Naval Operations. Responsibility pay will continue to accrue while on TAD, leave, or similar temporary absences from duty where there is no permanent relief.

1304 RESTRICTIONS

Responsibility pay is not authorized for:

130401. Officers temporarily in command.

130402. Officers assigned in designated "Officer in Charge" billets other than those promulgated by the Chief of Naval Operations.

130403. More than one officer per designated billet, except for the dates of assumption of and relief from command.

CHAPTER 14SPECIAL PAY—QUALIFIED ENLISTED MEMBERS EXTENDING DUTY AT DESIGNATED LOCATIONS OVERSEAS*1401 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

Enlisted members entitled to basic pay are entitled to this special pay if they:

140101. Have a specialty designated by the Secretary concerned; and 140102. Have completed a tour of duty (as defined by the Secretary concerned) at a location outside the continental United States designated by the Secretary concerned; and 140103. At the end of the tour of duty execute an agreement to extend that tour for a period of at least 1 year.

1402 AMOUNT

An enlisted member is entitled, after acceptance of the agreement, to special pay for duty performed during an extension executed before, on, or after 1 January 1981 at a rate prescribed by the Secretary concerned of not more than $50 per month, provided that no payments may be made for any period of the extension served before 1 January 1981. Members agreeing to extend on or after 1 April 1986 are entitled to a rate prescribed by the Secretary concerned of not more than $80 per month.

1403 RESTRICTION

An enlisted member who elects to receive rest and recuperative absence or transportation at government expense, or any combination thereof, under Title 10, U.S.C. section 705 (reference(c)), is not entitled to the special pay authorized by this chapter for the period of extension of duty for which the rest and recuperative absence or transportation is authorized.

1404 TERMINATION OF ENTITLEMENT

140401. Voluntary early departure from overseas theater. An enlisted member's entitlement ceases on the day of PCS departure from the overseas area if the departure is the result of actions taken by or under the control of the member.

140402. Involuntary early departure from overseas theater. An enlisted member's entitlement continues through the scheduled termination date if the PCS departure from the overseas area is the result of actions taken by the Military Service concerned.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding -SPECIAL PAY FOR EXTENDING DUTY AT DESIGNATED LOCATIONS OVERSEAS, (DFAS Item G-66)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 18-98 to Chapter 14 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective retroactively to October 1, 1997.

This change is the result of the 1998 National Defense Authorization Act and adds a bonus option to the potential incentives that may be offered to enlisted members extending duty at designated locations overseas. Service Secretaries may use this authority to specify annual bonuses, not to exceed $2000, in either lump sum or monthly installments.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

SPECIAL PAY FOR EXTENDING DUTY AT DESIGNATED LOCATIONS OVERSEAS

1. Replace the entirety of Chapter 14 with the following:

SPECIAL PAY OR BONUS-QUALIFIED ENLISTED MEMBERS EXTENDING DUTY AT DESIGNATED LOCATIONS OVERSEAS

1401 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

140101. At the discretion of the Service Secretary, an enlisted member may be entitled to either a special pay or bonus provided they meet all of the following conditions:

- A. Entitled to basic pay
- B. Possess a specialty that is designated by the Secretary concerned for the purposes of this entitlement.
- C. Completed an overseas tour of duty, including previously approved extensions, at a location outside the continental United States that is designated by the Secretary concerned.
- D. At the end of that tour of duty, execute an agreement to extend the tour of duty for a period of not less than 1 year.

140102. Officers are not eligible for this entitlement.

1402 TYPES OF ENTITLEMENT

140201. When the Secretary concerned accepts the member's agreement to extend the tour of duty, the member becomes entitled, at the election of the Secretary, to either:

A. Special Pay in monthly installments in an amount prescribed by the Secretary, but not to exceed $80 per month; or

B. An annual bonus in an amount prescribed by the Secretary, but not to exceed $2,000 per year. The Secretary concerned may pay the bonus in either a lump sum or monthly installments.

140202. The member may elect to receive a period of special rest and recuperative (SR&R) absence instead of the special pay or bonus described in 140201A and B, if permitted by the Secretary concerned. If SR&R is elected and granted the member may not receive any special pay or bonus under this chapter for the same extension period.

140203. The payment rate for the special pay or bonus shall be fixed at the time of the agreement and may not be changed during the period of the extended tour of duty.

1403 TERMINATION OF SPECIAL PAY

140301. Voluntary early termination of overseas duty will result in termination of further monthly special pay under this chapter. A member's entitlement ceases on the day of PCS departure from the overseas area if the departure is the result of actions taken by or under the control of the member.

140302. Involuntary early termination of overseas duty will not affect monthly special pay awarded under this chapter. A member's entitlement continues through the scheduled termination date if the PCS departure from the overseas area is the result of actions taken by the Military Service concerned.

1404 TERMINATION AND RECOUPMENT OF BONUS

140401. Voluntary or involuntary early termination of overseas duty of a member in receipt of a bonus requires termination of further monthly installments and recoupment of the unearned portion of installments or lump sum payments. However, the Secretary concerned may waive the obligation of a member to reimburse the United States if the Secretary determines that conditions and circumstances warrant the waiver.

140402. Recoupment of the unearned portion of a bonus will be 1/12 of the bonus amount for each month or portion of a month not served. A member receives credit only for full months served.

140403. A discharge in bankruptcy under title 11, U.S.C. (reference (aj)), that is entered less than 5 years after termination of a bonus extension agreement under this chapter, does not relieve a member from the refund provisions of this section.

1405 SERVICE REGULATIONS

140501. The following individual Service regulations provide additional information:

- A. Army. AR 614-30 (reference (dz)).
- B. Navy. OPNAVINST 1306.1 (reference (ag)).
- C. Air Force. DFAS-DEM 7073-1 (reference (ea)).

CHAPTER 15SPECIAL CONTINUATION PAY FOR AVIATION CAREER OFFICERS*1501 ENTITLEMENT

Navy officers who are pilots or naval flight officers and extend their period of active duty by written agreement after 30 September 1984 and before 1 October 1989, are entitled to aviation officer continuation pay (AOCP) when they meet the eligibility requirements of this chapter and SECNAVINST 7220.79 series (reference (ai)).

1502 ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

To qualify for continuation pay under this chapter, the officer must:

- 150201. Be entitled to aviation career incentive pay (ACIP);
- 150202. Be in pay grade O-6 or below;
- 150203. Be qualified to perform operational flying duty as defined in subparagraph 220202B.3;
- 150204. Have at least 6 years of aviation service as an officer, and at least 6, but less than 11 years of active duty;
- 150205. Be in an aviation specialty designated as critical;
- 150206. Execute a written agreement to remain on active duty in aviation service for either 3 or 4 years, or 6 years if such agreement is executed by an officer who has completed less than 8 years of active duty;
- 150207. Have completed the minimum service required for aviation training; and
- 150208. Have not previously been paid AOCP.

1503 COMPUTATION

Upon acceptance of an eligible officer's written agreement by the Secretary of the Navy, or the Secretary's designee, the officer is entitled to AOCP in addition to all other compensation to which entitled. The amount payable will not exceed:

- 150301. $4,000 for each year of a 3-year agreement.

1504 TIME OF PAYMENT

AOCP shall be paid on the effective date of an officer's agreement. The Secretary of the Navy may specify that the continuation bonus be paid in a lump-sum or in equal monthly or annual installments.

1505 RECOUPMENT

Recoupment of the unearned portion of AOCP is required on a pro rata basis whenever an officer fails to maintain eligibility or fails to complete the full contractual period of additional obligated military service. However, recoupment is not required if an officer is unable to maintain eligibility or complete the full contractual period of additional obligated military service for any of the following reasons:

150501. Separation by operation of laws or by operation of military service or Department of Defense policies.

150502. Death or disability (including medical grounding or suspension) which is not the result of misconduct, willful neglect, and not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence.

1506 RESTRICTION

An agreement for AOCP under this section will not be accepted by the Secretary of Defense after 31 December 1988.

CHAPTER 16ENGINEERING AND SCIENTIFIC CAREER
CONTINUATION PAY (ESCCP)1601 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

Officers entitled to basic pay may be paid this ESCCP if they:

- 160101. Are not receiving any other accession or career continuation bonus; and
- 160102. Are below grade O-7; and
- 160103. Hold a degree in engineering or science from an accredited college or university; and
- 160104. Have been certified by the Secretary of the Military Department as technically qualified for detail to engineering or scientific duty; and
- 160105. Have completed at least 3, but less than 14 years' active engineering or scientific duty as a commissioned officer. (After completion of 3 years' active service, an ESCCP period of obligated service will run concurrently with any other obligated service.); and
- 160106. Are serving in or selected for assignment to a critical engineering or scientific military specialty requiring an engineering or scientific degree and are in one of the Armed Forces that has a critical shortage. (Officers attending courses of professional military education or advanced training or education related to their specialty are considered to be serving in engineering or scientific-type duty.); and
- 160107. Execute a written agreement to remain on active duty for assignment to engineering or scientific duty for at least 1 year, but not more than 4 years.

1602 ENTITLEMENT AMOUNTS

- 160201. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay ESCCP in either lump sum or yearly installments.
- 160202. The highest amount payable is $3,000 for each year of obligated service for which the officer has agreed to remain on active duty according to paragraph 160107, above.

1603 TERMINATION AND RECOUPMENT

- 160301. Except for officers not qualified because of death, injury, illness, or other impairment incurred in the line of duty and not the result of their own misconduct, entitlement to the full amount of the ESCCP is contingent on maintaining the technical qualifications required for performance of engineering or scientific duty.

160302. Except for termination of active duty because of disability incurred in the line of duty, or for termination of military service by operation of laws, or by operation of Military Service or DoD policies, officers who do not remain on active duty for the entire period for which paid shall refund that percentage of the payment that the unserved part of the period is of the total period for which the payment was made.

160303. The Secretary of the Military Department may waive, in whole or in part, the refund if it would be against equity or good conscience or would not be in the best interests of the United States.

160304. A discharge in bankruptcy under Title 11, U.S.C. (reference (aj)), does not relieve an officer from the refund provisions.

160305. An officer may not repay voluntarily an amount equal to the percentage of the unserved time on the agreement solely to reduce the period of obligated service required by the agreement.

CHAPTER 17

SPECIAL PAY—FOREIGN DUTY1701 ENTITLEMENT

Foreign duty pay is payable to enlisted members otherwise entitled to basic pay who are assigned to duty at certain places outside the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia, as designated by the Secretary of Defense.

1702 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

See Table 17-1 for specific items pertaining to entitlement.

1703 RESTRICTIONS ON PAYMENT

170301. Foreign duty pay is not authorized for enlisted members who are residents of a designated foreign duty pay area while serving on permanent duty within that state, possession, or foreign country. A member's residence shall be the same as the member's designated legal residence for income tax purposes.

170302. Foreign duty pay is not payable to midshipmen, aviation cadets, or academy cadets.

170303. Foreign duty pay is not payable for the 31st day of the month.

170304. An enlisted member may not receive both foreign duty pay and career sea pay for the same period of service.

NOTES:

1. Designation of a single country or state indicates that enlisted members on duty at all places within the country or state are entitled to this special pay (example: Alaska and Turkey), unless exceptions are indicated (example: Greece).
2. Designation of places within a country indicates that only those places are entitled to this special pay (example: Cape Verde: Praia).
3. The special pay is currently payable when ending date is not shown in "Through" column.
4. Enlisted members who were receiving foreign duty pay on 31 May 1982, and who were assigned to places that no longer qualified them for this pay on 1 Jun 1982, shall continue to be eligible for such pay until permanently reassigned out of that geographical area.
5. Enlisted members who were receiving foreign duty pay on 30 Jun 1984 shall continue to be eligible for such pay until permanently reassigned from this location.
6. Enlisted members who were receiving foreign duty pay for these areas on 31 Mar 1986 will continue to receive the pay until permanently reassigned out of the geographical area. Members arriving or extending their tours at these areas after 31 Mar 1986 will not be eligible for foreign duty pay.
7. Enlisted members who were receiving foreign duty pay for these areas on 31 Mar 1987 will continue to receive the pay until permanently reassigned out of the geographical area. Members arriving or extending their tours at these areas after 31 Mar 1987 will not be eligible for foreign duty pay.

FOREIGN DUTY PAY—CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT
R U L E	A	B	C
	When enlisted member	and	then foreign duty pay
1	arrives at permanent duty station listed in section 1705		starts on day of arrival for duty (note 1).
2	departs PCS from foreign duty station		continues through day of departure.
3	is discharged	immediately reenlists at the same foreign duty station	continues to accrue.
4	is permanently assigned to duty at place designated in section 1705	is hospitalized, on authorized leave, operational flight, TDY, or TAD at that place
5		is on authorized leave away from that place	continues for first 30 days.
6		is on operational flight, TDY, TAD, or hospitalized at a non-designated place (note 4)
7		is on TDY, TAD (including hospitalization) or on operational flight at one or more designated places	continues to accrue (note 2).
8	is not permanently assigned to designated foreign duty station	is on TDY, TAD (including hospitalization) or on operational flight at one or more designated places	accrues if continuous period of 8 days or more occurs (including date of arrival and date of departure). Absences from a designated place of less than 24 hours does not break continuity.

10		is convicted	does not accrue from first day of confinement until date restored to full duty (note 3).
11	is confined as result of court-martial sentence
12	is receiving career sea pay		does not accrue.
13	is assigned to and serving on a ship whose primary mission is accomplished in port and such ship is home ported in an area listed in section 1705	is not entitled to career sea pay	accrues from date of reporting to the ship and continues or terminates under the same conditions enumerated in this table (note 5).

NOTES:

1. If already at place designated a foreign duty area, the pay starts on day of designation.
2. If period of absence from permanent duty station exceeds 30 days and member is then ordered to duty at another designated place, foreign duty pay accrues only when member remains there for 8 continuous days or more (including date of arrival and date of departure). Absences from a designated place of less than 24 hours do not break continuity.
3. Nonjudicial punishment does not result in loss of foreign duty pay.
4. Rule 2 applies when a medical evacuee has been reassigned on PCS from the designated place for medical treatment.
5. When a ship's home port is first assigned or changed, foreign duty pay accrues from the date of ship's arrival at the home port which qualifies a member for such pay and terminates on date of ship's departure for new home port.

SUBJECT: Change to the DODFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Hardship Duty Pay, (DFAS Item G-64)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 11-99 to Chapter 17 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It was effective February 4, 1999.

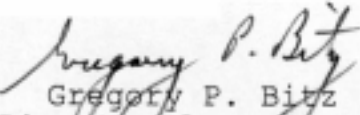

The purpose of this change is to implement the new entitlement to Hardship Duty Pay resulting from enactment of Section 619 of the FY 1998 National Defense Authorization Act and Section 617 of the FY 1999 National Defense Authorization Act. It is based on policy issued in Assistant Secretary of Defense (Force Management Policy) memorandum dated February 4, 1999.

This is a complete rewrite and replacement of Chapter 17. It is effective February 4, 1999 and it terminates the existing entitlement for Foreign Duty Pay effective February 3, 1999. The listing of hardship duty locations in Figure 17-1 contains essentially the same locations previously designated for Foreign Duty Pay. However, the list has been updated to reflect current country names and the deletion of entries with closed effective dates. The conditions of entitlement in Table 17-1 are the same as those used for Foreign Duty Pay with certain formatting modifications. Note that the entitlement to Hardship Duty Pay for performing missions involved with human remains recovery will be paid in the entire monthly amount without prorating, regardless of the number of days the member is performing the duty or the number of days on active duty during a qualifying month.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft proposal of this change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change incorporates your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or at (703) 602-5280.

SPECIAL PAY - HARDSHIP DUTY

1. Replace the entirety of Chapter 17 with the attached revision.
2. Replace paragraph 180105C with the following:

An enlisted member may not receive both career sea pay and Hardship Duty Pay for Location Assignment (HDP-L) for the same period of service.
3. Replace the Table of Contents entry for Chapter 17 with the following:

CHAPTER 17 SPECIAL PAY-HARDSHIP DUTY

1701	ENTITLEMENT.....	17-1
1702	RATES PAYABLE.....	17-1

1701-Entitlement	37 U.S.C.305 Public Law 105-261,Section 617, 17 Oct 1998 ASD(FMP)Memo, 4 Feb 1999

CHAPTER 17

SPECIAL PAY—HARDSHIP DUTY

1701 ENTITLEMENT

170101. General Provisions. Hardship Duty Pay (HDP) supersedes Foreign Duty Pay (FDP). HDP is established effective 4 February 1999 and FDP is terminated effective 3 February 1999. HDP is payable to members entitled to basic pay, at a monthly rate not to exceed $300, while the member is performing duty designated by the Secretary of Defense as hardship duty. The Secretary of Defense has established that HDP will be paid to members (1) for performing specific missions or, (2) when assigned to designated locations. The approved missions, designated locations and applicable HDP rates are provided in this chapter. Except as noted under restrictions, HDP is payable in addition to all other pays and allowances.

170102. Mission Assignment Entitlement. Hardship Duty Pay for Mission Assignment (HDP-M) is payable to members, officer and enlisted, for performing designated hardship missions. HDP-M is payable at the full monthly rate, without prorating or reduction, for each month, during any part of which, the member performs a specified mission. Active and Reserve component members who qualify, at any time during a month, will receive the full amount of HDP-M regardless of the period of time on active duty or the number of days they receive basic pay during the month. A member assigned to, on temporary duty with, or otherwise under the operational control of the Joint Task Force-Full Accounting (JTF-FA) or the Central Identification Lab-Hawaii (CIL-HI) may qualify for HDP-M based on performance of a hardship mission. Members so assigned are entitled for each month in which they perform investigative or remains recovery duty in a remote, isolated area (including, but not limited to, areas in Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, and North Korea) for recovery of U.S. service member remains.

1702 RATES PAYABLE

170201. Mission Assignment Rates. HDP-M is payable to all members at the rate of $150 per month regardless of pay grade.

170202. Location Assignment Rates. HDP-L is payable only to enlisted members at the rates listed below.

Grade	Monthly Rate	Grade	Monthly Rate
E-9	$22.50	E-4	$13.00
E-8	22.50	E-3	9.00
E-7	22.50	E-2	8.00
E-6	20.00	E-1	8.00
E-5	16.00

1703 RESTRICTIONS ON PAYMENT

170301. General Restrictions. As established by the Secretary of Defense, the maximum total HDP that may be paid to an individual member in any one month is $150.

170302. Location Assignment Restrictions. Prorate or restrict payment of HDP-L in accordance with the following guidance and the rules in Table 17-1.

A. HDP-L is not payable to members who are residents of a designated hardship duty location while serving on otherwise qualifying duty within that state, possession, or foreign country. A member's residence shall be the same as the member's designated legal residence for income tax purposes.

B. HDP-L is not payable to midshipmen, aviation cadets, or academy cadets.

C. HDP-L is not payable to members receiving career sea pay for the same period of service.

D. HDP-L is not payable for any periods a member is in a non-pay status.

13		is not receiving career sea pay	accrues from date of reporting to the ship and continues or terminates under the same conditions enumerated in this table (note 5).

NOTES:

1. If already in an area designated a hardship duty location, the pay starts on day of designation.
2. If period of absence from permanent duty station exceeds 30 days and member is then ordered to duty at another designated location, hardship duty pay accrues only when member remains there for 8 continuous days or more (including date of arrival and date of departure). Absences from a designated location of less than 24 hours do not break continuity.
3. Non-judicial punishment does not result in loss of hardship duty pay.
4. Rule 2 applies when a medical evacuee has been reassigned on PCS from the designated place for medical treatment.
5. When a ship's home port is first assigned or changed, hardship duty pay accrues from the date of ship's arrival at the home port which qualifies a member for such pay and terminates on date of ship's departure for new home port.

CHAPTER 18

SPECIAL PAY—SEA DUTY1801 CAREER SEA PAY

180101. Entitlement. Effective 1 January 1981, a member entitled to basic pay who is in pay grade E-4 or above may be entitled to career sea pay (CSP) for sea duty as defined in paragraph 180103, below.

180102. Conditions of Entitlement. See Table 18-1.

180103. Definitions. Sea duty, for the purpose of entitlement to career sea pay, is service performed by a member under orders issued by competent authority:

A. While permanently assigned for duty to a ship, ship-based staff, or ship-based aviation unit and serving in a ship whose primary mission is accomplished underway, including periods not to exceed the first 30 consecutive days each while on temporary additional duty ashore.

B. While temporarily assigned for duty to a vessel, ship-based staff, or ship-based aviation unit and serving in a ship whose primary mission is accomplished underway.

C. While permanently or temporarily assigned for duty to a vessel or ship-based staff and serving in a ship whose primary mission is accomplished in port, but only during that period while the ship is away from its home port. A ship is considered away from its home port whenever it is at sea, or it is in port that is more than 50 miles away from the home port.

D. While serving as a member of the off crew of a two-crewed submarine (effective 14 October 1981).

E. The following changes are effective 1 January 1988 for those members stationed aboard category "B" vessels:

1. Entitled to CSP for every day the vessel is at sea or at a port at least 50 miles away from the vessel's assigned home port.

2. Entitled to credit for the cumulative sea-duty counter during the entire period while assigned to the category "B" vessel.

3. The above provisions are not retroactive for time already spent aboard category "B" vessels.

F. The word "vessel" or "ship" shall mean a self-propelled vessel in an active status, in commission or in-service.

180104. Rates

A. The monthly rates of career sea pay for commissioned officers are in Table 18-2.

B. The monthly rates of career sea pay for warrant officers are in Table 18-3.

C. The monthly rates of career sea pay for enlisted members are listed in Tables 18-4, 18-4A, and 18-4B. These tables apply to:

1. Members with less than 5 years of sea duty:

a. Members assigned to sea duty and in receipt of career sea pay for any period of time between 1 October 1987 and 31 December 1987, are entitled to the CSP rates in Table 18-4. The entitlement to saved CSP in this table terminates when members are permanently reassigned to duty for which the member would no longer qualify for CSP.

b. Members reporting to sea duty between 1 January 1988 and 30 April 1988 and who were not on sea duty for any period of time between 1 October 1987 and 31 December 1987 are entitled to the CSP rates in Table 18-4A.

c. Members reporting to sea duty on or after 1 May 1988 who were not on sea duty for any period of time between 1 October 1987 and 31 December 1987 are entitled to the CSP rates in Table 18-4B.

2. Members with more than 5 years of sea duty:

a. Members assigned to sea duty with over 5 years' sea duty on 1 January 1988 are entitled to the CSP rates in Tables 18-4/18-4A. The entitlement to saved CSP in these tables terminates when members are permanently reassigned to duty for which the member would no longer qualify for CSP.

b. Members assigned to sea duty with over 5 years' sea duty on 1 May 1988 are entitled to either the CSP rates in Tables 18-4/18-4A and CSP premium, or the CSP rates in Table 18-4B. CSP premium and the CSP rates in Table 18-4B are not allowed. Use the CSP rates that are most advantageous to the member. The following applies:

(1) When a member has less than 3 years' consecutive sea duty on 1 May 1988, then only the CSP rates in Table 18-4B apply.

(2) When a member has more than 3 years' consecutive sea duty immediately prior to 30 April 1988, and was on sea duty anytime during the period 1 February 1988 to 30 April 1988, then use either the CSP rates in Table 18-4B or the CSP rates in Table 18-4 or 18-4A and CSP premium.

180105. Restrictions on Payments

A. Passenger and Travel Status. Do not pay career sea pay to members en route to and from ships outside the CONUS, or on board a ship for transportation, regardless of the length of the period. This restriction applies for the period prior to a member reporting for permanent duty and after being permanently detached from duty on board a ship.

B. Midshipmen, Aviation Cadets, and Academy Cadets. Career sea pay is not payable to midshipmen, aviation cadets, or academy cadets.

C. An enlisted member may not receive both career sea pay and foreign duty pay for the same period of service.

180106. Status of Vessels (Navy). The status of each Naval vessel or craft is designated by the Chief of Naval Operations in accordance with and as defined by Article 0305, Navy Regulations (reference (ak)). When doubt exists as to the status of a vessel or craft for a particular period or when the nature of employment is not known, forward a request for determination of entitlement to career sea pay to the Comptroller of the Navy via the Chief of Naval Personnel.

1802 CAREER SEA PAY PREMIUM180201. Entitlement

A. All officers, warrant officers and enlisted members in pay grade E-4 who are entitled to career sea pay and who have served 36 consecutive months of sea duty are entitled to a monthly career sea pay premium for the 37th consecutive month and each subsequent consecutive month of sea duty served by such members.

B. Enlisted members in pay grades E-5 to E-9 with at least 3 years, but less than 5 years of sea duty and who have served 36 consecutive months of sea duty, are entitled to a monthly career sea pay premium for the 37th consecutive month and each subsequent consecutive month of sea duty served by such member.

C. Enlisted members in pay grades E-5 to E-9 with over 5 years of sea duty and who were on sea duty at anytime between 1 February 1988 and 30 April 1988 and have served 36 consecutive months of sea duty are entitled to career sea pay premium for the 37th consecutive month and each subsequent consecutive month of sea duty served by such members and the CSP rates in Table 18-4/18-4A. Under no circumstances will the CSP premium and the CSP rates in Table 18-4B be authorized.

180202. Rate Payable. The monthly rate of career sea pay premium is $100.

180203. Computation of Consecutive Months of Sea Duty. The computation of consecutive months of sea duty is under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned.

NOTES:

1. Temporarily based ashore refers to a ship-based aviation unit or ship-based staff that has landed ashore with intent to return to a ship.
2. Entitlement terminates when the ship returns to the home port.
3. Further TAD/TDY ashore from ship will not interrupt career sea pay entitlement for the first 30 days member is in such status provided member is otherwise entitled and returns to the ship.
4. Where sentence is changed to restriction to ship and member performs duty, career sea pay is resumed. Nonjudicial punishment does not result in loss of career sea pay.
5. Entitlement accrues only when the ship is away from the home port.
6. OPNAVINST 4700.8 series defines ship status assignments for USN ships.

CHAPTER 19

SPECIAL PAY-FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY1901 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS AND POLICY190101. Entitlement

A. An officer or enlisted member of the Armed Forces entitled to basic pay, who has been certified by the Secretary concerned in accordance with Military Service regulations to be proficient in a foreign language, identified by the Secretary of Defense for such pay, and who meets one of the following conditions, may be paid foreign language proficiency pay:

1. Is qualified in a military specialty requiring a foreign language; or
2. Has received training under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned assigned to develop such proficiency; or
3. Is assigned to military duties requiring such proficiency; or
4. Is proficient in foreign language for which the Department of Defense may have a critical need (as determined by the Secretary of Defense).

B. Certification. The Secretary of the Military Department will annually certify member's level of proficiency.

C. Foreign language proficiency pay may be paid in addition to other pay and allowances to which a member may be entitled.

190102. Definitions

A. Critical Language. Any foreign language identified by the Secretary of Defense in which it is necessary to have proficient personnel because of national defense considerations. The Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Intelligence) is the custodian of the critical language list.

B. Language Proficiency. Level of proficiency a member possesses in a foreign language skill (listening, reading and/or speaking) as certified by the Secretary concerned.

190103. Amount of Payment

A. The monthly rate of foreign language proficiency pay shall be determined by the Secretary concerned as prescribed in this paragraph:

Foreign Language Proficiency	Monthly Rate
FLPP-1	$ 25
FLPP-2	$ 50
FLPP-3	$ 75
FLPP-4	$100

B. Foreign language proficiency pay may be awarded for proficiency in multiple foreign languages; however, the monthly rate may not exceed $100 payable to a member.

C. Entitlement to foreign language proficiency pay is computed on a 30-day month. Entitlement accrues from the date of authorization through the effective date of the termination order. Payment will be prorated for that portion of the month in which entitlement begins or ends.

1902 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

190201. Entitlement. Detailed instructions on maintenance, retention, and termination of foreign language proficiency pay status are specified in regulations by the Secretary of each Military Department. Entitlement may be terminated at any time in accordance with such regulations.

190202. Tax. Foreign language proficiency pay is an item of pay subject to federal withholding tax. It is not subject to FICA tax.

Interim Changes 6-98, 43-98 and 9-99 are incorporated in this change.

CHAPTER 20

AVIATOR RETENTION BONUS

★2001 ENTITLEMENT

An aviation officer entitled to aviation career incentive pay (ACIP), who makes a written agreement to remain on active duty in aviation service for at least 1 year, may be paid a retention bonus as provided in this chapter. The written agreement must be executed during the period beginning January 1, 1989, and ending on December 31, 1999, and accepted by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. An aviation officer eligible under this chapter is entitled to a retention bonus in addition to any other pay and allowances to which the officer is entitled.

★2002 ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

200201. To qualify for an aviation bonus under this chapter, an officer must:

- A. Be entitled to aviation career incentive pay (ACIP)
- B. Be in a pay grade below O-6 (although the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may establish more restrictive requirements)
- C. Be qualified to perform operational flying duty
- D. Have completed at least 6, but less than 13 years of aviation service
- E. Have completed any active duty service commitment incurred for undergraduate aviator training, and
- F. Be in an aviation specialty designated as critical by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned and approved

200202. Definitions of select terms used in this chapter are as follows:

A. Aviation Service. Aviation service is service performed by an officer (except a flight surgeon or other medical officer) while holding an aeronautical rating or designation or while in training to receive an aeronautical rating or designation.

B. Aviation Specialty. An aviation specialty is a specific community of pilots identified by type of aircraft or weapon system or a specific community of otherwise designated aeronautical officers.

C. Critical Aviation Specialty. A critical aviation specialty is an aviation specialty in which there exists a shortage of officers on the date of designation.

D. Operational Flying Duty. Operational flying duty is flying performed under competent orders by rated or designated members while serving in assignments in which basic flying skills normally are maintained in the performance of assigned duties as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, and flying performed by members in training that leads to the award of an aeronautical rating or designation.

★2003 AMOUNT OF BONUS

200301. The amount of a retention bonus paid under this chapter for agreements accepted on or after October 1, 1996, may not be more than one of the following:

A. $25,000 for each year covered by the agreement, if the officer agrees to remain on active duty to complete 14 years of commissioned service; or

B. $12,000 for each year covered by the agreement, if the officer agrees to remain on active duty for 1, 2, or 3 years.

200302. The amount of a retention bonus paid under this chapter for agreements accepted prior to October 1, 1996, may not be more than one of the following:

A. $12,000 for each year covered by the agreement, if the officer agrees to remain on active duty to complete 14 years of commissioned service; or

B. $6,000 for each year covered by the agreement, if the officer agrees to remain on active duty for 1 or 2 years.

2004 TIME OF PAYMENT

Subject to regulations of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the following applies:

200401. The term of the written agreement and the amount of payment may be prorated so long as an agreement does not extend beyond the date on which the officer would complete 14 years of commissioned service.

200402. Upon the officer's acceptance of the agreement, the total amount payable becomes fixed and may be paid in either a lump sum or in installments.

2005 RECOUPMENT

200501. Recoupment of the unearned portion of the bonus is required on a pro rata basis if the officer receiving the payment fails to complete the total period of active duty specified in the agreement, as conditions and circumstances warrant.

200502. The amount established for recoupment is for all purposes a debt owed to the United States.

200503. A discharge in bankruptcy under Title 11, United States Code (reference (aj)), that is entered less than 5 years after the termination of an agreement under this section does not discharge the member signing such agreement from a debt arising under such agreement or under section 2001, above. This paragraph applies to any case commenced under Title 11, United States Code (reference (aj)), after January 1, 1989.

200504. However, reduce the amount to be recouped, however, by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D of this volume

2006 RESTRICTION

After December 31, 1988, agreements for special pay under this chapter supersede the acceptance of agreements for special continuation pay for aviation career officers under Chapter 15 of this volume.

2007 COVERAGE OF PERIOD OF LAPSED AUTHORITY

During the 90-day period November 30, 1993, through February 27, 1994, officers who met eligibility requirements of this chapter any time during the period October 1, 1993, through November 29, 1993 may execute agreements. During the 90-day period February 10, 1996, through May 9, 1996, officers who met eligibility requirements of this chapter any time during the period October 1, 1995 through February 9, 1996, may execute agreements. Such agreements may be accepted and deemed to have been executed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned on the first date on which the officer qualified during the period of lapsed authority, October 1, 1993, through November 29, 1993.

SPECIAL PAYS FOR NURSE CORPS OFFICERS2101 REGISTERED NURSE ACCESSION BONUS

★210101. Entitlement. A nurse who qualifies for appointment as a Nurse Corps officer in one of the Military Departments, and who during the period beginning 29 November 1989 and ending on 30 September 1998, executes a written agreement to accept a commission and serves on active duty as a Nurse Corps officer for a period of not less than four years may, upon acceptance of the agreement by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, be paid a lump sum accession bonus up to a maximum of $5,000.

210102. Special Provisions

A. An individual who received financial assistance from the Department of Defense to pursue a baccalaureate degree is not eligible for the accession bonus.

B. An individual who holds an appointment as a Nurse Corps officer is not eligible.

C. An individual with prior active duty service as a Nurse Corps officer must have been discharged from active duty at least twelve months prior to execution of the written agreement for this accession bonus.

D. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned shall determine the amount of the accession bonus up to the maximum of $5,000.

210103. Recoupment

A. An officer who receives an accession bonus and subsequently fails to become licensed as a registered nurse within eighteen months after receipt of the bonus, and/or remains licensed as a professional registered nurse in any state in the United States during the period for which the bonus was paid, shall refund the entire amount of bonus.

B. A Nurse Corps officer who dies or is separated from active duty while serving the required period of active duty incurred for an accession bonus is entitled to the proportionate part of the period of active duty served under the agreement. Payment exceeding that proportionate entitlement shall be recouped, except in the following circumstances:

1. Death or disability that is not the result of misconduct or willful neglect and not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence;

2. Separation from military service by operation of laws or regulations of the Department of Defense or Military Service, when approved by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

3. In other cases, when the Assistant Secretary of the Defense for Health Affairs (ASD(HA)) determines recoupment is not in the best interest of the government.

C. A discharge in bankruptcy under Title 11, United States Code, shall not release a person from an obligation to reimburse the United States required under the terms of a written agreement entered into for this accession bonus, if the final decree of the discharge in bankruptcy was issued within a period of 5 years after the termination of the agreement. This paragraph applies to any case commenced under Title 11 (reference (aj)) after 1 October 1989.

D. An obligation to reimburse the United States imposed for the reasons stated above is for all purposes a debt owed to the United States.

E. However, reduce the amount to be recouped by an amount equal to any reduction taken under subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D.

210104. Coverage of Period of Lapsed Authority. During the 90-day period 30 November 1993 through 27 February 1994, officers who met eligibility requirements of this section any time during the period 1 October 1993 through 29 November 1993, may execute agreements. Such agreements may be accepted and deemed to have been executed by the Secretary concerned on the first date on which the officer qualified during the period of lapsed authority.

2102 INCENTIVE SPECIAL PAY FOR CERTIFIED REGISTERED NURSE ANESTHETISTS (CRNA)

210201. Entitlement

★A. Active Duty Not Less Than One Year. For the period 5 October 1994 through 30 September 1998, a Nurse Corps officer on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of not less than one year, who is qualified and performing as a CRNA may be paid incentive special pay in an amount not to exceed $15,000 for each year of a properly executed written agreement to serve on active duty.

B. The ISP rate per year for any contract for which the CRNA is not obligated for training as a CRNA at the beginning of the contract year is $15,000.

C. The rate per year during any period for which the CRNA is obligated for training as a CRNA is $6,000.

D. Active Duty Less Than One Year in Support of Persian Gulf Conflict. Any qualified certified registered nurse anesthetist officer who served on active duty in support of the Persian Gulf Conflict may be entitled to special pay benefits for nurse anesthetists. See Chapter 64, Health Care Officers on Active Duty in Support of the Persian Gulf Conflict, to determine eligibility and entitlement.

E. Effective 5 December 1991, the following categories of CRNA Nurse Corps officers on active duty less than one year, other than active duty for training, are eligible to receive special pay provided under this section in the same manner as a regular CRNA Nurse Corps officer.

1. Reservists called to active duty for more than 30 days but less than one year, other than active duty for training.

2. Active duty CRNA Nurse Corps officers involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)).

3. CRNA Nurse Corps officers who voluntarily agree to remain on active duty for less than one year when officers are involuntarily retained under 10 U.S.C. 12305 (reference (c)), or the Secretary of Defense determines that special circumstances justify the payment of special pay under this subparagraph.

4. Any retired CRNA Nurse Corps officer recalled to active duty for more than 30 days under 10 U.S.C. 688 (reference (c)).

210202. Special Provisions

A. The officer first must execute a written agreement under which he or she agrees to remain on active duty for a period of not less than 1 year. The effective date of the agreement shall be prescribed in Military Department regulations issued by the Secretary concerned and shall be included in the agreement. Subject to mutual acceptance, an officer may execute a 2 year agreement in Fiscal Year 1990. Under such agreement, payments shall be made at the beginning of the agreement and on the one year anniversary date.

B. Selection procedures for CRNAs to be awarded incentive special pay shall be made under guidance formulated by the Secretaries of the Military Departments, or their designees.

C. The ASD(HA) has determined that as a minimum the selection criteria shall stipulate: Approval authority for payment of incentive special pay to individual eligible officers rests with Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or designee. This authority shall not be delegated to an officer below the grade O-7.

D. Incentive special pay (ISP) is payable in lump sum annual installments upon execution of the written Military Service agreement. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or designee, may terminate at any time an officer's entitlement to ISP. If terminated, unearned ISP shall be recouped on a pro rata basis subject to the provisions described below. The authority to terminate an ISP agreement shall not be delegated to an officer below the grade of O-7.

E. CRNA Nurse Corps officers eligible under subparagraph 210201.C, above, are entitled to a monthly pro rata portion of the annual amount authorized for a regular CRNA Nurse Corps officer. Also prorate on a daily basis for any month in which service is less than the full month.

210203. Recoupment. The provisions of subparagraph 210103.B, C, and D, above, apply to a CRNA who executes an incentive special pay agreement.

210204. Refund. CRNA Nurse Corps officers paid under subparagraph 210202.E, above, who do not serve the full term of active duty that corresponds to a monthly amount must refund any amount received in excess of the amount that corresponds to the actual period of active duty.

210205. Coverage of Period of Lapsed Authority. During the 90-day period 30 November 1993 through 27 February 1994, officers who met eligibility requirements of this section any time during the period 1 October 1993 through 29 November 1993, may execute agreements. Such agreements may be accepted and deemed to have been executed by the Secretary concerned on the first date on which the officer qualified during the period of lapsed authority.

CHAPTER 22

AERIAL FLIGHTS

2201 HAZARDOUS DUTY INCENTIVE PAY (HDIP) FOR FLYING DUTY

220101. Entitlement. Members under competent orders to participate in regular and frequent aerial flights as crew or non-crew members, who otherwise meet the requirements of this chapter, are entitled to flying pay for such duty. Officers, including aviation cadets, entitled to aviation career incentive pay under section 2202, below, of this chapter are not entitled to payments under this section.

B. Definitions

1. Aerial Flights. Aerial flights mean flights in military aircraft or spacecraft, and also flights in nonmilitary aircraft when required by competent orders to fly such aircraft. A flight begins when the aircraft or spacecraft takes off from rest at any point of support located on the surface of the earth and terminates when it next comes to a complete stop at a point of support located on the surface of the earth.

2. Aviation Accident. Aviation accident means an accident in which a member who is required to participate frequently and regularly in aerial flights is injured or otherwise incapacitated as the result, as attested by the appropriate medical authority of the Uniformed Service concerned, of:

(a) Jumping from, being thrown from, or being struck by, an aircraft or spacecraft, or any part or auxiliary thereof, or

(b) Participation in any duty authorized aerial flight or other aircraft or spacecraft operations. Such term also means an incapacity incurred as the result, as certified by appropriate medical authority, of performance of flying duty, even though such incapacity is not the result of an actual aviation accident.

A. Minimum Flying Time Each Month

1. During 1 calendar month--4 hours of aerial flight. However, if a member does not fly 4 hours in any month, hours flown during the last 5 preceding months which have not already been used to qualify for flight pay, may be applied to meet this 4-hour requirement.

2. During 2 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph A.1, above, have not been met--8 hours of aerial flight.

3. During 3 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph A.2, above, have not been met--12 hours of aerial flight.

B. Fractions of a Calendar Month. For fractions of a calendar month, figure what percentage the period in question is of the calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month. (See Table 22-2.)

C. Fractions of 2 Consecutive Calendar Months. For fractions of 2 consecutive calendar months, consider the period in question as a unit. Figure what percentage the period in question is of the calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month. (See Table 22-2.)

D. Application of Hours Flown. Hours flown in any month apply to the extent of hours available:

1. First, to meet flight requirements for that month.

2. Next, if the member has entered a grace period for meeting flight requirements, to the prior month or months, as applicable.

3. Next, in order, to the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth succeeding months, but only to the extent that the member fails, during each such month, to fly the required 4 hours. (Such hours available to meet requirements of later months are referred to as "excess" flight time.) See examples in Tables 22-4 and 22-5.

E. Military Operations or Unavailability of Aircraft. When, under authority conferred by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the commanding officer certifies a member is unable to meet normal flight requirements because military operations (combat or otherwise) or unavailability of aircraft prevents the completion of such requirements, the member may comply with the minimum flight requirements by performing 24 hours of aerial flight over a period of 6 consecutive calendar months. The commanding officer must certify that only conditions under this subparagraph prevent completion of normal flight requirements. The 24-hour flight requirement may be met at any time during the 6-calendar-month period and in any combination of flights.

1. If the member is in a 3-calendar-month grace period when military operations or unavailability of aircraft prevents fulfillment of flight requirements, then the 6 calendar month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph begins on the first day of the grace period.

2. If the member is not in a 3-calendar-month grace period, then the first month in which military operations or unavailability of aircraft prevents fulfillment of flight requirements is the beginning of the 6-calendar-month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph.

3. During the 6-calendar-month period, hazardous duty incentive pay for flying may be paid for any single month or for multiple months when minimum requirements have been met.

4. At the end of the 6-calendar-month period, hazardous duty incentive pay for flying may be paid for missed months in the period to the extent the remaining hours flown are applicable. Excess hours are applied prospectively under subparagraph D, above, if member continues to fly under the same orders.

220104. Determination of a 3-Calendar-Month Period

A. When 3-Month Period Starts and Ends. The 3-calendar-month period in which flight requirements must be met begins with the first month in which flight requirements are not met. If the member flies enough time in the second month to cover the first and second months, then the period ends with the second month. If not, the period extends through the third month.

B. Deficiencies for Fraction of a Month. If a member fails to qualify for a fraction of a month (because flying status or active duty began on an intermediate day of the month), then the 3-month period ends on the last day of the second full month following the fractional month.

C. When Next 3-Month Period Starts. A new 3-month period starts with the first month in which flight requirements are not met following a month in which flight requirements were met. For a new 3-month period to begin immediately after a prior 3-month period, flight requirements must have been met for the entire prior 3-month period, not merely for the last month. If the requirements for the entire prior 3-month period were not met, a new period does not begin until flight requirements are met for at least 1 month after the prior 3-month period. After such a month when flight requirements are met, a month in which flight requirements are not met begins a new 3-month period. A new period may not start with the second or third month in which flight requirements are not met; nor may a new period start with the fourth month in which flight requirements are not met. There must be at least 1 month in which requirements are met before a new 3-month period begins. Tables 22-4 and 22-5 show how the above rules apply.

220105. Entitlement to Pay When No Flights Performed in First Month of 3-Month Period. Assume for the purposes of subparagraphs A, B, and C, below, that the member had no excess flight time from prior months.

A. Second Month. If a member performs no aerial flights during the first month of a 3-month period and in the second month performs at least 4 hours but less than 8 hours, member is entitled to pay for the second month only. For example: in January, no aerial flights are performed; in February, 5 hours of aerial flights are performed. Flying pay is payable for February.

B. Third Month. If a member performs no aerial flights during the first 2 months of a 3-month period, member must perform 12 hours of aerial flight in the third month to be entitled to incentive pay for all 3 consecutive months. For example: if flight requirements are met for January and a member performs no flights during the months of February and March, member must perform at least 12 hours in April to be entitled to receive the incentive pay for the period 1 February to 30 April. If the member performs 4 or more hours, but less than 12 hours in April, the member is entitled to incentive pay for April only.

C. First and Third Months. If a member performs no aerial flights during the first month and in the second month performs only sufficient flights to qualify for the second month, then the member must perform enough hours of flights to make a total of 12 hours during the third month to qualify for the incentive pay for the first and third month of the 3-month period. For example: In January, no aerial flights are performed; in February, 5 hours of aerial flights are performed. The deficiency in January must be made up in March; that is, if at least 7 hours are accomplished in March, flying for January and March is payable. If only 6 hours are flown in March, then flying pay is payable for March only (payment for February having previously been made) and incentive pay for January is lost.

220106. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Hazardous Duty

A. Flight Requirements. When a member in a flying status is injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of performance of flying or other hazardous duty to which ordered, member is considered to have met flight requirements during the incapacity, but for not longer than 3 months. Appropriate medical authority determines the cause of the incapacity and the date of recovery. If the member has met flight requirements for the month in which the incapacity occurs, then the 3-month period begins the first day of the following month. If member has not met flight requirements for the month in which the incapacity occurs, the 3 month period begins the first day of the month in which the incapacity occurs.

B. Change of Station for Medical Treatment. When a member in receipt of flying pay under the terms of subparagraph A, above, is ordered to a medical facility on permanent change of station, temporary duty, or temporary additional duty orders, member is entitled to flying pay for the period of incapacity, but not longer than 3 months, notwithstanding the change of station, provided member's continued flying status is not terminated.

C. Incapacity Due to Shock, Derangement, or Exhaustion. A member who becomes incapacitated for flying duty by reason of shock, derangement, or exhaustion of the nervous system, which can be attributed to an aviation accident or the performance of aerial flights, is deemed to have met the flight requirements for not more than 3 months following the date of the incapacity, as determined by appropriate medical authority. The 3-month period is determined under the provisions of subparagraph A, above. See also subparagraph 220102.B, above.

D. Hazardous Duty for Stated Period. If a member has been placed on flying status for a definite period and entitled to flying pay while incapacitated as a result of performance of flying duty, then flying pay is not normally payable beyond the ending date of duty period stated in the orders. However, when evidence is furnished that the member would have continued in flying status had it not been for the incapacity, flying pay may be paid beyond the ending date of the duty.

220109. Determinations Affecting Entitlement to Flying Pay

A. Flying Pay From Date of Reporting for Duty. A member is entitled to flying pay on and after the date that he or she reports for and enters upon duty under competent orders, subject to meeting flight requirements. A member in a non-duty status (such as on leave or sick) at the time that flying status orders are issued is not entitled to flying pay for any period before he or she reports for and enters on duty under such orders.

B. Excess Flight Time. When authorized under paragraph 220103, above, flight time in excess of the time required or insufficient to qualify for a particular month, may be applied against a later month in which minimum requirements are not met provided that the orders under which flying time was logged remain in effect.

C. Change of Designation, Non-crew Member to Crew Member or Vice Versa. A member whose status changes from non-crew member to crew member, or vice versa, within a month/unit period may not combine time flown in both categories for pay purposes. The member is entitled to flying pay as a non-crew member for the period of time member held that status if member met the pro rata requirements as a non-crew member. The member is entitled to flying pay as a crew member for the period of time member held that status if member met the pro rata requirements as a crew member.

D. Change From One Crew Member Status to Another Crew Member Status. Flights as one type of crew member may be combined with flights as another type of crew member if the member remains on continuous active duty and continuous flying status. Total requirements may be met in either crew member status or a portion may be met in each status.

Example: Aviation cadet who is given a rating as navigator and issued new flying status orders immediately following termination of former orders.

E. Missing, Missing-in-Action, etc. A member is entitled to flying pay when carried in a missing status as defined in the definitions and for the period of required hospitalization and rehabilitation, not to exceed 1 year, after termination of member's missing status. (See paragraph 220115, below.) Members continued in a flying status are entitled to flying pay after termination of the period authorized under paragraph 220115 only if they meet flight requirements in subparagraph 220103.A, above. A new 3-month grace period does not start when the period authorized under paragraph 220115 ends; it starts with the month of deficiency, even though the member was in a missing status at that time. Hence, if the missing status goes beyond the 3-month grace period, the member must meet flight requirements for one month to become entitled to flight pay after the period authorized under paragraph 220115 ends. If the member does not meet flight requirements after the period authorized under paragraph 220115, then the member is entitled to pro rata flying pay through the date of such authorized period.

F. Death

1. Death Due to Aviation Accident. If death occurs on the date of the aviation accident, then flying pay accrues to include the date of death. However, if death occurs after the 3-month period has expired, flying pay is not authorized for any day after the expiration of such period. Flying pay for the month or period before the month in which the accident occurred is not authorized unless flight requirements were met for that period.

2. Death Due to Other Causes. If death occurs from causes other than an aviation accident, then flying pay is payable to and including the date of death if the member has met pro rata flight requirements for the month of death and was on flying status.

220110. Suspensions From Flying Status, Effect on Flying Pay

A. Flying Pay for Period of Suspension. Except under subparagraphs B and C, below, members are not entitled to flying pay for a period while suspended from flying status. Members are considered suspended on the effective date of suspension. Members are considered in a flying status on the day the suspension is removed or terminated. Payment for a period of suspension cannot be made in any case until the suspension has been removed or terminated.

B. Suspension for Other Than Physical Incapacity for Members Required to Perform Minimum Flight Requirements. Such members are entitled to flying pay for a period of suspension from flying status, provided the suspension is removed or terminated and they meet flight requirements as prescribed in paragraph 220103, above. If such members have excess flights performed before suspension, then the grace period in paragraph 220103 begins on the first month of the period of suspension not covered by excess flights.

Example: Members suspended from flying status on February 1. They had 16 hours excess flying time as of January 31. Flying pay is stopped on January 31. Suspension subsequently is removed (or terminated) June 30. They flew 12 hours in the month of July. After removal of suspension, pay flying pay for February 1 through May on basis of the 16 excess hours accumulated in the 5 months before February 1. The grace period authorized by paragraph 220103 started on June 1. The hours flown in July qualified members for flying pay for June and July.

C. Suspension for Physical Incapacity of Members Subject to Minimum Flight Requirements. Members are entitled to flying pay during a period of grounding due to physical incapacity if flight requirements of paragraph 220103, above, are met. They are also entitled during a period of suspension, if the suspension is removed or terminated and flight requirements are actually met. (There are no flight requirements during the first 3 months of a period of incapacity incurred as the result of performance of an assigned hazardous duty. See paragraph 220106, above.)

D. Suspension Removed or Terminated. If a suspension is removed or terminated after the member can no longer qualify for flying pay under subparagraphs B or C, above, then there is loss of pay for any period that is not covered by paragraph 220103, above. Flying pay accrues after the suspension is removed or terminated for members required to meet minimum flight requirements from the date of reporting for flying duty after the suspension is removed or terminated, if flight requirements are met.

220111. Payment of Flying Pay and Incentive Pay for Other Hazardous Duty. Members who qualify for flying pay and incentive pay for one or more other types of hazardous duty may receive the flying pay and incentive pay for only one other hazardous duty for the same period. Dual hazardous duty incentive pay is limited to those members required by orders to perform specific multiple hazardous duty necessary for successful accomplishment of the mission of the unit to which assigned.

A. Conditions of Entitlement. The hazardous duties for which dual incentive pay is made must be an integral part of the member's assigned mission. Accomplishment of the assigned mission must require members to perform specific multiple hazardous duties. Members must meet minimum requirements for each of the hazardous duties except when injury or incapacity as the result of performance of hazardous duty is involved.

B. Types of Duties That Qualify Member for Dual Payment of Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay: (See also subparagraph 240105.B.)

1. Air Force pararescue team members placed on orders to perform duties as both crew members and parachutists.
2. Other combinations of hazardous duties for which dual payments of incentive pay are authorized by the Military Services concerned.

C. Injury or Incapacity as a Result of Performance of Hazardous Duty or Dual Hazardous Duties. If members required to perform more than one hazardous duty are injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of any of the duties, they then are entitled to dual incentive pay during the incapacity, but for no longer than 3 months. If not entitled to dual incentive pay at the time of the incapacity, they then are entitled to the type of incentive pay they were receiving at the time of the incapacity. The beginning date of the 3-month period must be determined separately for each type of incentive pay. Use paragraph 220106, above, or Table 24 -1, as applicable, to determine the 3-month period separately for each incentive pay.

220112. Restriction on Payment of Flying Pay and Diving Duty Pay. See paragraph 110501.

220113. Restriction on Payment of Flying Pay and Aviation Officer Continuation Pay (AOCP). See section 1506.

220114. Authority To Issue Orders. Authority to issue orders requiring performances of flying duty, granting waivers of performance requirements, and/or extending unit periods during which requirements may be met, as appropriate, is delegated by the Secretaries of the Military Departments to specific commanders within each Military Service. Such delegations are contained in personnel administrative regulations of the Military Services.

220115. Missing Status, Member's Entitlement. A member receiving flying pay when entering a missing status is entitled to flying pay during the period of absence and for the period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of missing status. The member's entitlement to flying pay upon termination of the required period of hospitalization and rehabilitation or the 1 year period after date of return from missing status, whichever is earlier, will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility under paragraph 220101, above, and the applicable flight requirement provisions of this chapter.

220116. HDIP for Duty as Air Weapons Controller Crew Members for Officers, Warrant Officers, and Enlisted Members. Effective February 10, 1996, a member under competent orders to participate in frequent and regular aerial flight as an air weapons controller crew member aboard airborne warning and control system aircraft (AWACS), is entitled to HDIP at a monthly rate in Table 22-8 when requirements of this section are met.

A. An officer entitled to ACIP under section 2202 of this chapter is not entitled to HDIP under this paragraph.

B. A member entitled to HDIP for AWACS duty is not entitled to HDIP for flying.

C. An officer entitled to aviation officer continuation pay is not entitled to HDIP under this paragraph.

2202 AVIATION CAREER INCENTIVE PAY (ACIP) FOR RATED OR DESIGNATED OFFICERS, AVIATION CADETS AND WARRANT OFFICERS220201. Entitlement

★A. Aviation career incentive pay (ACIP) shall be restricted to regular and reserve officers who hold, or are in training leading to an aeronautical rating or designation and who engage and remain in aviation service on a career basis. Entitlement to ACIP may be on a continuous or conditional (month to month) basis. Officers above pay grade O-6 with over 25 years of aviation service are not authorized ACIP, either continuous or conditional.

1. Continuous ACIP. Qualification for entitlement to continuous ACIP is earned by completing a prescribed minimum number of operational flying years before reaching a specific control or gate year of aviation service. The detailed requirements are described below. Entitlement to continuous ACIP ceases for an officer (other than a warrant officer) upon completion of 25 years of aviation service. Flight surgeons and other medical officers are not entitled to continuous ACIP.

a. An officer qualified for aviation service (except a flight surgeon or medical officer) is entitled to continuous ACIP starting when the officer enters flight training leading to the original rating or when appointed an officer, whichever is later, and continues until the officer completes 12 years of aviation service.

b. An officer qualified for aviation service (except a flight surgeon or other medical officer) who has performed at least 8 years of operational flying duty upon completion of 12 years of aviation service is entitled to continuous ACIP for the first 18 years of aviation service.

c. An officer qualified for aviation service (except a flight surgeon or other medical officer) who has performed at least 10, but less than 12 years, of operational flying duty upon completion of 18 years of aviation service is entitled to continuous ACIP for the first 22 years of aviation service.

d. An officer qualified for aviation service (except a flight surgeon or other medical officer) who has performed at least 12 years of operational flying duty upon completion of 18 years of aviation service is entitled to continuous ACIP for the first 25 years of aviation service.

e. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may permit, on a case by case basis, an officer to continue to receive continuous monthly incentive pay despite the failure of the officer to perform the prescribed operational flying duty requirements during the prescribed periods of time, so long as the officer has performed those requirements for not less than 6 years of aviation service. The Secretary concerned may not delegate this approval authority.

2. Conditional ACIP. Qualification for entitlement to conditional ACIP is earned by completing a prescribed minimum number of operational and/or proficiency flying hours per month. The detailed flying hour requirements are described in paragraph 220203. Flight surgeons and other medical officers who have an aeronautical rating or designation and are qualified for aviation service, as well as other aviation officers who do not qualify for continuous ACIP because of missed gate year requirements or aviation duty in excess of 25 years, may qualify for entitlement to conditional ACIP.

B. A rated or designated officer qualified for aviation service, but not receiving continuous or conditional ACIP, may be required by competent orders to perform hazardous duty for flying as a crew member or non-crew member. When the minimum flight requirements are met under the provisions of section 2201, the officer is entitled to HDIP for flying. A member entitled to ACIP is not entitled to HDIP when flying as crew member or non-crew member.

C. The provisions of this paragraph apply to Reserve Component officers as long as the requirements are met for an aviation service career (not on extended active duty) defined in the definitions.

220202. Rates and Definitions

★A. Rates. The rates for continuous and conditional ACIP are the same and are listed in table 22-6.

1. Warrant officers qualified for either continuous or conditional ACIP will continue to receive the rate prescribed for officers with over 14 years of aviation service, without reduction, when aviation service exceeds 22 years.

2. An officer in pay grade O-7 may not be paid ACIP at a rate greater than $200 per month. An officer in pay grade O-8 or above may not be paid ACIP at a rate greater than $206 per month. An officer above pay grade O-6 with over 25 years of aviation service may not be paid ACIP, either continuous or conditional.

3. In time of war, the President may suspend the payment of aviation career incentive pay.

B. Definitions

1. The terms "aerial flights and aviation accident" are defined in section 2201, subparagraph 220102.B, above.

★2. Aviation service. Aviation service means service performed by an officer (except a flight surgeon or other medical officer) while holding an aeronautical rating or designation or while in training to receive an aeronautical rating or designation. For the purposes of table 22-6, aviation service as an officer begins on the day, month, and year the officer first reports under competent flight orders to the aviation facility having aircraft in which the officer receives flight training leading to the award of an aeronautical rating or designation, and continues to accumulate from that date without exceptions as long as the flight rating remains in effect.

3. Operational Flying. Operational flying is flying performed by officers in training that leads to the award of an aeronautical rating or designation, and flying performed under competent orders by rated or designated officers while serving in assignments in which basic flying skills (as determined by the Secretary concerned) normally are maintained in the performance of assigned duties.

★4. Proficiency flying. Proficiency flying is flying performed under competent orders by rated or designated members while serving in assignments in which such skills would normally not be maintained in the performance of assigned duties.

5. Aviation Cadet. Aviation cadet is a term which applies to a member enlisted and designated as an aviation cadet under 10 U.S.C. 6911 (reference (c)). Service as an aviation cadet on or after November 14, 1986 counts for entitlement to ACIP. Where aviation cadet is not specified in section 2202, the term "officer" includes member so designated.

220203. Flight Requirements for Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. An officer covered by subparagraph 220201.A, above, must meet the minimum flight requirements of this subparagraph to be entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP.

A. Minimum Flying Time Each Month

1. During 1 calendar month--4 hours of aerial flight. However, if an officer does not fly 4 hours in any month, hours flown during the last 5 preceding months which have not already been used to qualify for ACIP may be applied to meet this 4-hour requirement.

2. During 2 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph A.1, above, have not been met-- 8 hours of aerial flight.

3. During 3 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph A.2, above, have not been met-- 12 hours of aerial flight.

B. Fractions of a Calendar Month. For fractions of a calendar month, figure what percentage the period in question is of the calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month. (See Table 22-2.)

C. Fractions of 2 Consecutive Calendar Months. For fractions of 2 consecutive calendar months, consider the period in question as a unit. Figure what percentage the period in question is of a calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month. (See Table 22-2.)

D. Application of Hours Flown. Hours flown in any month apply to the extent of hours available:

1. First, to meet flight requirements for that month.
2. Next, if the officer has entered a grace period for meeting flight requirements, to the prior month or months as explained in paragraph 220205, below.
3. Next, in order, to the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth succeeding months, but only to the extent that the officer fails, during each such month, to fly the required 4 hours. (Such hours available to meet requirements of later months are referred to as "excess" flight time.) (See examples in Tables 22-4 and 22-5.)

E. Military Operations or Unavailability of Aircraft. When an officer is unable to meet normal flight requirements because military operations (combat or otherwise) or unavailability of aircraft prevents the completion of such requirements, the officer may comply with the minimum flight requirements by performing 24 hours of aerial flight over a period of 6 consecutive calendar months. The commanding officer must certify that only conditions under this subparagraph prevent completion of normal flight requirements. The 24-hour flight requirement may be met at any time during the 6 calendar-month period and in any combination of flights.

1. If the officer is in a 3-calendar-month grace period when military operations or unavailability of aircraft prevents fulfillment of flight requirements, then the 6 calendar-month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph begins on the first day of the grace period.

2. If the officer is not in a 3-calendar-month grace period, then the first month in which military operations or unavailability of aircraft prevents fulfillment of flight requirements is the beginning of the 6-calendar-month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph.

3. During the 6-calendar-month period, monthly (conditional) ACIP may be paid for any single month or for multiple months when minimum requirements have been met.

4. At the end of the 6-calendar-month period, monthly (conditional) ACIP may be paid for missed months in the period to the extent the remaining hours flown are applicable. Excess hours are applied prospectively under subparagraph D, above, if officer continues to fly under the same orders.

F. Flight Requirements for Reserve Component Personnel (Not on Extended Active Duty). Minimum monthly flight requirements are contained in chapters 57 and 58.

220204. Determination of a 3-Calendar-Month Period for Entitlement to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP

A. First Month. The first month in which an officer fails to meet flight requirements marks the beginning of the initial 3-calendar-month grace period allowed for meeting flight requirements. Succeeding grace periods begin according to subparagraph D, below.

B. Second and Third Month. If the officer flies enough hours in the second month to cover the first and second months, then the grace period ends with the second month. If not, grace period extends through the third month.

C. Deficiencies for Fraction of a Month. If the officer fails to qualify for a fraction of a month because flying status or active duty began on an intermediate day of the month, then the 3-calendar-month period ends on the last day of the second full month following the fractional month.

D. When Next 3-Calendar-Month Period Starts. A new 3-calendar-month period starts on the first day of the month in which flight requirements are not met (month of failure). The foregoing is subject to the following limitations (See Tables 22-4 and 22-5 for examples.):

1. If a month of failure immediately follows a 3-calendar-month period in which all flight requirements were met (not merely for the last month), then a new 3-calendar-month period starts with the month of failure.

2. However, if a month of failure immediately follows a 3-calendar-month period in which all flight requirements were not met, then a month of failure does not start a new 3-calendar-month period. The officer must meet flight requirements for at least 1 month after which a new 3-calendar-month period may start.

3. After any month in which flight requirements are met following a 3-calendar-month period, a new 3-calendar-month period starts with the next month of failure whether or not requirements were met for the most recent 3-calendar-month period.

220205. Entitlement to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP When No Flights Performed in First Month of 3-Calendar-Month Period. Assume for the purpose of subparagraphs A, B, and C, below, that the officer had no excess flight time from prior months.

A. Second Month. If an officer does not fly during the first month of a 3-calendar-month period and in the second month flies at least 4 hours but less than 8 hours, the officer is entitled to conditional ACIP for the second month only. For example: If 0 hours are flown in January and 7 hours flown in February, then conditional ACIP is due for February.

B. Third Month. If an officer does not fly during the first 2 months of a 3-calendar-month period, then the officer must fly at least 12 hours in the third month to be entitled to conditional ACIP for more than the third month. For example: 0 hours flown in January; 0 hours flown in February; 12 hours flown in March. Conditional ACIP is due for January, February, and March. Otherwise: 0 hours flown in January; 0 hours flown in February; 10 hours flown in March. Conditional ACIP is due for March only. Excess hours flown in March are carried forward.

C. First and Third Months. If an officer does not fly during the first month and in the second month flies only enough hours to qualify for the second month, the officer must fly enough hours in the third month to total 12 hours to qualify for conditional ACIP for the first and third months of the 3-calendar-month period. For example: 0 hours are flown in January, 5 hours are flown in February, and 7 hours are flown in March, then, conditional ACIP is due for January, February, and March. Otherwise, if 0 hours are flown in January, 5 hours are flown in February, and 6 hours are flown in March, then conditional ACIP is due only for February and March. Excess hours from February and March are carried forward.

220206. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Flying Duty. An officer who is medically incapacitated will be considered qualified for aviation service until disqualified for aviation service. Effective December 15, 1994, disqualification for medical incapacity will be effected on the first day following a period of 365 days that commences on the date of incapacitation, or on the date a competent medical authority determines the medical incapacitation to be permanent, whichever is earlier (referred to as the "incapacitation period"). No entitlement to ACIP exists during a period of disqualification. Entitlement for the period of incapacity before medical disqualification is shown in the subparagraphs that follow.

A. Officer Entitled to Continuous ACIP. When an officer who is entitled to continuous ACIP is injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of flying or as a result of shock, derangement, or exhaustion of the nervous system attributed to an aviation accident or the performance of aerial flight, entitlement continues past the date of incapacitation and through the day before the date of disqualification for aviation service.

B. Officer Entitled to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. Although a medically incapacitated officer who is entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP remains qualified for aviation service during the incapacitation period described above, entitlement for this period is based on the following:

1. Flight Requirements. When an officer in this category is injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of the performance of flying duty to which ordered, the officer is considered to have met flight requirements during the incapacity, but for not longer than 3 months. Appropriate medical authority determines the date and cause of incapacity, and the date of recovery. If the officer has met flight requirements for the month in which the incapacity occurs, then the 3-month period begins the first day of the following month. If the officer has not met flight requirements for the month in which the incapacity occurs, then the 3-month period begins on the first day of the month in which the incapacity occurs. The officer must have logged enough hours to meet minimum flight requirements for the remaining months of the period before disqualification. An officer may not use hours flown after a period of disqualification to meet minimum flight requirements for a period before disqualification.

2. Change of Station for Medical Treatment. When an officer receiving monthly (conditional) ACIP under subparagraph B.1, above, is ordered to a medical facility upon permanent change of station, temporary duty, or temporary additional duty orders, the entitlement to pay continues for the period of incapacity, but not longer than 3 months. (This is true in the case of a change of station provided the officer's orders to fly are not terminated.)

3. Incapacity Due to Shock, Derangement, or Exhaustion. An officer entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP who becomes incapacitated for flying duty by reason of shock, derangement, or exhaustion of the nervous system which can be attributed to an aviation accident or the performance of aerial flights, is considered to have met the flight requirements for not more than 3 months following the date of the incapacity, as determined by appropriate medical authority. The 3-month period is determined according to subparagraph B.1, above.

4. Flying Duty for Stated Period. When an officer ordered to flying duty for a definite period is entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP while incapacitated as a result of performing flying duty, the entitlement does not normally extend beyond the ending date of the duty period stated in orders. However, when evidence is furnished that the officer would have continued under orders to fly had it not been for the incapacity, monthly (conditional) ACIP may be paid beyond the ending date of the duty but no longer than 3 months after the incapacity.

220207. Incapacity Not the Result of Performance of Flying Duty. An officer who is medically incapacitated will be considered qualified for aviation service until disqualified for aviation service. Disqualification for medical incapacity will be effected on the first day following a period of 365 days that commences on the date of incapacitation, or on the date a competent medical authority determines the medical incapacitation to be permanent, whichever is earlier. No entitlement to ACIP exists during a period of disqualification. Entitlement for the period of incapacitation before disqualification is shown in subparagraphs that follow:

A. Officer Entitled to Continuous ACIP. When an officer who is entitled to continuous ACIP is incapacitated not as the result of performing flying duty, entitlement continues past the date of incapacitation and through the day before the date of disqualification for aviation service.

B. Officer Entitled to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. When an officer who is entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP is incapacitated not as the result of performing flying duty, continuation of entitlement for the period before disqualification is dependent on the officer meeting the minimum flight requirements under paragraph 220203, above. The Officer is not entitled to 3-month grace period under subparagraph 220206.B.1, above.

220208. Right to ACIP Under Certain Conditions. See Table 22-3.

220209. Determinations Affecting Entitlement to ACIP

A. From Date of Reporting for Duty (Not Applicable to Continuous ACIP).

An officer who is entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP is entitled to such pay on and after the date the officer reports for and enters upon duty under competent orders, subject to minimum flight requirements and the following qualification: An officer in a non-duty status (such as on leave or sick) at the beginning date for a period of flying under competent orders is not entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP for any period before the officer reports for and enters on duty under such orders.

B. Excess Flight Time (Not Applicable to Continuous ACIP).

When authorized under paragraph 220203, above, flight time in excess of the time required or insufficient to qualify a particular month for pay, may be applied against a later month in which minimum requirements are not met, provided that the aeronautical orders under which the flying time was logged remain in effect (that is, continuous flying status exists for member concerned).

C. Death Due to Aviation Accident

1. If death occurs on the date of an aviation accident, then ACIP (either continuous or conditional) is payable for the month of death through the date of death. Note also the following subparagraph C.2.

2. Entitlement to continuous ACIP for the period before the month in which an aviation accident occurs is continuous. However, entitlement to monthly (conditional) ACIP for the period before the month in which an aviation accident occurs is subject to minimum flight requirements. Therefore, a situation may exist in which monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable according to subparagraph C.1, C.3, or C.5 of this paragraph, but not for the period immediately before the officer's aviation accident.

3. If death occurs within the 3-month grace period under paragraph 220206, above, then ACIP (either continuous or conditional) is payable from the month of medical incapacitation through the date of death.

4. If death occurs after the expiration of the 3-month grace period under paragraph 220206, above, and before the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, then continuous ACIP is payable through the date of death.

5. If death occurs after the expiration of the 3-month grace period under paragraph 220206, above, and before the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, then monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable through the 3-month period; it is payable after the 3-month period through the date of death to the extent excess flying hours are available for application.

6. If death occurs on or after the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, above, then continuous ACIP is payable through the incapacitation period.

7. If death occurs on or after the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, above, then monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable after the 3-month period through the incapacitation period to the extent excess flying hours are available for application.

D. Death Due to Other Causes

1. If death occurs from causes other than an aviation accident and the date of death is also the date of medical incapacitation, then continuous ACIP is payable through the date of death. Monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable through the date of death, subject to minimum flight requirements.

2. If death occurs from causes other than an aviation accident and the date of death is before the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, above, then continuous ACIP is payable through the date of death. Monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable to the extent excess flying hours are available for application.

3. If death occurs from causes other than an aviation accident and the date of death is on or after the first day following the incapacitation period described in paragraph 220206, above, then continuous ACIP is payable through the incapacitation period. Monthly (conditional) ACIP is payable through the incapacitation period to the extent excess flying hours are available for application.

220210. Disqualification for Aviation Service, Suspension of Aviation Service. Periods of disqualification and/or suspension are established by competent orders.

A. Disqualification. An officer may be disqualified for aviation service for medical or professional reasons according to regulations of the Military Service concerned. (In the case of disqualification for medical reasons, the following applies for all Military Services: Disqualification for medical incapacity will be effected on the first day following a period of 365 days that commences on the date of incapacitation, or on the date a competent medical authority determines the medical incapacitation to be permanent, whichever is earlier.) ACIP is not authorized on any basis for any period during which an officer is disqualified for aviation service. After a period of disqualification, entitlement to ACIP resumes as follows:

1. Officer Entitled to Continuous ACIP. Entitlement resumes on the date the officer is again qualified for aviation service. (For example, an officer who requalifies on the 20th is entitled to 11/30 of ACIP for that month.)

2. Officer Entitled to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. Minimum flight requirements must be met beginning with the date that the officer is again qualified for aviation service. (For example, an officer who requalifies on the 16th, and flies 2 or more hours, is entitled to 15/30 of ACIP for that month.) An officer may not use hours flown after a period of disqualification to meet minimum flight requirements for a period before disqualification.

B. Suspension

1. An officer is suspended by competent orders to permit temporary termination of aviation service when the status of future aviation service is uncertain.

2. When the officer is removed from suspended status, the officer either will be disqualified for aviation service or again qualified for aviation service.

C. Entitlement to ACIP for a Period of Suspension Changed to Disqualified. ACIP (continuous or conditional) to which an officer otherwise would be entitled is stopped during a period of suspension starting with the effective date of suspension in competent orders. If the suspended status is resolved so that the officer is disqualified for aviation service, then no entitlement to ACIP exists for the period of disqualification. (The effective date for disqualification must be the same as the effective date for suspension.)

D. Entitlement to ACIP for Period of Suspension Changed to Qualified. ACIP (continuous or conditional) to which an officer otherwise would be entitled is stopped during a period of suspension starting with the effective date of suspension in competent orders. If the suspended status is resolved so that the officer is qualified for aviation service, then entitlement to ACIP is based on subparagraphs D.1 and D.2, below. (The effective date for qualification must be the same as the effective date for suspension.)

1. Officer Entitled to Continuous ACIP. The officer is entitled to continuous ACIP beginning with the date the officer is again qualified for aviation service.

2. Officer Entitled to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. Subject to the minimum flight requirements of paragraphs 220203 and 220204, above, the officer is entitled to monthly (conditional) ACIP beginning with the date that he or she is again qualified for aviation service.

220211. Concurrent Entitlement to ACIP and Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP). Officers who are entitled to ACIP may also be entitled to HDIP under the provisions of chapter 24 if the conditions for entitlement independently have been met. Entitlement to HDIP is limited to no more than two payments for the same period of time officers qualify for more than one payment of that pay. (See paragraph 240105.)

220212. Authority To Issue Orders. Authority to issue orders requiring performance of flying duty, granting waivers of performance requirements, and/or extending unit periods during which requirements may be met, as appropriate, is delegated by the Secretaries of the Military Departments to specific commanders within each Military Service. Such delegations are contained in the personnel administrative regulations of the Military Services.

220213. Missing, Missing-in-Action, Officer's Entitlement

A. General. An officer receiving ACIP at the beginning of a period of missing status is entitled to ACIP during the entire period of absence and also (if applicable) for the period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after missing status ends. (For the purpose of this paragraph, an officer entitled to conditional ACIP is considered to be receiving ACIP when under competent orders to perform flying duty whether or not the officer has met the minimum flight requirements.)

B. Officer Entitled to Continuous ACIP. Entitlement to continuous ACIP upon termination of the period of absence or (if applicable) termination of a period, not to exceed 1 year, this is required for hospitalization and rehabilitation is contingent only upon continued eligibility under paragraph 220201, above.

C. Officer Entitled to Monthly (Conditional) ACIP. Entitlement to monthly (conditional) ACIP upon termination of the entire period of absence or (if applicable) termination of the period, not to exceed 1 year, that is required for hospitalization and rehabilitation is contingent upon continued eligibility under paragraph 220201, above. In addition, the officer must again meet minimum flight requirements subject to the following:

1. The 3-calendar-month grace period for meeting minimum flight requirements does not start when the period authorized under subparagraph A, above, ends. Instead, it starts with the first month of missing status in which the officer does not fly. Therefore, if the officer has met flight requirements for the month in which the missing status begins, the next calendar month is designated as the first month of a 3-calendar-month grace period. If the officer has not met flight requirements for the month in which the missing status begins, then that month is designated as the first month of a 3-calendar-month grace period for meeting minimum flight requirements. (This applies even though under later application of paragraph 220204, above, the month so designated is considered to be a month in which requirements are met based on performance-free entitlement due to missing status.)

2. If the missing status is terminated before the end of the 3-calendar-month period started according to subparagraph C.1, above, then the officer must meet flight requirements for the month(s) not covered by performance-free entitlement. If the officer fails to complete requirements for this entire 3-calendar-month period, then the officer must meet flight requirements for 1 month following such 3-calendar-month period before a new 3-calendar-month period may start.

3. If the missing status is terminated after or at the end of the 3-calendar-month period started according to subparagraph C.1, above, then the officer is considered to have met all flight requirements for the 3-calendar-month period plus any additional months of missing status by performance-free entitlement due to missing status. Therefore, a new 3-calendar-month period starts with the first month in which flight requirements are not met after the period authorized under subparagraph A, above, ends.

D. Excess Flight Time. Excess flight time accumulated by the officer before a missing status may be applied to months following the months covered by performance-free entitlement if the period authorized under subparagraph A, above, is terminated within the 5–calendar-month period permitted by paragraph 220203, above.

NOTES:

- Do not count flights performed while on leave for pay purposes.
- Do not pay flying pay beyond the last day of the calendar month for which requirements are met.
- A member is not considered to be involuntarily removed from flying duty upon separation, confinement, relief for cause, reduction in grade, medical unfitness, absence without leave, or transfer to ground duty at own request.
- Advance notice of removal from flying duty shall be issued by competent authority in writing. Advance notice may be provided verbally if a suitable memorandum for the record is made and is later followed by written notification.

★Table 22-7. Air Weapons Controller Crewmember Incentive Pay Rates (Effective November 18, 1997)

SUBMARINE DUTY PAY2301 INCENTIVE PAY FOR OPERATIONAL SUBMARINE DUTY

230101. Entitlement. Effective 1 January 1981, a member of the Navy who is entitled to basic pay but is not entitled to continuous monthly submarine duty incentive pay under section 2302, below, of this chapter, is entitled to submarine duty incentive pay for the frequent and regular performance of operational submarine duty required by orders (including a submarine of a foreign nation). Effective 1 January 1988, this paragraph includes members of the Naval Service.

230102. Rates

A. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for commissioned officers are in Table 23-3.

B. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for warrant officers are in Table 23-4.

C. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for enlisted members are in Table 23-5.

230103. Definitions

A. The term "operational submarine duty" means duty:

1. While attached under competent orders to a submarine;
2. While serving as an operator or crew member of an operational submersible (including an underseas exploration or research vehicle);
3. While undergoing training preliminary to assignment to a nuclear-powered submarine;
4. While undergoing rehabilitation after assignment to a nuclear-powered submarine; or
5. In the case of a member qualified in submarines, while attached as a member of a submarine operational command staff, whose duties require serving on a submarine during underway operations:

a. During 1 calendar month-48 hours. However, hours served underway in excess of 48 hours as a member of a submarine operational command staff during any of the immediately preceding 5 calendar months and not already used to qualify for incentive pay, may be applied to satisfy the 48-hour underway time requirements for the current month.

b. During any 2 consecutive calendar months, when requirements have not been met for the first month-96 hours.

c. During any 3 consecutive calendar months, when requirements have not been met for the first 2 months-144 hours.

6. While receiving instruction to prepare for assignment to a submarine of advanced design; or

7. While receiving instruction to prepare for a position of increased responsibility on a submarine.

B. The term "submarine service" means the service performed under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy by a member, and the years of submarine service are computed beginning with the effective date of the initial order to perform submarine service.

230104. Submarine Duty Pay Start and Stop Dates. See Table 23-1.

230105. Submarine Operational Command Staff Members

A. General rules for meeting underway time requirements, including determination of a 2- or 3-month grace period, are substantially the same as those for flying pay. (See Chapter 22.)

B. For fractional part of a calendar month, or fractional parts of 2 consecutive calendar months (duty begins in 1 month and ends in the following month), the underway time required, based on the requirement of 48 hours for a calendar month, will be determined from Table 23-2.

230106. Temporary Additional Duty or Authorized Leave. A member who is entitled to submarine duty pay retains entitlement during periods of temporary additional duty or authorized leave. However, a submarine operational command staff member is required to fulfill the underway time requirements to retain entitlement during such periods if not otherwise entitled to continuous monthly submarine duty pay in accordance with section 2302.

230107. Missing Status, Member's Entitlement. A member receiving submarine duty pay when entering a missing status as defined in the Definitions is entitled to submarine duty pay during the period of absence and for the period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of missing status. The member's entitlement to submarine duty pay upon termination of the required period of hospitalization and rehabilitation or the 1-year period after date of return from missing status, whichever is earlier, will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility under paragraph 230101, above.

230108. Restriction. An officer who fails selection for assignment as an executive officer or commanding officer of a submarine, or who declines to serve in either such position, may not be paid submarine duty pay except for periods during which such officer is serving on a submarine during underway operations.

230201. Entitlement. Effective 1 January 1981, a member of the submarine service (as defined in subparagraph 230103.B, above, is entitled to continuous monthly submarine duty pay as follows:

A. Through 26 years of service (as computed under 37 U.S.C. 205 (reference (aa)), except in the case of an officer, periods as an enlisted member before initial appointment as an officer are excluded), a member must perform operational submarine duties for at least 6 of the first 12, and at least 10 of the first 18 years of submarine service. However, if a member performs the prescribed operational submarine duties for at least 8 but less than 10 of the first 18 years of submarine service, such member is entitled to continuous monthly submarine duty pay for the first 22 years of service (as computed under 37 U.S.C. 205 (reference (aa))).

B. If upon completion of either 12 or 18 years of submarine service it is determined that a member has failed to perform the minimum prescribed operational submarine duty requirements during the prescribed periods of time, entitlement to continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases. If entitlement to continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases upon completion of 12 years of submarine service, entitlement to that pay may again commence upon completion of 18 years of submarine service if the minimum operational submarine duty requirements have been met, and such pay shall continue for the period of time prescribed in this section. However, if entitlement to continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases in the case of any member at the completion of either 12 or 18 years of submarine service, or 26 years of service (as computed under 37 U.S.C. 205 (reference (aa)), except in the case of an officer, periods as an enlisted member before initial appointment as an officer are excluded), such member shall be entitled to that pay in the amount set forth in section 2301, above, for the performance of service as a member of a submarine operational command staff, if such member's duties require serving on a submarine during underway operations.

230202. Rates. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay are the same as indicated in paragraph 230102, above.

230203. Missing Status, Member's Entitlement. The provisions of paragraph 230107, above, are also applicable to submarine duty pay entitlement under this section.

230204. Restriction. An enlisted member may not be paid continuous submarine duty pay while serving ashore between submarine sea duty assignments unless the member has a sufficient period of enlistment (including any extension of an enlistment) remaining to be reassigned to submarine sea duty.

NOTES:

- Attachment to a submarine means duty as a crew member either on board the submarine or on duty ashore during periods of rehabilitation after reporting for permanent duty as a crew member, whether to the on-ship or off-ship crew.
- When an off-crew member in a training and rehabilitation status performs travel in connection with a change of home port of the member's submarine by means other than the submarine, member's entitlement to submarine pay continues during period in transit.
- This rule also applies to officers who previously qualified in submarines as enlisted members while attending the following:
 - Submarine Officers' Basic Course or Submarine Officers' Indoctrination Course, for the specific purpose of preparing for a position in a nuclear-powered submarine, or
 - a course of instruction, published in SECNAV Instruction 7330.48 series, specifically preparing them for positions of increased responsibility in nuclear-powered submarines.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR Volume 7A, regarding Submarine
Duty Incentive Pay, (DFAS Item G-46)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 3-98 to Chapter 23 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective February 1, 1998.

This change aligns the DoDFMR with the SECNAV Instruction 7220.80 series that stipulates Continuous Submarine Duty Pay may continue for 6 months after the date of incapacity vice 5 months as stated in the regulation now.

We have evaluated your responses to the draft change to the DoDFMR Volume 7A. The attached is the final version of the change. The assigned interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to effect this change. For Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message. Our point of contact CDR Maxine Engler may be reached at DSN 327-5058 or

SUBMARINE DUTY PAY-START AND STOP DATES

Make the following change to the existing Table 23-1. Submarine Duty Pay - Start Stop Dates.

Change 6B to read "is transferred to a medical facility on temporary duty orders for treatment, rehabilitation or medical board review."

Change Rule 6D to read, "for not more than 6 months after date of the incapacity, as determined by medical authorities."

Change Rule 7B to read, "is reassigned to Limited Duty for treatment or rehabilitation.".

Change Rule 7D to read, "for not more than 6 months after date of assignment to Limited Duty, or until disqualifying condition is determined to be permanent, whichever is earlier."

CHAPTER 24

PARACHUTE DUTY, FLIGHT DECK DUTY, DEMOLITION DUTY, EXPERIMENTAL STRESS DUTY, AND OTHERS LISTED2401 GENERAL PROVISIONS

240101. Entitlement. A Military Service member entitled to basic pay is, in addition, entitled to incentive pay for performing any of the hazardous duties listed in subparagraph C, below, when the member performs the duty under competent orders, and otherwise meets the requirements of this chapter.

A. Member of the Regular Force. When the requirements have been met, entitlement to hazardous duty incentive pay commences on the date the member reports for and enters on duty in compliance with competent orders. Entitlement ceases on the effective date published in orders for termination of such duty or the date the member is detached from and no longer required to perform the hazardous duty, whichever occurs first. When a member commences such duty on a date other than the first day of a month, or terminates such duty on a date other than the 30th day of a month (28th or 29th of February, as appropriate), and otherwise meets the requirements of this chapter for the month, the member is entitled to a prorated portion of the rate of pay for the month.

B. Member of the Reserve Components

1. A member of the Reserve Components on extended active duty (EAD) ordered to perform any of the hazardous duties listed in subparagraph C, below, is entitled to pay based on the terms of this chapter.

2. A member of the Reserve Components on active duty training (ADT) ordered to perform any of the hazardous duties listed below, is entitled to pay based on paragraphs 570302 and 570401 and the terms of this chapter as affected by Table 24-5, rules 9 through 13.

C. Hazardous Duties Listed

1. Duty involving parachute jumping as an essential part of military duty.

2. Duty involving frequent and regular participation in flight operation on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier or ship other than aircraft carrier from which aircraft are launched.

3. Duty involving the demolition of explosives as a primary duty, including training for such duty.

4. Duty inside a high- or low-pressure chamber.
5. Duty as a human acceleration or deceleration experimental subject.
6. Duty as a human test subject in thermal stress experiments.
7. Duty involving the servicing of aircraft or missiles with highly toxic fuels or propellants.
8. Duty involving fumigation tasks utilizing highly toxic pesticides.
9. Duty involving laboratory work utilizing live dangerous viruses or bacteria.
10. Duty involving handling of chemical munitions.

240102. Rates

A. Except for a HALO parachutist, a member who qualifies for hazardous duty incentive pay under this chapter is entitled to such pay at monthly rate of $110. Effective 1 October 1985, the monthly rate for a HALO parachutist who qualifies under this chapter is $165. Only one type payment is authorized for a qualifying period. When a member qualifies for both type duties, the higher rate of pay is authorized.

B. In the case of a member required by competent orders to perform both regular and HALO parachute jumps (paragraph 240201, below), the following applies: Unless otherwise restricted by Military Service regulations (for example, restrictions on manning classification), the difference between the monthly rate of $110 and $165 is authorized for payment to a member who later qualifies for the HALO rate for a month in which the member earlier qualified for the regular rate of parachute pay.

240103. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Hazardous Duty. When a member required to perform hazardous duty is injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of performing such duty, the member is considered to have met the requirements for that duty during the incapacity, but for not longer than 3 months. Appropriate medical authority determines the cause of the incapacity and the dates thereof.

A. When To Start the 3-Month Entitlement Period. (See Table 24-1.)

B. Hazardous Duty for Definite Period. When a member has been placed on hazardous duty for a definite period and is entitled to incentive pay while incapacitated as a result of performance of such duty, incentive pay may not normally be paid beyond the ending date of the duty period stated in the orders. However, when evidence is furnished that the member would have continued in the hazardous duty status had it not been for the incapacity, incentive pay may be paid beyond the ending date of the duty stated in the orders.

C. Change of Station for Medical Treatment. See Table 24-2 for effect of permanent change of station. Temporary duty or temporary additional duty orders which specify a member's return to a permanent station do not affect assignment or attachment to the hazardous duty. A member ordered to a medical facility under such orders continues entitled to incentive pay during incapacity for no more than 3 months.

240104. Incapacity Not Caused by Hazardous Duty. A member's right to incentive pay during incapacity which is not the result of performing hazardous duty depends on fulfillment of hazardous duty requirements.

240105. Multiple Payments of Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay. Members who qualify for incentive pay for more than one type of hazardous duty may receive no more than two payments for the same period. Dual hazardous duty incentive pay is limited to those members required by orders to perform specific multiple hazardous duties necessary for successful accomplishment of the mission of the unit to which assigned. Members must meet minimum requirements for each of the hazardous duty with the exception of conditions in subparagraph C, below.

A. Conditions of Entitlement. A member who is under competent orders to perform more than one hazardous duty, but is limited to only one type of incentive pay (for example, due to receipt of diving duty pay under paragraph 110501 for the month or months involved), may receive payment for hazardous duty for which the higher incentive pay is authorized. The member must meet the minimum performance requirements for the selected hazardous duty incentive pay; however, the duty does not have to be the primary duty of the current assignment.

B. Types of Duties That Qualify Member for Dual Payment of Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay. (See also subparagraph 220111.B.)

1. Members assigned to pararescue units who are required to perform parachute jumps in addition to and in connection with explosive ordnance demolition duties.

2. Air Force pararescue team members placed on orders to perform duties as both crew members and parachutists.

3. Other combinations of hazardous duties for which dual payments of incentive pay are authorized by the respective Military Services.

C. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Hazardous Duty or Dual Hazardous Duties. If members required to perform more than one hazardous duty are injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of any of the duties, they are entitled to dual incentive pay during the incapacity but for no longer than 3 months. If not entitled to dual incentive pay at the time of the incapacity, they are entitled to the type of incentive pay they were receiving at the time of the incapacitation. The beginning date of the 3-month period must be determined separately for each type of incentive pay. Use paragraph 220106 or Table 24-1, as applicable, to determine the 3-month period separately for each incentive pay.

240107. Restriction on Payment of HDIP and Diving Duty Pay. See paragraph 110501.

240108. Restriction on Payment of HDIP and Aviation Officer Continuation Pay (AOCP). See section 1506.

240109. Authority To Issue Orders. Authority to issue orders requiring performance of hazardous duty is delegated by the Secretaries to specific commanders within each Military Service. Such delegations are contained in personnel administrative regulations of the individual Military Services.

240110. Missing Status-Member's Entitlement. A member receiving incentive pay of a type listed in paragraph 240101, above, when entering a missing status, as defined in subparagraph 340101.C, is entitled to such incentive pay during the period of absence and for the period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of missing status. The member's entitlement to incentive pay of a type listed in paragraph 240101, above, upon termination of the required period of hospitalization and rehabilitation or the 1-year period after date of return from missing status, whichever is earlier, will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility under paragraph 240101 and the applicable incentive pay requirements of this chapter.

2402 PARACHUTE DUTY

A. General. Qualified members are those who have received a designation as a parachutist or parachute rigger, or are undergoing training for such designations; who are required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping from an aircraft in aerial flight, and who meet the minimum performance requirements of Table 24-3.

B. Military Free Fall or High Altitude-Low Opening (HALO)

1. Members must perform duty involving parachute jumping, as an essential part of such duty, in military free fall operations where parachute deployment by the jumper occurs without the use of a static line.

2. Qualifying members are those who have graduated from the United States Army Military Free Fall Course or a Military Service recognized equivalent course; have received a designation as a HALO parachutist, or are undergoing training for such designation; are required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping at high altitudes without use of a static line from an aircraft in aerial flight. Members must meet the requirements of Table 24-3. Performance requirements must be satisfied by free fall jumps. Effective 1 October 1985, qualified members receive HALO parachutist's rate under paragraph 240102, above.

240202. Parachute Jumps-Leave, PCS, TDY/ TAD, or ADT

A. General. Qualifying jumps for entitlement to parachute pay must be performed during a period of duty requiring parachute jumping as established by competent orders. Parachute jumps performed under the following circumstances do not qualify a member for entitlement to parachute pay:

1. Parachute jumps performed by any member while on PCS or TDY/TAD not requiring parachute jumping as an essential part of the duty; or while on leave.

2. Parachute jumps performed by a member of a Reserve Component while on active duty training not requiring parachute jumping as an essential part of the duty.

B. Examples (Not All Inclusive)

1. Leave

a. Facts

(1) A member is placed on parachute jump status by competent orders effective 15 January. Member performs a jump on 15 March.

(2) Member is on leave for the period 25 March-25 April. Member performs a jump on 15 April during the period of leave.

(3) Member returns to the permanent duty station 26 April and performs a jump on 15 July.

b. Entitlements

(1) Member is entitled to parachute pay from 15 January through 30 March based on the jump performed 15 March (Table 24-3, rule 1 and note 1).

(2) Member is entitled to parachute pay for May, June, and July based on the jump performed 15 July (Table 24-3, rule 1, and Table 24-5, rule 2).

(3) The jump performed on 15 April is not a qualifying jump for parachute pay entitlement so member is not entitled to parachute pay for April.

2. TDY or TAD

a. Facts

(1) Member is placed on parachute jump status by competent orders at permanent duty station. Member performs a jump on 15 January.

(2) For the period 25 January through 2 July, member is assigned TDY/TAD where parachute jumping is not required by competent orders. Member performs a parachute jump on 10 June while on TDY/TAD.

(3) Member returns to permanent duty station on 3 July and performs a jump on each date, 6 July, 13 July, and 6 August.

b. Entitlements

(1) Member is entitled to parachute pay for January, February, and March based on jump performed 15 January (Table 24-3, rule 1, and Table 24-5, rule 3).

(2) Member is entitled to parachute pay for May, June, and July based on jump performed 6 July. The jump performed on 13 July is not applied for entitlement because it is one of multiple jumps performed in the same month. Only one jump per month is used for qualification to parachute pay (Table 24-3, rule 1).

(3) Member is entitled to parachute pay for August, September, and October based on jump performed 6 August (Table 24-3, rules 1 and 2).

(4) Jump performed on 10 June during TDY/TAD is not a qualifying jump for parachute pay entitlement (subparagraph 240202.A.1, above); no entitlement exists for parachute pay for April.

3. ADT Less Than 20 Weeks, Reserve Component Member Assigned to a Unit

a. Facts

(1) A Reserve Component member is placed on parachute jump status at unit of assignment by competent orders. At the unit of assignment, member performs inactive duty training (IDT) drills on 14-15 January, 12-13 February, 15-16 March. Member performs a parachute jump on 15 January.

(2) Member is ordered to active duty training (ADT) for the period 28 March-22 May (less than 20 weeks). Member is not placed on parachute jump status at ADT station. Member performs a jump on 5 April while on ADT.

(3) Member returns to parachute duty at unit of assignment upon completion of ADT. Performs IDT drills 24-25 May, 8-9 June, and 9-10 July. Performs a parachute jump on 10 July.

b. Entitlements

(1) Member is entitled to parachute pay for IDT drills in January, February, and March based on the jump performed 15 January (Table 24-3, rule 1).

(2) Further, member is entitled to parachute pay for allowable travel time to ADT station and for ADT days, 28-30 March, also based on jump performed 15 January (paragraph 580204; Table 24-3, rule 1; Table 24-5, rule 13).

(3) Member is entitled to parachute pay for ADT 1-22 May plus allowable travel time from ADT station based on jump performed 10 July (paragraph 580204; Table 24-3, rule 2; Table 24-5, rule 13).

(4) Member is entitled to parachute pay for IDT drills performed in May, June, and July; also based on jump performed 10 July.

(5) Jump performed 5 April is not a qualifying jump for entitlement to parachute pay; no entitlement exists for April (subparagraph 240202.A, above).

4. ADT Any Number of Weeks, Reserve Component Member, With or Without Unit of Assignment

a. Facts

(1) Reserve Component member, if assigned to a unit, is not placed on parachute jump status at unit.

(2) Member is ordered to ADT, any number of weeks. Member is placed on parachute jump status at ADT station by competent orders.

(3) Member meets minimum performance requirements according to Table 24-3 by jumps performed during ADT.

b. Entitlements. Member is entitled to parachute pay for allowable travel time to and from ADT station and for period of ADT (Table 24-5, rules 9 and 11).

240203. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above.

240204. Performance Requirements. See Table 24-3.

240205. Table of Parachute Jumps. Table 24-4 gives examples of how minimum requirements are applied. This table does not necessarily cover all situations but is intended as a general guide. In each example, the member was required by orders to participate frequently and regularly in parachute jumps for the entire period. This table is not intended to show date of payment. In every case the parachute duty requirements must be met before payment is made.

240206. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions. See Table 24-5.

2403 FLIGHT DECK DUTY

240301. Entitlement

A. Conditions of Entitlement. A member is entitled to incentive pay for flight deck duty (flight deck hazardous duty pay-FDHDP) when member:

1. Is a member of a crew of an eligible air capable ship or an aviation unit operating from such a ship; fixed-wing-aircraft carrier or an aviation unit operating from that type of carrier;

2. Is ordered by competent authority to duty in a billet which requires frequent and regular participation in flight operations; and

3. Participates, within a calendar month, in 4 days of flight operations or their equivalent on the flight deck of eligible air capable ships.

B. Quotas and Billets. The number of members entitled to FDHDP is subject to the monthly quotas applicable to the eligible air capable ships and type or combination of air units operating from such ships, as promulgated in Chief of Naval Operations Instructions in the 7220.4 series (reference (al)).

C. Members on Temporary Duty or Temporary Additional Duty. Members on temporary duty or temporary additional duty in the crew of an eligible air capable ship or an aviation unit operating from such a ship may be ordered to flight deck hazardous duty billets (FDHDBs). When so ordered, they are entitled to FDHDP for the actual period specified in the orders provided they meet the minimal participation requirements for an entire month (4 days of flight operations or their equivalent) within each calendar month. The actual date that an aviation unit departs the ship does not alter the entitlement for a full month provided the minimum requirements are met and the orders to such duty remain in effect.

D. Dual Payments. Members receiving incentive pay for any other type of hazardous duty are not entitled to FDHDP for the same period.

240302. Specialized Terms

A. Eligible Air Capable Ship. A ship having a flight deck which has been certified to launch or land aircraft under Chief of Naval Operations ship or helicopter facility certification program.

B. Flight Operations. The period of time during which launch and recovery of aircraft are in progress on the flight deck of an eligible air capable ship. It includes the turn-up and movement of aircraft preparatory to launch and the movement and shutdown of aircraft immediately following recovery.

C. Day of Flight Operations. One day of flight operations shall consist of a calendar day during which any combination of aircraft takeoffs and/or landings takes place, as specified for each ship by class in OPNAV Instruction 7220.4 series (reference (al)). Four days of such flight operations, or the equivalent thereof, shall constitute the basic calendar month qualification criteria.

D. Equivalent of 4 Days of Flight Operations. Any single day, or combination of days during a calendar month in which the number of aircraft take-offs and/or landing equals the monthly total requirement for that class ship in OPNAV Instruction 7220.4 series (reference (al)) shall constitute the equivalent of 4 days of flight operations.

E. Flight Deck Hazardous Duty Billet (FDHDB). A billet which requires frequent and regular participation in flight operations on the flight deck of an eligible air capable ship as promulgated in Chief of Naval Operation Instructions in the 7220.4 series (reference (al)).

F. Participation. Presence, during flight operations, at an assigned station in an FDHDB on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier or a ship other than an aircraft carrier from which aircraft are launched and recovered during flight operations.

240303. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above.

240304. Commencement and Termination of FDHDP. Eligibility for entitlement to FDHDP begins on the date a member is ordered to duty in a FDHDP. Entitlement eligibility ends on the date the orders to such billet are revoked, or when a member is permanently detached from the aircraft carrier or aviation unit, whichever occurs first. Orders may be terminated for other reasons but not for the sole purpose of providing FDHDP for additional members.

240305. Proration. FDHDP is prorated for the days of the calendar month during which the orders are in effect, providing the full month participation requirements are met.

240306. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions. See Table 24-5.

2404 DEMOLITION DUTY240401. Entitlement

A. Condition of Entitlement. A member entitled to basic pay who is required by competent orders to perform duty involving the demolition of explosives, as prescribed by Military Service regulations, as a primary duty (including training for that duty), is entitled to incentive pay under the conditions stated in this section. Incentive pay is payable for any full month, or is prorated under paragraph 240101, above, for any portion of a calendar month during which a member under competent orders performs demolition duty by use of live explosives.

B. Duty Involving Demolition of Explosives. Effective 6 December 1984, duty involving the demolition of explosives is defined according to this subparagraph. Demolition duty is duty performed by members who engage in the following activities under competent orders and as a primary duty assignment:

1. Demolish by the use of explosives objects, obstacles, or explosives, or recover and render harmless, by disarming or demolition, explosives which have failed to function as intended or which have become a potential hazard.

2. Participate as students or instructors in instructional training, including that in the field or fleet, for the duties described in subparagraph B.1, above, provided that live explosives are used in such training.

3. Participate in proficiency training, including that in the field or fleet, for the maintenance of skill in the duties described in subparagraph B.1, above, provided that live explosives are used in such training; or

4. Experiment with or develop tools, equipment, or procedures for the demolition and rendering harmless of explosives, provided that live explosives are used.

240402. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above.

240403. Performance Requirements. A member who is assigned to demolition duty by competent orders and performs such duty during the month involved, is entitled to incentive pay for that duty provided live explosives are used. Local commanders are responsible for ensuring that the finance officer is informed when a member fails to perform the monthly demolition duty required for entitlement to the incentive pay.

240404. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions. See Table 24-5.

2405 EXPERIMENTAL STRESS DUTY240501. Entitlement

A. Condition of Entitlement. A member on active duty who is required by competent orders to perform experimental stress duty is entitled to incentive pay under the conditions stated in this section. Incentive pay is payable for any full month, or is prorated in accordance with paragraph 240101, above, for any portion of a calendar month, during which experimental stress duty is performed under competent orders.

B. Duty Involving Experimental Stress. Experimental stress duties are limited to the following:

1. Human Acceleration or Deceleration Experimental Subject. Duty performed as human acceleration or deceleration experimental subjects utilizing experimental acceleration or deceleration devices.

2. Thermal Stress Duty. Duty performed as human thermal experimental subjects in thermal stress experiments.

★3. Low-Pressure Chamber Duty. Duty performed within a low-pressure (altitude) chamber at physiological facilities as human test subject, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender.

★4. High-Pressure Chamber Duty

★a. Duty performed within a high-pressure (hyperbaric or recompression) chamber or hyperbaric complex as a:

★(1) Human test subject for approved protocols applicable to the research, development, testing and evaluation of diving, hyperbaric and underwater-related tools, systems, equipment and procedures.

★(2) Recompression chamber/Hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender during the conduct of protocols involving the use of human test subjects.

★(3) Recompression chamber/Hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender during the conduct of hyperbaric treatment or hyperbaric therapy procedures which include, but are not limited to, treatment of ailments incidental to diving and hyperbaric/hypobaric exposure.

★b. Navy personnel only. For a Navy member to qualify for this incentive pay as a human test subject, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender in a recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex, all of the following conditions must be met. The member must:

★(1) Possess a NEC/NOBC listed below and be assigned by competent orders to a billet utilizing that NEC/NOBC:

Enlisted:	NEC
Saturation Diver	5311
SEAL (Basic)	5320
Swimmer Delivery Vehicle	5323
SEAL	5326
Basic Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) Technician	5332
Basic EOD Technician (Parachutist)	5333
Senior EOD Technician	5334
Senior EOD Technician (Parachutist)	5335
Master EOD Technician	5336
Master EOD Technician (Parachutist)	5337
Master Diver	5341
First Class Diver	5342
Second Class Diver	5343
Master Saturation Diver	5346
Salvage/Construction Demolition Diver	5375
Advanced Underwater Construction Technician	5931
Basic Underwater Construction Technician	5932
Special Amphibious Reconnaissance Independent Duty Corpsman	8403
Fleet Marine Force Reconnaissance Corpsman	8427
Special Operations Independent Duty Corpsman	8491
Special Operations Technician	8492
Medical Deep Sea Diving Technician	8493
Medical Deep Sea Diving Technician	8494
Officer:	NOBC

EOD Officer	9230
EOD Mobile Unit Officer	9231
SEAL Officer	9293
Diving Officer (General)	9312
Diving Officer (He02)	9313
Diving Officer (Salvage)	9314
Diving Officer (Saturation)	9315
Ship Salvage Diving Officer	9375

★(2) Be ordered to perform additional duty as a human test subject, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender as described in subparagraphs 4.a., b, or c, above, or by the Commanding Officer having cognizance over the recompression chamber or hyperbaric complex, and;

★(3) Either be instructing or operating Navy approved underwater breathing equipment, support systems, and recompression chambers; or observing the other individual(s) for symptoms of diving injuries/illnesses and providing appropriate treatment, as ordered by competent authority.

★c. The following types of similar duties do not entitle Navy personnel to hazardous duty incentive pay as recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observers or inside observer-tenders:

★(1) Inside observer-tender and divers for surface decompression procedures incidental to the conduct of diving operations as this is considered a normal procedure related to the safe conduct of routine diving operations.

★(2) Either under instruction inside instructor-observer, inside observer-tender or trainees. This includes saturation diving procedures and hyperbaric medical related training which is considered a normal requirement to establish or maintain proficiency and/or qualifications.

★(3) Inside observer-tender or test candidates during conduct of pressure and/or oxygen tolerance tests.

★(4) Inside observer-tender, technicians or others involved in recompression chamber or hyperbaric complex preventive or corrective maintenance or during the use of a chamber or complex for the purpose of conducting preventive or corrective maintenance procedures.

★(5) Patients undergoing hyperbaric treatment or therapy.

C. Restriction. A member is entitled to only one payment of incentive pay for experimental stress duty during any 1 month.

240502. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above.

240503. Performance Requirements. A member is entitled to incentive pay for experimental stress duty when assigned to that duty by competent orders and performs such duty during the month involved. Competent medical authorities of the Military Service concerned must determine if the member is engaged in one or more stress experiments involving risk of experimental hazard.

240504. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions. See Table 24-5.

2406 TOXIC FUELS (OR PROPELLANTS) DUTY240601. Entitlement

A. Effective 1 October 1981, a member is entitled to hazardous duty incentive pay for duty involving the servicing of aircraft or missiles with highly toxic fuels or propellants when this duty is performed as a primary duty according to the requirements set forth in subparagraphs 240602.A through D and G, below.

B. Effective 1 October 1983, a member is entitled to hazardous duty incentive pay for duty involving the servicing of aircraft or missiles with highly toxic fuels or propellants for the testing of aircraft or missile systems (or components of such systems) during which highly toxic fuels are used when this duty is performed as a primary duty according to the requirements below.

240602. Requirements. Primary duty under this section requires:

A. Removal, replacement, and servicing of the emergency power unit of an aircraft with H-70 propellant (30 percent water, 70 percent hydrazine).

B. Participation by those personnel performing duties in subparagraph A, above, who must also participate in an emergency response force, spill containment, or spill cleanup involving H-70 propellant (30 percent water, 70 percent hydrazine).

C. Handling and maintaining the liquid propellants (liquid oxidizer-nitrogen tetroxide; unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine) used in the Titan weapon system if such duty requires the qualification in the use of the rocket fuel handler's clothing outfit and involves:

1. Launch duct operations, including flow, pressurization, on-load, off-load, set-up, or tear down involving propellant transfer operations;

2. Set-up, installation, or tear down for fuel/oxidizer flow;

3. Decontamination of equipment, including but not limited to the rocket fuel handler's clothing outfit;

4. Venting or pressurizing missile fuel or oxidizer tanks;

5. Removing or replacing missile components while missile fuel and oxidizer tanks are loaded with such propellants;

6. Transferring propellants between commercial and military holding trailers; or between holding trailers and fuel/oxidizer pump rooms; or

7. Normal preventive maintenance activities including but not limited to seal changes.

D. Handling and maintaining the propellants, unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine and inhibited red-fuming nitric acid used in the LANCE missile system.

E. Handling, transporting, or working with toxic fuels/propellants by members assigned to the Air Force Rocket Propulsion Lab (AFRPL) who:

1. Directly manage and inspect the activities of crew members conducting operations involving experimental rocket propulsion systems and components;

2. Directly monitor and set up measurement instruments in operational areas where contamination is suspected or may be physically present;

3. Install and remove instrumentation devices from propulsion systems and components;

4. Perform final test preparation and immediate safety inspection duties around pressurized, active systems during pre-run and post-run test periods; or

5. Install and repair electrical systems.

F. Handling, loading/unloading, and transporting toxic fuels and oxidizers at the precision sled track while working with the liquid rocket sled which uses JP-X (a mixture of jet fuel (JP-4) and unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine) and red-fuming nitric acid and a propulsion; or

G. Involvement with other toxic substances contained in missile or aircraft weapon system fuels or propellants as determined by the Secretary concerned.

240603. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above, for rates.

240604. Restriction. The entitlement to the pay under this section is based upon the performance of such duty which has the potential for accidental or inadvertent exposure to highly toxic fuels or propellants or related substances and not upon actual quantifiable exposure to such substances. Therefore, neither this construction of the term nor the receipt of the pay provided for in this section may be construed as indicating that any person entitled to such pay has been actually exposed to highly toxic fuels or propellants or related substances contrary to the provisions of any statute, executive order, rule, or regulation relating to health or safety which is applicable to the Uniformed Services.

2407 TOXIC PESTICIDES DUTY

240701. Entitlement. Effective 1 October 1981, a member is entitled to hazardous duty incentive pay (HDIP) for duty involving frequent and regular exposure to highly toxic pesticides when the member is assigned by competent orders to the entomology, pest control, pest management, or preventive medicine functions of a Uniformed Service for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

240702. Requirements

A. Members must perform fumigation duties described below during a calendar month to receive HDIP for the month. Duty under this section covers any fumigation task utilizing: (1) phosphine, sulfuryl fluoride, hydrogen cyanide, methyl bromide, or (2) a fumigant of comparable high-acute toxicity and hazard potential.

B. Restrictions. Effective 6 November 1986, the use of solid fumigant formulations such as aluminum phosphide, magnesium phosphide, and calcium cyanide in the outdoor control of burrowing animals does not qualify a member for incentive pay under this section.

240703. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above, for rates.

2408 DANGEROUS VIRUSES (OR BACTERIA) LAB DUTY

240801. Entitlement. Effective 1 October 1981, a member is entitled to hazardous duty incentive pay (HDIP) for duty involving laboratory work that utilizes live dangerous viruses or bacteria as a primary duty.

240802. Requirements. Under this section members must perform primary duty described below while assigned by competent orders for a period of 30 consecutive days or more to participate in or conduct applied or basic research that is characterized by a changing variety of techniques, procedures, equipment, and experiments. Duty under this section is primary duty performed by members who work with microorganisms:

A. That cause disease:

1. With a high potential for mortality; and
2. For which effective therapeutic procedures are not available.

B. For which no effective prophylactic immunization exists.

240803. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above, for rates.

2409 CHEMICAL MUNITIONS

240901. Entitlement. Effective 1 October 1985, a member is entitled to hazardous duty incentive pay (HDIP) for duty involving the handling of chemical munitions (or components of such munitions) as a primary duty.

240902. Requirements

A. Primary duty under this section requires direct physical handling of:

1. Toxic chemical munitions incident to storage, maintenance, testing, surveillance, assembly, disassembly, demilitarization, or disposal of said munitions;
2. Chemical surety material defined by the Secretary concerned, incident to manufacture, storage, testing, laboratory analysis, detoxification, or disposal of said material;
3. Toxic chemical munitions incident to the technical escort of shipments of said munitions;
4. Chemical surety material, defined by the Secretary concerned, incident to technical escort of shipments of said material.

B. Restrictions. HDIP under this section does not include the following duties:

1. Handling of the individual components of binary chemical agents or munitions.
2. User handling incident to loading, firing, or otherwise launching the toxic chemical munitions, or field storage operations during hostilities.
3. Handling of research, development, testing, and evaluation dilute solutions of toxic chemicals as defined by the Secretary concerned.
4. Handling of riot control agents, chemical defoliants and herbicides, smoke, flame and incendiaries, and industrial chemicals.

240903. Rates. See paragraph 240102, above, for rates.

240904. Restriction. The entitlement to the pay under this section is based upon the performance of such duty that has the potential for accidental exposure to chemical agents and not upon actual quantifiable exposure to such agents. Therefore, neither the construction of the term nor the receipt of pay provided for in this section may be construed as indicating that any person entitled to such pay actually has been exposed to chemical agents contrary to the provisions of any statute, executive order, rule, or regulation relating to health and safety which is applicable to the Uniformed Services.

1	a jump is performed	any calendar month	member qualifies for parachute duty pay for that month and one preceding and succeeding month; or that month and 2 preceding months; or that month and 2 succeeding months (note 1).
2	jumps are made	2 or more consecutive months	new 3-consecutive-calendar-month period starts with each month a jump is made, except when rule 3 applies.
3	a member is unable to perform a jump because of military operations of the command or the absence of jump equipment or aircraft	a 3-month period	member may qualify for parachute duty pay on a 12-month basis. He or she may qualify for the 3-month period plus the following 9 consecutive calendar months by performing four jumps any time during the 9-month period (note 2).
4	a member is unable to perform a jump by reason of being engaged in combat operations in a hostile fire area		minimum jump requirements may be waived by the member's commanding officer (note 2).
5	a member begins parachute training or reports for duty with a parachute unit	a fractional part of a month	month the training or duty begins becomes the first month of the 3-consecutive-calendar-month period (note 1).

NOTES:

1. Incentive pay for parachute duty may be paid, provided prescribed requirements are met, only from the date of reporting for duty or training. If that day is other than the first day of a month, that month's rate of pay will be prorated in accordance with paragraph 240101.
2. Military operations, combat operations in a hostile fire area, or absence of jump equipment are the only authorized reasons for not complying with requirements over a 3-month period.

Entitlement for ADT is terminated per rules 9 or 10. 2. for IDT, see note 6.

NOTES:

- Performance of hazardous duty while on leave cannot be counted for pay purposes.
- Orders to perform hazardous duty remain in effect when member is being reassigned PCS successively to hazardous duty. If member cannot be immediately assigned to a hazardous duty position at a new station, orders to perform such duty will be terminated effective the date of arrival at new duty station and incentive pay stopped as of that date. When successive assignment does not require hazardous duty as an essential part of military duty at the new permanent duty station, orders to perform such duty will be terminated effective the date of departure from old duty station (or TDY point if performance of hazardous duty is required as an essential part of military duty at the TDY point) and incentive pay stopped as of that date. When effective date in the orders terminating hazardous duty is other than the last day of a calendar month and that month's performance requirements have been met, the month's hazardous duty pay will be prorated per subparagraph 240101.A.
- Parachute pay may not be paid beyond the last day of the calendar month for which requirements are met.
- ADT includes annual training, special tours of active duty for training, school tours, and the initial tour performed by enlistees without prior military service.
- Hazardous duty incentive pay entitlement for ADT includes time allowed for necessary travel from home to first duty station (paragraph 020501).
- Hazardous duty incentive pay for inactive duty training (IDT) is paid per Chapter 58.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay Increase, (DFAS Item G-61)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 05-98 to Chapters 22 and 24 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective November 18, 1997.

This change is the result of the 1998 National Defense Authorization Act and increases the minimum hazardous duty incentive pay rate to $150 per month.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or (703) 602-5280.

HAZARDOUS DUTY RATE INCREASES

1. Revise Table 22-1 as follows:

a. Replace the existing rates of HDIP for air crewmembers with $150 for each of the following pay grades:

O-10	W-1
O-9	E-4
O-8	E-3
O-7	E-2
O-1	E-1

b. Change the effective date in both the Table heading and the Table label to 18 November 1997.

2. Revise Table 22-8 as follows:

a. Replace the existing rates (note that rates for warrant officers and enlisted members were established by DFAS Interim Change Number 9-96) of HDIP for air weapons controller crewmembers with $150 for each of the following pay grade and years of service combinations:

O-7 w/ over 25	W-1 w/ over 2
O-3 w/ 2 or less	E-5 w/ 2 or less
O-2 w/ 2 or less	E-4 and below w/ 2 or less
O-1 w/ 2 or less	E-4 and below w/ over 24
W-1 w/ 2 or less	E-4 and below w/ over 25

b. Change the effective date in both the Table heading and the Table label to "18 November 1997".

3. Revise paragraph 240102 as follows:

a. Change the paragraph heading to read: "Rates (effective 18 November 1997)".

b. In subparagraph 240102A delete the words: "Effective 1 October 1985".

c. In both subparagraphs 240102A and B replace $110 with $150 and replace $165 with $225.

4. Make the following changes to the Bibliography:

a. Create a new entry for Table 22-1 and use the citation "Public Law 105-85, Section 614, 18 Nov 1997".

b. Replace the existing citation for Table 22-8 with "Public Law 105-85, Section 614, 18 Nov 1997" (note the existing citation was established with DFAS Interim Change Number 9-96).

c. Add "Public Law 105-85, Section 614, 18 Nov 1997" to the existing citation for paragraph 240102.

BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR SUBSISTENCE (BAS)2501 GENERAL PROVISIONS

250101. Authority. Except as otherwise provided by law, members who are entitled to basic pay are entitled to BAS under the conditions set out in this chapter.

A. Enlisted Members. These members may become entitled to one of the following types of BAS on a daily basis:

1. When rations in kind are not available;
2. When permission to mess separately is granted; or
3. When assigned to duty under emergency conditions where no messing facilities of the United States are available.

B. Officers. Officers entitled to basic pay are entitled to BAS at all times on a monthly basis. (See paragraph 250301, below.)

C. Advance Payments. Advance payment of BAS is authorized under the circumstances specified in Chapter 32.

D. Effect on Overseas Station Allowances. BAS under this chapter is in addition to the overseas cost of living allowances authorized by Joint Federal Travel Regulations (JFTR), volume 1, part B, chapter 9 (reference (d)).

250102. Specialized Terms. Apply the following terms to BAS determinations:

A. Government Mess. See the Definitions.

B. Subsisted at Government Expense. This term applies to enlisted members:

1. Subsisted in kind by the government; or
2. Furnished meals by a government contractor or a foreign government at their permanent station, either under the terms of a contract or agreement or on a complimentary basis without charge.

C. "When Rations in Kind Are Not Available." This term applies when a government mess is, in fact, not available. It also applies to situations where it has been determined that it is impracticable for the government to furnish subsistence in kind.

D. "When Permission To Mess Separately is Granted." This term applies to enlisted members authorized to subsist themselves independently while on duty at a permanent station where a messing facility is available for subsisting them. The term also applies to enlisted members during periods of hospitalization, authorized leave (including proceed time), authorized delays en route between duty stations chargeable as leave, and travel status under orders away from their post of duty (to include TDY/TAD, PCS, and travel in connection with hospitalization or convalescent leave). This term does not apply when an enlisted member in a travel status is not entitled to the subsistence portion of per diem because such member is required to subsist at no cost in a government mess. (See subparagraph 250201.B, below.)

E. When Assigned to Duty Under Emergency Conditions Where No Government Mess Is Available. Applies to enlisted members assigned to duty under conditions requiring extraordinary expenses for subsistence as determined per paragraph 250202, below, and Table 25-3.

F. Prorated Subsistence Allowance. This entitlement applies to enlisted members being subsisted in kind at their permanent station:

1. Whose assigned duties in a non-travel status require them to be absent from their permanent station and their working hours or duties prevent them from eating certain meals in a government mess.

2. When authorized BAS at their permanent station, who enter a travel or hospitalized status and are entitled to BAS for part of a day or at different rates for parts of a day.

3. When proper authority determines that a government mess is in fact not available for part of a day. (Example: Mess is closed for reasons beyond the control of the installation commander, such as equipment failure.)

G. Supplemental Subsistence Allowance. This entitlement applies to enlisted members granted permission to mess separately at a permanent station:

1. Whose assigned duties in a non-travel status require them to be absent from their permanent station and their working hours or duties require them to buy a meal or meals from other than a government mess.

2. When proper authority has determined that a government mess is in fact not available for certain meals. (Example: Mess is closed for reasons beyond the control of the installation commander, such as equipment failure.)

H. Field Duty. (Defined);

1. Effective 28 October 1994, the term "Field Duty" shall mean service by a member when the member is subsisted in a government mess or with an organization drawing field rations and the member is serving with troops on maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar types of operations.

2. Prior to 28 October 1994, members under orders with troops operating against an enemy, actual or potential, were considered to be in a field duty status. After 28 October 1994, those members under orders (TDY/TAD) with troops operating against an enemy, actual or potential, are not considered to be in a field duty status.

I. Sea Duty. This term means service performed by a member in a self-propelled vessel that is in an active status, in commission or in service, and is equipped with berthing and messing facilities.

2502 BAS POLICY AND DETERMINATIONS RESPONSIBILITY

250201. BAS-Policy

A. Normally, enlisted members are subsisted in kind. For uniformity in making determinations, government messes available in the geographical area must be used to the fullest extent compatible with economy and efficiency.

B. Effective 15 September 1981, enlisted members on authorized leave, hospitalized, or performing travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) under orders away from their designated post of duty are entitled to BAS at the "when permitted to mess separately" rate for the duration of the leave, hospitalization, or travel status, regardless of the BAS rate authorized members at their permanent stations. (Enlisted members on TDY/TAD at a station where proper authority has approved authorization for the emergency ration rate may receive BAS at that rate.) Enlisted members are not entitled to BAS while in a travel status when not entitled to the meal portion of per diem because they are provided subsistence at no cost by the government (field duty, sea duty, group travel, essential unit messing, undergoing processing, and annual training duty for Reserves). However, if the member becomes entitled to per diem or actual expenses because subsistence was not provided by the government at no cost, then the member regains entitlement to BAS. Determinations of essential unit messing made by the Secretary concerned are in individual Military Service regulations. A member is not considered to be performing travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) under orders away from his/her designated post of duty (undergoing processing) if such member:

1. Is a non-prior service enlisted member serving on a first tour of active duty;
2. Has not actually reported to a permanent duty station pursuant to orders directing such assignment, and
3. Is not actually traveling between stations pursuant to orders directing a change of station.

NOTE: A member who has, under travel orders, departed (or been detached from) the station where the member received orders designating his/her first permanent duty station is considered to be actually traveling and therefore, is entitled to BAS. This includes periods of TDY/TAD en route to the first permanent duty station.

C. Separate Military Service regulations may permit commanders (including enlisted commandants of the non-commissioned officer (NCO) Academies) to grant authorization to mess separately to enlisted members, not included in paragraph 250204, below, based on two factors such as: location of a member's residence, specialized duties, working hours, dining hall capacity, or distance to the mess hall. These factors are guidelines and should not be construed as all-encompassing. Additional extenuating factors deemed appropriate by commanders (including enlisted commandants of (NCO) Academies) also may be considered. Each application should be considered on its own merit.

★D. When members of one or more Military Service perform duty under similar conditions at installations or are assigned to activities within the same area, the commanders will confer to ensure uniform determinations on the authorization of BAS. If commanders of more than one Military Service cannot agree on a uniform BAS rate, the senior officer within the area will report the differences, fully documented, through channels to the Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness).

E. When members of more than one Military Service perform duty at an installation, the installation commander makes the BAS determinations. Such determinations are binding on all personnel of the DoD performing duty at that installation.

F. Enlisted members carried in a missing status are entitled to BAS at the rate payable when rations in kind are not available. (See subparagraph 340302.)

250202. Determinations of Duty Under Emergency Conditions. Authorizations for BAS rate for members "assigned to duty under emergency conditions where no government messing facilities are available," may be granted only with the approval of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or Secretary's designee. This approval authority may not be redelegated.

A. Authorizations. Authorizations may be made for periods not to exceed 180 days. In approving original and subsequent authorizations, practicability and cost of establishing government messing or contract facilities must be considered. (See Table 25-3.)

B. Request for Approval. Requests for authorization approvals are submitted through channels to the applicable office below:

1. Army: Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel (ATTN: DAPE-MBB-C) Washington DC 20310-0300.

2. Navy: Chief of Naval Operations, (ATTN: OP-134), Washington DC 20370-2020.

3. Air Force: HQ USAF/DPPC, Washington DC 20330-5060.

4. Marine Corps: Commandant of the Marine Corps (MPP),
Washington DC 20380-0001.

250203. Determinations of Nonavailability

A. When a Government Mess Is In Fact Not Available. The installation commander will determine if rations in kind are not available for enlisted members performing duty at that installation.

B. When Location of Government Mess Makes Its Use Impracticable. Commanding officers will determine when the location of a government mess, in relation to members' posts of duty, makes its use impracticable. See paragraph 250201, above, and Table 25-2 for policy guidance and rules for making such determinations.

C. When Mission Prevents Use of Government Mess. A determination of impracticability may be made by the Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designee for enlisted members whose assigned duties are such that use of a government mess would adversely affect their mission. Address recommendations for such determinations to the appropriate office listed in subparagraph 250202.B, above.

D. When Duty Prevents Use of Mess. Commanders or their designees may determine if members' assigned duties or unusual work hours prevent the members from eating certain meals in a government mess. See Table 25-4, rules 5 and 6 for criteria.

250204. Authorization To Mess Separately. Separate Military Service regulations may provide automatic blanket authorization for enlisted members in pay grades E-7 and above and for enlisted members in pay grades E-1 and above who are residing with their dependents (except basic trainees). This includes members married to members, with no dependents, who reside together at the permanent station. In addition, members authorized single rate BAQ are authorized to mess separately. Such authorizations are in effect continuously except as provided in paragraph 250401, below, or in the Military Service regulations.

A. Army Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with AR 210-10 (reference (am)).

B. Navy and Marine Corps Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with the Naval Military Personnel Manual (reference (an)) or the current edition of Marine Corps Order 10110.33 (reference (ao)).

C. Air Force Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with DFAS-DE 7073.1-M and DFAS-DE 7073.2-M (reference (ap)).

250205. Review of Determinations. Review of all determinations, except those pertaining to members who have been authorized to mess separately, shall be made annually or when conditions to entitlement change, or more frequently if necessary pursuant to paragraph 250202 and subparagraphs 250203.A and B, above. Review is to ensure compliance with the policies outlined in this section. When review shows that existing determinations fail to meet requirements, those determinations shall be cancelled.

250206. Determination of BAS During Contingency Operations. When members of one or more Military Service perform duty under similar conditions within the same area of operations, as defined by the Joint Staff or the Commander in Chief of the Cognizant Combatant Command (CINC), or are assigned to activities within the same area, the CINC will make a uniform determination on the authorization of basic allowance for subsistence. For uniformity considerations, government mess available in the geographic area must be used to the fullest extent compatible with mission, economy, and efficiency. The impact on BAS during contingency operations depends on the type of orders issued and whether the member is assigned to a unit on land or afloat. The types of orders are outlined in Table 25-7.

2503 OFFICERS CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

★250301. Officers. Except as indicated in Table 25-1, officers are entitled to BAS at the rate of $154.16 per month (effective 1 January 1997), regardless of grade or dependency status. Compute this allowance by the month, as for basic pay. See Table 25-1 for specific conditions of entitlement.

2504 ENLISTED MEMBERS CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

250401. When Authorized To Mess Separately. Enlisted members authorized to mess separately (subparagraph 250102.D and paragraph 250204, above) are entitled to BAS at the rates and under the conditions shown in Tables 25-4, 25-5, & 25-6.

A. Limitation. Authorization to mess separately cannot cover retroactive periods. However, this does not prevent payment of BAS from the time of an oral authorization by proper authority if the oral approval of the member's request is confirmed promptly in writing.

B. Duration of Authorization To Mess Separately. Once approved, these authorizations remain in full force under the following conditions unless sooner terminated by approving authority:

1. While the member's permanent, temporary duty, or temporary additional duty station, as applicable, remains unchanged.
2. While member is on leave or hospitalized.
3. While performing travel under orders in connection with TDY/TAD, PCS, hospitalization, or convalescent leave.
4. Upon discharge or retirement and reenlistment or recall to active duty at the same station within 24 hours.

C. Termination of Authorization To Mess Separately. Authorizations to mess separately terminate:

1. On date and hour travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) or hospitalization status ends unless continuation is authorized by proper authority at member's permanent station.
2. As of midnight of date of detachment from duty station when discharged or released from active duty if reenlistment at the same station does not occur within 24 hours after date of discharge.
3. When directed by the commander or commander's designee.
4. Upon request of the member concerned.
5. As of midnight on the date leave status ends.

250402. When Government Mess Is Not Available. Enlisted members on duty where a government mess is not available are entitled to BAS at the rate shown in paragraph 250406, below, and under the conditions shown in Tables 25-4, 25-5, and 25-6. Entitlement to BAS under this paragraph continues during weekends, holidays, administrative absence, pass, or liberty. See paragraph 250407, below, for conditions requiring BAS to be prorated.

250404. Duty Under Emergency Conditions. For rate payable and conditions of entitlement, see paragraphs 250202, above, and 250406, below, Table 25-3 and Table 25-4, rule 7.

250405. Subsistence Allowance-Shore Patrol Duty. Navy and Marine Corps commanders may authorize payment of the shore patrol subsistence allowance to members on shore patrol duty, in a non-travel status, when government messing facilities are not available. Such authorizations are made in accordance with administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned. A member performing shore patrol duty, in a non-travel status, may elect to continue to receive BAS instead of the shore patrol subsistence. When the shore patrol subsistence allowance is elected, prorate BAS otherwise payable as in paragraph 250407, below.

★250406. BAS Rates (Effective 1 January 1997).

★A When permitted to mess separately:

E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty)
$6.79 per day.

E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9
$7.36 per day.

★B. When rations in kind are not available:

E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty)
$7.65 per day.

E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9
$8.30 per day.

★C. When assigned to duty under emergency conditions within the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) where government messing facilities are not available:

E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty)
$10.16 per day.

E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9
$10.99 per day.

250407. Prorating Subsistence Allowance

A. When To Prorate BAS. Enlisted members may receive prorated BAS for that part of a day:

1. Before beginning or after end of shore patrol duty (not in travel status) at the BAS rate authorized at the permanent station when shore patrol subsistence allowance is elected.

2. Before beginning or after end of travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) or hospitalized status at the BAS rate authorized at the permanent station. Proration not required when authorized to mess separately at the permanent station.

3. Before beginning or after end of TDY/TAD to field or sea duty, at the BAS rate authorized at the permanent station, when no travel time is required before reporting to and subsequent to detaching from such duty.

4. After beginning or before end of travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) or hospitalized status at the "when permitted to mess separately" BAS rate (or "emergency ration rate," where authorized). Proration not required when authorized to mess separately at the permanent station.

5. During which proper authority has determined that a government messing facility is in fact not available at the permanent station. Prorate at the "when rations in kind are not available" rate. (Applies to Table 25-4, rule 3.) (Example: Mess is closed for reasons beyond the control of the installation commander, such as equipment failure.)

6. During which their assigned duties in a non-travel status require them to be absent from their permanent station and their working hours or duties prevent them from eating certain meals in a government mess when they are normally subsisted in kind.

B. Divisions of the Day. The following hours are established as reasonable divisions of the day for the purpose of prorating BAS. Prorate BAS at the authorized rate for times at or before and after these hours as applicable:

0700.....	Breakfast
1200.....	Lunch
1800.....	Dinner

★C. Prorated Subsistence Allowance. The prorated BAS applicable for each meal at the "when permitted to mess separately" rate is as follows:

1. E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty) (Effective 1 January 1997):

a. Breakfast.....	$1.35
b. Lunch.....	$2.72
c. Dinner.....	$2.72
Total per day.....	$6.79
2. E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9 (Effective 1 January 1997):

a. Breakfast.....	$1.48
b. Lunch.....	$2.94
c. Dinner.....	$2.94
Total per day.....	$7.36

★D. Prorated Subsistence Allowance. The prorated BAS applicable for each meal at the "when rations in kind are not available" rate is as follows:

1. E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty) (Effective 1 January 1997):

a. Breakfast.....	$1.53
b. Lunch.....	$3.06
c. Dinner.....	$3.06
Total per day.....	$7.65

1 January 1997):

2. E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9 (Effective

- a. Breakfast..... $1.66
- b. Lunch.....$3.32
- c. Dinner $3.32

Total per day..... $8.30

★E. Prorated Subsistence Allowance. The prorated BAS applicable for each meal at the "emergency rations" rate is as follows:

1. E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty) (Effective 1 January 1997):

- a. Breakfast..... $2.04
- b. Lunch..... $4.06
- c. Dinner $4.06

Total per day.....$10.16

January 1997):

2. E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9 (Effective 1

- a. Breakfast..... $2.19
- b. Lunch..... $4.40
- c. Dinner $4.40

Total per day.....$10.99

250408. Supplemental Subsistence Allowance

A. Enlisted members granted permission to mess separately at their permanent station may receive the supplemental allowance at the amounts allowable for each meal as shown in subparagraph B, below, when:

1. Their assigned duties in a non-travel status require them to be absent from their permanent station and their working hours or duties require them to buy a meal or meals from other than a government mess.

2. Proper authority has determined that a government mess is in fact not available for certain meals. (Example: Mess is closed for reasons beyond the control of the installation commander, such as equipment failure.)

★B. Rates applicable:

1. E-1 (less than 4 months' active duty) (Effective 1 January 1997):

- a. Breakfast..... $0.18
- b. Lunch..... $0.34
- c. Dinner $0.34

1997):

2. E-1 (4 months' or more active duty) through E-9 (Effective 1 Jan

- a. Breakfast..... $0.18
- b. Lunch..... $0.38
- c. Dinner $0.38

DETERMINATIONS OF IMPRACTICABILITY FOR USE OF A GOVERNMENT MESS BY ENLISTED MEMBERS
R U L E	A	B	C	D
	If	And	and	then
1	cost of providing the member transportation (government or commercial) between duty and mess would exceed rations in kind not available rate less the when permitted to mess separately rate			use of the government mess may be determined impracticable, subject to rules 4 and 5 (note 1).
2	time between mess and post of duty is 30 minutes or less each way by government transportation	there are no other extenuating circumstances		determination of impracticability will normally not be made. When time between mess and post of duty is more than 30 minutes, or there are extenuating circumstances, apply rule 3 below (note 1).
3	assigned duties of members are such that use of government mess would adversely affect their mission			impracticability determination may be made by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, or Secretary's designee, irrespective of other factors. Limit BAS to that authorized by Table 25-4, rule 4. See subparagraph 250203.C.
4	Member regularly performs duty outside a military installation (such as in a downtown office building)		messing facilities are available on base and normally used by members at this station	impracticability determination will not be made for full rations in kind not available rate. Limit BAS to that authorized by Table 25-4, rule 5 or 6.
5	Member lives in contract quarters at other than a government installation	member regularly performs duty at a government installation where mess is available and quarters are not available to single members	cost of providing the member transportation (government or commercial) between contract quarters assigned at other than a government installation mess would exceed the difference between the rations in kind not available rate and the when permitted to mess separately rate	determination of impracticability may be made for periods of off-duty (note 2). For amounts payable, see subparagraphs 250407.D or 250408.B.

NOTES:

1. Time and cost factors need not be applied for the noon meal when enlisted member's place of duty is not a military or naval installation.
2. A member is not entitled to BAS at the rations in kind not available rate during periods of leave, hospitalization, or travel status.

	If	and	and	and	then
1	an enlisted member's duty assignment is under unusual or emergency conditions, of limited duration and in an out-of-the-way place in the United States (notes 1, 2, 3, and 4)	government dining facilities are not available	quarters do not have cooking facilities and member is required to purchase all meals from a commercial restaurant or contract mess	the member incurs extraordinary expense in obtaining meals	Request authorization of the ERR (subparagraph 250202.B) (note 5).

NOTES:

1. ERR is not authorized outside the United States or in Alaska or Hawaii.
2. Unusual or emergency conditions are unforeseen and/or uncontrollable circumstances affecting normal duty conditions.
3. Limited duration is when anticipated assignment is for 180 days or less.
4. The duty location will be considered "out-of-the-way" when the distance or traveling time to the nearest government facilities is such that the use of those facilities would adversely affect performance of the member's duties.
5. The approving authority will use, as a standard, the national urban average cost for procuring three meals per day from commercial sources. Approval will be based upon the average cost as determined by the Runzheimer survey of major United States cities.

NOTES:

1. A member is not entitled to BAS at the rations in kind not available rate during periods of authorized leave, hospitalization, or travel status (TDY/TAD or PCS).
2. This rule applies only to those cases where the impracticability determination is made under Table 25-2, rule 3.
3. BAS at the rations in kind not available rate is not authorized for periods of absence, pass, or liberty. BAS at the when permitted to mess separately rate should be paid for these off-duty periods if permission to mess separately has been granted.
4. Entitlement begins on actual or constructive date of arrival home or other designated place, whichever date is earlier. (Compute constructive arrival date via authorized transportation mode based upon the rules and provisions of the JFTR, volume 1.)
5. For the purpose of BAS entitlement, the permanent station is that station where the dining facility is located. (Does not apply if there is no dining facility in the immediate geographic area.)
6. Applies when shipboard mess is closed while undergoing alterations, repairs or inactivation of ship, and rations are also not available in a shore mess.
7. All enlisted members, including those authorized to mess separately, are entitled to RIKNA whenever rations in kind are in fact not available, including periods when messing facilities are closed for one or more meals during a day.

NOTES:

- Members are entitled to BAS at the rate authorized when permission to mess separately is granted for the periods of authorized travel in connection with hospitalization and convalescent leave.
- Includes TDY, TAD, or PCS under permissive orders.
- Members will pay for meals eaten in a government mess either by cash or by collection from pay in accordance with Military Service regulations.
- Enlisted members on TDY/TAD at a station where proper authority has approved authorization for the emergency ration rate may receive BAS at that rate.

NOTES:

- Members receiving overseas station per diem allowance may continue to receive such in addition to BAS while on leave outside the United States, or in Alaska, or Hawaii.
- Enlisted members receiving BAS forfeit 1 day's BAS for each day of unauthorized absence.
- Members will pay for meals eaten in a government mess, or furnished by the hospital, either by cash or by collection from pay in accordance with the regulations of the Military Service concerned.
- If sentence to confinement is later disapproved or set aside, BAS is not payable for the period of confinement because the member was subsisted at government expense.

SUBJECT: Change to the DODFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding -Basic Allowance for Subsistence when On Temporary Duty, (DFAS Item G-82)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 29-98 to Chapter 25 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective January 1, 1998.

The purpose of this change is to include provisions for payment of Basic Allowance for Subsistence to enlisted members under orders for duty away from their permanent duty station. This change is the result of Section 605 of the FY 1998 National Defense Authorization Act and issuance of Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness) Memorandum of March 7, 1998. It is a complete chapter rewrite.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or (703) 602-5280.

CHAPTER 25

BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR SUBSISTENCE (BAS)

2501 GENERAL PROVISIONS

250101. Entitlement. Except as otherwise provided by law, members who are entitled to basic pay are entitled to BAS under the conditions set out in this chapter. Effective 1 January 1998, enlisted members being subsisted in kind are entitled to a Partial BAS payment as set forth in this chapter. Effective 1 January 1998, enlisted members temporarily assigned to duty away from their permanent duty station or to duty under field conditions at their permanent duty station are entitled to BAS at a rate not less than that which they had at their permanent duty station as set forth in this chapter.

A. Enlisted Members. These members may become entitled to one of the following types of BAS on a daily basis:

1. Full BAS at the rate:
 - a. When rations in kind are not available (RIKNA); or
 - b. When permission to mess separately is granted (SEPRATS); or
 - c. When emergency ration conditions are approved (EMRATS).
2. Partial BAS at the rate when subsisted in kind.

B. Officers. Generally, officers entitled to basic pay are entitled to a full BAS at all times on a monthly basis. Officers are not entitled to a partial BAS.

C. Advance Payments. Advance payment of BAS is authorized under the circumstances specified in part four, chapter 32.

D. Effect on Overseas Station Allowances. BAS under this chapter is in addition to the overseas cost of living allowances authorized by Joint Federal Travel Regulations Volume 1, (JFTR), Chapter 9, part B2 (reference (d)).

250102. Specialized Terms. Apply the following terms to BAS determinations:

A. Government Mess. See the Definitions.

B. Subsisted in Kind. Applies to enlisted members who do not receive any of the full BAS types because they are furnished meals or rations at no charge from an appropriated fund dining facility or are subsisted at no charge on behalf of the government.

C. Appropriated Fund (APF) Dining Facility. A generic term used in lieu of Government mess, general mess, dining hall, dining activity, dining facility, mess hall, galley, field kitchen, flight kitchen, or similar terms used to describe dining facilities funded totally by appropriated funds. It excludes activities operated by non-appropriated fund instrumentalities such as officer's mess, club, organized mess and all similar terms.

D. Subsisted at Government Expense. Applies to all members:

1. Subsisted in kind; or

2. Furnished meals or rations on behalf of the U.S. Government. Meals or rations furnished without charge by a government contractor or a foreign government or through a fellowship, grant or intern program while a member is receiving basic pay, either under the terms of a contract or agreement or on a complimentary basis are considered to be furnished on behalf of the U.S. government.

E. When Rations in Kind Are Not Available. Applies to enlisted members while on duty at a permanent station where a government mess is, in fact, not available or where it has been determined that it is impracticable for the government to furnish subsistence in kind.

F. When Permission To Mess Separately is Granted. Applies to enlisted members authorized to subsist themselves independently while on duty at a permanent station where a messing facility is available for subsisting them. The term also applies to enlisted members during periods of travel for which per diem or reimbursement is provided for meals and during authorized leave.

G. When Emergency Ration Conditions Are Approved. Applies to enlisted members assigned to permanent duty under conditions requiring extraordinary expenses for subsistence where no government messing facilities are available.

H. Partial BAS. Applies to enlisted members receiving basic pay who are being subsisted at government expense and not receiving any of the types of full BAS and who are not in basic training.

I. Supplemental Subsistence Allowance. The supplemental subsistence allowance is a per meal payment that, when added to the enlisted member's current BAS, brings the total to the RIKNA rate. Applies to enlisted members receiving Partial BAS for being subsisted in kind and to those receiving SEPRATS:

1. Whose assigned duties require them to be absent from their permanent station and/or their working hours or duties prevent them from obtaining certain meals from a mess operated by or on behalf of the government or require them to buy a meal or meals from other than a government mess; or

2. When proper authority determines that a mess operated by or on behalf of the government is, in fact, not available for part of a day. (Example: Mess is closed for reasons beyond the control of the installation commander, such as equipment failure.)

J. Field Duty. Any maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar operations in excess of 180 days where a member is subsisted in a mess operated by or on behalf of the government or with an organization drawing field rations.

K. Sea Duty. Service performed by a permanent party crewmember in a self-propelled vessel that is in an active status, in commission or in service, and is equipped with berthing and messing facilities.

L. Essential Unit Messing (EUM). Any group messing declared by appropriate authority as essential for operational readiness, the conduct of military operations or necessary for the effective conduct of training where members are required to use messing provided by or on behalf of the Government. Members are entitled to travel reimbursement for incidental expenses, but not for subsistence. Designation for essential unit messing shall be applied only to organizational units and to operational elements and detachments, not to individual service members.

M. Temporary Field Assignment (TFA). Any maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar operations of 180 days or less where a member is required to use messing provided by or on behalf of the Government. Member's travel reimbursement is the same as for field duty.

N. Temporary Afloat Assignment (TAA). Any service performed on a temporary duty basis in a self-propelled vessel that is in an active status, in commission or in service, where a member is required to use messing provided by or on behalf of the Government. Member's travel reimbursement is the same as for sea duty.

250201. BAS-Policy.

A. Normally, enlisted members in pay grades below E-7 who are assigned to single government quarters at their permanent duty station are subsisted in kind. For uniformity in making determinations, government messes available in the geographical area must be used to the fullest extent compatible with economy and efficiency.

B. Enlisted members undergoing basic training are subsisted in kind and not entitled to Partial BAS.

C. Except during basic training, enlisted members who are subsisted in kind are entitled to Partial BAS. Enlisted members on field duty (over 180 days) or permanent sea duty are subsisted in kind and entitled to Partial BAS. Note: Enlisted members serving on permanent sea duty, receiving Partial BAS and assigned to a private mess, such as an officer's wardroom or chief petty officer's mess, whose subsistence in kind ration entitlement is commuted to that mess, will have the commutation value limited to the difference between the current SEPRATS and the Partial BAS paid to the member.

D. Enlisted members on authorized leave (including proceed time, authorized delays en route between duty stations chargeable as leave, and convalescent leave) are entitled to full BAS at the SEPRATS rate, regardless of the BAS type authorized at their permanent duty station.

E. Enlisted members performing PCS travel (including TDY/TAD enroute) under orders away from their designated post of duty are entitled to full BAS at the SEPRATS rate, regardless of the BAS type authorized at their previous or subsequent permanent duty station.

F. Enlisted members performing regular or permissive TDY/TAD (not associated with PCS travel) or admitted to hospital as inpatients under orders away from their designated post of duty will retain the BAS entitlement they held at their permanent duty station, except that the rate will not be less than SEPRATS.

G. At the completion of basic training, enlisted members although entitled to Partial BAS, are not considered to be performing travel (TDY/TAD or PCS) under orders away from their designated post of duty (including processing) if such member:

1. Is a non-prior service enlisted member serving on a first tour of active duty,
2. Has not actually reported to a permanent duty station pursuant to orders directing such assignment, and
3. Is not actually traveling between stations pursuant to orders directing a change of station.

H. Enlisted members under orders for temporary field assignment, temporary afloat assignment, essential unit messing, or group travel, will retain the BAS (including Partial) and subsistence entitlement which they held at their permanent duty station. Note: Enlisted members serving on temporary afloat assignment, receiving Partial BAS and assigned to a private mess, such as an officer's wardroom or chief petty officer's mess, whose subsistence in kind ration entitlement is commuted to that mess, will have the commutation value limited to the difference between SEPRATS and the value of the Partial BAS paid to the member.

I. Enlisted members authorized to mess separately are entitled to full BAS at the SEPRATS rate.

J. Enlisted members serving under conditions where subsistence at government expense is not available or where it is impracticable to provide subsistence at government expense are entitled to full BAS at the RIKNA rate, except while on leave or travel.

K. Enlisted members receiving either Partial BAS or SEPRATS are entitled to a supplemental subsistence allowance when conditions are determined to warrant full BAS at the RIKNA rate for specific meals.

L. Officers are generally entitled to full BAS at all times except when in an excess leave status, absent without authority for more than 24 hours consecutive hours or otherwise not entitled to basic pay.

M. Enlisted members carried in a missing status are entitled to full BAS at the RIKNA rate. (See subparagraph 340302.)

N. When members of one or more Service perform duty under similar conditions at installations or are assigned to activities within the same area, the commanders will confer to ensure uniform determinations on the authorization of BAS. If commanders of more than one Service cannot agree on a uniform BAS rate, the senior officer within the area will report the differences, fully documented, through channels to the Secretary of Defense.

O. When members of more than one Service perform duty at an installation, the installation commander makes the BAS determinations. Such determinations are binding on all personnel of the DoD performing duty at that installation.

P. Military members may not receive a full BAS (SEPRATS, RIKNA, EMRATS or officer BAS) and meals or rations at no charge for the same period of service. Members in receipt of any type of full BAS must pay for meals and rations. This is a personal obligation of the individual. Meals or rations may be paid for with cash, by payroll deduction or by collection/reduction of otherwise entitled travel per diem. Meals or rations provided by or on behalf of the Government shall be paid for or charged at the rate set-by the Department of Defense Comptroller. Meals furnished by commercial air carriers (including AMC charter flights) are not meals furnished by a Government mess or on behalf of the Government.

250202. Determinations of Duty Under Emergency Conditions. Authorizations for BAS at the EMRATS rate may be granted only with the approval of the Secretary of the department concerned, or the Secretary's designee. This approval authority may not be redelegated.

A. Authorizations. Authorizations may be made for periods not to exceed 180 days. In approving original and subsequent authorizations, practicability and cost of establishing government messing or contract facilities must be considered.

B. Request for Approval. Requests for authorization approvals are submitted through channels to the applicable office below:

1. OASA, Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel (ATTN: DAPE-PRR-C), 300 Pentagon, Washington DC 20310-0300.

2. Chief of Naval Operations, (ATTN: N-130), 2 Navy Annex, Washington DC 20370-2020.

3. HQ USAF/DPRC, 1040 Air Force Pentagon, Washington DC 20330-1040.

4. Commandant of the Marine Corps (MPP) Washington DC 20380-0001.

250203. Determinations of Nonavailability and Impracticability.

A. When a Government Mess Is In Fact Not Available. The installation commander will determine if rations in kind are not available for enlisted members performing duty at that installation.

B. When Location of Government Mess Makes Its Use Impracticable. Commanding officers will determine when the location of a government mess, in relation to members' posts of duty, makes its use impracticable. See paragraph 250201 and Table 25-2 for policy guidance and rules for making such determinations.

C. When Mission Prevents Use of Government Mess. A determination of impracticability may be made by the Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designee for enlisted members whose assigned duties are such that use of a government mess would adversely affect their mission. Address recommendations for such determinations to the office listed in subparagraph 250202.B.

D. When Duty Prevents Use of Mess. Commanders or their designees may determine if members' assigned duties or unusual work hours prevent the members from eating certain meals in a government mess. See Table 25-4, rules 5 and 6 for criteria.

250204. Authorization To Mess Separately.

A. Separate Service regulations may provide automatic blanket authorization for enlisted members in pay grades E-7 and above and for enlisted members in pay grades E-1 and above who are residing with their dependents (except basic trainees). This includes members married to members, with no dependents, who reside together at the permanent station. In addition, members authorized single rate BAH are authorized to mess separately. Such authorizations are in effect continuously except as provided in paragraph 250302 or in the Service regulations.

B. Separate Service regulations may permit commanders (including enlisted commandant of the non-commissioned officer (NCO) Academy) to grant authorization to mess separately to enlisted members based on two factors such as: location of a member's residence, specialized duties, working hours, dining hall capacity, or distance to the mess hall. These factors are guidelines and should not be construed as all encompassing. Additional extenuating factors deemed appropriate by commanders (including enlisted commandant of the non-commissioned officer (NCO) Academy) may also be considered. Each application should be considered on its own merit.

C. The following is a list of applicable Service regulations:

1. Army Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with ALARACT message 061/98.

2. Navy and Marine Corps Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with the Naval Military Personnel Manual (reference (an)) or the current edition of Marine Corps Order 10110.33 (reference (ao)).

3. Air Force Members. Authorization to mess separately will be made in accordance with DFAS-DE 7073.1-M and DFAS-DE 7073.2-M (reference (ap)).

250205. Review of Determinations. Review of all determinations, except those pertaining to members who have been authorized to mess separately under subparagraph 250204.A, must be made annually or when conditions to entitlement change, or more frequently if necessary pursuant to paragraph 250202, subparagraphs 250203.A and B, and subparagraph 250204.B. Review is to ensure compliance with the policies outlined in this section. When review shows that existing determinations fail to meet requirements, they will be canceled.

2503 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

250301. Officers. Generally, officers are entitled to BAS regardless of grade or dependency status. Compute this allowance by the month, as for basic pay. See Table 25-1 for specific conditions of entitlement.

250302. Enlisted. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS on a daily basis. See tables 25-3 and 25-4 for specific conditions of entitlement.

A. Limitation. Authorization to mess separately cannot cover retroactive periods. However, this does not prevent payment of SEPRATS from the time of an oral authorization by proper authority if the oral approval of the member's request is promptly confirmed in writing.

B. Continuous Entitlements.

1. Enlisted members temporarily assigned to duty away from their permanent duty station and entitled to the same BAS they held at their permanent duty station will continue their BAS entitlement without interruption.

2. Enlisted members will continue their BAS entitlement without interruption upon discharge or retirement and reenlistment or recall to active duty at the same station within 24 hours.

3. Enlisted members receiving RIKNA will continue that entitlement without interruption during weekends, holidays, administrative absence, pass, or liberty.

C. Subsistence Allowance-Shore Patrol Duty. A member on sea duty or temporary afloat assignment who is assigned to temporary shore patrol duty is performing duty under orders away from their permanent duty station. They receive BAS as for other members on temporary duty. If they are entitled to Partial BAS at their permanent duty station and receive per diem or reimbursement for meals under the JFTR for their shore patrol duty, they become entitled to BAS at the SEPRATS rate. A member on shore duty performing shore patrol duty in the area of the permanent duty station will be entitled to BAS based upon the same factors used for others performing duties in the vicinity of the permanent duty station.

250303. Prorated and Supplemental Subsistence Allowances.

A. Any change among BAS types (see paragraph 250101A) or between full BAS and subsistence in kind, caused by a status change which extends beyond a single day, shall be credited on a full day basis without being prorated. The appropriate full day entitlements are as follows:

1. An enlisted member shall be entitled to BAS at the SEPRATS rate for any day they are under orders for leave or PCS travel. This includes the day of commencement and day of termination of the status under those orders.

2. An enlisted member entitled to Partial BAS at their permanent duty station shall be entitled to BAS at the SEPRATS rate for any day under orders for TDY/TAD (other than TAA, TFA, EUM or group travel) or as a hospital inpatient. This includes the day of commencement and day of termination of the status under those orders.

3. An enlisted member assigned to permanent sea duty or field duty (over 180 days) shall be entitled to Partial BAS for full days in such status. The day they enter and the day they terminate permanent sea duty they shall be entitled to a full day of BAS at the rate to which they are otherwise authorized.

4. An enlisted member who changes BAS status (to include termination) at the direction or under permission/direction of a commander, under blanket authority, or at their own request; shall have the entitlement change take effect at the beginning of the day specified.

B. BAS will be supplemented only for individual meals that are missed or not available due to impracticability, duty requirements, or temporary dining facility closure.

2504 BAS RATES

250401. Current rates for full and Partial BAS are in Table 25-5.

2505 MEAL COLLECTION RATES

250501. Any member receiving a full BAS type must pay for all meals and rations provided to them by or on behalf of the government. All meals furnished by or on behalf of the U.S. Government will be charged at the rates established annually by the USD Comptroller. There are two daily rates for meals, the discount rate and the standard rate. The current rates for meal collections are in Table 25-7.

A. As described in Volume 12, Chapter 19, of this Regulation, the discount meal rate applies to meals and rations provided by or on behalf of the U.S. Government to a member on full BAS and not receiving per diem for subsistence, who is performing duty under the following circumstances:

1. On sea duty or temporary afloat assignment,
2. On field duty or temporary field assignment,
3. Under group travel,
4. Under essential unit messing,
5. On a U.S. Government aircraft (passengers or crew),

6. On Joint Task Force (JTF) operations with reduced per diem as specified in the Joint Federal Travel Regulations paragraph U4800 (when the operation is for purposes other than training and the base sites are temporary installations or the dining facilities are temporary establishments.)

B. The standard meal rate applies to meals and rations provided by or on behalf of the Government to any member not authorized the discount meal rate. The standard meal rate applies to any member entitled to per diem for subsistence, except those on Joint Task Force Operations as described in subparagraph A.

C. All members receiving any type of full BAS and not on per diem orders, in the following listed categories, will have the collections for meals deducted from their pay account. The collections will be for full days at the discount meal rate, except that the first and last day will be collected at 25% of the discount meal rate. Exception to pay account collection will be made for any meals paid in full by the individual in cash.

1. Sea duty or temporary afloat assignment,
2. Field duty or temporary field assignment,
3. Group travel,
4. Essential unit messing.

D. Generally, in circumstances other than those listed above, members receiving full BAS will pay for meals in cash or by collection/reduction of subsistence per diem from their travel claims. Members on JTF operations, under per diem travel orders, will generally have the subsistence portion of their per diem withheld or deducted from their travel reimbursement as payment for meals provided in theater. Members on regular TDY/TAD travel who receive deductible meals (meals at no cost) have the subsistence portion of their per diem reduced as payment for meals provided on behalf of the government.

E. Members being subsisted on behalf of the government, where no other collection means exists, should have collection for meals made through their pay account at the appropriate rate.

250502. Collections from individual pay accounts, for meals and rations provided by the government or on behalf of the government, will be credited to the appropriation specified by each military Service.

NOTES:

- Members are entitled to BAS at the rate authorized at their permanent duty station for the periods of authorized travel in connection with hospitalization and convalescent leave.
- Includes TDY/TAD under permissive orders.
- Meals or rations provided by or on behalf of the U.S. Government will be paid for by cash or collection from pay or per diem at the rate specified by the DoD Comptroller (see Table 25-7). Enlisted members receiving full BAS (SEPRATS, RIKNA or EMRATS) will be charged for all meals and rations available, whether eaten or not, when under orders for temporary field or temporary afloat assignments, essential unit messing, group travel, or when use of meals provided by or on behalf of the U.S. Government is directed by the commander or commanding officer. An enlisted member is not entitled to full BAS if furnished meals without charge.
- Members receiving overseas cost of living allowance may continue to receive such in addition to BAS while on leave outside the United States, or in Alaska, or Hawaii.
- Enlisted members receiving BAS forfeit 1 day's BAS for each day of unauthorized absence.
- Members will pay for meals eaten in a Government mess, or furnished by the hospital, either by cash or by collection from pay in accordance with the regulations of the Service concerned.
- If sentence to confinement is later disapproved or set aside, Partial BAS is payable for the period of confinement because the member was subsisted at Government expense.

NOTES:

1. A member is not entitled to BAS at the rations in kind not available rate during periods of authorized leave, or PCS travel status.
2. This rule applies only to those cases where the impracticability determination is made under Table 25-2, rule 3.
3. BAS at the rations in kind not available rate is not authorized for periods of absence, pass, or liberty. BAS at the when permitted to mess separately rate should be paid for these off-duty periods if permission to mess separately has been granted.
4. Entitlement begins on actual or constructive date of arrival home or other designated place, whichever date is earlier. (Compute constructive arrival date via authorized transportation mode based upon the rules and provisions of the JFTR, volume 1.)
5. For the purpose of BAS entitlement, the permanent station is that station where the dining facility is located. (Does not apply if there is no dining facility in the immediate geographic area.)
6. Applies when shipboard mess is closed while undergoing alterations, repairs or inactivation of ship, and rations are also not available in a shore mess.
7. All enlisted members, including those authorized to mess separately, are entitled to RIKNA whenever rations in kind are in fact not available, including periods when messing facilities are closed for one or more meals during a day.

NOTES:

1. Collections from pay under this table will be made only when a member is in receipt of a full BAS type and has not otherwise paid for meals provided at government expense (i.e., by cash, by personal check or charge, or by deduction/reduction of per diem). Collections from pay will be deducted from the member's pay account and credited to the appropriation specified by the military Service.
2. The discount meal rate applies to meals and rations provided by or on behalf of the U.S. Government to a member on full BAS (not entitled to per diem or other travel reimbursement for subsistence) who is performing duty in a U.S. Government vessel, a U.S. Government aircraft, on maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar operations, in a group travel status, or under essential unit messing. The discount meal rate also applies to meals and rations provided to a member assigned to Joint Task Force operations (for other than training) at temporary U.S. installations, or through a temporary dining facility. Meals furnished on behalf of the government means any meals or rations provided to a member receiving basic pay who receives subsistence free of personal charge from any source other than the government of the United States, or the treasury of a municipality or county or State within the U.S. and includes contractors, foreign governments, fellowships, grants, intern programs and other such sources.
3. The standard meal rate applies to meals and rations provided to any member not authorized the discount meal rate. This includes any member entitled to per diem for subsistence, except those on Joint Task Force Operations as described in note 2. Generally, when the standard meal rate is applicable, it will be collected, in cash from the member, by the dining facility.

SUBJECT: Change to the DODFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Meal Collection Rates for FY-99, (DFAS Item H-24)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 37-98 to Chapter 25 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective October 1, 1998.

This change updates the meal collection rates used for military payroll deductions under prescribed conditions. These rates have been issued by the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense, Comptroller for fiscal year 1999. The new daily discount meal rate of $6.15 will also require resetting the values to be charged on the first and last days of temporary field and temporary afloat assignments. At 25 percent of the discount meal rate, the new partial day rate is $1.54.

Due to the routine nature, non-interpretive aspect and minimal perceived systems impact of this change, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or (703) 602-5280.

MEAL COLLECTION RATES FOR FY-99

1. Make the following changes to Table 25-7:

a. Change the effective date in the table heading to read: effective 1 October 1998.

b. Replace the current collection rates in column "C" with the following:

Rule	Rate
1	$1.25
2	$2.45
3	$2.45
4	$6.15
5	$1.50
6	$3.00
7	$3.00
8	$7.50

2. Make the following changes to the bibliography under Table 25-7:

a. remove the citation: OUSD Memo, 26 Sep 1997.

b. insert a new citation: OUSD(C) Memo, 18 Sep 1998.

CHAPTER 26

BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR QUARTERS (BAQ)2601 GENERAL PROVISIONS260101. Entitlements

A. BAQ is payable to members on active duty according to the pay grade in which serving or appointed for basic pay purposes, as set forth in this chapter. See Table 26-9 for monthly rate.

B. In all cases involving enlisted members and in the cases of officers claiming BAQ for their parents, all waivers and determinations, including determination of dependency and relationships, are made by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned or by persons designated by the Secretary. The designee may redelegate this authority.

260102. Determining Dependency or Relationship for BAQ Entitlements, Army and Air Force Personnel. Determinations are made by offices shown in Table 26-1.

260103. Determining Dependency or Relationship for BAQ Entitlements, Navy and Marine Corps Personnel. Determinations are made by offices shown in Table 26-2.

260104. Fraudulent Claims. Any member who submits a claim for BAQ which contains false statements is subject to court-martial or criminal prosecution. In addition, fraudulent acceptance of benefits may cause the civilian recipient to be subject to criminal prosecution. The law provides for severe penalties of imprisonment and a fine. For military personnel, it can include dishonorable separation, total forfeitures, and confinement.

260105. Government Quarters-Responsibility for Assignment or Termination of Assignment. The base or installation commander assigns and terminates quarters. The commander also determines when quarters are "adequate" and "suitable" for assignment. government quarters or housing facilities under control of the Uniformed Services will be considered as assigned, suitable, and adequate whenever occupied by a member at the permanent station without payment of rental charges. This applies also to quarters furnished a member without charge:

- A. By an organization or institution on behalf of the United States; or
- B. By a foreign government for the member's official use; and
- C. When jointly assigned to one or more single members.

D. When member voluntarily vacates assigned quarters without approval of the installation commander. (Grade E-7 and above, without dependents, may elect not to occupy assigned quarters unless denied permission by the Secretary concerned; see paragraph 260201,

260106. Occupancy of Rental Quarters at United States Military Academy. A member is entitled to BAQ while renting quarters in the hotel on the grounds of the United States Military Academy.

260107. Computation

A. Computing BAQ. BAQ is computed in the same way as basic pay.

B. BAQ for Date of Assignment of Quarters. Except when a member is entitled to BAQ in accordance with Tables 26-3, 26-4, and 26-5, BAQ continues to accrue through the day before the date a member is assigned government quarters or begins to occupy (unassigned quarters on a non-rental basis up to 90 days) government quarters at the permanent station.

C. BAQ for Date of Termination of Quarters. BAQ begins to accrue (except as indicated in Tables 26-3, 26-4, and 26-5) on the date the assignment to government quarters is terminated, the date that quarters are vacated, or on the permanent change of station (PCS) departure date of the member and his/her dependents. (See Table 26-6.)

260108. Allowance for Quarters to Surviving Dependents. For payment of allowance for quarters to surviving dependents of members who die in the line of duty, see Chapter 36, section 3603 of this volume.

260109. Advance of Housing Allowances. Advances of BAQ, overseas housing allowance, and variable housing allowance may be authorized under the terms and conditions in the JFTR, volume 1, Chapters 8 and 9 (reference (d)).

2602 MEMBERS WITHOUT DEPENDENTS

★260201. Entitlements

★A. General. Members without dependents who are entitled to basic pay are entitled to BAQ at rates prescribed in Table 26-9 and conditions contained in Table 26-3. Members without dependents in pay grades E-7 and above, may elect at any time not to occupy government quarters at the permanent station and become entitled to BAQ unless the Secretary of the Military Service concerned or the Secretary's designee, has determined that the member's exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness. See Table 26-3, rule 6 through 8 for BAQ entitlements while on field or sea duty.

★B. Members in Pay Grade E-6 not on Sea Duty. Effective on or after 1 July 1996, a member without dependents who is in pay grade E-6 and who is assigned to quarters of the United States that do not meet the minimum adequacy standards established by the Department of Defense for members in such pay grade, or to a housing facility under the jurisdiction of a Uniformed Service that does not meet such standards, may elect not to occupy such quarters or facility and instead to receive the BAQ prescribed for the member's pay grade. The Secretary of the Military Service concerned, or the Secretary's designee, can deny BAQ if determined that the member's exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness.

★C. Members on Sea Duty. See Table 26-3, rule 8 for BAQ entitlements while on sea duty.

★1. Members without dependents in grade E-5 assigned to sea duty. On or after 1 July 1997, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned, the Secretary concerned may authorize the payment of BAQ to a member of a Uniformed Service without dependents who is serving in pay grade E-5 and is assigned to sea duty. In prescribing regulations under this subparagraph, the Secretary concerned shall consider the availability of quarters for members serving in pay grade E-5.

★2. Member married to member in grades below E-6 and both are assigned to sea duty. On or after 1 July 1997, two members of the Uniformed Services in a pay grade below pay grade E-6 who are married to each other, have no other dependents, and are simultaneously assigned to sea duty are jointly entitled to one BAQ allowance during the period of such simultaneous sea duty. The amount of the allowance shall be based on the without dependents rate for pay grade of the senior member of the couple. However, this subparagraph will not apply to a couple if one or both of the members are entitled (E-6 and above) or authorized (E-5) to BAQ identified in subparagraph 260201.C.1, above.

260202. Uninhabitable Quarters Aboard Ship

A. A member may be reimbursed for expenses (not to exceed the total of the BAQ of a member of the same grade without dependents and the variable housing allowance that could be paid to a member of the same pay grade in accordance with the JFTR, volume 1 (reference (d)) incurred in obtaining quarters when the official certifies that:

1. Such a member is prevented from occupying quarters assigned aboard a ship on which the member is serving on sea duty because such quarters are uninhabitable due to repairs, overhaul, conversion, or other conditions; and

2. Government quarters are not available; and

3. The hire of quarters is not practicable. A member entitled to BAQ may not be reimbursed for expenses under the conditions of this paragraph when such member can reside with dependents who are living in the area of the ship's location. A member's dependents are considered to be living in the area of the ship's location when the residence is within a distance of 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time), one-way, of such location or the member actually commutes daily, regardless of distance. The term "commutes daily" excludes duty periods when the member is required to remain aboard or within close proximity to the ship.

See paragraph 270203 for application of the distance and travel time restriction.

B. Request for reimbursement for expenses in place of quarters must be approved by the Chief of Naval Operations (OP-134).

C. The certification may be signed by the supervisor of shipbuilding of any shipyard or dry-dock where United States naval ships are undergoing repair or conversion.

D. These provisions are effective through 30 September 1992.

E. The provisions of subparagraphs A through D, above, expire after 30 September 1992 with respect to enlisted members and apply thereafter to officers only. The reimbursement, however, is limited to an amount equal to the basic allowance for quarters of an officer of that officer's grade. This provision shall not apply to an officer who is entitled to basic allowance for quarters.

260203. Reserve Component Members (See Definitions). A Reserve Component member without dependents who is called or ordered to active duty on or after 5 December 1991, in support of a contingency operation (other than a member who is authorized transportation of household goods as a part of the call or order), is entitled to BAQ at the without-dependent rate, if the member is unable to continue to occupy his/her primary residence because of the call or order to active duty. This applies when the residence is maintained as the primary residence of the member when called or ordered to active duty and is owned by the member or for which the member is responsible for rental payments.

260204. Missing Status. Members without dependents carried in a missing status are entitled to BAQ at the without dependent rate. (See paragraph 350103.B.)

260205. Partial BAQ Entitlement

A. A member without dependents who is assigned to single-type quarters or is on field or sea duty, and is not entitled to receive a basic allowance for quarters, is entitled to partial BAQ at the rates provided in Table 26-9.

B. Conditions

1. A member without dependents assigned to single-type government quarters at the permanent station and entitled to partial BAQ who is subsequently sick in a hospital (no PCS involved), continues to be entitled to partial BAQ while hospitalized.

★2. A member grade E-6 or below, without dependents, who is offered an assignment of government quarters, or is assigned adequate government quarters but elects not to occupy such quarters and resides in private quarters at own expense, is considered assigned to government quarters and not entitled to BAQ. Therefore, such member is entitled to partial BAQ.

3. Partial BAQ is not authorized during proceed time, leave en route, and/or travel time on PCS unless member is assigned to single-type government quarters and not entitled to BAQ.

4. A member married to another member, who has no dependents other than his or her spouse, is entitled to partial BAQ when assigned to single-type government quarters and not entitled to BAQ. However, such members assigned to family-type government quarters are not entitled to partial BAQ.

5. A member occupying single-type government quarters whose dependents reside in family-type government quarters, is not entitled to BAQ and, therefore, is entitled to partial BAQ, provided the family quarters are not assigned under the member's eligibility.

6. A single member without dependents is not entitled to partial BAQ when assigned to family-type government quarters.

7. A member without dependents on sea duty being reimbursed under paragraph 260202, above, for the expense incurred for quarters when the quarters aboard ship are uninhabitable is entitled to partial BAQ.

8. A member without dependents confined in a guardhouse, brig, or correctional barracks, who was assigned to single-type government quarters before confinement and remains assigned to such quarters during confinement, is entitled to partial BAQ unless forfeiture of allowance was directed.

9. A member without dependents who is restrained in a status of arrest in assigned single-type government quarters, and therefore not entitled to BAQ, is entitled to partial BAQ unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

10. A member without dependents being treated at a hospital (PCS involved) and assigned quarters in the hospital is entitled to partial BAQ.

11. A member married to another member, neither having other dependents, who is assigned to sea duty and occupies government family quarters assigned to the spouse when vessel is in port, is considered a member without dependents assigned to quarters on the vessel and is not entitled to BAQ, but is entitled to partial BAQ.

12. A member without dependents who is ordered PCS to confinement in a guardhouse, brig, correctional barracks, or to additional training in a retraining or rehabilitation facility, is assigned to certain quarters therein and not entitled to BAQ, is entitled to partial BAQ unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

13. A member without dependents assigned to single-type government quarters between permanent duty stations and not entitled to BAQ is entitled to partial BAQ. This includes periods in excess of 30 days' government quarters are temporarily occupied without entitlement to BAQ.

14. Member without dependents is not entitled to partial BAQ when assigned to government single-type quarters (including government-leased quarters) that substantially exceed the minimum standards of single quarters for the member's grade.

2603 MEMBERS WITH DEPENDENTS

260301. Entitlements

A. When Entitled To BAQ. A member with dependents who is entitled to basic pay is entitled to BAQ at the rates prescribed for members with dependents when:

1. Adequate government quarters are not furnished for the member and dependents without payment of rental charge.

2. Adequate government quarters are not furnished for the member's dependents, or dependents are prevented by competent authority from occupying such quarters, even though quarters are assigned for the member's occupancy. Does not apply to the provisions of paragraph 260409, below.

3. Dependents are not en route or do not accompany the member to the permanent duty station, or the vicinity thereof, so as to preclude assignment of family quarters. Under such circumstances, the mere availability of quarters which could have been assigned does not defeat the right of a member to the basic allowance for quarters for dependents.

B. Naval Aviation Cadets. A naval aviation cadet with dependents is entitled to BAQ under the conditions and at the rates prescribed for an enlisted member in pay grade E-4 (over 4 years' service) with dependents.

C. Limitation on Quarters Occupied by Member. When adequate quarters are not furnished for a member's dependents, the member may not occupy, either at the permanent or TDY station, government quarters that exceed the minimum standards for the member's grade without dependents without affecting the right to BAQ, unless the only quarters available:

1. Exceed the minimum standards; and

2. Are made available for joint occupancy with other members.

D. Quarters Occupied During Special Duty Assignment. A member, not accompanied by dependents, serving outside the United States, its territories, or possessions, in a duty assignment having official or diplomatic responsibilities involving officials of foreign governments, may be assigned to quarters that exceed the minimum standards for the member's grade without dependents, without affecting the member's right to BAQ. However, such quarters shall not be available on a continuing basis for single occupancy, if they are adequate for assignment as family housing to members of similar grade.

E. Additional Room Assigned to Chaplain. Assignment of an additional room to a chaplain for spiritual purposes does not affect the member's right to BAQ. The room must be used for official duties and not as living quarters.

260302. Government Quarters Assigned or Occupied

A. Adequacy of Government Quarters. The term "Government quarters or housing facilities" is in the Definitions section of this volume. The base, post, or installation commander determines when government quarters are adequate and appropriate for assignment.

B. Quarters Not Designated as Family-Type Quarters. A member who neither is assigned to nor occupies government quarters is entitled to BAQ for dependents even though the dependents occupy government quarters not designated as family-type quarters. Examples of such quarters are:

1. One room occupied by a member's spouse incident to employment as a domestic servant in quarters of a commissioned officer.

2. Dormitory quarters occupied by a member's child at a school for dependents of military personnel.

3. A hospital room occupied by a dependent under the Dependents' Medical Care Act (reference (aq)). However, a member is not entitled to BAQ when a sole dependent is hospitalized in a government or civilian hospital under the Dependents' Medical Care Act (reference (aq)) and the member is assigned to and occupies government quarters (even though private quarters are maintained and occasionally occupied).

4. Off base housing, non-government quarters, occupied by member's civilian spouse incident to employment overseas with Department of Defense Dependent Schools as a schoolteacher.

NOTE: Member is separated from spouse by competent orders.

C. Quarters Furnished on Behalf of the United States. A member is not entitled to BAQ for dependents if the member and dependents are furnished adequate family quarters on behalf of the United States without rental charge. Examples of such quarters are:

1. Family quarters furnished a member in an official capacity by a foreign government.

2. Family-type quarters furnished by a state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospital to an officer serving on active duty as an intern or resident physician.

3. Family-type quarters furnished by a college, university, or research facility as part of a fellowship, scholarship or grant.

D. Quarters Occupied by Dependents. A member furnished single-type quarters is not entitled to BAQ on behalf of:

1. A spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished quarters in kind as a civilian employee at a government hospital.

2. A spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished government quarters overseas while serving with the American Red Cross.

3. A sole dependent who is a student nurse in training at a government hospital. However, BAQ is payable on behalf of a dependent who is a student nurse in training at a civilian hospital.

4. A civilian spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished government quarters while assigned overseas with Department of Defense Dependent Schools as a schoolteacher.

5. Dependents evacuated from a danger area, who occupy government housing facilities at a safehaven. (See subparagraph 260302.G, below, for exception when member must continue to pay for private housing).

6. Dependents, alone or when accompanied by the member, who occupy government quarters assigned to another member for more than 90 days at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Visits of 90 days or less are considered temporary social visits and do not cause loss of BAQ. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.

7. Any dependent(s), if one or more of the member's dependents occupy the quarters with the member on a permanent basis or on a social visit in excess of 30 consecutive days, unless other dependents are precluded by competent orders from residing with the member.

E. Quarters Occupied by Dependents During Member's Sea Duty or Field Duty. A member whose dependents occupy public quarters while the member is on sea duty or field duty is entitled to BAQ for a period not to exceed 30 days. (See Table 26-5, rule 2.)

F. Rental Quarters (Other Than Inadequate Quarters). A member and dependents who occupy the following facilities on a rental basis are entitled to BAQ. (See Definitions for "Rental Charge.")

1. Any housing facilities, including trailers, under the jurisdiction of the government other than public quarters constructed or designated for occupancy without charge. The member may sublease such quarters to a temporary sublessee with or without charge and neither the sublessor nor sublessee will lose their right to BAQ.

2. The hotel on the grounds of the United States Military Academy.

3. Quarters furnished a member in connection with service in a capacity other than that of a member; for example, while serving under Panama Canal employment.

G. Quarters at Safehaven Temporarily Occupied by Dependents. A member is entitled to otherwise proper credit of BAQ for dependents when:

1. The member's dependents occupy government-provided housing at a safehaven area after emergency evacuation from private housing at the permanent station; and

2. Due to conditions beyond the member's control is required to continue payment of rental for the private housing in order to house furnishings and belongings and to have quarters available upon return of the dependents.

3. This entitlement will continue until such time as dependents are authorized to return to member's permanent duty station or arrive at a designated place as contemplated by JFTR, volume 1, part C, chapter 5, paragraph U5240A (reference (d)).

H. Lease on Private Rental Quarters. When a member is ordered to make a local move from private, leased quarters to government housing, BAQ is payable for the remainder of the lease on the private quarters, up to a maximum of 30 days, provided the member is required to honor the lease.

260303. Quarters Designated as Inadequate Quarters

A. Entitlement to BAQ. A member with dependents may be assigned designated inadequate quarters on a rental basis without loss of BAQ. This does not apply to bachelor officer quarters, visiting officer quarters, guest houses, and similar type facilities, or to assigned quarters undergoing ordinary repairs. Orders stating that quarters were inadequate while repairs were being made do not operate to authorize BAQ during the period involved.

B. Effect of Subleasing Inadequate Quarters. The member may share the quarters with others or permit occupancy by others while on leave of absence. The member may also sublet the quarters on a rental basis without loss of BAQ, the amount of rent being immaterial.

C. Rental Charge for Inadequate (Substandard) Quarters. Collect rent from the member at the fair rental value of the quarters, as established by base housing personnel. The rental charge for the quarters will be the fair rental value of such quarters, not to exceed 75 percent of the member's with dependent BAQ rate. Rental charge is completely independent of the amount and type of BAQ being paid to the member. See also subparagraph 260302.G, above, for assignment of inadequate quarters to members married to one another. A member's receipt of BAQ-DIFF will not directly affect the rental charge.

D. Effective Date of BAQ and Rental Charge. BAQ and rental charge begin on the date of the member's assignment to such quarters or on the date the determination of inadequacy is effective, whichever is later.

E. Computation of BAQ and Rental Charge. Compute BAQ and rental charge on a 30-day month basis and prorate at one thirtieth of the monthly rate for each day inadequate quarters are assigned. Do not pay BAQ or charge rent for the 31st day of a month. Pay BAQ for 3 days and charge rent for 3 days when inadequate quarters are assigned on the 28th of February. Do not charge rent for the day the assignment is terminated. BAQ accrues for the day of termination if government quarters are not occupied on that day.

F. Inadequate Quarters Redesignated Adequate. Rental charges and BAQ cease on and after the date rehabilitated inadequate quarters are redesignated as adequate public quarters. If a member's assignment was continued during the period of rehabilitation, the redesignation of adequacy will be made effective as of the first day of the month following the month in which the rehabilitation was completed.

G. Husband and Wife Entitled to BAQ. When a husband and wife are both members who jointly occupy inadequate family quarters on a rental basis, use Table 26-4 to determine their respective BAQ entitlements just as if they were residing off base with appropriate permission. The rental charge for the quarters will be the fair rental value of the assigned inadequate family-type quarters, but will never exceed 75 percent of the with dependent BAQ rate which would be payable to a member of the same grade and rank as the member under whose eligibility the quarters are assigned. The amount of BAQ being paid to the respective members does not affect the amount of rent charged, even where a member is receiving BAQ-W/O as well as BAQ-DIFF. Collect as follows:

1. Army and Air Force Members. Compute the applicable rent as a percentage of the with-dependent BAQ rate for the member to whom the quarters are assigned and collect one half of the rent from each member, without regard to the fact that the members may be of different grades or ranks.

2. Navy and Marine Corps Members. Collect the entire rental charge from pay account of the member to whom the quarters are assigned. Do not collect any rent from the other member. This may mean that the rental charge may exceed the BAQ being paid to the member to whom the quarters are assigned. For inter-Service marriages, the rental charge will be collected in accordance with the policy of the Military Service furnishing the quarters.

H. Rental Charge for One Member Entitled to BAQ at the Without Dependent Rate. When one member, entitled to BAQ at the without-dependent rate, occupies inadequate family quarters, the rental charge is based on the with-dependents BAQ rate of the member and computed as in subparagraph 260303.C, above. Situations contemplated by this paragraph may arise when in the case of a member married to a member, there is a divorce, legal separation, or separation resulting from military orders.

260304. Dependent. The term "dependent" for BAQ purposes is the same as defined in the Definitions.

A. A member is not entitled to BAQ on behalf of:

1. A minor child who is entitled to basic pay as a member on active duty in a Uniformed Service. This includes a minor child attending one of the Military Service academies where quarters are furnished by the United States.

2. A spouse who is on active duty in a Uniformed Service of the United States and entitled to basic pay and allowances in his or her own right. When both spouses are in the Military Service and entitled to basic pay and allowances. (See Table 26-4 for guide to BAQ entitlement.)

3. A dependent for whom the member has been absolved of the requirement to provide support (for example, due to desertion without cause or marital infidelity).

4. A dependent whose whereabouts is unknown and whose absence or whereabouts remains unexplained.

5. A former spouse to whom the member is paying alimony ordered by a divorce decree.

6. A dependent who occupies government quarters as a permanent residence without payment of a rental charge. (See paragraph 260411, below, for exception.)

B. A member is entitled to BAQ on behalf of a spouse in military service of a government other than the United States. This applies even though furnished quarters or paid a monetary allowance in lieu of quarters by that government.

C. Dependency must be approved before entitlement to BAQ is authorized. After initial approval, the Military Services shall maintain adequate levels of internal audit to assure the legality, propriety, and correctness of all disbursements for BAQ. See individual Military Service regulations for procedures.

D. Each member (includes Reserve Component member) who is entitled to BAQ on behalf of dependents must, when called upon, provide an annual certification to the Secretary concerned indicating the status of each dependent of the member to support entitlement to BAQ on behalf of dependents. If a member fails to provide the certification in a timely manner, take action to stop the BAQ on behalf of dependents at the end of the month in which the certification is due, but continue to pay BAQ at the appropriate partial or without-dependent rate unless the member is not entitled to that allowance for some other reason. Resume paying BAQ at the with-dependent rate effective the date the member provides proper certification of entitlement. Do not pay the higher rate retroactively in the absence of certification from the member's commander that the failure to certify timely was for reasons beyond control of the member.

260305. Entitlement During Leave, Travel Status, etc. See Table 26-5.

260306. Effective Dates To Start and Stop BAQ See Tables 26-6, 26-7, and 26-8.

2604 RULES FOR DETERMINING RELATIONSHIP AND DEPENDENCY

260401. Application of Rules This section includes rules and factors used in determining relationship or dependency for BAQ entitlement. It is to be used:

A. By applicable officers in determining relationship or dependency for those classes of dependents for which they are authorized in Tables 26-1 or 26-2 to decide.

B. To guide applicable officers in counseling members about their rights to BAQ on behalf of dependents.

260402. Lawful Spouse and Legitimate, Unmarried, Minor Children. A member's lawful spouse and legitimate, unmarried, minor children are at all times considered dependents for BAQ purposes, except under the situations shown below and in subparagraphs 260304.A, above, or 260406, below. A determination of relationship is required, but usually a determination of dependency is not. In all instances of a member having a spouse on active duty, full details must be given showing full name, social security number, duty station, and branch of Military Service of that spouse.

A. When two members are married to each other, they may elect which member will receive BAQ on behalf of their adopted children or children born of their marriage. Such election must be agreed to by both members. If the members cannot agree as to the election, entitlement to BAQ for their children will rest with the senior member. Entitlement may later be transferred to the other member in the event of promotion or similar change of circumstances which would merit such transfer. When only a stepchild is involved, either the stepparent or the natural parent may claim that child for BAQ purposes. The stepparent must meet the requirements of paragraph 260409, below, to be entitled to BAQ on behalf of the stepchild. However, if the natural parent objects to the other member claiming the stepchild, then BAQ entitlement rests with the natural parent.

Elections to transfer BAQ entitlement on behalf of adopted children, stepchildren, and children born of the marriage from one member to the other can only be applied to BAQ entitlement from the date of the election. Such elections cannot be retroactively applied.

B. When one of two members married to each other is already receiving BAQ at the with-dependent rate, on behalf of an adopted child(ren), child(ren) from a previous marriage, or an illegitimate child(ren), then any child(ren) born of their marriage or adopted by them, is considered to be within the class of dependents for which the member is receiving BAQ, and the other member may not claim the children for BAQ purposes. However, if the member elects to stop receiving BAQ at the with-dependent rate, then the other member may claim the child(ren) of their marriage or adopted by them for BAQ purposes. When married members are assigned to different locations, pursuant to competent military orders, their entitlement to increased allowances or to government-furnished quarters should be determined separately, without regard to the general rule that all children of the members are dependents of the same class for the purpose of determining allowance entitlements. (See Table 26-4.)

C. When one of two members married to each other is receiving BAQ at the with-dependent rate on behalf of a dependent parent(s), then the other member would be entitled to BAQ at the with-dependent rate on behalf of child(ren) born of their marriage, their adopted child(ren), child(ren) of a previous marriage, or an illegitimate child(ren), provided government family quarters are not assigned or occupied and no other member is entitled to the BAQ on behalf of the child(ren) of a previous marriage or an illegitimate child(ren).

260403. Validity of Member's Marriage. Any case where the validity of a member's marriage is questioned is considered a case of doubtful relationship. Cases in this category include:

A. Remarriage Within Prohibited Period Following Divorce. Under the laws of some states, a marriage is not dissolved until a specified period has elapsed after granting of a divorce decree. Remarriage is prohibited within the specified period. Moreover, in all states which grant an interlocutory decree before they grant a final divorce decree, remarriage may not be contracted before the final decree is granted.

B. Marriage by Proxy. Proxy marriages are considered valid if performed in a jurisdiction which recognizes common-law marriages and has no statute or judicial determination prohibiting proxy marriages.

C. Marriage by Telephone. A marriage by telephone will be recognized as entitling a member to BAQ on behalf of a "lawful spouse" only if a statute or court decision authorizes or recognizes telephone marriages in the jurisdiction where the marriage was performed.

D. Common-Law Marriages. Under laws of certain states, an informal (common-law) marriage may be entered into by persons who do not obtain a license to marry or go through certain other formalities. Common-law marriages entered into in those states are considered valid if they are contracted in accordance with state law.

E. Foreign Nation Divorce. A foreign nation divorce may or may not be recognized as valid in the United States, depending on several factors. These factors include place of residence of the parties involved, whether they appeared in person to obtain the divorce, and applicable state laws. Any claim involving remarriage of a member following a foreign nation divorce and any claim by or on behalf of the spouse from whom the member has obtained a foreign nation divorce are cases of doubtful relationship. A claim based on a member's marriage to a person who has obtained a foreign nation divorce is also a doubtful case.

F. Purported Marriage

1. Void Marriage. If a member's marriage is void (because of a pre-existing marriage of the spouse, for example) the member has no lawful spouse and is not entitled to BAQ as a result of the purported marriage. When invalidity of the marriage is discovered, no further BAQ payments may be made for any period. (See Table 26-7, rule 4.) The member may retain payments already received if they are validated under Chapter 50, section 5005. When validity of a marriage is questionable, submit the case to the office shown in subparagraph F.3, below, for a determination on validity of the marriage and, if necessary, validation of payments already made.

2. Annulled Marriage. If a member's marriage is annulled by court decree, no further BAQ payments may be made for any period. (See Table 26-7, rule 3.) The member may retain payments received before the effective date of the decree. Since validation under Chapter 50, section 5005, is required for retention of such payments in some annulment cases (based on legal factors), submit all annulment cases to the office shown in subparagraph F.3, below, for review and, if necessary, validation of payments made.

3. Determination and Validations Submit requests for determination on validity of a marriage or for validation of payments to the appropriate address shown below:

260404. Child of Marriage Null in Law. An unmarried minor child of a ceremonial marriage null in law, or annulled as void or voidable, is an eligible dependent for BAQ purposes unless and until a court finds such child is illegitimate. See paragraph 260408, below, concerning entitlement to BAQ for an illegitimate child.

260405. Reserved

260406. Support of Dependent--General

A. Proof of support of a lawful spouse or unmarried, minor, legitimate child of a member generally is not required. However, when evidence (e.g. special investigation reports; record reviews; fraud, waste and abuse complaints; sworn testimony of individuals; statement by member) or complaints from dependents of nonsupport or inadequate support of dependents are received, proof of adequate support as stated in subparagraph E, below, will be required. Failure to support a dependent, on whose behalf BAQ is being received, will result in nonentitlement to BAQ and recoupment for periods of nonsupport or inadequate support. Unless a period of nonsupport or inadequate support was caused as a result of mission requirements of the Military Service concerned (e.g., remote assignment, deployed, limited access to administrative support and/or financial networks, etc.), or the actions of outside agencies (such as financial institutions, postal service, etc.) over which the member has no control, as determined by Military Service regulations, the subsequent payment of arrears of support does not entitle a member to with-dependent rate BAQ for the period of non-support or inadequate support. If a member is not entitled to BAQ for dependents under any of the subsequent subparagraphs, consider entitlement to without-dependent or partial-rate BAQ under section 2602, above.

B. Member Refuses or Does Not Provide Support. A member is not entitled to BAQ on behalf of a dependent the member refuses to support or does not support. The statutory purpose of with-dependent rate BAQ is to at least partially reimburse Military Service members for the expense of providing private quarters for their dependents when government quarters are not furnished, and not to grant the with-dependent rate of BAQ as a bonus merely for the technical status of being married or a parent. Unless a period of non-support or inadequate support was caused as a result of mission requirements of the Military Service concerned (e.g., remote assignment, deployed, limited access to administrative support and/or financial networks, etc.), or the actions of outside agencies (such as financial institutions, postal service, etc.) over which the member has no control, as determined by Military Service regulations, the subsequent payment of arrears of support does not entitle a member to with-dependent rate BAQ for the period of nonsupport or inadequate support.

NOTE: A member does not avoid the legal responsibility to comply with a court order for support by forfeiting BAQ.

C. Legal Separation Agreement or Court Decree, Judgment or Order Silent on Support, Not Stating Amount of Support, or Absolving Member of Support Responsibility. A legal separation agreement, court decree, judgment, or order that is silent on dependent support does not state the amount of dependent support, or absolve the member of dependent support responsibility, does not of itself deprive the member of BAQ for a lawful dependent(s) (as defined in the Definitions). This is true regardless of the jurisdiction in which the decree, agreement or order was issued or in which the dependent(s) are domiciled. The member is entitled to BAQ if he or she contributes to the support of the dependent(s) in the full amount of the BAQ, or a reasonable amount requested by or on behalf of the dependent(s), whichever is less, but in no case may the support contributions be less than the difference between the member's applicable "with-" and "without-" dependent BAQ rates. If satisfactory evidence is received that the member has not provided the support specified above, action will be taken to recoup BAQ from the member for any period such support was not provided.

D. Legal Separation Agreement or Court Order Stating Amount of Support. If there is a court order or legal separation agreement stating the amount of support, the member must contribute to the support of the dependent the amount specified therein, or the full amount of BAQ, whichever is less, but in no case may the support payments be less than the difference between the applicable BAQ at the "with-" and "without-" dependent rate. If satisfactory evidence is received that the member has not provided the support specified above, action will be taken to recoup BAQ from the member for any period adequate support has not been provided.

1. When a member is divorced from a nonmember, and both share legal custody of a legitimate child, and the ex-spouse is awarded primary physical custody and is not living in government quarters, then the member is considered a noncustodial parent for the purpose of entitlement to BAQ. If the member's court-ordered support is less than the difference between the BAQ at the "with-" and "without-dependent" rate for his/her grade, then the member is entitled to the BAQ at the rate for members without dependents only if he/she is not residing in government quarters. However, if the ex-spouse having primary custody of the child agrees to accept an additional support amount in order for the member paying support to qualify for BAQ at the "with-dependent" rate, the member accordingly would be entitled to BAQ.

2. When the member has temporary custody of the child and both reside in private quarters, then the cost of maintaining a residence is not a factor in determining entitlement to BAQ with dependents and cannot be used instead of, or in addition to, child support to qualify for increased allowances. The dependent child must reside with the member on a nontemporary basis, e.g., for a continuous period of more than 90 consecutive days, to qualify for the BAQ "with-dependent" rate for the nontemporary period. The cost of maintaining a home cannot be added to the child support amount to qualify for the increased allowances.

E. Evidence or Complaints of Nonsupport or Inadequate Support. Support requirements will apply if established as in subparagraphs C and D, above. If the support requirements are not established by court order or mutual agreement, as in those subparagraphs, the member must provide proof of support in an amount that is at least the lesser of (1) the BAQ received on behalf of the claimed dependent(s), or (2) a reasonable amount requested by or on behalf of the dependent(s); however, in no case may the support contributions be less than the difference between the "with-" and "without-" dependent BAQ rates applicable to the member's grade. Unless a period of nonsupport or inadequate support was caused as a result of mission requirements of the Military Service concerned (e.g., remote assignment, deployed, limited access to administrative support and/or financial networks, etc.), or the actions of outside agencies (such as financial institutions, postal service, etc.) over which the member has no control, as determined by Military Service regulations, the subsequent payment of arrears of support does not entitle a member to with dependent rate BAQ for the period of nonsupport or inadequate support. The amount of support required for entitlement to retain or receive BAQ on behalf of dependent(s) does not necessarily mean that such amount is deemed adequate to meet the policy of the Military Service concerned regarding what constitutes adequate support in the absence of a written mutual agreement or court order.

F. Increase in Support Required by Increase in BAQ Rates. Whenever there is an increase in BAQ rates, the minimum required support under subparagraphs C, D, and E, above, increase to the difference between the "with-" and "without-" dependent BAQ rates. The non-custodial member will continue to be entitled to the "with-dependent" BAQ rate only if the support order (if any) is modified to require increased support in the appropriate amount, or if there is a mutual agreement between the parents that the custodial parent will accept such increased support.

G. Voluntary Support Payments. Voluntary support payments will not be considered for purposes of determining BAQ entitlement unless there is a mutual agreement between the parents that the support payments will be accepted by the custodial parent.

H. Settlement Agreement

1. Property settlements made under a court order or written agreement are not considered support for BAQ purposes.

2. Payments made under a settlement in place of support are considered support for the period expressly provided in the written agreement or court order.

3. A lump-sum settlement in place of support made under written agreement or court order is considered support for the period the lump sum would reasonably cover support of the dependent.

I. Interlocutory Decree of Divorce. If an interlocutory decree of divorce does not provide for support to the spouse, the member is not entitled to BAQ for the spouse after the date of the decree unless proof of support is furnished.

J. Doubtful Cases. Submit any doubtful cases involving support for determination by authority shown in Tables 26-1 or 26-2.

260407. Support of Dependent, Both Parents Are Members

A. Divorce or Legal Separation Effective or Amended Before 1 July 1992. In addition to the provisions of paragraph 260406, the following subparagraphs apply when the divorced or legally separated parents are both members and the divorce or separation occurred prior to 1 July 1992. All of the situations set forth apply only when neither member is assigned to family-type government quarters, unless otherwise specified.

1. The non-custodial parent is entitled to BAQ at the with-dependent rate through 4 December 1991, on behalf of the child(ren), provided the payment of child support is an amount that is at least equal to the difference between the applicable BAQ-with and BAQ-without dependent rates. During the period 5 December 1991 through 30 June 1992, the non-custodial parent living in single-type government quarters will only be entitled to BAQ-DIFF for child support (unless "grandfathered," as described in paragraph 260416). If not residing in single-type government quarters, the non-custodial parent may also be entitled to BAQ at the without-dependent rate as described in paragraph 260201. If the non-custodial parent does not provide the required child support and resides in single-type quarters, then the member's BAQ entitlement is partial rate BAQ. The custodial parent is also entitled to BAQ in his or her own right at the without-dependent rate.

2. If the non-custodial member does not pay the required amount of child support (at least equal to that member's DIFF rate), the custodial member is entitled to BAQ at the with-dependent rate on behalf of the child(ren).

3. The custodial member is entitled to the with-dependent rate on behalf of the child(ren) if the non-custodial member declines to claim the child(ren) for BAQ purposes. Such declination should be in writing, if possible, and may be revoked at any time. Such revocation may not be retroactive. If the non-custodial member is entitled to the with-dependent rate of BAQ on behalf of another dependent, the custodial member is entitled to the with-dependent rate on behalf of the child(ren) of the marriage, provided the custodial member is providing substantial support to the child(ren).

4. Only one parent is entitled to BAQ on behalf of children of the marriage when all of the children reside in one household; this applies even if child support payments are specifically for support of only some of the children.

5. When the child(ren) of the marriage are in the custody of a third party, only one member is entitled to BAQ on behalf of the child(ren), even though both members are paying sufficient child support to qualify for the entitlement. The member senior in rank will receive BAQ on behalf of the child(ren) when the two members cannot agree on which person will claim the entitlement. If the members are of equal rank, date of rank will determine which one receives BAQ on behalf of the child(ren).

6. When each member has legal custody of one or more of the children of the marriage, then each member who is not assigned to government quarters is entitled to the with-dependents rate of BAQ in behalf of the child(ren) in his/her custody. Occupancy of family-type government quarters by the other child(ren) of the marriage does not affect a member's entitlement. If, however, one member is paying child support in an amount at least equal to that member's DIFF rate on behalf of the child(ren) in the other member's custody, the member not paying child support is not entitled to BAQ on behalf of the child(ren) in that member's custody.

7. In cases of joint legal custody, when physical custody changes from one parent to another, each parent is entitled to the with-dependent rate of BAQ during those periods the child(ren) are actually in their physical custody, except when there is a payment of child support to one of the parents, in which case the member paying child support is at all times entitled to BAQ on behalf of the child(ren), provided the amount of child support is at least equal to that member's DIFF rate.

8. In cases when a non-custodial member is paying child support to a member who also has another dependent who would make that member eligible for the with-dependent rate of BAQ, there is a presumption that the custodial member's entitlement is based on the dependent(s) other than the child(ren) of the marriage. Both the custodial and non-custodial members are entitled to the with-dependent rate of BAQ in such circumstances, provided neither member is assigned to government quarters.

B. Divorce or Legal Separation Effective or Amended After 30 June 1992. In addition to the provisions of paragraph 260406, above, the following subparagraphs apply when the divorced or separated parents are both members and the divorce or separation occurred after 30 June 1992. All of the situations set forth apply only when neither member is assigned to family-type government quarters, unless otherwise specified.

1. Unless the members agree between themselves to the contrary, and provided the child(ren) of the marriage do not reside in government quarters, the member having custody of the child(ren) is entitled to with-dependents rate BAQ on their behalf, regardless of the amount of child support received by that member. An order of a court in a divorce decree is not considered an agreement between the members. An order of a court will only be used to verify court-awarded custody. In addition to the court order, a separate notarized agreement between the members must be provided in order for the non-custodial member to receive BAQ on behalf of the child(ren). The non-custodial member is entitled to partial BAQ if assigned to single-type government quarters, or BAQ at the without-dependent rate if not assigned to government quarters.

2. When the members each have sole custody of one or more of the children of the marriage, they are each entitled to the with-dependent rate of BAQ on behalf of the child(ren) in their individual custody, regardless of any child support payments to one member by the other.

3. When the child(ren) are in the custody of a third party, apply the rule in subparagraph 260407.A.5, above, applies.

4. In cases when there is joint legal custody, with physical custody changing from one parent to the other, each parent is entitled to BAQ on behalf of the child(ren) during those months in which that parent maintained the principal residence and extended physical custody of the child(ren), regardless of any child support payments made to one member by the other. In cases when it cannot be determined which parent maintained the principal residence during a particular month, the senior member will be entitled to receive BAQ on behalf of the child(ren).

5. The rule in subparagraph 260407.A.8, above, applies without regard to the date of divorce or separation.

260408. Child Living With Former Spouse Remarried to Another Service Member

A. When the child's stepparent is assigned public quarters and the child occupies such quarters, then the divorced member parent paying child support is entitled to BAQ under section 2602, above, as a member without dependents.

B. If the child's stepparent is not assigned public quarters, but is paid BAQ, the divorced member is entitled to BAQ on behalf of the child, if otherwise eligible, even if assigned to or occupying single-type government quarters. However, BAQ may not be paid to both the stepparent and natural parent at the same time for the same dependent. The natural parent has priority to BAQ if supporting the child.

260409. Child Living With Former Spouse-Member Remarries

A. The provisions of subparagraph 260301.A.2, above, are not for application in the case of a member who is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse when the member remarries and is assigned to and/or occupies government family quarters. The member is not entitled to basic allowance for quarters on behalf of the child living with the former spouse. This is equally applicable when, upon remarriage, the member marries a member.

B. If, in subparagraph A, above, the remarriage is of a member to a member with child(ren) born of marriage, and the member paying child support vacates government family quarters on PCS assignment with quarters being reassigned to spouse and child(ren), then the member reassigned PCS is entitled to with-dependent BAQ for child(ren) of the former marriage when that member or child(ren) do not reside in government family quarters.

C. When the former spouse with child custody in the situation cited in subparagraph A, above, is also a member, the former spouse may claim the child(ren) for BAQ purposes if not assigned to government family quarters and the member paying support has made a declination in accordance with subparagraph 260407.B.2, above.

260410. Child(ren) Living With Former Spouse or Estranged Spouse Who is Member Assigned Family Quarters. When the member parent having custody of the child(ren) is assigned to, or occupies, adequate family-type quarters with the child(ren) while receiving child support, then the member parent paying child support is entitled to BAQ under section 2602, above, as a member without dependents.

260411. Child Living With Former or Estranged Spouse in Family Quarters Visits Member. When a child(ren) who normally resides in government family quarters with a member's former or estranged custodial spouse visits with the member in private quarters for more than 90 days, the visit is considered non-temporary and the member may claim BAQ for the child(ren) from the first day of the visit. If the visit is 90 days or less, BAQ is not payable for any part of the visit.

260412. Illegitimate Child. Public Law 93-64, 9 July 1973, amended 37 U.S.C. 401 (reference (ar)) to include in the definition of a dependent, an unmarried illegitimate child whose alleged member-father has been judicially decreed to be the father of the child or judicially ordered to contribute to the child's support, or whose parentage has been admitted in writing by the member-father or mother. Such a dependent either must be under 21 years of age or, because of a mental or physical incapacity, incapable of self-support and in fact dependent on the member. A member may claim basic allowance for quarters (BAQ) on behalf of an illegitimate child within the following guidelines:

A. General. A member who claims BAQ on behalf of an illegitimate child must show proof of parentage. In cases involving foreign court decrees, parentage must also be admitted in writing and under oath. Proof of in-fact dependency is required in all cases and will be recertified annually. This requires documentary evidence to substantiate that support has been provided in an amount not less than that specified in subparagraphs B or C, below. A voluntary allotment payable to or on behalf of a child in the applicable amount is adequate evidence to show proof of intent to provide continued support.

B. Illegitimate Child is in Physical Custody of Another Person and Member is Assigned Single-Type Government Quarters. The member-parent may claim such child as a dependent for BAQ purposes provided the amount of support paid is at least equal to the amount of BAQ received because of the dependency of the child. If a member is entitled to BAQ-DIFF, child support paid must equal or exceed member's BAQ-DIFF rate. Likewise, if the member is in government single-type quarters, and entitled to BAQ at the with-dependent rate on behalf of the child, the requirement for support must equal or exceed the member's BAQ-DIFF rate.

C. Illegitimate Child is in Physical Custody of Member-Parent or Another Person and Member is Not Assigned Government Quarters. The member-parent may claim such child as a dependent if proof is shown that monthly support is provided in an amount the greater of:

1. Over one-half of the child's support, or
2. The difference between the applicable BAQ at the "with-" and "without-" dependent rates. In any case where the amount in subparagraph C.1, above, exceeds the applicable BAQ at the "with-dependent" rate, support in at least the amount of the BAQ at the "with-dependent" rate will be considered adequate.

D. When Both Parents Are in the Service. When both parents are members of the Armed Forces, the one having physical custody of the illegitimate child is the only one authorized BAQ on behalf of that child. If neither has physical custody, the member providing chief support of the illegitimate child is considered to be the only member with a dependent for entitlement to BAQ on behalf of such child. In either case, the member-parent must meet the applicable guidelines furnished above. If the parents subsequently are married to each other, the child is then considered a legitimate child of the marriage and paragraph 260302, above, applies.

E. When Illegitimate Child is Adopted by Another Person. BAQ does not accrue to the natural father or mother of an illegitimate child when that child has been adopted by another person.

F. When Member Marries Mother of Illegitimate Child. The member may claim the illegitimate child of his spouse as a dependent, although he is not the father of the child. The child qualifies as a dependent, in the same manner as any other stepchild, when the member has accepted full responsibility for that child by marriage to the child's mother.

260413. Adopted Child or Stepchild

A. Adopted Child. A child adopted by a member is an eligible dependent for BAQ entitlement if a final decree of adoption has been entered and the child is, in fact, dependent upon the member. In cases involving interlocutory decrees, and those where the child receives support from other sources, see Tables 26-1 and 26-2.

B. Stepchild. A stepchild is an eligible dependent for BAQ entitlement if the child is in fact dependent on the member. This includes an illegitimate child of the spouse, when the member is not the blood parent (see subparagraph 260412.F, above). A member is not entitled to BAQ for a stepchild if the child is receiving support from the natural parent, who receives BAQ for the child. A stepparent-stepchild relationship ends upon divorce from the blood parent, but not upon death of the blood parent. Hence, entitlement to BAQ for a stepchild may be established after death of the blood parent.

C. In Fact Dependency. An adopted child or a stepchild is considered in fact dependent if the member contributes a substantial portion of the child's support, and if the child's welfare would be affected without this contribution. Residence in the member's household does not of itself establish dependency, nor is a child in fact dependent if the member's contributions merely improve the child's living conditions.

260414. Dependent Child Adopted by a Third Party. A member is not entitled to BAQ for a child after the child is adopted by a third party and final order or decree of adoption has been entered. Entitlement to BAQ continues after an interlocutory decree has been entered if the decree does not change the legal relationship between the child and adopting parent, and the member supports the child.

260415. Spouse or Child Confined in Penal or Correctional Institution

A. BAQ Payable. Confinement of a member's lawful spouse or unmarried minor child in a penal or correctional institution does not affect member's right to BAQ on the dependent's behalf, unless the:

1. Member refuses to support the dependent; or
2. Member has been absolved from supporting the dependent; or
3. Period of confinement may extend beyond 5 years; or
4. Case is otherwise doubtful.

B. Doubtful Cases. Submit cases involving sentence extending beyond 5 years, and any other doubtful cases, as follows:

1. Officer's Dependent. Request advance decision of the Comptroller General of the United States. Do not credit BAQ pending decision.

2. Enlisted Member's Dependent. Send the case to the appropriate address shown in subparagraph 260403.F.3, above, for determination. Do not credit BAQ pending determination if sentence provides for confinement beyond 5 years.

260416. Limitation on the Amount of BAQ Payable to a Member Entitled to BAQ Solely on the Basis of the Member's Payment of Child Support. The provisions of this paragraph are effective 5 December 1991.

A. Except as provided in subparagraphs 260416.B or C, below, a member of a Uniformed Service assigned to single quarters is authorized an allowance for quarters (referred to as BAQ-DIFF) for the payment of child support. The amount of BAQ-DIFF shall be equal to the difference between the with-dependent and without-dependent rates for the member's pay grade.

B. A member shall not be entitled to BAQ-DIFF solely on the basis of the member's payment of child support if the monthly rate of that child support is less than the BAQ-DIFF rate identified in subparagraph 260416.A, above.

C. A member who was assigned to single-type government quarters and entitled to BAQ solely on the basis of the member's payment of child support on 4 Dec 1991, shall continue to be entitled to BAQ at the with-dependent rate until such time as that member becomes entitled to receive BAQ at the with-dependent rate for a reason other than, or in addition to, the member's payment of child support.

D. A member not assigned to government quarters, who is entitled to BAQ on behalf of a dependent solely on the basis of payment of child support, is entitled to BAQ at the without-dependent rate plus BAQ-DIFF, if the amount of the child support is equal to or greater than BAQ-DIFF.

E. The requirement to pay child support and the amount thereof will be documented either by a court order or by a statement signed by both the member and the custodian of the child on whose behalf support is paid. This signed statement will indicate the custodian's willingness to accept such support payments from the member and will be notarized.

260417. Dependent Parent. The term "parent" is defined in the Definitions. The term "dependent" as applied to father or mother means two dependents, if applicable.

A. Basis of Determination. Dependency of a parent is determined on the basis of an affidavit submitted by the parent, and any other evidence required under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned. Upon receipt of the member's application, the authority designated in Tables 26-1 or 26-2 sends a form to the parent for completion (thus delaying notification to the disbursing officer of final action on the member's application). A custodian or legal guardian may complete the form for a mentally incompetent parent. If a parent dies before completing the affidavit, payment of BAQ is precluded.

B. Dependency Requirement. A member does not qualify for BAQ on behalf of parents because of relationship alone. The additional factor of dependency must be met. The parents must be dependent upon the member for over one-half of their support. This means:

1. The parents' income, not counting the member's contribution, must be less than one-half of their monthly living expenses.

2. The member's contribution must be more than one-half of the parent's monthly living expenses.

C. Change in Status of Dependent. A member may be paid BAQ for any active duty period during which dependency of the parent is shown to exist, whether the dependency arose before or after the member entered service. If dependency arises because of changed circumstances, and the facts show the member has started to contribute over one-half of the parents' support, BAQ is authorized from the date the contribution began. No waiting period is required.

D. Stepparent. A stepparent-stepchild relationship ends upon divorce from the blood parent, but not upon death of the blood parent. Hence, BAQ entitlement because of a stepparent may be established after death of the blood parent.

260418. Factors Used in Parent Determinations

A. Family Unit Rule. In determining dependency of a parent, the total income and expenses of the family unit of which the parent is a member must be considered. Normally, the member's contribution to the expenses of the unit must exceed one-half of the unit's total expenses before any one person in the unit can be considered dependent on him or her. For example, a mother cannot be considered dependent if she is a member of a family unit in which her husband is supporting himself but is not providing sufficiently for the mother's individual needs.

B. Equity and Good Conscience. When application of the family unit rule results in manifest injustice, any other available evidence of dependency is considered, and determination made according to principles of equity and good conscience.

C. Charity. Contributions made to parents by charitable organizations are not considered income.

D. Parents in a Charitable Institution. Residence of a parent in a charitable institution, public or private, is not a bar to entitlement if the member claims BAQ on behalf of the parent and other conditions of entitlement are met.

E. Social Security, Unemployment Compensation, and Pensions. Payments made to the parent from the Social Security Administration, and unemployment compensation are considered to be income. Pensions received by the parent also are considered to be income.

F. Capital Assets. Unliquidated capital assets are not considered income, and parents are not required to deplete their capital assets in order to establish dependency on a member for BAQ purposes. However, proceeds derived from the liquidation of capital assets are considered income. Amounts placed in reserve for depreciation of property held for income normally are considered available for current living expenses of a parent and, therefore, are considered to be income.

G. Rate of Return Rule. In determining dependency of parents who possess uninvested capital, compute the income return on the basis of 5-1/4 percent per annum.

2605 PAYMENT OF BAQ, MEMBERS IN A NON-PAY STATUS

260501. Entitlements. BAQ for members in pay grades E-1, E-2, E-3, or E-4 (4 years' or less service) with-dependent is authorized under the same conditions as specified for other enlisted members except that during periods such members are in a non-pay status as specified below, entitlement shall be as follows:

A. Unauthorized Absence or in Hands of Civil Authorities. For a period not to exceed 2 months from the first day of absence, BAQ at the rate being credited a member at the time absence commenced may be paid to a dependent on whose behalf BAQ was claimed prior to commencement of the absence, under the following conditions:

1. The member has been in an unauthorized absence status for more than 29 consecutive days.

2. The dependent applies for payment of BAQ and the application is received by appropriate authority within 3 months after the date absence commenced.

3. If the Military Service concerned fails to provide timely notice to dependents of their right to apply for BAQ, a waiver of the 3-month stipulation in subparagraph A.2, above, may be granted on a case-by-case basis by the authority specified in subparagraph B.1, below. If such a waiver is granted, payment may only be made on those applications received within 2 months after the dependents are properly notified of their right to submit such applications.

4. No positive information has been received that the dependent is residing or has joined the member at the place of absence.

5. If a member is assigned government family-type quarters (adequate or inadequate), no payment of BAQ may be made.

6. Payment of BAQ will not be made directly to the member on behalf of a dependent. Payment shall be made only to dependents residing in the home of the member, that is, members of the family unit whom member would ordinarily control and supervise as the head of the family. This includes dependents who were not, by reason of separation pursuant to competent orders, actually residing with the member at the time absence commenced.

B. Pretrial Confinement in a Foreign Country. Payment of BAQ is authorized as follows:

1. For enlisted members in pay grades E-1, E-2, E-3, and E-4 (4 years' or less service). Payment is authorized for a period not to exceed 2 months under the conditions stated in subparagraph A, above. For any subsequent months there must be showing of hardship on the dependent and approval on a case-by-case basis as follows:

- a. Army:
Director
DFAS-IN
ATTN: SAFM-FAA-EC
Indianapolis IN 46249-2201
- b. Navy:
Commander
Naval Military Personnel Command (NMPC-64)
Washington DC 20370
- c. Air Force:
HQ USAF/DPPC
Washington DC 20330-5000
- d. Marine Corps:
Commandant of the Marine Corps
(Code MPH)
Washington DC 20380

2. For enlisted members in pay grades E-4 (over 4 years' service) and above (cases where there has been a showing of hardship on the dependent). The approval authority for the initial and any subsequent payments is as shown in subparagraph A.1, above. No payment may be made without the approval of such authority on a case-by-case basis. Payments are subject to the conditions stated in subparagraphs A.1, 2, 3, 5, and 6, above. See Military Service regulations for procedures on processing claims.

C. Excess Leave. BAQ will continue to be paid to a member in pay grade E-4 (4 years' or less service) or below, with dependents, for a period not to exceed 2 months during which an excess leave status exists unless it is anticipated that member will not return to duty, for example, appellate leave. The 2-month period shall be computed from the first day of excess leave.

3. Must be in fact dependent on service member for substantial portion of support.
4. Applies also if child is in custody of someone other than service member (divorced spouse, parent, etc.).
5. If this is interlocutory decree of adoption, case must be submitted to DFAS-IN or DFAS-DE for determination or submission to the Comptroller General.
6. In case of an Army member, the claim will be sent to DFAS-IN only when determination cannot be made by disbursing officer under AR 37-104-3 chapter 2, part 3 or is not covered by note 8.
7. This includes an illegitimate child of the spouse, when the member is not the blood parent. See paragraph 260412.F.
8. In the case of Army Reserve Component (RC) personnel, initial determinations for dependents listed in rules 1,3,4, and 7 can be made by the RC unit commander or servicing Military Personnel Officer.
9. Claim will be sent to DFAS-DE only when determination cannot be made by AFO or designee as prescribed in DFAS-DE 7073.1-M, or when requesting submission to Comptroller General.

If the member is assigned or occupies government quarters suitable and adequate for the member's grade and does not maintain and own a primary residence or is not responsible for rental payments on the member's primary residence (notes 9 and 10).

NOTES:

1. BAQ accrues from the date of reporting through the day before the date the ship is placed in full commission, reduced commission, or in service not in commission, whichever occurs first.
2. For the purpose of payment of BAQ under rule 8, duty for a period of less than 3 months is not considered to be sea duty. Duty for more than 3 months under temporary orders (TDY/TAD) which provide for return to the member's same permanent station is not considered sea duty. Ship-based staffs are not considered to be on sea duty for BAQ purposes when the entire staff is ordered ashore by written orders and the duty ashore is not considered to be service in a self-propelled vessel that is in an active status, in commission or in service and is equipped with berthing and messing facilities.
3. When not assigned to government quarters at the permanent station, BAQ accrues for up to 30 consecutive days at one location where government quarters are temporarily occupied while in a duty or authorized leave status not incident to PCS. BAQ for a 30-day period is not forfeited if occupancy exceeds 30 days.
4. Entitlement to BAQ for 30 days in government quarters applies only when occupancy of government quarters is of a temporary nature incident to the PCS as certified by the commander of the station involved. (For rule 16 the period of entitlement must be after receipt of PCS orders and before departure from old station and/or after arrival at new station.)
5. Entitlement begins on actual or constructive date of arrival home or other designated place, whichever date is earlier. (Compute constructive time arrival date via commercial transportation mode based upon the rules and provisions of the JFTR, Volume 1.)
6. Also applies to members entitled to pay and allowances while attending school under Operation Bootstrap.
7. BAQ and per diem may be credited for the same periods, if otherwise qualified.
8. This rule is not applicable when a member is performing temporary duty under PCS orders at a station which is ultimately the member's permanent duty station upon completion of the temporary duty; in such instances, see rule 1 of this table.
9. Government quarters in fact occupied without payment of rental charges shall be deemed to have been assigned as appropriate and adequate quarters.
10. Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member for 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
11. The intent of these entitlements is that BAQ continue for a maximum of 30 days at any one location. Movement from one unit of government quarters to another, or in and out of the same unit, at the same location, with or without a break in occupancy, does not break the consecutiveness and does not create new periods or extend the authorized 30 days without loss of BAQ. Occupancy of government quarters at different locations creates a new 30-day period at each location. However, if government quarters at one location are considered to be occupied by a member at the same time the member occupies government quarters at a second location, a new 30-day period does not begin at the second location.
12. A member away from permanent station may occupy quarters of the United States designated for members without dependents at the member's temporary duty station without affecting the member's right to receive payment of basic allowances for quarters or assignment of quarters, if any, at the member's permanent station. Under such circumstances, a member may not occupy quarters of the United States which exceed the minimum standards for members of that grade without dependents, as prescribed by the Secretary concerned, unless the only quarters available (a) exceed the minimum standards, and (b) are made available for joint occupancy with other members.
- ★13. Members in grade E-6 or above, who are assigned to an off-ship crew of a nuclear powered submarine, are entitled to BAQ under rule 8 upon reassignment as the on-ship crew provided entitlement accrued during training and rehabilitation.
- ★14. A member is also entitled to receive BAQ after reporting to a deployed vessel, if the homeport of that ship is the same as the previous assignment and the member was receiving BAQ at the homeport. Members TAD to the ship are also entitled to BAQ after reporting to the deployed vessel if in receipt of BAQ at the permanent duty station before being detached on TAD. Members in grade E-5, without dependents, assigned to sea duty may be authorized BAQ if appropriate considering the availability of quarters for E-5s. A member married to another member below pay grade E-6 may be authorized one BAQ Allowance. (See subparagraph 260201.C).
15. For members below pay grade E-7, entitlement does not exist during TDY or TAD if quarters are assigned or furnished at the permanent station, even though the quarters are vacated at the beginning of the TDY or TAD.
16. Installation commanders may, for reasons of military necessity or relief of hardship, authorize non-TDY members affected by PCS orders to temporarily occupy government quarters beyond 30 days without loss of BAQ.

Table 26-4. BAQ Entitlement at Permanent Stations for Spouses In Uniformed Service - Family-Type Quarters Not Assigned

NOTES:

1. When family-type quarters are jointly occupied by the members, neither member is entitled to BAQ, even though the dependents do not reside in the quarters, unless dependents are prevented by military orders from occupying quarters.
2. When husband-wife members are stationed at the same or adjacent military installations, both members are normally authorized BAQ at the appropriate rate when family-type quarters are not assigned, notwithstanding the availability of adequate single quarters for either or both members.
3. Members may be considered to be stationed at the same or adjacent bases or shore installations when they are not precluded by distance from living together, or they actually commute on a regular basis, regardless of distance.
4. When husband-wife members have no other dependents and are precluded by distance from living together, they will normally be treated as members without dependents for purposes of entitlement to BAQ (see Table 26-3).
5. When husband-wife members, who are both entitled to BAQ at the same or adjacent military installation, are separated geographically by competent orders and one member remains assigned to the old duty station, that member normally will be authorized continuance of BAQ notwithstanding the availability of adequate single quarters for assignment to either member.
6. BAQ at the rate payable to members without dependents is authorized during travel status after departure from the old permanent station, or during a period of leave, delay en route, or proceed time between permanent duty stations, provided the members are in pay grade E-4 (4 years' or more service), and above, are not in receipt of BAQ for other dependents, and are not assigned to government quarters en route or temporarily occupy government quarters for more than 30 days at any one location.
7. When not assigned to government quarters at the permanent station, BAQ accrues for up to 30 consecutive days at one location where government quarters are temporarily occupied while in a duty or authorized leave status not incident to PCS. BAQ for a 30-day period is not forfeited if occupancy exceeds 30 days.
8. Refer to paragraph 260402.
9. If either column in column D is blank, that member is not assigned to single-type government quarters.
10. For purposes of this table, the members have agreed that member A is to receive BAQ at the with-dependent rate (subparagraph 260402.A).
11. See Table 26-3 for BAQ entitlement when a member is on field or sea duty.
12. When the dependents in column A, rules 9 through 12, are children from a prior marriage or illegitimate children residing with member A, the members may elect for member B to receive BAQ for stepchildren, in accordance with subparagraph 260413.B, and member A to receive without-dependent rate BAQ when not occupying single quarters.
13. When one member enters a non-pay status, the other member may claim the member not entitled to pay and allowances as a dependent and be authorized to draw BAQ at the with-dependent rate for the duration of the non-pay status if otherwise entitled (for exception, see paragraph 260415).
14. Members must elect which one is to receive the with-dependent rate BAQ. If they cannot agree as to the election, the entitlement will rest with the senior member. Elections cannot be retroactive.
15. When one or both of the dependents in columns A and B are dependent parents of the members, both members may receive with-dependent rate BAQ, if otherwise entitled. Also, when married members no longer share a common residence due to competent military orders, their entitlement to increased allowances or to government-furnished quarters should be determined separately, without regard to the general rule that all dependents of members are members of the same class for the purpose of determining allowance entitlements. Refer to paragraphs 260406 and 260407 for BAQ entitlement of divorced or legally separated members.
16. Members may temporarily occupy government quarters assigned to another member for 90 days or less at any one duty station without loss of BAQ. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.

14			Yes		does not exist.

NOTES:

- Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member by a member and dependents, or dependents alone for a period of 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
- BAQ credit continues if member has additional dependents who are precluded by competent authority from occupying government quarters or facilities furnished member and spouse, or spouse alone.
- The intent of these entitlements (rules 2, 6, and 8) is that BAQ continue for a maximum of 30 days at any one location. Movement from one unit of government quarters to another, or in and out of the same unit, at the same location, with or without a break in occupancy, does not break the consecutiveness and does not create new periods or extend the authorized 30 days without loss of BAQ. Occupancy of government quarters at different locations creates a new 30-day period at each location. However, if government quarters at one location are considered to be occupied by a member at the same time the member occupies government quarters at a second location, a new 30 day period does not begin at the second location.
- BAQ does not accrue during excess leave if member is not to continue in service after leave expires. Example: A member released from the disciplinary barracks on commandant's parole, and placed in excess leave status until sentence is ordered to be executed.
- Applies whether temporary occupancy of government quarters is at old station, while en route, or at new station. However, occupancy is limited to guest houses or other transient facilities. Family housing is excluded from such use.
- The phrase, "incident to PCS," refers to whether or not the member is en route to a new permanent station under PCS orders.
- Installation commanders may, for reasons of military necessity or relief from hardship, authorize non-TDY members affected by PCS orders to temporarily occupy government quarters beyond 30 days without loss of BAQ.
- Includes such status under permissive orders.

 - a. Applies to sole dependent of officer or enlisted member.
 - b. Applies to any dependent on whose behalf a member is entitled to increased BAQ.
 - c. BAQ starts with date of member's marriage even though the marriage occurs on same day as divorce from another member.
 - d. When blood parents of an illegitimate child marry, the child becomes a legitimate dependent for BAQ purposes.
 - e. In the case of Navy members, BAQ will not be started more than 6 months before submission of the application without prior approval by the authority shown in Table 26-2.
3. If there has been any change in the status of dependents on whose behalf BAQ existed on the date an unauthorized absence commenced, a member must reestablish the right to BAQ.

DATE TO STOP BAQ-CHANGES IN DEPENDENCY STATUS
R U L E	A	B
	If the sole dependent	then stop BAQ at 2400 hours of the day
1	dies	of death.
2	is divorced (note 1)	of the final decree of divorce (note 1).
3	is a spouse in a voidable (not void) marriage which is dissolved by final annulment decree	before date of the decree. (No payment of BAQ may be made on or after date of the decree, regardless of credits accrued and not paid; BAQ paid before the date of decree may be retained (note 2).)
4	is a spouse in an invalid (void) marriage	before discovery of invalidity of the marriage. (No payment of BAQ may be made on or after date of discovery, regardless of credits accrued and not paid. Retention of BAQ paid before that time depends on validation under Chapter 50, section 5005.)
5	becomes of age (except a child who is incapable of self-support because of mental or physical incapacity)	before the child's 21st birthday.
6	marries (regardless of age, or mental or physical incapacity)	of the child's marriage. (Applies even though child's marriage is to a Service member who is also entitled to BAQ on child's behalf for that date.)
7	is adopted by a third party by interlocutory order or decree which has effected a changed legal relationship	before date of adoption (note 3).
8	is adopted by a third party and a final order or decree has been entered	before date of adoption.
9	enters military service	before day of entry into service.
10	is one who must be "in fact" dependent on member, and such dependency ceases	before date dependency ceases.

NOTES:

1. Applies also when an affinitive relationship between a member and step-child ceases because of divorce from the child's parent.
2. Applies also when affinitive relationship between a member and step-child ceases because of annulment of marriage.
3. Case involving Army or Air Force member must be sent to DFAS-IN or DFAS-DE respectively, for determination as to whether order of decree effected a changed legal relationship. Cases involving Navy or Marine Corps members shall be forwarded to the Navy Family Allowance Activity or the Commandant of the Marine Corps, respectively.

Table 26-7. Date To Stop BAQ-Changes In Dependency Status

1	is furnished government quarters at the permanent station, adequate for the member and dependents	before the day quarters are assigned (or before day occupancy begins, if definite assignment not made) (note 1).
2	is furnished quarters (cash or in kind) on behalf of the United States, adequate for the member and dependents	before day quarters are furnished.
3	and dependents occupy inadequate quarters which are rehabilitated and designated as adequate quarters	before effective date of redesignation as adequate quarters.
4	and dependents occupy government quarters at the permanent station during family's visit, not incident to PCS (note 2)	before commencing the eighth consecutive day of occupancy (note 3).
5	and dependents temporarily occupy government quarters while on leave (not incident to PCS), or while in a travel status incident to PCS, including delay en route chargeable as leave	see Table 26-5.
6	is absent without leave
7	is discharged or released from active duty	of discharge or release.
8	is retired	before effective date of retirement.
9	dies	of death.

NOTES:

1. When dependents are prevented from occupying the assigned quarters because of orders of competent authority, BAQ continues until transportation is arranged for household goods and is available for the dependents (if prompt application is made), plus the normal travel time for dependents to the member's station.
2. Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member by a member and dependents, or dependents alone, for a period of 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
3. BAQ credit continues if the member has additional dependents who are precluded by competent orders from residing with the member.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Basic Allowance for Housing
(DFAS Item G-76)

Attached is a reissuance of DFAS Interim Change 14-99 to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The initial issuance did not identify changes that were effective April 20, 1999. This item is effective January 1, 1998, unless otherwise specified. Also attached is a brief synopsis of major changes in this chapter that are effective April 20, 1999.

This change is a complete rewrite of chapter 26 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A and implements the new basic allowance for housing which replaced basic allowance for quarters and variable housing allowance. All interim changes affecting chapter 26 in the DFAS web site are hereby cancelled.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, and the interim change.

Changes to Chapter 26
Effective April 20, 1999

1. Advance of Housing Allowances. Revises paragraph 260109 to require the member to request the advance of BAH payment within 30 days after incurring the expense.
2. Partial BAH. Clarifies paragraph 260205 when a member exceeds the minimum standards for single-type quarters.
3. Members with Dependents. Amends paragraphs 260301.C and 260301.D to reflect the new requirements for geographical bachelors that occupy government quarters that exceed the minimum single standards for the member's grade without dependents.
4. Certification of Dependents. Paragraphs 260304.D and 260304.E clarifies certification requirements for members on active duty and Reserve members.
5. Member Married to Member. Amends paragraph 260402.B.2 to reflect when one of two members married to each other is receiving BAH at the with dependent rate, the class of dependents includes the parents of either member and only one BAH is payable.
6. Member Married to Member. Amends paragraph 260402.B.3 to require each member to have physical custody of the child(ren) in order to be paid BAH at the with dependents rate.
7. Support of Dependent. Revises paragraph 260406.F clarifies proof of support and restricts payments of BAH when nonsupport is known. In addition, whenever there is an increase in BAH-II rates the member must increase support within 60 days.
8. Factors Used in Dependency Determinations for Parents. Paragraph 260418 establishes that all compensation received by the Parent will be considered as income.

CHAPTER 26 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR HOUSING (BAH)

2601 GENERAL PROVISIONS

260101. BAH Entitlements. Effective 1 January 1998, in general, BAH provides to members a monthly allowance for housing. This allowance is authorized for members with and without dependents. BAH is intended to pay only a portion of housing costs. BAH will consist of BAH-I, BAH-II, BAH Difference (BAH-DIFF), Partial BAH, Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA), and Family Separation Housing (FSH). BAH-I consists of the former allowances known as basic allowance for quarters (BAQ) and variable housing allowance (VHA). BAH-II replaced BAQ, and BAH Difference is the difference between the with and without dependents rates of BAH-II. FSH is the former allowance known as family separation allowance (FSA) Type I. See Web site for housing rates (www.dtic.mil/perdiem).

A. BAH is payable to members on active duty and will vary according to the grade in which serving or appointed for basic pay purposes, dependency status, and the permanent duty station (PDS) assigned (except as otherwise provided in section 2605).

B. A member's old PDS is the PDS for BAH purposes from the day the member departs the old PDS through the day before the member reports to the new PDS in compliance with permanent change of station (PCS) orders (if the member had been residing in government quarters at the old PDS, the member is entitled to BAH the date of termination of government quarters). See Tables 26-9 and 26-11 for further guidance.

C. BAH is not payable to members who are assigned to quarters of the United States appropriate to the grade, rank, or rating of the member and adequate for the member and dependents, if with dependents. A member is not entitled to a basic allowance for housing except as provided in paragraphs 260106, 260201, 260202, 260301, 260302, or 260303.

D. All determinations of dependency and relationships are made by the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) (secondary dependents and doubtful primary dependents), Secretary of the department concerned (primary dependents) or by persons designated by the Secretary. The designee may redelegate this authority.

E. BAH rates are determined as set forth in paragraph 260107. BAH-II rates are established by the Secretary of Defense. BAH-II is the housing allowance entitlement for members not specifically entitled to BAH-I in some cases.

F. OHA rates are determined by the Per Diem Travel and Transportation Allowance Committee. See WEB site for published OHA rates (www.dtic.mil/perdiem).

260102. Determining Dependency or Relationship for BAH Entitlements—Army and Air Force Personnel. Determinations are made by offices shown in Table 26-1.

260103. Determining Dependency or Relationship for BAH Entitlements—Navy and Marine Corps Personnel. Determinations are made by offices shown in Table 26-2.

260104. Fraudulent Claims. Any member who submits a claim for BAH which contains false statements is subject to court-martial or criminal prosecution. In addition, fraudulent acceptance of benefits may cause a civilian recipient to be subject to criminal prosecution. The law provides for severe penalties of imprisonment and a fine. For military personnel, it can include dishonorable separation, total forfeitures, and confinement.

260105. Government Quarters - Responsibility for Assignment or Termination of Assignment.

A. Assignment of Government Quarters. The base or installation commander assigns and terminates quarters. The commander also determines when quarters are “adequate” and “suitable” for assignment. Government quarters or housing facilities under control of the Uniformed Services are considered assigned, suitable, and adequate whenever occupied by a member at the permanent station without payment of rental charges. This includes quarters furnished a member without charge:

1. By an organization or institution on behalf of the United States.
2. By a foreign government for the member’s official use.
3. When jointly assigned to one or more members without dependents.

Note: A member is still considered assigned to government quarters when the member voluntarily vacates assigned quarters without approval of the installation commander. (Grade E-7 and above, without dependents, may elect not to occupy assigned quarters unless denied permission by the Secretary concerned; see paragraph 260201.)

B. BAH for Date of Assignment of Quarters. Except when a member is entitled to BAH in accordance with Tables 26-3, 26-4, and 26-5, BAH continues to accrue through the day before the date a member is assigned government quarters or begins to occupy government quarters at the permanent station.

C. BAH for Date of Termination of Quarters. BAH accrues from the date the assignment to government quarters is terminated or the date that quarters are vacated as indicated in Tables 26-3 through 26-6.

260106. Occupancy of Rental Quarters at a Service Academy. A member is entitled to BAH while renting quarters in a hotel on the grounds of a Service Academy.

260107. Establishment of BAH-I Rates

A. BAH-I Rates.

1. The Secretary of Defense determines the costs of adequate housing in a Military Housing Area (MHA) for all members of the uniformed services entitled to BAH-I by location. The determination for housing allowances is based upon the costs of adequate housing for civilians with comparable income levels in the same area.

2. An adjustment in the rates of BAH-I as a result of the Secretary's redetermination of housing costs in a MHA takes effect on 1 January of every year.

3. The amount paid for BAH-I the preceding year is adjusted to reflect changes during the year. This process accounts for the number of members, grade distribution, geographic distribution, base closures, Unit/Command movements and dependency status of members of the uniformed services entitled to the allowance from the number of such members during the preceding year.

B. BAH-I Rate Protection. The monthly BAH-I amount actually paid a member (i.e., BAH-I Rate Protection) shall not be reduced as a result of changes in housing costs in the MHA, changes in the national monthly cost of housing, or promotion of the member. A member's BAH-I rate protection at the current amount will cease on the date the member's eligibility to BAH-I for a given MHA terminates, if the member is demoted, or loses entitlement to BAH-I at the with dependents rate. The current BAH-I rate at the current duty location becomes the member's new protected BAH-I rate.

260108. Allowance for Quarters to Surviving Dependents. For payment of basic allowance for housing to surviving dependents of members who die while on active duty, see section 3603 of this regulation.

260109. Advance of Housing Allowances.

★A. Entitlement. Effective 20 April 1999, when allowed by Service regulations, a member's commanding officer, the commanding officer's designated representative, or another designated official may authorize an advance payment of BAH to pay advance rent, security deposits, and/or initial expenses incident to occupying other than government housing. The advance may be made at any time during a member's tour at the station concerned. It also may be authorized when a member has located housing incident to PCS orders. Normally, the advance shall not be disbursed more than 3 working days before the date payment under the lease or rental agreement must be made. Officers listed herein may authorize disbursement, in extenuating circumstances, more than 3 working days before the date payment must be made. The member must request the advance payment within 30 days after incurring the expense(s). Housing expenses will be documented to include copies of the lease, utility company statement and any other pertinent documentation available. Expenses identified by a member that will be used in the purchase of any real estate or living accommodations shall not be considered as a basis for authorizing or determining the amount of the advance.

B. Amount. The amount to be advanced will be determined based on the member's current prescribed BAH rate. The member's ability to repay the advance, considering other advances of pay which may have been made and any recurring pay deductions, will be considered in determining the amount of the advance. In no case shall the advance payment of BAH exceed a total of 3 months BAH expected to be accrued by the member.

C. Liquidation. Liquidation of the advance should be at a rate of not less than equal monthly installments of one-twelfth of the amount advanced, per month for the next 12 months. Collection action should begin on the first day of the month after payment of the advance has been made. When justified by the member and authorized by the member's commanding officer, the commanding officer's designated representative, or another service-designated official, the beginning of collection action may be postponed for up to 3 months after the advance is made. Repayment may be spread over a period of more than 1 year, but not to exceed 24 months or the member's tour at the station concerned. Action to recoup in a lump sum any advance made under this paragraph that has been returned to the member by the landlord must be taken immediately upon receipt of information that the member has vacated the housing for which the advance was made. Any balance of an advance not returned by the landlord may be liquidated in monthly installments, if desired by the member, for a period over the balance of the months remaining on the existing loan repayment schedule.

D. Administrative Instructions. Each Service concerned shall prepare regulations for the administration of the payment of an advance BAH to include the preparation and disposition of vouchers and supporting papers.

E. Special Circumstances. An advance payment of BAH is authorized in circumstances and conditions other than those under subparagraph A, when authorized by the Secretary concerned or designee. Liquidation procedures for advances under this subparagraph shall be prescribed by Service regulations.

F. Advances of Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA). Advances of OHA may be authorized under the terms and conditions in the JFTR, Chapter 9 (reference (d)).

2602 MEMBERS WITHOUT DEPENDENTS

260201. Entitlements

A. General. Members without dependents who are entitled to basic pay are entitled to BAH-I as set forth in Table 26-3. Members without dependents in pay grades E-7 and above may elect at any time not to occupy government quarters at the permanent station and become entitled to BAH-I unless the Secretary concerned or designee has determined that the member's exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness. See Table 26-3, rules 6 through 8, for BAH-I entitlements while on field or sea duty.

B. Members in Pay Grade E-6 not on Sea Duty. Effective on or after 1 July 1996, a member without dependents who is in pay grade E-6 and who is assigned to quarters of the United States that do not meet the minimum adequacy standards established by the Department of Defense for members in such pay grade, or to a housing facility under the jurisdiction of a Uniformed Service that does not meet such standards, may elect not to occupy such quarters or facility and instead to receive the BAH-I prescribed for the member's pay grade. The Secretary concerned, or the designee, may deny BAH-I on determining that the member's exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness.

C. Members on Sea Duty. See Table 26-3, rule 8, for BAH-I entitlements while on sea duty.

1. Members without dependents in grade E-5 assigned to sea duty. On or after 1 July 1997, under Service regulations, the Secretary concerned may authorize the payment of BAH-I to a member without dependents who is serving in pay grade E-5 and is assigned to sea duty. In prescribing regulations under this subparagraph, the Secretary concerned shall consider the availability of quarters for members serving in pay grade E-5.

2. Member married to member in grades below E-6 and both are assigned to sea duty. On or after 1 July 1997, two members of the Uniformed Services in a pay grade below E-6 who are married to each other, have no other dependents, and are simultaneously assigned to sea duty are jointly entitled to one BAH-I allowance during the period of such simultaneous sea duty. The amount of the allowance shall be based on the without dependents rate for pay grade of the senior member of the couple. However, this subparagraph shall not apply to a couple if one or both of the members are authorized BAH-I identified in subparagraph 260201.C.1 above.

260202. Uninhabitable Quarters Aboard Ship.

A. A Navy officer may be reimbursed for expenses (not to exceed the total of the BAH-II of a member of the same grade without dependents) incurred in obtaining quarters when the Secretary of the Navy or designee certifies that:

1. Such an officer is prevented from occupying quarters assigned aboard a ship on which the officer is serving on sea duty because such quarters are uninhabitable due to repairs, overhaul, conversion, or other conditions;

2. Government quarters are not available; and

3. The hire of quarters is not practicable. An officer may not be reimbursed for expenses under the conditions of this paragraph when such officer is entitled to BAH or when the officer can reside with dependents who are living in the area of the ship's location. An officer's dependents are living in the area of the ship's location when the residence is within a distance of 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time), one-way, of such location or the officer actually commutes daily, regardless of distance. The term "commutes daily" excludes duty periods when the officer is required to remain aboard or within close proximity to the ship. See paragraph 270203 for application of the distance and travel time restriction.

B. Request for reimbursement for expenses in place of quarters must be approved by OPNAV (N130).

C. The certification may be signed by the supervisor of shipbuilding of any shipyard or drydock where United States naval ships are undergoing repair or conversion.

260203. Reserve Component Members.

A. Duration of Orders. Reserve Component members called or ordered to active duty for 139 days or less are entitled to BAH-II, except as provided in subparagraph B below. However, if the member receives an order modification or extension of assignment, the prospective period of active duty must be 140 days or more and BAH-I would start on the date of modification. Members called or ordered to active duty for 140 days or more are entitled to BAH-I.

B. Contingency Operations. A reserve component member called or ordered to active duty in support of a contingency operation (other than a member who is authorized transportation of household goods as a part of the call or order) is entitled to BAH-I, if the member is unable to continue to occupy the primary residence because of the call or order to active duty. This applies when the residence is maintained as the primary residence of the member when called or ordered to active duty and is owned by the member or for which the member is responsible for rental payments.

C. Member Married to Member. Unless subparagraph B above applies, a reserve member married to another reserve member on active duty, without dependents, not assigned to government quarters, is entitled to single rate BAH-II, when called to active duty for 139 days or less. For such a reserve member on active duty for 140 days or more, each member is entitled to single rate BAH-I. If such members have dependents, see section 2603 for entitlement to BAH.

D. See Table 26-11 for the location rate of BAH payable for reserve members entitled to BAH. In addition, see paragraph 570502 for Reserve members.

260204. Missing Status. Members without dependents carried in a missing status are entitled to BAH-I at the without dependent rate. (See paragraph 340302.)

260205. Partial BAH Entitlement

A. Partial Rates. A member without dependents who is assigned to single-type quarters or is on field or sea duty, and is not entitled to receive a BAH, is entitled to partial BAH at the rates provided in table 26-12.

B. Conditions

1. A member without dependents assigned to single-type adequate government quarters at the permanent station and entitled to partial BAH who is subsequently sick in a hospital (no PCS involved), continues to be entitled to partial BAH while hospitalized.

2. Except as provided in subparagraphs 260201.B and C, a member without dependents in grade E-6 or below who is offered an assignment of adequate government quarters, or is assigned government quarters but elects not to occupy such quarters and resides in private quarters at own expense, is assigned to government quarters and not entitled to BAH. Therefore, such member is entitled to partial BAH.

3. Partial BAH is not authorized during proceed time, leave en route, or travel time on PCS unless member is assigned to single-type government quarters and not entitled to BAH.

4. Member married to another member who has no dependents other than the spouse is entitled to partial BAH when assigned to single-type government quarters and is not entitled to BAH. However, such members assigned to family-type government quarters are not entitled to partial BAH.

5. A member occupying single-type government quarters whose dependents reside in family-type government quarters, is not entitled to BAH and therefore, is entitled to partial BAH, provided the family quarters are not assigned under the member's eligibility.

6. A single member without dependents is not entitled to partial BAH when assigned to family-type government quarters.

7. A Navy officer without dependents on sea duty, being reimbursed under paragraph 260202 for the expense incurred for quarters, when the quarters aboard ship are uninhabitable, is entitled to partial BAH.

8. Member without dependents confined in a guardhouse, brig, or correctional barracks who was assigned to single-type, government quarters before confinement and remains assigned to such quarters during confinement is entitled to partial BAH unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

9. Member without dependents who is restrained in a status of arrest in assigned single-type government quarters, and therefore not entitled to BAH, is entitled to partial BAH unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

10. Member without dependents permanently assigned to a hospital for treatment and assigned quarters in the hospital is entitled to partial BAH.

11. Member married to another member, neither having other dependents, who is assigned to sea duty and occupies government family quarters assigned to the spouse when vessel is in port, is a member without dependents assigned to quarters on the vessel and is not entitled to BAH but is entitled to partial BAH.

12. Member without dependents who is ordered PCS to confinement in a guard-house, brig, correctional barracks, or to additional training in a retraining or rehabilitation facility, is assigned to certain quarters therein and not entitled to BAH. Such member is entitled to partial BAH unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

13. Member without dependents assigned to single-type government quarters between permanent duty stations and not entitled to BAH is entitled to partial BAH. This includes periods of temporary occupancy of government quarters in excess of 30 days without entitlement to BAH.

★14. Effective 20 April 1999, a member without dependents is not entitled to partial BAH when assigned to government single-type quarters (including government-leased quarters) that exceed the minimum standards of single quarters for the member's grade.

2603 MEMBERS WITH DEPENDENTS

260301. Entitlements

. A. When Entitled To BAH. A member with dependents who is entitled to basic pay is entitled to BAH at the rates prescribed for members with dependents when:

1. Adequate government quarters are not furnished for the member and dependents without payment of rental charge.

2. Adequate government quarters are not furnished for the member's dependents, or all of the member's dependents are prevented by competent authority from occupying such quarters, even though quarters are assigned for the member's occupancy. Does not apply to the provisions of paragraph 260409.

3. Dependents are not en route or do not accompany the member to the permanent duty station, or the vicinity thereof, so as to preclude assignment of family quarters. Under such circumstances, the mere availability of quarters which could have been assigned does not defeat the right of a member to the BAH for dependents. See Table 26-9 for the location to be used in determining the member's BAH entitlement.

B. Naval Aviation Cadets. A naval aviation cadet with dependents is entitled to BAH under the conditions and at the rates prescribed for an enlisted member in grade E-4 (over 4 years' service) with dependents.

★C. Limitation on Quarters Occupied by Member. Effective 20 April 1999, when adequate quarters are not furnished for a member's dependents, the member may not occupy, either at the permanent or TDY station, government quarters which exceed the minimum standards for the member's grade without dependents without affecting the right to BAH unless:

- (1) These quarters are the only quarters available, and
- (2) The quarters are not suitable for joint occupancy; or

(3) If suitable for joint occupancy, the quarters are jointly occupied with other members permanently assigned to the PDS.

★D. Quarters Occupied During Special Duty Assignment. Effective 20 April 1999, a member, not accompanied by dependents, serving outside the United States, its territories, or possessions, in a duty assignment having official or diplomatic responsibilities involving officials of foreign governments, may be assigned to quarters that exceed the minimum standards for the member's grade without dependents, without affecting the member's right to BAH. The local CINC or major unit Commander is the appropriate authority to decide whether an assignment entails "official or diplomatic" responsibilities involving officials of foreign governments. However, such quarters shall not be available on a continuing basis for single occupancy, if they are adequate for assignment as family housing to members of similar grade.

E. Additional Room Assigned to Chaplain. Assignment of an additional room to a chaplain for spiritual purposes does not affect the member's right to BAH. The room must be used for official duties and not as living quarters.

260302. Government Quarters Assigned or Occupied.

A. Adequacy of Government Quarters. The term "government quarters or housing facilities" is in the Definitions. The base, post, or installation commander determines when government quarters are adequate and appropriate for assignment.

B. Quarters Not Designated as Family-Type Quarters. A member who is neither assigned to nor occupies government quarters is entitled to BAH or BAH-DIFF for dependents even though the dependents occupy government quarters not designated as family-type quarters. Examples of such quarters are:

1. One room occupied by a member's spouse incident to employment as a domestic servant in quarters of a commissioned officer.

2. Dormitory quarters occupied by a member's child at a school for dependents of military personnel.

3. A hospital room occupied by a dependent under the Dependents' Medical Care Act (reference (aq)). However, a member is not entitled to BAH or BAH-DIFF when a sole dependent is hospitalized in a government or civilian hospital under the Dependents' Medical Care Act (reference (aq)) and the member is assigned to and occupies government quarters (even though private quarters are maintained and occasionally occupied).

4. Off base housing, non-government quarters, occupied by member's civilian spouse incident to employment overseas with Department of Defense Dependent Schools as a schoolteacher. NOTE: Member is separated from spouse by competent orders.

C. Quarters Furnished on Behalf of the United States. A member is not entitled to BAH or BAH-DIFF for dependents if the member and dependents are furnished adequate family quarters on behalf of the United States without rental charge. Examples of such quarters are:

1. Family quarters furnished a member in an official capacity by a foreign government.

2. Family-type quarters furnished by a state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospital to an officer serving on active duty as an intern or resident physician.

3. Family-type quarters furnished by a college, university, or research facility as part of a fellowship, scholarship or grant.

D. Quarters Occupied by Dependents. A member furnished single-type quarters is not entitled to BAH on behalf of:

1. A spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished quarters in kind as a civilian employee at a government hospital.

2. A spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished government quarters while serving with the American Red Cross overseas.

3. A sole dependent who is a student nurse in training at a government hospital. However, BAH is payable on behalf of a dependent who is a student nurse in training at a civilian hospital.

4. A civilian spouse who is a sole dependent and who is furnished government quarters while assigned overseas with Department of Defense Dependent Schools as a schoolteacher.

5. Dependents evacuated from a danger area, who occupy government housing facilities at a safehaven. (See subparagraph 260302.G for exception when member must continue to pay for private housing).

6. Dependents alone or when accompanied by the member, who occupy government quarters assigned to another member for more than 90 days at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is of a permanent nature and BAH entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Visits of 90 or less days are social visits and do not cause loss of BAH. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.

7. Any dependent(s), if one or more of the member's dependents occupy the quarters with the member on a permanent basis or on a social visit in excess of 90 consecutive days, unless other dependents are precluded by competent orders from residing with the member.

E. Quarters Occupied by Dependents During Member's Sea Duty or Field Duty. A member whose dependents temporarily occupy government quarters while the member is on sea duty or field duty is entitled to BAH for a period not to exceed 90 days. (See Table 26-5, rule 2.)

F. Rental Quarters (Other Than Inadequate Quarters). A member and dependents who occupy the following facilities on a rental basis are entitled to BAH. (See Definitions for "rental charge.")

1. Any housing facilities, including trailers, under the jurisdiction of the government other than government quarters constructed or designated for occupancy without charge. The member may sublease such quarters to a temporary sublessee with or without charge and neither the sublessor nor sublessee will lose their right to BAH.

2. A hotel on the grounds of a Service Academy.

3. Quarters furnished a member in connection with service in a capacity other than that of a member.

G. Quarters at Safehaven Temporarily Occupied by Dependents. A member is entitled to BAH for dependents when:

1. The member's dependents occupy government-provided housing at a safehaven area after emergency evacuation from private housing at the permanent station; and

2. Due to conditions beyond the member's control, member is required to continue payment of rental for the private housing in order to house furnishings and belongings and to have quarters available upon return of the dependents.

3. This entitlement will continue until such time as dependents are authorized to return to member's permanent duty station or arrive at a designated place as contemplated by JFTR, paragraph U5240-A (reference (d)).

H. Lease on Private Rental Quarters. Effective 8 December 1997, when a member makes a local move from private, leased quarters to government housing, BAH is not payable for the remainder of the lease on the private quarters even though the member is required to honor the lease.

260303. Quarters Designated as Inadequate.

A. Entitlement to BAH-II. A member with dependents may be assigned designated inadequate quarters on a rental basis without loss of BAH-II. This does not apply to bachelor officer quarters, visiting officer quarters, guest houses, and similar type facilities, or to assigned quarters undergoing ordinary repairs. Orders stating that quarters were inadequate while repairs were being made do not operate to authorize BAH-II during the period involved.

B. Effect of Subleasing Inadequate Quarters. The member may share the quarters with others or permit occupancy by others while on leave. The member also may sublet the quarters on a rental basis without loss of BAH-II, the amount of rent being immaterial.

C. Rental Charge for Inadequate (Sub-standard) Quarters. Collect rent from the member at the fair rental value of the quarters, as established by base housing personnel. The rental charge for the quarters shall be the fair rental value of such quarters, not to exceed 75 percent of the member's with dependent BAH-II rate. Rental charge is independent of the amount and type of BAH-II being paid to the member. See also subparagraph 260303.G for assignment of inadequate quarters to members married to one another. A member's receipt of BAH-DIFF does not affect the rental charge.

D. Effective Date of BAH-II and Rental Charge. BAH-II and rental charge begin on the date of the member's assignment to such quarters or on the date the determination of inadequacy is effective, whichever is later.

E. Computation of BAH-II and Rental Charge. Compute BAH-II and rental charge on a 30-day month basis and prorate at one thirtieth of the monthly rate for each day inadequate quarters are assigned. Do not pay BAH-II or charge rent for the 31st day of a month. Pay 3 days' BAH-II and charge 3 days' rent when inadequate quarters are assigned on the 28th of February. Do not charge rent for the day the assignment is terminated; however, BAH-II accrues for the day of termination.

F. Inadequate Quarters Redesignated Adequate. Rental charges and BAH-II cease on the date rehabilitated inadequate quarters are redesignated as adequate government quarters. If a member's assignment was continued during the period of rehabilitation, the redesignation of adequacy is effective as of the first day of the month following the month in which the rehabilitation was completed.

G. Husband and Wife Entitled To BAH-II. When a husband and wife are both members who jointly occupy inadequate family quarters on a rental basis, use Table 26-4 to determine their respective BAH-II entitlements. The rental charge for the quarters shall be the fair rental value of the assigned inadequate family-type quarters, but may never exceed 75 percent of the with dependent BAH-II rate which would be payable to a member of the same grade and rank as the member under whose eligibility the quarters are assigned. The BAH-II paid to the respective members does not affect the amount of rent charged, even where a member is receiving BAH-II at the with dependent rate. Collect in accordance with Service regulations. For inter-Service marriages, the rental charge will be collected in accordance with the regulations of the Service furnishing the quarters.

260304. Dependent. The term “dependent” for BAH purposes is the same as defined in the Definitions.

A. Member with Dependents. A member is not entitled to BAH on behalf of:

1. A minor child who is entitled to basic pay as a member on active duty in a Uniformed Service. This includes a minor child attending one of the Military Service academies where quarters are furnished by the United States.

2. A spouse who is on active duty in a Uniformed Service of the United States and entitled to basic pay and allowances. See Table 26-4 for guide to BAH entitlement when both spouses are in the Military Service and entitled to basic pay and allowances.

3. A dependent for whom the member has been absolved of the requirement to provide support; for example, desertion without cause, marital infidelity.

4. A dependent whose whereabouts is unknown and whose absence or whereabouts remains unexplained.

5. A former spouse to whom the member is paying alimony.

6. A dependent who occupies government quarters as a permanent residence without payment of a rental charge. (See paragraph 260411 for exception.)

B. Dependent Spouse in Foreign Service. A member is entitled to BAH on behalf of a spouse in military service of a government other than the United States. This applies even though furnished quarters or paid a monetary allowance in lieu of quarters by that government.

C. Dependency Approval. Dependency must be approved before entitlement to BAH is authorized. After initial approval, the Services must maintain adequate levels of internal audit to assure the legality, propriety, and correctness of all disbursements for BAH. See individual Service regulations for procedures.

★D. Certification of Dependents Status. Effective 20 April 1999, each member who is entitled to BAH on behalf of dependents must provide recertification to the Secretary concerned indicating the status of each dependent of the member to support entitlement to BAH on behalf of dependents upon arrival at a new PDS. If a member fails to provide the certification in a timely manner, stop BAH on behalf of dependents at the end of the month in which the certification is due, but continue to pay BAH at the appropriate partial or without-dependent rate unless the member is not entitled to that allowance for some other reason. Resume paying BAH at the with-dependent rate effective the date the member provides proper certification. Do not pay the higher rate retroactively in the absence of certification from the member's commander that the failure to recertify timely was for reasons beyond control of the member.

★E. Reserve Component Members. Effective 20 April 1999, after initial certification, Reserve component members must recertify dependency status at least every third year from the previous certification or upon change in dependency status.

F. Dependency Re-Determinations. Annual redetermination of dependency is required for members who claim BAH on behalf of :

1. Parents, parents-in-law, stepparents, parents-by-adoption, in-loco-parentis.
2. Students 21 and 22 years of age.
3. Incapacitated children over 21 years of age.
4. Ward of a court.

260305. Entitlement During Leave, Travel Status, Separation, and Other Situations.
See Table 26-5.

260306. Dates to Start and Stop BAH. See Tables 26-6, 26-7, and 26-8.

2604 RULES FOR DETERMINING RELATIONSHIP AND DEPENDENCY

260401. Application of Rules. In determining relationship or dependency for BAH entitlement, the appropriate officials must apply the rules in Table 26-1 or 26-2.

260402. Lawful Spouse and Legitimate, Unmarried, Minor Children. A member's lawful spouse and legitimate, unmarried, minor children are at all times considered dependents for BAH purposes, except under the situations shown below and in subparagraphs 260304.A or 260406. When both members are entitled to BAH or BAH-DIFF on behalf of a child(ren) from a previous relationship, when they marry and are stationed in the same area, all of the children are considered as one class of dependents. Therefore, only one BAH with Dependent rate (including BAH-DIFF) is payable. A determination of relationship is required, but usually a determination of dependency is not. In all instances of a member having a spouse on active duty, full details must be given showing full name, social security number, duty station, and branch of Service of that spouse.

A. When two members, with no other dependents, are married to each other, they may elect which member will receive BAH on behalf of their adopted children or children born of their marriage. Both members must agree to the election. If the members cannot agree, the senior member is entitled to BAH for their children. The members may subsequently elect to transfer BAH entitlement on behalf of adopted children and children born of the marriage from one member to the other. Such elections may not be applied retroactively.

B. When one of two members married to each other is already receiving BAH at the with-dependent rate on behalf of an adopted child(ren), child(ren) from a previous marriage, or an illegitimate child(ren)), then any child(ren) born of their marriage, or adopted by them, is within the same class of dependents for which the member is receiving BAH and the other member may not claim the children for BAH purposes. However, if the member elects to stop receiving BAH at the with-dependent rate, then the other member may claim the child(ren) for BAH purposes.

1. When both members are entitled to BAH-I, BAH-II or BAH-DIFF on behalf of child(ren) from prior relationships, and marry, are assigned to the same or adjacent bases, and are not assigned government quarters, only one member may receive BAH at the with dependent rate on behalf of the common class of dependents.

★2. Effective 20 April 1999, when one of two members married to each other is receiving BAH at the with-dependent rate, the class of dependents includes the parents of either member and only one BAH at the with-dependent rate is payable.

★3. Effective 20 April 1999, when married members are assigned to different locations, pursuant to competent military orders, their entitlement to increased allowances or to government-furnished quarters should be determined separately, without regard to the general rule that all children and parents of the members are dependents of the same class for the purpose of determining BAH entitlements. However, each member is required to have physical custody of the child(ren) in order to be paid BAH at the with dependents rate. If the child(ren) is with a third party, only BAH-Diff can be paid. (See Table 26-4.)

260403. Validity of Member's Marriage. Any case where the validity of a member's marriage is questioned is considered a case of doubtful relationship.

A. Remarriage Within Prohibited Period Following Divorce. Under the laws of some states, a marriage is not dissolved until a specified period has elapsed after granting of a divorce decree. Remarriage is prohibited within the specified period. Moreover, in all states that grant an interlocutory decree before they grant a final divorce decree, remarriage may not be contracted before the final decree is granted.

B. Marriage by Proxy. Proxy marriages are considered valid if performed in a jurisdiction which recognizes common-law marriages and has no statute or judicial determination prohibiting proxy marriages.

C. Marriage by Telephone. A marriage by telephone will be recognized as entitling a member to BAH on behalf of a "lawful spouse" only if a statute or court decision authorizes or recognizes telephone marriages in the jurisdiction where the marriage was performed.

D. Common-Law Marriages. Under laws of certain states, a common-law marriage may be entered into by persons who do not obtain a license to marry or go through certain other formalities. Common-law marriages entered into in those states are considered valid if they are contracted in accordance with state law.

E. Foreign Nation Divorce. A foreign nation divorce may or may not be recognized as valid in the United States depending on several factors. These factors include place of residence of the parties involved, whether they appeared in person to obtain the divorce, and applicable state laws. Any claim involving remarriage of a member following a foreign nation divorce and any claim by or on behalf of the spouse from whom the member has obtained a foreign nation divorce are cases of doubtful relationship. A claim based on a member's marriage to a person who has obtained a foreign nation divorce is also a doubtful case.

F Purported Marriage.

1. Void Marriage. If a member's marriage is void (because of a pre-existing marriage of the spouse, for example) the member has no lawful spouse and is not entitled to BAH as a result of the purported marriage. When invalidity of the marriage is discovered, no further BAH payments may be made for any period (see Table 26-7, rule 4). The member may retain payments already received if they are validated under section 5005. When validity of a marriage is questionable, submit the case to the office shown in subparagraph 3 for a determination on validity of the marriage and, if necessary, validation of payments already made.

2. Annulled Marriage. If a member's marriage is annulled by court decree, no further BAH payments may be made for any period (see Table 26-7, rule 3). The member may retain payments received before the effective date of the decree. Since validation under section 5005 is required for retention of such payments in some annulment cases (based on legal factors), submit all annulment cases to the office shown in subparagraph 3 for review and, if necessary, validation of payments made.

3. Determination and Validations. Submit requests for determination on validity of a marriage (doubtful cases) or for validation of payments to the appropriate address shown below:

- a. Army
DFAS-IN/FJECG
8899 East 56th Street
Indianapolis IN 46249-0855

260404. Child of Legally Invalid Marriage. An unmarried minor child of an invalid marriage or a marriage annulled as void or voidable is considered a dependent for BAH purposes.

260405. Reserved.

260406. Support of Dependent-General.

A. Proof of Support. The statutory purpose of BAH on behalf of a dependent is to at least partially reimburse members for the expense of providing private quarters for their dependents when government quarters are not furnished, and not to pay BAH on behalf of a dependent as a bonus merely for the technical status of being married or a parent. Proof of support of a lawful spouse or unmarried, minor, legitimate child of a member is generally not required. However, when evidence (e.g., special investigation reports; record reviews; fraud, waste and abuse complaints; sworn testimony of individuals; statement by member) or complaints from dependents of nonsupport or inadequate support of dependents are received, proof of adequate support as stated in subparagraph E is required.

B. Nonsupport. A member who fails to support a dependent on whose behalf BAH is received is not entitled to BAH on behalf of that dependent. Recoup for periods of nonsupport or inadequate support. Unless a period of nonsupport or inadequate support was caused as a result of mission requirements of the Service concerned (e.g., remote assignment, deployed, limited access to administrative support and/or financial networks, etc.), or the actions of outside agencies (such as financial institutions, postal service, etc.) over which the member has no control, as determined by Service regulations, the subsequent payment of arrears of support does not entitle a member to BAH on behalf of the dependent for the period of nonsupport or inadequate support. If a member is not entitled to BAH for dependents under any of the subsequent subparagraphs, consider entitlement to without-dependent or partial-rate BAH under section 2602. NOTE: A member does not avoid the legal responsibility to comply with a court order for support by forfeiting BAH.

C. Legal Separation Agreement or Court Decree, Judgment or Order Silent on Support, Not Stating Amount of Support, or Absolving Member of Support Responsibility. A legal separation agreement, court decree, judgment, or order that is silent on dependent support, does not state the amount of dependent support, or absolves the member of dependent support responsibility does not of itself affect a member's BAH entitlement. This is true regardless of the jurisdiction in which the decree, agreement or order was issued or in which the dependent is domiciled. The member is entitled to BAH on behalf of a dependent if the member contributes to the support of the dependent in an amount that is not less than the difference between the member's applicable "with-" and "without-" dependent BAH-II rates.

D. Legal Separation Agreement or Court Order Stating Amount of Support.

If there is a court order or legal separation agreement stating the amount of support, a member must contribute to the support of the dependent the amount specified therein, but in no case may the support payments be less than the difference between the applicable BAH-II at the "with-" and "without-" dependent rate.

1. When a member is divorced from a nonmember, and they share joint legal custody of a child, and the ex-spouse is awarded primary physical custody and is not living in government quarters, then the member is considered a noncustodial parent for the purpose of entitlement to BAH. If the member's court-ordered support is less than the difference between the applicable BAH-II at the "with-" and "without-dependent" rate, then the member is entitled to the BAH at the rate for members without dependents only if not residing in government quarters. However, members who pay additional support to the ex-spouse having primary custody of the child and not assigned to government quarters, is entitled to BAH on behalf of a dependent solely on the basis of payment of child support, is entitled to BAH at the without-dependent rate and BAH-DIFF.

2. When a member has temporary custody of a child and they reside in private quarters, the cost of maintaining a residence is not a factor in determining entitlement to with dependent rate of BAH and may not be used instead of or in addition to child support to qualify for increased allowances. The dependent child must reside with the member on a nontemporary basis (e.g., for a continuous period of more than 90 consecutive days) to qualify for the with dependent rate BAH for the temporary period. The cost of maintaining a home may not be added to the child support amount to qualify for the increased allowances.

E. Adequate Support. If the support requirements are not established by court order or legal separation agreement, a member must provide support in an amount that is not less than the difference between the "with-" and "without-" dependent BAH-II rates applicable to the member's grade. The amount of support required to retain or receive BAH on behalf of a dependent does not necessarily mean that such amount is adequate to meet the policy of the Service concerned as to what constitutes adequate support in the absence of a legal separation agreement or court order.

★F. Increase in Support Required by Increase in BAH-II Rates. Effective 20 April 1999, whenever there is an increase in BAH-II rates, the minimum required support under subparagraphs C, D, and E, increases to the difference between the new "with-" and "without-" dependent BAH-II rates. Members receiving BAH on behalf of a dependent under these circumstances must increase the amount of support, when applicable, within 60 days of the increase in order to continue receiving the increased entitlement.

G. Voluntary Support Payments. Voluntary support payments will not be considered for purposes of determining BAH entitlement unless there is a mutual agreement between the member parents that the support payments will be accepted by the custodial member parent.

H. Settlement Agreement

1. Property settlements made under a court order or written agreement are not considered support for BAH purposes.

2. Payments made under a settlement in place of support are considered support for the period expressly provided in the written agreement or court order.

3. A lump-sum settlement in place of support made under written agreement or court order is considered support for the period the lump sum would reasonably cover support of the dependent.

I. Interlocutory Decree of Divorce. If an interlocutory decree of divorce does not provide for support to the spouse, the member is not entitled to BAH for the spouse after the date of the decree unless proof of support is furnished.

J. Doubtful Cases. Submit any doubtful cases involving support for determination to the offices listed in subparagraph 260403.F.

260407. Support of Dependent-Both Parents Are Members.

A. Divorce or Legal Separation Effective or Amended Before 1 July 1992. In addition to the provisions of paragraph 260406, the following subparagraphs apply when divorced or legally separated parents are both members and the divorce or separation occurred prior to 1 July 1992. These rules apply only when neither member is assigned to family-type government quarters, unless otherwise specified.

1. The non-custodial parent is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren), provided the noncustodial parent pays adequate child support.

2. If the non-custodial member does not pay the required amount of child support, the custodial member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the children.

3. The custodial member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) if the non-custodial member declines to claim the child(ren). Such declination should be in writing if possible, may be revoked at anytime, and may not be retroactive. If the non-custodial member is entitled to BAH on behalf of another dependent, the custodial member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) of the marriage.

4. Only one parent is entitled to BAH on behalf of children of the marriage when all of the children reside in one household; this applies even if child support payments are specifically for support of only some of the children.

5. When the child(ren) of the marriage are in the custody of a third party, only one member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the children, even if both members are paying sufficient child support to qualify for the entitlement. The senior member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) when the two members do not agree on which person will claim the entitlement. If the members are of equal rank, date of rank determines which one receives BAH on behalf of the child(ren).

6. When each member has legal and physical custody of one or more of the children of the marriage, each member is entitled to BAH on behalf of those child(ren). If one member is paying adequate child support on behalf of the child(ren) in the other member's custody, the custodial member is not entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) in that member's custody.

7. In cases of joint legal custody, when physical custody changes from one parent to another, each parent is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) during those periods the child(ren) are actually in that parent's physical custody.

8. When a non-custodial member pays child support to the custodial parent who also has another dependent who makes that member eligible for BAH, there is a presumption that the custodial parent's entitlement is based on the dependent(s) other than the child(ren) of the marriage. The BAH entitlement for the custodial and non-custodial parents is determined individually.

B. Divorce or Legal Separation Effective or Amended After 30 June 1992.
In addition to the provisions of paragraph 260406, the following subparagraphs apply when the divorced or separated parents are both members and the divorce or separation occurred, or the decree or agreement was amended after 30 June 1992. These rules apply only when neither member is assigned to family-type government quarters, unless otherwise specified.

1. Unless the members agree to the contrary, the custodial parent is entitled to BAH-I on behalf of the child(ren) regardless of the amount of child support received by that member. In addition to the court order, a separate notarized agreement between the members must be provided in order for the non-custodial member to receive BAH on behalf of the child(ren).

2. When the members each have legal and physical custody of one or more of the children of the marriage, they are each entitled to BAH on behalf of the children in their individual custody, regardless of child support payments from one member to the other.

3. When the child(ren) are in the custody of a third party, the rule in subparagraph 260407.A.5 applies.

4. In cases when there is joint legal custody, with physical custody changing from one parent to the other, the rule in subparagraph 260407.A.7 applies.

5. When the dependents are not a common class, the rule in subparagraph 260407.A.8 applies.

260408. Child Living With Former Spouse Remarried to Another Service Member.

A. When a member's child resides in government quarters not assigned to the divorced member parent, that member is not entitled to BAH on behalf of the child.

B. BAH may not be paid on behalf of a child to both the step-parent and the natural parent at the same time. The natural parent has priority to BAH on behalf of that child if providing adequate support.

260409. Child Living With Former Spouse-Member Remarries.

A. Subparagraph 260301.A.2 does not apply in the case of a member who is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse when the member remarries and is assigned to or occupies government family quarters. The member is not entitled to BAH on behalf of the child living with the former spouse. This rule also applies when, upon remarriage, the member marries a member.

B. If a member is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse and the non-custodial parent marries another member and children are born of this marriage, and the member paying child support vacates government family quarters on PCS assignment with quarters being reassigned to the new spouse, the member reassigned PCS is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) of the former marriage.

260410. Child(ren) Living With Former Spouse or Estranged Spouse Who Is Member Assigned Family Quarters. When the member parent having custody of the child(ren) is assigned to, or occupies, adequate family-type quarters with the child(ren) while receiving child support, the member parent paying child support is not entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren).

260411. Child Living With Former or Estranged Spouse in Family Quarters Visits Member. When a child(ren) who normally resides in government family quarters with a member's former or estranged spouse (custodial parent) visits the member in private quarters for more than 90 days, the visit is considered non-temporary and the member is entitled to BAH on behalf of the child(ren) from the first day of the visit. If the visit is 90 days or less, BAH on behalf of the child(ren) is not payable for any part of the visit.

260412. Adopted, Illegitimate, and Step-Children. Adopted children, illegitimate children, and step-child(ren) are primary dependents. In fact dependency is no longer required for these dependents.

A. Proof of Parentage. A member who claims BAH on behalf of an adopted child, step-child, or a child born out of wedlock (parents are not married to each other at the time of the child's birth) must provide proof of parentage as follows:

1. for an adopted child, document showing the member is the child's legal parent.

2. for a step-child, a marriage license showing the member is married to the child's legal parent and documentation showing that the member's spouse is the parent of the child.

3. for a child born out of wedlock, a birth certificate with the member name cited is required. If the member name is not stated on the birth certificate, or a court-order, obtain a signed statement of parentage from the member. If the illegitimate child(ren) is (are) not in the custody of the member parent, the case is treated in accordance with the rules for BAH-DIFF. The same rules apply when applicable to a member-mother not having custody.

B. Support Requirements. A member-parent may claim a dependent child(ren) adopted children, illegitimate children, and step-child(ren) for BAH purposes. Proof of support for dependents is generally not required. The provisions of subparagraph 260406.A will be applied. The member is entitled to BAH if the member contributes to the support of the dependent(s) and that support is not less than the BAH-DIFF. This includes members entitled to BAH-DIFF and members assigned to single type quarters when the child(ren) is in the physical custody of another person.

260413. In Fact Dependency Determinations for Secondary Dependents. An incapacitated child over age 21, a ward of the court, or an unmarried child over age 21 and under age 23 full-time in college, requires in fact dependency in accordance with the regulations of the Service concerned. The child must be dependent upon the member for over one-half of the child's support. This means:

A. The child's income, not counting the member's contributions, must be less than one-half of the child's living expenses, and

B. The member's contribution must be more than one-half of the child's monthly living expenses.

260414. Dependent Child Adopted by a Third Party. A member is not entitled to BAH for a child after the child is adopted by a third party and final order or decree of adoption has been entered. Entitlement to BAH continues after an interlocutory decree has been entered if the decree does not change the legal relationship between the child and the member, and the member supports the child.

260415. Confinement in Penal or Correctional Institution.

A. BAH Payable. Confinement of a member's spouse or unmarried minor child in a penal or correctional institution does not affect member's right to BAH on the dependent's behalf, unless:

1. The member refuses to support the dependent.
2. The member has been absolved from supporting the dependent.
3. The period of confinement may extend beyond 5 years.
4. The case is otherwise doubtful.

B. Doubtful Cases. Submit cases involving a sentence extending beyond 5 years and doubtful cases to the addresses shown in subparagraph 260403.F.3. Do not pay BAH pending decision.

260416. Limitation on the Amount of BAH Payable to a Member Entitled to BAH Solely on the Basis of the Member's Payment of Child Support.

A. Except as provided in subparagraph B, if a member is assigned to single-type quarters of the United States or a housing facility under the jurisdiction of a Uniformed Service and is authorized BAH solely by reason of the member's payment of adequate child support, the member is entitled to BAH-DIFF.

B. A member who was assigned to single-type government quarters and entitled to BAQ at the with dependent rate solely on the basis of the member's payment of child support on 4 December 1991, is entitled to BAH-II at the with-dependent rate until such time as the member becomes entitled to receive BAH on behalf of a dependent for a reason other than, or in addition to, the member's payment of child support. If a member moves out of single-type government quarters on or after 1 January 1998, the member is no longer entitled to BAH-II under the preceding sentence. BAH entitlement in such cases will be determined under the normal rules.

C. A member not assigned to government quarters, who is entitled to BAH on behalf of a dependent solely on the basis of payment of child support, is entitled to BAH at the without-dependent rate and BAH-DIFF.

260417. Dependent Parent.

A. Basis of Determination. Dependency of a parent is determined on the basis of an affidavit submitted by the parent, and any other evidence required under applicable regulations. Determination of dependency is made by applicable authority listed in subparagraph 260403.F.3. A legal guardian may complete the form for a mentally incompetent parent.

B. Dependency Requirement. A member is entitled to BAH-I on behalf of parents if the parents are dependent upon the member for over one-half of their support. This means:

1. The parents' income, not counting the member's contribution, must be less than one-half of their monthly living expenses, and

2. The member's contribution must be more than one-half of the parent's monthly living expenses.

C. Change in Status of Dependent. A member is entitled to BAH for any active duty period during which dependency of the parent is shown to exist, whether the dependency arose before or after the member entered service. If dependency arises because of changed circumstances, and the facts show the member has started to contribute over one-half of the parents' support, BAH is authorized from the date the contribution began.

D. Stepparent. A stepparent-stepchild relationship ends upon divorce from the blood parent, but not necessarily upon the death of the blood parent. BAH on behalf of a stepparent may be established after death of the blood parent.

260418. Factors Used in Dependency Determinations for Parents.

A. Family Unit Rule. In determining dependency of a parent, the total income and expenses of the family unit of which the parent is a member must be considered. Normally, the member's contribution to the expenses of the unit must exceed one-half of the unit's total expenses before any one person in the unit can be considered dependent on him or her. For example, a mother cannot be considered dependent if she is a member of a family unit in which her husband is supporting himself but is not providing sufficiently for the mother's individual needs.

B. Equity and Good Conscience. When application of the family unit rule results in manifest injustice, any other available evidence of dependency is considered, and determination made according to principles of equity and good conscience.

★C. Charity. Effective 20 April 1999, contributions made to parents by charitable organizations are considered income of the parent.

D. Charitable Institution. Residence of a parent in a charitable institution, public or private, is not a bar to entitlement if the member claims BAH on behalf of the parent and other conditions of entitlement are met.

★E. Social Security, Unemployment Compensation, and Pensions. Effective 20 April 1999, payments made to the parent from the Social Security Administration, unemployment compensation, and financial assistance from governmental agencies, are considered income. Pensions received by the parent are also considered income.

F. Capital Assets. Unliquidated capital assets are not considered income, and parents are not required to deplete their capital assets in order to establish dependency on a member for BAH purposes. However, proceeds derived from the liquidation of capital assets are considered income. Amounts placed in reserve for depreciation of property held for income normally are considered available for current living expenses of a parent, and are therefore, income.

G. Rate of Return Rule. In determining dependency of parents who possess uninvested capital, compute the income return on the basis of 5.25 percent per annum.

2605 PAYMENT OF BAH, MEMBERS IN A NON-PAY STATUS

260501. Entitlements.

A. Unauthorized Absence. For a period not to exceed 2 months from the first day of absence, BAH at the rate being credited a member in grades E-1, E-2, E-3, and E-4 (4 years' or less service). at the time absence commenced may be paid to a dependent on whose behalf BAH was claimed prior to commencement of the absence, if all of the following conditions exist:

1. The member has been in an unauthorized absence status for more than 29 consecutive days.

2. The dependent applies for payment of BAH and the application is received by appropriate authority within 3 months after the date absence commenced.

3. If the Service concerned fails to provide timely notice to dependents of their right to apply for BAH, a waiver of the 3-month stipulation in A2 above may be granted on a case-by-case basis by the authority specified in B1 below. If such a waiver is granted, payment may only be made on those applications received within 2 months after the dependents are properly notified of their right to submit such applications.

4. No positive information has been received that the dependent is residing with or has joined the member at the place of absence.

5. If a member is assigned government family-type quarters (adequate or inadequate), no payment of BAH may be made.

Payment of BAH may not be made directly to the member on behalf of a dependent. Payment shall be made only to the dependents.

B. Pretrial Confinement in a Foreign Country. For a member in pretrial confinement in a foreign country, payment of BAH is authorized as follows:

1. Enlisted members in grades E-1, E-2, E-3, and E-4 (4 years' or less service). Payment is authorized for a period not to exceed 2 months under the conditions stated in subparagraph A above. For any subsequent months there must be showing of hardship on the dependent and approval on a case-by-case basis as follows:

- a. Army: Director
DFAS-IN/FJA
8899 East 56th Street
Indianapolis IN 46249-2301
- b. Navy:
Commander Naval Military Personnel Command
(NMPC-64)
Washington DC 20370
- c. Air Force:
HQ USAF/DPRC
Washington DC 20330-5000
- d. Marine Corps:
Commandant of the Marine Corps
(Code MHP-20)
Washington DC 20380

2. Enlisted members in grades E-4 (over 4 years' service) and above (cases where there has been a showing of hardship on the dependent). The approval authority for the initial and any subsequent payments is as shown in 1, above. No payment may be made without the approval of such authority on a case-by-case basis. Payments are subject to the conditions stated in A above. See Service regulations for procedures on processing claims.

C. Excess Leave. BAH may continue to be paid to a member in grade E-4 (4 years' or less service) or below, with dependents, for a period not to exceed 2 months during which an excess-leave status exists unless it is anticipated that member will not return to duty, for example, appellate leave. The 2-month period shall be computed from the first day of excess leave.

2. Must be in fact dependent on service member for substantial portion of support.
3. Applies also if child is in custody of someone other than service member (divorced spouse, parent, etc.).
4. If this is interlocutory decree of adoption, case must be submitted to DFAS-IN or DFAS-DE for determination.
5. In case of an Army member, the claim will be sent to DFAS-IN only when determination cannot be made by disbursing officer under AR 37-104-3 chapter 2, part 3 or is not covered by note 8.
6. This includes an illegitimate child of the spouse, when the member is not the blood parent. See subparagraph 260412.F.
7. In the case of Army Reserve Component (RC) personnel, initial determinations for dependents listed in rules 1,3,4, and 7 can be made by the RC unit commander or servicing Military Personnel Officer.
8. Claim will be sent to DFAS-DE only when determination cannot be made by AFO or designee as prescribed in AFM 177-373, volume IV.

Quarters termination must be certified by the commander under Military Service procedures.
27	a Reserve Component member in pay grade E-4 (4 or more years' service), or above, ordered to active duty for training (See subparagraph 570502.D for active duty other than for training)	at permanent duty station and for authorized travel time from home to first duty station and from last duty station to home (note 7).	for any period government quarters are occupied (notes 9 and 10).
28	a Reserve Component member in pay grade E-4 (less than 4 years' service), or lower, ordered to active duty for training (See subparagraph 570502.D, for active duty other than for training)	if the member was not assigned government quarters at the permanent duty station (note 7).
29	a Reservist in any pay grade called or ordered to active duty on or after 2 Aug 1990, in connection with Operation Desert Shield/ Storm; a Reserve Component member in any grade called or ordered to active duty on or after 5 Dec 1991 in support of a contingency operation (other than for a member who is authorized transportation of household goods as part of the call or order)	if the member is unable to continue to occupy a primary residence which is maintained by the member and which is owned by the member, or for which the member is responsible for rental payments.	if the member is assigned or occupies government quarters suitable and adequate for the member's grade and does not maintain and own a primary residence or is not responsible for rental payments on the member's primary residence (notes 9 and 10).

NOTES:

1. BAH accrues from the date of reporting through the day before the date the ship is placed in full commission, reduced commission, or in service not in commission, whichever occurs first.
2. For the purpose of payment of BAH under rule 8, duty for a period of less than 3 months is not considered to be sea duty. Duty for more than 3 months under temporary orders (TDY/TAD) which provide for return to the member's same permanent station is not considered sea duty. Ship-based staffs are not considered to be on sea duty for BAH purposes when the entire staff is ordered ashore by written orders and the duty ashore is not considered to be service in a self-propelled vessel that is in an active status, in commission or in service and is equipped with berthing and messing facilities.
3. When not assigned to government quarters at the permanent station, BAH accrues for up to 30 consecutive days at one location where government quarters are temporarily occupied while in a duty or authorized leave status not incident to PCS. BAH for a 30-day period is not forfeited if occupancy exceeds 30 days.
4. Entitlement to BAH for 30 days in government quarters applies only when occupancy of government quarters is of a temporary nature incident to the PCS as certified by the commander of the station involved. (For rule 16 the period of entitlement must be after receipt of PCS orders and before departure from old station and/or after arrival at new station.)
5. Entitlement begins on actual or constructive date of arrival home or other designated place, whichever date is earlier. (Compute constructive time arrival date via commercial transportation mode based upon the rules and provisions of the JFTR, Volume 1.)

6. Also applies to members entitled to pay and allowances while attending school under Operation Bootstrap.
7. BAH and per diem may be credited for the same periods, if otherwise qualified.
8. This rule is not applicable when a member is performing temporary duty under PCS orders at a station which is ultimately the member's permanent duty station upon completion of the temporary duty; in such instances, see rule 1 of this table.
9. Government quarters in fact occupied without payment of rental charges shall be deemed to have been assigned as appropriate and adequate quarters.
10. Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member for 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAH entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
11. The intent of these entitlements is that BAH continue for a maximum of 30 days at any one location. Movement from one unit of government quarters to another, or in and out of the same unit, at the same location, with or without a break in occupancy, does not break the consecutiveness and does not create new periods or extend the authorized 30 days without loss of BAH. Occupancy of government quarters at different locations creates a new 30-day period at each location. However, if government quarters at one location are considered to be occupied by a member at the same time the member occupies government quarters at a second location, a new 30-day period does not begin at the second location.
12. A member away from permanent station may occupy quarters of the United States designated for members without dependents at the member's temporary duty station without affecting the member's right to receive payment of basic allowances for quarters or assignment of quarters, if any, at the member's permanent station. Under such circumstances, a member may not occupy quarters of the United States which exceed the minimum standards for members of that grade without dependents, as prescribed by the Secretary concerned, unless the only quarters available (a) exceed the minimum standards, and (b) are made available for joint occupancy with other members.
13. Members in grade E-6 or above, who are assigned to an off-ship crew of a nuclear powered submarine, are entitled to BAH under rule 8 upon reassignment as the on-ship crew provided entitlement accrued during training and rehabilitation.
14. A member is also entitled to receive BAH after reporting to a deployed vessel, if the homeport of that ship is the same as the previous assignment and the member was receiving BAH at the homeport. Members TAD to the ship are also entitled to BAH after reporting to the deployed vessel if in receipt of BAH at the permanent duty station before being detached on TAD. Members in grade E-5, without dependents, assigned to sea duty may be authorized BAH if appropriate considering the availability of quarters for E-5s. A member married to another member below pay grade E-6 may be authorized one BAH Allowance. (See subparagraph 260201.C).
15. For members below pay grade E-7, entitlement does not exist during TDY or TAD if quarters are assigned or furnished at the permanent station, even though the quarters are vacated at the beginning of the TDY or TAD.
16. Installation commanders may, for reasons of military necessity or relief of hardship, authorize non-TDY members affected by PCS orders to temporarily occupy government quarters beyond 30 days without loss of BAH.

Table 26-4. BAH Entitlement at Permanent Stations for Spouses In Uniformed Service - Family-Type Quarters Not Assigned

NOTES:

1. When family-type quarters are jointly occupied by the members, neither member is entitled to BAH, even though the dependents do not reside in the quarters, unless dependents are prevented by military orders from occupying quarters.
2. When husband-wife members are stationed at the same or adjacent military installations, both members are normally authorized BAH at the appropriate rate when family-type quarters are not assigned, notwithstanding the availability of adequate single quarters for either or both members.
3. Members may be considered to be stationed at the same or adjacent bases or shore installations when they are not precluded by distance from living together, or they actually commute on a regular basis, regardless of distance.
4. When husband-wife members have no other dependents and are precluded by distance from living together, they will normally be treated as members without dependents for purposes of entitlement to BAH (see Table 26-3).
5. When husband-wife members, who are both entitled to BAH at the same or adjacent military installation, are separated geographically by competent orders and one member remains assigned to the old duty station, that member normally will be authorized continuance of BAH notwithstanding the availability of adequate single quarters for assignment to either member.
6. BAH at the rate payable to members without dependents is authorized during travel status after departure from the old permanent station, or during a period of leave, delay en route, or proceed time between permanent duty stations, provided the members are in pay grade E-4 (4 years' or more service), and above, are not in receipt of BAH for other dependents, and are not assigned to government quarters en route or temporarily occupy government quarters for more than 30 days at any one location.
7. When not assigned to government quarters at the permanent station, BAH accrues for up to 30 consecutive days at one location where government quarters are temporarily occupied while in a duty or authorized leave status not incident to PCS. BAH for a 30-day period is not forfeited if occupancy exceeds 30 days.
8. Refer to paragraph 260402.
9. If either column in column D is blank, that member is not assigned to single-type government quarters.
10. For purposes of this table, the members have agreed that member A is to receive BAH at the with-dependent rate (subparagraph 260402.A).
11. See Table 26-3 for BAH entitlement when a member is on field or sea duty.
12. When the dependents in column A, rules 9 through 12, are children from a prior marriage or illegitimate children residing with member A, the members may elect for member B to receive BAH for stepchildren, in accordance with subparagraph 260413.B, and member A to receive without-dependent rate BAH when not occupying single quarters.
13. When one member enters a non-pay status, the other member may claim the member not entitled to pay and allowances as a dependent and be authorized to draw BAH at the with-dependent rate for the duration of the non-pay status if otherwise entitled (for exception, see paragraph 260415).
14. Members must elect which one is to receive the with-dependent rate BAH. If they cannot agree as to the election, the entitlement will rest with the senior member. Elections cannot be retroactive.
15. When one or both of the dependents in columns A and B are dependent parents of the members, both members may receive with-dependent rate BAH, if otherwise entitled. Also, when married members no longer share a common residence due to competent military orders, their entitlement to increased allowances or to government-furnished quarters should be determined separately, without regard to the general rule that all dependents of members are members of the same class for the purpose of determining allowance entitlements. Refer to paragraphs 260406 and 260407 for BAH entitlement of divorced or legally separated members.
16. Members may temporarily occupy government quarters assigned to another member for 90 days or less at any one duty station without loss of BAH. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAH entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.

NOTES:

- Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member by a member and dependents, or dependents alone for a period of 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAQ entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
- BAQ credit continues if member has additional dependents who are precluded by competent authority from occupying government quarters or facilities furnished member and spouse, or spouse alone.
- The intent of these entitlements (rules 2, 6, and 8) is that BAQ continue for a maximum of 30 days at any one location. Movement from one unit of government quarters to another, or in and out of the same unit, at the same location, with or without a break in occupancy, does not break the consecutiveness and does not create new periods or extend the authorized 30 days without loss of BAQ. Occupancy of government quarters at different locations creates a new 30-day period at each location. However, if government quarters at one location are considered to be occupied by a member at the same time the member occupies government quarters at a second location, a new 30 day period does not begin at the second location.
- BAQ does not accrue during excess leave if member is not to continue in service after leave expires. Example: A member released from the disciplinary barracks on commandant's parole, and placed in excess leave status until sentence is ordered to be executed.
- Applies whether temporary occupancy of government quarters is at old station, while en route, or at new station. However, occupancy is limited to guest houses or other transient facilities. Family housing is excluded from such use.
- The phrase, "incident to PCS," refers to whether or not the member is en route to a new permanent station under PCS orders.
- Installation commanders may, for reasons of military necessity or relief from hardship, authorize non-TDY members affected by PCS orders to temporarily occupy government quarters beyond 30 days without loss of BAQ.
- Includes such status under permissive orders

	If member	then BAH begins on
1	enlists, or is called to EAD	date of enlistment or entry on active duty, if member is not assigned government quarters for member and dependents on that date.
2	is appointed to commissioned or warrant officer status	date active duty pay begins, if member is not assigned government quarters for member and dependents on that date.
3	occupies government quarters with dependents and quarters assignment is terminated or member and dependents physically depart permanent station pursuant to PCS orders	date of termination of quarters assignment or date of PCS departure, unless dependents continue to occupy the quarters. If definite assignment of quarters was not required, then BAH begins the date quarters are vacated.
4	occupies government quarters with dependents and the quarters are declared inadequate	date on which designation of inadequacy of quarters is effective, if member and dependents continue to occupy such quarters.
5	acquires a dependent (marriage, birth, adoption, etc.) (note 1)	date dependent is acquired, if member is not assigned government quarters for member and dependent(s) on that date (note 2).
6	acquires a dependent while in an unauthorized absence status	date member is returned to a pay status after apprehension or surrender, if member is not assigned government quarters for member and dependents on that date (note 3).
7	claims dependent parent	date determined or approved by authority shown in Table 26-1 or 26-2.
8	claims doubtful dependent

NOTES:

1. Includes dependent acquired while member is on authorized leave.
2.
 - a. Applies to sole dependent of officer or enlisted member.
 - b. Applies to any dependent on whose behalf a member is entitled to increased BAH.
 - c. BAH starts with date of member's marriage even though the marriage occurs on same day as divorce from another member.
 - d. When blood parents of an illegitimate child marry, the child becomes a legitimate dependent for BAH purposes.
 - e. In the case of Navy members, BAH will not be started more than 6 months before submission of the application without prior approval by the authority shown in Table 26-2.
3. If there has been any change in the status of dependents on whose behalf BAH existed on the date an unauthorized absence commenced, a member must reestablish the right to BAH.

Table 26-6. Date To Start BAH-Members With Dependents

DATE TO STOP BAH-CHANGES IN DEPENDENCY STATUS

3	is a spouse in a voidable (not void) marriage which is dissolved by final annulment decree	before date of the decree. (No payment of BAH may be made on or after date of the decree, regardless of credits accrued and not paid; BAH paid before the date of decree may be retained (note 2).
4	is a spouse in an invalid (void) marriage	before discovery of invalidity of the marriage. (No payment of BAH may be made on or after date of discovery, regardless of credits accrued and not paid. Retention of BAH paid before that time depends on validation under Chapter 50, section 5005.)
5	becomes of age (except a child who is incapable of self-support because of mental or physical incapacity)	before the child's 21st birthday.
6	marries (regardless of age, or mental or physical incapacity)	of the child's marriage. (Applies even though child's marriage is to a Service member who is also entitled to BAH on child's behalf for that date.)
7	is adopted by a third party by interlocutory order or decree which has effected a changed legal relationship	before date of adoption (note 3).
8	is adopted by a third party and a final order or decree has been entered	before date of adoption.
9	enters military service	before day of entry into service.
10	is one who must be "in fact" dependent on member, and such dependency ceases	before date dependency ceases.

NOTES:

1. Applies also when an affinitive relationship between a member and step-child ceases because of divorce from the child's parent.
2. Applies also when affinitive relationship between a member and step-child ceases because of annulment of marriage.
3. Case involving Army or Air Force member must be sent to DFAS-IN or DFAS-DE respectively, for determination as to whether order of decree effected a changed legal relationship. Cases involving Navy must be sent to DFAS-CL and Marines will send cases to Commandant of the Marine Corps, respectively.

DATE TO STOP BAH-OTHER THAN CHANGES IN DEPENDENCY STATUS
R U L E	A	B
	If member	then stop BAH at 2400 hours of the day
1	is furnished government quarters at the permanent station, adequate for the member and dependents	before the day quarters are assigned (or before day occupancy begins, if definite assignment not made) (note 1).
2	is furnished quarters (cash or in kind) on behalf of the United States, adequate for the member and dependents	before day quarters are furnished.
3	and dependents occupy inadequate quarters which are rehabilitated and designated as adequate quarters	before effective date of redesignation as adequate quarters.
4	and dependents occupy government quarters at the permanent station during family's visit, not incident to PCS (note 2)	before commencing the eighth consecutive day of occupancy (note 3).
5	and dependents temporarily occupy government quarters while on leave (not incident to PCS), or while in a travel status incident to PCS, including delay en route chargeable as leave	see Table 26-5.
6	is absent without leave
7	is discharged or released from active duty	of discharge or release.
8	is retired	before effective date of retirement.
9	dies	of death.

NOTES:

- When dependents are prevented from occupying the assigned quarters because of orders of competent authority, BAH continues until transportation is arranged for household goods and is available for the dependents (if prompt application is made), plus the normal travel time for dependents to the member's station.
- Does not apply to temporary occupancy of government quarters assigned to another member by a member and dependents, or dependents alone, for a period of 90 days or less at any one duty station. Occupancy for more than 90 days is considered to be of a permanent nature and BAH entitlement does not accrue for any portion of the period of such occupancy. Movement from one unit of quarters to another or in and out of the same unit, with or without a break, does not establish a new 90-day period.
- BAH credit continues if the member has additional dependents who are precluded by competent orders from residing with the member.

NOTES:

1. A member assigned to a PDS in the United States is entitled to BAH at the rate applicable to the location where their dependents maintain a permanent residence if the Service Secretary, or a designated representative, determines it is necessary for dependents to reside in a military housing area other than the one in which the PDS is located when member is:
 - (1) assigned to a PDS in an area where sufficient quantities of housing do not exist;
 - (2) assigned to unusually arduous sea duty and the dependents reside at or relocate to a designated place in the United States;
 - (3) assigned or is in receipt of PCS orders to a ship entering overhaul involving a homeport change and dependents are not relocated incident to the homeport change;
 - (4) in receipt of PCS orders to a unit with a promulgated change of homeport and dependents relocate to the announced homeport before the effective date of the homeport (or designated place in the United States if appropriate) before the effective date of the homeport change;
 - (5) disadvantaged as a result of reassignment for reasons of improving mission capability and readiness of the unit, in receipt of PCS orders between duty stations located in the same proximity, and disallowed movement of household goods (see JFTR U5355). (The Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designated representative must issue a determination that a decision to implement this policy is in the interest of correcting an inequity incurred due to movement of the individual for purposes of improving mission capability and unit readiness); or
 - (6) assigned to indeterminate temporary duty, or temporary duty pending further orders. In addition to these cases, the Secretary or designated representative may issue a determination if circumstances or conditions at the new PDS require the dependents to reside at a separate location. This determination is made only in cases where the necessity to reside separately is caused by conditions at the duty station. This does not cover a personal election of either a member or dependents as the reason for residing separately.

2. Applicable when dependents reside in, or during which all dependents return to, the United States to establish a permanent residence. None of these condition are applicable when the dependents' residence and the member's new PDS are both in Alaska or Hawaii and the member is not entitled to FSH.
3. A member assigned to a PDS outside CONUS and authorized BAH on behalf of dependents residing separately from the member in the United States, is entitled to that allowance through the day before the day one or more command or noncommand sponsored dependents arrive at the member's overseas location to establish a residence. This does not apply when dependents establish a residence in the vicinity of the member's PDS outside CONUS if the primary residence of the remaining dependents is in the United States and the member is entitled to BAH on behalf of those dependents.
4. In instances of multiple dependent location, the member will designate the primary residence of dependents. Rate for BAH will be based on this primary residence.
5. Commanding officers will review each case on its own merits; they will encourage members to terminate their family-type quarters when it becomes apparent that dependents will not return.

NOTES:

1. A member assigned to a PDS in the United States is entitled to BAH at the rate applicable to the member's residence if the Service Secretary, or a designated representative, determines that the PDS in which the member is located is:
 - disadvantaged as a result of reassignment for reasons of improving mission capability and readiness of the unit, in receipt of PCS orders between duty stations located in the same proximity, and disallowed movement of household goods (see JFTR U5355). (The Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designated representative must issue a determination that a decision to implement this policy is in the interest of correcting an inequity incurred due to movement of the individual for purposes of improving mission capability and unit readiness).

In addition to these cases, the Secretary or designated representative may issue a determination if circumstances or conditions at the new or conditions at the new PDS require the member to reside at a different location. This determination is made only in cases where the necessity to reside separately is caused by conditions at the duty station. This does not cover a personal election of a member as the reason for residing separately.
2. This is generally for the remainder of the unexpired lease on the privately-owned quarters, provided the member is required to honor the remainder of the lease.

NOTES:

- Entitlement for BAH for reserve members covered under 66 Comp Gen 453 (1987).
- The initial rate will terminate on the day before the day the member reports at the duty location prescribed in the active duty orders. Entitlement to BAH at the rate prescribed for the PDS location begins on the day the member reports to that location.
- A contingency operation is a military operation:
 - designated by the Secretary of Defense as an operation in which members of the armed forces are or may become involved in military actions, operations, or hostilities against an enemy of the United States or against an opposing military force; or
 - that result in the call or order to, or retention on, active duty of members of the Uniformed Services under 10 USC, Ch 15, Sec 672(a), 673, 673b, 673c, 688, 3500, or 8500, or any other provision of law during a war or during a national emergency declared by the President or Congress.
- The condition must be a result of an injury, illness, or disease incurred or aggravated:
 - in line of duty while performing active duty;
 - in line of duty while performing inactive-duty training (other than work or study in connection with a correspondence course of an armed force or attendance in an inactive status at an educational institution under the sponsorship of an armed force or the Public Health Service); or
 - while traveling directly to or from such duty or training.
- Entitlement for a BAH rate for an eligible reservist may not be paid for a period of more than 6 months except when, in the interest of fairness and equity, the Secretary concerned or the Secretary's designated representative extends incapacitation pay (see 37 USC Sec 204(g) and (h) and DODD 1241.1 for entitlement offsets).

CHAPTER 27

FAMILY SEPARATION ALLOWANCE (FSA)2701 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

270101. Types Authorized. FSA is payable only to members with dependents. Two types of FSA are authorized, Type I and Type II. Both types are payable in addition to any other allowance or per diem to which a member may be entitled. A member may qualify for FSA-I and FSA-II for the same period. In such cases, concurrent payment of both types is authorized. A member may not, however, receive more than one payment of FSA-II for the same period, even though qualified for FSA-R and FSA-S or FSA-T. The purpose of FSA and the conditions of entitlement are set out in this chapter.

270102. Definitions

★A. Dependents. The term "dependents" has the same meaning as defined in the Definitions and is categorized below:

1. Primary - spouse or children,
2. Secondary - parents.

NOTE: Generally, a member of a Uniformed Service may not be paid an allowance (including FSA) for a dependent during any period for which the dependent is entitled to active duty basic pay. However, this does not apply to bar an entitlement to FSA-II to a couple comprised of a member married to another member with no other dependents. Such couple is entitled to FSA-II under the conditions of this chapter. The couple is not entitled to FSA-I.

B. Permanent Station. The term "permanent station" has the same meaning as defined in the Definitions.

C. Duty Station. The term "duty station" is the same as defined in the Definitions.

D. Overseas. For the purpose of FSA-I, this term applies to a location outside the contiguous 48 states, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii. (Alaska is considered to be overseas for this entitlement).

E. Household. This term means the same as "home" or "family." It applies to a collection of persons living under one roof, having one head or manager who controls and supervises the affairs of the family. For FSA-II purposes, this applies only to secondary dependents.

270103. FSA-I. The purpose of this FSA is to pay a member for added housing expenses caused by enforced separation from dependents. It is not payable under any condition to a member permanently assigned to a duty station in Hawaii or to any duty station under permissive orders except when subparagraph 270301.C, below, applies. It is not payable to a member attached to the United States Truce Supervision Organization who is in receipt of the United Nations Mission Subsistence Allowance (mission per diem).

A. When Payable. FSA-I is payable to each member with dependents who is on permanent duty outside the United States or in Alaska who meets all of the following conditions:

1. Transportation of dependents to the permanent duty station or to a place near that station is not authorized at government expense;
2. Dependents do not live at or near the permanent duty station; and
3. Adequate government quarters or housing facilities are not available for assignment to a member and inadequate government quarters or housing facilities are not assigned.

B. Amount Payable. FSA-I is payable in a monthly amount equal to BAQ payable to a member without dependents in the same pay grade. (See BAQ pay tables in Chapter 26.)

C. Conditions. For specific conditions of entitlement, see section 2703, below, and Tables 27-1 and 27-2.

D. Divorced or Legally Separated Members. Treat FSA-I cases involving a divorced or legally separated member, or such a member with a child in the legal custody of a former spouse or another person, the same as for FSA-II cases. (See subparagraph 270201.B.)

270104. FSA-II. This FSA provides compensation for added expenses incurred because of an enforced family separation under one of the conditions in subparagraphs A.1 through 3, below. It is payable to qualified members serving inside or outside the United States. It is not authorized when a member performs duty at any station under permissive orders (except when subparagraph 270301.C, below, applies).

A. When Payable. Through 30 September 1980, FSA II is payable to a member serving in pay grade E 4 (over 4 years' service) or above as a member with dependents. Effective 1 October 1980, FSA-II is payable to a member serving in any grade as a member with dependents. A member must meet all general requirements and one of the following conditions:

1. FSA-II, Subcategory FSA-R. Transportation of dependents is not authorized at government expense (see paragraph 270301, below) and the dependents do not live in the vicinity of the member's home port/permanent duty station.

★2. FSA-II, Subcategory FSA-S. The member is on duty aboard a ship, and the ship is away from the homeport continuously for more than 30 days. Note: During the period 1 December 1994 through 9 February 1996 dependents were required to live in the vicinity of the home port. Effective 10 February 1996, the dependents are no longer required to reside in the vicinity of the homeport. Effective 20 June 1994, a member is entitled to FSA-S for a redeployment if the member returned to home port after the original deployment for a period of 30 days or less and redeployed for a period of more than 30 days.

★3. FSA-II, Subcategory FSA-T. The member is on TDY (or temporary additional duty) away from the permanent station continuously for more than 30 days, and the member's dependents are not residing at or near the TDY station. This includes members who are required to perform a period of the TDY before reporting to their initial station of assignment. Note: During the period 1 December 1994 through 9 February 1996, dependents were required to live in the vicinity of the permanent duty station. Effective 10 February 1996, the dependents are no longer required to reside in the vicinity of the permanent duty station. Effective 20 June 1994, a member is entitled to FSA-T for a redeployment if the member returned to the permanent duty station after the original deployment for a period of 30 days or less and redeployed for a period of more than 30 days.

B. Amount Payable

1. Effective 1 October 1985 through 14 January 1991, FSA-Type II is payable in a monthly amount of $60.

2. Effective 15 January 1991, FSA-Type II is payable in a monthly amount of $75.

C. Conditions. For specific conditions of entitlement, see Tables 27-3 through 27-6.

★D. Member Married to Member Couples. Effective 23 September 1996, a couple comprised of a member married to another member, with no other dependents, is entitled to FSA-II under the same general conditions as members with non-active duty dependents, provided the couple was residing together immediately before being separated by reason of execution of military orders.

1. Not more than one monthly allowance may be paid with respect to a married military couple for any month. Each may be entitled to FSA-II within the same month, but both cannot be simultaneously entitled. Payment will be made to the member whose orders resulted in the separation. If both members receive orders requiring departure on the same day, then payment will go to the senior member.

2. If a member meets the requirements for credit of FSA-II, but entitlement is precluded by an existing entitlement status of the spouse, then the second member may, if still qualified, become immediately entitled to FSA-II upon termination of the spouse's status. The couple may qualify for sequential entitlements to FSA-II provided military orders keep them continuously separated.

3. In order to qualify for a subsequent entitlement to FSA-II, a married member couple, no longer separated by reason of military orders, must reestablish a joint household and reside together.

2702 DEPENDENTS SEPARATION REQUIREMENTS

270201. Dependents. A member is not considered "a member with dependents" for FSA-II entitlement when:

A. The sole dependent is placed in an institution for a known period of over 1 year or for an indefinite period which may be expected to exceed 1 year.

★B. The sole dependent is a spouse legally separated or child(ren) in the legal custody of another person. Exception: When the member has joint physical and legal custody of child(ren) and the child(ren) would otherwise reside with the member but for the current assignment, the member will be considered as a "member with dependents" for FSA-II entitlement.

C. The member's dependent parent does not reside in a home, which the member controls, supervises, and maintains for mutual use when circumstances permit.

270202. Temporary Social Visits by Dependents

A. FSA-I and FSA-R. Credit continues to accrue while the member's dependents visit at or near member's permanent station, but for no longer than 3 continuous months. Facts must clearly show that the dependents are merely visiting (not changing residence) and that the visit is temporary and not intended to exceed 3 months. If, for unforeseen reasons (due to illness or other emergency), a bona fide social visit extends beyond 3 months, stop credit for FSA at the end of the 3-month period. If the visit is initially intended to exceed 3 months, stop FSA credit the day before the dependents arrive at the member's permanent station. Credit is again authorized on and after the day dependents depart from the permanent station. However, a member is entitled to FSA-I and/or FSA-R even though one or more, but not all dependents visit for longer than 3 months, if the member is entitled on behalf of the dependents who do not visit.

B. FSA-T. Credit continues to accrue to a member whose dependents visit at or near the temporary duty station continuously for 30 days or less. Facts must show the dependents merely are visiting. If the visit exceeds 30 days, a member is not entitled to FSA-T for any part of the period, unless the visit is extended because of illness or other emergency. Under such circumstances, payment of the allowance is limited to 30 days. Entitlement to FSA-T resumes on the day the dependents depart the temporary duty station, if the member's TDY extends for more than 30 days from that date. Entitlement to FSA-T exists if one or more, but not all, of the dependents visit for longer than 30 days, if entitled on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting the member.

C. FSA-S. Credit continues to accrue to the member whose dependents are visiting at or near the duty station (or any port) continuously for 30 days or less. Facts must show that the dependents merely are visiting. If the visit exceeds 30 days, entitlement to FSA-S ends on the day preceding the date of their arrival, unless the visit is extended because of illness or other emergency. Under such circumstances, payment of FSA-S is limited to 30 days. Entitlement to FSA-S exists if one or more, but not all of the dependents visit for longer than 30 days, if entitled to FSA-S on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting the member.

270203. Dependents Reside Near Duty Station. FSA does not accrue to a member if all of the dependents reside at or near the duty station. If some, but not all, of the dependents voluntarily reside near the duty station, FSA may accrue on behalf of the dependents who do not reside at or near the duty station. Consider dependents as residing near a duty station if the member actually commutes daily, regardless of distance. Consider dependents as residing near a duty station if they live within a reasonable commuting distance of that station, whether or not the member commutes daily. A distance of 50 miles, one way, is normally considered to be within reasonable commuting distance of a station; however, the 50-mile rule is not inflexible. Unusual conditions may permit a determination that dependents do not live within a reasonable commuting distance, even though the distance involved is less than 50 miles one way. In a situation where the distance is less than 50 miles but the time required to commute one way by commonly used route and method of transportation would exceed 1-1/2 hours, the dependents shall be considered as not residing near the member's duty station unless the member actually commutes daily. If dependents are authorized concurrent travel with the member to the duty station and are subsequently authorized to reside at a point over 50 miles from member's duty station for personal reasons, rather than as a result of military restriction on dependents' travel, FSA entitlement does not accrue. In questionable cases, commanders may submit requests for determination through channels to the appropriate office listed below:

- A. Army. OASA (FM&C), Attn: SAFM- FAA-EC, Indianapolis IN 46249-2201.
- B. Navy. Chief of Naval Operations, (OP-134), Washington, DC 20370-2020.
- C. Air Force. Cdr, HQ AFPC, 550 C Street West, Randolph AFB TX 78150-6421.
- D. Marine Corps. Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code FDD), Wash DC 20380.

2703 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

270301. Entitlement Incident to PCS Reassignments

A. CONUS Assignments. This subparagraph applies to FSA entitlement incident to regular PCS reassignments (CONUS) and permissive PCS reassignments (CONUS).

1. Entitlement to FSA upon regular PCS is authorized only when movement of a member's dependents to the new permanent duty station is not authorized at government expense.

★2. A member who reported PCS from 1 December 1994 to 10 February 1996 and subsequently performed duty on board a ship while the ship was away from the home port for more than 30 continuous days, prior to 10 February 1996, was entitled to FSA-S only if the member's dependents(s) resided in the vicinity of the home port of the ship. Effective 10 February 1996, a member is entitled to FSA-S when performing duty on board a ship, if the ship is away from the home port for more than 30 continuous days. However, if the ship puts into a port other than the homeport, for a period of more than 30 days at a location where the member's dependents reside, payment of FSA-S is precluded if the member resides with the dependents. A member is entitled to FSA-S for a redeployment if the member returned to home port after the original deployment for a period of 30 days or less and redeployed for a period of more than 30 continuous days.

★3. A member who reported PCS from 1 December 1994 to 10 February 1996 and subsequently performed TDY away from the permanent duty station for more than 30 continuous days, prior to 10 February 1996, was entitled to FSA-T only if the member's dependent(s) resided in the vicinity of the permanent duty station. Effective 10 February 1996, a member is entitled to FSA-T for TDY periods of over 30 continuous days if the dependents do not reside at or near the TDY station. A member is entitled to FSA-T for a redeployment if the member returned to the permanent duty station after the original TDY for a period of 30 days or less and redeployed for a period of more than 30 continuous days.

4. A member who otherwise is authorized movement of dependents at government expense to permanent duty station is not so authorized when the member is voluntarily reassigned to PCS under permissive orders. Separation from dependents under these circumstances is not an enforced separation due to government requirements. The member, therefore, is not entitled to FSA under this subparagraph.

★B. Waiver Provision. See subparagraph 270301.E, below, for circumstances in which waivers may be granted.

★C. Overseas Assignments. Dependents are permitted in some areas overseas and not permitted in others (dependent-restricted areas). A member selected for PCS overseas to an area where the member's dependents are permitted must elect to serve either an unaccompanied or accompanied tour.

1. Effective 14 November 1986, except as waived by the Secretary concerned, a member electing to serve an unaccompanied tour, in lieu of an accompanied tour at a permanent station where the member's dependents are permitted, is not entitled to FSA-R for such a tour. (Secretarial waiver of this policy may be granted in situations where it would be inequitable to deny FSA-R to a member because of unusual family or operational circumstances.) The following subparagraphs are applicable to the transition period:

a. A member who on 30 September 1986 was entitled to FSA-R based on an elected unaccompanied tour (formerly, "all others" tour) or initially entitled to FSA-R under Table 27-5, rule 1 or 2, remains entitled to FSA-R until reassigned PCS as long as the member's dependents do not live at or near the duty station.

(1) Under Table 27-5, rules 1 and 2, member's date of detachment or constructive date of detachment from old permanent station must be 30 September 1986 or earlier. Note the following subparagraph:

(2) A member with an elected unaccompanied tour (formerly "all others" tour) who departed the permanent station with TDY en route to the new permanent duty station before 1 October 1986, is entitled to FSA-R (versus FSA-T) under Table 27-3, rule 11.

b. A member with an elected unaccompanied tour (formerly "all others" tour) who was initially entitled to FSA-R during the period 1 October 1986 through 13 November 1986, under Table 27-5, rules 1 and 2, remains entitled to FSA-R through 13 November 1986. Entitlement may be extended by Secretarial waiver.

(1) Under Table 27-5, rules 1 and 2, member's date of detachment from the old permanent duty station must be during the period 1 October 1986 through 13 November 1986. Note the following subparagraph:

(2) A member with an elected unaccompanied tour (formerly "all others" tour) who departed the permanent duty station with TDY enroute to the new permanent duty station on any date, 1 October 1986 through 13 November 1986, and the period of TDY ends before 14 November 1986, is entitled to FSA-R (versus FSA-T) under Table 27-3, rule 11.

c. A member with an elected unaccompanied tour (formerly "all others" tour) who departed the permanent duty station with more than 30 days TDY en route to the new permanent duty station, with departure on any date, 1 October through 13 November 1986, and the period of TDY ends after 13 November, is entitled to FSA-T under Table 27-3, rule 12. Such member becomes entitled to FSA-R at the new permanent duty station only by Secretarial waiver.

2. See procedures for tour elections and Secretarial waiver in individual Military Service regulations: AR 55-46 (reference (as)); the Bureau of Naval Personnel Instructions in the 1300.26 series (reference (at)); the Marine Corps order in the 1300.8 series (reference (au)); AFR 39-11 (reference (av)) and AR 36-20 (reference (aw)).

3. Refer to Tables 27-1 and 27-4 for FSA entitlement for otherwise eligible members assigned PCS overseas.

4. A member who voluntarily is reassigned PCS (overseas) under permissive orders from a station where the member is already entitled to FSA-R, remains entitled if reassigned to an area overseas where dependents are not permitted (dependent-restricted tour) or under circumstances authorized by Secretarial waiver.

5. A member already entitled to FSA-R based on assignment to station where no accompanied tour is authorized, who is voluntarily reassigned PCS (overseas) during the period 1 October 1986 through 13 November 1986 under permissive orders to an area overseas where dependents are permitted, remains entitled to FSA-R through 13 November 1986. Entitlement may be extended by Secretarial waiver.

★D. Unusual Family or Operational Circumstances Defined. Unusual family or operational circumstances are defined as those in which the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines it is in the best interest of the government to permit payment of FSA-II to members who, through no fault of their own, must relocate unaccompanied under certain circumstances.

1. The Military Services may waive provisions of subparagraphs 270301.A.1, 2, and 3, above, when it is in the best interest of the government to permit payment to members who, through no fault of their own, must relocate unaccompanied for reasons of equity in unusual family or operational circumstances. Waiver under these circumstances is effective upon the date granted. This approval authority is hereby granted to:

a. Service Secretaries or their designated representatives at the headquarters level which governs compensation policy, or

b. Combatant Commands and Service Major Commands.

2. This waiver authority should be used prudently.

3. Waiver under these circumstances is effective upon the date granted:

a. When ordered to a new overseas duty station where certified medical reasons involving family members or terrorist activity would make it inappropriate for dependents to accompany the member.

b. When ships in overhaul make temporary home port changes, or

c. When married military couples with dependents are separated involuntarily by military orders (inside or outside CONUS), or when married military couples with dependents are separated by voluntary acceptance of unaccompanied tours in unrestricted areas.

4. Provided the requirements of subparagraph 270104.A, above, are met, other than the requirement that the member's dependents must reside at the home port or permanent duty station, a Secretarial waiver will apply for the entire period of deployment, interim period, and redeployment.

★E. Delays Caused by the Government (Tables 27-1 and 27-4). The following are examples of delays in transportation of dependents due to government reasons:

Example 1: On 1 July, member's advance application for concurrent travel of dependents to the overseas station was disapproved by the CONUS commander due to lack of available government-owned transportation facilities. The commander's disapproval contained the statement that the anticipated delay for movement of dependents is more than 60 days. The member departed old station on 6 July and arrived at the overseas station on 7 July where government quarters were not available. Dependents joined member on 26 September having performed travel under orders dated 10 September. The member was entitled to FSA-I for period 7 July through 25 September, and FSA-II for period 6 July through 25 September.

Example 2: The member applied for dependency determination for a dependent mother on 3 June and was transferred overseas on 14 September. After arrival overseas, the member received approval of the dependency application for a dependent mother retroactive to 1 May. The mother was not authorized concurrent travel to member's permanent station because a determination of dependency had not been made on the effective date of the orders. Delay in processing the dependency application was caused by the government. Before transfer overseas, member had maintained quarters to be shared with the mother. An enforced separation resulted upon transfer overseas. Credit for FSA-II accrues from the date member departed from the permanent station or the first day of authorized travel time, whichever is later, through the day before the date the dependent mother arrived at the overseas station.

★F. Changes in Tour Elections. See Table 27-1, rules 3 and 8, and Table 27-4, rules 12 and 13.

★G. Dependents Evacuated. See Table 27-2, rule 14, and Table 27-5, rule 8. A member is entitled to otherwise proper credit of FSA-II when the dependents are evacuated from a danger area and they temporarily occupy government quarters at a safe haven area under conditions outlined in subparagraph 260302.G.

★H. Dependents' Travel Prohibited Under Immigration Laws. If a dependent is otherwise authorized transportation at government expense but is not eligible under immigration laws for entry into United States before a member reports to the new permanent station, entitlement to FSA-R does not accrue. (Entitlement to FSA-T or FSA-S is not affected by this subparagraph.)

270302. Unit Ordered on Exercise for More Than 30 Days. Otherwise qualified members of a unit are entitled to FSA-T when the unit is ordered on an exercise for more than 30 days.

270303. FSA During a Missing Status

A. Special FSA Entitlement. A member, with dependents, who enters a missing status is entitled to a family separation allowance in the amount of $60 per month while in a missing status during the Vietnam conflict. These provisions apply only to members who do not qualify for FSA-II under subparagraph 270104.A, above, prior to entering a missing status. Entitlement begins on the date the member is reported in a missing status and continues for the period the member is carried in such status.

B. FSA-T During a Missing Status. FSA-T continues to accrue to a qualified member while in a missing status, unless there is a change in the status of the dependents, which would terminate entitlement. (See Table 27-6.) A member may qualify for FSA-T while in a missing status, if a continuous period of more than 30 days is completed after entry into the missing status. (See paragraph 270304, below)

Example: The member departed the permanent station on TDY 9 August; was downed by hostile fire while flying over enemy territory on 2 September; remained in a missing status until 4 November and returned to permanent station on 10 November. The member qualified for FSA-T on 8 September. If otherwise qualified, entitlement exists to FSA-T for period 9 August to 9 November.

270304. Computation of Single or Multiple Periods of More Than 30 Days

A. FSA-T for Single Periods. Credit for FSA-T may not be applied until the member has been on TDY or TAD away from his permanent duty station continuously for more than 30 days. Compute this period as follows:

1. Count actual number of days in the month, including the day the member departs the permanent duty station on TDY and the day of return to the permanent duty station. Include the 31st day of the month in this computation, even though payment is made on a 30-day month basis, as prescribed in Chapter 2, section 0202.

2. Include days of authorized travel time to and from the TDY station. When there is no delay en route chargeable as leave, count the day of departure from the permanent station and the day of return to the permanent station. When delay en route chargeable as leave is authorized, count the constructive day of departure and the constructive day of return. Compute these days as follows:

a. Constructive day of departure from permanent duty station either is the actual date of detachment plus days of authorized leave, proceeed time and/or permissive travel days used, or the first day of authorized travel, whichever is later.

b. Constructive day of return to the permanent duty station is the actual date of return minus number of days leave authorized and used, minus the number of permissive travel days actually used.

Example 1: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered TDY to site B for training of approximately 30 days; training is to begin 1 June. The member is authorized travel by POC as more advantageous to the government, and 5 days' leave en route. The member departs from site A on 25 May and uses 5 days' leave en route to site B. The member completes the training on 27 June, departs from site B on 28 June, and returns to duty at site A on 30 June. Constructive day of departure is 30 May. Period of absence is 32 days (30 May-30 June). If the member qualifies under paragraph 270104, above, entitlement exists to FSA-T for 30 days (pay does not accrue for 31 May and 30 June).

Example 2: Circumstances are the same as in Example 1, except member uses 5 days of leave after completion of training. The member departs from site A on 30 May, completes training on 27 June, departs from site B on 28 June, and returns to duty at site A on 5 July. Constructive day of return is 30 June. Period of absence is 32 days, computed as in example 1. If the member otherwise qualifies, entitlement exists to FSA-T for 30 days.

3. When TDY is authorized in conjunction with PCS, include days of authorized travel time to the TDY station and from the TDY station to the new duty station. When there is no delay en route and/or proceed time involved, count the day of departure from old duty station and the day of arrival at the new duty station. When delay en route and proceed time are authorized and used, the day of departure from the old station and the day of arrival at the new station will be constructed in the manner indicated in subparagraph A.2.a and b, above (proceed time authorized and used to be included with delay in the computation). Consecutive assignments to TDY in conjunction with PCS may be combined in determining the 30-day period.

4. Under specific circumstances, when travel in connection with TDY is performed by privately owned conveyance for the convenience of the traveler, payment based on actual travel expenses may be more economical to the government than payment based on constructive travel time over a usually traveled route. In such case, the JFTR authorizes travel payment based on the actual mode of transportation. In computing the more than 30 days required for entitlement to FSA-T under these circumstances, ensure that the computation is based on the mode of transportation which governed payment of the particular member's travel allowance. Computation for FSA-T entitlement under this subparagraph is not necessarily based on constructive travel time.

5. If a member's TDY status is interrupted, do not combine days before the interruption with those after the interruption to compute a continuous period of more than 30 days. Periods of leave, hospitalization, military confinement in a pay status, or short visits to the permanent station do not interrupt the period unless the member is relieved from the attachment to the TDY station. However, a member who returns to the permanent station to assume a duty status (such as participation in official flights) does interrupt a period of temporary duty. If leave en route is authorized after detachment from the TDY station, add constructive travel time from the TDY station to the permanent station to the period of TDY in determining the 30-day period.

B. FSA-T for Multiple Periods of Deployment. Effective 20 June 1994, and provided the conditions of subparagraph 270104.A.3, above, are met, the periods of FSA-T eligibility for multiple periods of temporary duty deployment, including the periods between such deployments, are calculated as follows:

1. Although payment is made on a 30-day month basis, count the actual number of days in each applicable month by including the 31st day of the month as one of the actual days.

2. Initial Deployment Period: Calculate the FSA-T period of the initial TDY/TAD deployment as set forth in subparagraph A, above.

3. Interim and Redeployment Period:

a. The interim period starts the day after the initial deployment through the day prior to redeployment. The interim period must be 30 days or less.

b. The redeployment period will begin the day the member departs the permanent duty station and end upon return to the permanent duty station. The redeployment period must be more than 30 days and will be added to the interim period.

Example 1: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY at site B for 45 days with departure from PDS on 2 January and return to PDS on 15 February. The member departs from PDS on 18 March for redeployment of 35 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-T for the initial deployment, the member is eligible for continued FSA-T for the total 65 days of interim/redeployment period (actual interim period of 30 days and redeployment of 35 days).

Example 2: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY at site B for 60 days with departure from PDS on 1 March and returns to PDS on 29 April. The member departs from PDS on 31 May for redeployment of 40 days. Although the member qualified for the initial 60-day period deployment, the member is ineligible for the interim period, actual interim period is 31 days, (30 April - 30 May). The member would be entitled to FSA-T for the actual redeployment period (40 days).

Example 3: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY at site B for 31 days with departure from PDS on 1 June and returns to the PDS on 1 July. The member departs from PDS on 2 July for redeployment of 41 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-T for the initial deployment of 31 days, the member is eligible for the continued FSA-T for the interim/redeployment period (actual interim period is 0 days, actual redeployment period is 41 days).

C. FSA-S for Single Periods. Credit for FSA-S may not be applied until the member has been on duty on board a ship away from the homeport of the ship for a continuous period of more than 30 days. Periods of leave, temporary additional duty, hospitalization, military confinement in a pay status, or short visits by the member (not the ship) to the home port of the ship do not interrupt the qualifying period unless the member is detached (PCS) from the ship. Consecutive assignments to duty on board two or more ships away from the homeport may be combined to meet this requirement. See Example 5, below. In computing the continuous period of more than 30 days, count the actual number of calendar days (including the 31st day of the month) the member was on duty on board a ship while it was away from its home port. Include in this computation the day of departure on board a ship from its home port (or the day the member joins or rejoins a ship away from its home port, if applicable) and the day of return on board a ship to its home port. The following examples show how to compute the more-than-30-day period and the related amount of FSA-S payable.

Example 1: A member onboard a ship departing its home port on 15 June and returning on 15 July is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $75 (actual period of 16 days in June and 15 days in July = 31 days; 16 days in June and 14 days in July = 30 days for payment.)

Example 2: A member onboard a ship departing its home port on 5 October and returning on 4 November is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $72.50 (actual period of 27 days in October and 4 days in November = 31 days; 26 days in October and 3 days in November = 29 days for payment).

Example 3: A member onboard a ship departing from its home port on 25 February (non-leap year) and returning on 26 March is not entitled to FSA-S since the absence is not more than 30 days (actual period of 4 days in February and 26 days in March).

Example 4: A member who reports onboard a ship on 25 May while its away from the home port and returns with the ship to the home port on 30 June is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $87.50 (actual period of 7 days in May and 30 days in June = 37 days; 6 days in May and 29 days in June = 35 days for payment).

Example 5: A member onboard ship A departing from its home port on 2 August was transferred (PCS) to ship B on 18 August (detached and attached the same day) while ship B was away from its home port. The member remains aboard ship B until it returns to the home port on 6 September. The member is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $85 (actual period of 30 days in August and 6 days in September = 36 days; 29 days in August and 5 days in September = 34 days for payment).

D. FSA-S for Multiple Periods of Deployment. Effective 20 June 1994, and provided the conditions of subparagraph 270304.A.2, above, are met, the periods of FSA-S eligibility for multiple periods of temporary duty deployment aboard a ship, including the period between such deployments, are calculated as follows:

1. Although payment is made on a 30-day month basis, count the actual number of days in each applicable month by including the 31st day of the month as one of the actual days.

2. Initial Deployment Period: Calculate the FSA-S period of the initial deployment aboard a ship as set forth in subparagraph C, above.

3. Interim and Redeployment Period:

a. The interim period starts the day after the initial deployment through the day prior to redeployment. The interim period must be 30 days or less.

b. The redeployment period will begin the day the member departs the ship's homeport and end upon returning to the homeport. The redeployment period must be more than 30 days and will be added to the interim period.

Example 1: A member is onboard a ship departing from the homeport on 2 January and returning to the homeport on 15 February. The same member is onboard a ship departing from the home port 18 March for redeployment of 35 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-S for the initial deployment, the member is eligible for continued FSA-S for the total 65 days of interim/redeployment period (actual interim period of 30 days and redeployment of 35 days).

Example 2: A member is onboard a ship departing from the homeport on 1 March and returning to the homeport on 29 April. The member is onboard a ship that departs the homeport 31 May for redeployment of 40 days. Although the member qualified for the initial 60-day period deployment, the member is ineligible for the interim period, actual interim period is 31 days, (30 April - 30 May). The member would be entitled to FSA-S for the actual redeployment (40 days).

Example 3: A member is onboard a ship departing from the homeport on 1 June and returning to the homeport on 1 July. The same member is onboard a ship that departs the homeport 2 July for redeployment of 41 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-S for the initial deployment of 31 days, member is eligible for the continued FSA-S for the interim/redeployment period (actual interim period is 0 days, actual redeployment period is 41 days).

E. Restrictions. The following restrictions apply to subparagraphs A and B, above:

1. The 30-day requirements to qualify for FSA-T or FSA-S are separate, and periods of temporary duty and duty aboard ship while away from homeport may not be combined for the purpose of FSA entitlement.

2. Periods of hospitalization or temporary duty for more than 30 days by the member at a place residing with the dependents may not be included in arriving at the 30-day requirement.

270305. Ship Moves From Home Port. When a ship moves from its homeport to another port within 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time as prescribed in paragraph 270203, above) of the homeport, those members attached to the ship whose dependents do not reside at or near such home port under the criteria of paragraph 270203, do not become entitled to FSA-S.

Example 1: A member upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hour travel time) limit from the home port of the ship. When the movement of the ship is less than 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time) from the homeport, FSA-S is not payable to those members. However, if the ship moves more than 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time) from the homeport, FSA-S is payable if otherwise entitled.

Example 2: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50 mile/1-1/2 hour limit of the homeport of the ship. Subsequently, the ship moves from the homeport and, on the 29th day, docks at a port inside the 50-mile (1-1/2 hour travel time) limit of the homeport for 5 days. The ship then returns to the homeport. The docking of the ship within the 50-mile limit would, for purposes of this example, has the same consequence as if the ship had returned to its homeport since the member's dependents do not reside at or near the homeport and since the ship did not move to a location more than 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time) from the port. Therefore, entitlement to FSA-S does not accrue.

Example 3: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50 mile/1-1/2 hour limit of the home port of the ship, but actually commutes. A movement of the ship from the homeport results in the member being unable to commute. In this example, the member's dependents would be considered as being in the area of the homeport. Therefore, since after movement of the ship to the new location the member is unable to commute, the member would meet the requirement for FSA-S, provided the dependents resided more than 50 miles (or 1-1/2 hours travel time) from the new location.

Example 4: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location within the 50 mile/1-1/2 hour limit, the movement of the ship resulting in the residence being located outside the 50 mile/1-1/2 hour limit for some of the members, but not all. Those members whose dependents reside more than 50 miles (1-1/2 hours travel time) from the new location of the ship and who do not commute, would fulfill the vicinity requirement for entitlement to FSA-S. Those members whose dependents reside within 50 miles (1-1/2 hours travel time) of the new location of the ship would not become entitled to FSA-S by virtue of the ship's movement.

★270306. Member Married to Member with Dependent Child(ren). In the case of a member married to a member, and who have a child that either parent can claim for BAQ, one parent may claim the child for BAQ purposes and the other parent, when otherwise entitled, may claim the child for FSA. FSA may alternate between parents based on the same dependent; however, FSA may not be paid simultaneously to both members on behalf of the same dependent. (See subparagraph 270301.D, above.)

270307. Specific Conditions of Entitlement

A. FSA-I. See Tables 27-1 and 27-2.

B. FSA-II. See Tables 27-3, 27-4, 27-5, and 27-6.

FSA-I, CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT
R U L E	A	B	C	D	E	F
	If member's overseas PCS assignment to	and member elects to serve	and concurrent travel	and member changes election to	and member	then member's entitlement to FSA-I (note 1)
1	area where dependents are not permitted					exists for entire unaccompanied tour.
2	an area where concurrent travel is automatically authorized, or to an advance application area	the "all others" tour before departure from CONUS				exists for entire unaccompanied tour, including tour extensions.
3				"with command sponsored dependents" tour, and change is approved (note 2)		continues through day before dependents arrive at overseas station, not to exceed 60 days from date transportation of dependents is authorized, unless additional delay is caused by the government (note 3).
4			is authorized and performed			does not exist.
5			is authorized by area commander but not performed due to government reasons (note 4)			exists through day before date dependents arrive at overseas station.
6			is not authorized by area commander		complies with all area regulations for entry of dependents	continues through day before dependents arrive at overseas station, not to exceed 60 days from date transportation of dependents is authorized, unless additional delay is caused by the government (note 3).
7		the "with command sponsored dependents" tour before departing CONUS	is not authorized by area commander		fails to comply with area regulations for entry of dependents	stops at time member fails to take timely action according to area regulations.
8			is not performed for any reason	the "all others" tour before dependents depart CONUS		continues for entire unaccompanied tour, if otherwise eligible. If member is not drawing FSA-I, entitlement accrues on and after date reelection is officially approved.
9	an area covered by rules 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 8				has an only dependent on active duty	does not exist.

Table 27-1. FSA - I, Conditions of Entitlement

Note:

1. Entitlement in all cases exists only if government quarters are not available for assignment to member, and dependents do not reside at or near duty station.
2. Change in tour election from "all others" to "with command-sponsored dependents" tour must be fully documented, and officially approved by the headquarters of the Military Service concerned. This also applies to elections (made after member arrives overseas) to serve the "with command-sponsored dependents" tour.
3. Delays due to government reasons include:
 - a. Lack of transportation facilities.
 - b. Disapproval by CONUS commanders.
 - c. Disapproval for reasons of health (pregnancy of wife, etc.)
 - d. Insufficient service retainability or time remaining in the overseas tour.
4. FSA credit accrues only if dependents are prevented from traveling with member for reasons caused by the government and the delay is more than 30 days. Period of more than 30 days begins date member departs from old station or first day of authorized travel time, whichever is later. It includes TDY en route and leave taken while attached to TDY station. It does not include leave en route.

FSA-I, CONDITIONS AFFECTING ENTITLEMENT
R U L E	A	B
	When eligible member	FSA credit
1	arrives at permanent station (in Alaska or elsewhere outside United States)	Starts on date of arrival.
2	departs upon reassignment from permanent station	Continues through the date of departure.
3	no longer has eligible dependent	Continues through the day before the date member no longer has an eligible dependent.
4	is assigned government quarters	Continues through the day before the day government quarters become available for assignment.
5	enters non-pay status for any reason, except as provided in paragraph 030205	Continues through the day before the date member enters non-pay status.
6	is discharged and immediately reenlists at same station	Continues through discharge and immediate reenlistment.
7	acquires dependent after arrival at permanent station and meets requirements for FSA-I	Starts date dependent is acquired.
8	is on TDY away from his permanent station, including TDY within the United States	Continues for 60 days or less without certificate from member (note 1).
9	is hospitalized at or away from permanent station, including hospitalization within the United States
10	is on authorized leave (accrued or advance) at, or away from, permanent station, including leave within the United States
11	is in military confinement or otherwise restricted by military authority
12	continues in status covered by rules 8 through 11 for more than 60 days	Continues (note 2).
13	travels under PCS orders to and from a permanent station outside CONUS or in Alaska	Does not accrue while en route (see rules 1 and 2 for start and stop dates).
14	has dependent depart overseas duty station at government expense because of evacuation (other than medical), under determination of Secretary concerned (or designee) as being in national interest, or for other emergency reasons not personal or caused by dependent's misconduct (note 3)	Starts on date of dependents' departure from member's duty station.

NOTES:

1. Member must meet requirement of paragraph 270103.
2. Payment must be supported by member's certificate that member maintained private quarters at permanent station.
3. These circumstances are covered in JFTR, paragraphs U6000, U5240C, U5240-B. FSA-I does not accrue if evacuation under paragraph U5240-B was caused by the dependent's misconduct. Entitlement to FSA does not accrue if dependents are returned for reasons indicated under JFTR, paragraph U5240-D.

	If member	And	and	then
1	is on TDY, including TDY within the United States	member is entitled to FSA-R when entering such status (note 1)	member's permanent station remains unchanged	FSA-R credit continues during TDY.
2	is hospitalized at or away from member's permanent station including hospitalization in the United States			FSA-R credit continues during period hospitalized.
3	is in military confinement or otherwise restricted by military authority			FSA-R credit continues during period confined or restricted.
4	is on authorized leave (accrued or advance) at or away from member's permanent station, including leave in the United States			FSA-R credit continues during leave.
5	is on authorized leave (accrued or advance) at residence where member's dependents reside		member's leave is followed by a period of temporary duty (any number of days) within commuting distance of residence where member's dependents reside (paragraph 270203)	FSA-R credit continues during leave but is suspended during period of TDY.
6	is on any status covered by rules 1 through 4, or enters such status		member's permanent station changes	FSA-R credit stops (note 2).
7	is reassigned PCS from a permanent station in the United States to a hospital for observation or treatment	member's application for transportation of dependents to the hospital is disapproved by the hospital commander upon determination that prolonged treatment is not expected (note 3)	member meets requirements in note 1	member is entitled to FSA-R.
8	enters any status covered by rules 2, 3, and 4	member is entitled to FSA-T when entering such status	member is not relieved from attachment to the TDY station	member continues to receive FSA-T.
9	is ordered to a hospital as a patient in attached status			member is not entitled to FSA-T.
10	is on TDY for more than 30 days from member's permanent station	member does not qualify for FSA-R at permanent station	member's permanent station remains unchanged	member is entitled to FSA-T for authorized travel time to and from TDY station and for duty at that station (note 4).
11	is performing travel or TDY en route to new or first permanent duty station on PCS or initial permanent duty assignment	is entitled to FSA-R at new permanent duty station (note 4)		member is entitled to FSA-R for TDY and authorized travel period (note 4).

R U L E	A	B	C	D
	If member	and	and	then
12	is on TDY for more than 30 days en route to a new permanent assignment	member does not qualify for FSA-R at this new station		the member is entitled to FSA-T for authorized travel time to and from the TDY station and for duty at that station (note 4).
13	is on temporary additional duty	member is entitled to FSA-S when entering such status (note 1)	member remains assigned to duty aboard a ship which is away from its home port	FSA-S accrues during entire period of temporary additional duty (note 5).
14	is hospitalized away from the ship			FSA-S accrues during period of hospitalization (note 5).
15	is on authorized leave			FSA-S accrues during period of leave (note 5).
16	is in military confinement on or away from the ship or otherwise restricted by military authority from performing duty			FSA-S accrues during period member is confined or restricted.
17	is in any status covered by rules 13 through 16		the ship returns to home port	entitlement to FSA-S ends on day before ship returns to home port.
18			member is detached from ship while it is away from home port	entitlement to FSA-S ends on date of detachment from ship (note 6).
19			member is detached from ship while it is away from home port and is later reassigned to ship while it is away from its home port	FSA-S accrues from date of reassignment to ship provided ship does not return to home in less than 31 days (note 6).
20	is on TDY redeployment of more than 30 days	following earlier TDY deployment of more than 30 days which qualified member for FSA-T	period between deployments is 30 days or less	member's entitlement to FSA-T continues.
21	is on board a ship redeployed for more than 30 days	following earlier deployment of more than 30 days which qualified member for FSA-S	period between deployments is 30 days or less	member's entitlement to FSA-S continues.
22	meets the qualifying requirements of any of the rules 1 through 21	member's only dependent is a spouse on active duty	the couple were residing together immediately before being separated by reason of military orders	member is entitled to FAS-II under the specific rule (note 7).

NOTES:

1. Must meet the requirements of paragraph 270104.
2. A new determination of entitlement is required if member's permanent station changes.
3. More than 90 days is prolonged hospitalization.
4. Includes members in the recruit training/OCS pipeline. Members are not entitled to FSA-R or FSA-T during authorized leave en route or proceed time (see Table 27-5, rules 1 and 2). See Table 27-6, rule 9 for date to stop FSA-II.
5. If dependent's residence is within commuting distance of the place where member is in such status, FSA-S will continue for 30 days only.
6. Does not apply if member is detached and attached the same day to another ship away from its home port (subparagraph 270304.B).
- ★7. Not more than one monthly allowance may be paid with respect to a married military couple for any month. Each may be entitled to FSA-II within the same month, but both cannot be simultaneously entitled. Payment will be made to the member whose orders resulted in the separation.

FSA-R, OVERSEAS ASSIGNMENT
R U L E	A	B	C	D
	If eligible member is	and	and	then member(s)
1	selected for PCS overseas	the accompanied tour is not authorized		is entitled to FSA-R for entire unaccompanied tour (notes 1 and 6).
2		elects the unaccompanied tour instead of the authorized accompanied tour		is not entitled to FSA-R for the length of such tour, including tour extensions (note 5).
3		elects the accompanied tour	concurrent travel is authorized and dependents travel with member	is not entitled to FSA-R.
4		is assigned to an automatic concurrent travel area or an advance application area	application for concurrent travel has been approved by the area commander	is entitled to FSA-R if dependents do not travel with member for government reasons (notes 2 and 4).
5		in status covered by rule 4	dependents arrive at member's overseas station	FSA-R stops the day before date dependents arrive.
6	selected for PCS overseas to an advance application area	application for concurrent travel is disapproved by area commander		is entitled to FSA-R until dependents arrive at overseas station. (This rule is qualified by rules 7 and 8.)
7			member fails to comply with area regulations for entry of the dependents	FSA-R is stopped when timely action is not taken under applicable regulations (note 3).
8			there is a delay of more than 60 days in dependent's arrival (60-day period begins on date of orders)	entitlement to FSA-R continues through day before dependents arrive at overseas station, not to exceed 60 days from date transportation of dependents is authorized, unless additional delay is caused by the government (note 4).
9	assigned overseas	one or more of the dependents live at or near the overseas station	member qualifies for FSA-R for the dependents who are not authorized to travel to the overseas station	is entitled to FSA-R.
10		after arrival at overseas station, an accompanied tour the accompanied tour is authorized (previously unavailable) and member elects the accompanied tour	change is approved	entitlement to FSA-R continues through the day before dependents arrive at overseas station, not to exceed 60 days from date transportation of dependents is authorized, unless additional delay is caused by the government (note 4).

Table 27-4. FSA-R, Overseas Assignment

R U L E	A	B	C	D
	If eligible member is	and	and	then member(s)
11	assigned overseas	after arrival at overseas station, an accompanied tour is authorized (previously unavailable) and member does not elect the accompanied tour		entitlements to FSA-R continues based on original assignment under rule 1.
12		has previously elected the accompanied tour, but concurrent travel is not performed	reelects the unaccompanied tour before dependents depart CONUS	is not entitled to FSA-R on and after date reelection is approved (note 5).
13		has failed to make a tour election before arrival at new duty station	makes unaccompanied tour election after arrival at the overseas station	is not entitled to FSA-R for the entire unaccompanied tour (note 5).
14			elects accompanied tour after arrival at the overseas station	is entitled to FSA-R, for the period starting with the date the tour is approved through the day before dependents arrive at overseas station, not to exceed 60 days from date transportation of dependents is authorized, unless additional delay is caused by the government (note 4).

NOTES:

1. In all cases, entitlement exists only if dependents do not live at or near the duty station. (See paragraph 270203.) In areas where dependents are not permitted, member does not have to apply for transportation of dependents or to elect type of tour.
2. Where dependents' travel delay is not due to government reasons, but member is required to perform TDY en route, family separation for period of TDY is considered to be due to military requirements and member is entitled to FSA-R under Table 27-3, rule 11.
3. FSA-R continues if member acted timely to apply for transportation of the dependents and the application was disapproved because of the lack of service retainability or time remaining in the overseas tour.
4. Delays due to government reasons include:
 - a. Lack of transportation facilities.
 - b. Disapproval by CONUS commanders.
 - c. Disapproval for reasons of health (pregnancy of wife, etc.).
 - d. Insufficient service retainability or time remaining in the overseas tour.
5. The Secretary concerned may waive the provision in this rule to authorize FSA-R in cases where unusual family or operational circumstances exist for the member. See subparagraph 270301.D for conditions subject to waiver and individual Military Service regulations for procedures for requesting Secretarial waiver.
6. This includes dependent-restricted tours and also situations where the member is not authorized to serve an accompanied-by-dependents tour in those locations where such tours are authorized.

2		is authorized proceed time or leave en route	starts on constructive date of detachment from old permanent duty station (either the actual date of detachment plus days of authorized leave and/or proceed time, or the first day of authorized travel, whichever is later) (note 1).
3	departs home port aboard ship, including a ship in an inactive status	remains in this status continuously for more than 30 days	starts on date of departure (note 2).
4	joins or rejoins a ship away from home port	remains on duty on board a ship away from its home port continuously for more than 30 days	starts on first day that member boards ship away from its home port (note 2).
5	acquires initial dependent after the date of departure from old station en route to PCS overseas, but no later than the effective date of the PCS order (FSA-R) (notes 6 and 7)	meets conditions of Table 27-4, rule 1	starts on date member acquires dependent or constructive date of detachment from old station (Table 27-5, rule 2), whichever is later.
6		meets conditions of Table 27-4, rule 13, note 5, or rule 14	(if any) starts according to Table 27-4, rule 13, note 5, or rule 14.
7	acquires initial dependent after the date of departure from old station en route to PCS overseas (member is not entitled to FSA-R, at the overseas station), but no later than the effective date of the PCS order (note 6)	is on TDY en route with 30 days or more remaining after the date dependent is acquired, and not within commuting distance of dependent's residence	for the period of TDY starts on the date the member acquires dependent (FSA-T) (note 1).
8	a. acquires dependent after the effective date of the PCS order (note 6), but before member's date of departure on subsequent reassignment PCS, and b. dependent does not live at or near member's permanent duty station (FSA-R)	is not on TDY/TAD	starts on date member acquires dependent.

12	a. acquires dependent after the effective date of the PCS order (note 6), but before member's date of departure on subsequent reassignment PCS, and b. dependent does not live at or near the member's permanent duty station (where member is not entitled to FSA-R)	is on TDY/TAD with 30 days or more remaining after the date dependent is acquired, and not within commuting distance of dependent's residence	for the period of TDY starts on date member acquires dependent (FSA-T) (note 1).
13		remains away from home port aboard ship for more than 30 days after the date the dependent is acquired	starts on date member acquires dependent (FSA-S) (note 1).
14	has newly acquired dependent who joins member at duty station at member's expense	confirms whether dependent is making change of residence or temporary social visit	is based on paragraph 270202 (temporary social visit); paragraph 270203 (change of residence).
15		relocates dependent away from duty station at member's expense	starts on date of dependent's departure from duty station (note 5).
16	has dependent depart overseas duty station at government expense because of evacuation (other than medical), under determination of Secretary concerned (or designee) as being in national interest, or for other emergency reasons not personal or caused by dependent's misconduct (note 3)		starts on date of dependent's departure from duty station.
17	reports onboard ship after a change of home port has been declared	does not reside with dependents at or near the current home port of the ship	starts on the date member reports on board ship (note 4).

NOTES:

- Do not pay FSA-T or FSA-S until member has been on TDY/TAD or on duty aboard ship away from home port continuously for more than 30 days (or, if applicable, for more than 30 days after date dependent is acquired). In computing the amount payable, the 31st day of any month should be excluded from the computation and February should be treated as if it actually had 30 days. (See paragraph 270304.)
- Does not apply if the ship is in a port (other than its home port) located within commuting distance of the residence of member's dependents continuously for more than 30 days. Also see paragraph 270305.
- These circumstances are covered in JFTR, volume 1, paragraphs U6000, U5240-C, U5240-B. FSA-II does not accrue if evacuation under paragraph U5240-B was caused by the dependent's misconduct. Entitlement to FSA does not accrue if dependents are returned for reasons indicated under JFTR, paragraph U5240-D.
- FSA-R does not accrue if member was on board ship when the change in home port was declared, except under paragraph 270301.
- If already started under paragraph 270202, entitlement continues upon departure of dependents from duty station.
- The effective date of PCS orders is the date a member is required to begin travel from the old permanent duty station (PDS) or the last temporary duty station, in order to arrive at the new PDS on the date authorized by the mode of transportation authorized. (JFTR, Appendix A, Effective Date of PCS Orders)
- A member who acquired initial dependent after the date of departure from old station en route PCS to CONUS from overseas or en route PCS within CONUS, but no later than the effective date of the PCS order, is entitled to travel for dependent at government expense based on JFTR, part C, chapter 5; therefore, the member is not entitled to FSA-R. (In this case, no tour election provision exists to overcome the travel provision.)

DATE TO STOP FSA-II
R U L E	A	B
	If member	then FSA-II credit continues through
1	Has dependents who arrive at the duty station with intent to establish a residence	the day before dependents arrive (note 1).
2	On next reassignment, arrives at a station where member does not qualify for FSA-II	the day before date member arrives at new station (note 5).
3	Returns from TDY (TAD) of more than 30 days	the day before date of member's return from TDY (TAD) (note 2).
4	Is in a non-pay status for any period	the day before the date entering such status, except as provided in paragraph 030205.
5	has sole dependent in an institution, and if the stay in the institution continues	the day before 1 year from the date member's sole dependent entered an institution (note 3).
6	is on board a ship away from its home port	the day before ship returns to home port or date of detachment from ship, whichever is earlier (note 4).
7	reports on board a ship after a change of home port has been declared	the effective date of the change of home port.
8	has only secondary dependents who reside with relatives or friends	day before date dependents move to home of relatives or friends.
9	completes period of TDY of more than 30 days in conjunction with PCS	the day before the date the member arrives at the new station (note 2).

NOTES:

1. See paragraph 270202 for temporary social visits.
2. If delay en route and/or proceed time is authorized, use constructive date. See subparagraph 270304.A.
3. Applies when stay in the institution is initially not expected to exceed 1 year.
4. FSA-S continues if member is detached and attached the same day to another ship away from its home port.
5. If a delay en route and/or proceed time is authorized and used, then use a constructive date of arrival. Constructive date will be computed by deducting the number of days' leave and/or proceed time authorized and used from the actual date of arrival.

Separation Allowance - II (R) (DFAS Item G-16)

This is Interim Change Number 15-97 to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. This change which is effective immediately, rectifies a misprinted reference paragraph affecting Table 27-2, note 1. There are also cosmetic changes recommended to Table 27-1.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. We have also determined that this policy change will have no effect on the administration of the entitlement. We have also determined that this policy change does not require a system or procedural change to the current pay system.

Our point of contact, Major Jeff Holden, may be contacted at DSN 327-5065 or (703) 607-5065. Our FAX number is DSN 332-5271 or (703) 602-5271.

CHAPTER 29

CLOTHING MONETARY ALLOWANCES, ENLISTED MEMBERS2901 GENERAL290101. Clothing Allowance Entitlement

A. Army and Marine Corps. Enlisted members of these Military Services on extended active duty are furnished the initial clothing allowance on an item or issue-in-kind basis. A cash allowance may be immediately provided in lieu of items not planned to be furnished in kind. An annual cash replacement allowance will be authorized for repair and replacement of clothing and will be paid at the end of the member's anniversary month of active duty.

B. Navy and Air Force. Enlisted members of these Military Services on extended active duty are credited with the amount of the initial clothing allowance against which the authorized clothing is furnished. Payment of those amounts prescribed in the initial allowance as cash allowances may be made immediately. An annual cash replacement allowance will be authorized for repair and replacement of clothing and will be paid at the end of the member's anniversary month of active duty.

290102. References. The following source directives contain detail on entitlements, policies, and procedures on the quantity and kind of clothing that must be provided, the cash allowance in lieu thereof, and the provisions for payment of clothing replacement allowances:

A. Army: AR 700-84 (reference (ax)). For rates payable, see DFAS-IN Military Pay Tables (Daily Rates) (reference (ay)).

B. Navy: MILPERSMAN, BUPERS-INST 1020.11 series (reference (az)) and COM-NAVRESFORINST 1001.5 series (reference (ba)).

C. Air Force: DFAS-DE 7073.1-M, DFAS-DE 7073.2-M (reference (ap)), and AFI 36-3014 (reference (be)).

D. Marine Corps: Individual Clothing Regulations (MCO P10120.28 (reference (bb))).

2902 INITIAL AND CONTINUING CLOTHING MONETARY ALLOWANCES290201. Initial Clothing Monetary Allowance (Navy and Air Force)

A. Enlisted members are entitled to an initial clothing monetary allowance under the following conditions:

1. Upon first enlistment or induction in the Military Service, or upon reenlistment in the same branch of the regular Service after 3 months from date of last discharge or release from active duty.

2. Upon enlistment in the Navy or the Air Force following last discharge from another Military Service.

3. Enlisted members of the Reserve Components (except chief petty officers), upon first reporting for or upon recall to active duty, for more than 6 months, after 3 months from date of last discharge or release from active duty.

a. Navy members are not entitled to the initial clothing monetary allowance if they have been issued clothing in kind while on inactive duty.

b. Air Force members will return to active duty with the clothing required for service in the Reserve Component.

4. Upon restoration of a prisoner to duty after being sentenced to confinement and punitive discharge, to the extent necessary to fill clothing allowances.

5. Upon reenlistment within 3 months after last discharge or release from active duty if the complete initial allowance was not received or the turn-in of clothing was required. Reduce the amount of the initial allowance authorized in these cases by the monetary value of the clothing the member retained upon date of last discharge or release from active duty. This initial allowance will not be considered as the last authorization to an initial allowance when determining entitlement to a cash clothing replacement allowance.

6. Retired enlisted members (including members of the Fleet Reserve) upon recall to active duty after 3 months from date of last release from active duty or date of retirement. Only one such allowance shall be authorized during any period of 4 consecutive years.

7. Commissioned officers or warrant officers serving on active duty under temporary appointments who revert to active duty in an enlisted status for other than immediate retirement. Only one such allowance will be authorized during any 4 consecutive years. This provision does not apply to commissioned or warrant officers reverting to chief petty officer status.

8. Upon reenlistment in the regular Service after the expiration of 3 months from the date of transfer to the temporary disability retired list and release to inactive duty, if appointment to temporary officer status is not coincident with such reenlistment.

9. Chief petty officers of the Naval Reserve who are discharged and enlisted or reenlisted in the Regular Navy in pay grade E-6 or below.

10. Naval aviation cadets and officer candidates upon reverting to enlisted status to serve for more than 6 months provided they have not previously received an initial clothing monetary allowance under any of the above provisions during their current period of continuous active duty.

B. For rates payable for initial clothing monetary allowances for Army, Marine Corps, and Air Force, see Military Service directives listed in subparagraphs 290102.A, C, and D, above. For Navy rates, see Table 29-1.

290202. Partial-Initial Clothing Monetary Allowance (Navy Only)

A. A partial-initial clothing monetary allowance is payable to enlisted members of the Naval Reserve in pay grade E-6 or below when:

1. First reporting for or upon recall to extended active duty of more than 6 months except those members who previously have received as an issue-in-kind, clothing items listed in both tables A and B for male members or C and D for female members, promulgated in the current BUPERSINST 1020.11 series (reference (az)).

2. Discharged while on inactive duty for immediate reenlistment in the regular Navy, upon the date that they enlist and report for active duty in the regular Navy.

B. A partial-initial clothing monetary allowance is not payable to enlisted members of the Naval Reserve in pay grade E-6 and below:

1. Who have drawn the partial-initial clothing monetary allowance during the current period of continuous active or inactive service.

2. Who are discharged while on inactive duty to immediately reenlist in the regular Navy if they have previously drawn the partial-initial clothing monetary allowance during their current period of continuous active or inactive service.

C. Rates payable are provided in Table 29-1.

290203. Reduced or Adjusted Initial Clothing Monetary Allowance (Navy and Air Force Only)

A. Compute this allowance by deducting the current value of items authorized to be retained by the member upon last discharge, from the current initial clothing monetary allowance. Enlisted members are entitled to a reduced or adjusted initial clothing monetary allowance when:

1. They did not receive the complete initial clothing monetary allowance during their last enlistment in a Regular or Reserve Component of the Military Service concerned.

2. They enlist or reenlist in a Regular Component within 3 months from date of discharge or release from active duty from a regular or Reserve Component of the same Military Service (includes Coast Guard for Navy), if they were required to turn in a portion or all of their uniforms upon discharge or release from active duty.

B. A reduced or adjusted initial clothing monetary allowance is not considered as the "last authorization to an initial allowance" when determining entitlement to a cash clothing replacement allowance.

290204. Clothing Allowance, Special Initial (Navy only)

A. This allowance is prescribed for enlisted members who are required to wear individual clothing of a type not customarily required for the majority of enlisted members of the Navy. The clothing allowance, special initial, is in lieu of the initial or partial-initial clothing monetary allowance.

B. The rates and conditions under which clothing allowances, special initial are payable are contained in Tables 29-1 and 29-2.

290205. Initial Cash Allowance for Female Enlisted Members. Female enlisted members of all Military Services are authorized a cash allowance for the purchase of underclothing and personal items, in addition to initial clothing allowances. The rate of this cash allowance is determined annually. For rates payable for this allowance, Army, Marine Corps, and Air Force, see Military Service directives listed in subparagraphs 290102.A, C, and D, above. For Navy rates, see Table 29-1.

290206. Civilian Clothing Monetary Allowances

A. Special-Initial Allowance. Enlisted personnel who are required by competent authority to wear civilian clothing in the performance of official duty may be authorized an initial allowance for civilian clothing.

B. Extension or Consecutive Tour

1. Enlisted members who voluntarily extend their tours or who are directed to remain in the assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing for at least an additional 6 months are authorized 20 percent of the initial tour length payment at the current fiscal year rate.

2. Enlisted members who voluntarily extend their tours or who are directed to remain in the assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing for at least an additional 12 months are authorized 30 percent of the initial tour length payment at the current fiscal year rate.

3. Enlisted members who have received an initial civilian clothing allowance for duties performed at a permanent duty station and who are ordered to a consecutive permanent assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing are authorized 50 percent of the allowance for the latter tour assignment at the current fiscal year rate.

C. Continuing Allowance. Enlisted members who are required to wear civilian clothing on a continuing basis and who are not eligible for an allowance on the basis of tour extensions or consecutive assignments are authorized a continuing civilian clothing allowance. This allowance is authorized for members who remain in the assignment for which they received an initial clothing allowance and is payable on or after each 3-year anniversary date of the initial allowance. The amount shall be 50 percent of the current maximum initial allowance.

D. Replacement Allowance. A member is entitled to an appropriate cash clothing replacement allowance as prescribed in Table 29-5 during periods assigned to duty requiring the wearing of civilian clothing.

E. Temporary Duty Allowance. Enlisted members are authorized a temporary duty civilian clothing monetary allowance when they are assigned to a temporary duty tour (as specified by the Military Service directives listed in paragraph 290102, above) where civilian clothing is required. An enlisted member who has not received the maximum amount payable for temporary duty due to the length of the first assignment, who later performs additional temporary duty that qualifies for a larger payment, is authorized payment of the difference between the two amounts. Prorated payments will be based on the maximum fiscal year rate in effect at the time of payment. Total payments during a three year period may not exceed the maximum temporary duty allowance reflected in Table 29-3. Reenlistment within 3 months after separation is considered as continuous active duty.

F. Rates Payable. The rates payable for civilian clothing monetary allowances may not exceed those in Table 29-3. These are the maximum rates authorized.

G. Allowance Adjustment (for the period 1 October 1988 thru 30 September 1989). Enlisted members who received a lesser initial allowance in the past 12 months than currently authorized by this paragraph and shown in Table 29-3, and who are still assigned to duty requiring the wearing of civilian clothing are authorized an amount that equals the difference between the amount previously paid and the new rate.

290207. Settlement of Initial Clothing Monetary Allowances. See Table 29-4.

2903 CLOTHING REPLACEMENT ALLOWANCES

290301. Basic Replacement Allowance. This allowance provides for replacement of uniquely military items which would normally require replacement during the first 3 years of active duty. See Tables 29-5 and 29-6.

290302. Standard Replacement Allowance. This allowance provides for continued replacement of uniquely military items which would normally require replacement after completion of 3 years of active duty. See Tables 29-5 and 29-6.

290303. Clothing Replacement Allowance, Special (Navy Only). This allowance accrues to each enlisted member, male or female, entitled to a clothing allowance, special initial. The conditions under which this replacement allowance is payable are contained in Table 29-5.

290304. Payment Restrictions, Clothing Replacement Allowance. See Table 29-5.

290305. Rates Payable. Cash clothing replacement allowances are payable annually at the end of the member's anniversary month of active duty at the rates specified in Table 29-6.

290306. Entitlement. Enlisted members may be authorized special or supplemental clothing allowances, in cash or "issue-in-kind," when assigned to duty requiring additional quantities or special items of individual uniform clothing not normally required for enlisted members in the same Military Service. No replacement allowance is prescribed for this clothing monetary allowance.

290307. References. For rates and conditions under which allowances are payable for Army, Marine Corps and Air Force, see the Military Service directives listed in subparagraphs 290102.A, C, and D, above. For Navy, see Table 29-7.

2904 MISCELLANEOUS CLOTHING PROVISIONS

290401. Clothing Lost or Damaged. An enlisted member will be paid for items of individual clothing damaged, lost, destroyed, abandoned, captured, or otherwise rendered unserviceable, incident to service, not by reason of normal wear and tear, if the loss was not caused in whole or in part by any fault or negligence of the member. Compensate in accordance with the regulations of the Military Service concerned.

290402. Clothing Price Adjustments (Navy and Air Force). Adjust pay records of enlisted members, who were entitled to an initial or partial initial clothing monetary allowance on entering the Military Service on or before 30 September to reflect the difference between old and new fiscal year prices of those clothing items they have not drawn prior to 1 October.

1	completes 6 months of active duty after last entitlement to an initial, or partial initial clothing allowance (notes 1 and 2)	receiving any other clothing allowance; or missing, missing-in-action, captured, or detained in a foreign country; or forfeiting total pay; or in confinement under approved sentence providing a punitive discharge (note 5); or assigned to a command where clothing is replaced by an in-kind issue; or undergoing training in the Marine Corps leading to a commission and requiring clothing not required for other members of the Corps; or terminated from the status for which the special initial-clothing monetary allowance was awarded	basic clothing replacement allowance, accruing from the first day of the month following the date of completion of 6 months' active duty through the end of the 36th month of active duty. On completion of the 12th month of duty, payment will be made for one-half the annual rate and the full annual rate thereafter (note 6).
2	completes 6 months of active duty as a Naval aviation cadet or Naval aviation officer candidate (notes 1 and 3)
3	is required to wear a uniform not customarily worn by the majority of Naval enlisted members		standard clothing replacement allowance accruing from the date the special initial clothing allowance is awarded and continuing for the first 36 months of such active duty (note 6).
4	receives a reduced or adjusted initial clothing allowance		basic or standard clothing replacement allowance accruing from the first day of active duty in a pay status. Annual payments will be made at the end of the member's anniversary month of last entitlement to an initial clothing monetary allowance (notes 4 and 6).
5	completes 36 months of active duty after last entitlement to an initial, partial initial, or special initial, clothing allowance (notes 1 and 2)		standard or special clothing replacement allowance accruing from the day following date of completion of 36 months' active duty. Annual payments will be made at the end of the member's anniversary month of active duty (note 6).

NOTES:

1. The time period is computed without regard to lost time.
2. Partial initial and special initial clothing monetary allowances apply to Navy only.
3. The basic replacement allowance continues during the member's entire service as an aviation cadet or aviation officer candidate.
4. The replacement allowance to be paid these members depends on the period that has elapsed since the member's last entitlement to an initial monetary clothing allowance (that is, before completion of 36 months of active duty basic, after completion of 36 months of active duty standard).
5. The term "approved sentence" means the date the sentence was approved by the convening authority.
6. If a member serves on this active duty less than 12 months or less than 12 months after the last annual payment, then a prorated amount will be paid, calculated at one-twelfth of the annual rate for each whole month, or fraction thereof actually served. Example: If a member on a 3-year enlistment leaves service after serving 2 years, 6 months, and 10 days, the member will receive a final payment in an amount equal to seven-twelfths the annual amount.

Table 29-7. Entitlement to Special or Supplement Clothing Monetary Allowances (CAX)- (Navy Only)-1 Oct 1990

NOTES:

1. The CAX for enlisted members assigned to any of the duties, rules 1 through 14, is payable only once during an assignment to such duty. The allowance is not payable upon reassignment to the same type of duty during a period of continuous active duty, unless 3 years or more have elapsed between such assignments. (Exception: Notes 9 and 10.)
2. A normal tour of recruiting or recruiting support duty includes active duty assignment for such duty to:
 - a. Navy recruiting areas, Navy recruiting districts, Navy recruiting "A" stations, Navy recruiting stations, Military Entrance Processing Stations, or to Naval Reserve activities.
 - b. Naval aviation cadet procurement teams on duty at Naval Air Reserve activities.
3. Eligibility requirements are:
 - a. Have successfully completed recruit company commander's or Recruit Drill Instructor's school.
 - b. Can be expected to perform recruit company commander or drill instructor duty at their present station for at least 1 additional year.
4. Effective date is 14 Jan 1969. Members serving with these detachments on that date and who have already completed the required 6 months are also entitled.
5. Pay 50 percent of CAX to Reservist recalled to active duty as recruiter or recruiting support personnel for 1 year or more after serving on active duty as a recruiter for 1 year. Count shorter periods that accumulate to 12 consecutive months if breaks between active duty periods are no more than 7 days during preceding 12 months. Pay remaining 50 percent after completion of 18 months active duty provided that any breaks between active service periods are no more than 7 days during preceding 6-month period. Service before 14 July 1973 cannot be used in computing time served to establish eligibility for payment of full or partial CAX.
6. This allowance is payable to recruiters after reporting to the Enlisted Navy Recruiter Orientation Course at Orlando, FL or San Diego, CA, or upon completion of the Veteran Recruiter Orientation (VETRO) course at New Orleans, LA and 3 weeks on-the-job training (OJT); such OJT may be either prior to or after completion of VETRO.
7. This allowance is payable to recruiting support personnel upon receipt of orders to such duty.
8. Payment of the maternity uniform allowance is neither a one-time entitlement nor payable for each pregnancy. Subsequent payments of the allowance shall be authorized every 3 years, based on the date the member received the first maternity uniform allowance, and wearing of such uniform is required.
9. This supplementary allowance is payable to musicians upon initial assignment, and on every third anniversary while assigned to such duty with a fleet/area band. The following applies to fleet/area band members:
 - a. Members reporting to fleet/area bands after 1 Oct 1990 would become entitled to this allowance upon reporting, and every third anniversary thereafter while assigned to fleet/area bands.
 - b. Members who are currently assigned to and have served continuously in any of the fleet/area bands for three years or more are entitled to this supplementary allowance on 1 Oct 1990. The anniversary date for these members will now become 1 Oct 1990. For the purpose of this allowance, members attending Musician "C" school (UIC 30636) are considered continuously serving in a fleet/area band.
 - c. Members who are currently assigned to and have served continuously in any of the fleet/area bands for less than three years on 1 Oct 1990, are entitled to this supplementary allowance when three years have elapsed since receiving the initial supplementary allowance.
10. This supplementary allowance is payable to members with NEC 2186 (CRF Recruiter) upon initial assignment and on every three-year anniversary date. Members who are currently assigned to this duty are entitled to this supplementary allowance on 1 Oct 1990, provided three years have elapsed since receiving the initial supplementary allowance. Members reporting after 1 Oct 1990 will have the anniversary date established as the reporting date.
11. Effective date for this rate change is 3 Nov 1994.

Civilian Clothing Allowance for TDY - Exceptions,
(DFAS Item G-36)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 27-97 to Chapter 29 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The effective date for the DCS courier exception is November 1, 1996. The effective date for the OSIA member exception is July 24, 1997.

This change adds two new exceptions to the minimum required consecutive days of TDY to qualify for civilian clothing allowances.

Due to the routine nature, non interpretive aspect and minimal perceived systems impact of this change, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Mr. Gary McGee, may be contacted at DSN 332-5280 or (703) 602-5280.

CIVILIAN CLOTHING ALLOWANCE FOR TDY - EXCEPTIONS

1. Change Note 1, Table 29-3 to read as follows:

"1. Fifteen day limitation does not apply to Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD), Explosive Detector Dog (EDD), Defense Courier Service (DCS) or On-Site Inspection Agency (OSIA) personnel. Otherwise entitled members of these organizations receive maximum (over 30 days) allowance regardless of the number of days of temporary duty."

2. Update the bibliography for Chapter 29 as follows:

Insert a new entry to read "Table 29-3, Note 1" with two citations "ASD(FMP) Memo, 1 Nov 1996" and "24 Jul 1997".

SUBJECT: Civilian Clothing Allowances for Members on Temporary Duty (TDY)

DoDI 1338.18, "Armed Forces Clothing Monetary Allowance Procedures," July 29, 1985, provides for an allowance for members to purchase civilian clothing when competent authority requires they wear civilian attire when performing their official duties. Currently, the DoDI provides for a maximum allowance of $245 when TDY exceeds "15 consecutive days but less than 30 days", and $459 for TDY "over 30 days."

Military members assigned to the On-Site Inspection Agency are required to dress in civilian clothing when performing TDY to prevent them from being targeted by terrorists or subversive groups. Due to the nature of their duties, their TDYs are short in duration, but occur on a frequent, recurring basis. In most cases, agency personnel cannot meet the "15 consecutive day" criteria to qualify for a TDY civilian clothing allowance. However, because their travel circumstances justify such an allowance, the On-Site Inspection Agency has requested their personnel performing recurring TDYs during which they are required to wear civilian clothing be provided a TDY civilian clothing allowance.

This memorandum exempts On-Site Inspection Agency personnel from the requirement that members be on TDY for more than 15 consecutive days to qualify for a civilian clothing allowance. On-Site Inspection Agency personnel must meet all other criteria established in the DoDI to qualify for the allowance.

This policy change affects DoDI 1338.18, par. 3b(3) in enclosure 1 thereto, and is effective immediately.

SUBJECT: Civilian Clothing Allowances for Members on Temporary Duty (TDY)

DoDI 1338.18, "Armed Forces Clothing Monetary Allowance Procedures," July 29, 1985, provides for an allowance for members to purchase civilian clothing when competent authority requires they dress in civilian attire when performing their official duties. Effective October 1, 1996, the DoDI provides for a maximum allowance of $245 when TDY exceeds "15 consecutive days but less than 30 days", and $459 for TDY "over 30 days."

Defense Courier Service (DCS) couriers are required to wear civilian attire when performing TDY to prevent them from being targeted by terrorists or subversive groups while escorting highly classified, time sensitive material. These TDYs are always of short duration (one to three days) and on a frequent, recurring basis. DCS couriers do not, with rare exception, meet the 15 or 30 consecutive day criteria to qualify for a TDY civilian clothing allowance. I believe the circumstances of DCS courier travel merit an exception to the consecutive days policy.

Effective immediately, DCS couriers are exempt from the requirement that members must be on TDY for more than 15 consecutive days to qualify for a civilian clothing allowance. The DCS couriers must meet the other criteria established in the DoDI to qualify for the allowance. Like the Explosive Ordnance Disposal and Explosive Detector Dog personnel currently exempt this requirement, up to the maximum $459 may be paid to DCS couriers when authorized by competent authority.

This policy change affects DoDI 1338.18, par. 3b(3) in enclosure 1 thereto, and will be reflected in an upcoming revision.

SUBJECT: Change to the DODFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Clothing Monetary Allowances for Fiscal Year 1999,
(DFAS Item h-25)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 38-98 to Chapter 29 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It is effective October 1, 1998.

This change issues the new clothing monetary allowance rates for military members and includes recent changes to civilian clothing allowances. This change will soon be superceded by a complete revision to Chapter 29 which will incorporate all provisions of the revised DoD instruction governing military clothing monetary allowances.

Due to the routine nature, non-interpretive aspect and minimal perceived systems impact of this change, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment. Assignment of an

12	$220	annual
13	$225	once in three years
14	$220 (for all categories)	annual

c. Replace all existing table notes with the following; making note 1 applicable to all of column C, note 2 applicable to rule 1, and note 3 applicable to rules 6 and 7:

Note 1. The supplementary clothing allowances listed are, unless otherwise noted, payable upon initial assignment to a normal tour of the duties described at the frequency specified in this table. Allowances to be paid annually, will be paid on the anniversary date of the initial assignment or entitlement, provided the member is projected to remain in the assignment for at least an additional six months. Allowances to be paid once in three years, will be paid upon certification that the individual's condition/duties require the allowance, provided 36 months have elapsed from the date of any prior payment for the same purpose. Allowances to be paid only upon assignment, will be paid only when first assigned to the specified duty. A supplementary allowance may not be paid more frequently than once per year for similar duty even if at different locations or commands or for subsequent recalls to active duty within one year, except by special authority of the Service Secretary or designee.

Note 2. Recruiting or recruiting support duty means active duty assignment to: Navy recruiting areas, Navy recruiting districts, Navy recruiting "A" stations, Navy recruiting stations, Military Entrance Processing Stations, or to Naval Reserve activities. It also includes Naval aviation cadet procurement teams at Naval Air Reserve activities. It is payable to recruiters after reporting to the enlisted Navy Recruiter Orientation Course or upon completion of the Veteran Recruiter Orientation (VETRO). It is payable to recruiting support personnel upon receipt of orders to such duty. It is payable to members in BUPERS controlled recruiting billets or a recruit support billet upon initial assignment when specialized training is not required prior to the recruiting assignment.

Note 3. Eligibility requires completion of Recruit Company Commander or Recruit Drill Instructor School.

d. Add a new rule number 15 as follows:

Column A to read; duty as a midshipmen company advisor in pay grade E7-E9 at the United States Naval Academy

Column B to read; $220

Column C to read; annual

6. In the bibliography under Chapter 29, replace the citation ASD(FMP) Memo, 29 Sep 97 with ASD(FMP) Memo, 25 Sep 98, and change the effective date of DoD Instruction 1338.18 to 7 Jan 1998.

SUBJECT: Change to the DODFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding - Clothing Monetary Allowances, (DFAS Item H-08)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 10-99 to Chapter 29 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It was effective October 1, 1998.

This change incorporates the provisions of DoD Instruction 1338.18 which was revised and reissued on January 7, 1998. This change includes the clothing monetary allowance rates established by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Force Management Policy) for fiscal year 1999. This is a complete chapter rewrite and replacement for the existing Chapter 29. This change also requires conforming modifications to be made to chapters 30, 57, and 58 and to the Table of Contents.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft proposal of this change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change incorporates your comments where appropriate.

Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

(See next page)

CLOTHING MONETARY ALLOWANCES2901 GENERAL PROVISIONS

290101. Clothing Allowance Entitlement. By law and under Presidential executive order, the Secretary of Defense, or the Secretary's designee, may prescribe the quantity and kind of clothing to be furnished annually to an enlisted member of the Military Services, and may prescribe the amount of cash allowance to be paid if clothing is not so furnished. It is DoD policy that the quantities and kinds of items of individual clothing to be furnished shall be prescribed by the individual Service Secretary or the Commandant of the Marine Corps under the parameters set by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Force Management Policy.

290102. Types of Allowances. There are three basic types of clothing allowances:

A. Initial Clothing Allowances are provided to enlisted members upon initial enlistment or upon other special qualification for entitlement to a prescribed outfitting of uniforms. The initial issue may be an in kind issue or a combination of in kind issue and cash payment.

B. Cash Clothing Replacement Allowances are provided to enlisted members upon the anniversary month each successive year following the provision of an initial clothing allowance. Cash clothing replacement allowances are for replacement of required uniform items based on a normal wear rate.

C. Extra Clothing Allowances are additional to initial and replacement allowances and do not reduce, replace or otherwise affect them. Extra clothing allowances provide for unusual circumstances when an enlisted member may require additional uniform items or when an officer (with a permanent duty station outside the United States) or enlisted member may require civilian clothes to perform their assigned duties.

290103. References. The following source directives contain detail on entitlements, policies, and procedures on the quantity and kind of clothing that must be provided, the cash allowance in lieu thereof, and the provisions for payment of clothing replacement allowances:

A. Army, AR 700-84 (reference (ax)). For rates payable, see DFAS-IN Military Pay Tables (Daily Rates) (reference (ay)).

B. Navy, MILPERSMAN, BUPERS-INST 1020.11 series (reference (az)) and COM-NAVRESFORINST 1001.5 series (reference (ba)).

C. Air Force, DFAS-DE 7073.1-M, DFAS-DE 7073.2-M (reference (ap)), and AFI 36-3014 (reference (be)).

D. Marine Corps, Individual Clothing Regulations (MCO P10120.28 (reference (bb))).

2902 INITIAL CLOTHING ALLOWANCES

290201. Standard Initial Clothing Allowance – General Provisions. The Standard Initial Clothing Allowance is mainly provided as an in kind issue, although a cash payment may be made for items not furnished in kind. Each Service, as approved by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Force Management Policy), may prescribe cash payments for items specifically designated to be purchased by the member rather than to be furnished in kind. Additionally, if any of the items of clothing normally prescribed to be furnished in kind are not available for issuance, the initial allowance may be completed by paying the member the cash value of the balance remaining. The Standard Initial Clothing Allowance rates, including prescribed cash payments for personal purchase of specified items are in table 29-1.

A. The total monetary value of items furnished in kind, plus any cash payments, may not exceed the amounts for the total value of the applicable Standard Initial Clothing Allowance as established in table 29-1.

B. If a Service member dies, is discharged, or is released from active duty within six months of entitlement to an initial allowance, the value of the initial allowance shall be reduced to the items of clothing already supplied or amount credited up to that date.

C. Navy and Air Force. Enlisted members of the Navy and Air Force entitled to a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance are credited with the amount of the allowance against which the authorized clothing is furnished. Payment of the amount prescribed in the initial allowance as a cash payment for personal purchase of specified items may be made immediately. If any of the prescribed items of clothing to be furnished in kind against the established credit are not available for issuance by the conclusion of basic training period, or within a period the Service considers appropriate, the initial allowance may be completed by paying the individual the balance remaining in cash.

D. Army and Marine Corps. Enlisted members of the Army and Marine Corps entitled to a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance are furnished the allowance on an item or issue in kind basis without establishing a monetary credit. Payment of the amount prescribed in the initial allowance as a cash allowance may be made immediately. Shortages of items being furnished on an in kind basis shall be recorded and issued when available to the Service member.

290202. Standard Initial Clothing Allowance - Entitlement Criteria. Enlisted personnel (except those entitled to a Special Initial Clothing Allowance) shall be furnished a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance, but only under the following circumstances:

A. Upon first enlistment in the Service, or reenlistment in the same branch of the regular Military Service if three months has expired from date of last discharge or release from active duty and the member is not reporting from a Reserve component that requires the member to maintain uniform clothing.

B. Upon enlistment or re-enlistment in a Service other than the one from which last discharged.

C. Upon reporting for or upon recall to active duty for more than six months, after three months have expired from the date of last discharge or release from active duty with the clothing required for service in a Reserve component. In these cases, the initial allowance shall be reduced to a Partial Standard Initial Clothing Allowance under regulations of the appropriate Service, to account for clothing required to be in the person's possession upon call or recall to active duty.

D. Upon being restored to duty, after being sentenced to confinement and punitive discharge, to the extent needed to fill the individual's clothing requirement.

E. Upon re-enlisting within three months of last discharge or release from active duty, when the Service member did not receive the complete initial allowance or was required to turn in issued clothing. The amount allowed, shall be the difference between the current initial clothing allowance and the current value of issued clothing that remained in the member's possession upon the date of last discharge or release from active duty, further reduced by any prior cash clothing payments toward the initial clothing allowance. For the purposes of determining entitlement to replacement allowances, issues or payments under this subparagraph are not considered to be the last authorization of an initial allowance.

F. Retired enlisted personnel (including Service members of the Fleet Reserve and the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve) recalled to active duty after three months from the date of last release from active duty or retirement. Only one such allowance shall be authorized during any period of four consecutive years.

G. Commissioned officers or warrant officers under temporary appointments who enlisted or re-enlisted, or who reverted to service on active duty in an enlisted (other than Chief Petty Officer) status, except for purposes of retirement. Only one such allowance is authorized in any period of four consecutive years.

H. Naval officer candidates, and Naval Reserve Chief Petty Officers who revert to or are enlisted or re-enlisted in the regular Navy in pay grade E-6 or below, except for purposes of retirement; provided they have not previously received a standard initial clothing allowance during their current period of continuous active duty.

290203. Special Initial Clothing Allowance – General Provisions. Enlisted members may be authorized a Special Initial Clothing Allowance if assigned to a tour of duty, or if they attain a status, requiring the wear of uniform clothing (other than special dress uniforms) of a style different from uniforms customary for most enlisted members of the same Service. Only one Special Initial Clothing Allowance is authorized during any period of continuous active duty. The Special Initial Clothing Allowance rates are in table 29-2.

A. The Special Initial Clothing Allowance is provided in lieu of the Standard Initial Clothing Allowance when it is the first initial allowance qualified for and issued. The Special Initial Clothing Allowance supercedes and replaces the Standard Initial Clothing Allowance and is considered to be the last authorization of an initial clothing allowance when a member who previously received a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance subsequently qualifies for and is provided a Special Initial Clothing Allowance. The Special Initial Clothing Allowance may be issued in kind, paid as a monetary payment, or provided as a combination, as established the Service concerned.

B. Examples of uses for Special Initial Clothing Allowance are when members in an enlisted status enter an officer training program, are advanced to Chief Petty Officer in the Navy, or are assigned to a military band with uniform styles different than those for others in their pay grade.

290204. Special Initial Clothing Allowance – Eligibility Criteria. Enlisted personnel shall be furnished a Special Initial Clothing Allowance only under the following circumstances:

- A. Upon selection and acceptance for specified officer-training programs.
- B. Upon assignment, in pay grade E-6 or below, to either the United States Navy Band Washington, DC or the United States Naval Academy Band.
- C. Upon first advancement to or first enlistment as a Chief Petty Officer in the Navy, while serving on active duty, provided no Special Initial Clothing Allowance has been previously paid.
- D. Upon first reporting for active duty for a period of more than six months as a Chief Petty Officer of the Naval Reserve provided no Special Initial Clothing Allowance has been previously paid either on active or inactive duty.
- E. Upon active duty reenlistment or receipt of orders to active duty as a Chief Petty Officer in the Navy, provided all of the following conditions are met:
 - 1. Over three months has expired from date of last discharge, release from active duty or retirement,
 - 2. The enlistment or re-enlistment period is for a period of more than six months,
 - 3. Appointment to temporary officer status is not coincident with the enlistment or re-enlistment, and
 - 4. The member has not been paid a Special Initial Clothing Allowance within the last four years while on inactive duty.
- F. A Chief Petty Officer of the Naval Reserve first reporting for active duty for a period of more than six months who has been previously paid a Special Initial Clothing Allowance while on inactive duty will receive a Partial Special Initial Clothing Allowance.

290205. Partial Initial Clothing Allowances. Enlisted personnel shall be paid a reduced or partial initial allowance when payment of a full Standard Initial Clothing Allowance or full Special Initial Clothing Allowance is not warranted as described in paragraphs 290202C and 290204F.

2903 CASH CLOTHING REPLACEMENT ALLOWANCES

290301. General. Cash clothing replacement allowances for uniform items shall be paid to enlisted members to provide them funds for the replacement of military unique items required for wear. Enlisted members engaged in officer training programs or who are attending academy preparatory schools are not eligible for cash clothing replacement allowances. Specific entitlement rules are listed in table 29-3. Cash clothing replacement allowance rates are listed in table 29-4.

290302. Basic Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance. This is a preliminary replacement allowance for uniform items. It is used during the first three years of active service subsequent to receipt of a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance or a reduced or Partial Standard Initial Clothing Allowance.

A. It accrues to each enlisted member beginning with the first day of the month following the date of completion of six months of active duty without regard to time lost. The first payment shall be made at the end of the member's anniversary month completing one year of uninterrupted active military service in an amount equal to one-half the applicable fiscal year rate then in effect.

B. When authorized under regulations of the Service concerned, enlisted members of a Reserve component who received a reduced or Partial Standard Initial Clothing Allowance, may be authorized to accrue the Basic Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance beginning with the first day of the month following the date of call or recall to active duty in a pay status.

C. The Basic Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance continues for the first three years of continuous active duty. It is payable for the second and third years at the end of the member's anniversary month using the applicable rate then in effect.

290303. Standard Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance. This allowance provides for replacement of uniform items after completion of three years of active service subsequent to receipt of a Standard Initial Clothing Allowance or a reduced or Partial Standard Initial Clothing Allowance. It is also used as the preliminary replacement allowance during the first three years of active service subsequent to receipt of a Special Initial Clothing Allowance or a reduced or Partial Special Initial Clothing Allowance.

A. When used as the follow on to the Basic Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance, the Standard Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance accrues beginning with the first day of the month following the date the member completes 36 months active duty without regard to time lost. It continues during the remaining period of continuous active duty and is payable annually at the end of the Service member's anniversary month using the applicable rate then in effect.

B. When used as the preliminary replacement allowance for the Special Initial Clothing Allowance, the Standard Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance accrues beginning with the first day of the month following the date the Special Initial Clothing Allowance or a reduced or Partial Special Initial Clothing Allowance was authorized without regard to time lost. It is payable annually, for the first three years of continuous active duty, at the end of the Service member's anniversary month using the applicable rate then in effect.

290304. Special Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance. This allowance provides for replacement of uniform items after completion of three years of active service subsequent to receipt of a Special Initial Clothing Allowance. It accrues beginning with the first day of the month following the date the member completes 36 months active duty, subsequent to receiving a Special Initial Clothing Allowance or a reduced or Partial Special Initial Clothing Allowance, without regard to time lost, and continues during the remaining period of continuous active duty. It is payable annually at the end of the Service member's anniversary month using the applicable fiscal year rate then in effect. During the period the Special Cash Clothing Replacement Allowance is payable, the Service member is not entitled to any other cash clothing replacement allowance for uniforms.

2904 EXTRA CLOTHING ALLOWANCES

290401. General. Extra Clothing Allowances are provided in addition to any other entitled clothing allowance. Entitlement to or payment of an Extra Clothing Allowance does not replace or reduce any other clothing allowance.

290402. Supplementary Clothing Allowances. In addition to any other clothing allowance authorized, an enlisted member may become entitled to a Supplementary Clothing Allowance. Supplementary Clothing Allowances may be authorized only for enlisted personnel assigned to duty in a special organization or detail where the nature of the duty necessitates the member have, as a military requirement, additional quantities or special items of individual uniform clothing normally not required for most enlisted members in the same Service. Except for maternity uniforms, Supplementary Clothing Allowances may not exceed 20 percent of the current value of the Standard Initial Clothing Allowance.

A. Entitlement.

1. A Supplementary Clothing Allowance may be provided as an in kind issue, as a cash payment, or as a combination of an in kind issue and a cash payment. Generally, Navy and Air Force members are provided Supplementary Clothing Allowances as cash payments, whereas Army and Marine Corps members are normally provided Supplementary Clothing Allowances as in kind issues.

2. On the anniversary of receipt of an initial Supplementary Clothing Allowance, a subsequent Supplementary Clothing Allowance may be authorized for a member remaining in the qualifying assignment, provided the member is projected to remain in the assignment for at least six additional months. A Service member who has received a Supplementary Clothing Allowance may not be authorized a subsequent supplementary allowance for the same items upon reassignment to duty, if less than 12 months have elapsed since the last payment. However, the Service Secretary or Commandant of the Marine Corps or their designee, may waive this restriction under circumstances they deem appropriate.

3. As an exception to the above, an otherwise qualified member may not receive the Supplementary Clothing Allowance for maternity uniforms more often than once every three years.

B. Rates Payable.

1. Navy and Air Force provide Supplementary Clothing Allowances as cash payments. The Navy Supplementary Clothing Allowance rates are listed in table 29-5. The Air Force Supplementary Clothing Allowance rates are listed in table 29-6.

2. Army and Marine Corps provide Supplementary Clothing Allowances as in kind issues or a combination of in kind issues and cash payments. The Army and Marine Corps Supplementary Clothing Allowances are described in the appropriate Service references listed in paragraph 290103.

290403. Civilian Clothing Allowances for Officers and Enlisted Personnel. In addition to any other clothing allowance authorized, Service members (officer or enlisted) directed by competent authority to dress in civilian clothing more than half the time when performing official duty, as a military requirement, may be authorized a civilian clothing allowance. By law, an officer is authorized a civilian clothing allowance only if the officer's permanent duty station is outside the United States. During any period an enlisted member is on an assignment requiring the wear of civilian clothing, the applicable replacement allowance for uniform items continues to accrue. The Service Secretary or Commandant of the Marine Corps may prescribe reduced civilian clothing allowances, as appropriate for their respective Service, for personnel serving under conditions where the full authorized civilian clothing allowances in table 29-7 are not required.

A. Permanent Duty Civilian Clothing Allowances. The Permanent Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance has two parts, the Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance and the Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance. The Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance is payable upon assignment to qualifying permanent duty when authorized by the Service concerned. When entitled, the Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance is payable annually at the end of the Service member's anniversary month using the applicable rate then in effect. The rates payable for the Permanent Duty Civilian Clothing Allowances are in table 29-7.

1. Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance. An Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance shall not be paid more frequently than once in any three year period nor shall it be paid if the member has been out of a qualifying assignment for less than 12 months. If the member receives a follow-on permanent assignment requiring the wear of civilian clothing within three years of receiving an Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance, or within 12 months of occupying a qualifying assignment, the member will receive the Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance at the end of the original anniversary month.

2. Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance. At the end of the anniversary month of the member commencing the qualifying assignment, a Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance is payable if the member is projected to serve at least six additional months in a qualifying assignment. The member becomes entitled upon authorization of the Service concerned. If the member is projected to remain in the assignment less than six months beyond the anniversary month, the Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance will not be authorized. However, if the member then actually serves six or more months in the assignment past the anniversary month, the replacement allowance will be paid.

3. Lump Sum Payments. A Service may be given authority to pay the Initial Civilian Clothing Allowance and up to two Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance payments in an up-front lump sum to members projected to continue to meet the eligibility criteria for a civilian clothing allowance on a career basis. Such a lump-sum payment may be made only one time in a member's career and that is when the member first becomes eligible for the allowance. On the first or second anniversaries after a lump-sum initial payment, if it is determined the member will not actually be remaining in a qualifying position for at least the next six months, the annual unearned portion for the year(s) not served will be recouped from the member. At the end of the anniversary months for the third and subsequent years' of eligibility, the member will be paid the Replacement Civilian Clothing Allowance.

4. Prior Civilian Clothing Payments. A member assigned to duty for which a Permanent Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance is authorized will have that allowance reduced by the prevailing value of any Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance received within the preceding 12 months.

B. Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowances. Generally, the Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance is for use when the Permanent Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance is not applicable. The Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance has two maximum rates, one for temporary duty of at least 15 days within any 30 day period and one for temporary duty of at least 30 days within any 36 month period. The total amount of all Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowances payable in any 36 month period will not exceed the maximum allowed for temporary duty of at least 30 days. The amounts authorized by the Service concerned shall be within the maximum rates established in table 29-7.

1. Temporary Duty of at Least 15 Days. When competent authority determines the member will be on temporary duty at least 15 consecutive or accumulative days within a 30-day period, the maximum amount payable is that found in table 29-7. The 15-day threshold requirement does not apply to Explosive Ordnance Disposal and Explosive Detector Dog personnel on United States Secret Service support duty, Defense Courier Service couriers, or On-Site Inspection Agency military personnel. These personnel may be authorized up to the maximum payment for temporary duty of at least 30 days, upon their initial temporary duty assignment, regardless of the length of their temporary duty.

2. Temporary Duty of at Least 30 Days. When competent authority determines the member will be on temporary duty at least 30 consecutive or accumulative days within a 36 month period, the maximum amount payable shall be that found in table 29-7, less any amount paid within the past 36 month period.

3. Additional Temporary Duty Payments. In exceptional circumstances, the appropriate official, or the designated official, may make an exception to the maximum allowance permitted in a 36 month period and may authorize an additional payment of a 15 or 30 day allowance or some lesser amount. This authority may not be delegated below the Assistant Secretary level in the Army, Navy and Air Force, or the Deputy Chief of Staff for Manpower and Reserve Affairs in the Marine Corps.

2905 MISCELLANEOUS CLOTHING PROVISIONS

290501. Reserve Component Allowances. Generally, items of individual clothing required by Reserve component personnel on active duty for periods of less than six months or while on inactive duty, are furnished as in kind issues. However, the prescribed cash portion of the Standard Initial Clothing Allowance may be paid to the Reserve member at the time their initial allowance is issued for items designated to be personally purchased and not issued in kind. Members of Reserve components on active duty for periods of less than six months or on inactive duty are not entitled to any Civilian Clothing Allowances. Further guidance for payment of clothing allowances for Reserve members is set forth in Chapters 57 and 58.

290502. Lost or Damaged Clothing. Service members shall be compensated for clothing items destroyed, damaged, lost, abandoned, captured, or otherwise rendered unusable, incident to military training or service, if the loss was not caused by any fault or negligence of the Service member. The Service concerned shall prescribe procedures for such compensation.

290503. Clothing Price Adjustments. Enlisted members of the Navy and Air Force entitled to an initial or partial initial clothing monetary allowance upon entering the Service may require adjustment to their pay records. When the entitlement date is on or before 30 September, but all clothing items have not been issued prior to 1 October, adjust the pay record to reflect the difference between old and new fiscal year prices of those items not issued.

290504. Settlement of Cash Clothing Allowances. Cash clothing replacement allowances are always paid on the last day of the anniversary month in which the member earned the entitlement, except when prorated as a result of discharge before the end of the anniversary month. Supplementary Clothing Allowances are paid when the entitlement is approved by the authorizing official. Other cash clothing allowances will be settled as outlined in Table 29-8.

NOTES:

1. The time period is computed without regard to lost time.
2. The term "approved sentence" means the date the sentence was approved by the convening authority.
3. If a member serves on this active duty less than 12 months or less than 12 months after the last annual payment, then a prorated amount will be paid, calculated at one-twelfth of the annual rate for each whole month or fractional month served. Example: A member on a 3-year enlistment leaves service after serving 2 years, 6 months, and 10 days. The final payment would be an amount equal to 7/12 of the annual amount.

NOTES:

1. The supplementary clothing allowances listed are, unless otherwise noted, payable upon initial assignment to a normal tour of the duties described at the frequency specified in this table. Allowances to be paid as annual allowances will be paid on the anniversary date of the initial assignment or entitlement, provided the member is projected to remain in the assignment for at least an additional six months. Allowances to be paid as once in three year allowances, will be paid after 36 months from the date of any prior payment, provided the individual's condition/duties continue to require the supplementary allowance and they are projected to remain in the assignment for at least six additional months. Allowances to be paid as only upon assignment allowances will be paid only when first assigned to the specified duty. A supplementary allowance may not be paid more frequently than once per year for similar duty even if at different locations or commands or for subsequent recalls to active duty within one year, except by special authority of the Service Secretary or his designee.

2. Recruiting or recruiting support duty means active duty assignment to: Navy recruiting areas, Navy recruiting districts, Navy recruiting "A" stations, Navy recruiting stations, Military Entrance Processing Stations, or to Naval Reserve activities. It also includes Naval aviation cadet procurement teams at Naval Air Reserve activities. It is payable to recruiters after reporting to the enlisted Navy Recruiter Orientation Course or upon completion of the Veteran Recruiter Orientation (VETRO). It is payable to recruiting support personnel upon receipt of orders to such duty. It is payable to members in BUPERS controlled recruiting billets or a recruit support billet upon initial assignment when specialized training is not required prior to the recruiting assignment.

3. Eligibility requires completion of Recruit Company Commander or Recruit Drill Instructor School.

NOTES:

1. The supplementary clothing allowances listed are, unless otherwise noted, payable upon initial assignment to a normal tour of the duties described at the frequency specified in this table. Allowances to be paid as annual allowances will be paid on the anniversary date of the initial assignment or entitlement, provided the member is projected to remain in the assignment for at least an additional six months. Allowances to be paid as once in three year allowances, will be paid after 36 months from the date of any prior payment, provided the individual's condition/duties continue to require the supplementary allowance and they are projected to remain in the assignment for at least six additional months. Allowances to be paid as only upon assignment allowances will be paid only when first assigned to the specified duty. A supplementary allowance may not be paid more frequently than once per year for similar duty even if at different locations or commands or for subsequent recalls to active duty within one year, except by special authority of the Service Secretary or his designee.

2. When the reduced maternity uniform allowance has been paid and the member subsequently qualifies for a full maternity uniform allowance within three years of the reduced payment, the member will receive only the difference between the two allowances. A member may not receive more than the full maternity uniform allowance value within any 36-month period. A reduced maternity uniform allowance may not be paid within 36 months of a full maternity uniform allowance.

NOTES:

1. By law, an officer is authorized a civilian clothing allowance only if the officer's permanent duty station is outside the United States.
2. Unless exception is given, the maximum amount payable for all temporary duty performed in any 36- month period will not exceed the maximum prescribed for duty of at least 30 days.
3. The 15-day qualification requirement does not apply to explosive Ordnance Disposal and Explosive Detector Dog personnel on United States Secret Service support duty, Defense Courier Service couriers, or On-Site Inspection Agency military personnel. These personnel may be authorized up to the maximum Temporary Duty Civilian Clothing Allowance for 30 days upon their initial temporary duty travel requirement.

CHAPTER 30OFFICERS' UNIFORM AND EQUIPMENT ALLOWANCE*3001 ENTITLEMENT

Effective 15 September 1981, officers are entitled to an initial uniform allowance upon call to active duty or active duty for training as prescribed by this chapter.

3002 INITIAL UNIFORM ALLOWANCE

The officers referred to in section 3001, above, are entitled to an initial uniform allowance under the conditions shown below:

300201. When Payable. Except as provided in subparagraph E, below, the initial uniform allowance is payable only once to an officer:

A. Upon first reporting for active duty (other than for training) for a period of more than 90 days.

B. Upon completing at least 14 days' active duty or active duty for training as a member of a Reserve Component.

C. When an officer commissioned in a Regular Component after 12 October 1964 upon ROTC graduation, enters on duty as a Regular officer (the member is considered then to have entered on active duty for more than 90 days).

D. Upon reporting for the first period of active duty required of a member of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program; or

E. Upon transfer to another Reserve Component that requires a different uniform, a Reserve officer may receive another initial uniform allowance. Regular officers may not receive this allowance when transferring to another Military Service.

300202. Amounts Payable. Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine Corps - All officer personnel commissioned or appointed in the Regular or Reserve Components are authorized $200 regardless of source of commission or previous enlisted status.

300203. Restrictions

A. If a member has received an initial uniform allowance in any amount as an officer under conditions other than those listed in subparagraphs 300201.A, B, C or D, above, the member cannot again be entitled to the initial uniform allowance.

B. Only periods of duty that require wearing of the uniform are counted for entitlement to the initial uniform allowance.

C. An officer must be determined physically qualified for active duty before entitlement to an initial uniform allowance accrues.

3003 ADDITIONAL ACTIVE DUTY UNIFORM ALLOWANCE

Officers of Reserve Components, officers of the Army or Air Force of the United States without components, and ROTC graduates appointed in the Regular Components after 12 October 1964 are entitled to an additional active duty uniform allowance of $100 as provided in this paragraph. This allowance is to pay for additional uniforms required while they are on active duty or active duty for training.

300301. When Payable

A. This allowance is payable each time of entry or reentry on active duty, or active duty for training (including authorized travel time) for more than 90 days. The period served may be under orders specifying active duty for more than 90 days, or under two or more orders requiring a continuous period of more than 90 days' active duty.

B. An officer commissioned in a Regular Component after 12 October 1964 upon ROTC graduation accrues entitlement to the allowance on commencement of duty as a regular officer. (The officer is considered then to have entered on active duty for more than 90 days.)

300302. Restrictions

A. This allowance is not payable if the officer has received an initial uniform allowance of more than $200 during the current tour of active duty, or within a period of 2 years before entering on that tour.

B. This allowance is not payable when the tour of duty for which payment is being considered began within 2 years after the end of a previous period of active duty, or active duty for training, of more than 90 days. This applies whether or not a uniform allowance was paid for the previous tour of duty. It applies only if the prior service was performed as a Reserve officer, as an officer of the Army or Air Force of the United States without Component, or as a Regular officer commissioned upon ROTC graduation after 12 October 1964.

C. An officer of a Reserve Component or of the Army or Air Force of the United States without component is not due this allowance solely because of appointment therein or transfer thereto.

D. A Reserve officer ordered to an indefinite tour of active duty, or active duty for training, is not entitled to this allowance until the member completes more than 90 days of that tour.

E. Only periods of duty requiring the wearing of the uniform are counted for entitlement to the $100 allowance prescribed in this paragraph.

F. To be entitled under this paragraph, an officer must be determined physically qualified for active duty.

300303. Computation of 2-Year Period. Compute the 2-year period during which no active duty or active duty for training was performed as follows:

A. When an officer is ordered to active duty, or active duty for training, for a period of more than 90 days, the 2-year period begins on the day following the day of release from active duty or active duty for training.

Example 1: A Reserve officer was ordered to active duty for training under orders specifying a 92-day tour of duty to begin 1 March 1995, and to end 31 May 1995. The officer actually was released from active duty for training 31 May 1995. The 2-year period begins 1 June 1995. Entitlement to the next $100 additional active duty uniform allowance accrues if the officer is called to active duty or active duty for training for a period of more than 90 days on or after 1 June 1997.

Example 2: If the officer in Example 1 served 35 days of a tour of active duty under orders specifying duty of more than 90 days, and was released from active duty for training 4 April 1995, the 2-year period starts 5 April 1995. Entitlement to the next $100 additional active duty uniform allowance accrues if the officer is called to active duty or active duty for training, for a period of more than 90 days on or after 5 April 1997. Refund of allowance, or any portion thereof, is not required since entitlement was based on reporting for active duty for a period of more than 90 days.

Example 3: If the officer in Example 1 actually served 120 days in the tour of active duty for training because the orders were extended, and was released from active duty 28 June 1995, the 2-year period starts 29 June 1995. Entitlement to the next $100 additional active duty uniform allowance accrues if this officer is called to active duty, or active duty for training, on or after 29 June 1997, for a period in excess of 90 days.

B. When an officer is ordered to active duty for training for an indefinite period, and serves more than 90 days, the 2-year period begins on the day following the day of release from active duty.

Example 1: A Reserve officer was ordered to active duty for training for an indefinite period to begin 1 March 1995. The officer was released from active duty 1 July 1995. On the 91st day of duty (30 May 1995), the officer was entitled to the $100 allowance as of the first day of duty (1 March 1995), if other conditions of entitlement were met. The 2-year period starts 2 July 1995. Entitlement to the next $100 additional active duty uniform allowance accrues if the officer is called to active duty or active duty for training, for a period of more than 90 days on or after 2 July 1997.

Example 2: If the Reserve officer in Example 1, this subparagraph, has been released from active duty 4 April 1995, after serving only 35 days, member would not be entitled to the $100 additional active duty uniform allowance for that period of active duty for training.

C. When an officer is separated from a Regular Component, and is later appointed an officer in a Reserve Component and ordered to active duty, or active duty for training for more than 90 days, the 2-year period restriction in subparagraph 300302.B, above, does not apply. Exception: Regular officers appointed upon completion of ROTC training after 12 October 1994.

Example 1: An officer is separated from a Regular Component on 30 June 1995 and is appointed an officer in a Reserve Component on 1 July 1995. Then the member reports for active duty for more than 90 days on 1 May 1997. The member would be entitled to the $100 additional active duty uniform allowance when reporting on the present tour of active duty, since the previous tour was as a Regular officer.

3004 DETERMINATIONS

300401. An officer reporting for active duty for the first time who meets the requirements for entitlement to the initial uniform allowance and the additional active duty uniform allowance, is entitled to receive both allowances.

300402. An officer who receives, or has previously received, an initial uniform allowance as an officer under any conditions other than those listed in subparagraphs 300201.A, B, C or D, above, is not eligible to receive the initial uniform allowance upon transfer to or appointment in a Reserve Component or the Army or Air Force of the United States without component.

300403. A Reserve officer who receives, or has previously received, an initial uniform allowance under the conditions listed in subparagraphs 300201.A, B, C, or D, above, and again qualifies for the initial uniform allowance and/or the additional active duty uniform allowance by meeting the basic requirements of this chapter, is eligible to receive the $200 initial and/or the $100 additional allowance upon transfer to, or appointment in, another Reserve Component or the Army or Air Force of the United States without component, if the wearing of a different uniform is required.

300404. If otherwise eligible, a Reserve officer is entitled to be paid the additional active duty uniform allowance even if the member has not received an initial uniform allowance.

3005 CIVILIAN CLOTHING MONETARY ALLOWANCE

300501. Special Initial Allowance. Officers assigned to a permanent duty station outside the United States, who are required to wear civilian clothing all or a substantial portion of the time in the performance of official duty, may be authorized an initial allowance for civilian clothing.

300502 Extension of Overseas Consecutive Tour

A. Officers who voluntarily extend their tours or who are directed to remain in the assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing for at least an additional 6 months, are authorized 20 percent of the initial tour length payment at the current rate for that fiscal year.

B. Officers who voluntarily extend their tours or who are directed to remain in the assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing for at least an additional 12 months, are authorized 30 percent of the initial tour length payment at the current fiscal year rate.

C. Officers who have received an initial civilian clothing allowance for duties performed at an overseas permanent duty station and who are ordered to a consecutive permanent overseas assignment requiring the wearing of civilian clothing, are authorized 50 percent of the allowance for the latter tour assignment at the current fiscal year rate.

300503. Continuing Allowance. Officers who are required to wear civilian clothing on a continuing basis and who are not eligible for an allowance on the basis of tour extensions or consecutive assignments, are authorized a continuing civilian clothing allowance. This allowance is authorized for officers who remain in the assignment for which he or she received an initial clothing allowance and is payable on or after each 3-year anniversary date of the initial allowance. The amount shall be 50 percent of the current maximum initial allowance.

300504. Temporary Duty Allowance. Officers assigned to a permanent duty station outside the United States may be authorized a temporary duty civilian clothing allowance when assigned to temporary duty outside the United States where the wearing of civilian clothing is required all or a substantial portion of the time in the performance of official duty. An officer who has not received the maximum amount payable for temporary duty due to the length of his or her first assignment, who later performs additional temporary duty that qualifies for a larger payment, is authorized payment of the difference between the two amounts. Prorated payments will be based on the maximum fiscal year rate in effect at the time of payment. Total payments during a three year period may not exceed the maximum temporary duty allowance reflected in Table 29-3.

300505. Definition. The phrase "substantial portion of the time" shall be defined in accordance with Military Service regulations but may not be defined as less than 50 percent of the time.

300506. Rates Payable. The rates payable for civilian clothing monetary allowances may not exceed those in Table 29-3. These are the maximum rates authorized. Original entitlement was effective 4 December 1987. Officers were not authorized these allowances for any period prior to such dates.

300507. References. The following Military Service directives contain detail on entitlement policy, procedures, and rates payable:

- A. Army: AR 700-84 (reference (ax))
- B. Navy: NAVMILPERSMAN (reference (an))
- C. Air Force: DFAS-DE 7073.1-M (reference (ap)), DFAS-DE 7073.2-M (reference (ap)), and AFI 36-3014 (reference (be)).
- D. Marine Corps: MCO-10120 (reference (bf))

300508. Allowance Adjustment (1 October 1988 through 30 September 1989). Officers who received a lesser initial allowance for this period than currently authorized by this paragraph, and shown in the Table 29-3, and who still are assigned to duty requiring the wearing of civilian clothing, are authorized an amount that equals the difference between the amount previously paid and the new rate.

CHAPTER 31

PERSONAL MONEY ALLOWANCE3101 ENTITLEMENT

Officers in the capacities listed below who are entitled to receive basic pay are also entitled to receive a personal money allowance. This allowance is in addition to any other pay or allowance authorized. The allowance is payable while the officer is serving in the grade of lieutenant general, vice admiral or above. When entitlement to the allowance is based on a specific duty assignment indicated in paragraphs 310103 or 310104, below, it does not accrue before the date member starts, or after the date member is released from such duty assignment.

310101. Lieutenant General or Vice Admiral. While serving in the grade of lieutenant general or vice admiral--$500 per year.

310102. General or Admiral. While serving in the grade of general or admiral--$2200 per year.

310103. Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Chiefs of Services. While serving as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Chief of Staff of the Army or Air Force; Chief of Naval Operations; or Commandant of the Marine Corps, in place of any other personal money allowance authorized in this chapter--$4000 per year.

310104. Senior Member of the Military Staff Committee of the United Nations. While serving as a senior member of the Military Staff Committee of the United Nations and entitled to the grade, pay, and allowances of a lieutenant general or vice admiral--$2700 per year ($2200 plus $500 authorized in paragraph 310101, above).

3102 MONTHLY AMOUNTS PAYABLE

The personal money allowance is payable at the following monthly rates:

Rank	Monthly Rates
Chairman or Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff or Chief of Staff	$333.33
Senior Member of the Military Staff Committee of the United Nations	$225.00
General or Admiral	$183.33
Lieutenant General or Vice Admiral	$ 41.67

3103 TAXABILITY AND WITHHOLDING TAX

A personal money allowance is subject to federal and state income tax and withholding.

CHAPTER 32

★ADVANCE, LOCAL, PARTIAL, AND EMERGENCY PARTIAL PAY3201 ADVANCE PAYMENTS320101. Advance Pay for Permanent Change of Station (PCS)

A. General Provisions. The purpose of this advance payment is to give funds to a member to meet extraordinary expenses incident to a government-ordered relocation. It is intended to assist with the out-of-pocket expenses that exceed or precede reimbursements incurred in a duty location change, and are expenses not typical of day-to-day military living. An advance of pay shall not be authorized for the specific out-of-pocket expenses covered by advances of other pays and entitlements, if such advances are used (to include travel allowances and per diem, overseas station housing allowance, basic allowance for quarters, variable housing allowance, and dislocation allowance). The member's commander has oversight responsibility to ensure that the advance of pay is only used to help with the financial burden of a PCS.

B. Entitlement. The conditions and amounts payable are contained in Table 32-1, rules 1 and 2.

C. Repayment. Advances are repaid per Table 32-2, rules 1 through 5.

D. Effect on Allotments. Do not pay an advance of pay in an amount that will require the stoppage of allotments for insurance or support of dependents. No allotments may be started after the advance is made if it will prevent repayment within the allowed period. If separation is imminent, stop all allotments necessary to collect the advance.

E. Military Service Regulations. The following individual Military Service regulations provide additional guidance:

1. Army: AR 37-104-3 (reference (bh))
2. Navy: NAVMILPERSMAN para 2650100 (reference (an))
3. Air Force: DFAS-DE 7073.1-M (reference (ap))
4. Marine Corps: MCO 7220.21E (reference (bg)).

320102. Advance of Pay and Allowances. The purpose of the advance payment is to ease hardships imposed by the lack of regular payments when members are ordered to duty at distant stations, mobilized, or deployed aboard ships for more than 30 days.

A. Entitlement. The conditions and amounts payable are contained in Table 32-1, rules 6 through 9.

B. Repayment. These advances are repaid per Table 4-2, rules 3 through 5 and 9 through 12.

320103. Advance of Basic Allowance for Subsistence. Pay an advance of BAS when the commanding officer determines it to be necessary.

A. Entitlement. An enlisted member may be paid an advance of BAS not to exceed 3 months if the member is entitled to BAS and the commanding officer authorizes the payment. Individual Military Service regulations may limit BAS advances to less than 3 months.

B. Repayment. This advance is repaid based on Table 32-2, rule 6.

320104. Advance Pay Upon Evacuation of Members or Dependents. The purpose of this advance is to furnish evacuated members or dependents with funds to cover costs of travel, food, and other needs.

A. Entitlement. The conditions and amounts payable are contained in Table 32-1, rule 4.

B. Repayment. The advances are repaid per Table 32-2, rule 7.

320105. Advance of Allotment(s) to Dependents. The purpose of this advance payment is to allow a member to be paid the amount of an allotment(s) to dependent(s) if the member is assigned or scheduled for assignment to sea duty or other duty with a unit or command deployed or to be deployed outside the United States and the allotment(s) is made by the member not more than 60 days before the scheduled date of the assignment of the member to this duty.

A. Entitlement. The conditions and amounts payable are contained in Table 32-1, rule 5.

B. Repayment. This advance is repaid per Table 32-2, rule 8.

320106. Advance Pay for Members of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program (AFHPSP) on Active Duty.

A. Entitlement. An advance of pay not to exceed 1 month's basic pay may be paid to a member of the AFHPSP when reporting for the annual 45-day active duty tour.

B. Repayment. Collect the advance in full by the end of the 45-day active duty tour.

320107. Military Paydays

A. Effective September 1987 and except for an authorized midmonth payroll, payday is the first calendar day of the month after the month in which the entitlement was earned.

B. Except for payrolls otherwise payable on 1 October, if the payday falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal legal holiday, payment is authorized on the preceding workday, but not more than 3 days before the scheduled payday. This exception applies to foreign holidays recognized by United States forces abroad. It also applies to payments made to members upon separation from the Military Service through retirement or discharge when the last day of active duty falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal legal holiday.

C. For payrolls otherwise payable on 1 October, the Secretary of Defense shall determine if the payroll may be dated in September.

D. If a member dies after receiving an advance payment under any of the above provisions, but before the last day of the pay period which the payment is made, the United States may not recover any part of the payment.

320108. Advance of Housing Allowances. Advances of BAQ, overseas housing allowance, and variable housing allowance may be authorized under the terms and conditions in the Joint Federal Travel Regulations, volume 1, chapters 8 and 9 (reference (d)).

320109. Advance Pay for SROTC Cadets and Midshipmen Ordered to Field Training or Practice Cruises. An advance of pay not to exceed the entitlement for 1 month, or the amount the SROTC member will accrue for the training, whichever is less, may be paid to an SROTC member who is ordered to perform field training or a practice cruise. Collect the advance in full from the member's field training or practice cruise entitlement.

★3202 LOCAL, PARTIAL, AND EMERGENCY PARTIAL PAYMENTS

★320201. Local and Partial Payments. These payments are only authorized for overseas areas where banking facilities are not readily available, and members assigned to classified, or contingency operations where the exigencies of their assignments may require local cash or partial payments. In this circumstance the member's commander may authorize immediate cash payments up to the amount of accrued entitlement to date; when deemed appropriate to the mission (see Figure 32-1).

★320202. Emergency Partial Payment

★A. For members residing or assigned within the United States (including Alaska and Hawaii), this is a payment deemed time sensitive and required within 24 hours due to an unforeseen set of circumstances or the resulting state that calls for immediate action (see Figure 1). Payment must be made in an expeditious manner, e.g., direct deposit or a check payment. The respective DFAS central site may be able to effect overnight EFT payment if circumstances warrant.

★B. The member's commander in coordination with the local finance office may authorize emergency payments, up to the amount of accrued entitlement to date in the Master Military Pay Account (MMPA) in the following circumstances:

★1. Emergency pay and allowances earned to date as reflected on the MMPA; no pay was received on regular payday or when there is a major medical emergency or death in the member's immediate family; payment is needed within 24 hours.

★2. Emergency travel advance, when the traveler does not have a government travel charge card.

★3. Discharge gratuity (as required by Table 35-11); payment is needed within 24 hours.

★4. Payment of military death gratuity benefit to beneficiary; payment is needed within 24 hours.

★5. Payment to military member of advanced pay and allowances and/or evacuation allowance to evacuate dependents as result of a natural disaster or life threatening situations.

3203 METHOD OF PAYMENT

320301. Local Partial and Emergency Payments

A. For Overseas Commands. Local payments (e.g., bonuses, annual special pays, separation, death, unpaid pay and allowances, or health and comfort) may be made when consistent with mission requirements and the non availability of banking facilities.

B. For Continental United States (including Alaska and Hawaii). No local payments except for emergency partial payments when approved by the member's commander and coordinated with the local finance office for the following circumstances:

1. Pay and allowances earned to date on the MMPA when no pay was received on regular payday or when there is a major medical emergency or death in the immediate family of the member.

2. Emergency travel advance when the traveler does not have a government travel charge card.

3. Discharge gratuity (as required by Table 35-11).

4. Payment of death gratuity benefit to beneficiary and payment.

5. Payment of military member of advanced pay and allowances and/or evacuation allowance to evacuate dependents as a result of a natural disaster or life threatening situation.

320302. Advance Pays

A. For Overseas Commands. Payments may be paid locally when consistent with mission requirements and non availability of banking facilities.

B. For Continental United States (including Alaska and Hawaii). All advance pays are to be paid centrally via DD/EFT except advance pay for dependent evacuation.

- ★4. The "30-day window" may be expanded to not exceed 90 days prior, and the "60-day window" may be expanded to not exceed 180 days after, when justified for extenuating circumstances; requires written approval of the member's commander (including enlisted commandant of the NCO academy). The member must provide written justification indicating the specific circumstances requiring the early or late advance payment.
5. The member must provide written justification clearly showing that accrual or anticipated out-of-pocket PCS expenses equal or exceed the amount of advance requested; requires written approval of the member's commander. The advance payment may be made in 1, 2, or 3 installments.
6. This advance is collected in full when member receives first regular pay.
7. This advance is not payable for evacuation of individual dependents.
8. The advance payment may not be made more than 60 days before the scheduled date of the duty assignment.
9. Establish an allotment(s) for dependents in the member's pay record simultaneous to paying the advance.

DFAS ITEM NUMBER G-19
DFAS INTERIM CHANGE NUMBER 4-98

1. Add a new subparagraph 320202B6 to read:

"Payment to dependents when forfeiture of pay and allowances is waived under conditions defined in paragraph 480306C."

Note: Paragraph 480306C is a new paragraph added by Interim Change 18-96 and amended by IC 24-97.

2 Delete current section 3203.

3. Change Figure 32-1 second column, to read:

"Local payments: Bonuses, annual special pays, separation, death, unpaid pay and allowances, health and comfort, waiver of forfeitures for dependents, etc."

4. Change Figure 32-1 third column to add:

"6. Payment to dependents when a member's forfeiture is waived in favor of those dependents."

CHAPTER 33PAYMENTS ON BEHALF OF MENTALLY INCOMPETENT MEMBERS*3301 ENTITLEMENT

Members on active duty are entitled to active duty pay and allowances even though mentally incapable of managing their own affairs. This includes miscellaneous payments authorized on separation from the Military Service. See Chapter 35.

3302 PAYMENT

The appointment of a guardian, trustee, or other legal representative is a prerequisite to payment. For designation of trustee and payment offices, see Table 33-1.

3303 MEMBER MENTALLY INCOMPETENT BEFORE ENTRY ON ACTIVE DUTY

When it is shown that a member was judicially declared mentally incompetent before induction or enlistment, member is not entitled to pay and allowances. See Chapter 4.

3304 FINALITY OF PAYMENTS TO TRUSTEE

Any payments on behalf of a mentally incompetent member to a designated trustee(s) are a complete discharge of the obligation of the United States as to amounts paid.

3305 RESTRICTION AGAINST ACCEPTANCE OF FEES

A person serving in a legal, medical, fiduciary, or other capacity may not demand or accept a fee, commission, or other charge (except bonding fee) for any service performed in administration of a mentally incompetent member account.

CHAPTER 34

PAY ENTITLEMENT OF MEMBERS MISSING, MISSING IN ACTION, INTERNEED, ETC., AND PAYMENTS TO DEPENDENTS

3401 DEFINITIONS

340101. Member. See the Definitions section of this volume (item 77, page lii).

340102. Dependent. See the Definitions section of this volume (item 36, page xlv). In addition, for the purposes of this chapter, the term "dependent" also means a dependent designated in official records, or a person determined to be a dependent by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned or the Secretary's designee.

340103. Missing Status. See the Definitions section (item 80, page liii) of this volume.

3402 AUTHORITY TO MAKE OFFICIAL DETERMINATIONS UNDER THE MISSING PERSONS ACT (reference (aa))

See Table 34-1.

3403 ENTITLEMENT TO PAY AND ALLOWANCES WHILE IN A MISSING STATUS

340301. General. A member who enters a missing status is entitled to the pay and allowances to which entitled when the missing status began or to which the member later becomes entitled. The right to a certain pay or allowance is not affected by the fact that the member had not actually received payment before entering missing status. See Table 34-2 for items of entitlement.

★340302. BAH and BAS Entitlement. Members without dependents are entitled to BAH at the without-dependent rate. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate payable when rations in kind are not available. Payments of these allowances are authorized from the beginning of the missing status, even though there was no housing or subsistence allowance entitlement before the missing status began.

3404 ALLOTMENTS FOR MEMBERS IN MISSING STATUS

Allotments in effect before a member enters a missing status may be continued. As directed by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee), allotments may be initiated, suspended, resumed, increased, decreased, or discontinued where circumstances so warrant in the interests of the missing member, the dependents, or the government.

3405 TAX WITHHOLDING FOR MEMBERS IN MISSING STATUS

See paragraph 440102 and subparagraph 440103.C.2 of this volume.

3406 REVIEW OF CASE AFTER 12 MONTHS AND FINDING OF DEATH

340601. Review of Case After 12 Months. When a 12-month period (from starting date of the member's absence) is about to end and the member has not been reported officially as dead, imprisoned, or interned, the case is fully reviewed. After this review and when the 12-month period has ended (or following any later review warranted by information received or other circumstances), the Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee):

A. Directs continuance of the member's missing status, if the member reasonably may be presumed to be living, or

B. Makes a finding of death.

340602. Continuance of Member's Missing Status. When a member is continued in a missing status under subparagraph 340601.A, above, credit pay and allowances to his or her account. Allotments are continued, discontinued, increased, or initiated as provided in Chapters 41 through 43 of this volume. When the Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee) officially reports that a missing member is alive and in the hands of a hostile force or is interned in a foreign country, allotment payments are authorized. These payments on the member's behalf continue through the date on which the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) receives evidence that the member is dead. When a member returns to Military Service control, the member resumes control of allotments.

340603. Finding of Death. A finding of death includes the date upon which death is presumed to have occurred for the purposes of stopping pay and allowances, settlement of accounts, and payment of death gratuities. This date is the day following the day the member has been absent 12 months, unless the missing status is continued beyond that day. In this case, the date of death is the date determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee).

340604. Change in Date of Death. Payment of an account made following a report, determination, or finding of death may not be recovered and the case may not be reopened because of a later report or determination fixing an earlier date of death. If a later date of death is established, the account is reopened and settled on the basis of the later date.

3407 CONCLUSIVENESS OF SETTLEMENTS

Settlements made under this chapter are conclusive upon the accounting officers of the government in effecting settlement of the accounts of a disbursing officer. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) is authorized to settle members' accounts for payment under the Missing Persons Act (reference (aa)). In the absence of fraud or criminal intent on the part of the disbursing officer, credit is allowed for any erroneous payment or overpayment made by the disbursing officer under this chapter. No recovery may be made from any officer or employee who authorizes any payment under this chapter in the absence of fraud or criminal intent on the part of that officer or employee.

3408 PENALTY FOR FRAUDULENT RECEIPT OF MONIES UNDER THIS CHAPTER

Any person who receives any money, check, or allotment under this chapter without being so entitled, and with intent to defraud, will be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000, or by imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or both.

3409 PAYMENT OF DEATH GRATUITY

See Chapter 36 of this volume for payments when member in missing status is reported dead, or for whom a finding of death is made.

3410 ACCRUED LEAVE

341001. Accumulation. Members, while in a missing status, can accumulate leave without regard to any leave accrual limitations currently expressed in law. However, a member whose death is prescribed under section 3406, above, may, in addition to leave accrued before entering a missing status, accrue not more than 150 day's of leave during the period of a missing status, unless the actual date of death is found to have occurred on a date when the member had accrued leave in excess of 150 days. Leave accumulated while in a missing status may not be taken but shall be paid.

341002. Settlement. Leave accumulated while in a missing status will be accounted for separately and settled as follows:

A. Return From Missing Status. Members will be paid for all leave accumulated while in a missing status as soon as possible after return from a missing status. Items to be included in the accrued leave payment are provided in Table 35-5. Computation will be based on the rates to which the member was entitled on the date that his or her name was removed from the missing status.

B. Death in a Missing Status. Notwithstanding the death of a member while in a missing status, leave will continue to accrue to his or her account through the date that the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) receives evidence that the member is dead or through the date of death as prescribed or determined under section 3406, above. Although leave will accrue for the entire missing status period, the actual accrued leave settlement will vary according to circumstances.

1. Death Prior to Fifth Year MIA Status. Payment for unused leave accrued to a member's credit while in a missing status is for 150 days, providing the he or she was continued in a missing status for 5 or more years. Payment for 150 days is made even though it later is found that member's actual death occurred within the first 5 years after entry into missing status or upon entry into such status. Settlement for accrued leave is based on the amount of leave accrued to the member's credit before entering the missing status and the 150 days' leave described in paragraph 341001, above. Items to be included in the accrued leave payment are identified in Table 35-5. Computation is based on the rates to which the member was entitled on the date of death.

2. Death Subsequent to Fifth Year MIA Status. When it is found that the member's actual death occurred subsequent to the fifth year after entry into a missing status, payment for unused leave accrued to his or her credit while in a missing status is for the total accrued until death. Settlement for accrued leave is based on the amount of leave accrued to the member's credit before entering the missing status plus the accrual until death described herein. Items to be included in the accrued leave payment are identified in Table 35-5. Computation is based on the rates to which the member was entitled on the date of death.

3. Death, MIA Status Less Than 5 Years. Payment for unused leave accrued to a member's credit while in a missing status, when he or she was continued in a missing status for less than 5 years, is for the total accrued through the date that the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) makes a finding of death. Settlement for accrued leave is based on the amount of leave accrued to the member's credit before entering the missing status plus the accrual until finding of death described herein. Items to be included in the accrued leave payment are identified in Table 35-5. Computation is based on the rates to which the member was entitled on the date of death.

4. Special Conditions of Entitlement. Settlement of accrued leave for a deceased member who was promoted while in a missing status is based on the amount of leave accrued to his or her credit before entering the missing status and the amount of leave accumulated in a missing status as provided in the applicable provisions of subparagraphs 341002.B.1, 2, or 3, above. Computation is based on the grade to which promoted and rate of pay in effect on the date of the presumed finding or the date of the determination of death. This will apply even though the Secretary of the Military Department (or designee) concerned later determines that the member died before the date of promotion. See Table 34-2, rule 6.

CHAPTER 35

SEPARATION PAYMENTS

3501 ACCRUED LEAVE PAY

350101. Entitlement

A. Except as provided in subparagraph 350101.D, below, a member who is discharged under honorable conditions is entitled to payment of unused accrued leave unless he or she continues on active duty under conditions that require accrued leave to be carried forward. Also, an enlisted member who voluntarily extends enlistment for the first time is entitled to payment for unused accrued leave. Effective on February 10, 1976, a military member can be paid for no more than 60 days of accrued leave during a military career. Payments for accrued leave made before that date will be excluded from this 60-day limitation. Effective July 14, 1976, a member eligible for an accrued leave settlement may elect to receive payment for a portion of the accrued leave, not to exceed a career total of 60 days, and have the remaining accrued leave carried forward to a new or extended enlistment. The combination of elections may exceed 60 days. Tables 35-1 through 35-4 identify the rules for determining whether a member may be paid for accrued leave.

B. Contingency Operation

1. 60-Day Career Ceiling Waiver for Members of a Reserve Component

a. Persian Gulf Conflict. Effective August 2, 1990, members of Reserve Components; the Retired Reserve; and the Retired Regular, or Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve who were ordered to active duty (other than for training) under the authority of Title 10, United States Code, sections 672, 12302, 12304, 12306, 12307, or 688 of (reference (c)), may be paid for more than 60 days unused leave.

b. Effective December 5, 1991, the categories of members identified in subparagraph 350101.A, above, who serve on active duty in support of a designated contingency operation may be paid for more than 60 days unused leave.

c. Payment Limitation. Payment for more than 60 days under subparagraphs 350101.A and B, above, may include only the unused leave that accrued on and after August 2, 1990, specifically during the Persian Gulf Conflict, or which accrued on and after December 5, 1991, specifically during a contingency operation active duty period. See paragraph 350102, below, for rules that apply to accounting for accrued and used leave and paragraph 350103, below, for the possible applicability of the combat zone tax exclusion. For a computation example, see subparagraph 350101.D, below.

d. Career Leave Total

(1) Unused leave accrued specifically during the Persian Gulf Conflict or a contingency operation active duty period which is paid under the authority of subparagraph 350101.B.1.a or subparagraph 350101.B.1.b, above, is not added to the member's career leave total. For example:

Example 1: An eligible member accrues 12 days of leave during a contingency operation period of active duty. The member does not use these days of leave, is separated from active duty and immediately is reordered to active duty for other than a contingency operation under the authority of Title 10, United States Code (reference (c)). The member elects payment of the 12 days of accrued, unused leave. The member previously had received payment for a total of 35 days leave. The member's career total remains 35 days and future entitlements are limited to a total of 25 days unless he or she again qualifies for payment under subparagraph 350101.B, above.

Example 2: On January 1, 1991, a National Guard member on active duty under Title 32, United States Code (reference (bq)) (other than for training) is mobilized with his or her unit under Title 10 United States Code, section 672 (reference (c)). Although career total leave sold is only 48 days, the member elects to carry forward all 32 current accrued, unused leave days. (The leave balance does not include any unused leave accrued before February 10, 1976.) On April 6, 1991, the member is discharged again and immediately ordered to active duty under Title 32, United States Code, (reference (bq)), for a period of 3 years. He or she used leave from April 2, 1991 through April 5, 1991 (4 days). The member may elect to sell 16 days (or less) leave at discharge. His or her previous 32-day balance, plus the 8 days accrued under the Title 10 active duty period, minus the 4 days leave used, totals 36 days accrued, unused leave at discharge ($32 + 8 - 4 = 36$). Of those days that the member elects to sell, only 4 may be applied to the 60 day ceiling waiver (because last leave earned is the first leave used) and the remaining 12 days, if sold, would result in a new career leave total of 60 days (or less if fewer than 16 days are sold at discharge).

(2) Unused leave accrued during the Persian Gulf Conflict may be "saved" and applied to the waiver at a later separation when consecutive tours are involved. In other words, it may be carried forward into a new contract period of active duty and later be sold in addition to other leave to which the 60-day career ceiling applies. See subparagraph 350102.A, below, for rules that apply to accounting for accrued and used leave. For example:

Example 1: Using the member from Example 1, above, he or she could have elected to carry forward the 12 days of leave with the intention of being paid for 37 days ($60 - 35 + 12 = 37$) at a later separation. However, since the last leave earned is the first leave used, the member may sell only 25 days ($60 - 35 = 25$) at a later separation if the 12 days accrued during the contingency operation are used during a later active duty period.

Example 2: Using Example 2 above, on April 6, 1991, the member could have elected to carry forward the original 32 days plus the (net) 4 days under Title 10, United States Code, (reference (c)), intending to be paid for 16 days at a later separation. However, he or she would be limited to selling 12 days leave ($60 - 48 = 12$) at a later separation if the (net) 4 days accrued during the Persian Gulf Conflict are used during a later active duty period.

C. Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee), a member sentenced to unsuspended dismissal or unsuspended dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge by court martial may be required to take leave pending review of the conviction as provided by Article 76a, Uniform Code of Military Justice (reference (i)). The member may elect to be paid for the leave accrued to his or her credit on the day before the day that the leave begins. Payment shall be based on the rate of basic pay to which the member was entitled on the day before the day leave begins.

D. A member who is discharged under other than honorable conditions forfeits all accrued leave to the his or her credit at the time of discharge. Also, a member separated because of a fraudulent enlistment is not entitled to payment for accrued leave, regardless of the length of time that he or she has served.

E. All Military Service members enlisted or commissioned on or after October 19, 1984, including prior Military Service members with breaks in service of 93 or more consecutive days, will forfeit all accrued leave at the time of discharge. This applies to members who are discharged after March 1, 1985, before completing 6 months of active duty. The basis of the discharge is for unsatisfactory performance or misconduct under any of the following reasons:

1. Enlisted Members
 - a. Defective enlistment and induction (minority and fraudulent entry only)
 - b. Entry level performance and conduct
 - c. Unsatisfactory performance
 - d. Homosexuality (unless the member receives an honorable discharge)
 - e. Drug or alcohol abuse rehabilitation failure
 - f. Misconduct

g. Separation in lieu of trial by court martial

h. Security (unless the member receives an honorable discharge)

2. Officers

a. Separation for cause

b. Dropped from the rolls

c. Homosexuality (unless the member receives an honorable discharge)

d. Misconduct, moral, or professional dereliction

e. Separation in lieu of trial by court-martial

f. Security (unless the member receives an honorable discharge)

F. Death of Member. Effective February 10, 1996, should a member die while on active duty (or if a member or former member dies after retirement or discharge, but before receiving payment of accrued leave), payment for accrued leave shall be based upon the unused accrued leave the member carried forward into the leave year during which he or she died, plus the unused leave that accrued to him or her during that leave year. In such cases, the limitation on payment for more than 60 days leave accrual discussed in subparagraph 350101.A, above, does not apply.

350102. Computation of Payment

★A. Settlement for leave accrued as of August 31, 1976, will include basic pay, BAH, BAS, and PMA as appropriate. Settlement for leave accrued on or after September 1, 1976, will include basic pay only. Account for leave used as follows: the last leave earned is the first leave used.

Example: On August 31, 1990, a member has 65 days of accrued leave, 55 of which was accrued prior to September 1, 1976, and remain unused. The member takes leave from September 5-24, 1990 (20 days), using 8 of the 55 days of saved leave and reducing the saved leave balance to 47 days. Future leave accrued and used will be computed using that balance.

B. Leave accrual and use for combat zone-earned leave also will be computed in the manner described above. For each month in which a member serves for any period of time in a designated zone, the total accrual for that month's accrual is identified as combat zone-earned leave.

NOTE: Service accounting (tracking) for combat zone-earned leave was not required until leave accrual commencing on January 1, 1991.

C. Payment will be based on the last 60 days (or less) accrued and unused or the first 60 days, whichever is more beneficial to the member, and will be computed based on the rules identified in Table 35-5.

350103. Taxability and Withholding Tax

A. Lump-sum payments of accrued leave, exclusive of allowances, normally are subject to taxation and withholding tax.

B. Payment for any leave accrued while serving in a designated combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area which remains unused at time of separation, is excluded from federal taxation (and state taxation where applicable) under the conditions set forth in paragraph 440103 of this volume and, consequently, is not subject to federal or state income tax withholding. (Also, see Table 44-1, rules 4 and 14). Payment does not have to be received during a month in which the member qualified for the exclusion. However, the exclusion for a commissioned officer may not exceed the monthly limitation which was not previously used by monthly exclusions that were attributable to the same periods of service.

Example: An O-3 (over 3 years service) commences active duty on January 25, 1991, and reports TAD to a designated combat zone on January 26, 1991. He departs the zone on March 2, 1991, and is separated from active duty on March 4, 1991. The officer earns $456.00 basic pay and $18.33 hostile fire/imminent danger pay (HFP/IDP) in January; $2280.00 basic pay and $110.00 HFP/IDP in February; and $304.00 basic pay and $14.67 HFP/IDP in March. Only a portion of the unused leave attributable to January and March (.5 days each) may be excluded from taxation, $25.67 of a possible $38.00 ($500.00-$474.33) for January and $38.00 for March, for a total exclusion of $63.67. The officer previously had met the exclusion limitation in February.

350104. Availability to Liquidate Debts. All items of the lump-sum payment for accrued leave (including subsistence and quarters allowance portions if applicable) may be used to liquidate debts to the U. S. Government.

350105. Payment to Beneficiaries

A. Death of Member on Active Duty. (See Table 35-1, rule 8.)

B. Death After Retirement or Discharge. If a member or former member dies after retirement or discharge, and before receiving any or all compensation for accrued leave, the balance is paid to beneficiaries designated in section 3602 of this volume. 3502 SEPARATION PAY (NONDISABILITY)

350201. Entitlement

A. Full Separation Pay. Effective June 20, 1991, full payment of nondisability separation pay is authorized to members of the Regular and Reserve Components who are involuntarily separated from active duty and who meet all of the following four conditions:

1. The member meets one of the following criteria for active military service:

a. The member is on active duty or full-time National Guard duty and has completed at least 6 years, but less than 20 years, active service. Reserve Component members not on the active duty list when separated must have 6 years of continuous active duty or full-time National Guard duty immediately preceding separation. A period of active duty is considered continuous if any break in active service does not exceed 30 days.

b. The member (other than a regular enlisted member) was on active duty or full-time National Guard duty on November 5, 1990, and, on that date, had 5 or more years but less than 6 years, of active service. Reserve Component members not on the active duty list when separated must have 5 years of continuous active duty or full-time National Guard duty immediately preceding separation. A period of active duty is considered continuous if any break in active service does not exceed 30 days.

c. Effective December 1, 1993, the member is a Regular officer who is being separated under Title 10, United States Code, chapter 36 (reference (c)) (except under sections 630(1)(A) or section 643 of that chapter (reference (c))) or under sections 580 or 6383 of (reference (c)) and has completed at least 6 years, but less than 20 years, of active service.

d. The member is a Regular officer, who is being separated under chapter 36 of 10 U.S.C. (reference (c)) (except under sections 630(1)(A) or 643 of such chapter (reference (c))), or under 10 U.S.C., sections 580 or 6383 (reference (c)), who had 5 or more years, but less than 6 years, of active service on November 30, 1993.

2. The member's separation is characterized as "honorable" and none of the conditions apply that are listed in paragraph 350202, below.

3. The member is being separated involuntarily through either the denial of reenlistment or the denial of continuation on active duty or full-time National Guard duty under one of the following four specific conditions:

a. The member is fully qualified for retention but is denied reenlistment or continuation. This includes a Military Service member who is eligible for promotion as established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, but is denied reenlistment or continuation on active duty under established promotion or high year of tenure policies.

b. The member is fully qualified for retention, but is being involuntarily separated under a Reduction in Force (RIF) by authority designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

c. The member is a Regular officer, commissioned or warrant, who is being separated under Title 10, United States Code, sections 564, 1165, or 6383, or chapter 36 (reference (c)); is a Reserve commissioned officer, other than a commissioned warrant officer, separated or transferred to the retired Reserve under Title 10, United States Code, chapters 361, 363, 573, 861, or 863 (reference (c)); or is a Reserve commissioned officer on the active duty list or a Reserve warrant officer who is separated for similar reasons under the policies of the Military Service concerned.

d. The member is denied reenlistment or continuation on active duty or full-time National Guard duty under subparagraphs 350201.A.3.a through c, above, and accepts an earlier separation from active duty.

4. The member has entered into a written agreement with the Military Department concerned to serve in the Ready Reserve of a Reserve Component of the Armed Forces for a minimum period of 3 years following the separation from active duty.

a. A member who enters into this written agreement and who is qualified for the Ready Reserves will, upon separation from active duty, be enlisted or appointed, as appropriate, as a Reserve member by the Military Service concerned. If he or she has a service obligation under of Title 10, United States Code, section 651 (reference (c)), or any other law, which is not completed at the time of separation from active duty, the 3-year obligation begins on the day after the day on which the member completes the prior obligation.

b. A member who enters into this written agreement and is not qualified for enlistment or appointment in the Ready Reserve need not be enlisted or appointed by the Military Department concerned to be considered to have met this condition of eligibility for separation pay.

B. Half Separation Pay. Effective June 20, 1991, half payment of nondisability separation pay is authorized to members of the Regular and Reserve Components who involuntarily are separated from active duty and who meet all of the following four conditions: (Note: In extraordinary instances, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) may award full separation pay to a member otherwise eligible for half separation pay when the specific reasons for the separation and the overall quality of the member's service have been such that denial of full separation pay would clearly be unjust.)

1. The member meets one of the criteria for active service specified in subparagraph 350201.A.1, above.

2. The member's separation is characterized as "honorable" or "general," and none of the conditions apply that are listed in paragraph 350202, below.

3. The member is being separated involuntarily by the Military Department concerned through either the denial of reenlistment or the denial of continuation on active duty or full-time National Guard Duty under one of the following specific conditions:

a. The member is not fully qualified for retention and is denied reenlistment or continuation under any of the following conditions:

(1) Expiration of service obligation

- (2) Selected changes in service obligation
- (3) Convenience of the government
- (4) Homosexuality
- (5) Drug abuse rehabilitation failure
- (6) Alcohol abuse rehabilitation failure
- (7) Security
- (8) Weight control failure

b. The member is being separated under a Military Service-specific program established as a half payment level by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

c. The member is denied reenlistment or continuation on active duty or full-time National Guard duty under subparagraphs 350201.B.3.a and b, above, and accepts an earlier separation from active duty.

4. The member has entered into a written agreement with the Military Department concerned to serve in the Ready Reserve for a minimum period of 3 years following separation from active duty. The same conditions cited in subparagraphs 350201.A.4.a and b, above, apply to this condition.

C. Separation Pay from November 5, 1990, through June 19, 1991. Members (including regular enlisted members) on active duty (other than for training) on November 5, 1990, who were involuntarily separated from active duty before June 20, 1991, are entitled to receive any separation pay to which they are entitled to under Title 10, United States Code, as amended by Public Law No. 101-510, section 501 (reference (q)), in accordance with the DoD policies and procedures in effect before June 20, 1991. (DoD Directive 1332.29, 20 July 1985 (reference (br)), and Table 35-6) modified as follows:

1. Regular enlisted members who are separated involuntarily or as a result of denial of reenlistment after having completed 6 or more, but less than 20 years of active duty, will receive separation pay.

2. Limitations concerning the maximum amount of separation pay that members may receive as stated in DoD Directive 1332.29, July 20, 1985 (reference (br)), and Table 35-6, do not apply.

3. In addition to the disqualifying circumstances listed in DoD Directive 1332.29, July 20, 1985 (reference (br)), a member is not eligible for separation pay if:

a. The member does not meet one of the criteria for active service stated in subparagraph 350201.A.1, above.

b. The member has not entered into a written agreement with the Military Department concerned to serve in the Ready Reserve for a minimum period of 3 years following separation from active duty under the same requirements and procedures stated in subparagraph 350201.A.4, above.

c. The member is separated from active duty during an initial term of enlistment or an initial period of obligated service. "Initial term of enlistment" and "initial period of obligated service" have the same meaning as stated in subparagraph 350202.B, below.

350202. Limitations of Eligibility. Military Service members separated under the following circumstances are not eligible for separation pay:

A. The member is separated from active duty at his or her own request. The following are considered to be separations at the member's own request:

1. A member declines training that the Military Service offers to qualify for a new skill or rating as a precondition to reenlistment or continuation on active duty.

2. A member requests separation under regulations established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned as provided for in DoD Directives 1332.14 (reference (bs)) and 1332.30 (reference (bt)).

3. A Reserve officer declines a Regular appointment at the mandatory integration point, when an all-regular career force program is implemented by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

B. The member is separated from active duty during an initial term of enlistment or an initial period of obligated service. The initial term of enlistment or initial period of obligated service is the active service obligation that the member incurred upon initial enlistment or upon enrollment in a commissioning program. This limitation also applies to a member who desires to reenlist or continue at the conclusion of the initial term of enlistment or an initial period of obligation and is denied by the Military Department concerned.

C. The member is released from active duty for training or from full-time National Guard duty for training.

D. The member is immediately eligible at separation for retired or retainer pay based upon his or her term of service.

E. The member is a warrant officer whose appointment is terminated and who then elects to enlist.

F. The member is separated as a result of the execution of a court martial sentence.

G. The member is being dropped from the rolls of the Military Department concerned.

H. The member is being separated under other than honorable conditions.

I. The member is an enlisted member who is separated for unsatisfactory performance or misconduct as set forth in DoD Directive 1332.14 (reference (bs)), except when half-pay is authorized in subparagraph 350201.B, above.

J. The member is an officer who is separated for substandard performance, or acts of misconduct or moral or professional dereliction, except when half pay is authorized in subparagraph 350201.B, above.

K. The member is separated under a Military Service-specific program established as a “no payment” level by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

L. A determination is made by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned in an extraordinary case that the conditions under which the member is separated do not warrant separation payment. This authority is not to be delegated. It is intended that this discretionary authority to deny payment will be used sparingly.

350203. Computation of Active Service. Compute active service time as follows:

A. Qualifying years, except as noted in subparagraph 350201.A.1, above, do not have to be continuous; however, the last phase of the qualifying term must end immediately before the separation from active duty occurs.

B. Compute fractions of years in the following manner:

1. Separation Pay. Effective September 24, 1983, count each full month of military service that is in addition to the number of full years of active service as one-twelfth of a year. Disregard any remaining fractional part of a month.

2. Readjustment or Severance Pay. Count 6 months or more as a whole year, and disregard any part less than 6 months. (Note: In computing readjustment pay, the minimum eligibility of 5 full years of continuous active duty must be met first.)

C. Periods for which a Military Service member previously has received separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay may be counted for eligibility purposes (to ensure the member meets the minimum required years of active duty), but may not be used in the multiplier to determine the amount of separation pay for a subsequent separation.

D. Count periods of active military service in a Regular or Reserve Component. Include active duty for training performed on or after August 10, 1956.

E. Do not include periods of absence without leave, confinement time awaiting trial that results in a conviction, confinement time while serving a court-martial sentence, and time lost while not in the line of duty. Count time in service to makeup for lost time.

F. Do not include service as a cadet or midshipman while in a Military Service academy or a Reserve Officer Training Program.

350204. Computation of Separation Pay

A. Compute full separation pay at 10 percent of 12 times the amount of monthly basic pay to which entitled at the time of separation from active duty, times the active service time as computed in paragraph 350203, above.

B. Compute "half separation pay" at 50 percent of what the full separation pay would have been.

350205. Effect on Retired Pay or VA Compensation

A. Members who receive separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay under any provision of law based on service in the Armed Forces, and who later qualify for retired or retainer pay under Title 10 United States Code (reference (c)) or Title 14, United States Code (reference (bu)) will have deducted an amount equal to the total gross amount of separation pay, severance pay, and readjustment pay. This amount will be recouped from each payment of this retired or retainer pay until the total amount deducted is equal to the total gross amount of separation pay, severance pay, and readjustment pay received. (Note: See Volume 7B of this Regulation (reference (cn)) for the calculation of recoupment.)

B. Members who receive separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay under any law based on active military service, and become eligible for disability compensation administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs will have deducted from such disability compensation an amount equal to the total gross amount of separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay received. Effective for payments of separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay that are made after September 30, 1996, the amount subject to recoupment under this paragraph is the total gross amount of separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay received, less the amount of federal income tax withheld from such pay (such withholding, being at the flat withholding rate for federal income tax withholding, as in effect pursuant to regulations prescribed under Chapter 24 of the Internal Revenue Code) (reference (ec)). However, this reduction will not apply to disability compensation in which the entitlement to that disability compensation is based on a later period of active duty than the period of active duty for which the separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay was received.

C. Notwithstanding subparagraphs 350205.A and B, above, members who received readjustment or severance pay before September 15, 1981, and who, on or after September 15, 1981, become entitled to retired or retainer pay under Title 10, United States Code (reference (c)) or Title 14 United States Code (reference (bu)) are required to repay that readjustment pay or severance pay in accordance with the laws in effect on September 14, 1981.

350206. Availability To Liquidate Debts. Separation pay under this section may be used to liquidate debts to the United States Government.

3503 SAVINGS PROVISIONS FOR READJUSTMENT AND SEVERANCE PAY (OTHER THAN DISABILITY)

350301. Basic Conditions of Entitlement

A. This section is applicable only to members who were on active duty (other than for training) on September 14, 1981, and after such date are involuntarily discharged or released from active duty. Members entitled to readjustment or severance pay under this section and separation pay under section 3502, above, may not receive both, but shall elect which they will receive. If no election is made, members will receive the amount that is more favorable to them.

B. With respect to members discharged or released on or after October 19, 1984, the member is not entitled to readjustment or severance pay if the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines that the conditions under which the member is discharged or separated do not warrant such pay. It is intended that this discretionary authority to deny payment be used sparingly. This provision does not apply to Regular officers who have completed 5 or more, but less than 20, years of service who are involuntarily discharged or released from active duty because of failure to be selected for promotion.

350302. Effect on Retired Pay or VA Compensation

A. See paragraph 350205, above, for procedures when readjustment or severance pay is received after September 14, 1981.

B. Refund upon Retirement. A Reserve member who has received a readjustment payment on separation after June 28, 1962 and before September 15, 1981, and who later qualifies for retired or retainer pay under Title 10, United States Code, (reference (c)) or Title 14 United States Code, (reference (bu)) (upon completing 20 years of active service), refunds 75 percent of the gross readjustment pay, without interest, by immediate deduction from retired or retainer pay. This is not required if readjustment pay has been waived or refunded under subparagraph 350302.C, below.

C. Waiver or Refund Before Retirement. A member may waive entitlement to readjustment pay. Also, the full amount of such pay may be refunded before retirement. Under either condition, the member will receive retired or retainer pay immediately upon retirement or transfer to the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve.

D. VA Disability Compensation. When a member who receives readjustment pay before September 15, 1981, is entitled to the VA disability compensation, the VA will deduct 75 percent of the readjustment payment from future VA compensation. The VA does not deduct when VA disability compensation is based on a later period of service. A member who elected on or before June 27, 1962 to receive readjustment pay in lieu of VA disability compensation may be awarded disability compensation effective on and after June 28, 1962. The VA reduces the disability compensation by 75 percent of the readjustment payment, unless readjustment pay was waived or refunded.

350303. Entitlement to and Computation of Readjustment Pay. Conditions of entitlement are in Tables 35-7 and 35-8. Table 35-9 shows how readjustment pay is computed.

350304. Computation of a 5-Year Continuous Period. To compute the 5 years of continuous active duty needed to qualify for readjustment pay, follow these rules:

A. Breaks in Service. Breaks in service of 30 days or less do not destroy the continuity of active duty (even though two or more breaks total more than 30 days). However, the time covered by such breaks must be excluded in computing the minimum 5 years of active duty.

NOTE: Do not consider AWOL, confinement, time awaiting trial which results in conviction, time lost through intemperate use of drugs or alcohol or time lost through disease or injury resulting from misconduct as "breaks in service."

B. Active Duty for Training. Include active duty for training performed on and after August 10, 1956.

C. Service Component. Combine service in the Regular Component with service in a Reserve Component.

D. Officer or Enlisted Service. Combine duty as an enlisted member and as a commissioned or warrant officer.

E. Other Branch of Service. The 5 years of continuous active duty need not be performed in the same Military Service.

F. Home Awaiting Orders. Do not include time spent at home awaiting active duty orders.

350305. Computation of Active Service. See paragraph 350203, above.

350306. Entitlement to and Computation of Severance Pay (Other Than Disability). See Table 35-10.

350307. Availability To Liquidate Debts. Readjustment and severance pay under this section may be used to liquidate debts to the U. S. Government.

3504 DISABILITY SEVERANCE PAY

350401. Entitlement. A member separated for physical disability is entitled to severance pay if qualified as prescribed in personnel regulations of the Military Service concerned. When a member is entitled to disability severance pay, separation orders specify this entitlement.

350402. Disability Incurred During Non-pay Status. A member who incurs a disability while in a total pay forfeiture status is not entitled to disability severance pay. This is true even though the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) remits the unexecuted portion of the sentence, including all uncollected forfeitures.

350403. Computation

A. Formula. To compute disability severance pay, multiply the sum of basic pay for 2 months by the number of combined years of active service and inactive duty training (but not over 12) (exception: a member of the Regular forces may not have inactive duty performed under Title 10, United States Code, section 10147 (reference (c)) included in the calculation). Do not include as basic pay the 25 percent increase prescribed under certain conditions for a Navy or Marine Corps member retained on active duty after enlistment expires.

B. Years of Service. The member's separation orders specify the total combined years of active service and inactive duty training (subject to the exception in subparagraph 350403.A, above) to be counted in computing severance pay. Round this total to the nearest whole year, with 6 months or more rounded up. If a member has less than 6 months' combined service, there is no disability severance pay entitlement.

C. Grade at Which Disability Severance Pay Is Computed. Compute severance pay on basic pay of the highest grade or rank described below:

1. The grade or rank in which the member is serving at separation;
2. The permanent Reserve grade held at separation;
3. The highest temporary or permanent grade or rank in which member served satisfactorily as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; or
4. If the disability is found during an examination for promotion, the grade or rank to which member would have been promoted if there was no disability.

D. Example of Computation. An E-6 has 11 years, 4 months, and 9 days' active service and 76 inactive duty training periods ("points") on the date of separation for physical disability. Compute the entitlement as follows:

$$\begin{array}{rcl} 11 \text{ years, 4 months, 9 days} & = & 11.3583 \text{ years} \\ 76 \text{ points} / 360 & = & .2111 \text{ years} \\ \hline \text{Total Service} & = & 11.5694 \text{ years} \end{array}$$

Since it is a decimal greater than .5, round the total upward to 12 years. 12 years x 2 months of basic pay of an E-6 over 12 = amount of disability severance pay.

NOTE: For purposes of this calculation, "points" in excess of 60 during any single year are disregarded.

350404. Taxability and Withholding

A. General. Disability severance pay is normally taxable income. However, it is not subject to tax withholding or reporting if at least one of the following three conditions exists:

1. On September 24, 1975, the individual was either a member of a Uniformed Service or was under a binding written commitment to become a member;

2. The entitlement resulted from combat-related injury or illness, as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee), which happens as a result of any of the following activities:

- a. as a direct result of armed conflict,
- b. while actually performing extra-hazardous service, even if the service does not directly involve combat,
- c. under conditions simulating war, including maneuvers or training, or
- d. by an instrumentality of war, such as weapons; or ★3. The member has official notification from the Department of Veterans Affairs approving entitlement to disability compensation for the same illness or injury that caused the entitlement to disability severance pay.

B. Withholding Taxes. Withhold income taxes on all payments of disability severance pay unless the member qualifies for an exemption under subparagraph 350404.A, above. Finance officers should advise members that payments of disability severance pay could become non-taxable if the VA awards disability compensation for the same illness or injury for which disability severance pay was paid.

NOTE: The VA may award disability compensation in either the same tax year or a subsequent tax year in which a member is paid disability severance pay. Once a member is awarded disability compensation, a refund of the income taxes withheld may be requested as discussed in the subparagraphs 350404.C and D, below.

C. VA Compensation Awarded in the Tax Year of Payment. Advise member that a refund of taxes withheld may be obtained from the supporting DFAS Center if disability compensation from the VA is awarded in the same calendar year in which the member received disability severance pay. To obtain a refund from the DFAS, requests must be submitted by December 31st of the year in which a disability severance pay payment is paid. In addition, a member who requests a refund must provide documentation to substantiate that the disability compensation award from the VA was awarded for the same injury or illness for which the member received disability severance pay.

D. VA Compensation Awarded in Tax Year After Payment. Advise member that a refund for income taxes withheld must be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) if disability compensation from the VA is awarded in a different calendar year than the year in which the member received disability severance pay. The member should also be advised to submit the appropriate documentation from the VA along with related separation documents to claim a reduction in taxable income. A corrected IRS Form W-2 or other documents to support the decrease in taxable income will not be issued.

350405. Availability To Liquidate Debts. Disability severance pay may be used to liquidate debts to the U.S. Government.

350406. Deduction From VA Compensation. The VA deducts disability severance pay from any VA compensation to which the member or dependents later become entitled for the same disability. Deductions are not made from death compensation to which dependents become entitled after the member's death.

350407. Other Benefits and Claims. A member paid disability severance pay is not entitled to any payment from the Military Service for, or arising out of, service before separation. This does not prohibit payment if an amount is due the member on the date of separation, or if a claim is allowed under law.

3505 CONTRACT CANCELLATION PAY AND ALLOWANCES (NAVY AND MARINE CORPS ONLY)

350501. Entitlement. Members released from active duty in the Navy or Marine Corps without their consent before the end of their active duty agreement made under 10 U.S.C. 679(a) (reference (c)) are entitled to a special payment under 10 U.S.C. 12312 (reference (c)). This payment is in addition to any pay and allowances to which member is otherwise entitled.

350502. Computation. To compute the amount payable, multiply the number of years and fraction of years of the unexpired period of service under the contract by the sum of basic pay, special pay, and allowances for one month to which the member is entitled on the day of release. Count a fraction of a month that is 15 days or more as a whole month and disregard a fraction of a month that is less than 15 days. Separation orders show the number of years and months of unexpired service for which contract cancellation pay and allowances are payable.

350503. Restrictions. A member is not entitled to the special payment authorized by this section if:

- A. Dismissed or discharged under the sentence of a court martial;
- B. Released because of an unexplained absence without leave of at least 3 months;
- C. Released because of conviction and sentence to confinement in a federal or state penitentiary or correctional institution which sentence has become final;
- D. Released because of a physical disability resulting from intentional misconduct or willful neglect;
- E. Eligible for retired pay or severance pay under another provision of law (this restriction does not apply to readjustment pay);
- F. Placed on a temporary disability retired list; or
- G. Released to accept an appointment, or to be enlisted, in a Regular Component of an Armed Force.

350504. Withholding Tax. Contract cancellation pay is subject to withholding tax.

350505. Availability To Liquidate Debts. Contract cancellation pay may be used to liquidate debts to the United States Government.

3506 MISCELLANEOUS SEPARATION PAYMENTS

350601. Discharge Gratuity. See Table 35-11.

350602. Travel Allowance on Separation. See Joint Federal Travel Regulations (JFTR), paragraph U5125 (reference (d)), and travel regulations of the Military Service concerned.

3507 SPECIAL SEPARATION BENEFIT

350701. Entitlement. A member who separates voluntarily from Military Service before October 1, 1999, may, under conditions prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee), elect to receive a special separation benefit (SSB). Such a member must meet each of the following conditions:

A. Time-in-service requirements:

1. A member separating prior to November 30, 1993, must have served for more than 6 years on active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof, before December 5, 1991, but have less than 20 years of service creditable for retirement.

2. A member separating on or after November 30, 1993, must have served for more than 6 years on active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof, but less than 20 years of service creditable for retirement.

B. The member must have completed initial term of enlistment or initial period of obligated service prior to separation.

C. The member must have served at least 5 years of continuous active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof, immediately prior to the date of separation.

D. The member must not be eligible immediately for retired or retainer pay because of Military Service.

E. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) must approve the member's application for voluntary separation before the member may receive payment.

F. The member must enter into a written agreement to serve in the Ready Reserve for a period of not less than 3 years following separation. If the member has any other service obligation remaining unfulfilled at the time of separation, the new 3-year period of obligated service shall begin on the day after the day the member completes such period of prior obligated service.

G. The member's separation must not be due to a release from a period of active duty for training.

H. The member has not been approved for payment of VSI (See section 3508, below).

350702. Computation. Upon approval, and upon receipt of the member's election to receive an SSB, pay the member a lump sum computed according to this formula: Multiply rate of monthly basic pay on date of separation times 12 times years of active service times 0.15.

A. Compute years of active service according to the formula in subparagraphs 350203.B.1, D, E, and F, above. Do not count any period of prior military service for which the member has received separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay under any provision of law relating to members of the Uniformed Services. When computing partial years of service, round fractional parts of a year to the nearest one tenth of one percent, or three decimal places. For example, if the member has 11 years and 5 months of service, the year multiplier in the formula would be 11.417.

B. Withhold federal and state taxes at the rate appropriate for onetime payments.

C. Deduct from the remaining balance any debt owed the United States.

D. Do not collect FICA taxes.

E. Payment will be made on, but in no cases prior to, date of separation.

F. For separations after November 11, 1993, reduce the gross amount of the SSB payment by the gross amount of any of the following bonuses which the member received during the calendar year in which the member is separating with entitlement to SSB:

1. Multi-year special pay (section 0508 of this volume)
2. Enlistment/reenlistment bonus of any type, (section 0901 and paragraphs 570402, 570403, 570404 of this volume)
3. Nuclear officer career accession bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
4. Nuclear career annual incentive bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
5. Nuclear officer accession bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
6. Aviator retention bonus (Chapter 20 of this volume)
7. Registered nurse accession bonus, (section 2101 of this volume)
8. Bonus for critical acquisition positions (37 U.S.C. 317) (reference (aa)) but do not effect this reduction if the member separates within one year of the date of termination of the period for which the bonus has been paid. Do not reduce any payment to less than zero. The date the bonus is received means the date on which the bonus is payable. Reduction in SSB entitlement and collection of unearned bonuses because of failure to fulfill the contract under which the bonus was paid are two separate actions. If the reduction in SSB equals or exceeds the bonus recoupment required elsewhere in this volume, no further action is necessary. If, however, the SSB reduction is less than the required bonus recoupment, the difference remains as a debt owing by the member.

Example 1: On March 1, 1993, a member reenlists for 4 years with entitlement to SRB in the amount of $18,000. The member receives one-half of the bonus at reenlistment, with the remainder to be paid in three annual installments, $3,000 each on March 1, 1994, 1995, and 1996. The member separates under the SSB program on December 31, 1993, with a SSB entitlement in the gross amount of $28,000. Since the member received the bonus in the same calendar year in which separating under the SSB, reduce the member's gross SSB entitlement by $9,000, the gross amount of the bonus paid. Since collection of the unearned SRB would have amounted to only $5,250, ($9,000 SRB paid minus the bonus earned for 10 months at $375 per month), no further collection is required.

Example 2: The facts are the same as in the prior example except that the member separates on September 30, 1996. Since the separation event occurs within one year of the date of termination of the bonus period, do not make a reduction from the SSB payment. However, since the member did not complete 5 months of the period for which he or she received the bonus, he or she is indebted to the United States in the amount of $1,875 (unearned bonus for 5 months at $375 per month). This amount may be collected from any funds otherwise due at separation, including the SSB payment.

Example 3: The facts are the same as in the prior example except that the member separates under the SSB program on December 31, 1994. Since the member separates during a year in which he or she had received an SRB installment, the first action is to reduce her SSB entitlement by the amount of the March 1, 1994, $3,000 installment. This reduces his or her SSB to $25,000 (before taxes). However, the member only served 22 months of the reenlistment, so only $8,250 was earned of a total bonus of $12,000 that had been received (22 months at $375 per month). The gross debt for the unearned bonus is $12,000 minus $8,250, or $3,750. That debt is reduced by the $3,000 reduction in her SSB entitlement, leaving a debt of $750 to be collected from final pay, including his or her net SSB entitlement.

350703. Forfeiture and Recoupment

A. A member who has received SSB and later qualifies for retired or retainer pay shall have deducted a portion of such retired or retainer pay until an amount equal to the gross amount of such SSB has been deducted. See Volume 7B of this Regulation (section 0406) (reference (cn)) for details of the recoupment formula.

B. A member who has received an SSB and qualifies for benefits under the law as administered by the VA shall have deducted from such benefits the gross amount of the SSB paid to the member. Effective for payments of SSB that are made after September 30, 1996, the amount subject to recoupment under this paragraph is the total gross amount of SSB paid, less the amount of federal income tax withheld from such pay (such withholding being at the flat rate for federal income tax withholding as prescribed in Chapter 24 of the Internal Revenue Code) (reference (ec)). However, there shall be no such deduction if the disability for which the member receives compensation was incurred or aggravated during a period of later active duty.

C. Subsequent receipt of basic pay for active or Reserve service, of muster duty allowance, or compensation for a period of inactive duty training does not require a forfeiture of SSB.

D. If the member does not complete the required 3 years service in the Ready Reserve, for reasons other than through no fault of the member, collect on a pro rata basis any unearned portion of the member's SSB from the date of his or her cognizant failure to maintain Reserve affiliation through the date of the 3-year commitment. The Reserve Personnel Activity will certify when a member fails to complete the Reserve commitment as a result of his or her fault.

Example: A member separates on June 30, 1995, with an SSB entitlement of $64,000, and a commitment to serve in the Ready Reserve through June 29, 1998. Effective December 17, 1997, member is separated from his Reserve unit, through fault of the member as certified by the servicing Personnel activity. Credit the member with serving a total of 2 years and 6 months of Reserve service using the following computation method (if more than 14 days round up, if less than 15 disregard):

YR	MO	DAY
97	12	17
-95	06	30
02	05	17
		+ 01	(inclusive day)
02	05	18

The unearned portion of the SSB is 6/36ths of $64,000, or $10,667. Establish a debt against the member in that amount.

E. A member whose application for separation with entitlement to SSB was approved by competent authority after September 30, 1994, forfeits all entitlement to the SSB payment if he or she is employed in a civilian position in the Department of Defense at any time before the expiration of 180 days following the date that he or she is released from active duty with entitlement to SSB. This includes appointment to a position while on terminal leave if that appointment is not terminated prior to the date of the member's separation. Upon receipt of notification of such employment, institute collection action to recoup the gross amount of SSB paid to or on behalf of the member.

3508 VOLUNTARY SEPARATION INCENTIVE

350801. Entitlement. A member who separates voluntarily from Military Service before October 1, 1999, may, under conditions prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, elect to receive a voluntary separation incentive (VSI). Such a member must meet each of the following conditions.

A. Time-in-service requirements:

1. A members separating prior to November 30, 1993, must have served more than 6 years on active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof before December 5, 1991, but have less than 20 years of service creditable for retirement.

2. A members separating on or after November 30, 1993, must have served more than 6 years on active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof, but have less than 20 years of service creditable for retirement.

B. The member must have completed the initial term of enlistment or initial period of obligated service prior to separation.

C. The member must have served at least 5 years of continuous active duty, full-time National Guard duty, or any combination thereof, immediately prior to the date of separation.

D. The member must not be immediately eligible for retired or retainer pay because of military service.

E. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee) must approve the member's application for voluntary separation before the member may receive payment.

F. The member must accept voluntary appointment or enlistment in, or transfer to, the Ready Reserve, and must continue to serve in a Reserve Component during the entire period of eligibility for VSI. If the member becomes ineligible to continue to serve in the Ready Reserve due to medical, age, failure to select for promotion, or other reasons determined to be no fault of the member concerned, the member will be transferred to the Standby Reserve or the Retired Reserve of a Reserve Component. The member will continue to receive annual VSI payments for the remaining period authorized.

G. The member has not been approved for payment of SSB. (See section 3507, above.)

350802. Computation. Upon approval, and upon receipt of the member's election to receive VSI, pay the member a lump sum at separation computed according to this formula:

A. Multiply the rate of monthly basic pay on date of separation times years of service times 12 times 0.025. When computing partial years of service, round fractional parts of a year to the nearest one tenth of one percent, or three decimal places. For example, if the member has 11 years and 5 months of service, the year multiplier in the formula would be 11.417.

B. So long as the member continues to serve in a Reserve Component, make annual payments on the anniversary date of the member's separation until the total number of payments made equals twice the number of years of active service used in computing the basic entitlement. See the example below for instance where the member's years of active service are not a whole number.

Example: A member separates on June 30, 1992, with a total of 11 years 3 months and 11 days of active service, at which time the member is a major with more than 10 years service. The initial installment of VSI, paid on the date of separation, is the member's basic pay of $3,156.30 times 12 times .025 times 11-3/12 (only full months of service count) or $10,652.51. The member is due 22 of these payments (11-3/12 times 2). Make 21 more payments of $10,652.51, the last such full payment being due on June 30, 2013. On June 30, 2014, pay the member a final installment of $5,326.26, which is one-half the amount of the prior installments.

C. Compute years of service according to Title 10, United States Code, section 1405 (reference (c)). Do not count any period of prior military service for which the member has received separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay under any provision of law relating to members of the Uniformed Services.

D. For separations after November 11, 1993, reduce the gross amount of the initial VSI payment (and any subsequent installments) until the total reduction equals the gross amount of any of the following bonuses which the member received during the calendar year in which the member is separating with entitlement to VSI:

1. Multi-year special pay (section 0508 of this volume)
2. Enlistment/reenlistment bonus of any type (Chapter 9 and paragraphs 570402, 570403, and 570404 of this volume)
3. Nuclear officer accession bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
4. Nuclear officer career accession bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
5. Nuclear officer accession bonus (Chapter 12 of this volume)
6. Aviator retention bonus; (Chapter 20 of this volume)
7. Registered nurse accession bonus (section 2101 of this volume)
8. Bonus for critical acquisition positions; Title 37, United States Code, section 317 (reference (aa)); but do not make such a reduction if the member separates within one year of the date of termination of the period for which the bonus has been paid. Do not reduce any payment to less than zero. Note: The date on which the bonus is received means the date on which the bonus is payable. If the reduction in the initial VSI installment equals or exceeds the bonus recoupment required elsewhere in this volume, no further action is necessary. If, however, the VSI installment reduction is less than the required recoupment, the difference remains as a debt owing by the member.

Example 1: Member A reenlists for 4 years on January 3, 1994, and receives a SRB payment in the gross amount of $12,000. She separates on December 31, 1994, with entitlement to an initial gross VSI payment of $3,232. Since she received a VSI payment in the same calendar year in which a bonus was paid, reduce the initial VSI payment to zero. However, the member still is liable for the unearned portion of the bonus, which can be collected from any payments otherwise due the member, including any future VSI installment payments.

Example 2: The facts are the same as in the prior example except that member B separates under the VSI program on January 31, 1995. Since he did not receive a bonus during calendar year 1995, there is no reduction in the amount of his VSI entitlement. However, the member still is liable for the unearned portion of the bonus, which can be collected from any payments otherwise due the member, including the initial and any future VSI installments.

Example 3: Member C reenlists for 4 years on October 1, 1994, with entitlement to SRB in the total amount of $12,000. She receives $6,000 at reenlistment, with the remainder to be paid in $2,000 installments on October 1, 1995, 1996, and 1997. On December 31, 1995, she separates with entitlement to 15 VSI payments of $3,453 each. Since the member separated during a calendar year in which she received an SRB installment, reduce the gross VSI installment by the $2,000 received October 1, 1995. Also, the member had earned only $3,750 (15 months at $250 per month) of the SRB paid to her, though she had been paid a total of $8,000. The balance due for unearned SRB is $8,000 less the $3,750 earned and less the $2,000 by which her VSI initial installment was reduced. This left a debt of $2,250 to be collected from final pay. Use all final pay, including the remaining initial net VSI entitlement of $1,453, to liquidate the debt.

Example 4: The facts are the same as in the prior example except that member D separates on October 31, 1996. Since the separation event occurs within one year of the date of the termination of the bonus period, do not make a reduction from the VSI payment. (This includes the initial and all annual payments.) However, since the member did not complete 11 months of the period for which he received the bonus, he is indebted to the United States for $2,750. This amount may be collected from any funds otherwise due at separation, including the VSI payment.

E. A member who is in receipt of basic pay for active or Reserve service or inactive duty training compensation may elect to have his or her next VSI installment payment reduced by an amount no greater than the total amount of such pay or compensation received since the prior VSI installment payment. Do not reduce the installment payment unless the member signs an authorization that specifies the exact dollar amount by which to reduce the installment payment. If the member fails to qualify for retired or retainer pay for any reason, the amounts that have been offset are not refundable. A member may not reduce installment payments on account of muster duty allowances.

F. Withhold federal and state taxes at the rate appropriate for onetime payments.

G. Deduct from the payment any debt owed the United States.

H. Do not collect FICA taxes.

I. Payment will be made on, but in no cases prior to, date of separation.

350803. Forfeiture and Recoupment

A. A member who has received VSI later may qualify for retired or retainer pay through additional military service. See Volume 7B, (section 0405), of this Regulation (reference (cn)) for the requirement to reduce the member's retired pay until total reductions equal the gross amount of VSI the member has received. The reductions in retired pay will include only the amounts of VSI the member has received. Do not include prior reductions the member may have elected under subparagraph 350802.E, above.

Example: A member separates on June 30, 1992, with entitlement to VSI of $8,000 per year for 16 years (a total of $128,000). During each of the next 8 years, the member drills with a Reserve unit and authorizes a reduction in VSI of $5,000 per year because of the Reserve training compensation the member receives. Thereafter, the member receives seven more VSI anniversary payments in the full amount of $8,000 per year. When the member becomes eligible for retired or retainer pay, the total reduction of such pay is $88,000 ($8,000 for the initial installment, plus $3,000 for each of the next eight installments, plus $8,000 for each of the next seven installments). The reductions in retired pay are equal to the gross amount received by the member, including any taxes withheld from the VSI payment.

B. For a member who receives VSI and subsequently qualifies for disability compensation under laws administered by the VA, offset the amount of disability compensation payable to the member from next VSI payment.

1. The annual VSI payment will be offset by the same amount of disability compensation received during the 12 month period immediately preceding the VSI payment. In no instance will the disability compensation offset exceed the annual VSI installment.

Example 1: The VSI recipient was separated from active service on September 30, 1992, and received an initial VSI payment in the amount of $7,000. On the VSI anniversary date of September 30, 1993, an annual payment of $7,000 was made. On April 15, 1994, the member was paid a $1,800 retroactive disability compensation payment (for the period November 1992 through April 1994) and received $100 per month thereafter. The annual gross VSI payment on September 30, 1994 will be offset by $2,300 ($1,800 retroactive payment plus $100 received per month from May 1994 through September 1994).

Example 2: The facts are the same as in the previous example except the member received a $6,000 retroactive payment on April 15, 1994, and $500 per month thereafter. The September 30, 1994, annual gross VSI installment of $7,000 will be completely offset with no payment due the member. Although the member received $8,500 in disability compensation during the immediate preceding 12-month period, the maximum deduction from the September 30, 1994, payment is $7,000. No collection action is required on the remaining $1,500, nor will it be carried forward to the September 30, 1995.

Example 3: The facts are the same as in example 1, above, except that through administrative oversight, $2,300 was not offset from the VSI installment on September 30, 1994. The $2,300 becomes a debt owed by the member and is subject to immediate collection action. If collection is not accomplished, deduct $3,500 ($2,300 which should have been offset from the previous payment plus the current offset of $100 per month for 12 months) from the 30 September 1995 payment.

Example 4: The facts are the same as in example 2, above, except that due to administrative oversight, $7,000 was not offset from the VSI installment on September 30, 1994. As in example 3, above, the $7,000 becomes a debt and requires immediate collection from the member. If collection action is not accomplished, the $7,000 debt can be collected from future VSI payments. Since the member received $6,000 ($500 for 12 months) disability compensation during the immediate 12-month period prior to the next installment, due on September 30, 1995, collect the remaining $1,000 towards the $7,000 debt. In this case, carry forward the remaining $6,000 unpaid debt.

2. Do not deduct from the member's VSI payment if the member is receiving VA disability compensation related to a period of service earlier than the period of service for which the member is receiving VSI.

C. If a member elected to have deducted any amount of basic pay for active or Reserve service or compensation for inactive duty training, deduct the gross amount of such pay or compensation from the next installment of VSI due before computing tax withholding.

D. Do not pay any further installments to a former member who fails to maintain Reserve affiliation for reasons other than specified in subparagraph 350801.F, above, or whose Reserve Personnel Activity certifies the member was transferred to the Standby or Retired Reserve through fault of the member. Collect, on a pro rata basis, any unearned portion of the member's VSI from the date of his or her failure to maintain Reserve affiliation through the date the next installment would have been due.

Example: Member A separates on July 31, 1995, with an annual VSI entitlement of $7,500. Effective November 30, 1995, the member is separated from his Reserve unit because of usage of illegal drugs. The unearned portion of the VSI (see subparagraph 350703.D, above, for computation method) is 8/12ths of $7,500, or $5,000. Establish a debt against the member in that amount.

E. In the event that a member becomes eligible for retired or retainer pay concurrently with annual VSI payments, both entitlements continue to be paid. However, retired or retainer pay is offset according to subparagraph 350803.A, above.

F. A member whose application for separation with entitlement to VSI was approved by competent authority after September 30, 1994, forfeits all entitlement to VSI payments, including the initial payment, if he or she is employed in a civilian position in the Department of Defense at any time before the expiration of 180 days following the date the member is released from active duty with entitlement to VSI. This includes appointment to a position while on terminal leave if that appointment is not terminated prior to the date of the member's separation. Upon receipt of notification of such employment, institute collection action to recoup the gross amount of the first VSI installment. Do not pay any further VSI installments, even if the former member separates from such civilian employment during the period in which the member otherwise would be entitled to VSI installments.

★350804. Death. Upon the death of a member, VSI annual payments continue for the remaining period of the entitlement. Make payment to the beneficiary as designated by the member or as otherwise provided by law (see section 3602 of this volume). See Volume 7C, paragraph 010403, of this Regulation for beneficiary payment procedures.

350805. Transfer or Assignment. The member may not transfer or assign the right to VSI payments to any person or entity, except as indicated in paragraph 350804, above.

PAYMENT OF ACCRUED LEAVE-OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEMBERS-SEPARATION WITHOUT IMMEDIATE REENTRY ON ACTIVE DUTY
R U L E	A	B	C
	If a member has been on active duty for 30 or more consecutive days and	and	then accrued leave is
1	is discharged (including as a result of resignation)	separation is under honorable conditions (note 1)	payable (notes 2 and 8).
2	is released from active duty (note 3)		payable (notes 2, 4 and 8).
3	retires		payable (notes 2, 5 and 8).
4	is transferred to Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve
5	is discharged for fraudulent enlistment
6	is released from duty because of void enlistment or void induction		not payable (note 6).
7	is discharged from service as a cadet or midshipman at a Military Service academy, or as a midshipman elsewhere
8	dies on or after August 28, 1965, while on active duty	member is not put to death as lawful punishment for a crime or a military offense	payable to beneficiary with other unpaid pay and allowances as prescribed in section 3602 (notes 7 and 8).
★ 9	is discharged before completing 6 months of active duty	separation is for unsatisfactory performance or misconduct for any reason set forth in subparagraph 350101.C of this volume.	not payable.

NOTES:

1. If member is discharged or relieved from active duty because of expiration of term of service (ETS), and is under investigation as an alleged security risk, do not pay accrued leave until investigation is completed and the character of the discharge determined. If discharge is under honorable conditions, accrued leave may then be paid.
2. The period when a member is home awaiting further orders in connection with physical evaluation board proceedings is charged as leave, to the extent that leave is available, beginning with the day after member arrives home or the day after constructive travel time ends, whichever is earlier. Limit payment to accrued leave remaining at time of retirement or discharge. (See note 4 for exception.) Authorized absence under these circumstances in excess of accrued leave is not chargeable as leave.
3. A period of active duty as a Reserve or National Guard member meets the 30-day requirement if it covers 30 or more consecutive days, even though it may be directed by more than one order covering unrelated duties.
4. If a Reserve member is entitled to pay and allowances during a disability period after a specified tour of active duty has expired, the period after that expiration date is not included in the period for which accrued leave is paid.
5. A member may not take accrued leave in lieu of payment beyond the effective date of retirement.
6. This rule does not apply when an individual inducted or enlisted into the Military Service is discovered by Military Service medical authorities to have been medically unfit for induction at the time of entrance into the Military Service and such individual is released from military control for such reason.
7. Accrued leave is payable retroactive to February 28, 1961 for a member in a missing status whose death is prescribed under section 3406 of this volume. Payment is made according to section 3410 of this volume.
- ★8. On and after February 10, 1976, a member may be paid for a maximum of 60 days accrued leave during a military career. See subparagraph 350101.B of this volume for contingency operation exception and subparagraph 350101.F for exception where a member dies while on active duty.

8	a temporary officer of the Navy or Marine Corps whose enlistment has expired	reverted to enlisted status and simultaneously discharged	immediately reenlists	payable at rate of pay of rank held at time of reversion (note 3).

NOTES:

1. Officers, who after notification of an impending discharge, resign for the purpose of continuing a military career are not entitled to payment of accrued leave.
2. A Reserve officer who remains on active duty beyond expiration date of initial obligation while awaiting Regular officer appointment is not entitled to payment of unused accrued leave as the separation to accept the appointment is not considered to be at the end of a specified period. The officer must be separated on the expiration date of the initial obligation for entitlement to exist.
3. On or after February 10, 1976, a member may be paid for a maximum for 60 days of accrued leave during a military career. See subparagraph 350101.B of this Regulation for the exception.
4. A National Guard member serving on active duty under Title 10 or Title 32, United States Code, who is ordered to active duty under the other title (Title 32 or Title 10) is considered to have met the obligated service period for which the member agreed to serve (for the purposes of accrued, unused leave payment only), regardless of the unexpired time remaining on that Title 10 or Title 32 obligation. The member is not considered separated for the specific purpose of reenlisting or reentering active duty. Accrued, unused leave is payable.

NOTES:

- On or after February 10, 1976, a member may be paid for a maximum of 60 days of accrued leave during a military career. See subparagraph 350101.B.1 of this Regulation for exception.
- A member is considered as discharged upon expiration of enlistment if discharged not more than 3 months before the normal expiration date of the enlistment (effective January 2, 1968). The date of normal expiration of enlistment is excluded in computing the 3-month period.
- A member is not considered as having been discharged for the purpose of enlisting or reenlisting if discharge occurs not more than 3 months before the normal expiration of the extension period (effective January 2, 1968). The date of normal expiration of the extension period is excluded in computing the 3-month period.
- An extension of the active duty obligation does not create an entitlement under this rule.
- A Reserve member who is discharged for the purpose of immediately reenlisting in the Regular or Reserve Component of the same Military Service before the end of a specified period of time member agreed to serve or was obligated to serve, is considered as discharged upon expiration of enlistment only if the date of release is not more than 3 months before the normal expiration date of the Reserve enlistment under which the active service is being performed (effective January 2, 1968). The date of normal expiration of enlistment is excluded in computing the 3-month period.
- A National Guard member serving on active duty under Title 10 or Title 32, United States Code, who is ordered to active duty under the other Title or Title 10 is considered to have met the obligated service period for which the member agreed to serve (for the purposes of accrued, unused leave payment only), regardless of the unexpired time remaining on that Title 10 or Title 32 obligation. The member is not considered separated for the specific purpose of reenlisting or reentering active duty. Accrued, unused leave is payable.

1	any Military Service	enlistment is involuntarily extended	continues on active duty in extension period	not payable until discharge.
2		voluntarily first extends enlistment, regardless of duration of extension		payable on day before effective date of extension (leave accrued during extension is paid on discharge after extension is completed) (note 2).
3	any Military Service, whose enlistment has been involuntarily extended	is separated under honorable conditions upon expiration of the involuntary extension of enlistment	immediately reenlists	payable.
4		is separated under honorable conditions, before extension period expires, for purpose of reenlisting
5	any Military Service, who has voluntarily extended enlistment	extension is canceled before service under it begins and member is discharged under honorable conditions at normal expiration of enlistment (note 3)		not payable.
6		extension is canceled after service under it begins and member is discharged under honorable conditions, for purpose of reenlisting (note 4)

NOTES:

1. On and after February 10, 1976, a member may be paid for a maximum of 60 days of accrued leave during a military career. See subparagraph 350101.B.1 of this volume for the exception.
2. No payment can be made on second or subsequent extensions.
3. A member is considered as discharged upon expiration of enlistment if discharged not more than 3 months before the normal expiration date of the enlistment (effective January 2, 1968). The date of normal expiration of enlistment is excluded in computing the 3-month period.
4. A member is not considered as having been discharged for the purpose of reenlisting if discharge occurs not more than 3 months before the normal expiration date of the extension period (effective January 2, 1968). The date of normal expiration of the extension period is excluded in computing the 3-month period.

COMPUTATION OF ACCRUED LEAVE PAYMENT (Note 6)
R U L E	A	B	C
	If member is entitled to accrued leave payment under Table 35-1, 35-2, 35-3, or 35-4, and is an	and member has	the complete payment for the number of days accrued leave, but not more than 60 in a military career, to include: (note 1)
			Basic Pay (note 2)	BAS (note 6)	BAH (note 6)	Personal Money Allowances (note 6)
1	enlisted member in pay grades E-5 to E-9	dependents (note 3)	at rate applicable on date of separation (note 4)	70 cents per pay	$1.25 per day	none.
2		no dependents			none
3	enlisted member in pay grades E-1 to E-4
4	Officer	dependents (note 3)	at rate applicable on date of separation (prorate for number of days of accrued leave)	at rate contained in Table 26-9 for member with dependents on date of separation (notes 4 and 5)	at rate contained in Table 26-9 for member without dependents on date of separation (notes 4 and 5)	if officer was receiving this allowance on date of separation (limited to allowances listed in chapter 31). Compute at rate payable on that date (note 4).
5		no dependents

NOTES:

- When the final leave balance includes a one-half day total, compute the amount to be paid by crediting the member with one-half of a day entitlement. Round the total to the nearest penny.
- Do not include in basic pay the 25 percent increase authorized certain Navy and Marine Corps members retained beyond normal ETS.
- A dependent on active duty is not considered a dependent in determining right to BAH.
- Date of separation is date of discharge, release from active duty, transfer to Reserve, or death; day before effective date of retirement; day before date of appointment as cadet or midshipman; or day before effective date of extension of enlistment.
- Pay BAH even though the member is not receiving BAH on date of separation because public quarters are occupied or available.
- Cash settlement of leave accrued as of August 31, 1976 will be on the basis of basic pay, BAS, BAH, and PMA as appropriate. Cash settlement of leave accrued on and after September 1, 1976 will be on the basis of basic pay only for all grades, officer and enlisted. See subparagraph 350102.A for example.

3	a warrant officer	second failure to be selected for promotion and does not enlist or the request to enlist is denied and is not retained on active duty in grade above W-4
4	a Reserve member	non-selection for an additional tour of active duty for which member volunteered unconditionally
5	a chaplain	failure to maintain professional qualifications
6	a Reserve member	separation at any time prior to the completion of a specified period of active duty or indefinite period of active duty except separations for reasons shown in rules 8 and 9 and subparagraphs 350203.A.10 through 13 of this volume.
7	a warrant officer or Reserve officer	age (notes 6 and 7)	one half of 10 percent of basic pay 12 months multiplied by years and fractions of a year based on additional full months of active service	$15,000.
8	an officer or Reserve enlisted member (note 5)	substandard performance of duty, moral or professional dereliction, unfitness or unsatisfactory performance, misconduct, unsuitability, homosexuality, drug abuse, to include drug rehabilitation failure, inability to perform prescribed duties, repetitive absenteeism, nonavailability for worldwide assignment as a result of parenthood, or retention is not consistent with the interest of national security
9	an officer	written notification that member must show cause for retention and who subsequently requests discharge or release from active duty

NOTES:

- Includes member's acceptance of an earlier release before the scheduled involuntary separation date, as directed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned (or designee).
- Includes a Regular commissioned officer with less than 5 years' commissioned service.
- Includes a Regular officer continued on active duty pursuant to 10 U.S.C. section 637(a) or a Reserve officer continued on active duty after failure to be selected for promotion, upon expiration of the period of continuation on active duty or upon separation if continuation is declined.
- Includes officer not found qualified for promotion to grade of First Lieutenant or Lieutenant (JG).
- A warrant officer who is eliminated for unfitness or unsatisfactory performance of duty and elects to enlist is not entitled to separation pay.
- Includes members separated after expiration of the retention period established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.
- If the member is eligible for voluntary retirement, he or she is not entitled to separation pay even though he or she does not apply for retirement concurrently with release from active duty.
- Entitlement provisions of this volume apply through June 19, 1991. The limitations in column D were removed effective November 5, 1990. See subparagraph 350201.C for additional eligibility requirements for the period of November 5, 1990 through June 19, 1991.

1	involuntarily released from active duty for reason other than moral or professional dereliction (see Table 35-8 rulings on whether separation is "involuntary release")	is immediately eligible for separation pay based on military service under some other law except Title 10 U.S.C. 680 (note 3)	elects to receive readjustment pay (note 4)	payable.
2			elects to receive other separation pay	not payable.
3		is immediately eligible for retired or retainer pay based solely on military service (including retired pay under 10 U.S.C., chapter 67 for non-regular service) (note 6)
4		is eligible for VA disability compensation		payable but the VA will deduct from future VA compensation (see subparagraphs 350205.B and 350302.D of this volume).
5		released from active duty because of moral or professional dereliction (note 5)		not payable.
6	released from active duty at own request (note 7)
7	released from active duty upon completion of a specific tour of active duty	volunteers for an additional tour of active duty in keeping with current directives	is not accepted for the additional tour	payable.
8	released from active duty upon completion of a specific tour of active duty	volunteers for a shorter period of active duty than permitted in current directives	is not accepted for the additional tour	not payable.
9		volunteers for a period of active duty contingent on assignment to certain type of duty or location, or being tendered specific type of contract

Table 35-7. Entitlement To Readjustment Pay

NOTES:

1. Members entitled to readjustment pay (section 3503 of this volume) and separation pay (section 3502 of this volume) may not receive both, but shall elect which type of pay they will receive.
2. A period of active duty is continuous if it is not interrupted by a break in service of more than 30 days. Paragraph 350205 of this volume how to compute the 5-year active duty period.
3. "Separation pay" means an amount paid in connection with separation from the Military Service when the person's military status is terminated. This includes payments under sections 3502, 3503, 3504, and 3506.
4. A member may elect to receive either readjustment pay or other separation pay (as defined in note 3), but not both. A member who elects to receive readjustment pay may not later change the election to receive other separation pay.
5. A member dismissed or discharged as a result of trial by court-martial, dropped from the rolls of the Military Service concerned, or administratively discharged under other than honorable conditions is presumed to be separated because of moral or professional dereliction. An honorable discharge or a discharge under honorable conditions is presumed to be not due to moral or professional dereliction unless the Secretary of the Military Service concerned determines it to be such. Do not pay readjustment pay until character of discharge is determined.
6. If eligible for voluntary retirement under 10 U.S.C., 8911 or 10 U.S.C., 3911, a member is not entitled to readjustment pay even though such an election is made not to retire concurrently with involuntary release from active duty.
7. Disapproval of a Reserve officer's request to withdraw an application for separation will not change the release from "voluntary" for consideration of entitlement to readjustment pay.
8. Readjustment pay is not payable upon release from active duty for training or full-time training duty.
9. With respect to members discharged or released on or after October 19, 1984, the member is not entitled to readjustment pay if the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines that the conditions under which the member is discharged or separated do not warrant such pay.

	If a Reserve member is	And	then separation is	and
1	involuntarily released from active duty as a Reserve officer	immediately enlists in the Regular Component of any Military Service, or enters on active duty as a regular or Reserve officer in the same or a different Military Service	an actual involuntary release from active duty, regardless of reentry on active duty	entitlement to readjustment pay is determined under Table 35-7.
2	a commissioned officer serving in dual status and is released from active duty as a Reserve commissioned officer	reverts to a Regular warrant officer status	not an actual release from active duty	readjustment pay is not authorized.
3	serving under a temporary appointment as a Reserve commissioned or warrant officer and the appointment is terminated	reverts to a permanent Reserve enlisted or warrant officer status without a break in service
4	granted release from active duty at member's request, before completion of tour of duty	requests release after offer to serve another tour of active duty was denied	at member's own request
5	released from active duty upon reaching the mandatory age limit of 60	does not offer to serve another tour of active duty	an involuntary release from active duty	entitlement to readjustment pay is determined under Table 35-7.
6		offer to serve another tour of active duty is denied
7	a female officer and is involuntarily released from active duty for reasons of pregnancy or minor children	separation is under approved recommendation of board of officers (note 2)

NOTES:

1. This table reflects the Comptroller General's decision regarding what constitutes "involuntary release from active duty." Do not consider the table all-inclusive.
2. A female officer may waive a hearing before the board without affecting her right to readjustment pay-the separation is still considered involuntary.

NOTES:

1. When prior readjustment payment is refunded, consider the period covered by the previous payment as a period for which no payment has been made.
2. See administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned to determine whether separation is in this category.

NOTES:

- Members entitled to severance pay (sections 3503 and 3504 of this volume) and separation pay (section 3502 of this volume) may not receive both, but shall elect which type of pay they will receive.
- Military Service administrative regulations govern computations of years' service for purposes of severance pay.
- Count a fraction of a year that is 6 months or more as a full year. Disregard a fraction of a year that is less than 6 months. For Navy or Marine Corps officers, only years of commissioned service apply.
- Count whole years only. Disregard any fraction of a year.
- An officer retains entitlement to severance pay if discharged at member's request at any time during the fiscal year in which member fails to appear on a promotion list and will have completed 7 years of active commissioned service.
- With respect to members discharged or released on or after October 19, 1984, the member is not entitled to severance pay if the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines that the conditions under which the member is discharged or separated do not warrant such pay.

1. Revise subparagraph 350801.F as follows:

“F. The member must accept voluntary appointment or enlistment in, or transfer to the Ready Reserve of a Reserve Component, and must continue to serve in a Reserve Component during the entire period of eligibility for VSI. If the member does not continue to serve in the Ready Reserve, the VSI installments terminate on the date of separation from the Reserve Component or transfer to the Retired Reserve. If the member becomes ineligible to serve for the following reasons, VSI installments continue for the remaining period authorized if:

1. The separation or transfer is required by reason of the age or number of years service of the member,

2. The separation or transfer is required by reason of failure of selection for promotion or medical disqualification of the member, except in a case in which the Secretary of Defense or Secretary of Transportation determines that the basis of the separation or transfer is a result of a deliberate action by the member with the intent to avoid retention in the Ready Reserve or Standby Reserve, or

3. In the case of separation, the member is separated from the Reserve Component for appointment or enlistment in or transfer to another Reserve Component of an Armed Force for service in the Ready Reserve or Standby Reserve of that Armed Force.”

PAYMENTS ON BEHALF OF DECEASED MEMBERS3601 DEATH GRATUITY

360101. Members for Whom Payable. Death gratuity will be paid, regardless of whether death occurred in the line of duty or was the result of member's misconduct, to eligible beneficiaries of the following (except a temporary member of the Coast Guard Reserve):

A. A member who dies while on active duty or while traveling to or from such duty.

B. A member, or former member who dies during the 120-day period beginning on the day following date of discharge or release, under honorable conditions, from active duty (including retirement for either disability or length of service). In this case, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs must determine that death resulted from disease or injury incurred or aggravated while the member was on active duty or while in authorized travel status to or from such duty.

C. Any person who dies while traveling to or from or while at a place for final acceptance, or for entry upon active duty (other than for training) in the Military Service, who has been ordered or directed to go to that place, and who has been:

1. Provisionally accepted for that duty; or

2. Selected, under the Military Selective Service Act (reference (bw)), for duty in that Military Service.

D. A member whose death is determined by administrative finding under the Missing Persons Act (reference (aa)).

E. A member of a Reserve Component who dies while traveling directly to or from active duty.

F. Any member of a Reserve Officers' Training Corps who dies while performing annual training duty under orders for a period of more than 13 days or while performing authorized travel to or from that annual training duty; or any applicant for membership in a Reserve Officers' Training Corps who dies while attending field training or a practice cruise or while performing authorized travel to or from the place where the training or cruise is conducted.

360102. Definitions

A. Active Duty. Active duty is full-time duty in the active service of a Uniformed Service, including active duty training (full-time training duty, annual training duty, and attendance, while in the active service, at a school designated as a Military Service school by law or by the Secretary concerned). (The exception to this definition is noted in the pertinent paragraph of 360101, above.)

B. Member. A member of the military service is a person appointed, enlisted, or inducted into a branch of the Military Services, including Reserve Components, and cadets or midshipmen of the Military Service academies.

C. Reserve Components. The Reserve Components are the following: the Army National Guard of the United States, Army Reserve, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard of the United States, Air Force Reserve, Coast Guard Reserve, and the Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

360103. Eligible Beneficiaries. See Table 36-1.

360104. Determining Eligible Beneficiaries. When officially notified that a member of his/her command has died, the commanding officer maintaining the member's personnel or service records determines if an eligible death gratuity beneficiary exists in the categories shown in Table 36-1. Legal assistance officers help in cases involving a question of law. Use the following evidence to establish whether an eligible beneficiary exists:

A. Lawful Spouse:

1. Entitlement to BAQ or evidence of assignment of government quarters to a member and spouse, or

2. In the absence of BAQ entitlement, as cited above, documentary evidence of marriage and proof of termination of any prior marriage of either the beneficiary or decedent.

B. Children. If a decedent is survived by a child or children, but no spouse:

1. Documentary evidence showing termination of any marriage, including a certified copy of the spouse's death certificate, divorce, or annulment decree.

2. Entitlement to BAQ for a child or children, or evidence of occupation of government quarters with the member before member's death, or

3. In the absence of BAQ entitlement, as cited above, base eligibility of child or children upon documentary proof of relationship, including:

a. The original or certified copy of the original birth certificate, or

b. A certified court order of adoption in the case of a legally adopted child.

4. A certified copy of the appointment paper if a guardian of a minor child, or children, has been appointed by a court (as distinguished from being awarded physical custody).

5. If death gratuity is in excess of $1,000, payment for a minor child may be made to the parent, including an adoptive parent, as natural guardian when all of the following conditions exist:

- a. A legal guardian has not been appointed,
- b. The parent has custody of the minor child,
- c. A statute of the state where the minor child and parent reside provides a means of obtaining a good acquittance and all statutory requirements have been met, and
- d. The parent has submitted a notarized statement, indicating the state statute involved, the facts bringing payment to the parent, and the parent understands the requirements of the statute.

6. The relationship between a member and his/her stepchild survives the end of the marriage from which it arose if close family ties have continued in fact. If such a relationship was created by a marriage ended by death, the relationship continues in the absence of evidence to the contrary. If the marriage ended by divorce, as distinguished from death, the relationship ends unless clear and convincing evidence is furnished showing continuance of close family ties and intention to continue the prior relationship.

C. Designated Beneficiaries. If the decedent is not survived by a spouse or child and has officially designated a father, mother, brother, or sister to receive death gratuity, no further evidence is necessary, except in "in loco parentis" cases. The beneficiary, however, must furnish:

- 1. Documentary evidence that any marriage entered into by the decedent has been terminated, and
- 2. A statement, witnessed by two individuals, that there are no living children. In "in loco parentis" cases, entitlement to BAQ for that person is sufficient evidence. If this relationship has not been established, the cognizant DFAS Center will make the determination.

D. Mentally Incompetent Beneficiary. If the beneficiary is mentally incompetent, a photostat or certified copy of the court order appointing a guardian, trustee, committee, or other such person is required.

E. Effect of a Will. A will does not constitute a legal designation for death gratuity, since such payment is not money or debt due the member and cannot become part of the member's estate.

360105. Determinations Affecting Entitlement

A. Death as Lawful Punishment. No death gratuity is payable in the case of a member whose death is the result of a lawful punishment for a crime or military offense, except when such death was inflicted by any hostile force with which the Armed Forces of the United States had engaged in armed conflict.

B. Member Killed by Beneficiary. Death gratuity is not payable to a beneficiary or survivor who kills a member, unless there is evidence which clearly absolves such beneficiary or survivor of any felonious intent.

C. Unauthorized Absence or Desertion

1. Absence Without Leave (AWOL) or Absence Over Leave (AOL). A death gratuity is payable in the case of a member whose death occurs while the member is in an unauthorized absence status, AWOL or AOL, including in custody of civil authorities, provided the date of death is prior to the normal expiration of contracted duty.

2. Desertion. No death gratuity is payable in the case of a member who is a declared deserter at the time of the member's death, unless it is later found that the declaration was in error.

360106. Amounts Payable

A. For deaths on or after 2 August 1990, the amount of death gratuity is $6,000.

1. Pay the amount above on behalf of members specified in subparagraph 360101.C, above, who died on 2 August 1990 or later.

2. If a death gratuity payment was made on behalf of members described in subparagraph A.1, above, at the rate effective before 2 August 1990, adjust payment under this subparagraph by the amount of any previous death gratuity payment.

B. Exemption From Indebtedness. Do not use death gratuity payment to satisfy indebtedness (including overpayments).

★C. Taxability. See Table 44-1, Rule 14, and Note 11.

360107. Expediting Payments. Immediate payment of death gratuity (within 24 hours, if possible) will be made when the eligible beneficiary can be determined and there is no doubt as to propriety of payment.

360108. Responsibility for Payment of Death Gratuity

A. A death gratuity is payable on behalf of a member who dies while on extended active duty, or while traveling to or from such duty, as shown in Table 36-2 (Army), Table 36-3 (Marine Corps), Table 36-4 (Air Force), and Table 36-5 (Navy), or as specified in applicable cross-servicing regulations.

B. The cognizant DFAS Center makes death gratuity payments under circumstances described in subparagraph 360101.B, C, and D, above.

360109. Erroneous Payment. An erroneous payment of death gratuity is one made to a person clearly not entitled to it because of administrative error, rather than because of statements of record made by the member.

A. Make second payment to the rightful beneficiary when the error resulted from improper maintenance of records or administrative negligence. Do not delay this payment pending recovery of the erroneous payment from the ineligible recipient.

B. Do not make a second payment of death gratuity to a different person if the original payment was based on statements of record made by the member, and the government has no reason to doubt the beneficiary's status was as stated.

3602 SETTLING DECEASED MEMBERS' ACCOUNTS

360201. General. This section contains the authority for payment of any unpaid pay and allowances due on behalf of members who die while on extended active duty. "Unpaid pay and allowances" here includes:

A. Pay and allowances due and unpaid at death, including settlement of accrued leave (subject to limitation in Chapter 35, paragraph 350101, unless Chapter 34, paragraph 341001 applies) when death occurs on or after 28 August 1965;

B. Amounts due for travel, per diem, transportation of dependents, and shipment of household goods;

C. Member's savings deposits and interest thereon;

D. Any remaining installments of an enlistment bonus or selective reenlistment bonus payable under Chapter 9, paragraphs 090105 and 090205; and

E. Proceeds of any checks for items subparagraphs A through D, above, unnegotiated by the member before death.

360202. Entitlement

A. Upon official notification of the death or finding of death, any amounts due the decedent are paid the person(s) determined to be the eligible beneficiary or beneficiaries.

B. Any payments made under this section bar their recovery by any other person.

C. When a minor child, otherwise eligible, is a designated or nondesignated beneficiary and a guardian has been appointed by a court (as distinguished from being awarded physical custody), a certified copy of this appointment paper is required.

360203. Designated Beneficiary. Current laws allow a member to designate anyone, related or not, to receive member's unpaid pay and allowances upon death. Designation of a beneficiary for unpaid pay and allowances must have been executed by the member and filed in accordance with regulations governing such designations. When more than one beneficiary has been named, the percentages specified by the member govern payment. If no percentages have been specified, payment will be divided equally among designated beneficiaries.

360204. Nondesignated Beneficiary

A. Order of Precedence. In cases of deceased members who have not designated a beneficiary, the following rules apply in determining the order of precedence:

1. The widow or widower of a member;
2. If there is no surviving spouse, to the child or children of the member and descendants of deceased children, by representation;
3. If none of the above, to the parents of the member, in equal shares, or to the surviving parent;
4. If none of the above, to the duly appointed legal representative of the member's estate; or
5. If none of the above, to the person(s) determined to be entitled under the laws of the state in which the member was domiciled.

B. Adopted Child. An adopted child is a legal heir in every state and is, therefore, entitled to payment of unpaid pay and allowances, if otherwise proper. If the deceased member's child is adopted by others, the child is a beneficiary only in those states where an adopted child inherits from its natural father.

C. Stepchild. A stepchild is not an eligible beneficiary, unless adopted by the deceased member.

D. Illegitimate Child. An illegitimate child may not be paid unpaid pay and allowances of a deceased member, unless such child is recognized for inheritance purposes under the laws of the jurisdiction involved.

360205. Responsibility for Settlement of Accounts. Accounts of deceased members are settled as prescribed in the procedural instructions of the Military Service concerned.

360206. Tax Abatement. See Chapter 44, paragraph 440104 if member's death was caused by terrorist or military action overseas.

3603 ALLOWANCE FOR QUARTERS TO SURVIVING DEPENDENTS

360301. Eligibility

A. Effective 1 October 1993, an allowance for quarters will be paid to dependents of members who die in the line of duty when one of the following conditions exists:

1. The dependents do not occupy government quarters on the date of death.
2. The dependents are occupying government quarters on a rental basis on the date of death.
3. The dependents vacate government quarters within 180 days of the member's death.
4. The dependents cannot be claimed by another member for BAQ.

B. The allowance terminates 180 days after the date of the member's death.

C. When member is killed by a dependent(s), BAQ is not payable to that dependent, unless there is evidence which clearly absolves said dependent of any felonious intent.

360302. Priority of Payment. Payments to the surviving dependents will be made in the following order:

A. Current spouse (not including a military spouse eligible to receive quarters allowances for the same dependents as the deceased member);

B. If there is no current spouse, the housing allowance will be divided equally among the dependents on whose behalf the member was entitled to receive with-dependents BAQ.

360303. Amount and Method of Payment

A. The allowance shall be paid in the same amount and in the same manner as the deceased member would have been paid and may be paid in a lump sum as an advance payment. For amount of BAQ payable, see Table 26-9. For payment of VHA/OHA, see Joint Federal Travel Regulations, volume 1 (reference (d)).

B. Examples are:

1. Member dies 5 January 1994, and dependents vacate non-rental government quarters on 12 February 1994. Pay BAQ to the dependents at the appropriate monthly rate for 12 February through 4 July 1994, which is the 180th calendar day after the date of death. Had the member died 5 January 1996, the termination date for BAQ entitlement would have been 3 July 1996, because of the extra calendar day for leap year.

2. Member dies 16 March 1994, and the member's dependents do not occupy government family-type quarters. Pay BAQ to the dependents for the period from 17 March through 12 September 1994, a total of 180 calendar days. The dependents would receive 14 days in March, 30 days in the months of April, May, June, July, and August, and 12 days in September.

C. Payments under this section are not subject to collection of any debts owed by the deceased member to the United States.

ELIGIBLE BENEFICIARIES-DEATH GRATUITY
R U L E	A	B
	Death gratuity is payable to, or for, the living survivor(s) of the decedent first listed below (notes 1 and 2)	which is defined as
1	lawful spouse	a man or woman legally married to a member at the time of death (note 3).
2	child, or children, without regard to age or marital status, in equal shares	a legitimate child.
3		a legally adopted child.
4		a stepchild if such child was a member of the decedent's household.
5		an illegitimate child if the father acknowledged the child in writing signed by him; or, was judicially ordered to contribute to the child's support; or, was prior to his death judicially or otherwise shown by satisfactory evidence to be the father of the child; an illegitimate child of a female member as evidenced by birth certificate or other satisfactory evidence that member was mother of the child.
6	a member's relatives consisting of parents, brothers, sisters, or any combination thereof as designated by the member (notes 4 and 5)	the natural father or mother.
7		the father or mother through adoption.
8		any person who stood "in loco parentis" for not less than one year at any time before the deceased member's entry into active service.
9		natural brothers and sisters.
10		brothers and sisters of half blood and those through adoption.
11	surviving parent(s) in equal shares	same as provided in rules 6, 7, and 8.
12	surviving brothers and sisters in equal shares	same as provided in rules 9 and 10.

NOTES:

1. If there are no survivors as listed in column A, death gratuity is not payable to any other person.
2. If an eligible beneficiary dies before receiving the amount to which entitled, such amount is paid to the then living survivor(s) first listed in column A.
3. A waiver by the lawful spouse is without effect and does not entitle another designee to the death gratuity payment.
4. Unless a specific percentage is shown, payment is divided equally among all designated beneficiaries.
5. Only one father or mother is recognized in any case. Give preference to the father or mother who exercised parental relationship immediately before the member's entry into active service.

1. Revise paragraph 340302 as follows:

"340302. BAH and BAS Entitlement. Members without dependents are entitled to BAH at the without-dependent rate. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate payable when rations in kind are not available. Payment of these allowances are authorized from the beginning of the missing status, even though there was no housing or subsistence allowance entitlement before the missing status began."

2. Revise Table 34-2, column c of rules 1 through 4, line 14 as follows:

"BAH (Note 7) "

3. Revise Table 34-2, note 4 as follows:

"4. See paragraph 260501 recontinuance of credit for BAH for 2 months following month of absence for members in pay grades E-1, E-2, E-3, or E-4 (4 years or less service) with dependents."

4. Revise Table 34-2, notes 6 and 7 as follows:

"6. For example, if the sole dependent of a missing member dies, credit for BAH for a member with dependents ceases and any allotment in force in the dependent's favor is stopped and deductions cease.

7. Members without dependents are entitled to BAH at the without-dependent rate. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate payable when rations in kind are not available. See paragraph 340302."

5. Revise paragraph 360104A1 as follows:

"1. Entitlement to BAH or evidence of assignment"

6. Revise paragraph 360104B2 as follows:

"2. Entitlement to BAH for a child or children"

7. Revise paragraph 360104C2 as follows:

"2. A statement, witnessed by two individuals, that there are no living children. In "in loco parentis" cases, entitlement to BAH for that"

8. Revise title of paragraph 3603 as follows:

"3603 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR HOUSING TO SURVIVING DEPENDENTS"

9. Revise paragraph 360301A as follows:

"A. Effective 1 January 1998, basic allowance for housing will be paid to dependents of the members who die in the line of duty when one of the following conditions exists:....."

10. Revise paragraph 360301A4 as follows:

"4. The dependents cannot be claimed by another member for BAH."

11. Revise paragraph 360301C as follows:

"C. When member is killed by a dependent(s), BAH is not payable to that dependent, unless there is evidence which clearly absolves said dependent of any felonious intent."

12. Revise paragraph 360302A and 360302B as follows:

"A. current spouse (not including a military spouse eligible to receive basic allowance for housing allowance for the same dependents as the deceased member);

B. if there is no current spouse, the housing allowance will be divided equally among the dependents on whose behalf the member was entitled to receive with-dependent BAH."

13. Revise paragraph 360303A as follows:

"A. The allowance shall be paid in the same amount and in the same manner as the deceased member would have been paid and may be paid in a lump sum as an advance payment. For amount of BAH payable, see table 26-9. For payment of OHA, see Joint Federal Travel Regulations, volume 1 (reference (d))."

14. Revise paragraph 360303B1 and 360303B2 as follows:

"1. Member dies 5 January 1998, and dependents vacate non-rental government quarters on 12 February 1998. Pay BAH to the dependents at the appropriate monthly rate for 12 February through 4 July 1998, which is the 180th calendar day after the date of death. Had the member died on 5 January of a leap year, the termination date for BAH entitlement would be 3 July of the year.

2. Member dies 16 March 1998, and the member's dependents do not occupy government family-type quarters.

Pay BAH to the dependents for the period from 17 March through 12 September 1998, a total of 180 calendar days. The dependents would receive 14 days in March, 30 days in the months of April May, June, July, and August, and 12 days in September."

15. Revise Table 36-2, note 2d as follows:

"d. Parents who stood "in loco parentis" to the member, unless this status has been determined for BAH purposes."

16. Revise Table 36-3, note 6 as follows:

"6. Doubtful parent cases include "in loco parentis" relationships, if a determination for BAH purposes was not made."

17. Revise Table 36-4, note 5 as follows:

"5. Doubtful parent cases include "in loco parentis." If this status has not been determined for BAH purposes, DFAS-DE makes such payments."

18. Revise Table 36-5, note 6 as follows:

"6. Doubtful parent cases include "in loco parentis" relationships, if a determination for BAH purposes was not made."

19. Revise paragraph 4005 as follows:

"4005 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR HOUSING

400501. Members Without Dependents. Aviation cadets without dependents who meet one or more of the conditions described in table 26-3, are entitled to BAH at the monthly rate provided for enlisted members without dependents in pay grade E-4.

400502. Members With Dependents. BAH accrues to aviation cadets with dependents at the monthly rate provided for enlisted members with dependents in pay grade E-4. See paragraph 260301 and tables 26-4 to 26-8, for conditions of entitlement."

20. Revise paragraph 410501B as follows:

"B. Basic allowance for housing (BAH) for members with dependents and members without dependents in the grade of E-7 or higher."

21. Delete paragraph 410501J and redesignate paragraphs 410501K and 410501L appropriately.

22. Revise paragraph 430404A2 as follows:

"2. Basic allowance for housing (BAH) for members with dependents and members without dependents in the grade of E-7 or higher."

23. Delete paragraph 430404A10.

24. Revise paragraph 500201C2 as follows:

"2. Basic allowance for housing."

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Chapter 36, Payments on Behalf of Deceased Members (DFAS Item H-12)

This is DFAS Interim Change 34-98 to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A and is effective immediately. It provides clarification of entitlements for Reserve members who die while on active duty.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of interim change numbers is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed changes to the DoDFMR Volume 7A and the interim change.

Our point of contact, Lieutenant Colonel Imre Volgyi, may be contacted at DSN 327-5057 or Commercial (703) 607-5057.

Change DoDFMR Volume 7A, paragraph 360101E to read as follows:

“E. A Reserve member who dies while traveling directly to or from active duty for training or inactive training shall have a death gratuity paid to the eligible survivor.”

Add new subparagraph 360301D to read as follows:

“D. The surviving dependent of a Reserve member who dies while on inactive duty is not eligible for allowance for quarters up to the 180 days of BAH/OHA.”

Remove current Bibliography citation for paragraph 360301 and add new citation as follows:

CHAPTER 37

BENEFITS FOR MEMBERS HELD AS CAPTIVES3701 FORMER CAPTIVE PAYMENT

See the Definitions. Entitlement is effective 27 August 1986.

370101. Entitlement Provisions. Entitlement may only be authorized by the Secretary of Defense (SECDEF). Once the SECDEF makes a "hostile action" determination, which is the authority for former captive payments, Military Service Secretaries will provide the names and dates of entitlements to their respective DFAS Center. Entitlement dates may not include any of the following without specific case by case approval of the SECDEF:

A. Dates in a captive status which are not dates of actual physical custody by a hostile force (for example, dates evading capture where the presence of a hostile force prevented escape or rescue); or

B. Dates which are doubtful that the missing status was the result of hostile action or was the result of membership in the Uniformed Services. Commanders will forward any request with justification via the appropriate Military Service chain of command. When authorized, the DFAS Center concerned will make payment.

370102. Rates

A. For each day a member was held in a captive status, payment is 50 percent of the world-wide average per diem rate. (Rates are maintained by the Per Diem, Travel, and Transportation Allowance Committee.) Status beginning and ending days (for example, day of return to military control) are days of entitlement. Payment must be made within 1 year after the member's captive status ends.

B. Former captives may receive more than the 50 percent rate when specifically approved by the SECDEF. Forward recommendations justifying a higher percentage through command channels via the appropriate Military Service Secretary.

370103. Persian Gulf Conflict. Payment for members in a former captive status resulting from Operation Desert Storm from January 1991 through April 1991 is $131.00 per day for January, February, and April; and $133.00 per day for March.

370104. Death of Member. If a member dies while in a captive status, any amount due is considered pay and allowances for the purposes of Chapter 34 of this volume.

370105. Exceptions

A. The SECDEF may defer payment for anyone (within the 1 year payment window) charged with a captivity-related offense and may deny payment if the member is convicted. If convicted, whether or not payment has been made, commanders will forward the case to the SECDEF (as per paragraph 370101) with justified recommendations for payment determination. Previously-made payments later denied must be collected.

B. No payment is authorized when the Congress specifically provides for prisoner of war (POW) compensation for captivity periods. See section 3702, below.

370106. Taxability. Payments to Former captive generally are not taxable if the captive status resulted from the deprivation of personal rights, such as terrorist activity. However, if the captive status resulted from an engagement with another nation's armed forces, then payment may be taxable and is reported as taxable income. See Table 44-1 for possible applicability of the combat zone tax exclusion.

3702 PRISONER OF WAR COMPENSATION

Payment authorized by the Congress for a specific period of captivity as a POW is made by the Secretary of the Treasury and is not considered to be a Uniformed Services pay and allowances entitlement. The DFAS is not involved in payment procedures or tax reporting.

3703 SAVINGS ALLOTMENT

Military Service Secretaries may allot part or all of a captive's pay and allowances (except what is already allotted) to an interest-bearing savings fund that is maintained by the Secretary of the Treasury. Withdrawal procedures are established by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Interim Change 30-97 and 36-98 are incorporated in this change.

CHAPTER 38

SERVICE ACADEMY CADETS, MIDSHIPMEN, AND SERVICE ACADEMY PREPARATORY SCHOOL STUDENTS

3801 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

Cadets at the United States Military Academy and the United States Air Force Academy and midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy are entitled to pay at the monthly rate prescribed in Table 2-5. When rations-in-kind are not furnished, cadets and midshipmen are entitled to commuted rations at the daily rate established by the Secretary of the Navy. While traveling under orders, cadets and midshipmen are entitled to the travel and transportation allowances prescribed as identified in section 3804, below.

3802 SERVICE ACADEMY PREPARATORY SCHOOL STUDENTS

380201. Effective November 30, 1993, a student at the United States Military Academy Preparatory School, the United States Naval Academy Preparatory School, or the United States Air Force Academy Preparatory School, who was selected to attend the preparatory school from civilian life, is entitled to monthly student pay at the same rate as provided for cadets and midshipmen.

380202. Effective November 30, 1993, a student at a preparatory school referred to in subparagraph 380202, above, who, at the time of the student's selection to attend the preparatory school, was an enlisted member of the Uniformed Services on active duty for a period of more than 30 days, will continue to receive monthly basic pay at the rate prescribed for the student's pay grade and years of service as an enlisted member.

3803 RATIONS

★ Cadets and midshipmen are entitled to rations in kind or commuted rations at the rate of $5.25 (October 1, 1998) ($5.15 effective October 1, 1997) per day at all times. This includes periods while they are at the academies, on authorized leave, sick in hospitals, and in a travel status for which a per diem is payable.

3804 TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION ALLOWANCES

The travel and transportation allowances payable to cadets and midshipmen are prescribed in Joint Federal Travel Regulations (JFTR), Volume 1, Chapter 7 Part 4 (reference (d)).

3805 DATES TO START AND STOP PAY AND ALLOWANCES

See Table 38-1.

3806 FOREIGN CADETS AND MIDSHIPMEN--PAY AND ALLOWANCES

Persons from Canada, the American Republics, and the Republic of the Philippines who are receiving instructions at the Military Service academies are entitled to the same pay, commuted rations, and travel and transportation allowances as are authorized for United States cadets and midshipmen. However, the mileage allowance for persons from Canada and the American Republics for travel to the academy for initial admission is not limited to mileage for travel within the United States.

3807 INCENTIVE PAY AND SPECIAL PAY

Cadets and midshipmen are not entitled to incentive pay for hazardous duty (HDIP) or special pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger.

3808 SETTLEMENT FOR UNUSED ACCRUED LEAVE

Cadets and midshipmen are not entitled to lump-sum leave benefits.

3809 TAXES

The basic pay of cadets and midshipmen is subject to federal and state withholding tax and FICA tax. Chapters 1 and 2 of this volume are applicable.

3810 ALLOTMENTS

The Military Department concerned determines whether cadets and midshipmen may register allotments of pay.

3811 ADVANCE PAY FOR CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT PURCHASES

381101. General. The Secretaries of the Military Department concerned prescribe the amount to be advanced each new cadet or midshipman to cover the cost of initial clothing and equipment. The amount advanced is deducted in regular installments from the cadet's or midshipman's monthly pay until fully collected. Any cadet or midshipman who is discharged (whether voluntarily or involuntarily) before graduation and before the total amount has been repaid, shall turn in as much of the clothing and equipment of a distinctive military nature as is necessary to liquidate the balance owed.

381102. Members Involuntarily Discharged. If a cadet or midshipman is involuntarily discharged, and the value of the turned-in clothing and equipment does not cover the balance owed, apply the value of the turned-in clothing and equipment to the balance owed and cancel the net remaining.

381103. Members Voluntarily Discharged. If a cadet or midshipman is discharged voluntarily, and the value of the turned-in clothing and equipment does not cover the balance owed, apply the value of the turned-in clothing and equipment to the balance owed and report the net remaining to the cognizant DFAS Center as a debt owed to the United States.

3812 COLLECTION OF INDEBTEDNESS

For general policies and requirements relating to collection of indebtedness, see Chapter 50 of this volume. Private indebtedness for services (laundry, dry cleaning, shoe repair, etc.) is not an indebtedness collectible under Chapter 50.

3813 CONTINUANCE OF PAY AND ALLOWANCES

Pay and allowances continue to accrue to cadets or midshipmen while they are absent in an official missing or missing-in-action status. See Chapter 34 of this volume. Cadets and midshipmen also are entitled to full pay while traveling under orders.

3814 DEATH BENEFITS

Death gratuity entitlement and settlement of unpaid pay and allowances instructions are contained in Chapter 36 of this volume.

3815 SERVICEMEMBERS' GROUP LIFE INSURANCE (SGLI)

Effective June 20, 1972, cadets and midshipmen became eligible for SGLI coverage while on full-time duty as a cadet or midshipman at a Service academy. See Chapter 47 of this volume. Details covering the administration of the SGLI program for cadets or midshipmen are contained in the pay procedural instructions of the Military Service academy concerned.

DATES TO START AND STOP PAY AND ALLOWANCES

	When a cadet or midshipman	then pay and allowances
1	has been officially admitted to one of the Service academies	start on the day of admission (note 1).
2	has been discharged and later reappointed to one of the Service academies	were stopped on date of discharge, and start again on day of reappointment (note 1).
3	has been dismissed by sentence of court-martial	stop on the date of termination of service as specified in orders directing dismissal.
4	has been dismissed from the academy by other than court-martial action before graduating	stop on date of dismissal.
5	dies before graduation	stop on the date of death.
6	is appointed a second lieutenant in the Army or Air Force upon graduation	stop on the day before the date of graduation.
7	is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps	stop on the day before the date of formal acceptance of appointment.
8	is voluntarily placed in a leave without pay status	stop on the day before the member enters a leave without pay status. If the member is readmitted to the academy, pay and allowances start again on the day of readmission.
9	is not appointed a second lieutenant in the Army immediately upon graduation	continue until the member is appointed a second lieutenant or is discharged (note 2).

NOTES:

1. An Oath of Allegiance must be taken before first payment is made.
2. In case of appointment, active duty pay is payable from date of graduation (Table 2-1, rule 5); therefore, an adjustment is necessary between cadet pay received and active duty pay due.

Table 38-1. Dates to Start and Stop Pay and Allowances

CHAPTER 39PAY OF SERVICE ACADEMY OFFICIALS*3901 GENERAL PROVISIONS

A commissioned officer serving as an appointed official at a Military Service academy is entitled to the pay grade and pay and allowances established by law for the position. A commissioned officer detailed as an official at a Military Service academy is not entitled to an increase in pay and allowances because of such detail, except as provided in this chapter. A member appointed as director of music at the United States Military Academy or as leader of the Naval Academy band has the pay grade prescribed for such positions by the Secretary of the Department concerned.

3902 PAY AND ALLOWANCES

The pay and allowances authorized for academy officials are shown in Table 39-1.

3903 PERSONAL MONEY ALLOWANCES

The personal money allowances authorized for the Superintendent of the United States Naval Academy and the Commandant of Midshipmen may be spent at their discretion for the contingencies of their positions.

3904 LIBRARIAN

An officer of the Regular Army, retired from active service under Title 10, U.S.C., section 1251, (reference (c)), may be detailed on active duty to serve as librarian of the United States Military Academy. While serving as librarian, the officer is entitled to the pay and allowances prescribed for the officer's grade and years of service. Include the time spent in retirement in the computation of the officer's cumulative years of service.

3905 LEAVE OF ABSENCE-FACULTY AND OTHER OFFICERS

Professors, assistant professors, instructors, and other officers at either the United States Military Academy or the United States Air Force Academy may be granted a leave of absence for the period of suspension of the ordinary academic studies. Such leave is authorized to be granted by the superintendent concerned without deduction of pay and allowances.

3906 TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION ALLOWANCES

Members serving as officials at Service academies are entitled to the travel and transportation allowances prescribed in the JFTR, Volume 1, Chapter 4 (reference (d)).

NOTES:

1. A permanent professor or a registrar appointed from the Regular Army or the Regular Air Force is entitled to the pay of a Colonel on the day after the date that a promotion list officer, junior to him or her on the promotion list on which his or her name was carried before his or her appointment as a professor or registrar, is promoted to the grade of Regular Colonel, even though he or she served as a professor or registrar for 6 years or less.
2. Do not use the additional pay in computation of retired pay.
3. An officer detailed to serve as registrar, who is serving in a temporary grade higher than those shown in column D, rules 10 and 11, is entitled to the pay and allowances prescribed for the higher temporary grade in which the officer is serving.
4. Compute the applicable number of cumulative years of service as outlined in Chapter 1.

Table 39-1. Pay and Allowances-Academy Officials

CHAPTER 40PAY OF AVIATION CADETS*4001 AUTHORITY

Aviation cadet is a special enlisted grade in the Naval service. Civilian citizens may be enlisted in the Navy or the Marine Corps as aviation cadets. Enlisted members of the Navy and Marine Corps, with their consent, may be designated as aviation cadets.

4002 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

Unless entitled to the basic pay of a higher pay grade, an aviation cadet is entitled to monthly basic pay at the lowest rate prescribed for pay grade E-4. Aviation cadets are also entitled to the same basic allowance for subsistence as is provided for officers. Except for subsistence, aviation cadets or their beneficiaries are entitled to the same allowances, pensions, gratuities, and other benefits prescribed for enlisted members in pay grade E-4. While on active duty, aviation cadets are entitled to uniforms, clothing, and equipment at government expense.

4003 BASIC PAY

For active duty, pay aviation cadets basic pay at the monthly rate prescribed in Table 2-5. Compute the amount payable as instructed in Chapter 2, section 0202.

4004 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR SUBSISTENCE

Pay aviation cadets at the monthly rate prescribed in Chapter 25, paragraph 250301. This allowance is payable under the conditions set out in Table 25-1.

4005 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR QUARTERS

400501. Members Without Dependents. Aviation cadets without dependents who meet one or more of the conditions described in Table 26-3, are entitled to BAQ at the monthly rate provided for enlisted members without dependents in pay grade E-4.

400502. Members With Dependents. BAQ accrues to aviation cadets with dependents at the monthly rate provided for enlisted members with dependents in pay grade E-4. See Chapter 26, paragraph 260301 and Tables 26-4 to 26-8, for conditions of entitlement.

4006 AVIATION CAREER INCENTIVE PAY (ACIP)

Effective 14 November 1986, aviation cadets qualified for aviation service under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned are entitled to the ACIP rates under Table 22-6.

4007 CLOTHING ALLOWANCE

400701. Naval Aviation Cadets. These members are entitled to the special initial clothing monetary allowance and the basic maintenance clothing monetary allowance. For rates payable and conditions of entitlement, see Chapter 29, paragraph 290204 of this volume.

400702. Marine Corps Aviation Cadets. Pay these members the clothing allowances prescribed in the individual clothing regulations (MCO P10120.28 (reference (bb))).

4008 TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION ALLOWANCES

See JFTR, Volume 1, Chapter 7 (reference (d)).

CHAPTER 41

GENERAL PROVISIONS GOVERNING ALLOTMENTS OF PAY
(Other than Child and Spousal Support Allotments Required by Law)4101 GENERAL

410101. Application. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to child and spousal support allotments required by law to be started when a member has failed to make periodic payments under a support order. See Chapter 43, section 4304, for applicable provisions.

410102. Authority. Under instructions issued by the Secretary of Defense, the personnel identified in section 4104, below, may authorize allotments from their pay for the purposes set forth in Chapters 41-43.

410103. Policy. The allotment system is provided to help Military Service members adjust their personal and family finances to military service. It is a convenience and privilege not to be exploited or abused.

4102 SPECIALIZED TERMS410201. Certifying Officer

A. Navy. The disbursing officer responsible for registering an allotment on the military pay record. On ships without disbursing officers the commanding officer or such other officer as designated in writing, who is responsible for preparing, certifying, and forwarding allotment forms to the disbursing officer maintaining members' master pay account.

B. Marine Corps. Marine Corps allotment forms are normally prepared by the administrative office and certified by the disbursing officer.

410202. Allotment Officer (Navy and Marine Corps). The disbursing officer of the Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Cleveland Center, Anthony J. Celebrezze Federal Bldg, Cleveland, OH 44199, or the Director, Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Kansas City Center, Centralized Pay Operations (JE), Kansas City, MO 64197.

410203. Definitions. See Definitions for active duty, allotment, allottee, allotter, and financial organization.

4103 AUTHORIZED ALLOTMENTS

410301. General. Voluntary allotments of military pay and allowances of Military Service members in active military service are limited to discretionary and non-discretionary allotments.

410302. Discretionary Allotments. Members are authorized no more than six (6) purely discretionary allotments. The member shall certify that the allotment is within the limits of the law (e.g., allotments may not be used to repay gambling debts in a state where gambling is not permitted.) Examples include, but are not restricted to the following:

A. Payment of premium for commercial life insurance on the member, the member's spouse or children. This includes United States Government Life Insurance, Navy Mutual Aid Insurance, Army Mutual Aid Insurance, dental and health insurance for the benefit of family, and payment of vehicle insurance.

B. Voluntary payment to a dependent and relatives. This allotment may be made to a spouse, former spouse(s), other dependents, and to a relative(s) not legally designated as a dependent(s). Support allotments may be made payable directly to a court, a state agency, a court trustee, a welfare agency, or to the children's guardian or custodian. This allotment may be made payable to a financial organization for credit to the account of the allottee.

C. Deposits to a financial institution, mutual fund company, or investment firm.

D. Payment of car loans.

E. Payment of mortgage or rent.

F. Payment of a loan to repay consumer credit, e.g., a loan or finance company.

410303. Non-Discretionary Allotments. Non-discretionary allotments of military pay and allowances of members in active military service are limited to the following:

A. Purchase of U.S. savings bonds.

B. Repayment of loans to the Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, Army Emergency Relief, Air Force Aid Society, and American Red Cross.

C. Voluntary liquidation of indebtedness to the United States that includes the following:

1. Indebtedness incurred due to defaulted notes insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

2. Payment of amounts due under the Retired Serviceman's Family Protection Plan, in the case of retired Military Service members serving on active duty.

D. Any other indebtedness to any department or agency of the United States Government (except to the Military Department paying the Military Service member).

E. Any repayment of debts owed to an organization for funds administered on behalf of the U.S. Government and any such debts assigned to a collection agency.

F. Payment for pledges for charitable contributions to the following:

1. Combined Federal Campaign (CFC). Only one such allotment is authorized for any Military Service member.

2. Army Emergency Relief, Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, or affiliates of the Air Force Assistance Fund. Only one such allotment is authorized for any Military Service member.

G. Allotments to the VA for deposit to the Post-Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program. The allotment must be divisible by $5 and with a minimum amount of $25 and not more than $100. Once authorized by the Military Service member, the allotment must run a minimum of twelve consecutive months, unless the Military Service member suspends participation or disenrolls from the program because of personal hardship or release from active duty.

H. Payment of delinquent federal, state, or local income or employment taxes.

4104 ELIGIBLE ALLOTTERS

410401. Members on extended active duty who may make allotments of pay include commissioned and warrant officers, aviation cadets, and enlisted members.

410402. Allotments may be continued to retired status; however, once any such allotment is discontinued by the retiree, it cannot be reestablished. Changes are permitted only when they are beyond the member's control and are of an administrative nature dictated by events incidental to the purpose of the allotment. Discontinuance occurs with any mortgage refinancing action.

4105 PAY AND ALLOWANCES WHICH MAY BE ALLOTTED

410501. Include the following items in computing the maximum amount of pay and allowances that may be allotted for members assigned within the continental United States:

A. Basic pay.

B. Basic allowance for quarters (BAQ) for members with dependents and members without dependents in the grade of E-7 or higher.

C. Basic allowance for subsistence (BAS) for commissioned and warrant officers.

- D. Career sea pay.
- E. Diving pay.
- F. Flying pay (all crew members).
- G. Proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay.
- H. Special pay for medical, dental, optometry, and veterinary officers.
- I. Submarine pay.

J. Variable housing allowance (VHA) for members with dependents and members without dependents in the grade of E-7 or higher.

- K. Personal money allowance.
- L. Incentive pay for hazardous duty.

410502. For members assigned outside the continental United States, include the following pay and allowance items in addition to those listed in paragraph 410501, above:

- A. Family Separation Allowance, Type II (FSA-R only).
- B. Foreign duty pay.
- C. Special pay for overseas extensions.
- D. Special pay for duty subject to hostile fire and imminent danger (applies only to members in a designated area).
- E. Overseas housing allowance.
- F. Cost-of-living allowance.

410503. The following amounts must be withheld from the maximum amount of pay and allowances that may be allotted:

- A. Federal, state and FICA taxes.
- B. The repayment of debts properly chargeable against a member's pay account (does not include repayments of advance pay).
- C. Premiums of SGLI.

D. Montgomery GI Bill deduction.

410504. Commanders may restrict further the total amount a member may allot when necessary to help the member meet essential personal needs.

4106 PERIODS OF ALLOTMENTS

Allotments are made for indefinite periods except those:

410601. To Military Service relief organizations

410602. To the American Red Cross

410603. To the United States for:

A. Repayment of indebtedness, or

B. Payment of delinquent federal income taxes.

410604. For Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) charity drive donations

410605. For payment of delinquent state or local income or employment taxes

4107 ALLOTMENT PAYMENT OFFICES

410701. Army. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Indianapolis Center, Military Pay Operations, Indianapolis, IN 46249, issues savings bonds and pays all allotments of pay except class X allotments, which are paid by local disbursing officers.

410702. Navy. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Cleveland Center, Anthony J. Celebrezze Federal Building, Cleveland, OH 44199, pays all allotments of pay.

410703. Air Force. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Denver Center, Denver, CO 80279-8000, issues savings bonds and pays all allotments of pay except class X which are paid locally.

410704. Marine Corps. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Kansas City Center, Kansas City, MO 64197, issues savings bonds and pays all allotments of pay.

4108 RESTRICTIONS

410801. Limitations. Members may have up to six (6) discretionary allotments as outlined in paragraph 410302, above.

410802. Minors. Allotments (except bonds) may not be made payable to children under 16 years of age. They may be made payable to the children's guardian or custodian. Spouses of members may be named as allottees regardless of age.

410803. Mental Incompetents. Allotments may not be made payable to mentally incompetent persons. Allotments may be made payable to a guardian or to the institution where a mentally incompetent person is confined.

410804. Power of Attorney. A power of attorney is not acceptable to establish, change, or stop an allotment.

410805. Member Awaiting Trial by Court-Martial

A. Members may not register an allotment between the date a court-martial is ordered and the date of the approval or disapproval of the sentence.

B. Discontinue allotments whenever:

1. Necessary to permit collection of the forfeiture in the monthly amount specified and within the time limitation stated in the court-martial sentence.

2. A member is sentenced to forfeit all pay and allowances due from the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority. This applies even though the convening authority defers the forfeitures and suspends the discharge when ordering the sentence into execution.

3. Allotments may be registered by a prisoner provided the amount of pay and allowances not forfeited is sufficient to cover allotment deductions.

410806. Returned Absentees, Deserters, and Prisoners. Allotments will not be registered for a returned absentee or deserter, unless the cognizant Defense Finance and Accounting Service Center has verified the member's pay status.

410807. Fraudulent Enlistment. Pay and allowances may not be allotted when pay is suspended pending final action on determination of fraudulent enlistment.

410808. Reduced Pay of Allotter. When a reduction in grade or stoppage of pay does not leave sufficient funds for allotments in force, allotments will be discontinued.

4109 RIGHT TO ALLOTMENT IN CASE OF DEATH

410901. Death of Allotter. All allotments are revoked upon death of the allotter. No further allotment payments may be made by the paying allotment office after receipt of notice of the allotter's death. Deductions made from the allotter's pay, but not paid to the allottee, become part of the member's arrears of pay. Allotments paid after the allotter's death may not be collected from the allottee, with two exceptions:

A. Allotments erroneously established after notice of death of the allotter, and

B. Unearned insurance payment premiums (insurance premiums paid 1 month in advance of the day payment is actually due). See Military Service procedural instructions for actions required by the disbursing officer maintaining the pay account. However, the issuance of a check for an allotment does not constitute payment until it is negotiated and the amount is collected by the payee. Accordingly, if a check is sent directly to an allottee and has not been negotiated, then recoupment action is appropriate.

410902. Death of Allottee. An allotment check, even though endorsed, does not become part of an allottee's estate if it is not cashed or negotiated before the allottee's death. It is not subject to any expense incurred by, or on behalf of, the allottee before or after death. All unnegotiated allotment checks will be returned to the office that issued them. They will be credited to the member's account or paid in accordance with Military Service instructions if the member has been separated from the Military Service.

4110 ALLOTMENT OVERPAYMENT RESPONSIBILITIES

411001. Army and Air Force

A. If an allotment payment is made to an allottee before the disbursing office receives notice to stop the payment from the officer required by regulation to furnish this notice, payment is credited to the disbursing officer. Collection is made from the allottee, if possible. If an allotment is paid in error because the officer responsible failed to report either the death of the allotter or any other fact which makes the allotment not payable, the amount of the payment not recovered from the allottee is collected, if practicable, from the officer who failed to report.

B. Any check or bond received for which entitlement does not exist must be returned immediately to the office which issued it. When an allotment payment is made after deductions from the member's pay have ceased and the allottee does not return it to the office of issuance, the allottee should be required to submit a complete and detailed explanation. Liability determination will then be made.

411002. Navy and Marine Corps

A. Commanding Officer. The commanding officer is responsible for informing the disbursing officer of any facts which warrant the stoppage of an allotment and for any required follow-up action. The commanding officers of units or ships without disbursing officers have the same responsibility as disbursing officers to initiate any necessary follow-up action regarding unacknowledged allotment requests.

B. Disbursing Officers. The disbursing officer who registers an allotment for a member is held responsible for proper entry on the military pay record. If the initial entry is incorrect, the field disbursing officer making the entry is responsible for all payments or overpayments of the allotment. Failure to transfer an active allotment from a closed pay account to a new pay account imposes a liability on the disbursing officer concerned for all payments or overpayments made by the allotment officer.

Regarding Power of Attorney to Establish, Change, or Stop Allotment (DFAS Item G-42)

This is DFAS Interim Change 16-98 to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A and DFAS Interim Change R5-98 to DoDFMR, Volume 7B. This change is effective immediately. It provides authority for the use of a special power of attorney to establish, change, or stop an allotment. Action has been initiated to have DoDD 7330.1 rescinded to reflect this policy change.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A and 7B. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of interim change numbers is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed changes to the DoDFMR Volume 7A and 7B and the interim changes.

Our point of contact, Lieutenant Colonel Imre Volgyi, may be contacted at DSN 327-5057 or Commercial (703) 607-5057.

Change paragraph 410801 to read:

"...A properly executed form (e.g., DD 2558, Authorization to Start, Stop or Change an Allotment) or a written request from a member (or from an agent acting under a specific power of attorney) or an automated data exchange (from specific organizations) may be used to establish, discontinue, or change an allotment. The DD 2558 form is available electronically. Further, service member's written signature is not required to effect an allotment from pay when automated data exchange is utilized. Automated computer programs that allow members to establish, discontinue, or change an allotment using a personal identification number (PIN) are permitted. Allotments will be established, discontinued, or changed only after the member's identity has been validated."

Interim Changes 21-98 is incorporated in this change. Interim Change 21-98 also affects other chapters and will not be deducted from the interim changes cited in the web site.

CHAPTER 42

DISCRETIONARY ALLOTMENTS

4201 RESTRICTIONS ON DISCRETIONARY ALLOTMENTS

420101. Restrictions

★A. General. Military Service members are authorized no more than six purely discretionary allotments. Discretionary allotments are considered as class D allotments and examples are indicated in sections 4202 through 4206, of this chapter. Service members are authorized no more than one discretionary allotment to the same allottee.

B. Savings Provision. All existing approved registered allotments of military pay and allowances from active duty and retired members that were authorized previously by this part at the time registered may be continued as approved allotments. If any such allotments are discontinued, they may not be reestablished except as a new allotment in accordance with the requirements of this part. Any change in the allotment initiated by the member is considered a discontinuance, except those that are beyond the control of the member. Changes beyond the control of the member are administrative changes that are dictated by events incidental to the allotment, i.e., name and address changes, or mortgage payment changes because of a variable rate mortgage or changing escrow requirements. Although the changes in this paragraph do not constitute a discontinuance, such administrative changes that adjust the amount of the allotment shall be accepted only when the member initiates a new allotment request. Discontinuance occurs with any mortgage refinancing action.

C. Allotments to Non-Individuals. Allotments shall be sent by Direct Deposit/Electronic Fund Transfer (DD/EFT).

4202 ALLOTMENTS TO DEPENDENTS OR RELATIVES

420201. Authorized Allottee. Officers and enlisted members of the Military Services may authorize allotments of pay to their dependents, relatives, or divorced spouse. These allotments may be authorized by the member or administratively initiated under procedures established by the Military Service concerned. It may be made payable to an individual or to a financial organization for credit to the account of the allottee, or a joint account of the allotter and allottee. The member may request to stop a dependent allotment administratively started.

420202. Locally Paid Dependent Allotment (Class X)-Army and Air Force Only. This allotment is locally paid and is authorized only in emergency circumstances which prevent the member from supporting the member's dependent(s) by the usual means. It may be paid directly to the member's dependent or made payable to a financial organization for credit to an account. This allotment is intended to be flexible enough to cope with the various types of emergencies that may arise. The following are examples where an Army or Air Force member may authorize a class X allotment:

Example 1: An Army member stationed overseas (including Alaska and Hawaii) with dependents residing in the same overseas area but in a different foreign country may authorize a class X allotment (Type I) for an indefinite period.

Example 2: An Army member, stationed anywhere, who is required to depart the permanent station in a timeframe which precludes normal arrangements for support of dependents may authorize a class X allotment (Type II) for a definite period not to exceed 6 months. If the member has not returned to the permanent station by the date the allotment is due to expire, the commander may extend the allotment for another 6 months.

Example 3: An Air Force member stationed overseas (including Alaska and Hawaii) with dependents residing in the same overseas area may authorize a class X allotment for an indefinite period during periods the member is away from the permanent station.

Example 4: An Air Force member, stationed anywhere, may authorize a class X allotment for a one-time emergency payment.

Example 5: An Air Force member, stationed anywhere, who is TDY for more than 30 days may authorize a class X allotment for a period not to exceed 6 months. If the member has not returned to the permanent station by the date the allotment is due to expire, the accounting and finance officer or the appointed agent establishes a class D allotment to replace the class X allotment.

420203. Allotment or Deduction for Rent. An allotment or deduction of pay may be authorized by the appropriate Secretary of the Military Department concerned for the payment of rent of premises occupied for dwelling purposes by the spouse, children, or other dependents of a member. Such allotment or deduction will be processed in accordance with the procedural instructions of the Military Service concerned.

4203 INSURANCE ALLOTMENTS

420301. Purpose. Allotments are authorized to be made by all Military Service members for paying insurance premiums.

420302. Eligible Allottees

A. United State Government Life Insurance/National Service Life Insurance (USGLI/ NSLI). The allottee for this allotment is:

Department of Veterans Affairs
Insurance Center
PO Box 8079
Philadelphia PA 19101

A member may have only one NSLI allotment. If the member has more than one policy in effect under one class of insurance, or a combination of U.S. Government Life Insurance and National Service Life Insurance, the premium payments are combined into one allotment.

B. Commercial Insurers. Commercial insurers are eligible allottees. All new allotments for paying premiums on commercial insurance must be approved under the following Military Service regulations:

1. Army: AR 37-104-3 (reference (bh));
2. Navy and Marine Corps: SECNAVINST 1740.2 Series (reference (by));
3. Air Force: AFR 211-16 (reference (bz)).

All payments to an insurer are made to the home office of the agency issuing the policy or to a branch office named by the home office. A member may have more than one allotment for commercial insurance. However, if the member has more than one insurance policy with the same company, premium payments must be combined into one allotment to that company.

C. Navy Mutual Aid Insurance (Navy and Marine Corps only). The Navy Mutual Aid is an authorized allottee for the payment of life insurance. If the member has both the regular premium and the extra hazardous duty premium, the payments must be combined into one allotment.

420303. Effective Dates for Starting, Changing, and Stopping Insurance Allotments. Tables 42-1, 42-2, and 42-3 prescribe effective dates to start, change, or stop insurance allotments.

420304. Mandatory Stoppages

A. When Required. Table 42-3 gives conditions which require stopping insurance allotments.

B. Temporary Indebtedness or Forfeitures

1. Navy and Marine Corps Members. Do not stop a National Servicemen's Life Insurance allotment because of temporary indebtedness due to a request for collection of pay, or because of an authorized advance of pay, or temporary forfeiture of pay imposed by sentence of court-martial.

2. Air Force and Army Members. See Table 42-3, rule 11.

C. Cash Deposit for Insurance. Navy or Marine Corps members in a non-pay status may make cash deposits to protect a National Servicemen's Life Insurance allotment.

4204 ALLOTMENTS TO FINANCIAL ORGANIZATIONS AND INVESTMENT FIRMS

420401. Authorized Allottee. Officers and enlisted members may authorize allotments of pay to financial organizations for credit to the account of the member. Allotments may be deposited to:

A. A financial organization for credit to a savings, checking, or trust account of the allotter without restricting the use of the funds allotted.

B. A mutual fund company or investment firm.

4205 ALLOTMENTS FOR PAYMENT OF MORTGAGE OR RENT

420501. Authorized Allottee. Officers and enlisted members may authorize allotments of pay for mortgage or rent payment to a financial institution, mortgage company, realtor or to a landlord. See paragraph 420101, above, for restrictions that apply to this type of allotment.

4206 OTHER ALLOTMENTS

420601. Other Allotments. Officers and enlisted members may authorize an allotment for payment of car or personal loans. However, the restrictions in section 4108 of this volume are applicable when starting this type of allotment.

Interim Change 28-98 is incorporated in this change and will be deleted from the interim changes cited in the web site.

CHAPTER 43

NON-DISCRETIONARY ALLOTMENTS

4301 ALLOTMENTS FOR THE PURCHASE OF SAVINGS BONDS

430101. Authorized Purchases by Allotment. Members may purchase United States savings bonds by class B allotment in denominations of $100, $200, $500, and $1,000. The purchase price of the bond is one-half of the face value. Bond purchases in 1 calendar year may not exceed $15,000 (purchase price). See Table 41-1 for members who may purchase bonds by allotment.

430102. Mailing Bonds. Generally, savings bonds may only be sent to an address within the United States, its territories or possessions, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

430103. Bonds Allotments for Members in Missing or Captured Status (Army and Air Force Only). Army and Air Force members may authorize class B allotments to become effective only if they enter a status of missing, missing-in-action, interned in a foreign country, captured, beleaguered or besieged by a hostile force, or detained in a foreign country against their will.

430104. Administration of Allotments. Details covering the administration of savings bond allotments are in the procedural instructions of the Military Service concerned.

430105. Safekeeping of Bonds. Members on active duty who prefer not to have their bonds mailed upon issue may have them held in safekeeping in accordance with the procedural instructions of the Military Service concerned.

4302 CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS

430201. General

A. Combined Federal Campaign. Annual solicitations for donations to various community charity drives have been coordinated into a single combined fund-raising campaign. The name of this campaign is the Combined Federal Campaign (domestic areas) or the DoD Overseas Combined Federal Campaign (overseas areas). Basic information on the Combined Federal Campaign (domestic areas) is in the Manual on Fund-Raising Within the Federal Service for Voluntary Health and Welfare Agencies, and information for overseas areas is in appropriate Military Service regulations.

B. Service Relief Organizations. Members are authorized to make charitable contributions by allotment to the Army Emergency Relief, Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, or affiliates of the Air Force Assistance Fund.

C. Allotment. Members meeting the requirements of this section may authorize a class C (CFC) allotment for a charity contribution to the Combined Federal Campaign (domestic or overseas) or to any of the Military Service relief organizations (SRO) indicated in subparagraph 430201.B, above. All allotments authorized are paid centrally by the offices shown in section 4107 of this volume.

430202. Limitations. Allotments for CFC and SROs must be at least $1 per month and each allotter is authorized only one CFC and one SRO allotment.

430203. Discontinuance (CFC Only). Once an allotment is stopped it may not be reinstated during the current allotment period. (This does not apply to Navy or Marine Corps members when the allotment is stopped because of change in pay group.) Stop the allotment:

A. At the end of the authorized withholding period

B. Upon member's written request

C. Upon separation (except when discharged and immediately reenlisted at the same station without a break in service), release from active duty, transfer to the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve, retirement, or death 430204. Transfer. Continue the allotment when a member participating in a CFC campaign is transferred, unless the member submits a written discontinuance request.

430205. Administration of Allotment. Details covering charitable contributions allotments are in the procedural instructions of the Military Department concerned.

4303 POST-VIETNAM ERA VETERANS EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

430301. General. The Post-Vietnam Era Veteran's Educational Assistance Program provides education assistance on a contributory basis to those eligible members entering the Armed Forces on or after January 1, 1977, and before July 1, 1985, who might otherwise be unable to obtain a higher education.

430302. Contributions. Contributions by the member will be by allotment, payroll deduction, or lump-sum payment. The amount of the allotment or payroll deduction (Marine Corps only) will be not less than $25 nor more than $100 and must be in $5 increments. Contributions by the participant are limited to a maximum of $2,700.

430303. Administration of Allotment or Payroll Deduction. Details covering the administration of this type of allotment or payroll deduction (Marine Corps only) and the method of remitting contributions to the Department of Veterans Affairs are contained in regulations issued by the Department of Defense, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Military Department concerned.

4304 ALLOTMENTS FOR CHILD AND SPOUSAL SUPPORT

430401. General. Upon proper notification from an authorized person, the cognizant DFAS Center will start a statutorily-required child or child and spousal support allotment from the pay and allowances of a member on extended active duty when the member has failed to make periodic payments, under a support order, in an amount equal to the support payable for 2 months or longer.

430402. Definitions

A. Authorized Person. Any agent or attorney of any state having in effect a plan approved under Title 42, United States Code, section 665 (reference (ca)). This agent or attorney has the duty or authority to seek recovery of any amounts owed as child or child and spousal support and the court has the authority to issue an order against a member for the support and maintenance of a child, or any agent of such court.

B. Child Support. Periodic payments for the support and maintenance of a child or children, subject to and in accordance with state or local law. This includes, but is not limited to, payments to provide for health care, education, recreation, and clothing, or to meet other specific needs of the child or children.

C. Designated Official. The cognizant DFAS Center Director (or designee) who is authorized to receive and to process notices under this chapter. See paragraph 430407, below, for a listing of designated officials.

D. Notice. A court order, letter, or similar documentation issued by an authorized person providing notification that a member has failed to make periodic support payments under a support order.

E. Spousal Support. Periodic payments for the support and maintenance of a spouse or former spouse, in accordance with state or local law. It includes, but is not limited to, separate maintenance, alimony while litigation continues, and maintenance. Spousal support does not include any payment for transfer of property or its value by an individual to his or her spouse or former spouse in compliance with any community property settlement, equitable distribution of property, or other division of property between spouses or former spouses.

F. Support Order. Any order providing for child or child and spousal support issued by a court of competent jurisdiction within any state, territory, or possession of the United States, including Indian tribal courts, or in accordance with administrative procedures established under state law that affords substantial due process and is subject to judicial review.

430403. Notice to Designated Official

A. An authorized person shall send to the appropriate designated official a signed notice that includes:

1. A statement that delinquent support payments equal or exceed the amount of support payable for 2 months under a support order, and a request that an allotment be established.

2. A certified copy of the support order.

3. The amount of the monthly support payment. Such amount may include arrearages, if a support order specifies the payment of such arrearages. The notice shall indicate how much of the amount payable shall be applied toward liquidation of the arrearages.

4. A statement that delinquent support payments are more than 12 weeks in arrears, if appropriate.

5. The following information that identifies the member:

a. Full name

b. Social security number

c. Military Service of the member.

6. The full name and address of the allottee. The allottee shall be an authorized person, or designee, or the recipient named in the support order.

7. Any limitations on the duration of the support allotment.

8. A certification that the official sending the notice is an authorized person.

B. The notice shall be sent by mail or delivered in person to the appropriate designated official. The designated official shall note the date and time of receipt on the notice.

C. The notice is effective when it is received in the office of the designated official.

D. When the notice does not sufficiently identify the member, it shall be returned directly to the authorized person with an explanation of the deficiency. However, before the notice is returned, if there is sufficient time, an attempt shall be made to inform the authorized person who sent the notice that it will not be honored unless adequate information is supplied.

E. Upon receipt of effective notice of delinquent support payments, together with all required supplementary documents and information, the designated official shall identify the member from whom moneys are due and payable. The allotment shall be established in the amount necessary to comply with the support order and to liquidate arrearages if provided by a support order, when the maximum amount to be allotted under this provision, together with any other moneys withheld for support from the member, does not exceed:

1. Fifty percent of the member's disposable earnings for any month in which the member asserts by affidavit or other acceptable evidence that he or she is supporting a spouse, dependent child, or both, other than a party in the support order. When the member submits evidence, copies shall be sent to the authorized person, together with notification that the member's support claim shall be honored. If the support claim is contested by the authorized person, that authorized person may refer this matter to the appropriate court or other authority for resolution.

2. Sixty percent of the member's disposable earnings for any month in which the member fails to assert by affidavit or other acceptable evidence that he or she is supporting a spouse, dependent child, or both.

3. Regardless of the limitations above, an additional 5 percent of the member's disposable earnings shall be withheld when the notice states that the total amount of the member's support payments is 12 or more weeks in arrears.

430404. Disposable Earnings

A. Include the following items in computing the disposable earnings for members assigned within the continental United States:

1. Basic pay (including Military Service academy cadet and midshipmen pay)

★2. Basic allowance for housing (BAH) for members with dependents and members without dependents in the grade of E-7 or higher

3. Basic allowance for subsistence (BAS) for commissioned and warrant officers

4. Career sea pay

5. Diving pay

6. Flying pay (all crew members)

7. Proficiency pay and special duty assignment pay

8. Special pay for medical, dental, optometry, and veterinary officers
9. Submarine pay

B. Include the following additional items in computing the disposable earnings for members assigned outside the continental United States:

1. Family separation allowance, Type II (FSA-R only)
2. Foreign duty pay
3. Special pay for duty subject to hostile fire and imminent danger (applies only to members permanently assigned in a designated area)
4. Special pay for overseas extensions
5. Overseas housing allowance
6. Cost-of-living allowance

C. After including the items in subparagraphs 430404.A and B, above, subtract the following items to compute the final disposable earnings value:

1. Amounts the member owes the United States
2. Deductions for the Armed Forces Retirement Home
3. Fines and forfeitures
4. Federal and state employment and income taxes to the extent that the amount deducted is consistent with the member's tax liability
5. Deductions for Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance
6. Advances of pay the member received before the date the designated official received notice of the support allotment. (In computing future advance pay entitlement, deduct the amount of the allotment required by law.)
- ★7. Other amounts required by law to be deducted (e.g., dental plan premium).

430405. Notice to Member and Member's Commanding Officer

A. Within 15 calendar days after the date of receipt of notice, the designated official shall send to the member, at his or her duty station, written notice:

1. That notice has been received from an authorized person, including a copy of the documents submitted.

2. Of the maximum percentages which can be withheld under subparagraph 430403.E, above, and a request that the member submit supporting affidavits or other documentation necessary for determining the applicable percentage.

3. That the member may submit supporting affidavits or other documentation as evidence that the information contained in the notice is in error.

4. That by submitting supporting affidavits or other necessary documentation, the member consents to the disclosure of such information to the party requesting the support allotment.

5. Of the amount or percentage that will be deducted if the member fails to submit the documentation necessary to enable the designated official to respond to the notice within the prescribed time limits.

6. That a consultation with a judge advocate or legal officer will be provided by the Military Department concerned, if possible, and that the member should immediately contact the nearest legal services office.

7. Of the date that the allotment is scheduled to begin.

B. The designated official shall notify the member's commanding officer, or designee, of the need for consultation between the member and a judge advocate or legal officer. The designated official shall provide the member's commanding officer, or designee, with a copy of the notice and other legal documentation received by the designated official.

C. The Military Department concerned shall give the member the following:

1. When possible, an in-person consultation with a judge advocate or legal officer of the Military Service concerned, to discuss the legal and other factors involved in the member's support obligation and failure to make payment.

2. Copies of any other documents submitted with the notice.

D. The member's commanding officer, or designee, shall confirm in writing to the designated official within 30 days of the date of notice that the member received a consultation concerning the member's support obligation and the consequences of failure to make payments, or when appropriate, of the inability to arrange such consultation, and the status of continuing efforts to fulfill the consultation requirement.

E. If, within 30 days of the date of notice, the member has furnished the designated official with affidavits or other documentation showing the information in the notice to be in error, the designated official shall consider the member's response. The designated official may return to the authorized person, without action, the notice for a support allotment required by law, together with the member's affidavit and other documentation, if the member submits substantial proof of error, such as:

1. The support payments are not delinquent.
2. The underlying support order in the notice has been amended, superseded, or set aside.

430406. Payments

A. Except as provided in subparagraph C, below, the cognizant DFAS Center Director (or designee) shall make the support allotment by the first end-of-month payday after the designated official is notified that the member has had a consultation with a judge advocate or legal officer, or that a consultation was not possible, but not later than the first end-of-month payday after 30 days have elapsed from the date of the notice to the member. DFAS Centers will not be required to vary their normal military allotment payment cycle to comply with the notice.

B. If several notices are sent with respect to the same member, payments shall be satisfied on a first-come, first-served basis within the amount limitations in subparagraph 430403.E, above.

C. When the member identified in the notice is found not to be entitled to money due from or payable by the DFAS Center, the designated official shall return the notice to the authorized person and shall advise him or her that no money is due from or payable by the DFAS Center to the named individual. When it appears that amounts are exhausted temporarily or otherwise unavailable, the authorized person shall be told why and for how long any money is unavailable, if known. If the member separates from active duty, the authorized person shall be informed that the allotment is discontinued.

D. Payment of statutorily-required allotments shall be enforced over other voluntary deductions and allotments when the gross amount of pay and allowances is not sufficient to permit all authorized deductions and collections. Allow the member to choose which discretionary allotments to cancel. If the member refuses or is unable to advise which allotments to cancel, cancel in the following order:

1. Class C allotment for Combined Federal Campaign

2. Class B allotment for savings bonds
3. Discretionary allotment payable to a financial organization for deposit to the member's account (includes allotments payable to a mutual fund or investment firm and allotments to pay for personal or car loans)
4. Allotment for Post-Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program contributions
5. Class L allotment to repay loans to Military Service relief agencies and the American Red Cross
6. Discretionary allotments in the following order:
 - a. Payments to dependents/relatives
 - b. Emergency payment to dependents (class X)
 - c. Repayment of home loans and payment of rent
 - d. Commercial life, health, and dental insurance
 - e. Navy Mutual Aid Insurance
 - f. NSLI or U.S. Government Life Insurance

E. The authorized person or allottee shall notify the designated official promptly if the operative court order upon which the allotment is based is vacated, modified, or set aside. The designated official shall also be notified of any events affecting the allottee's eligibility to receive the allotment, such as the former spouse's remarriage if a part of the payment is for spousal support, and notice of a change in eligibility for child support payments under circumstances of death, emancipation, adoption, or attainment of majority of a child whose support is provided through the allotment.

F. An allotment established under this chapter shall be adjusted or discontinued upon notice from the authorized person.

G. Neither the Department of Defense, nor any officer or employee, shall be liable for any payment made from moneys due from, or payable by, the Department of Defense to any individual pursuant to notice regular on its face, if such payment is made in accordance with this section. If a designated official receives notice based on a support order which, on its face, appears to conform to the laws of the jurisdiction from which it was issued, the designated official shall not be required to ascertain whether the authority that issued the order had obtained personal jurisdiction over the member.

4305 ALLOTMENTS FOR COMMERCIAL DEBTS

430501. General. Monies due from, or payable by, the United States to active duty members are subject to the involuntary allotment. The application for direct payment of an involuntary allotment to satisfy a judgment for commercial indebtedness from the pay of a member subject to involuntary allotment must be accompanied by a certified copy of a final judgment issued by a court of competent jurisdiction within any state, territory, or possession of the United States.

430502. Definitions. The following definitions apply to this section:

Designated Agent:

Director
DFAS-Cleveland Center
DFAS-CL/L
PO BOX 998002
Cleveland OH 44199-8002

(216) 522-5301

B. Active Duty Member. A Regular member or any member of a Reserve Component on active duty pursuant to Title 10, United States Code, section 12301, for a period in excess of 180 days at the time an application for involuntary allotment is received by DFAS, excluding members in a prisoner of war or missing in action status and retired members.

C. Final Judgment. A valid, enforceable order or decree, by a court from which no appeal may be taken, or from which no appeal has been taken within the time allowed, or from which an appeal has been taken and finally decided.

430503. Application to Designated Agent

A. To initiate an involuntary allotment, an applicant (creditor) shall send a copy of the final judgment certified by the clerk of the court, accompanied by DD Form 2653, Involuntary Allotment Application, and other supporting documents required by DoD Instruction 1344.12 ("application package") (reference (ed)), to the designated agent.

B. The application package shall be sent by mail or delivered in person to the designated agent. The designated agent shall note the date and time of receipt of the application package.

C. When the application package does not sufficiently identify the member, it shall be returned directly to the applicant with an explanation of deficiency.

D. Once the application package is effectively served on the designated agent, the application package will be processed in accordance with DoD Directive 1344.9 (reference (ee)) and DoD Instruction 1344.12 (reference (ed)).

E. Upon receipt of a completed application, together with all required supporting documents and information, including a certified copy of the court order, the designated agent shall identify the member from whom the monies are payable, and the member's commanding officer. Notice shall be sent to the member and the member's commanding officer in accordance with DoD Instruction 1344.12 (reference (ed)), paragraph F.2.b. The involuntary allotment shall not exceed the lesser of 25 percent of a member's pay subject to involuntary allotment or the maximum percentage of pay subject to garnishment proceedings under the applicable state law.

F. If the member's pay is subject to a garnishment or statutory allotment for spousal or child support, in addition to the involuntary allotment application, the combined amounts deducted from the member's pay shall not exceed the lesser of 25 percent of a member's pay subject to involuntary allotment or the maximum percentage of pay subject to garnishment proceedings under the applicable state law. If the maximum percentage allowed for involuntary allotments would be exceeded by both deductions, garnishments and statutory allotments for spousal and child support take priority over the involuntary allotment.

G. If the designated agent is served with more than one involuntary allotment application, the applications will be processed on a first-come first served basis. After the first application is processed, additional applications shall be returned to the applicant in accordance with DoD Instruction 1344.12 (reference (ed)), paragraph F.2.b(5)(c)6, with a notice that a current involuntary allotment is being paid and no funds are available.

430504. Pay Subject to Involuntary Allotment. See paragraph 500302 of this volume.

430505. Notice to Member and Member's Commanding Officer

A. The designated agent immediately will mail one copy of the application package and DD Form 2654 (Involuntary Allotment Notice and Processing) to the member and two copies of the application package, along with DD Form 2654, to the member's commanding officer. The designated agent will provide notice to the member and the member's commanding officer that automatic processing of the involuntary allotment application will occur if a response is not received within 90 calendar days from the original date of mailing, unless the member has been granted an extension to respond (see subparagraph 430505.B, below).

B. If the member is temporarily unavailable to respond, the member's commanding officer may grant a reasonable extension of time for the member's response. The commanding officer will notify the designated agent that the member has been granted an extension to respond, the date the response is due, and the reason (s) for the extension. In the absence of any additional correspondence from the member's commanding officer, the involuntary allotment application may be automatically processed within 15 calendar days after the date a response was due, including any approved extension response date.

430506. Payments

A. Except as provided in subparagraph 430506.C, below, the cognizant DFAS Center Director (or designee) shall begin payment of an involuntary allotment within 30 days after the designated agent approved the application package. However, the DFAS Centers will not be required to vary their normal military allotment system to comply with the application package. Payment of the involuntary allotment will continue until the amount specified in the judgment is collected, or the allotment is canceled or suspended.

B. If several applications are sent with respect to the same member, payment shall be satisfied on a first-come first served basis within the limitations of subparagraphs 430503.E, and F, above.

C. When the member identified in the application package is not entitled to any monies from the Military Department concerned, the designated agent shall return the application package to the applicant, with an explanation that no money is due, or payable to, the member. When it appears that amounts are exhausted temporarily or otherwise unavailable, the applicant shall be told why and for how long any money is unavailable, if known. If the member separates from active duty, the applicant shall be informed that the allotment is discontinued.

D. Payment of statutorily-required involuntary allotments shall be enforced over other voluntary deductions and allotments when the gross amount of pay and allowances is not sufficient to permit all authorized deductions and collections. The member will be allowed to choose which discretionary allotments to cancel. If the member refuses or is unable to advise which allotments to cancel, the finance office will cancel discretionary allotments in the order listed in subparagraph 430406.D, above.

E. The applicant shall notify the designated agent promptly if the operative court order upon which the allotment is based is vacated, modified, or set aside. The designated agent shall also be notified of any event affecting the applicant's eligibility to receive the allotment.

F. An allotment established under this chapter shall be discontinued upon notice from the applicant.

G. Neither the United States, nor any officer or employee, shall be liable for failure to make payment or for any payment made from monies due from, or payable by, the Military Services to any individual pursuant to an application package that is regular on its face, if such payment is made in accordance with this section and DoD Instruction 1344.12 (reference (ed)). If the designated agent receives an application package based on a final judgment, which on its face, appears to conform to the laws of the jurisdiction from which it was issued, the designated agent shall not be required to ascertain whether the authority that issued the order has obtained personal jurisdiction over the member.

H. The applicant will refund directly to the member any amounts overcollected within 30 days of discovery or notice of overpayment.

CHAPTER 44

WITHHOLDING INCOME TAX4401 WITHHOLDING FROM CURRENT PAY

★440101. Wages Subject to Withholding of Federal and State Income Tax. The taxable pay (Table 44-1) of all Military Service members except those listed in paragraph 440102, below, is subject to withholding of federal and state income tax. The taxable value of certain noncash fringe benefits, in excess of statutory limitations, that is provided to some members, is subject to federal and applicable state income taxes (see Table 44-1, rules 18 and 19).

440102. Wages Not Subject to Withholding of Federal and State Income Tax. Military pay of the following Military Service members is not subject to withholding of federal and state income tax:

★A. On or before 31 March 1996, all active duty members for any month during which they qualify for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion, as prescribed in paragraph 440103, below. Beginning 1 April 1996, for commissioned officers (O-1 and above), pay earned up to the highest rate of pay payable to any enlisted member plus the amount of hostile fire/imminent danger pay that is actually payable to the officer for any month during which they qualify for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion, as prescribed in paragraph 440103, below, is not subject to withholding of federal and state income tax.

★B. All active duty members for any month during any part of which the member is in a missing status as defined in the Definitions during the Vietnam conflict as a result of such conflict; except for periods for which it is officially determined that the member is absent from post of duty without authority. These provisions are effective from 28 February 1961 and terminated on 30 June 1996.

C. Federal income tax will not be withheld upon military wages of legal residents of Puerto Rico. United States income tax withholding is precluded upon military wages properly subject to Puerto Rico withholding. Puerto Rico withholding is not required on wages earned but unpaid at the date of death of a military member. Federal income tax withholding is proper on these wages.

★440103. Combat Zone Income Tax Exclusion for Active Service in a Combat Zone or Qualified Hazardous Duty Area

A. Combat Zone Defined

1. Effective 1 January 1964, Executive Order 11216 (reference (cc)) designated the following area as a "combat zone." Vietnam, including the waters adjacent thereto within the following described limits: From a point on the east coast of Vietnam at the juncture of Vietnam with China southeastward to 21 degrees N. Lat., 108 degrees 15' E. Long.; thence southward to 18 degrees N. Lat., 108 degrees 15' E. Long.; thence southeastward to 17 degrees 30' N. Lat., 111 degrees E. Long.; thence southward to 11 degrees N. Lat., 111 degrees E. Long.; thence southwestward to 7 degrees N. Lat., 105 degrees E. Long.; thence westward to 7 degrees N. Lat., 103 degrees E. Long.; thence northward to 9 degrees 30' N. Lat., 103 degrees E. Long.; thence northeastward to 10 degrees 15' N. Lat., 104 degrees 27' E. Long.; thence northward to a point on the west coast of Vietnam at the juncture of Vietnam with Cambodia. The island of Phu Quoc is a part of the territory of Vietnam.

2. Effective 17 January 1991, Executive Order 12744 (reference (cd)) designated the following areas (including air space and adjacent waters) as "combat zones." Persian Gulf; Red Sea; Gulf of Oman; Gulf of Aden; that portion of the Arabian Sea that lies north of 10 degrees N. Lat., and west of 68 degrees E. Long.; and the total land areas of Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Bahrain, Qatar, and the United Arab Emirates.

★3. Per Executive Order 13002 (reference (eh)), signed 13 May 1996, the designation of Vietnam and waters adjacent thereto as a combat zone was terminated effective as of midnight 30 June 1996.

★B. Qualified Hazardous Duty Area Defined. Effective 21 November 1995, Public Law 104-117 (reference (ei)) authorized tax benefits for members performing services in peacekeeping efforts in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, and Macedonia, hereinafter referred to as qualified hazardous duty areas, in the same way as if services were performed in a combat zone.

★C. Qualification for Combat Zone Income Tax Exclusion for Active Service in a Combat Zone or Qualified Hazardous Duty Area. A member of the Armed Services is entitled to combat zone tax exclusion or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion for any month during any part in which:

★1. A member performs active service in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area designated in subparagraph A, above. Periods in the zone or area during which members are absent from their duty assignments in the zone or area on account of sickness, wounds, internment by the enemy, or other lawful cause are periods of active service.

★2. A member in active service in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area who becomes a prisoner of war or missing in action is deemed, for the purposes of this paragraph, to continue in active service in the combat zone or area for the period for which member is entitled to such status for military pay purposes.

★3. A member, assigned to duty in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area on or after 21 November 1995, who is directed to perform temporary duty, granted official leave, or is authorized to depart from the zone or area for other lawful cause, and whose departure or return is on any day of the month may receive the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion for that month. Exception: In instances when the absence on leave, TAD, or TDY extends over a period which includes a full calendar month, the tax exclusion may not be allowed for that calendar month.

★4. A member who is present, however briefly, in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area on official duty requiring presence in that zone or area qualifies for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area tax exclusion for that month. When the airspace over a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area is included as part of the zone or area, members who pass over or through the zone or area during the course of a trip between two points, both of which lie outside the zone or area, are entitled to an exclusion only if the members are assigned to official temporary duty to the airspace of the zone or area, or qualify for hostile fire/imminent danger pay as a result of the flight. If the airspace is not designated for imminent danger pay, (but is part of the designated zone or area), members must be assigned to perform duty in the airspace rather than flying over the zone or area as in an incidental part of the trip to qualify for the exclusion. The fact that most members are in an official duty status when flying through a designated airspace should not be construed to mean they are assigned to the airspace to perform duty and therefore entitled to the exclusion. The following examples apply:

★Example 1. Member A is assigned as a navigator to an air unit stationed outside the combat zone. On 4 June, during the course of a flight between Member A's home base and another base outside the combat zone, the aircraft on which Member A serves as a navigator flies over a combat zone (the airspace is part of the designated combat zone). Member A is not on official temporary duty in the airspace of the combat zone and does not qualify for hostile fire/imminent danger pay as a result of the flight. Accordingly, Member A is not deemed to have served in a combat zone since Member A passes through the zone without either being on official duty to the combat zone or qualifying for hostile fire/imminent danger pay.

★Example 2. Same scenario as example 1, except that the airspace is not part of the designated zone and Member B is entitled to hostile fire/imminent danger pay as a result of the flight. Member B is deemed to have served in a combat zone and entitled to the combat zone tax exclusion if Member B's duties are determined to be in direct support of the military operation in the zone.

★Example 3. Member C is a navigator of an air unit stationed outside a combat zone. On 4 June, Member C is ordered to perform duty (execute a mission) in the airspace over the combat zone (which is part of the designated zone) and return to his home station outside the combat zone. Member C is not entitled to hostile fire/imminent danger pay as a result of the flight. Member C is entitled to the combat zone tax exclusion for the month of June for performing official temporary duty in the airspace (combat zone) during the period.

★5. A member performs military duties in areas outside the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area in direct support of military operations in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area and qualifies for hostile fire or imminent danger pay under Chapter 10. (The hostile fire or imminent danger pay entitlement must be related to activities or circumstances in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area.) Commanders/commanding officers who feel members of their unit qualify for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area treatment under this provision should request certification from the applicable approval authority as designated by the Secretary of Defense.

a. When members are entitled to tax exclusion under this paragraph, entitlement continues for periods of absence, prisoner or missing status, and temporary duty as stated for service in the actual combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area in subparagraph C.1, 2, 3, or 4, above.

b. Service is in direct support of military operations in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area if it has the effect of maintaining, upholding, or providing assistance for those involved in military operations in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area. The following examples are provided to assist in determining whether or not personnel qualify for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area tax exclusion. In each case, personnel must be entitled to hostile fire pay/imminent danger pay.

★(1) Since the act of transporting necessary supplies is a function included within the concept of providing direct support of military operations, services rendered on a supply vessel transporting supplies to a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area are in direct support of military operations in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area.

★(2) If an airship in a nearby country outside the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area is used to transport supplies and personnel into the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area, the ground crews who load the aircraft and the maintenance personnel who maintain the aircraft all qualify for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area tax exclusion. In addition, members who maintain and control the airstrip (e.g., as a meteorologist or air traffic controllers) are performing services in direct support of military operations in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area and would also qualify.

★(3) Members of a unit or installation who support and assist other members of the unit or installation who serve in direct support of military operations in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area are considered as serving in direct support of military operations in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area. Generally, all members serving in support of operations at an installation where some members serve in direct support of military operations in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area are serving in direct support of military operations in that combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area (e.g., unit or installation personnel for an airstrip would qualify).

★6. A member is hospitalized or rehospitalized any place as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area or while serving in areas under subparagraph C.5, above. A member is considered as hospitalized or rehospitalized until such time as status as a hospital patient ceases by reason of discharge from the hospital. Combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area tax exclusion under this subparagraph shall not apply to any months beginning more than 2 years after the date of the termination of activities in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area.

★D. Periods For Which Tax Exclusion Does Not Apply. Members who are in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area merely for their own convenience, e.g., while on leave from a duty station not in the zone or area, are not entitled to the exclusion.

★E. Tax Abatement in Case of Death

★1. A member who dies in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area, or as a result of wounds, disease, or injury incurred while serving in the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area (including under subparagraph C.5, above) is exempt from income tax for:

- a. The taxable year in which death occurs.
- b. Any prior taxable year ending on or after the first day served in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area.
- c. Any such tax for prior years which remains unpaid at date of death.

2. For missing members, the date of death is not earlier than the date on which a determination of death is made. The preceding sentence does not cause abatement of taxes for any taxable year beginning:

- a. After 2 January 1978, for service in the combat zone designated for purpose of the Vietnam conflict, or
- b. More than 2 years after the date designated under 26 U.S.C. 112 (reference (ce)) as the date of termination of combatants' activities in any combat zone other than that designated for purposes of the Vietnam conflict.

★F. Termination Date Other than Cases of Hospitalization. In no case will the tax exclusion authorized in subparagraph C.1 through C.6, above, for active duty members extend beyond the effective date specified in an executive order terminating the designation of the combat zone, or in the case of qualified hazardous duty areas, the effective date of the termination of imminent danger pay for the area.

440104. Tax Abatement for Death Caused by Terrorist or Military Action Overseas. A member whose death was caused by terrorist or military action (excluding training exercises) overseas qualifies for federal tax abatement under the provisions of 26 U.S.C. 692(c) (reference (ce)). The law forgives the deceased member's tax liability for the year of death and for all prior tax year(s) for the period beginning with the tax year before the year the injuries or wounds were incurred. The deceased member's survivors, executor, or administrator should contact the Internal Revenue Service for necessary guidance in claiming the tax exemption.

440105. Rate of Withholding

A. General. Federal and state withholding will be in accordance with Treasury Department Circular E (reference (cf)) and Treasury Department regulations governing state income tax withholding as implemented in Military Service directives.

B. Additional Federal and State Withholding Tax. A member may authorize an additional amount to be withheld monthly to meet the income tax needs while entitled to combat zone tax exclusion, or for other reasons. A member who becomes entitled to combat zone exclusion while on TAD or TDY may authorize that regular withholding be continued. The member's pay account must be adjusted currently, however, for the combat zone exclusion. See procedural instructions of the Military Service concerned for preparation of additional withholding tax requests and effective dates.

440106. State and Local Taxes

A. Tax Requirements. The state in which a member claims legal residence may tax compensation and other income regardless of the member's location. Compensation for Military Service, however, is not taxable by any state, territory, possession, political subdivision, or district which is not the legal residence of the member.

B. Legal Residence. Each member must designate a legal residence, and report any changes of legal residence. A member's legal residence does not change because of change of permanent station. Legal residence at the time of entry into the Armed Forces remains the same until changed by the member. Notification of a change of legal residence must be accomplished by DD Form 2058 (State of Legal Residence Certificate).

C. Withholding. Compensation for military service which is subject to federal taxation is also subject to the mandatory withholding of income taxes on behalf of those states (including the District of Columbia) which have entered into an agreement for the purpose of such withholding with the Secretary of the Treasury. The following states have entered into such an agreement:

D. Delinquent Taxes. There is no authority for the involuntary collection of delinquent state tax liabilities of members.

440107. Nonresident Aliens

A. Definition. For the purpose of federal income tax withholding, a nonresident alien is an individual who is neither a citizen of the United States, nor a resident of the United States. An alien (non-citizen) is a resident of the United States if he or she is lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, meets the substantial presence test, or makes an election to be treated as a resident during the first year of presence in the United States, except as may be provided by tax treaty between the United States and the alien's country of residence.

1. Lawfully admitted for permanent residence. An alien is considered lawfully admitted for permanent residence when first present in the United States after being lawfully admitted for permanent residence. Status as lawfully admitted for permanent residence continues, regardless of the alien's location, until the alien is outside the United States after his or her immigration status as a permanent resident is revoked or is determined by a court or administrative body to have been abandoned. Nominal presence in the United States of 10 days or less after revocation or abandonment of permanent resident status will be disregarded if the alien is substantially connected to a foreign country during that time.

2. Substantial presence test. An alien meeting the substantial presence test is a resident from the first day of presence in the United States in a calendar year in which the test is met, except that nominal presence for less than ten days while still substantially connected to a foreign country is disregarded, until the alien leaves the United States and establishes closer connections to a foreign country than to the United States. Nominal presence in the United States of ten days or less after this point is disregarded. Also, days of presence in the United States during which the alien is unable to leave the United States due to a medical condition which arose while in the United States are disregarded in applying the substantial presence test. An alien meets the substantial presence test if:

a. Present in the United States on at least 31 days of the calendar year; and

b. The sum of the days on which the individual was present in the United States during the current calendar year, 1/3 of the days on which the individual was present in the first preceding calendar year, and 1/6 of the days on which the individual was present in the second preceding calendar year, equals or exceeds 183, except that

c. Individuals do not meet the substantial presence test for the current year if they are present on less than 183 days in the current year and have in the current year a tax home in a foreign country to which they have closer connections than to the United States, provided that they have not applied for an adjustment of immigration status or otherwise taken steps toward lawful permanent residence in the United States.

B. Tax Liability. A Military Service member who is a nonresident alien is liable for United States income tax on pay attributable to service performed in the United States, even if such pay is not subjected to federal income tax withholding because of the provisions in subparagraph C, below. A nonresident alien member's pay attributable to service performed outside the United States is not subject to United States income tax. For purposes of this paragraph, service outside the United States means shore duty at a naval or other military installation outside the United States and the States of Alaska or Hawaii, or duty on board a seagoing vessel of the Navy (other than a vessel normally used in coastal waters only). Service in a possession of the United States is considered duty outside the United States. A nonresident alien member is not disqualified from eligibility for any of the income exclusions or withholding exemptions set forth in Chapters 44 and 45 because of a nonresident alien status.

C. Income Tax Withholding. A non-resident alien member's pay for any period of service within the United States exceeding 60 calendar days is subject to federal income tax withholding. Such pay may also be subject to state income tax withholding, depending on the state residency status of the alien. Pay for periods of service within the United States of 60 calendar days or less, or for service outside the United States, is not subject to federal or state income tax withholding. The nonresident alien member nevertheless is subject to federal income taxation, and may be subject to state income taxation, on pay for all days of service within the United States and is responsible for reporting, and paying any tax due on, all such income. The fact that income tax is not withheld on pay attributable to a particular day does not prevent that day from being counted as a day of presence in the United States for purposes of subparagraph A, above.

440108. Advance Payment of Earned Income Credit Amounts. Members who can satisfy the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) tests for earnings and status of dependents qualify for the earned income credit and may elect to receive advance payments. Advance payment will be made after such members file an Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate (TD Form W-5) obtained from IRS. Payments may be made to members under Treasury Department regulations as implemented in Military Service directives.

4402 COLLECTION OF DELINQUENT FEDERAL TAXES BY LEVY

440201. Authority. When a member does not pay any federal income tax due within 30 days after the IRS has issued a notice and payment demand to the member, the IRS may collect the tax by levy on the member's salary or other income. Receipt by a Military Service (or DFAS Center) of a levy notice is the legal authority to commence collection of the delinquent federal income taxes after taking into consideration the appropriate exemptions.

440202. Levy Processing Procedures

A. The IRS serves the tax levy by mail. The Notice of Levy on Wages, Salary, and Other Income, IRS Form 668-W(c) (a 5-part form), includes instructions for the employer (Military Service) and the employee (member).

B. Upon receipt of the levy, the disbursing officer immediately:

1. Completes part 3 and returns the levy to IRS if no funds are due the member (for example, higher precedence deductions (Table 52-1) or in a status described in paragraph 440203, below); or

2. Forwards parts 2 through 5 to the member if funds are due or will soon become due.

C. The member certifies his or her filing status and number of personal exemptions and returns parts 3 and 4 to the disbursing officer within 3 days (or other period authorized by the IRS in coordination with the Military Service concerned and as established within Military Service regulations). If the member does not return these parts, the levy will be processed as if the member is "married filing a separate return with one personal exemption."

D. The levy will continue in effect until the amount due in the levy notice is collected or until the levy is released by the IRS.

E. Forward a misrouted levy notice or levy release to the member's cognizant DFAS Center.

★440203. Effects on Members in a Combat Zone or Qualified Hazardous Duty Area in a Missing Status

A. The disbursing officer immediately will complete part 3, with appropriate notations, and return the levy to the IRS if the member is:

★1. Serving (performing official duties) in a designated combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area for any period of time;

★2. Serving (performing official duties) outside a designated combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area, but in direct support of military operations in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area, and in receipt of hostile fire or imminent danger pay as a result of duties performed in direct support of designated combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area operations.

★3. Continuously hospitalized as a result of service in a designated combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area (limited to 5 years of hospitalization in the United States); or

4. In a missing status.

B. Levy deferment remains in effect for 180 days after a Military Service member no longer meets any of the above criteria. Entitlement begins anew (including a new 180-day clock) when a member requalifies for deferment (again meets one of the above criteria), with one exception. Rehospitalization for a previously treated wound, illness, or injury does not requalify a member, nor does it stop/restart a 180-day clock.

440204. Attachment of Earnings and Payment to IRS

A. The member's "take home pay," minus exempt amounts claimed via the member's certified claim on part 3 of the levy, will be attached and sent to the IRS until the levy is satisfied or released by the IRS. The member's usual pay deductions will continue while levy is in effect.

B. When exemptions are equal to or exceed the member's "take home pay," advise the IRS office that served the levy.

440205. Problem Cases. When IRS determines a member's delinquent income tax is a "problem case," it furnishes with the levy notice:

A. Statement of amount of delinquent taxes, and

B. Statement that member's "take home pay" is not enough to pay the levy and all available accrued pay should be attached. In such cases, use all items of pay and allowances including travel allowances and accrued leave settlement paid upon discharge, less exemptions (refer to Form 668-W(c)) and deductions and collections in Table 52-1, rules 1 through 12. Discontinue the member's voluntary (non-discretionary) allotments (except for allotments for support of minor children which are authorized in compliance with court orders when entered prior to date of levy) as necessary to pay the levy. If the amount of the levy does not require stopping all voluntary allotments, the member selects any allotments to be stopped. If the member does not select, the disbursing officer stops allotments as necessary. Stop insurance allotments last.

4403 INSTALLMENT COLLECTION OF DELINQUENT TAXES

440301. Agreement for Liquidation of Federal Tax Indebtedness by Payroll Deductions. A member may arrange with the IRS to pay delinquent taxes by monthly deductions from pay. Agreements are made on IRS Form 2159. A member may not cancel an agreement before the tax indebtedness is completely liquidated. The Military Services handle agreements as follows:

A. Army. Collect and pay to IRS as prescribed for payment of indebtedness to instrumentalities and agencies of the government.

B. Navy and Marine Corps. Process the agreement as a T allotment if the period of liquidation is 3 months or longer. If the period is less than 3 months, the disbursing officer pays each month to IRS in the amount of the deduction.

C. Air Force. Process as class T allotment.

440302. Change of Member's Status During Liquidation Period. See Table 44-2.

★19	employer-provided parking	to the extent that the value exceeds the monthly exclusion limit (note 14).		to the extent that the value is equal to or less than the monthly exclusion limit.

NOTES:

- Excludes the reduction of basic pay for educational benefits under the "New G.I. Bill" after 31 Dec 1985. (38 U.S.C. 1411)
- ★2. Add payments (rules 1 through 6) made currently or at a later date for commissioned officer service (O-1 and above) to other pay for the month of service (up to the highest rate of pay payable to any enlisted member) to determine the maximum amount to be applied for combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion. (See subparagraph 350103.B).
- This does not apply to fines imposed by court-martial or non-judicial punishments. Withhold tax from the member's full pay credited before deducting the fine. Report the full amount of the pay credited, without deducting the fine, as earned income.
- ★4. Exception is pay earned for any month combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area exclusion applies. Combat zones and qualified hazardous duty areas are so designated by Executive Order or statute, respectively.
- The susceptibility of items of military pay and allowances to state income taxes depends upon the law of the member's state of legal residence. Items of pay and allowances which are not subject to Federal Income Tax Withholding (FITW), however, will not be subject to State Income Tax Withholding (SITW). Items of pay and allowances subject to FITW will be subject to SITW if member's state of legal residence has entered into a withholding agreement with the Secretary of Treasury. Total or partial exclusion by states of military pay from income will be recognized in the computation of the amount of state income tax to be withheld.
- See paragraph 350404 for exceptions to the normally taxable payment of disability severance pay.
- ★7. Only pay and allowances actually earned during any month a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area designation applies are excludable, even if paid in later, non-qualifying month. Entitlements earned during any non-qualifying month but paid in a month the exclusion applies, remain taxable. Accrued leave payments qualify only for that portion of days which were actually earned during a qualifying month.
- Allowances considered nontaxable on 9 Sep 1986 remain nontaxable. Any allowance created after 9 Sep 1986 will be taxable for federal and state income tax purposes unless specified otherwise.
- ★9. If a member receives an overpayment of a taxable pay item, then the overpayment should be reported in the year paid unless the combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area tax exclusion is applicable. If recovery of the overpayment is waived, remitted, or canceled, there are no additional tax reporting requirements. If the overpayment consists of a nontaxable pay item, then the overpayment should not be reported as taxable income if the resulting debt is waived, remitted, or canceled.
- Taxable wages and withholding must reflect the debt in the year the payment was received. Collection action will reflect impact on taxable wages and withholding (if applicable) as collection is made, but only if made in the same year as the original payment.

- ★11 The amount of death gratuity payments made to survivors of military members who died after 20 August 1996 that is excludable from income, may not exceed $3,000, regardless of the number of beneficiaries. If there are multiple beneficiaries, the $3,000 exclusion should be applied proportionately. Report all death gratuity payments separately, using TD Form 1099R. Report the gross amount of each payment in box 1 and 2A. Enter code 4 in box 7. For members who died on or before 20 August 1996, the maximum exclusion amount is $5,000.
- ★12 SSB and VSI payments remain taxable even if a member signs the agreement to separate while serving in a combat zone or qualified hazardous duty area.
- ★13 For combat zone and qualified hazardous duty areas, effective 1 April 1996, for commissioned officers (O-1 and above), amounts over the highest enlisted grade (Sergeant Major of the Army, Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy, Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force, or Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps ; see Table 2-8, note 2, for clarification) plus the amount of hostile fire/imminent danger pay that is actually payable to the officer for that month are taxable and subject to federal and state tax withholding.
- 14.
 - a. Per DOD 4500.36R, USD(C) and USD (P&R) will jointly issue updated annual guidance concerning the valuation, on a monthly basis, of taxable government employer-provided home-to-work transportation fringe benefits provided to certain military members. Armed Forces Tax Council service representatives will distribute the annually updated guidance to the Military Services.
 - b. Each DoD Component will determine the value, to be calculated on a monthly basis, of government employer-provided taxable parking fringe benefits provided to military members. The monthly exclusion amount for 1996 is $165.
 - c. Determination must be accomplished utilizing the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and Treasury Regulations and documented accordingly. Each member's service:
 - (1) Will identify members receiving government employer-provided home-to-work transportation and/or parking fringe benefits, certify that the fringe benefits were authorized, calculate and certify the value of the taxable fringe benefits, and submit the appropriate taxable gross income amounts to the servicing DFAS central site no less often than annually. Exception: When members receive taxable fringe benefits from active duty assignments outside their DoD Component, the agency providing the taxable fringe benefit (such as parking) calculates the value of the benefit provided, and the member's service verifies the correctness of the calculations;
 - (2) Should keep members receiving such benefits advised of the tax liability accruing to them annually.
 - d. Members' certified taxable fringe benefit amounts must be sent to the servicing DFAS central site no less often than annually and not later than 15 Dec, each year, for processing to:
 - (1) Include the taxable non-cash benefit amounts in members' gross income,
 - (2) Withhold and deduct appropriate federal and state income taxes (not FICA taxes).
 - (3) Generate TD Forms W-2 that reflect the adjusted gross income and withholdings. Military Service field finance offices are not authorized to process taxable fringe benefits as additional taxable wages, to withhold applicable taxes, or to generate manual TD Forms W-2.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A, regarding Deductions and Collections from Waived Forfeitures Paid to Dependents
(DFAS Item F-58)

This is DFAS Interim Change 24-97 to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A.
This change is effective April 1, 1996. It is intended to clarify the changes made by IC 18-96 on Forfeiture of Pay and Allowances During Certain Court Martial Confinements.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Vol 7A. The, attached, final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change.

My point of contact, Lt Col Wies, may be contacted at

DFAS ITEM NUMBER F-58
DFAS INTERIM CHANGE NUMBER 24-97

1. Renumber paragraph 70506.1 (old numbering under IC 18-96) as 480306 and insert paragraph 480306 after paragraph 480305, retaining subparagraphs a., b., c., and d. of obsolete paragraph 70506.1 as 480306A, 480306B, 480306C, and 480306D.

2. Revise the second part of the sentence and renumbered paragraph 480306B to read:

"....but are limited to two-thirds of all pay."

3. Revise paragraph 480306C as follows:

"C. Waiver of Forfeitures in Favor of Dependents. The convening authority or a person acting under 10 U.S.C. 860 may waive any or all of the forfeitures of pay and allowances that were imposed by operation of law ("automatically"). The portion waived is payable to the accused member's dependent(s) as directed by the convening authority or person taking action.

1. Intent of Waiver and Taxability of Waived Forfeiture Amount. Direct payments, to dependents, of the waived portion of a forfeiture are intended to provide transitional compensation and direct financial assistance for a period not to exceed six months. Because the waived portion of the forfeiture remains wages generated by the member's military status, it is taxable income to the accused member, even though, paid to the member's dependents. Therefore, after appropriate Federal, State, and FICA taxes are withheld from the taxable portion of the waived forfeiture amount, the remaining (net) waived amount is paid to the member's dependent(s), as directed. Also, see table 44-1, rule 8.

2. Other Deductions and Collections. The Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) contains no provisions for the deduction of any of the items appearing in table 52-1 from the waived forfeiture of pay and allowances. Therefore, only applicable taxes listed in subparagraph 1 above, may be deducted from the waived portion of pay and allowances that would otherwise be forfeited, with the remaining amount paid to the member's dependent(s), as directed by the convening authority. See table 44-1, rule 20, and table 45-2, rule 2.

3. Effective Date of Payments. As directed by the convening authority or, if not specifically stated, the date of the convening authority action on the waiver.

4. Add the following rule and note to table 44-1:

a. Add rule 20 as follows:

Rule A

B

20 Waived portion of CM forfeiture of taxable pay or pay and allowances
 (Chapter 48)

See para. 480306C

5. Add subparagraph 450202G to read:

"G. Waived portions of forfeitures of basic pay payable to dependent(s) of confined members as prescribed in paragraph 480306.

6. Add note 1 to Table 45-2, rule 2, as follows:

a. In rule 2, Column B, at end of text, add the following:

"(note 1)"

b. Below Table 45-2, add the following:

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Regarding Designation of Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, Albania, the Adriatic Sea, and part of the Ionian Sea as a Combat
Zone (DFAS Item I-13)

Attached is DFAS Interim Change 13-99 to chapter 44 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. It was effective March 24, 1999.

This change implements Executive Order 13119 of April 13, 1999, which designates the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (Serbia/Montenegro), Albania, the Adriatic Sea, and the Ionian Sea North of the 39th parallel as a combat zone.

Due to the routine nature, non-interpretive aspect of this change, and the urgency of disseminating this information, it was not submitted for preliminary review and comment.
Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

Our point of contact, Ms. Ann Cook, may be contacted at DSN 337-5059 or (703) 607-5059.

DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF YUGOSLAVIA (SERBIA/MONTENEGRO), ALBANIA, THE AIRSPACE ABOVE, AND ADJACENT WATERS AS A COMBAT ZONE

1. Make the following change to DODFMR, Volume 7A, Chapter 44 and the bibliography:

a. Insert new paragraph 440103A.4 to read as follows:

"Effective March 24, 1999, Executive Order 13119 designated the following areas (including the airspace above) as a combat zone: The Federal Republic of Yugoslavia (Serbia and Montenegro); Albania; the Adriatic Sea, and the Ionian Sea north of the 39th parallel."

CHAPTER 45

FEDERAL INSURANCE CONTRIBUTIONS ACT (FICA)4501 GENERAL

The Federal Insurance Contributions Act (reference (ci)) requires the withholding of tax from wages of employees covered by the Social Security Act and the payment of employer's tax by federal agencies.

4502 REQUIREMENTS

450201. Members Subject to FICA. Any member appointed to, enlisted in, or inducted into any Military Service is subject to FICA tax. This includes members serving:

- A. In the Military Service academies (excluding foreign nationals),
- B. In an aviation cadet status, or
- C. In a combat zone.

450202. Taxable Wages. The following wages are subject to FICA withholding:

A. Basic pay (excluding reduction for educational benefits under the Montgomery G.I. Bill) (reference (aa)).

B. Active duty compensation.

C. Inactive duty compensation. (This applies to inactive duty training performed after December 1987.)

D. Taxable amounts earned but unpaid at the date of death (subject to the maximum earnings tax) if paid to the beneficiary during the same calendar year on which member's death occurs.

E. Basic pay or compensation earned when absence is because of injury, sickness, or hospitalization.

F. Taxable amounts received prior to the government's voidance of the member's enlistment contract.

4503 DEDUCTION OF FICA TAX

450301. Amount. See Table 45-1 for the withholding percentage rate and for the total maximum tax.

450302. Maximum Tax. Discontinue deductions when the member's total active duty basic pay plus inactive duty compensation equal the annual maximum earnings subject to FICA withholding and when the maximum tax has been deducted.

450303. Effect of Punishment, Absence, and Non-pay Status. See Table 45-2.

450304. More Than One Employer. Deduct FICA tax regardless of any amounts previously or currently being deducted by another employer. Each Military Service is considered a separate employer, except that cross servicing of a member's pay account between the Military Services does not constitute a change of employers. A break in service of any length within the same Military Service does not constitute a change of employers. Consider all FICA tax withheld during the calendar year in determining the total amount withheld. If application of the above results in a withholding in excess of the maximum tax, the member may claim the excess from the Military Service concerned and adjustments will be made accordingly.

450305. Retroactive Entitlements and Deductions. Adjustments will be considered as affecting the pay for the year in which made and will be reflected in the quarter in which paid. Do not consider any adjustments made for under or overpayments of inactive duty compensation received prior to 1 January 1988. Adjust in the quarter in which the retroactive entitlement or deduction of basic pay is entered in the member's pay account. All retroactive payments are subject to FICA withholding at the rates in effect at the time of payment. If the member has been discharged, separated, or retired, issue a IRS Form W-2.

450306. Indebtedness. FICA taxes previously withheld may not be used to offset any indebtedness.

CHAPTER 46

DEDUCTIONS FOR THE ARMED FORCES RETIREMENT HOMES4601 ARMED FORCES RETIREMENT HOME (AFRH OR "RETIREMENT HOME")

The AFRH includes the United States Soldiers' and Airmen's Home and the Naval Home.

4602 GENERAL

Monthly deductions, up to a maximum of $1.00, are set by the Secretary of Defense after consulting with the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board. Pay deductions are deposited in the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. Do not prorate deductions for partial months of service.

4603 APPLICABILITY

460301. Members Subject to Deductions. Regular enlisted members, and warrant and limited duty officers (LDO) of the Armed Forces (includes the Coast Guard only when operating as a Military Service in the Navy) are subject to AFRH deductions.

460302. Members Not Subject to Deductions

- A. Reserve Component members,
- B. Commissioned officers other than LDOs,
- C. Selective trainees inducted into federal service, and
- D. Members in a non-pay status for the entire calendar month.

4604 PRECEDENCE OVER OTHER DEDUCTIONS AND COLLECTIONS

Retirement Home deductions apply only against pay. They take precedence over all other deductions and collections except forfeitures, "Montgomery G.I. Bill," and FICA taxes. See Chapter 52, the Precedence of Pay Deductions and Collections, Table 52-1.

CHAPTER 47

SERVICEMEMBERS' GROUP LIFE INSURANCE (SGLI) PROGRAM4701 DEFINITIONS

The following terms vary from the Definitions and are applicable to this chapter only.

470101. Active Duty. Full-time duty in the Armed Forces other than active duty for training and full-time duty as a cadet or midshipman at a Military Service academy.

470102. Active Duty for Training. Full-time duty in the Armed Forces for training purposes performed by Reserve Components; full-time National Guard duty; and full-time duty as a cadet or midshipman of the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) while attending field training or practice cruises.

470103. Coverage. SGLI payable upon death while insured.

470104. Inactive Duty Training. Duty (other than full-time duty) prescribed or authorized for members of a Reserve Component that is scheduled in advance by competent authority with a specific time and place designated. This does not include work or study performed in connection with correspondence courses or attendance at educational institutions in an inactive status.

470105. Member. A person on active duty, active duty for training, or inactive duty training with the Uniformed Services in a commissioned, warrant, or enlisted rank or grade; a cadet or midshipman at a Military Service academy; or a cadet or midshipman of the ROTC while performing field training or practice cruises.

4702 GENERAL

Members (defined in paragraph 470105, above) who receive basic pay for 1 or more days per month are responsible for SGLI premiums (coverage listed in section 4703, below) unless they waive coverage.

4703 FULL-TIME COVERAGE

The SGLI Program is administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

★470301. Basic Coverage. Effective 1 April 1996, this program automatically insures eligible members against death in the amount of $200,000 when the member is performing active duty or active duty for training for an ordered period of more than 30 days, or while on full-time duty as a cadet or midshipman at a Service academy. All Selected Reservists and any other Ready Reserve members who are assigned or attached to a unit or position that may require performing active duty or active duty for training and that will require at least 12 scheduled periods of inactive duty for training annually are also covered full-time (includes, but is not limited to training and retired categories A, B, C, D, F, H, L, P, Q, T, and U). Members may elect coverage for an amount less than $200,000, in $10,000 increments, or may elect to waive coverage.

★470302. Changes in Coverage. A member who is covered for an amount less than maximum SGLI coverage may later apply for increased coverage in writing in an amount of up to maximum SGLI coverage with proof of good health. See Table 47-1, note 7, for the only exception to the proof of good health requirement.

4704 PERIODS OF COVERAGE

See Table 47-1.

4705 APPELLATE LEAVE (WHETHER OR NOT EXCESS)

Where coverage was never terminated prior to being placed on appellate leave (in a full duty status or never confined with loss of full pay and allowances), continue coverage. When placed on appellate leave following confinement with total forfeiture of pay and allowances (during which coverage had been properly stopped, see Table 47-1, rule 9), coverage is not reinstated. If appellate leave followed a restoration to duty with pay, coverage is reinstated on the date the member returns to a full duty status and continues during the period of excess leave. Coverage is reinstated at the amount in effect on the day prior to its stoppage.

4706 FORFEITURE OF COVERAGE

Any person guilty of mutiny, treason, spying, desertion, or who, because of conscientious objections, refuses to perform service in the Armed Forces of the United States, or refuses to wear the uniform of such force, forfeits all rights to any coverage. This insurance is not payable for death inflicted as a lawful punishment for crime or for military or naval offense, except when inflicted by an enemy of the United States.

4707 DEDUCTIONS (SGLI PREMIUMS)

When a member is in a status referred to in section 4703 (eligible for full-time coverage), the monthly deduction (effective 1 July 1994) is $.90 for each $10,000 of coverage. The deduction will be made even though the member may have paid the yearly premium as a Reservist covered on a part time basis (Chapter 58, paragraph 580702). For rules concerning starting and stopping deductions, see Table 47-1. Monthly deductions are not prorated for partial months of service. Deduct the full month's premium for any month in which a member is covered for at least one day. During months in which coverage amounts change, deduct the full month's premium for the higher coverage rate.

4708 REFUNDS

Refunds will not be made of amounts deducted before the effective date of any election for reduced or waived coverage. When a request for reinstatement of coverage or for increased coverage is rejected by the Office of Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (OSGLI), any increase in premiums withheld pending OSGLI rejection will be credited to the member's pay account.

4709 EXTRA HAZARD COSTS

470901. Cost. In addition to the deduction from the member's pay, each of the Military Services contributes from its appropriations an amount (determined by the VA) attributable to the extra hazard cost of SGLI. This premium reflects the cost of death claims in excess of the level of death claims that would result from normal peacetime service.

470902. Payment. The Military Services centrally pay the premium for extra hazard costs along with the member's premiums to the VA.

4710 SETTLEMENT OF SGLI CLAIMS

Death claims are filed with the OSGLI. The order of precedence for payment is the same as prescribed for arrears of pay (Chapter 36, section 3602). The OSGLI will reduce the insurance proceeds by the amount of any member premiums not paid.

Table 47-1. Effective Dates of SGLI Coverage and Deductions (Full-Time and Part-Time)

NOTES:

1. Members in an excess leave status normally remain eligible for coverage. (See section 4705 for the appellate leave exception.) Establish monthly premiums in such cases as deductions against member pay accounts or collect as cash according to procedures of the Military Service concerned.
2. First time enlistees in the Selected Reserves are eligible for coverage on the date of enlistment when assigned to a Ready Reserve unit that meets the requirements of 38 U.S.C. 1965(5)(B), regardless if they are or are not required to participate in periods of inactive duty training and have not yet been called to their initial active duty period. This does not apply to delayed entry active duty enlistees.
3. Elections made by Reserve Component members continue in effect during continuous obligation to perform duty in the same Uniformed Service. Reserves are not required to reelect or reapply for their desired level of coverage each time they perform duty. For the exception, see rule 8.
4. A new period of coverage begins and new elections must be submitted when a member resumes an obligation to perform duty or reenters on duty in the same Uniformed Service more than 1 day following termination of previous obligation; or when a member assumes an obligation to perform duty and enters on duty in a different Uniformed Service at any time. A member entering active duty after a break in service is automatically covered by the maximum basic coverage, until the member elects otherwise, even though the member may have converted former SGLI coverage to an individual policy following last discharge or release from active duty. A former member, insured under the Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI) Program, who declines SGLI coverage solely to maintain VGLI coverage, upon termination of VGLI, shall be automatically insured under maximum basic coverage if the member is otherwise qualified.
- ★5. Any previous election not to be insured or to be insured for less than $200,000 is canceled. Maximum basic coverage is automatically in effect unless member again elects not to be insured or to be insured in a reduced amount.
6. For members covered on a part-time basis, an election for reduced or no coverage is effective at the end of the last day of the duty period being performed. If the election is made outside a duty period, the reduced or waived coverage is effective when the election is received by the Military Service.
- ★7. Increase or reinstatement of coverage is contingent upon written application by the member on DVA Form SGLV 8285, Request for Insurance, and approval by the OSGLI.
8. In the case of members totally disabled on the date of separation from such duty, the insurance shall cease 1 year after the date of separation or on the date the insured ceases to be totally disabled, whichever is earlier, but in no event prior to the expiration of 120 days after separation.
9. Part-time coverage is in effect only on the days of active duty or active duty for training, or during the hours of inactive duty training, including periods of travel to and from such duty. Coverage resumes at the beginning of each such period.
10. Coverage continues for 120 days after the period of duty if the member, during that duty period, incurs or aggravates a disability and the disability renders the member uninsurable at standard premium rates according to good health standards approved by the VA and as determined by the OSGLI.
11. Members carried in an AWOL or confined status, except for an offense listed in section 4706, remain eligible for coverage. Insurance terminated under the provisions of rule 9, together with any elections made, will be automatically reinstated as of the date the member is restored to duty with pay. Start premium deductions at the appropriate rate on the month of the date the member is restored to duty with pay.
12. Members restored to duty under conditions which, in effect, result in a remission of sentence may apply for reinstatement of coverage under rule 4.

SUBJECT: Interim Change to 19-97 Department of Defense
Financial Management Regulation, Volume 7, Part A (DoDFMR Vol 7A), Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance
(SGLI) Program Premium Reduction (DFAS Item G-23)

The Department of Veterans Affairs has announced their decision to lower the SGLI premium. The reduction, effective July 1, 1997, lowers the premium for each $10,000 of coverage from 90 cents to 85 cents.

This reduction is the result of program management efficiencies achieved by the Office of Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (OSGLI) and the continued low death rates among Active Duty and Ready Reserve personnel.

The implementation of this reduced rate will require system changes. Our point of contact, Major Jeff Holden may be contacted at DSN 327-5065 or (703) 607-5065. Our FAX number is DSN 332-5271 or (703) 602-5271.

CHAPTER 48

COURTS-MARTIAL SENTENCES4801 EFFECT OF SENTENCES ON PAY AND ALLOWANCES480101. Forfeitures

A. A sentence to partial forfeiture of pay deprives a member of the amount of pay stated in the sentence. The sentence applies for the number of months or days expressly stated.

B. Forfeitures apply to pay (and allowances if total forfeitures of pay and allowances are specifically adjudged) becoming due on and after the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority, unless the convening authority suspends or remits the forfeiture.

480102. Fines. A fine is in the nature of a judgment. It makes a member pecuniarily liable to the United States for the amounts specified in the sentence. Fines are not self-executing. They are debts to the government until:

A. Paid in cash by the member,

B. Collected by deduction from the member's current pay, or

C. Collected by deduction on settlement of a member's pay account at discharge.

480103. Forfeiture of Allowances. Allowances are forfeited only when a sentence by a general court-martial includes forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

480104. Application of Forfeitures. This means that forfeitures are withheld (as distinguished from collected) on and after the date a sentence is approved by the convening authority. It applies when a court-martial sentence, as approved by the convening authority, includes forfeiture and confinement, not suspended, or deferred, and the sentence is such that further appellate review is required before the sentence can be ordered executed.

480105. Execution of Forfeitures. This means actual collection of forfeitures when a sentence is ordered executed. The order of execution authorizes the collection of any monies withheld during the period specified in the convening authority's initial order to apply the forfeitures, and any monies remaining to be collected from current pay during the remainder of the period of the approved sentence. If any amount ordered forfeited is not actually withheld or collected during the period specified by the approved sentence, such amount may be involuntarily collected as an erroneous payment as provided in Table 50-1, rule 3, at a rate not to exceed the maximum authorized by Table 50-6, rule 2. However, the collection rate will not be less than that fixed by the approved sentence.

4802 REQUIREMENT FOR REDUCTION IN GRADE UNDER CERTAIN COURTS-MARTIAL SENTENCES

Unless otherwise provided in regulations of the Military Service concerned, a court-martial sentence, as approved by the convening authority which includes dishonorable or bad conduct discharge, confinement, or hard labor without confinement, by operation of law requires reduction of an enlisted member to pay grade E-1 effective on the date of that approval. If the sentence of a member who is thus reduced in pay grade is set aside or disapproved, or, as finally approved, does not include any of the above punishment, all rights and privileges denied the member because of the reduction are restored. The member is entitled to the pay and allowances to which member would have been entitled, for the period the reduction was in effect, had the grade reduction not been applied. The Military Services apply reduction in this instance as follows:

480201. Army. An accused may be retained in the grade held at the time of the sentence or in any intermediate grade if the convening or higher authority, taking initial action on the case, suspends all elements of the sentence which would otherwise require reduction to pay grade E-1 by operation of law and provides for retaining the member's present or intermediate grade as set forth in AR 600-200 (reference (v)). When the action set forth in AR 600-200 (reference (v)) is not taken, the member is reduced to pay grade E-1 effective on the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority.

480202. Navy and Marine Corps. Exercising sole discretion, the convening authority or supervisory authority may retain the accused in the pay grade held at the time of sentence or an intermediate pay grade and suspend the automatic reduction to pay grade E-1 which would otherwise be effected. The automatic reduction may be suspended without regard to whether any part of the approved sentence was suspended. Additionally, the convening authority may direct that the accused serve in pay grade E-1 while in confinement but be returned to the pay grade held at the time of sentence or an intermediate pay grade upon release from confinement. If, however, the adjudged sentence included a reduction in pay grade, the reduction in pay grade should be suspended for the same period as the automatic reduction is suspended. Failure of the convening authority to address automatic reduction will result in the automatic reduction to pay grade E-1 on the date of the convening authority's action.

480203. Air Force. Effective with courts-martial sentences adjudged on and after 1 May 1975, involving enlisted members, an automatic reduction to pay grade E-1 is no longer prescribed by the Air Force. Any reduction in grade must be expressly stated in the court-martial sentence. If the sentence includes an approved reduction, as well as punitive discharge, confinement at hard labor, or hard labor without confinement, the member will be reduced under Article 58a, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) (reference (i)), at the time of action by the convening authority. The reduction, if approved, will not be delayed until completion of appellate review under Article 71(c), UCMJ (reference (i)).

★480204. Effective Date of Automatic Reduction in Grade. If an enlisted member is reduced by operation of law to pay grade E-1, the effective date of the reduction is the date on which the sentence is approved by the convening authority.

★480205. Reduction in Grade as a Result of Courts-Martial Sentence. Effective for court-martial sentences adjudged after 31 March 1996, a reduction in grade that is imposed as part of a court-martial sentence takes effect on the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority, or on the 14th day after the sentence is adjudged, whichever is earlier.

4803 FORFEITURES

480301. Pay Subject to Forfeiture. Forfeitures, other than total forfeitures apply to:

- A. Basic pay, based on the member's years of service, and
- B. Career sea pay or foreign duty pay, provided such pay continues to accrue after the effective date of the sentence.
- C. An allotment made voluntarily.

480302. Pay Not Subject to Forfeiture. Forfeitures, other than total forfeitures, do not apply to special (other than sea or foreign duty pay) or incentive pay.

480303. Taxes. A forfeiture is a loss of entitlement to the pay involved. consequently, forfeitures are not taxed. Compute the amount of pay to be forfeited before withholding for federal and state income and FICA taxes. Compute taxes on the gross pay remaining after deductions of the forfeiture.

480304. Reduction in Grade. If a member's sentence includes or requires a reduction in grade, apply forfeitures to the pay of the grade to which reduced.

480305. Concurrent Forfeitures. When two or more sentences require forfeitures for a concurrent period, the amount stated in each sentence is forfeited only for the specified period. If each forfeiture results from a court-martial under which the maximum forfeiture which could be imposed is two-thirds of the pay subject to forfeiture, collect only two-thirds of the pay subject to forfeiture for the concurrent period. Following the concurrent period, pay is forfeited under the remaining sentence at the rate specified in the sentence for the time remaining in that sentence.

4804 EXECUTION OF COURTS-MARTIAL SENTENCES APPELLATE REVIEW REQUIREMENTS

See Table 48-1.

★4805 EFFECTIVE DATES OF FINES AND FORFEITURES

★480501. Fines. Begin collection of fines on the date the convening authority orders execution of the sentence.

★480502. Forfeitures

A. For courts-martial sentences adjudged before 1 April 1996, begin forfeiture of pay or allowances on the date the convening authority approves that part of the sentence establishing the forfeiture.

B. For courts-martial sentences adjudged after 31 March 1996, begin forfeiture of pay or allowances on the date the convening authority approves that part of the sentence establishing the forfeiture, or on the 14th day after the date the sentence was adjudged, whichever is earlier. However, the convening authority may defer the start of the forfeiture until the date the convening authority approves the sentence. The convening authority may revoke deferment at any time.

C. Other deferrals. A convening authority may defer the execution of a forfeiture until a prior forfeiture is executed.

4806 LOSS OF PAY AND ALLOWANCES WHEN CONFINED UNDER SENTENCE TO DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE, ARMY AND AIR FORCE

Pay and allowances of an enlisted member of the Army or Air Force who is in confinement under sentence of a dishonorable discharge, the execution of which has been suspended, accrue only until the affirmance of the discharge upon completion of the required appellate review under Article 71 of the UCMJ (reference (i)).

★480601. Forfeiture of Pay and Allowances During Certain Court Martial Confinements.

A. General Court Martial. Effective with general courts martial sentences adjudged after 31 March 1996, a member who is sentenced to

1. Death;
2. Confinement for more than six months; or
3. Confinement of any length and either a dishonorable discharge, a bad-conduct discharge, or a dismissal forfeits all pay and allowances while in confinement or in a parole status.

B. Special Court Martial. If the sentence is adjudged by special court martial, forfeitures under the same conditions apply as in subparagraph 480601.A, above, but are limited to two-thirds of all pay and allowances.

C. Payments to Dependents. The convening authority or a person acting under 10 U.S.C. 860 may waive any or all of the forfeitures automatically imposed in this paragraph for a period not to exceed 6 months in the case of a member who has dependents. In the event of such a waiver, and when directed by the person acting under 10 U.S.C. 860, pay the waived portion of the forfeiture to the dependents of the member. Payments made to dependents are considered normal military pay and allowances otherwise due the member, and are treated as payments made to the member for tax withholding and reporting purposes.

D. Effect of Disapproval, Set aside, or Reduction of Punishment. If the sentence of a member who forfeits pay and allowances pursuant to this paragraph is set aside or disapproved or, as finally approved, does not provide for a punishment listed in subparagraph 480601.A, above, pay the member the pay and allowances that the member would have been paid except for the forfeiture, for the period during which the forfeiture was in effect. The payment to the member should be reduced by the amount of any payments made to the member's dependents under subparagraph 480601.C, above.

4807 COLLECTION

480701. Forfeitures. Since courts-martial forfeitures constitute a loss of entitlement of the pay concerned, the forfeitures take precedence over all debts.

480702. Fines. Fines constitute an indebtedness to the United States. Collect fines as follows:

A. Current Pay. Fines may be collected involuntarily from the current pay of all members. They are collected after all other prior indebtedness for the period involved has been collected. If prior deductions reduce the member's pay by two-thirds of gross pay for any month, no pay accrues against which fines may be applied. In such case, defer collection of fines until pay accrues against which they may be applied.

B. Final Pay. Fines may be collected involuntarily from the final pay of all members. They are collected after all other indebtedness. Collections will not reduce pay received by enlisted members of the Army or Air Force to less than one-third of gross pay. Separation travel allowances and donations on discharge will not be used to liquidate an indebtedness for enlisted members. Otherwise, all final pay and amounts due the member at separation may be collected involuntarily (see Table 50-6, rule 2.)

480703. Rate of Collection. Charge forfeitures of pay, as approved and ordered executed, against a member's pay at the rate required by the sentence until the sentence is fully satisfied. Forfeitures of pay are considered as collected from day to day as pay accrues. Prorate the monthly rate of forfeiture on a daily basis for a portion of a month. The amount of forfeiture or fine is governed by the language of the sentence. For example, a sentence to forfeit $20 per month for 6 months means a forfeiture of $120 to be collected at $20 per month. Pay cannot be forfeited by implication. For example, a sentence reading "to be confined for 2 months and to forfeit $60 of his or her pay for a like period," does not mean a forfeiture of $60 per month for two months, or a total of $120, but means a forfeiture of only $60.

480704. Non-Pay Status. During periods when a member is in a non-pay status, pay does not accrue against which forfeitures or fines can apply. Do not count such periods in computing the time during which pay is forfeited for a specific period.

480705. Restoration to Duty. A member restored to duty following a non-pay status is again entitled to pay against which forfeitures or fines may apply.

480706. Service Beyond ETS for Medical Care. The pay and allowances of an enlisted member retained beyond ETS for medical care or hospitalization are subject to forfeitures and fines.

480707. Non-collection Due to Administrative Error. Collect courts-martial forfeitures not collected due to administrative error when the error is discovered. Collection may be made for the court-martial forfeiture or for erroneous payments made during the period covered by the sentence. Indebtedness of this type cannot be remitted under statutes authorizing remission of indebtedness.

480708. Pay Due or Accrued. Pay of a member subject to forfeiture by sentence of court-martial is pay which is earned on and after the effective date of the forfeiture. See section 4805, above.

480709. Forfeiture Based on Reserve Status in Certain Circumstances. All punishments (as the result of any offense committed on or after 12 March 1987) remaining unserved (1) at the time a member of a Reserve Component is released from active duty or (2) at the end of a period of active duty training or the end of any normal period of inactive duty training may be carried over to subsequent periods of inactive duty training or active duty. A forfeiture of pay may be collected from active duty and inactive duty training pay during subsequent periods of duty. (See section 4813, below.)

4808 REMISSION, SUSPENSION, AND CANCELLATION OF FORFEITURES

480801. Death or Separation

A. The death or discharge of a member under a suspended sentence operates as a complete remission of any unexecuted or unremitted part of a sentence.

B. Discharge, release from active duty (except under paragraph 480709, above), or death of a member under an unsuspended sentence to forfeiture cancels any uncollected portion of the forfeiture which would extend beyond the date of discharge, release, or death.

480802. End of Term of Service, Unauthorized Absence, or Desertion. The end of term of service of a member in military confinement, the unauthorized absence, or desertion of a member, stops collections of uncollected forfeitures since no pay accrues against which forfeitures can operate. If an unauthorized absentee or deserter is restored to pay status, resume otherwise proper collections.

480803. Extension of Enlistment. When enlisted member begins to serve on a voluntary extension of enlistment, cancel any uncollected forfeitures the collection period of which would extend beyond the normal expiration of term of service. Involuntary extensions of enlistments do not interrupt collection of forfeitures.

480804. Restoration to Duty. A member under sentence to dishonorable or bad conduct discharge, total forfeiture, and confinement, released from confinement and restored to duty, is entitled to pay and allowances from the date restored to duty, and the forfeiture becomes inoperative thereafter. This applies even though no other action may have been taken to suspend, remit, or mitigate the sentence to total forfeiture. A restoration to duty to serve out an incomplete enlistment, from which an enlisted member has received a sentence of dishonorable or bad conduct discharge, revives partially unsatisfied forfeitures.

480805. Effective Date. Except when a later date is specified, an order remitting, mitigating, or suspending the unexecuted portion of a sentence is effective from and includes the date of the order. Such an order relieves the member of the unexecuted portion of the forfeiture or fine on and after the effective date.

480806. Results of Remission or Suspension. When an unexecuted portion of a sentence to forfeiture or fine is remitted or suspended, the member is no longer subject to the unexecuted forfeiture or fine. If forfeitures have been applied (as distinguished from collected), the member is relieved of such forfeitures.

480807. Vacation of Suspension. When a suspension of a forfeiture or fine is vacated, the uncollected forfeiture or fine is revived and proper for collection.

4809 SENTENCES DISAPPROVED OR SET ASIDE

480901. When New Trial or Rehearing Is Not Ordered. When a court-martial sentence is set aside or disapproved and a new trial or rehearing is not ordered, all rights, privileges, and property affected by the executed part of the sentence are restored to the member. Such restoration includes any executed forfeiture and any pay and allowances lost as a result of an executed reduction in grade.

480902. New Trial or Rehearing Ordered

A. When an executed court-martial sentence which includes a forfeiture is set aside or disapproved, and a new trial or rehearing is ordered that results in an approved sentence to forfeiture, credit the member with the amount of any forfeiture effected under the first sentence. When an unexecuted court-martial sentence which includes a forfeiture is set aside or disapproved and a rehearing is ordered, the member is entitled to full pay and allowances (subject to other proper deductions) for the period from the convening authority's action on the original sentence until the convening authority's action on the subsequent sentence. Entitlement to pay and allowances thereafter depends on the terms of the new sentence.

B. When a previously executed dishonorable or bad conduct discharge is not imposed by a new trial, the member is entitled to the pay and allowances which the member would have received had the dishonorable or bad conduct discharge not been executed. When a previously executed dismissal of an officer is not imposed by a new trial, an administrative discharge is substituted. The President may reappoint the officer to the grade and rank the officer would have attained if the officer had not been dismissed. The total time between the dismissal and reappointment is considered as actual service for all purposes, including pay and allowances.

4810 REIMBURSEMENT OF PAY WITHHELD UNDER ILLEGAL SENTENCES

A member is entitled to reimbursement for pay withheld under an illegal sentence of a court-martial.

4811 PAY AND ALLOWANCES WHILE ON PAROLE

A member released on parole from a disciplinary barracks is considered to be in an authorized leave status and is entitled to pay and allowances to the extent the member has unused accrued leave to the member's credit, less any fines and forfeitures still remaining in effect. Once the member's accrued leave has been used, the member is considered to be in an excess leave/leave without pay status and is not entitled to pay and allowances during this period unless, upon appellate review, the conviction is completely overturned or set aside. However, if the member is subject to a new trial or rehearing, apply the provisions of paragraph 480902, above.

4812 DISPOSITION OF COURTS-MARTIAL FORFEITURES AND FINES

Transfer courts-martial forfeitures and fines of Armed Forces (regular and Reserve) enlisted members, warrant officers, and limited duty officers to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. Transfer only those amounts that are in excess of any government indebtedness. For purposes of this paragraph only, the term "government indebtedness" refers to an amount due from the member for reimbursement to the government. For example, the repayment of an advance of pay is a reimbursement but, an amount due to the Internal Revenue Service, while considered a debt to the government, is not a "reimbursement" or "government indebtedness," for purposes of this paragraph.

481201. Separation From Service Not Involved When enlisted members, warrant officers or limited duty officers have been sentenced by a court-martial to forfeit all or part of their pay, no part of the forfeiture is creditable to Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund until amounts equal to all outstanding indebtedness to the government have been withheld. Transfer only those amounts forfeited that are in excess of any government indebtedness or amounts owed any individuals. In addition, for the purposes of this paragraph, the term "amounts owed any individuals" refers to amounts owed from a member's pay by direction of a commanding officer pursuant to Article 139 of the UCMJ (reference (i)).

481202. Members Who Are Being Separated From Service. A court-martial forfeiture of a limited duty officer, warrant officer, or enlisted member is not credited to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund when the member has unsatisfied indebtedness at date of separation, except as shown in paragraph 481203, below. It remains in the military personnel appropriation. If the unsatisfied debt at separation is less than the forfeiture, credit the difference between the aggregate unsatisfied debt and the forfeiture to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. (For example: If the uncollected indebtedness is $500 and forfeiture is $600, credit the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund the difference of $100 between the unsatisfied indebtedness and the forfeiture.) Transfer amounts collected afterward to counterbalance the indebtedness not to exceed the aggregate forfeiture, less amounts previously credited to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund.

481203. Indebtedness After Forfeiture Becomes Effective. If debts occur to enlisted members, warrant officers or limited duty officers after a court-martial has been executed and before credit of the forfeiture has been made to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund, such debts will not affect the disposition of the forfeiture. Credit the forfeiture to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund as if the indebtedness did not exist.

481204. Remission of Indebtedness. If a court-martial forfeiture of enlisted members, warrant officers or limited duty officers is not credited to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund due to outstanding debts, and the unliquidated portion of the debts are thereafter remitted or cancelled, do not credit the forfeiture that equals the amount of indebtedness remitted or cancelled to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. That amount remains in the military personnel appropriation.

481205. Commissioned Officers. Credit courts-martial forfeitures and fines of commissioned officers (except limited duty officers and warrant officers) to the appropriation to which the member's pay is properly chargeable.

4813 FORFEITURE SENTENCES CARRIED OVER TO SUBSEQUENT RESERVE COMPONENT DUTY

481301. In the case of a forfeiture sentence carried forward according to paragraph 480709, above, convert the stated amount of forfeiture to a percentage using the monthly rate of basic pay in Table 2-5 through 2-8 for the member's grade and length of service on the date the forfeiture sentence is approved. Apply that percentage to the pay for every period of duty the member actually performs during the stated period of the forfeiture sentence.

481302. Example

- A. A member, E-4 over 2, receives a sentence which includes a forfeiture (either nonjudicial punishment or court-martial sentence) of $200 a month for two months ($400).

B. The member's monthly rate of pay is $912.60.

C. Convert the original forfeiture to a percentage, $(200/912.60) = 21.92\%$.

D. For each period of duty performed during the stated period of the sentence, collect 21.92% of the member's pay from active duty and inactive duty training pay.

481303. The forfeiture sentence is satisfied by collection from however few periods of duty the member performs during the stated period of forfeiture. With regard to collection, apply the following:

A. If a member performs the duty above without forfeiture collection, the amount not collected on the basis of paragraph 481203, above, becomes an amount due the United States.

B. Otherwise, collect forfeiture at the percentage rate computed according to paragraph 481301, above, from all periods of duty during the stated period of forfeiture.

481304. Note that the forfeiture sentence is satisfied by collection from duty performed during the stated period of forfeiture only. If a member performs no duty during the stated period of the forfeiture sentence, no further collection action is necessary.

CHAPTER 49

NONJUDICIAL PUNISHMENT4901 AUTHORITY

Under authority of Article 15, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) (10 U.S.C. 815) (reference (i)), authorized commanders may impose nonjudicial punishment for minor offenses without resorting to courts-martial.

4902 AUTHORIZED PUNISHMENTS AFFECTING PAY

Nonjudicial punishments which affect pay are forfeiture of pay, reduction in grade, or combinations of these. Except as provided in this chapter, provisions of Chapter 48 relating to forfeiture of pay and reduction in grade by courts-martial also apply when such penalties are imposed as nonjudicial punishment.

4903 LIMITATIONS

490301. Maximum Forfeiture of Pay. The maximum forfeiture of pay which may be imposed under Article 15, UCMJ (reference (i)), is outlined in the Manual for Courts-Martial, United States 1984, part V (reference (cj)) and appendix 2, section 815 (reference (i)).

490302. Concurrent Courts-Martial and Nonjudicial Forfeitures. When nonjudicial forfeitures run concurrently with partial courts-martial forfeitures which are subject to the two-thirds limitation, the maximum total amount collectible is two-thirds of the pay subject to forfeiture.

490303. Reduction in Grade. When punishment includes both reduction in grade, whether or not suspended, and forfeiture of pay, the forfeiture is based on the grade to which reduced.

4904 SUSPENSION, REMISSION, AND MITIGATION

See Table 49-1.

4905 EXECUTION OF PUNISHMENT DURING APPEAL PROCEDURES

A member who incurs nonjudicial punishment considered unjust or out of proportion to the offense may, through proper channels, appeal to the next higher authority. The member may be required to undergo the adjudged punishment pending determination of the appeal. (Air Force: See AFR 111-9 (reference (ck))).

4906 EFFECTIVE DATES

Forfeitures and reduction in grade, if unsuspended, are effective on the date the commander imposes the punishment. (For Navy and Marine Corps members, however, nonjudicial forfeitures do not run concurrently. If such forfeiture is imposed while a prior forfeiture is still in effect, it will not commence until the prior forfeiture is completed.) Pay accrued by a member before the imposition of the punishment is not subject to forfeiture. When a forfeiture of pay is suspended, the suspension takes effect on the date of the action. When a member is restored to a higher grade by suspension of a reduction, the member is entitled to pay of the higher grade only from the date of suspension. If, however, a reduction or forfeiture is set aside and all rights, privileges, and property affected by it are restored, the member is entitled to pay as though the reduction had never been imposed. When the suspension of a punishment is vacated, the effective date for pay purposes is the date of the vacation.

4907 DISPOSITION OF FORFEITURES COLLECTED BY NONJUDICIAL PUNISHMENT

Disposition of forfeitures as a result of non-judicial punishment is treated the same as those as a result of courts-martial action. Refer to Chapter 48, section 4812 for disposition policies/procedures.

SUSPENSION, REMISSION, SETTING ASIDE, AND MITIGATION OF NONJUDICIAL PUNISHMENT
R U L E	A	B	C	D
	When nonjudicial punishment is	and the punishment has	the officer imposing the punishment, or the successor in command, may suspend the punishment probationally	or
1	reduction in grade	not been executed (note 2)	at any time	remit or set the reduction aside, or mitigate it to a forfeiture (note 1).
2	forfeiture of pay			remit or set the forfeiture aside (in whole or in part) or mitigate it to lesser forfeiture.
3	reduction in grade	been executed	only within 4 months after imposition	set the punishment aside in whole or in part or mitigate it to forfeiture (note 1 and 3).
4	forfeiture			set the punishment aside in whole or in part (note 3).

NOTES:

1. If mitigated, the amount of forfeiture or detention may not be greater than the amount that could have been imposed initially by the officer who imposed the reduction in grade.
2. An uncollected forfeiture of pay is considered to be unexecuted during the period for which it was imposed. Upon the expiration of the forfeiture period all unsuspended forfeitures, whether or not collected, are fully executed, but see section 4906.
3. Usually, this is done within 4 months after the punishment has been executed.

Table 49-1. Suspension, Remission, Setting Aside, and Mitigation of Nonjudicial Punishment

CHAPTER 50

STOPPAGES AND COLLECTIONS OTHER THAN COURTS-MARTIAL FORFEITURES5001 VOLUNTARY AND INVOLUNTARY COLLECTIONS

500101. Collection With Member's Consent. Members indebted to the United States will be encouraged to discharge their indebtedness through lump-sum cash payment when possible. When the amount of the debt relative to the member's ability to repay indicates that lump-sum settlement would create financial hardship for the member, installment payments will be accepted. Members will be encouraged to voluntarily accept liability for their indebtedness and to agree to a repayment schedule which adequately protects the interests of both the United States and the member.

500102. Collection Without Member's ConsentA. Current Pay

1. Current pay is available for repayment of an indebtedness without the member's consent only if such recovery is expressly authorized by statute.

2. Where Tables 50-1 through 50-5 authorize collection to be made "involuntarily," there is a statute authorizing such collection. When the indebtedness is a type for which there is no statute authorizing collection from pay, the Tables authorize collection "with member's consent."

B. Final Pay. When a member receives final pay on separation, indebtedness to the United States may be collected under the general rule of setoff without specific statutory authority. Under this rule, debts which may be collected from current pay only with the member's consent may be collected from final pay and allowances without the member's consent. Amounts owed to a Service relief society (Army Emergency Relief, the Air Force Aid Society, the Navy Relief Society, or the Coast Guard Mutual Assistance) may also be collected from final pay without the member's consent (37 U.S.C. 1007(c) and (h) (reference (aa))).

500103. Limitation on Collections

A. Current Pay. Some of the laws authorizing collection of indebtedness from a member's pay impose restrictions on the amount that may be collected or on the items that may be collected or on the items of pay from which collection may be made. These limitations are shown in Tables 50-1 through 50-6. When a member voluntarily authorizes collection, a rate of collection agreeable to the member and the disbursing officer is determined within guidelines shown in the Tables; however, collection in greater amounts may be authorized or requested by the member.

B. Final Pay. Table 50-6 shows which items of final pay and allowances are available for setoff of debts. The items shown as not available are specifically exempted by statute.

C. Gross Pay. Compute gross pay by adding together basic pay, all special and incentive pays, and all reenlistment bonuses. Gross pay does not include allowances or reductions in pay, such as forfeitures and MGIB.

D. Disposable Pay. Disposable pay when used to calculate maximum allowable deduction, is computed by deducting the following from gross pay of active duty members: FICA, Armed Forces Retirement Home, FITW, DDP, SGLI, SITW. For Reservists, the deductions to calculate disposable pay are: FICA, FITW, SITW, SGLI, SSLI, DDP.

500104. Installment Deduction for Indebtedness to the United States. Statutory authority to collect indebtedness to the United States by deductions from the member's pay exists under 37 U.S.C. 1007(c) (reference (aa)), 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)). Other statutes authorize collection of specific classes of debts. It shall be the policy of the Military Departments to collect debts owed to the Department of Defense or any of its instrumentalities or other Uniformed Services under 37 U.S.C. 1007(c) (reference (aa)). Debts administratively determined to be owed the United States or any of its instrumentalities, other than the Department of Defense or other Uniformed Services, shall be collected under 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)). Court judgments against a member in favor of the United States may not be collected under Public Law 97-276, 2 October 1982 (reference (cm)).

A. Collections Under 37 U.S.C. 1007(c) (reference (aa)). The law authorizes the deduction from a member's pay of amounts that the Secretary concerned (or designee) administratively determines to be owed the United States or any of its instrumentality's. Where a member of one Military Service owes a debt to another Military Service and the creditor Service makes an administrative determination of indebtedness, the creditor agency may forward such determination, along with certification that appropriate procedures set forth below have been complied with, to the cognizant DFAS Center. That Center then may initiate collection action.

1. Routine Adjustment. A routine adjustment corrects an overpayment resulting from clerical or administrative errors, delays in processing pay documents, or an automated pay system error which is discovered and collected within no more than two monthly pay periods after the date of overpayment. The member shall be provided with notice of adjustment when it is made, or as soon thereafter as practicable and shall be told whom to contact for additional information.

2. Other Collections. Before initiating any collection action other than a routine adjustment, the member shall be provided with at least 30 days written notice of the following (the Secretary concerned may prescribe additional rights prior to administrative determination of indebtedness under 37 U.S.C. 1007(c)) (reference (aa)). These procedures do not apply when the member has previously consented to pay checkage for the debt.

a. The nature and amount of the debt due the United States, and the intent to commence collection through deductions from pay;

b. That the member has the opportunity to inspect and copy government records related to the debt;

c. That the member has an opportunity for review of all the decisions related to the debt;

d. That the member has an opportunity to enter into a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee) under terms agreeable to both parties to establish a schedule for repayment of the debt;

e. That any portion of the debt remaining uncollected at the time of the member's separation shall be collected from the member's final pay and allowances; and

f. That the member has the right to seek waiver or remission of the debt, if appropriate.

3. The procedures specified in subparagraph 2, above, need not be completed prior to commencement of collection action if the time remaining before the member's estimated date of separation is not sufficient to complete collection and the government would be substantially prejudiced in its ability to collect the debt.

4. The maximum monthly amount that may be collected under this subparagraph is an amount equal to 2/3 of the member's pay less: (a) amounts deducted in arriving at disposable pay plus: (b) amounts collected under subparagraph B, below.

B. Collections Under 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)).

★1. The Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee) determines that a member is indebted to the United States under the authority of 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)). The designated office listed below is responsible for receiving these collection request:

DFAS-CL/ABA
1240 E. 9th Street
Cleveland OH 44199-8002

★2. Collection may be made in monthly installments or at established pay intervals not to exceed 15 percent of disposable pay for any pay period, unless a greater percentage is authorized by written consent of the member. Unsatisfied debts at discharge or retirement shall be deducted from subsequent payments of any nature due the member. The collection of a debt owned to departments and agencies other than the Department of Defense, its instrumentalities, or other uniformed services resulting from a court judgment is included under this authority.

★3. Due Process. Debts collected under 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)) are those owed to departments and agencies other than the Department of Defense or other Uniformed Services. The creditor agency is responsible for providing due-process rights to member debtors and for certifying to the Secretary of Defense that required due-process rights have been provided when requesting collection action. Once the Secretary of the Military Service concerned (or designee) has accepted the debt for collection, the member must be given written notice identifying the nature and amount of the debt due the United States and informing the member of the intent to commence collection through deductions from pay. The notice should provide a point of contact at the creditor agency for any questions or disputes the member may have.

500105. Interest, Penalties, and Administrative Costs

A. With respect to collections other than routine adjustments, the Secretary concerned shall charge a minimum annual rate of interest on an outstanding debt to the United States that is equal to the average investment rate for the Treasury tax and loan accounts for the 12-month period ending on 30 September of each year, rounded to the nearest whole percentage point.

B. Interest shall accrue from the date on which notice of debt and the interest requirements are first mailed or hand delivered to the debtor or such date as specified in the notice.

C. Interest may not be charged if the amount due on the claim is paid within 30 days after the date from which interest accrues in subparagraph B.

D. The Secretary concerned shall assess charges to cover administrative costs of processing and handling a delinquent debt.

E. A penalty charge not to exceed 6 percent a year shall be assessed for failure to pay a part of a debt more than 90 days past due. The charge will be calculated on the 91st day of delinquency, but shall accrue from the date the debt became delinquent.

F. Interest does not accrue on charges assessed under subparagraphs D and E; however, if the member defaults on a repayment agreement, uncollected interest, administrative costs, and penalty charges shall be added to the principal to be repaid.

G. The Secretary concerned may prescribe regulations identifying circumstances appropriate to waiving collection of interest and charges under subparagraphs A, D, and E.

500106. Collection From Retired Pay. Conditions for collection of active duty debts from retired pay are in Chapter 28, Volume 7B, of this Regulation (reference (cn)).

500107. Indebtedness Incurred in National Guard or Reserve. When a member reenters active military service, collect for unsatisfied indebtedness incurred in a National Guard or Reserve status.

500108. Early Payment. Payday payments made in advance in accordance with Chapter 32, paragraph 320107 are not considered "indebtedness" if the member dies before the date through which the pay was computed and paid.

500109. Bankruptcy. A member may file a petition of bankruptcy under chapters 7, 11, or 13 of the Bankruptcy Code (reference (aj)):

A. When the amount of an indebtedness due the United States is incurred prior to the filing date of the petition, the debt is termed prepetition indebtedness. Such debt may be collected by setoff from the member's pay account only through the day prior to the date the bankruptcy petition is filed, except as provided below:

1. After the date the bankruptcy petition is filed, prepetition indebtedness due the United States may be collected by the filing of proofs of claim with the United States Bankruptcy Court.

2. After the date the bankruptcy petition is filed, prepetition indebtedness due the United States may be setoff from the member's pay account if the member reaffirms indebtedness due the United States. Reaffirmation agreements must be approved by the court.

3. If the court subsequently dismisses a bankruptcy case, collection is permitted by setoff if otherwise authorized.

B. An indebtedness due the United States, but incurred after the filing date of the petition of bankruptcy, is collected by setoff if otherwise authorized.

C. A member voluntarily may enter into a "Chapter 13 Plan" (formerly Wage Earner's Plan) under the Bankruptcy Code (reference (aj)). When required by a Chapter 13 Plan (reference (aj)), send the member's pay to the court-appointed trustee as ordered by the court.

D. Refer to Military Service regulations listed below for payment procedures required by the foregoing paragraphs:

1. Army: Chapter 13, AR 37-103 (reference (co)).
2. Navy: Navy Comptroller Manual, Volume IV, Chapter 1 (reference (cp)).
3. Air Force: AFR 177-108, and AFR 110-24 (reference (cq)).

4. Marine Corps: MCO 7220-13G (reference (cr)).

500110. Pay Not Affected by Civil Process. An officer or enlisted member may not be deprived of pay by civil process except as follows:

- A. Garnishment for child support or alimony (see section 5002, below).
- B. Levy for delinquent federal income taxes (see Chapter 44, section 4402).
- C. Levy for child support (see section 5002, below).

★D. Statutorily-required child or child and spousal support allotments (Chapter 43).

★E. Involuntary allotment of pay for enforcement of commercial debts (see Chapter 43, paragraphs 430501-430507 and section 5004, below).

5002 LEGAL PROCESS FOR ENFORCEMENT OF CHILD SUPPORT AND ALIMONY OBLIGATIONS

500201. Garnishment of Pay for Enforcement of Child Support and Alimony Obligations

A. General. Moneys due from or payable by the United States to active duty members, members of the Reserve Components not on active duty, and retired members (including members of Fleet Reserve and Fleet Marine Corps Reserve) are subject to legal process issued by a state or federal court of competent jurisdiction to enforce a legal obligation to pay child support or alimony. Legal process issued by foreign courts may be honored under this authority if issued by a court of competent jurisdiction of a country with which the United States has an agreement which requires the United States to honor such process. Such an agreement has been reached with the Federal Republic of Germany. When the law of the state or foreign nation in which the issuing court is located conflicts with the federal law, the more restrictive law applies. The Code of Federal Regulation (5 CFR 581) (reference (cs)) takes precedence when in conflict with the contents of paragraph 500201.

B. Pay Subject to Garnishment. Except for amounts excluded under subparagraph D, below, all moneys due uniformed personnel, regardless of duty status or component, entitlement to which is based on remuneration for employment, are subject to legal process. The following items of pay and bonuses are subject to legal process:

1. Basic pay (including Military Service academy cadet, academy officials, and midshipmen pay) but excluding reduction for educational benefits under "New G.I. Bill " (38 U.S.C. 1411 (reference (bx))).

2. Special pay (including enlistment and reenlistment bonuses).
3. Incentive pay.
4. Accrued leave payments (basic pay portion only).
5. Readjustment pay.
6. Severance pay (including disability severance pay).
7. Lump-Sum Reserve bonus.
8. Inactive duty training pay.
9. Retired pay (including disability retired pay).
10. Retainer pay.
11. Separation pay, Voluntary Separation Incentive (VSI), Special Separation Benefit (SSB), Reservists' Special Separation Pay (RSSP), and Reservists' Involuntary Separation Pay (RISP).

C. Pay and Allowances Not Subject to Garnishment. The following items of pay and allowances are not subject to legal process:

1. Basic allowance for subsistence.
2. Basic allowance for quarters.
3. Family separation allowance.
4. Station allowances.
5. Clothing allowances-enlisted.
6. Uniform allowances-officer.
7. Personal money allowance.
8. Discharge gratuity.
9. Position pay (Navy only).
10. ROTC subsistence allowance.

11. Death gratuity.
12. Allowance for recruiting expenses.
13. Travel and transportation allowances.
14. Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program monthly stipend.

D. Other Amounts Not Subject to Garnishment. The amounts deducted from the pay of a Military Service member for the following purposes are not subject to legal process:

1. Federal income tax withholding (amount limited only to that which is necessary to fulfill member's tax liability).
2. FICA tax.
3. Armed Services Retirement Homes.
4. Servicemen's Group Life Insurance.
5. Retired Serviceman's Family Protection Plan.
6. Survivor Benefit Plan.
7. State income tax withholding.
8. Indebtedness to the United States.
- ★9. Other amounts required by law to be deducted (e.g., dental plan premium).

E. Maximum Amount of Pay Subject to Garnishment. The maximum part of disposable earnings to any pay period which is subject to legal process shall not exceed:

1. Fifty percent if the member concerned is supporting a spouse or dependent child (other than a spouse or dependent child with respect to whose support the legal process is issued);
2. Sixty percent if the member concerned is not supporting a spouse or dependent child within subparagraph E.1, above.

Disposable earnings is the pay subject to garnishment under subparagraph B, above, minus the amounts set forth in subparagraph D, above. If the member is in arrears for a period which is 12 weeks prior to the beginning of the pay period involved, the maximum percentage under subparagraph E.1, above, is 55 percent and under subparagraph E.2, above is 65 percent. In no case may the amount of pay diverted exceed the limits prescribed by the applicable state law.

F. Allotments To Be Discontinued. The following allotments of the items of pay listed in subparagraph B, above, are subject to legal process. When possible, allow the member to determine which allotments are to be stopped. If the member involved refuses to or is unable to advise which allotment should be stopped to permit compliance with the legal process, the allotments of such member shall be involuntarily stopped in the following order:

1. Class C, CFC-Charity Drive.
2. Class B, BOND, Q-BOND-US Savings Bond.
3. Class D, FININ-Financial organizations.
4. Class S, EDSAV, E, V-Post-Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Assistance Program contributions.
5. Class L, AER, RED CR-Repay loans to Service Relief Agencies and Red Cross.
6. Class D, SPT-V-Payment to dependents/relatives.
7. Class X, Emergency payment to dependents.
8. Class D, HOME-Repay home loans.
9. Class D, INS-Commercial Life Insurance.
10. Class D, Navy-Mutual Aid Insurance.
11. Class D, NSLI-United States Government Life Insurance.

The following allotments of pay are not subject to legal process and should not be stopped:

12. Class T, RED-Repay indebtedness to the United States and repayment of delinquent federal taxes.
13. Class U, RSFPP-Remittance for RSFPP.

★G. Official Responsible for Dealing With Legal Process. The official listed below, or his/her representatives designated by Military Service regulations, has been designated as the official responsible for receiving and processing all legal process concerning active duty members, members of the Reserve Components not on active duty, and retired members (including members of the Fleet Reserve and Fleet Marine Corps Reserve):

★1. Designated Official:

Director
DFAS-CL/L
PO Box 998002
Cleveland OH 44199-8002

Telephone (216) 522-5301

2. In the case of active duty members stationed in the Federal Republic of Germany, all legal process issued by German courts are to be served in the manner prescribed by German law on the appropriate liaison agency listed below for such members:

a. Army, Navy and Marine Corps:

Headquarters
USAREUR and Seventh Army
Attn: AEAJA-1A
6900 Heidelberg 1
Postfach, 10 43 23

b. Air Force:

HQ USAFE/JAIS
Gebäude 527
Ramstein-Flugplatz
66877 Ramstein-Miesenbach

Legal process issued by German courts received by the liaison agencies listed above shall be reviewed to determine whether they comply with applicable German law. In addition, the liaison agencies listed above shall determine whether the member was served notice and certification of Service issued in accordance with the provisions of Article 32(1)(a) of the German Supplementary Agreement (reference (ct) in the prior German court proceeding which resulted in an order creating the member's obligation to pay child support or alimony. Once the appropriate liaison agency listed above determines that legal process issued by a German court is legally sufficient and that the notice provisions of Article 32(1)(a) were complied with, the legal process shall be forwarded to the appropriate official designated in clauses (1) through (4) above. Upon receipt by the appropriate official, the legal process shall be processed in the manner set forth in paragraphs 500201.H.1 through 8, below.

H. Action Required. Once legal process has been served on the United States, the appropriate designated official indicated in subsection G, above, shall take or cause to be taken the following actions:

1. Notify the member and, where appropriate, the member's commanding officer of the proceedings within 15 days after valid service. The written notification shall explain the potential effect of the legal process on the member's pay, including allotments, and advise the member that the burden to raise any available defenses in the appropriate court rests with the member. A copy of the legal process shall be included with the written notice. Further, the notice shall comply with any additional requirements for notice in the law of the state in which the proceeding is brought.

2. Determine the amount of pay due the member which is subject to the legal process.

3. Temporarily suspend payment of sufficient pay due the member named in the legal process so as to permit compliance with such process.

4. Examine the legal process to ensure that:

a. It was served in accordance with federal law and regulations by an official having authority, under the applicable law of the jurisdiction, to make service of process;

b. On its face, it complies with the applicable law;

c. It constitutes legal process; and

d. The designated official is satisfied that the process is for the enforcement of a legal obligation of the Military Service member for child support or alimony in the form and amount specified in the process, and that the underlying judgment is not void on its face.

5. Determine whether the applicable law provides an exemption that is more favorable to the member than the exemption stated in subparagraph 500201.E, above. Apply the greater exemption.

6. Determine whether the member is indebted to the United States. If such member owes a specific amount, such amount will be setoff against the amount of pay determined to be subject to legal process. Money owed to a nonappropriated fund activity may not be setoff. The following kinds of indebtedness may be setoff:

a. Amounts required to satisfy prior advance of pay and allowances;

b. Amounts required to satisfy prior overpayments of pay and allowances;

c. Courts-martial and nonjudicial fines and forfeitures; and

d. Administratively determined indebtedness.

7. Where required, file an answer to the legal process with the court in which the proceeding was brought and answer any interrogatories regarding the pay and allowances due the member. In all cases, the designated official shall make an appropriate response to the issuing authority within 30 days or such longer period as may be allowed under the applicable state law.

8. Pay the amount determined to be due and subject to legal process as ordered by the court. Where notice is received that the member has appealed the issuance of a legal process, which meets the requirements of subparagraph H.4, above, the process shall be honored nevertheless unless the issuing or appellate court orders otherwise or the applicable law of the jurisdiction provides otherwise. Where written notice is received, including copies of any appeal documents, that the member has appealed the underlying alimony and/or child support order, payment of moneys subject to the legal process shall be suspended until the governmental entity is ordered by a court, or other authority, to resume payments. However, no suspension action shall be taken where the applicable law of the jurisdiction wherein the appeal is filed requires compliance with the legal process while an appeal is pending.

9. If the legal process is determined not to be legally sufficient, and after any coordination within the department required by applicable Military Service directives, advise the General Litigation Section, Civil Division, Department of Justice, and the United States Attorney for the district in which the proceeding was brought that the legal process will not be honored. Send all pertinent documentation to the following address:

General Litigation Section
Civil Division
Department of Justice
Washington, DC 20530

I. Priority. The amount of pay being withheld pursuant to legal process may not be used to satisfy a notice of levy for unpaid federal taxes.

500202. Levy on Pay and Allowances for Enforcement of Child Support Obligations

A. Authority. Under the provisions of Public Law 93-647, effective 1 July 1975, (reference (cu)), the Secretary of the Treasury, upon receiving the certification of the Secretary of Health and Human Services, shall assess and collect the amount certified as unpaid child support in the same manner as if the amount were a delinquent federal tax, the collection of which would be jeopardized by delay. (See Chapter 44, paragraphs 440201 and 440204.)

B. Satisfaction of Levy. When the Secretary of the Treasury issues a notice of levy as described in subparagraph A, above, satisfy the levy in the manner prescribed in paragraph 440204. However, in the case of a first assessment against an active duty, retired (including members of the Fleet Reserve and Marine Corps Fleet Reserve), or Reserve member for unpaid child support, satisfaction of the levy shall be stayed for a period of 60 days immediately following notice and demand. If a portion of such member's pay is being withheld in garnishment or attachment pursuant to a judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction for the support of minor children, the amount of pay withheld is exempt from the levy.

500203. Regulations

Detailed policies and procedures governing the administration of garnishment of pay for the enforcement of court-ordered child support and alimony and levy of pay and allowances for enforcement of court-ordered child support are contained in:

- A. Army: AR 37-104-3 (reference (bh)).
- B. Navy: SECNAVNOTE 7200 of 20 May 1975 (reference (cv)).
- C. Air Force: DFAS-DE 7073.1-M and DFAS-DE 7073.3-M (reference (ap)).
- D. Marine Corps: MCO P7220.31 (reference (cw)).

5003 INVOLUNTARY ALLOTMENT OF PAY FOR ENFORCEMENT OF COMMERCIAL DEBTS

500301. General. Monies due from, or payable by, the United States to active duty members (as defined in Chapter 43, subparagraph 430502.B) are subject to the involuntary allotment to satisfy a judgment for commercial indebtedness. The involuntary allotment application must be supported by a final judgment. The allotment of pay shall not exceed the lesser of 25 percent of a member's pay subject to involuntary allotment or the maximum percentage of pay subject to garnishment proceedings under the applicable state law. (For further procedures, see Chapter 43, section 4305.)

500302. Pay Subject to Involuntary Allotment. Only the following types of pay are subject to the involuntary allotment process (subject to the amounts excluded under paragraphs 500303 and 500304, below):

- A. Basic pay (excluding the reduction for education benefits under 38 U.S.C. 1411 ("New GI Bill")) (reference (bx)).
- B. Special pay, to include:
 - 1. Health care professionals (Including optometrists, dental officers, psychologists and nonphysician health care providers, registered nurses, nurse anesthetists, nurse corps officers, medical officers)

2. Veterinarians
3. Diving Duty
4. Foreign duty
5. Career sea pay
6. Responsibility pay
7. International military headquarters
8. Proficiency pay and Special duty assignment pay for enlisted members
9. Reenlistment bonus
10. Enlistment bonus
11. Prior service enlistment bonus
12. Hostile fire or imminent danger pay
13. Nuclear-qualified officers extending period of active duty
14. Nuclear-trained and qualified enlisted members
15. Nuclear career accession bonus
16. Nuclear career annual incentive bonus
17. Enlisted members extending duty at designated overseas locations
18. Foreign language proficiency pay
19. Officers in critical acquisition positions extending period of active duty
20. Multi Year Special Pay (MSP)
21. Aviation Retention Bonus
22. Continuation Pay for Engineering & Scientific Career
23. Selective Reenlistment Bonus (SRB)

- C. Incentive pay, including:
 - 1. Hazardous duty
 - 2. Aviation career
 - 3. Submarine duty
- D. Accrued leave payments (basic pay portion only)
- E. Readjustment pay
- F. Severance pay (Including disability severance pay)

500303. Pay and Allowances Not Subject to Involuntary Allotment. Separation pay, Voluntary Separation Incentive (VSI), and the Special Separation Benefit (SSB) are not subject to the involuntary allotment. In addition, allowances paid under Titles 10 and 37 of the United States Code, (references (c), (aa)), and other reimbursements for expenses incurred in connection with duty in the Military Service or allowances in lieu thereof, are not subject to the involuntary allotment.

500304. Other Amounts Not Subject to the Involuntary Allotment. After computing the pay subject to involuntary allotment (paragraph 500302, above), the following items must be deducted to compute the final value of pay subject to involuntary allotment:

- A. Federal and state income tax withholding (amount is limited to that which is necessary to fulfill the member's tax liability)
- B. FICA tax
- C. Armed Forces Retirement Home
- D. Servicemen's Group Life Insurance
- E. Indebtedness to the United States (including tax levies)
- F. Fines and forfeitures ordered by a court-martial or a commanding officer

★G. Amounts otherwise required by law to be deducted (e.g., dental plan premium) from a member's pay (except payments under 42 U.S.C., 659, 661, 662 and 665) (reference (ca)).

500305. Voluntary Allotments to be Discontinued. See Chapter 43, subparagraph 430506.D.

500306. Designated Agent Responsible for Dealing With Involuntary Allotments.
The designated agent listed below is responsible for receiving and processing the involuntary allotment application concerning active duty members (as defined in subparagraph 430502.B):

DFAS-Cleveland Center
DFAS-CL/L
PO Box 998002
Cleveland OH 44199-8002

Telephone (216) 522-5301

5004 REMISSION AND CANCELLATION OF INDEBTEDNESS-ENLISTED MEMBERS

500401. Who May Apply

A. An enlisted member on active duty (including a Navy or Marine Corps temporary officer with permanent enlisted status) or member's commander may apply for remission of the enlisted member's indebtedness to the United States. The debt may not be remitted or cancelled after the member is discharged, retired, or released from active duty. An indebtedness arising in one period of active duty may, however, be remitted during a later period of active duty.

B. Remission action is not for application in the case of Reserve Component personnel performing inactive duty training or active duty for training except:

- 1. Army: An enlisted member of the Army National Guard who is charged with liability for government property that is lost, damaged, or destroyed on or after 1 October 1980, may have such liability remitted or cancelled under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned.

2. Air Force: Any member of the Air National Guard (officer or enlisted member) who is charged with liability for government property that is lost, damaged, or destroyed on or after 1 October 1980, may have such liability remitted or cancelled under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned.

500402. Indebtedness Which May Be Remitted

A. Debts to United States. Generally, any indebtedness may be considered for remission (including those listed in Tables 50-1, 50-3, and 50-4). Debts for erroneous payments may be processed for remission if relief action has been denied under the appeal provisions (section 5004). However, debts arising from erroneous payment of basic pay due to noncollection of courts-martial forfeitures may not be remitted or cancelled.

B. Debts Within Jurisdiction of Military Service Concerned. The debt must be one over which the military department concerned has jurisdiction. For example, a Secretary may not remit a member's indebtedness because of liability for damage to property of another Military Service. The member must have incurred the debt while serving as an officer or enlisted member of the military department in which the member currently serves.

500403. How To Apply. Process applicants for remission and cancellation of indebtedness as prescribed in procedural regulations of the Military Service concerned.

5005 APPEALS

500501. Right of Appeal. When it is established that a member is indebted to the United States because of an erroneous payment made by any Military Service within the Department of Defense, the member has the right to appeal. A member may appeal the validity of the debt, the amount, or the liability for it. A member may also request review of the rate of stoppage on the basis of undue hardship, or upon proof that the rate of stoppage is inequitable.

500502. Processing Appeals. Process appeals as prescribed in procedural regulations of the Military Service concerned.

500503. Claim for Refund. A member may file a written claim for any amounts considered erroneously collected from the pay account. The claim is sent to the disbursing officer or, if separated, to Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Indianapolis Center; Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Cleveland Center; Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Kansas City Center; or Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Denver Center, as applicable. After an adverse ruling the member has the right to submit a claim to the United States General Accounting Office, Claims Group, Room 5451, FGMS, Washington DC 20548. An adverse ruling by that office may be appealed to the Comptroller General or a civil suit for recovery may be started.

5006 VALIDATION OF PAYMENTS BASED ON PURPORTED MARRIAGES

500601. Authority for Validation. Payment of allowances based on a purported marriage and made under Title 37 U.S.C. (reference (aa)) or prior laws, before the marriage is annulled or terminated, are valid if:

A. A court of competent jurisdiction adjudges or decrees that the military member entered the marriage in good faith; or

B. In the absence of such judgment or decree, a finding of good faith is made by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned or a person designated by the Secretary to investigate the matter.

500602. Responsibility for Validation. Findings of good faith under subparagraph 500501.B are made (or forwarded to the appropriate office) by the offices listed in Chapter 26, subparagraph 260403.F. Purported marriages requiring such finding include those listed in paragraph 260403.

500603. Payments Not Validated. Payments based on invalid marriages are considered erroneous payments or overpayments unless validated.

5007 WAIVER OF CLAIMS FOR ERRONEOUS PAYMENTS OF PAY AND ALLOWANCES

500701. Applications for Waiver Under 10 U.S.C. 2774 (reference (c)) of Claims of United States Arising Out of Erroneous Payments. When a member applies for waiver of a claim under 10 U.S.C. 2774 (reference (c)), forward such applications to the cognizant DFAS Center. Only the waiver application processing office, as designated by the Directors of the DFAS Centers, has authority to suspend collection action pending action on a waiver application under 10 U.S.C. 2774 (reference (c)). See DFAS Regulation No. 005 (reference (cx)) and implementing instructions of the DFAS Center.

INDEBTEDNESS DUE TO ERRONEOUS PAYMENTS, GAO DISALLOWANCES, AND NOTICES OF EXCEPTION
R U L E	A	B	C	D	E	F
	If	of	Is indebted to the United States for	and	then collect from current pay	at monthly rate not to exceed that shown below or in rule cited:
1	an officer or enlisted member	any Military Service	Payment disallowed by General Accounting Office (GAO) in accounts of a disbursing or certifying officer		involuntarily (note 1)	disposable pay (see subparagraph 500103.C).
2			Debt cited in GAO notice of exception or informal inquiries (note 2)			Table 50-6, rule 2.
3			Erroneous payment (including allotments the member knew or reasonably should have known were erroneous) made to or on behalf of the member of any Uniformed Service (note 3)	the Secretary of the Military Service concerned or the Secretary's designee has determined the indebtedness is valid
4	an officer	a Military Department	Erroneous payment of allotment caused by failure to report, as required, the death of the allotter or any other fact making the allotment not payable	appropriate investigation is made, and the overpaid amount is not recovered from the allottee	with officer's consent; or with approval of the Secretary concerned	amount applicable.

NOTES:

1. This does not change rules on collections of indebtedness of accountable, certifying, or disbursing officers.
2. If notice of exception covers erroneous payment by a Uniformed Service, rule 3 will be applied.
3. When a member's pay is not promptly reduced to allow for court-marital forfeiture, the resulting indebtedness is considered an erroneous payment within this rule.

INDEBTEDNESS DUE TO LOSS OF PUBLIC FUNDS
R U L E	A	B	C	D	E	F
	If	of	Is indebted to the United States for	and	then withhold from current pay	at monthly rate not shown below or in rule cited
1	an accountable officer (note 1)	the Armed Forces	Arrears in accounts because of failure to account for funds entrusted to the member	debt is admitted by officer (note 4)	Involuntarily	Disposable pay (see subparagraph 500103.C).
2				debt is shown by the judgment of a court
3				debt is shown by special order issued by the Secretary of the Military Service concerned		rate directed by special order of Secretary of the Military Service concerned (all pay excluding allowances, or lesser amount).
4	an account-able enlisted member (note 2)	any Military Service	Public funds obtained or converted to own use through fraud, larceny, embezzlement, or other unlawful means		Involuntarily, or as prescribed by regulations of the Military Service concerned	disposable pay (see subparagraph 500103.C).
5	an officer or enlisted member			the misappropriation of funds is admitted by the member		Table 50-6, rule 2 (note 3).

NOTES:

1. Applies to officers who hold in trust sums or balances of public money for which they are required to account, such as disbursing officers and deputies or agents to disbursing officers.
2. Applies to enlisted members who are entrusted with public funds. It includes military postal clerks and members who, though not bonded, are entrusted with public funds for small purchases.
3. If exact amount of debt is not known at the time the loss is discovered, establish the debt at the amount then known and adjust when investigation is completed.
4. A mere acknowledgment or report of a shortage in accordance with Military Service regulations is not an admission for the purpose of this rule. The phrase "debt is admitted" means either a written statement made by the accountable officer admitting indebtedness, acknowledged or witnessed before a person authorized to administer oaths or, another person designated by higher authority, or if the accountable officer refuses to sign a statement, a certification by a commissioned officer that the accountable officer clearly and unequivocally admitted the indebtedness is sufficient to authorize the withholding from officer's current pay.

★Table 50-6. Rates of Collection

NOTES:

1. Do not exceed maximum limitation specified in subparagraph 500104.A.4.
2. For enlisted members, travel allowances remaining due after the completion of separation travel may be collected.
3. The limitation does not apply when deduction of a greater amount is necessary to complete the collection within the period of anticipated

- service and is required by court order.
4. In unusual circumstances, the initiation of collection action of travel advances pursuant to a consent agreement may be delayed if the delay is approved by the Director, Defense Finance and Accounting Service, (or designee). However, the repayment period shall, in all cases, be scheduled to repay the advance before the member's expected date of separation.
 5. For members transferring to the Retired Reserve and receiving Reservists' Special Separation Pay (RSSP), the entire amount of the RSSP payment(s) is available for offset.
 6. If indebtedness is a result of an unfulfilled bonus agreement, and separation is under the Special Separation Benefit (SSB) or Voluntary Separation Incentive (VSI) program, see subparagraph 350702.F for SSB or 350802.D for VSI.

SUBJECT: Department of Defense Financial Management Regulation,
Volume 7, Part A and B (DoDFMR Vol 7A and 7B), Standard Procedures and Dollar Thresholds for Routine Pay
Adjustments (DFAS Item F-65) and Other Clarifying
Corrections to Table 50-6.

This is Interim Change Number 20-97 to DoDFMR Vol 7A and Interim Change Number R-15-97 to DoDFMR Vol 7B. We have evaluated your comments on the draft changes to DoDFMR Vol 7A and 7B. These changes incorporate revised standard procedures and dollar thresholds for routine pay adjustments and debts collected in accordance with 37 U.S.C. 1007(d) and 5 U.S.C., 5514 (a) (1) and 31 U.S.C. 3716. The attached final versions of the changes include your comments, where appropriate. This is effective immediately.

We have determined this regulatory change is to be implemented under the auspices of DFAS Regulation 7920.3-R.
The purpose of the changes is to establish standard debt procedures and dollar thresholds for processing under the Defense
Joint Military Pay System (DJMS), the Marine Corps Total Force
System (MCTFS), and the Defense Retiree and Annuitant System (DRAS). The DJMS PMO, DFAS-CL, and DFAS-KC will ensure the necessary systems changes are scheduled for implementation in DJMS (active component and reserve component), DRAS, and MCTFS.
Centers are advised to make DFAS Headquarters (FM) an information addressee on implementing field procedures. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed changes to DoDFMR Vol 7A and 7B.

1. Change DoDFMR, Volume 7A, paragraph 500104A1 to read:

"500104A1. Categories of Debt.

a. All debts will be divided into three categories: adjustments of $100 or less, routine adjustments of greater than $100, and debts requiring due process. A routine adjustment corrects an overpayment resulting from clerical or administrative errors, delays in processing pay documents, or an automated pay system error which is discovered and collected within no more than two monthly pay periods after the date of overpayment. The member shall be provided with notice of adjustment when it is made, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

b. Categories:

(1) Adjustments of $100 or less. Such adjustments regardless of when discovered or collected will be treated the same as routine adjustments for collection purposes. The member shall be provided with notice of adjustment when it is made, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

(2) Routine adjustments greater than $100 will be processed for collection in the month in which the debt is discovered. The system will generate an advisory LES remark and management notice regarding an impending collection against the member's account. This notice provides an opportunity for the member to correct any errors or request a different repayment schedule. If the repayment schedules are not changed, the system will automatically collect the debt.

(3) Debts greater than $100 that require formal notification to the member in the form of a due process letter from the servicing field office. The field office will initiate formal due process of the member after receipt of a management notice from the pay system and initiate debt collection based on an appropriate liquidation schedule.

c. Current Month Overpayments. Entitlement overpayments identified during the current month are not scheduled as debt when the member's current EOM pay is adequate to collect the overpayment using the 2/3rds rule. The member's pay will be automatically adjusted to eliminate the overpayment during the EOM payment processing.

d. "No Pay Due" Notice. As a precaution to prevent avoidable hardship to the member, a "no pay due" management notice will be generated to the servicing field office when a debt creates a "no pay due" situation for that member.

e. Separation. When a member is expected to be separated within the next ninety (90) days, the system will accelerate entitlement related debt schedules to collect all available funds prior to separation."

2. Change paragraph 500104A2 to read.

"500104A2. Due Process Debts. Before initiating any collection action other than adjustments as defined in paragraph 500104A1, the member shall...."

3. Change paragraph 500104B3 to read:

"500104B3. Due Process. Debts collected under 5 U.S.C. 5514 (reference (cl)) are those owed to departments or agencies other than the Department of Defense or other Uniformed Services. The creditor agency is responsible for providing due process to member debtors and for certifying to the Secretary of Defense that due process rights have been provided when requesting collection action. The requirement for due process does not apply to routine intra-agency adjustments of pay that are attributable to clerical or administrative errors or delays in processing pay documents that have occurred within the four pay periods preceding the adjustment and to any adjustment that amounts to $50 or less, if at the time of such adjustment, or as soon thereafter as practical, the individual is provided written notice of the nature and the amount of the adjustment and a point of contact for contesting such adjustments. Once the Secretary of the Service concerned or the Secretary's designee accepts the debt for collection, members must be provided written notice informing them of the nature and amount of the debt due the United States and the intent to commence collection through deductions from pay. The notice should provide a point of contact at the creditor agency for any questions or disputes the member may have."

4. Change Table 50-6, Rates of Collection, to reflect the following:

a. Insert new note 1 to read:

"Note 1. For Army and Air Force enlisted members do not exceed the maximum limitation specified in subparagraph 500104A4. This limitation does not apply to enlisted members whose accounts are being settled on discharge for fraud, desertion, or because of mental incompetency."

b. Delete note 3.

c. Renumber current note 1 to read: "Note 3. Do not exceed maximum limitation specified in subparagraph 500104A4."

d. Revise Rule 2, Column D, note reference to read: "(note 1)".

e. Delete Rule 4.

f. Renumber Rule 5 to 4 and revise Column E note reference to read: "(note 3)".

CHAPTER 51

SAVINGS DEPOSIT PROGRAM (Effective 1 January 1991)5101 DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

★510101. Geographic Areas.

A. Persian Gulf Area. Arabian Gulf area as designated in Figure 10-1.

B. Operation Joint Endeavor Area. The area of operations is the total land area of Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Slovenia, Macedonia, Hungary and the air space there over, or the waters of the Adriatic Sea north of 40N; plus forces operational control/tactical control (OPCON/TACON) to Supreme Allied Commander, Europe (SACEUR) for the purpose of executing Operation Joint Endeavor (e.g., SOCIFOR, DECISIVE EDGE, and DETERMINED EFFORT).

510102. Permanent Duty Assignment. An active duty assignment which contemplates duty in the designated area for more than 90 days on PCS, TAD, TDY, or with a deployed ship or unit.

510103. Unallotted Current Pay and Allowances. The amount of money a member is entitled to receive on the payday immediately before the date of deposit, less authorized deductions and allotments for dependents, insurance, etc. Pay and allowances include special continuation pay, reenlistment bonus, travel allowance on discharge, and pay and allowances for unused accrued leave. Advance pay and travel allowance on PCS and temporary duty may not be deposited.

510104. Vietnam Conflict. The period beginning 28 February 1961 and ending on 7 May 1975.

510105. Persian Gulf Conflict. The period beginning on 16 January 1991 and ending on the date thereafter prescribed by presidential proclamation or by law.

5102 AUTHORITY AND ELIGIBILITY

510201. The Act of 14 August 1966 (reference (cy)), authorized members of the Uniformed Services who were serving on a permanent duty assignment outside the United States, or its possessions, to deposit their "unallotted current pay and allowances" for savings purposes. Amounts up to $10,000 could be deposited with interest accrual at the rate of 10 percent per annum. This program was phased out effective 30 June 1974, with the exception of accounts of members continued in a missing status resulting from service in the Vietnam conflict.

510202. Members of the Armed Forces (1) serving outside the United States or its possessions under arduous conditions (as determined by the Secretary of Defense) in connection with the Persian Gulf Conflict (e.g., Operation Desert Shield, including Desert Storm) or (2) on permanent duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions) are authorized to make deposits of unallotted current pay and allowances and earn interest. For specific eligibility to make deposits see Table 51-1.

★510203. Effective January 1, 1996, members on permanent duty assignment outside the United States or its possessions serving on Operation Joint Endeavor are entitled to participate in the Savings Deposit Program by making deposits of unallotted pay and allowances payable after 1 January 1996. This includes units reassigned to the area of operations from areas outside the U. S. such as ships, mobile units, etc.

510204. The Secretary concerned (or designee) may, in the interest of a member who is in a missing status (as defined in the Definitions) or his dependents, initiate, stop, modify, and change allotments for deposit of unpaid pay and allowances accruing in a missing member's pay account, and authorize withdrawal of deposits made under this chapter, even though the member had an opportunity to make deposits and elected not to do so. Compute interest as prescribed by this chapter, from 1 January 1991, or the day the member enters a missing status, whichever is later. The $10,000 limitation on the amount that interest is payable does not apply to deposit accounts of members in a missing status.

Examples

A. A member enters a missing status on 1 February 1991. Unpaid pay and allowances have been accruing in his pay account at the rate of $100 per month since that date. An account is opened for the member on 1 May 1991, with an initial deposit of $300 (February, March, and April). His account is credited with $10 per month on 1 June 1991, and the first day of each month thereafter while he remains in a missing status, or until modified, stopped, or repaid at the direction of the Secretary (or designee) concerned. Interest accrues from 1 February 1991.

B. A member enters a missing status on 18 February 1991. The amount of unpaid pay and allowance due the member on the payday following 18 February 1991 would determine the amount of the initial deposit. The member's account is opened 1 Mar 1991 with the initial deposit and his account is credited with his unallotted pay and allowances monthly on the first day of each month thereafter as prescribed in example A, above. Interest accrues from 18 February 1991.

5103 LIMITATIONS ON AMOUNTS OF DEPOSITS

Deposits may not be more than the amount defined as unallotted current pay and allowances in paragraph 510103, above. However, when the member can establish to the satisfaction of his commanding officer that he or she was unable to make a deposit in the normal manner, unallotted pay in excess of current pay and allowances, may be deposited. Members may not accumulate back pay prior to departure to a covered geographic area or on temporary duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions) for deposit after arrival in the area. When members arrive in a covered geographic area, or on temporary duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions), they may deposit the amount they could have, or did, accrue during the month of arrival, less authorized deductions. Members who are paid twice monthly may combine pay accrued at midmonth and pay accrued at end of month, or combine end-of-month pay with pay accrued on the following midmonth payday for a single deposit, provided the total amount deposited in a one month period does not exceed the amount they are entitled to be paid for one month. The maximum amount on which 10 percent interest is computed is $10,000 (principal and accrued interest combined). The $10,000 limitation on the amount that interest is payable does not apply to deposit accounts of members in a missing status.

5104 INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

510401. Accrual of Interest. See Table 51-2.

510402. Computation of Interest. Deposits made on or before the 10th of the month accrue interest from the 1st of the month. Deposits made after the 10th of the month accrue interest from the first day of the following month. The effective date of deposit is the date the deposit is made to the disbursing officer, finance officer, or any other designated officer of the Uniformed Service. Compute interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum, compounded quarterly, according to calendar quarter. Compute quarterly interest on the average quarterly balance on deposit. Ten percent is compounded quarterly on amounts less than $10,000. Once $10,000 is on deposit, simple interest will be computed on the $10,000. No interest is paid on amounts exceeding $10,000, except on amounts in the case of a member who is in a missing status.

510403. Computing Average Quarterly Balance

A. If there were no emergency withdrawals during the quarter, determine the average quarterly balance by adding amounts on deposit on the 10th day of each month of the quarter, and divide the total by three.

Example 1

Date	Deposits	Amount On Deposit	On 10th Day of
5 Jan	$20.00	$ 20.00	Jan
3 Feb	20.00	40.00	Feb
20 Feb	20.00
10 Mar	20.00	80.00	Mar
		$140.00

$140.00 divided by 3 = $46.67 average quarterly balance.

Example 2

Date	Deposits	Amounts on Deposit	On 10th Day of
Jan	$ 0.00	$ 0.00	Jan
3 Feb	20.00	20.00	Feb
20 Feb	20.00
3 Mar	20.00	60.00	Mar
		$80.00

$80.00 divided by 3 = $26.67 average quarterly balance.

B. Emergency withdrawals at any time during a quarter reduce the average quarterly balance on which interest accrues.

Example 3

Date	Deposits	With- drawals	Amount on Deposit	On 10th Day of
1 Apr	$147.12	$ 0.00
	(Bal Fwd)
3 Apr	20.00		$167.12	Apr
			167.12	May
15 May	10.00		--
4 Jun	30.00		--	Jun
15 Jun		$80.00	127.12	Jun
			$461.36

$461 divided by 3 = $153.79 average quarterly balance.

C. Except for amounts on deposit in the case of a member who is in a missing status, the maximum amount upon which 10 percent interest is payable is $10,000 (principal and accrued interest combined).

Example 4

Date	Quarterly Interest	Amount on Deposit
10 Jan	-0-	$10,000.00
1 Apr	250.00	10,250.00
1 July	250.00	10,500.00

510404. Special Determinations. See Table 51-1.

5105 CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH DEPOSITS, PLUS INTEREST, ARE REPAYED

(See Table 51-3).

5106 PAYMENT OF INTEREST UPON FINAL SETTLEMENT OF DEPOSIT ACCOUNT

510601. General. Except when the 90-day limitation applies, interest will stop at the end of the month in which full repayment is made to the member or member's heirs.

510602. Ninety-Day Limitation Period After Eligibility to Make Deposits Terminates. In no case will interest accrue for a period longer than 90 days (computed on a day-for-day basis of actual elapsed time) after the member's eligibility to make deposits terminates. For the Persian Gulf Conflict, the 90-day limitation period begins on the day after the member's entitlement to Imminent Danger Pay (IDP) for the Persian Gulf area terminates. Should the 90-day limitation period end on any day other than the last day of a month, interest will accrue through the last day of the preceding month. If the 90-day limitation period ends on the last day of a month, interest accrues for that month. In determining when the 90-day limitation period terminates, the last day of the month is 28 February (29 February in leap year), the 30th of a 30-day month, or the 31st day of a 31-day month.

510603. Computation of Interest at 10 Percent Rate. Repay deposits, plus interest, under the conditions shown in Table 51-2. Compute interest at the rate of:

1 Month-1/12 of 10 percent or .00833

2 Months-2/12 of 10 percent or .01667

3 Months-(Full Quarter)-.025

Example 1: Member's Request

Member has $355 (principal plus compounded interest as of 30 June 1991) on deposit when IDP terminates on 30 July 1991. He requests repayment on 12 August 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $5.92 for the months of July and August (.01667 x $355) or $360.92.

Example 2: Ninety-Day Rule

Same example as 1, above, except member requests repayment on 15 October 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $8.88 for the months of July, August, and September (.025 x $355) or $363.88. Interest for 1-15 October 1991, is not allowed since 90-day limitation period ended 12 October 1991 (a day other than the last day of the month).

Example 3: Member Discharged

Same example as 1, above, except member is discharged overseas for his/her own convenience on 15 July 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $2.96 for the months of July (.00833 x $355) or $357.96, assuming full repayment is in effect in the month of July.

Example 4: Member Dies

On 8 March 1991, the member has on deposit the maximum amount of $10,000 (principal plus simple interest) and makes no new deposits. While in the Persian Gulf area, member dies on 15 November 1991, and settlement of unpaid pay and allowances is made to member's heir(s) on 15 December 1991. Repay deposit of $10,000 and simple interest of $833.33 for period 1 March through 31 December 1991 (.00833 x 10), or $10,833.33.

5107 WITHDRAWAL OF DEPOSITS

510701. Emergency Withdrawals. Withdrawals may be made in an emergency only when the health or welfare of a member or his dependent(s) would be jeopardized if the withdrawal were not granted. Emergency withdrawals may be authorized by the member's commanding officer.

510702. Members in a Missing Status. Withdrawals may be made when directed by the Secretary concerned (or designee) when deemed in the best interest of the member, member's dependent(s), or the U.S. Government.

510703. Discharge While Eligible to Make Deposits. Members eligible to make deposits who are discharged and immediately reenlist, extend their enlistments, or who are discharged to accept a commission may not withdraw their deposits.

510704. Accounts Which Have Reached $10,000. In situations where the member's principal and interest on deposit reaches $10,000, any amounts representing interest accruing in the account subsequent to that time which causes the $10,000 total to be exceeded, may be withdrawn quarterly at the member's request.

5108 APPLICATION TO INDEBTEDNESS OR FORFEITURE

Savings deposits and interest thereon are exempt from liability for member's debts except for levies issued by the Internal Revenue Service in problem cases. This includes any indebtedness to the U.S. Government or its agencies. Deposits are not subject to forfeiture by sentence of court-martial, and are not forfeited by desertion.

5109 LIABILITY OF DISBURSING OFFICERS

A disbursing officer who fails to properly process a deposit into his account is liable for the amount of the deposit, plus interest, from the effective date of the deposit to date of withdrawal or repayment.

	If	and	then
1	the member is serving outside the United States or its possessions under arduous conditions in connection with the Persian Gulf conflict (notes 2 and 3)	the member is serving on permanent duty assignment and entitled to hostile fire/imminent danger pay (HF/IDP) for the Persian Gulf area	the member may make deposits in the SDP (note 4).
2		the member is entitled to HF/IDP for duty in the Persian Gulf area for 3 consecutive months as of 30 Jun 1991	the member is eligible to make deposits in the SDP for subsequent periods the member is also entitled to HF/IDP for duty in the Persian Gulf area (note 5).
3		the member is serving on an active duty assignment for more than 90 days on PCS, TAD, TDY, or with a deployed ship or unit, and is entitled to Hostile Fire Pay on a month-by-month basis for the Persian Gulf area (note 7).	the member is eligible to make deposits in the SDP for periods that the member was entitled to HFP for duty in the Persian Gulf area (note 8).
★4	the member is serving outside the United States or its possessions in support of Operation Joint Endeavor (note 9)	the member is serving on an active duty assignment in the designated area for more than 90 days on PCS, TAD, TDY, or with a deployed ship or unit. This includes units reassigned to the area of operations from outside the United States, such as ships, mobile units, etc. (note 9)	the member may make deposits in the SDP (note 9)
★5	the member is on permanent duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation designated by the Secretary of Defense	the member has served at least 30 consecutive days or at least one day in each of three consecutive months	the member is eligible to make deposits in the SDP for subsequent periods of temporary duty assignments outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (note 6).
★6	the member is in a missing status resulting from service during the Vietnam conflict (note 2)		the member continues to be eligible for the SDP until the status ends.

NOTES:

- Amounts deposited shall be accounted for in the same manner as public funds. The amount of the deposits is limited to "unallotted" current pay and allowances and will be in multiples of $5.
- The period concerned is contained in section 5101.
- Members eligible to make deposits may continue to do so when on TAD or TDY, provided the account was started while the member was in the Persian Gulf area.
- Applicable to deposits made before 1 July 1991. The amount of the deposits will be in multiples of $5.
- Applicable to deposits made on or after 1 July 1991.
- Eligibility to make deposits will be determined on a month-by-month basis in accordance with guidelines provided by the Secretary of Defense.
- See section 5101 regarding areas in the Persian Gulf Area that are no longer designated areas.
- The amount of money that may be deposited will not be greater than the unallotted pay and allowances the member accrued on the paydays, during the month in which member qualified for HFP.
- ★9. See subparagraph 510101.B., and paragraph 510203 for Operation Joint Endeavor effective date and eligibility criteria.

SUBJECT: Change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Savings Deposit Program (SDP) (DFAS Item H-22 – formerly DFAS Item G-81)

Attached is the DFAS Interim Change 15-99 to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. This change is effective as stated in the change.

This change is a complete rewrite of Chapter 51 of the DoDFMR, Volume 7A and implements the new areas and contingencies in the participation of the SDP. All interim changes affecting chapter 51 in the www.dtic.mil/comptroller/fmr/07a/07a_interim.html web site are hereby cancelled.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where appropriate. Assignment of an interim change number is your authority to start a procedural modification, if necessary, to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A, and the interim change.

Our point of contact, Roger Castillo may be contacted at DSN 327-1907 or (703) 607-1907.

CHAPTER 51

SAVINGS DEPOSIT PROGRAM5101 DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this chapter, the following definitions apply:

★510101. Geographic Areas.

A. Persian Gulf Area. Arabian Gulf area as designated in Figure 10-1.

B. Operation Joint Endeavor Area. The area of operations is the total land area of Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Slovenia, Macedonia, Hungary and the air space there over, or the waters of the Adriatic Sea north of 40N; plus forces operational control/tactical control (OPCON/TACON) to Supreme Allied Commander, Europe (SACEUR) for the purpose of executing Operation Joint Endeavor (e.g., SOCIFOR, DECISIVE EDGE, and DETERMINED EFFORT).

C. Operation Joint Guard and Operation Joint Forge Area. The area of eligibility consists of the total land area of Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Slovenia, Macedonia, Hungary, and the air space there over, or the waters of the Adriatic Sea north of 40N.

★510102. Permanent Duty Assignment. For the purposes of this chapter only, effective 1 July 1991, an active duty assignment that contemplates duty in the designated area as a PCS or for more than 30 days on TAD, TDY, or with a deployed ship or unit.

510103. Unallotted Current Pay and Allowances. The amount of money a member is entitled to receive on the payday immediately before the date of deposit, less authorized deductions and allotments for dependents, insurance, etc. Pay and allowances include special continuation pay, reenlistment bonus, travel allowance on discharge, and pay and allowances for unused accrued leave. Advance pay and travel allowance on PCS and temporary duty may not be deposited.

510104. Vietnam Conflict. The period beginning 28 February 1961 and ending on 7 May 1975.

510105. Persian Gulf Conflict. The period beginning on 16 January 1991 and ending on the date thereafter prescribed by presidential proclamation or by law.

5102 AUTHORITY AND ELIGIBILITY

510201. The Act of 14 August 1966 (reference (cy)), authorized members of the Uniformed Services who were serving on a permanent duty assignment outside the United States, or its possessions, to deposit their "unallotted current pay and allowances" for savings purposes. Amounts up to $10,000 could be deposited with interest accrual at the rate of 10 percent per annum. This program was phased out effective 30 June 1974, with the exception of accounts of members continued in a missing status resulting from service in the Vietnam conflict.

510202. Members of the Armed Forces (1) serving outside the United States or its possessions under arduous conditions (as determined by the Secretary of Defense) in connection with the Persian Gulf Conflict (e.g., Operation Desert Shield, including Desert Storm) or (2) on permanent duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions) are authorized to make deposits of unallotted current pay and allowances and earn interest. For specific eligibility to make deposits see Table 51-1.

★510203. Effective 1 January 1996, members serving outside the United States or its possessions on Operation Joint Endeavor are entitled to participate in the Savings Deposit Program by making deposits of unallotted pay and allowances payable after 1 January 1996. This includes units reassigned to the area of operations from areas outside the U. S. such as ships, mobile units, etc.

★510204. Effective 1 January 1997, members of the armed forces serving on Operation Joint Guard outside the United States or its possessions are authorized to make deposits of unallotted current pay and allowances payable after 1 January 1997.

★510205. Effective 20 June 1998, any member assigned to Operation Joint Forge is eligible to participate in the SDP, provided that the member has served for at least 30 consecutive days or at least 1 day in each of 3 consecutive months in the Operation Joint Forge area of eligibility.

★510206. The Secretary concerned (or designee) may, in the interest of a member who is in a missing status (as defined in the Definitions) or his dependents, initiate, stop, modify, and change allotments for deposit of unpaid pay and allowances accruing in a missing member's pay account, and authorize withdrawal of deposits made under this chapter, even though the member had an opportunity to make deposits and elected not to do so. Compute interest as prescribed by this chapter, from 1 January 1991, or the day the member enters a missing status, whichever is later. The $10,000 limitation on the amount that interest is payable does not apply to deposit accounts of members in a missing status.

Examples

A. A member enters a missing status on 1 February 1991. Unpaid pay and allowances have been accruing in his pay account at the rate of $100 per month since that date. An account is opened for the member on 1 May 1991, with an initial deposit of $300 (February, March, and April). His account is credited with $10 per month on 1 June 1991, and the first day of each month thereafter while he remains in a missing status, or until modified, stopped, or repaid at the direction of the Secretary (or designee) concerned. Interest accrues from 1 February 1991.

B. A member enters a missing status on 18 February 1991. The amount of unpaid pay and allowance due the member on the payday following 18 February 1991 would determine the amount of the initial deposit. The member's account is opened 1 Mar 1991 with the initial deposit and his account is credited with his unallotted pay and allowances monthly on the first day of each month thereafter as prescribed in example A, above. Interest accrues from 18 February 1991.

★5103 LIMITATIONS ON AMOUNTS OF DEPOSITS

Deposits may not be more than the amount defined as unallotted current pay and allowances in paragraph 510103, above. However, when the member can establish to the satisfaction of his commanding officer that he or she was unable to make a deposit in the normal manner, unallotted pay in excess of current pay and allowances, may be deposited. Members may not accumulate back pay prior to departure to a covered geographic area or on permanent duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions) for deposit after arrival in the area. When members arrive in a covered geographic area, or on permanent duty assignment outside the U.S. or its possessions in support of a contingency operation (as defined in the Definitions), they may deposit the amount they could have, or did, accrue during the month of arrival, less authorized deductions. Members who are paid twice monthly may combine pay accrued at midmonth and pay accrued at end of month, or combine end-of-month pay with pay accrued on the following midmonth payday for a single deposit, provided the total amount deposited in a one month period does not exceed the amount they are entitled to be paid for one month. The maximum amount on which 10 percent interest is computed is $10,000 (principal and accrued interest combined). The $10,000 limitation on the amount that interest is payable does not apply to deposit accounts of members in a missing status.

5104 INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

510401. Accrual of Interest. See Table 51-2.

510402. Computation of Interest. Deposits made on or before the 10th of the month accrue interest from the 1st of the month. Deposits made after the 10th of the month accrue interest from the first day of the following month. The effective date of deposit is the date the deposit is made to the disbursing officer, finance officer, or any other designated officer of the Uniformed Service. Compute interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum, compounded quarterly, according to calendar quarter. Compute quarterly interest on the average quarterly balance on deposit. Ten percent is compounded quarterly on amounts less than $10,000. Once $10,000 is on deposit, simple interest will be computed on the $10,000. No interest is paid on amounts exceeding $10,000, except on amounts in the case of a member who is in a missing status.

510403. Computing Average Quarterly Balance

A. If there were no emergency withdrawals during the quarter, determine the average quarterly balance by adding amounts on deposit on the 10th day of each month of the quarter, and divide the total by three.

Example 1

Date	Deposits	Amount On Deposit	On 10th Day of
5 Jan	$20.00	$ 20.00	Jan
3 Feb	20.00	40.00	Feb
20 Feb	20.00
10 Mar	20.00	80.00	Mar
		$140.00

$140.00 divided by 3 = $46.67 average quarterly balance.

Example 2

Date	Deposits	Amounts on Deposit	On 10th Day of
Jan	$ 0.00	$ 0.00	Jan
3 Feb	20.00	20.00	Feb
20 Feb	20.00
3 Mar	20.00	60.00	Mar
		$80.00

$80.00 divided by 3 = $26.67 average quarterly balance.

B. Emergency withdrawals at any time during a quarter reduce the average quarterly balance on which interest accrues.

Example 3

Date	Deposits	With- drawals	Amount on Deposit	On 10th Day of
1 Apr	$147.12	$ 0.00
	(Bal Fwd)
3 Apr	20.00		$167.12	Apr
			167.12	May
15 May	10.00		--
4 Jun	30.00		--	Jun
15 Jun		$80.00	127.12	Jun
			$461.36

$461 divided by 3 = $153.79 average quarterly balance.

C. Except for amounts on deposit in the case of a member who is in a missing status, the maximum amount upon which 10 percent interest is payable is $10,000 (principal and accrued interest combined).

Example 4

Date	Quarterly Interest	Amount on Deposit
10 Jan	-0-	$10,000.00
1 Apr	250.00	10,250.00
1 July	250.00	10,500.00

510404. Special Determinations. See Table 51-1.

5105 CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH DEPOSITS, PLUS INTEREST, ARE REPAYED

(See Table 51-3).

5106 PAYMENT OF INTEREST UPON FINAL SETTLEMENT OF DEPOSIT ACCOUNT

510601. General. Except when the 90-day limitation applies, interest will stop at the end of the month in which full repayment is made to the member or member's heirs.

510602. Ninety-Day Limitation Period After Eligibility to Make Deposits Terminates. In no case will interest accrue for a period longer than 90 days (computed on a day-for-day basis of actual elapsed time) after the member's eligibility to make deposits terminates. For the Persian Gulf Conflict, the 90-day limitation period begins on the day after the member's entitlement to Imminent Danger Pay (IDP) for the Persian Gulf area terminates. Should the 90-day limitation period end on any day other than the last day of a month, interest will accrue through the last day of the preceding month. If the 90-day limitation period ends on the last day of a month, interest accrues for that month. In determining when the 90-day limitation period terminates, the last day of the month is 28 February (29 February in leap year), the 30th of a 30-day month, or the 31st day of a 31-day month.

510603. Computation of Interest at 10 Percent Rate. Repay deposits, plus interest, under the conditions shown in Table 51-2. Compute interest at the rate of:

1 Month-1/12 of 10 percent or .00833
2 Months-2/12 of 10 percent or .01667
3 Months-(Full Quarter)-.025

Example 1: Member's Request

Member has $355 (principal plus compounded interest as of 30 June 1991) on deposit when IDP terminates on 30 July 1991. He requests repayment on 12 August 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $5.92 for the months of July and August ($.01667 \times $355$) or $360.92.

Example 2: Ninety-Day Rule

Same example as 1, above, except member requests repayment on 15 October 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $8.88 for the months of July, August, and September ($.025 \times $355$) or $363.88. Interest for 1-15 October 1991, is not allowed since 90-day limitation period ended 12 October 1991 (a day other than the last day of the month).

Example 3: Member Discharged

Same example as 1, above, except member is discharged overseas for his/her own convenience on 15 July 1991. Repay deposit $355 plus interest of $2.96 for the months of July ($.00833 \times $355$) or $357.96, assuming full repayment is in effect in the month of July.

Example 4: Member Dies

On 8 March 1991, the member has on deposit the maximum amount of \$10,000 (principal plus simple interest) and makes no new deposits. While in the Persian Gulf area, member dies on 15 November 1991, and settlement of unpaid pay and allowances is made to member's heir(s) on 15 December 1991. Repay deposit of \$10,000 and simple interest of \$833.33 for period 1 March through 31 December 1991 ($.00833 \times 10$), or \$10,833.33.

5107 WITHDRAWAL OF DEPOSITS

510701. Emergency Withdrawals. Withdrawals may be made in an emergency only when the health or welfare of a member or his dependent(s) would be jeopardized if the withdrawal were not granted. Emergency withdrawals may be authorized by the member's commanding officer.

510702. Members in a Missing Status. Withdrawals may be made when directed by the Secretary concerned (or designee) when deemed in the best interest of the member, member's dependent(s), or the U.S. Government.

510703. Discharge While Eligible to Make Deposits. Members eligible to make deposits who are discharged and immediately reenlist, extend their enlistments, or who are discharged to accept a commission may not withdraw their deposits.

510704. Accounts Which Have Reached $10,000. In situations where the member's principal and interest on deposit reaches $10,000, any amounts representing interest accruing in the account subsequent to that time which causes the $10,000 total to be exceeded, may be withdrawn quarterly at the member's request.

5108 APPLICATION TO INDEBTEDNESS OR FORFEITURE

Savings deposits and interest thereon are exempt from liability for member's debts except for levies issued by the Internal Revenue Service in problem cases. This includes any indebtedness to the U.S. Government or its agencies. Deposits are not subject to forfeiture by sentence of court-martial, and are not forfeited by desertion.

5109 LIABILITY OF DISBURSING OFFICERS

A disbursing officer who fails to properly process a deposit into his account is liable for the amount of the deposit, plus interest, from the effective date of the deposit to date of withdrawal or repayment.

PRECEDENCE OF PAY DEDUCTIONS AND COLLECTIONS

PRIORITY OF DEDUCTIONS AND COLLECTIONS
R U L E	When the amounts due a member are not enough to cover authorized deductions or collections, collect applicable amounts shown in the following sequence:
1	Reduction of pay entitlement	Losses of pay entitlement take precedence over all items for deduction or collection: a. Forfeiture. (See note 1) b. Reduction for educational benefit under "Montgomery G.I. Bill" (note 1)
2	Reimbursement to United States	Amounts collected for deposit to the credit of the United States Treasury, in the following order: a. FICA tax b. Deductions for Armed Forces Retirement Homes c. FITW (this includes any amounts voluntarily authorized by member in excess of the minimum withholding required) d. TRICARE-Family Member Dental Plan e. Deductions for SGLI
3	State income tax withholding
4	Involuntary repayment of indebtedness to United States	a. Routine pay adjustment as defined in subparagraph 500104.A.1. b. Repayment of advances of pay/allowances or advances of travel c. Other collections (overpayments of pay or allowances outside the scope of a routine pay adjustment). d. Repayment of public funds entrusted to an accountable member or funds obtained by any member through fraud, larceny, embezzlement, or other unlawful means e. Clothing allowance charges f. Transportation charges g. Subsistence charges h. Government property lost or damaged. (See note 2) i. Telephone or telegraph charges j. Damage to assigned housing due to negligence or abuse k. Indebtedness to a Commissary, DoD contracted Military Banking Facility overseas, or other appropriated fund activity for an uncollectable check or defaulted loan l. Unpaid hospital bills for medical services furnished a dependent m. Compensation or stipend payments received by a medical officer from state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospitals for medical services n. Jury duty fees received by a member o. Amounts due other Uniformed Services or departments or agencies outside DoD, including court judgments
5	Garnishment for alimony and child support payments
6	Statutorily-required child and spousal support allotments
7	Reimbursement to individuals and agencies	Remittances to an individual or agency by disbursing officer making deductions as follows: a. Deductions for rental of premises occupied by dependents b. Deduction for payment for damages to private property

Table 52-1. Priority of Deductions and Collections

R U L E	When the amounts due a member are not enough to cover authorized deductions or collections, collect applicable amounts shown in the following sequence:
8	Court-ordered bankruptcy payments under Chapter 13 of the revised Bankruptcy Act	See note 3
9	Indebtedness to a nonappropriated fund activity
10	Amounts due Service relief society (Army Emergency Relief, Air Force Aid Society, Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society, or Coast Guard Mutual Assistance) only at final separation
11	Voluntary repayment of indebtedness to United States	In order specified by the Military Service member (See note 4.)
12	Involuntary Allotment for Commercial Debts	See note 5
13	Allotments	Payments made to an allottee by the United States or when a savings bond has been issued before the date amounts due a member are to be disbursed in the following order: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Emergency support of dependent b. Government insurance (discretionary allotment) c. Repayment of individual indebtedness or for payment to an individual or financial organization for disposition as authorized by the allotter (discretionary allotment) d. Purchase of United States savings bonds e. Donation to charity drives f. Other discretionary allotments (See note 5.)
14	IRS levy for delinquent Federal income taxes	(See Chapter 44, section 4402) (See note 5.)
15	Court-Martial Fines

NOTES:

1. Gross pay to which the Military Service member would otherwise be entitled must be reduced by the amount of the forfeiture. The forfeiture is subtracted to determine a new, reduced gross pay amount. Deductions based on gross pay will be computed on the reduced gross pay.
2. This is a voluntary indebtedness for members of the Navy or Marine Corps who fall under Table 50-3, rule 5.
3. In cases where the United States Bankruptcy Court has mandated that a sum be deducted monthly, the court order will be followed as prescribed in Military Service regulations. The above order of precedence will apply unless otherwise specified in the court order in which case the court's order prevails.
4. Upon separation, these become involuntary and fall under rule 4.
5. If the date of a tax levy is earlier than the effective date of a voluntary allotment or an involuntary allotment for commercial debts, the tax levy should be collected before either allotment.

CHAPTER 54

TRICARE DENTAL PLANS

5401 TRICARE FAMILY MEMBER DENTAL PLAN (TFMDP)

540101. Enrollment Eligibility

A voluntary dental insurance program for spouses and children of active duty members was established on August 1, 1987. Eligibility for enrollment in the TRICARE-FMDP is limited to dependent children and spouses of active duty members eligible for health benefits under CHAMPUS who are enrolled in the Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS). Family members may reside anywhere in the world, but must receive care in one of the 50 states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, or Canada. The active duty member must intend to remain on active duty for the minimum period of enrollment at the time eligible dependents are enrolled. The minimum enrollment period is 24 months, during which a member may not disenroll voluntarily except under the conditions discussed in section 5404, below. Any member who does not have 24 months remaining on his or her period of active duty may enroll family members, if it is the intent of both the Military Service and the member to have the member remain on active duty for at least 24 months. All dependent family members (spouse and dependent children) age 4 and above residing in the family's household must be enrolled if any member of the family household is to be enrolled. If one or more family members are in an area where dental care is not available, but the other family members are in an area with military dental care, family members who do not have access to military dental care may be enrolled while the remaining family members are not. This may occur when:

- A. Children are attending college away from home.
- B. Children are living with an ex-spouse.
- C. Children are living with relatives away from the main family unit.
- D. Children are in a foster home.

TRICARE-FMDP is administered by the OCHAMPUS.

540102. Enrollment

A. Initial Enrollment. The member may enroll voluntarily in the TRICARE-FMDP at any time. Procedures for enrolling or changing enrollment status are published in Military Service regulations. The DD Form 2494 is used to enroll in the TRICARE-FMDP, or for effecting enrollment changes or terminations in the TRICARE-FMDP. Enrollment will be effective the first of the month following the month in which the DD Form 2494 is received by the applicable Military Service administrative office.

B. Voluntary Changes to Enrollment Status. Enrollment will be effective the first of the month following the month in which the DD Form 2494 is received by the applicable Military Service administrative office.

C. Involuntary Changes to Enrollment Status Due to Loss or Gain in Dependent Eligibility. Changes in enrollment status from family to individual as a result of loss of dependent eligibility are effective the first day of the month following the month in which the eligibility change occurs. An automatic enrollment status change occurs when an enrolled member's dependent child becomes 4 years of age, at which time the enrollment coverage will change from individual to family if family coverage had not already been elected. This change in coverage will be effected the first of the month after the child turns 4 years of age, and is supported by the DD Form 2494 already on file for the member.

540103. Disenrollment

A. Voluntary Disenrollment. The member may terminate enrollment voluntarily at any time after the minimum period of enrollment by completing the applicable procedures established in Military Service regulations. All voluntary terminations are effective on the last day of the month in which the member completes the DD Form 2494 electing termination of participation in the TRICARE-FMDP.

B. Separation or Absence. Enrollment in the TRICARE-FMDP is terminated automatically when the member terminates active duty service or when the member enters a non-pay status over 1 month in duration regardless of whether the member has completed the minimum enrollment period. Terminations in these two situations are automatic without completion of any additional procedures. When a member terminates active service, TRICARE-FMDP coverage is terminated as of the last day of the month in which the member terminates active service. When a member enters a non-pay status of over 30 days, TRICARE-FMDP coverage is terminated as of 11:59 p.m. of the day the Military Service member became ineligible for basic pay.

C. Loss of Eligibility. When a member no longer has dependents eligible to participate in the TRICARE-FMDP, the member must complete disenrollment procedures established by the Military Service concerned; however, the TRICARE-FMDP coverage will be terminated as of the last day of the month in which the member lost dependent eligibility. A member is considered to no longer have eligible dependents when:

1. The member becomes divorced and the only enrolled dependent was the spouse,

2. The member's only enrolled dependent was a child who is emancipated,

3. All enrolled dependents establish a permanent residence in an area not eligible for the TRICARE-FMDP, or,

4. All enrolled dependents die.

D. Other Dental Insurance. Members may not terminate enrollment immediately following enrollment of their family members in an employment-based dental insurance plan (i.e., spouse becomes entitled to another dental plan). To terminate enrollment on this basis, members first must complete the initial 24 month minimum enrollment requirement.

540104. Exceptions to the Minimum Enrollment Period

Under the following conditions, a member may elect to disenroll from the TRICARE-FMDP prior to the end of the minimum enrollment period.

A. Orders. Termination of enrollment following a PCS move in CONUS is permitted only in areas where family members have access to space available dental care. If member desires to terminate enrollment, it must be done within 90 days of the date following the date of arrival at the new permanent duty station.

B. Areas Where TRICARE-FMDP is Not Offered. Members may terminate enrollment following a change in permanent duty station resulting in a move of the family's residence to areas where the TRICARE-FMDP is not offered.

C. Orders From Overseas Area. Members who depart overseas areas on or after October 1, 1995 (with 12 to 23 months of service obligation remaining), may enroll their family members in the TRICARE-FMDP during their remaining service period, if the family members accompanied the member on the overseas assignment and are now returning to CONUS. These enrollments will be assigned unique enrollment codes and are an exception to the 24 month minimum enrollment contract. Use of these unique enrollment codes is authorized only for members who were assigned to a dependent accompanied overseas tour. There is no grandfather period prior to the October 1, 1995, effective date and enrollment elections must be made within 30 days of a member reporting for duty at the new duty station. Note: Calculate the months remaining on the service obligation by adding only the full months remaining on the service obligation as of the date of enrollment. The member must have 12 full months of service remaining on the date of enrollment. To ensure the maximum enrollment period, please encourage eligible members to enroll their family members prior to departing their overseas duty station.

540105. Deductions for TRICARE-FMDP

★A. Monthly Premium. The monthly premium for TRICARE-FMDP coverage (effective August 1, 1998) is $8.09 for individual coverage and $20.00 for family coverage; deductions began as of July 1998. The monthly premium is not prorated under any circumstances. DDP premiums are deducted from the member during the month preceding the effective date of the coverage.

B. Retroactive Adjustment. When a notice of enrollment is received after the date the first premium collection was due, immediate collection will be made of all past due premiums. When a notice of disenrollment is received, after premiums already have been collected or when TRICARE-FMDP premiums were collected prior to notification of a loss of member or dependent eligibility, excess premiums will be refunded to the member.

★5402. TRICARE SELECTED RESERVE DENTAL PLAN

540201. General Provisions

A. Definitions. The following terms may vary from Definitions used elsewhere in this regulation and are applicable to this chapter only:

1. Covered Beneficiary. A member of a Uniformed Service (beneficiary) entitled under of Title 10, United States Code, Chapter 55, other than a beneficiary under section 10 U.S.C. 1074(a).

2. TRICARE Program. The term means the managed health care program that is established by the Secretary of Defense under the authority of Title 10, United States Code, Chapter 55, principally 10 U.S.C. 1097 and includes the competitive selection of contractors to financially underwrite the delivery of health care services under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services.

540202. Entitlement

A. Members of the Selected Reserve can voluntarily enroll in the dental insurance plan. The plan will provide for premium sharing between the Department of Defense and the members enrolled in the plan.

B. The member's share may not exceed $25 per month. The Secretary of Defense may reduce the monthly premium required to be paid by enlisted members if the Secretary determines that the reduction is appropriate in order to assist enlisted members to participate in the TSRDP. Interested eligible selected reservists may contact the dental contractor to obtain the premium cost for the current period.

C. The TSRDP provides benefits for basic dental care and treatment, including diagnostic services, preventative services, basic restorative services, and emergency oral examinations.

540203. Enrollment. Effective October 1, 1997, all eligible Selected Reservists will be identified to a contractor. The contractor is responsible for enrolling eligible members and collection of 4 months prepayment for premiums. After the initial enrollment and prepayment, the contractor will provide an electronic file, monthly, through the Defense Manpower Data Center to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Centers and the United States Coast Guard (USCG) Finance Center to identify enrollees.

540204. Deductions. Effective November 1, 1997, all enrollees identified in the electronic file to DFAS and USCG Centers by the contractor will have the monthly premium deducted from any monies due. If the member is due no funds, or less than the entire amount of the premium, the contractor will be responsible for billing the member direct for that premium.

540205. Failure to Make Premium Payments. Failure to make monthly premium payments will result in disenrollment from the TSRDP and subject the member to a 12-month lock out period. Following the lock out period, eligible members may reenroll if they so choose.

540206. Terminations. Coverage of TSRDP shall terminate on the last day of the month in which the member is discharged; transfers to the Individual Ready Reserve, Standby Reserve, or Retired Reserve; or is ordered to active duty for a period of more than 30 days.

Ready Reserve Mobilization Income Insurance Program
(DFAS Item G-58)

The Fiscal Year 1998 National Defense Authorization Act, Section 512 (Public Law 105-85) terminates the Ready Reserve Mobilization Income Insurance Program. Attached is interim change 39-98, which incorporates the provisions of P.L. 105-85 in the DoDFMR Volume 7A. This change is effective November 18, 1997.

We have evaluated your comments on the draft change to the DoDFMR, Volume 7A. The attached final version of the change includes your comments where applicable.

Assignment of an interim change is your authority to start a procedural modification to facilitate this change. For the Denver Center, use the attached to initiate the formal printed change to the DoDFMR and the interim change message.

54A0107. Termination of Program.

54A0107A Termination of New Enrollments. The Secretary may not enroll a member of the Ready Reserve for coverage under this insurance program after 18 November 1997.

54A0107B Termination of Coverage. Enrollment of insured members is terminated as of 18 November 1997. An insured member who on 18 November 1997, is serving on covered service for a period of service, or has been issued an order directing the performance of covered service, that satisfied or would satisfy the entitlement-to-benefit provision of this chapter, is terminated as of the date of termination of the period of covered service of that member.

54A0107C Termination of Payment of Benefits. The Secretary may not make any benefit payment under this program after 18 November 1997, other than to an insured member who on that date (1) is serving on an order to covered service, (2) has been issued an order directing performance of covered service, or (3) has served on covered service before that date for which benefits under the program have not been paid to the member.

54A0107D Termination of Insurance Fund. The Secretary shall close the Fund not later than 60 days after the date on which the last benefit payment from the Fund is made. Any amount remaining when closed shall be paid into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts."

★CHAPTER 55

READY RESERVE MOBILIZATION
INCOME INSURANCE PROGRAM5501 GENERAL PROVISIONS

550101. Definitions. The following terms may vary from definitions at the beginning of this manual and are applicable to this chapter only:

A. Active Duty (AD). Full-time with a Military Service including full-time duty with the National Guard.

B. Active Duty for Training (ADT). Full-time duty for training purposes with a Reserve Component or the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

C. Beneficiary/Designated Recipient. The person or agent that the insured member designates in writing to receive benefit payments. A spouse, child, parent, heir or other person with an insurable interest (i.e., business partner, friend, etc.) may be designated. In addition, a member may direct that payments of insurance benefits be deposited with a bank or other financial institution to the credit of the designated person. If no such designation has been made, and the member is deceased upon establishment of a valid claim, the amount shall be payable in accordance with the laws of the state of the member's domicile.

D. Covered Service. The term means AD performed by a member of a Reserve Component under an order to AD for a period of more than 30 days. The order must specify that the member's service is in support of:

1. An operational mission for which members of the Reserve Components have been ordered to AD without their consent; or,

2. Forces activated during a period of war or national emergency declared by the President or the Congress.

E. Insured Member. The term means a member of the Ready Reserve who is enrolled for coverage under the insurance program in accordance with 10 U.S.C. 12524 (reference (c)).

F. Ready Reserve. Consists of the Selected Reserve, the Individual Ready Reserve, and the Inactive National Guard.

550102. Entitlement

A. An insured member (defined in subparagraph 550101.E, above) ordered into covered service (as defined in subparagraph 550101.D, above) is entitled to payment of a benefit for each month (and fraction thereof) after a 30-day period of covered service. The active duty order must specify that the member's service is covered service as defined in subparagraph 550101.D, above.

B. No member may be paid a benefit for more than 12 months during any period of 18 consecutive months.

C. Proof of loss of income or expenses incurred as a result of covered service is not required.

D. If, at any time, assets of the RRMIP Fund are insufficient to pay the benefits, the Secretary of Defense shall request the President to submit to the Congress a request for a special appropriation to cover the insufficiency. If such appropriation is not made, the Secretary of Defense shall reduce the amount of benefits paid to a total amount that does not exceed the assets of the Fund by the end of the fiscal year. Benefits that cannot be paid because of such a reduction shall be deferred and may be paid only after and to the extent that additional funds become available.

550103. Amount of Benefits

A. The amount of a member's monthly benefit under an automatic enrollment shall be the basic benefit amount of $1,000 per month as adjusted annually to offset the effect of inflation and to maintain the constant dollar value of the benefit.

B. A member automatically enrolled or a member who is offered the opportunity to enroll may make an election within 60 days of the first day of the first full month after such automatic enrollment or of the member being offered the opportunity to enroll. Members may elect:

1. A reduced coverage amount equal to one-half the amount of the basic benefit amount.

2. An enhanced benefit in the amount of $1,500, $2,000, $2,500, $3,000, $3,500, $4,000, $4,500, or $5,000 per month as adjusted annually to offset the effect of inflation.

3. To decline enrollment.

C. Members who are enrolled or who are offered coverage may, at any time after their initial election, make an election to reduce coverage to a lesser amount in $500 increments or cancel enrollment. They may not elect to increase coverage.

D. An election to decline insurance may not be revoked. EXCEPTION: A member of the Ready Reserve, who is ineligible to enroll because the member is serving on active duty (or full-time National Guard duty) when the program of insurance is first offered, is eligible to enroll when released from active duty unless the member has previously declined coverage while a member of the Selected Reserve Force. A member of the Individual Ready Reserve who becomes a member of the Selected Reserve shall not be denied eligibility to purchase insurance upon becoming a member of the Selected Reserve unless the member previously declined to enroll while a member of the Selected Reserve. Also, a declination of insurance may be revoked when a member is discharged from the Ready Reserve or transfers to another Military Service. After being separated from the Military Service, an individual who rejoins the Ready Reserve is automatically enrolled in the insurance program (see subparagraph 550104.A, below).

E. Partial Months. The amount of insurance payable to an insured member for a period of covered service less than one month is 1/30th of the monthly benefit amount multiplied by the number of days served.

F. Adjustments. Benefit amounts shall be adjusted on an annual basis to offset the effect of inflation and maintain the constant dollar value of the benefit amounts. If the amount of a benefit adjustment is not evenly divisible by $10, the amount shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $10. Except that an amount evenly divisible by $5 (but not by $10) shall be rounded to the next lower amount that is evenly divisible by $10.

550104. Enrollment

A. On or after 1 October 1996, and upon first becoming a member of the Ready Reserve, a member is automatically enrolled for the basic benefit amount of $1,000 per month or an amount as adjusted under subparagraph 550103.F, above.

B. Members of the Ready Reserve, as of 30 September 1996, other than members ineligible under subparagraph 550104.E, below, shall be offered an opportunity to enroll for coverage under the insurance program.

C. A member under paragraph 550104.A, above, who fails to complete the enrollment process within 60 days after being automatically enrolled or a member under paragraph 550104.B, above, who fails to complete the enrollment process within 60 days after being offered the opportunity to enroll, shall be considered as having declined to be insured under the insurance program.

D. A member of the Ready Reserve, ineligible to enroll under subparagraph 550104.E, below, shall be afforded an opportunity to enroll in accordance with subparagraphs 550104.B and C, above, upon being released from active duty, if the member has not previously declined to be insured under paragraphs 550104.A and B, above.

E. Members Ineligible to Enroll. Members of the Ready Reserve serving on full-time active duty in a Military Service, including full-time National Guard duty, are ineligible to enroll. Such duty includes full-time training duty, annual training duty, and attendance, while in the active military service, at a school designated as a Service school by law or by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. Also, ineligible to enroll are members of the Ready Reserve who are not subject to mobilization or those who are non-deployable in accordance with DoDI 1235.12 (reference (ek)). The Secretary of Defense may define any additional category of members of the Ready Reserve to be included or excluded from eligibility to purchase insurance under this program.

550105. Deductions (RRMIIP Premiums)

A. Premium rates prescribed will be subject to change by the Secretary of Defense to reflect program administrative costs, program experience, or any other change in actuarial assumptions.

B. Premiums will be collected in accordance with procedures specified by the Secretary of Defense.

C. All premium payments must be paid in advance of the period for which the member is to be insured.

D. Premium liability for a member who is automatically insured is incurred on the first day of the month after the first full month of automatic coverage. For example: A member entering the Military Service during the month of April (1-30 day) will have premium liability beginning on June 1.

E. The Military Service concerned shall advance to any member who is "automatically" insured an amount equal to the first monthly insurance premium payment. The advance premium payment may be paid out of appropriations for military pay. Such advance payment shall be reimbursed by the member if the member elects coverage under the program.

F. A member who is automatically insured and who opts to decline the insurance coverage or who fails to complete the enrollment process at any time during the 60-day enrollment period, shall incur no liability for premium payment for any part of the 60-day period. The Military Service which has made an advance payment of premium on behalf of said member will incur no liability for the unearned premium payments and shall be allowed to recover such advance payment through an accounting adjustment.

G. Premium amounts collected shall be paid directly to and shall be credited monthly to the Fund not later than 10 working days after the end-of-month payday for the month.

H. A member under subparagraph 550104.A, above, who is called to active duty for covered service, and who commences active duty prior to completing the enrollment process is insured for the basic benefit amount of $1,000.

550106. Termination, Forfeiture, Reinstatement

A. Termination. The coverage of a member under the insurance program shall be terminated without prior notice upon failure of a member to make the required payment of premiums for two consecutive months.

B. Forfeiture. A member convicted of mutiny, treason, spying or desertion, or who refuses to perform service in the Armed Forces, or refuses to wear the uniform of any Armed Force, forfeits all rights to insurance in accordance with 10 U.S.C. 12532 (reference (c)).

C. Reinstatement. When the Military Service determines that a member's insurance coverage has been revoked due to an administrative error deemed to be no fault of the member, the member's insurance may be reinstated when all premiums from the date of revocation are paid by the member.

CHAPTER 56

SERVICE CREDITABLE

5601 GENERAL

The provisions of Chapter 1 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

Interim Changes 26-97, 22-98, 23-98, 24-98, 27-98, 44-98 and 10-99 are incorporated in this change. Interim changes 26-97, 22-98, 44-98, and 10-99 also affect other chapters and will not be deleted from the interim changes cited on the Internet.

CHAPTER 57

ACTIVE DUTY (NOT EXTENDED ACTIVE DUTY) ENTITLEMENTS

5701 GENERAL PROVISIONS

570101. Entitlements

A. Active Duty With Pay. A member of a Reserve Component serving on active duty with pay is entitled to receive pay according to the member's years of service and the grade in which the member is serving.

NOTE: As used in this chapter, the term active duty includes active duty training, active duty for training, full-time training duty, annual training duty and attendance while in active service at a school designated as a Service school by law or the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, temporary active duty when the pay is chargeable to a Reserve appropriation or, in the case of the National Guard, full-time training, and other full-time duty. It does not mean extended active duty. Extended active duty (EAD) is defined as active duty performed by a member of a Reserve Component when strength accountability passes from the Reserve Component to the active military establishment.

★B. Active Duty Without Pay. A member of a Reserve Component may, with his or her consent, be ordered to active duty without pay when authorized by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. See subparagraphs 570501.B and 570502.B for entitlement to allowances.

C. Combination Active Duty and Inactive Duty. A member of a Reserve Component may be paid the equivalent total of more than 360 days' pay in a year, when so directed, if this total is based on a combination of active duty pay and inactive duty training pay.

D. Effective Date of Promotion for Increase in Pay and Allowances Reserve and National Guard Officers. See Table 57-1.

E. Effective Date of Promotion for Increase in Pay and Allowances, Enlisted Members of the Reserve Components. Table 2-2, rules 7 through 11 apply to these members.

570102. Saved Pay. The provisions of chapter 2, section 0203, apply to members of Reserve Components.

570103. Limitation. A member of a Reserve Component cannot be paid inactive duty pay on any day that he or she is entitled to active duty pay.

570104. Waiver of Benefits. A member of a Reserve Component who is drawing a pension, disability compensation, retainer pay, or retirement pay from the United States for prior military service, and who performs duty for which he or she is entitled to pay, may elect to receive either:

- A. The payments for prior military service, or
- B. If member specifically waives those payments, the pay and allowances authorized for the duty the member is currently performing.

1. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Disability Compensation.

A Reservist who is entitled to VA disability compensation must waive the equivalent VA compensation for one day for each Reserve active duty day or each inactive duty period. (Thus, the performance of two inactive duty periods in 1 calendar day requires waiver of the equivalent VA compensation for two days.) These waiver requirements apply for all days in a calendar month.

2. Retired or Retainer Pay. A Reservist who is entitled to retired or retainer pay must waive the equivalent of retired or retainer pay for one day for each Reserve active duty day or inactive duty performance day. (Thus, the performance of two inactive duty period in 1 calendar day requires waiver of the equivalent retired or retainer pay.) These waiver requirements apply for all days in a calendar month.

570105. Allotments of Pay. Except as prescribed in paragraph 570708, below, a member of a Reserve Component not on EAD may not have pay allotted. Members of Reserve Components serving on active duty, active duty for training, or full-time training duty under competent orders which specify periods of duty of more than 180 days, or upon involuntary recall under 10 U.S.C. 12302 (reference (c)), are excluded from this restriction when prescribed in Military Service regulations and may allot their pay, even though such pay is chargeable to Reserve or National Guard appropriations. Section 3404 of this Regulation applies should a member enter a missing status and paragraph 570604, below, applies should a member incur a disability.

570106. Leave. A member of a Reserve Component who serves on active duty with pay for periods of 30 consecutive days or more accrues leave at the rate of 2-1/2 calendar days for each month of active service, excluding periods of:

- A. Absence from duty without leave.
- B. Absence over leave.
- C. Confinement as a result of a court-martial.

The member is entitled to lump-sum settlement of unused accrued leave upon completion of a tour per Table 57-2. When consecutive tours are involved, a member may be reimbursed for unused accrued leave or it may be carried forward, at the member's option, until completion of the final tour. When computing the length of a period of active duty, include allowable travel time. See also chapter 35, paragraphs 350101 and 350102, and procedural instructions of the Military Services concerned; refer to Tables 35-1 through 35-4 for specific entitlement criteria.

5702 ALLOWABLE TRAVEL TIME FOR PAY ENTITLEMENT PURPOSES

570201. Entitlement. The provisions of chapter 2, section 0205, apply to members of the Reserve Components.

5703 COMPUTATION OF PAY

570301. Annual Salary. The provisions of paragraph 020203 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570302. Computation of Monthly Pay

A. Active Duty for 30 Days or More. When a member is ordered to active duty for 30 days or more and the tour of duty starts on the first day or an intermediate day of a calendar month, the member is entitled to pay and allowances through the 30th day. Payment is not authorized for the 31st day of a calendar month (except BAS for enlisted members). This includes a member who is ordered to active duty for less than 30 days and is continued on active duty for 30 days or more by new orders or an amendment to the original orders. When computing the number of days for which pay is due, include the entire period the member actually serves on active duty, including allowable travel time. (See Table 57-2, rules 1 and 2.)

B. Active Duty for Less Than 30 Days. A member ordered to active duty for less than 30 days is entitled to pay and allowances at 1/30th the monthly rate for each day actually served, including the 31st day of a calendar month. This includes a member ordered to active duty for 30 days or more but released before performing at least 30 days of active duty, including allowable travel time. (See Table 57-2, rule 3.)

C. Active Duty During February. (See Table 57-2, rules 4 through 11.)

570303. Absence From Duty

A. Active Duty for Less Than 30 Days. Deduct 1/30th of pay for 1 month for each day of unauthorized absence.

B. Active Duty of 30 Days or More. The provisions of chapter 2, paragraph 020202 applies to members of the Reserve Components.

570304. Basic Pay Rates. Tables 2-5 through 2-8 contain current monthly rates of basic pay.

5704 SPECIAL AND INCENTIVE PAY570401. Entitlement

★A. General. A member of a Reserve Component on active duty is entitled to special and incentive pays under the same conditions as a member on EAD. For exceptions, see subparagraphs B, C, D, and E, below, and paragraphs 570402 through 570408, below.

B. Career Sea Duty and Foreign Duty Pay. For career sea duty and foreign duty pay, the ship or duty station at which a member is performing active duty is considered member's permanent duty station.

C. Aviation Career Incentive Pay (ACIP); Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) for the Performance of Aerial Flights

★1. A Reserve Component officer is entitled to ACIP (continuous or conditional) while performing active duty as defined in subparagraph 570101.A, above, when the requirements of chapter 22, section 2202 and the requirements for an Aviation Service Career nor on Active Guard and Reserve (AGR) Duty) as defined in the Definitions have been met. AGR aviators on full time active duty on a career basis shall be entitled to ACIP (continuous or conditional) under provisions of chapter 22 on the same basis as officers on extended active duty.

2. Excess Flying Time. The excess flying time provisions in section 2202 of this regulation, for rated officers, flight surgeons, and rated or designated warrant officers entitled to ACIP, and in section 2201, of this regulation, for enlisted crew members entitled to flying pay, apply to a member of Reserve Component only if on continuous active duty for a period of 30 days or more.

★3. Combined Flight Requirements. When a member performs both active and inactive duty with pay in the same month, designated flying time earned in that month may be combined to satisfy any ACIP or hazardous duty incentive pay (HDIP) flight requirements for that month. For specific details, see subparagraph 580202, below.

4. Flying Pay for Allowable Travel Time. A member on active duty for 30 days or less is entitled to flying pay (if otherwise entitled) for travel time from duty station to home, even though the period extends into the following calendar month (see Table 22-3, rule 5).

★5. Entitlement to ACIP While on Active Duty for Training for Members Who Perform Inactive Duty Training Without Pay. An officer who performs inactive duty for training without pay is entitled to ACIP when performing active duty for training only if member is considered to be performing aviation service on a career basis. (See Definitions for "Aviation Service Career" (Not on Extended Active Duty nor on Active Guard and Reserve (AGR) Duty.))

D. Parachute Duty Pay. Parachute jumps performed during periods of active duty for training or during inactive duty training periods, if performed per chapter 24, section 2402, may be used to qualify the member for parachute pay for either type of training. Parachute jumps performed while on EAD do not qualify a Reservist for parachute pay in an inactive duty training status.

E. Special Duty Assignment Pay. An enlisted member on active duty for training is entitled to special duty assignment pay if otherwise entitled under chapter 8.

570402. Selected Reserve Reenlistment or Voluntary Extension

★A. Basic Condition of Entitlement. A bonus may be awarded during the period of February 24, 1986 through September 30, 1999 to an enlisted member of a Reserve Component who meets all the following criteria:

1. Reenlists or extends in a unit and/or a military occupational specialty approved by the Secretary concerned;

★2. Has not previously received two 3-year reenlistment/extension bonuses or one 6 year reenlistment bonus for service in the Selected Reserve;

3. Is not reenlisting or extending to qualify for a civilian position (excluding temporary assignments) where membership in the Reserve Component is a condition of employment;

4. Holds rank or grade commensurate with the billet vacancy (within authorized substitution limits as prescribed by the Military Service concerned); and

5. Has been a satisfactory participant in the Selected Reserve for at least the last 3 months of his or her Selected Reserve service at the time of reenlistment or extension.

★B. To Whom Payable. An enlisted member of a Reserve Component who has completed less than 14 years total military service and reenlists or voluntarily extends his or her enlistment for:

1. A period of 6 years may receive an amount not to exceed $5,000.

2. An initial period of 3 years may receive an amount not to exceed $2,500.

3. A second period of 3 years may receive an amount not to exceed $2,000.

Note: A member may not be paid more than one 6-year reenlistment bonus or two 3-year reenlistment/extension bonuses.

★C. Amounts Payable. The initial amount payable may not exceed one-half of the total amount of the bonus with subsequent partial payments in an amount and schedule established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

570403. Selected Reserve Enlistment

★A. Basic Condition of Entitlement. A bonus may be awarded during the period February 24, 1986, through September 30, 1999, to an individual who enlists in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve for a term of not less than 6 years and a total Ready Reserve obligation of not more than 8 years and who meets the following criteria:

1. Has not previously served in any component of the Armed Forces (Service non-prior service definitions apply);
2. Is classified in test score category I, II, or III;
3. Is a graduate of a secondary school;
4. Is not enlisting to qualify for a military technician position where membership in a Reserve Component is a condition of employment (persons on temporary assignment are excluded);
5. Is enlisting as a member of a unit and/or in a military specialty established as critical by the Secretary of the Military Department;
6. Is not selecting an optional enlistment program (that is, 3x3, 4x2, 5x1); and
7. Is not enlisting for voluntary assignment to full-time active duty or active duty for training in excess of 90 days in support of a Reserve program;

★B. Prior Service Enlistments. Effective February 24, 1986, through September 30, 1999, an enlistment bonus for prior Service personnel may be paid to an honorably discharged member who enlists in the Selected Reserve for a critical skill designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned for either a 3- or 6-year enlistment, executes an agreement, and:

1. Has completed the service obligation but has less than 14 years total military service;
2. Is not being released from active service for the purpose of enlisting in a Reserve Component; and

3. Has not previously been paid a bonus for enlistment, reenlistment or extension in a Reserve Component.

C. Amount and Time of Payment

1. Nonprior Service. The amount of the enlistment bonus may vary by military specialty, except that the amount may not exceed $5,000. Payment may be an amount not to exceed one-half upon satisfactory completion of initial active duty for training (IADT), including military specialty qualification or sufficient training to be deployable. The remainder of the bonus may be paid in periodic installments or in a lump sum as determined by the Secretary concerned.

★2. Prior Service

a. A person who is a former enlisted member of an Armed Force and enlists in the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve in a skill designated as critical by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, may be paid a bonus as follows:

(1) $5,000, when the person enlists for a period of 6 years;

(2). $2,500 when the person who never received a bonus under this section enlists or extends for a period of 3 years; and

(3). $2,000 when the person who received a bonus under this section for a previous 3-year enlistment or extension, enlists or extends the enlistment for an additional period of 3 years.

(4). A member may not be paid more than one 6-year prior service enlistment bonus or two 3-year prior service enlistment bonuses.

b. Any bonus payable under this section shall be paid in one initial payment of an amount not to exceed one-half of the total amount of the bonus and subsequent periodic partial payments of the balance of the bonus. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned shall prescribe the amount of each partial payment and the schedule for making the partial payments.

NOTE: A member may not be paid a bonus under this paragraph unless the specialty associated with the position the member is projected to occupy is a specialty in which the member successfully served while on active duty and attained a level of qualification commensurate with the member's grade and years of service.

★570404. Affiliation Bonus. A Reserve affiliation bonus is authorized during the period October 1, 1980 through September 30, 1985, and February 24, 1986, through September 30, 1999, to any person who:

A. Is serving on active duty, is eligible for reenlistment or for an extension of the active duty status, has 180 days or less remaining on the active duty obligation and, upon discharge or release from active duty upon the completion of such active duty obligation, will have a Reserve service obligation under 10 U.S.C. 651 (reference (c)) or under section 6(d)(1) of the Military Selective Service Act (reference (bw)); or

B. Has served on active duty for any period of time, has completed satisfactorily any term of enlistment or period of obligated active duty service, was discharged or released from such active duty under honorable conditions, is serving a period of Reserve service obligation under 10 U.S.C. 651 (reference (c)) or section 6(d)(1) of the Military Selective Service Act (reference (bw)), and meets the following eligibility criteria:

1. Is affiliating with a unit and/or holds and is qualified in a military specialty designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned for the purpose of this bonus;

2. Has a grade or rating and military occupational specialty for which there is a vacancy in the Reserve Component in which the person is to become a member; (Service grade and skill substitution rules apply);

3. Is not affiliating to qualify for a civilian position where membership in the Guard or Reserve is a condition of employment (persons on temporary assignment excluded);

4. Enters into a written agreement with the Secretary concerned to serve as an enlisted member of the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve of an Armed Force for the period of obligated Reserve service such person has remaining at the time of affiliation;

5. Has not enlisted under the IRR Direct Enlistment Program; and

6. Meets all other requirements established by the Reserve Components.

C. A person who meets the eligibility criteria outlined above may be awarded a bonus, calculated on a basis of up to $50 a month, as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, for each month of remaining military service obligation or, if on active duty, that will remain at the time of discharge or release from active duty (only whole months will be counted).

1. If the person has 18 months or less remaining on the military service obligation, the entire amount may be paid upon the signing of a Selected Reserve agreement and affiliation with a Selected Reserve unit.

2. If the person has more than 18 months remaining, the bonus may be payable one-half upon the execution of a Selected Reserve agreement and affiliation with a Selected Reserve unit and one-half on the sixth anniversary of the date upon which statutory military obligation began (original enlistment contract or entry on active duty).

3. In lieu of the payment methods authorized in subparagraphs 1 and 2, above, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may authorize a bonus to be paid in monthly installments of an amount to be determined by the Secretary. In such cases, payments will begin upon the member's completion of the first month of satisfactory service and will be paid only for those months that he or she maintains satisfactory. "Satisfactory participation" will be determined in accordance with appropriate Service personnel guidance.

570405. Obligation. To be eligible for any incentive, a member must be contractually obligated to participate satisfactorily, as prescribed by Component regulations, in the selected Reserve for the full term of the enlistment, reenlistment, extension or affiliation period. The member further must be obligated to continue to serve in the same component and in the same military occupational specialty unless excused for the convenience of the government.

570406. Termination of Incentive Entitlement for Enlistment, Reenlistment, or Affiliation Bonuses. Entitlement to further bonus payments will be terminated if a member:

A. Fails to participate satisfactorily in accordance with the Military Service in the Selected Reserve.

B. Accepts a civilian position where membership in the Reserve Component is a condition of employment (persons on temporary assignment excluded).

C. Is separated from the Selected Reserve as an enlisted person for any reason (including enlistment or voluntary recall into the active forces).

D. Becomes a simultaneous member of an authorized officer program drawing a stipend.

E. Moves out of a bonus-qualified military occupational specialty, unless at the express direction of the Military Service concerned.

F. Moves to a nonbonus eligible unit, unless at the express direction of the parent Component. (Exceptions: Provided they remain otherwise qualified, current bonus participants retain bonus entitlement if they either volunteer for active duty or active duty for training in excess of 90 days in support of a Reserve Component, or accept a temporary military technician position where membership in a Reserve Component is a condition of employment.)

G. Fails to extend the contracted term of service for a period of authorized nonavailability.

570407. Relief From Termination of Bonuses. Members who move from one location to another may continue bonus eligibility if they remain in the Selected Reserve of the same Component and join a bonus-eligible unit or bonus-eligible military occupational specialty, as appropriate. Relocated members who remain eligible for continuation in the bonus program may not receive a payment before qualifying in the gaining unit position. Members whose military occupational specialty is changed at the convenience of the government or whose units are inactivated, relocated, reorganized, or converted may continue to be entitled to incentive payments provided they meet all other eligibility criteria.

570408. Nonavailability

A. Members who incur a period of authorized nonavailability (such as, temporary overseas residence, missionary obligation, overseas employment obligation, etc.) are not actually terminated from the incentive program. Such personnel will be assigned temporarily to the Standby Reserve or the Inactive National Guard, as appropriate, and be required to extend their enlistment, reenlistment, or extension period in the Ready Reserve in order to serve the full contract period in the Selected Reserve. During the period of nonavailability, the member will not be entitled to subsequent incentive payments. Entitlements to subsequent payments will resume on the adjusted anniversary date of satisfactory creditable Selected Reserve service.

B. Members who incur a period of authorized nonavailability of up to 1 year for valid personal reasons will be assigned temporarily to the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR) or the Inactive National Guard, as appropriate, and be required to extend their enlistment, reenlistment, or extension period in the Ready Reserve in order to serve the full contract period in the Selected Reserve. During a period of nonavailability, the member will not be entitled to subsequent incentive payments or any incentives available to members of the Ready Reserve not in the Selected Reserve. Entitlement to subsequent payments will resume on the adjusted anniversary date of satisfactory Selected Reserve service. (The date will be adjusted for that period of nonavailability.)

570409. Recoupment of Payments. Any refund made by a member does not affect the period of obligation of such member to serve as a Ready Reservist.

A. Recoupment of enlistment, reenlistment and affiliation bonuses will be effected for any member who:

1. Fails to participate satisfactorily in training with the Selected Reserve during the entire period of enlistment, reenlistment or extension, per the Selected Reserve written agreement, unless the failure to participate satisfactorily was due to reasons beyond the control of the member (that is, death, injury, illness or other impairment not the result of the member's misconduct).

2. Accepts a civilian position where membership in the Reserve Component is a condition of employment, if less than one-half of the contract term for which a bonus is payable has been served (members on temporary assignment excluded).

3. Separates from the Selected Reserve as an enlisted person for any reason (including enlistment or voluntary recall into the active forces) other than by death or to accept an immediate appointment as an officer in the Ready Reserve (in which case, recoupment is required if less than 1 year of the term has been served).

4. Moves out of a bonus-eligible military occupational specialty, unless at the express direction of member's component.

5. Moves to a bonus-ineligible unit unless at the express direction of the Military Service concerned.

B. Recoupment of enlistment, reenlistment, and affiliation bonuses is calculated as follows:

1. The number of months served satisfactorily during the term for which a bonus was paid will be multiplied by the monthly rate authorized by the particular bonus.

2. That amount is subtracted from the total amount of bonus paid to the individual to date (initial and any subsequent payments).

3. If the calculation indicates overpayment to the individual, that amount is recouped. If the calculation indicates that the member has earned more than has been paid (total of initial and any subsequent payments) on the same prorata basis, that amount is paid in the final installment.

4. The amount to be recouped will be reduced by an amount equal to any reduction taken under chapter 35, subparagraphs 350702.F or 350802.D.

5705 ALLOWANCES

570501. Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS)

A. Entitlement-Active Duty With Pay. A member of a Reserve Component ordered to active duty with pay is entitled to BAS as prescribed in chapter 25.

B. Entitlement-Active Duty Without Pay. A member of a Reserve Component ordered to active duty without pay is entitled to subsistence in kind or commutation thereof as stipulated for in subparagraphs 1 and 2, below. When a member is ordered to active duty "without pay and allowances," no payment is authorized.

1. Duty at the Permanent Duty Station. BAS will be paid at the same rates and under the same conditions as provided for members on active duty with pay.

2. Duty at Other Than the Permanent Duty Station. When a government mess is not available, reimbursement for meals is authorized at the rate of $1.50 per meal (maximum $4.50 per day).

★570502. Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH)

★A. Entitlement-Active Duty With Pay. Members of a Reserve Component on active duty with pay are entitled to BAH under terms and conditions of chapter 26. Members of a Reserve Component on active duty (other than for training) with pay are entitled to BAH under the same terms and conditions as members serving on full time active duty. A member who is receiving quarters allowance incident to civilian employment also may receive BAH as a result of military service, if otherwise entitled. See chapter 26, paragraph 260203 for further guidance.

B. Entitlement-Active Duty Without Pay. A member of a Reserve Component ordered to active duty without pay is entitled to quarters in kind or commutation thereof as provided for in subparagraphs 1 and 2, below. When a member is ordered to active duty "without pay and allowances," payment is not authorized.

★1. Duty at the Permanent Duty Station. BAH will be paid at the same rates prescribed in Table 26-9 and under the same conditions as provided for a member without dependents on active duty with pay.

2. Duty at Other Than the Permanent Duty Station. When government quarters are not available, reimbursement for quarters is authorized at the rate of $4.50 per day.

★C. Permanent Duty Station-Active Duty For Training. For members of the Army National Guard, the Air National Guard, or Reserve Components of any of the Uniformed Services on active duty for training, the place where the training duty is being performed shall be deemed to be the permanent station of such members for BAH entitlement purposes. These rates payable are reflected in Table 26-9

★D. Permanent Duty Station-Active Duty Other Than For Training and No Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Orders. Effective August 2, 1990, the permanent duty station (PDS) for members of Reserve Components ordered to active duty (other than for training and no PCS orders issued) is their monthly drill/training station. The permanent duty station (PDS) for Reserve members who have no monthly drill/training station (i.e., Individual Ready Reserve (IRR), some individual mobilization augmentees (IMA), Standby Reservists, and Retired Reservists) is the place from which they were called/ordered to active duty. Any follow-on duty away from the PDS (to include involuntary reassignment to another Reserve Component unit for the purpose of cross leveling members to support operational missions) is considered TDY/TAD. Therefore, when those members, without dependent, are not furnished government quarters at the PDS, they are entitled to without-dependent BAH under Table 26-3, rule 1, and the BAH will continue for the TDY/TAD periods under Table 26-3, rule 13, even though government quarters are furnished at the TDY/TAD location. See paragraph 260203 for further guidance. The rate payable is based on the locality rate at the members permanent duty station.

★E. Contingency Operations. BAH is authorized to Reservists without dependents, under terms and conditions of chapter 26, when called or ordered to active duty in connection with a contingency operation as defined in 10 U.S.C. 101(a)(13) (reference (c)), who because of the call or order are unable to continue to occupy their primary residence that is owned by the member, or for which the member remains responsible for rent payment. The rate payable is based on the locality rate at the members permanent duty station

F. Annual Certification. See paragraph 260304 for annual certification of dependency requirements.

570503. Family Separation Allowance (FSA)

A. The provision of chapter 27, apply to a member of a Reserve Component on active duty with pay for periods of more than 30 days.

B. A member of a Reserve Component may be entitled to FSA-I or FSA-II (FSA-R, FSA-S, or FSA-T), depending on length of tour specified in orders and whether or not dependent travel is authorized at government expense under Joint Federal Travel Regulations (for example, tour length of over 20 weeks, etc.).

570504. Station Allowances Outside the United States. The provisions of chapter 28 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570505. Clothing Monetary Allowances-Enlisted Members

A. Active Duty for Periods of 6 Months or Less. An enlisted member of a Reserve Component ordered to active duty for 6 months or less is not entitled to a clothing monetary allowance.

B. Active Duty for Periods of More Than 6 Months. See chapter 29 for specific references to enlisted members of the Reserve Components ordered to active duty for periods of more than 6 months.

★C. Initial Cash Allowance for Enlisted Member. An enlisted member of a Reserve Component is entitled to an initial cash allowance for the purchase of items specifically designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to be purchased by the member rather than to be furnished in kind. (See paragraph 290201).

D. Maternity Clothing. Pregnant enlisted women of a Reserve Component are entitled to a supplemental maternity clothing allowance in accordance with the provisions of:

1. Army: AR 700-4 (reference (ax))
2. Navy: DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Table 29-5
3. Air Force: AFR 39-23 (reference (bd)), DFAS-DE 7073.1-M and DFAS-DE 7073.3-M (reference (ap)) and DoDFMR, Volume 7A, Table 29-6.
4. Marine Corps: CO P10120.28 (reference (bb))

570506. Officers' Uniform and Equipment Allowances. See specific references to Reserve officers in chapter 30.

5706 MISCELLANEOUS PAYMENTS

570601. Advance Pay

A. A member of a Reserve Component in receipt of orders for PCS movement (140 days or more) is entitled to advance pay per chapter 32, paragraph 320101. Non-prior-service Army and Air Force enlistees with no prior service may be paid an advance pay under the conditions set forth in Table 32-1, rule 4.

B. A member of a Reserve Component, the Fleet Reserve, or a military retiree who is mobilized or recalled to active duty for any period under the provisions of Title 10, U.S.C 672(a), 673, 673a, 673b, or 688 (reference (c)), is entitled to advance pay and allowances per Chapter 32, paragraph 320102.

570602. Payments on Behalf of Mentally Incompetent Members

A. Active Duty (Not for Training). The provisions of chapter 33 apply to these members.

B. Active Duty for Training. Except as provided in subparagraphs 1 and 2, below, a member of a Reserve Component who becomes mentally incompetent while performing active duty for training has no entitlement to pay and allowances beyond the expiration or termination (whichever is earlier) of the orders that called the member to active duty for training.

1. A member may qualify for disability pay and allowances under the provisions of paragraph 570604, below.

2. A member may be entitled to miscellaneous payments resulting from separation (that is, travel allowance, accrued leave, etc.).

570603. Pay Entitlement of Members Missing, Missing in Action, Interned, etc., and Payments to Dependents. The provisions of chapter 34 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570604. Disability Entitlements for the Reserve Forces

A. Entitlement. See Table 57-3 for disabilities incurred or aggravated after September 29, 1988; use Table 57-4 for disabilities incurred or aggravated between November 15, 1986, and September 29, 1988, inclusive; use Table 57-5 for disabilities incurred prior to November 15, 1986. Pay and allowances under these provisions generally may not be paid for a period of more than 6 months; however, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may extend the period of entitlement beyond 6 months in the interest of fairness and equity.

B. Miscellaneous Provisions

1. Duty Without Pay. Duty without pay is considered for all purposes as if it were duty with pay. The rules in Tables 57-3, 57-4, and 57-5 apply equally to duty with and duty without pay. The rate of pay and allowances applicable is the rate the member would have been entitled to if in a pay status at the time the disability occurred.

2. Incentive Pay for Hazardous Duty. A member who is entitled to any of the incentive pays identified in chapters 22 through 24 on the date of disability continues to be entitled through the ending date of the orders and for the disability period beyond, provided the orders to perform the hazardous duty remain in effect, all performance requirements were met, and any other conditions in chapters 22 through 24 are satisfied.

3. Special Pays. A member who is entitled to any of the special pays in chapters 5 through 21 on the date of disability continues to be entitled through the ending date of the orders and for the disability period beyond, provided the special conditions, if any, in chapters 5 through 21 are satisfied.

4. Disability Not in Line of Duty. In the case of ordered active duty, not in the line of duty determinations cause pay and allowances to cease on the date of expiration of the ordered active duty plus allowable travel time, if any, or on the date member is relieved from active duty by competent authority. In the case of inactive duty performance, not in the line of duty determinations cause pay to cease on the day disability occurs.

5. Leave. Leave does not accrue to a member who is disabled and receiving pay and allowances beyond the ending date of the active duty orders, or the date of performance of inactive duty, as appropriate. If disability retirement or separation proceedings have begun, the period of time while awaiting orders will be first charged against the member's accrued leave.

C. Termination of Pay and Allowances. Subject to the provisions in Table 57-3, 57-4, or 57-5, a member's entitlement to pay and allowances while disabled terminates upon:

1. Retirement.

2. Separation for physical disability.

3. Determination by Military Service medical personnel that the member has recovered sufficiently to perform normal military duties, or when actually restored to normal military duties, whichever occurs first. A member must submit to timely Service medical examination(s) necessary for preparation of required medical certificate(s) in order to extend entitlement to pay and allowances beyond the ordered duty or training period. This provision does not apply to Table 57-3, rules 2, 5, and 8 since the member's entitlements therein are based upon lost civilian income. Likewise, this provision does not apply to Table 57-4, rules 3, 4, 6, 7, 9, and 10 since the member's entitlements therein are based upon lost civilian income whether or not fit for military duty. Civilian earned income does not include retirement income.

4. Discharge from the Reserve Component.

570605. Payments on Behalf of Deceased Members

A. Death Gratuity. The eligible beneficiaries of a member of a Reserve Component are entitled to payment of death gratuity under the provisions of the chapter 36.

B. Settling Deceased Members Accounts. The provisions of chapter 36, section 3602, apply to members of the Reserve Components.

★C. Allowance for Housing to Surviving Dependents. The provisions of section 3603 of this volume apply to the surviving dependents of members of the Reserve Components that were on active duty at the time of death.

570606. Disability Severance Pay

A. A member called or ordered to active duty (other than active duty for training under 10 U.S.C. 270(b)) (reference(c)) for more than 30 days and separated for a physical disability, which was the proximate result of the performance of such duty, is entitled to severance pay if otherwise qualified under appropriate personnel regulations.

B. A member on active duty for 30 days or less, or a member on active duty training for any period (including active duty for training under 10 U.S.C. 270(b)) (reference(c)) and separated for physical disability resulting from injury, is entitled to severance pay when injury was the proximate result of performance of such duty, if otherwise qualified under appropriate personnel regulations.

- C. Computation of severance pay will be as prescribed in chapter 35.

5707 DEDUCTIONS AND COLLECTIONS

570701. Income Tax Withholding

A. Federal Income Tax Withholding (FITW). The FITW provisions of chapter 44 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

B. State Income Tax Withholding (SITW). A Reservist's taxable income for FITW purposes is also subject to state tax withholding providing the state has entered into a withholding agreement with the Secretary of the Treasury as published within the Treasury Financial Manual (reference (de)). See also subparagraph 440106.C of this volume for states that have entered into such an agreement.

C. Legal Residence. Each member must designate a legal residence and report any change of legal residence. The provisions of subparagraph 440106.B, above, apply to members of the Reserve Components.

D. Local Tax Withholding. Only localities having agreements with the Department of the Treasury, as published in the Treasury Financial Manual, are eligible for withholding as follows:

1. When the Reservist resides and performs duty in the same city or county covered by an agreement, withholding is mandatory.

2. When the Reservist performs duty in a city or county other than where he or she resides, but within the same state of legal residence, withholding is mandatory for all jurisdictions with agreements. This includes the Reservist's city and county of residence, as well as the city and county where duty is performed.

3. When a Reservist performs duty in a city or county located in a state where the Reservist does not maintain a residency, and assuming all localities have agreements, withholding is voluntary for the city or county of duty and the city or county of residence.

570702. Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). The provisions of chapter 45 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570703. Deductions for Armed Forces Retirement Home (AFRH). The pay of a member of a Reserve Component is not subject to deductions for AFRH.

★570704. Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (SGLI)

A. Duty in Excess of 30 Days Specified. The provisions of chapter 47 apply to members of the Reserve Components who are under a call or order to duty that does not specify a period of 30 days or less.

B. Duty of 30 Days or Less Specified. The provisions of section 5807 of this volume, apply to members of the Reserve Components who are under a call or order to duty that specifies a period of 30 days or less.

570705. Courts-Martial Sentences. The provisions of chapter 48 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570706. Nonjudicial Punishment. The provisions of chapter 49 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570707. Stoppages and Collections Other Than Courts-Martial Forfeitures. The provisions of chapter 50 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

570708. Allotments for National Guard Members. Members of the National Guard who are not on extended active duty are authorized to make one allotment from pay for the payment of premiums under a group life insurance program sponsored by the state military department in which such member holds a National Guard membership or by the state associations of the National Guard. Details covering the administration of the allotment program for National Guard members are contained in the pay procedural instructions of the Military Services concerned.

570709. TRICARE-Family Member Dental Plan (TRICARE-FMDP). Reserve members on active duty with dependents, who meet the eligibility requirements under chapter 54, may enroll their dependents in the TRICARE-FMDP. Members must intend to be on active duty for the minimum period of enrollment set in chapter 54.

570710. Savings Deposit Program (SDP). Members serving on active duty who meet the eligibility criteria as set forth in chapter 51, sections 5101 and 5102 are eligible to participate in the SDP.

NOTES:

1. A member is considered to be traveling to the duty or training site upon departing residence with the intention of going directly to such duty or training site. A member is considered to be traveling from the duty or training site upon direct return to residence after completion of the duty or training.
2. Failure of the member to provide current and sufficient information as established by administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned may result in discontinuation of pay and allowances.
3. Lost civilian earned income is the difference between the member's normal wages or salary or other earnings (including self-employment earnings) that would have been payable for the disability period had the member been fully engaged in civilian employment, less any payments the member received. Civilian earned income does not include retirement income. The member must report all income from an income protection plan, vacation pay or sick leave that is received during the disability period. If the sum of all these equals or exceeds the member's usual and customary earned income, no pay and allowances payments will be made. Any payments to the member will first be paid as the basic pay element and then, if necessary, as allowances (BAQ and BAS).
4. A member is entitled to compensation (but not point credit) at the rate of 1/30 of monthly basic pay for each scheduled inactive duty training period he or she is unable to attend because of the disability. However, there is no entitlement if, while traveling to or from the training or duty site, the member was disabled because of his or her gross negligence or misconduct. This entitlement will be factored into the pay and allowances payable so that total payments to the member for the disability period do not exceed the pay and allowances of a member of the Regular Component.
5. Any military duty which the member performs will be factored into the pay and allowances payable in note 3 so that the total payments to the member do not exceed the pay and allowances of a member of the Regular Component.
6. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may extend the period of entitlement beyond 6 months in the interests of fairness and equity.
7. There is no entitlement to pay and allowances beyond the training or duty period if the disability resulted from the member's gross negligence or misconduct.
8. There is no entitlement to medical and dental care if the member is disabled because of gross negligence or misconduct and the disability occurred while traveling to or from the training or duty site.
9. Does not include work or study in connection with a correspondence course of an Armed Force or attendance in an inactive status at an educational institution under the sponsorship of an Armed Force or the Public Health Service.
10. A member who is called to active duty to undergo a physical examination, not incident to a call to active duty for more than 30 days, becomes entitled to provisions of rule 1, 2, or 3, as applicable, on the day of incurrence of disability.
11. Earned income is the total amount a member received from civilian employment or self-employment. It includes receipts from an income protection plan, vacation pay, or sick leave the member elects to receive.

If the disability continues beyond this period, or if there is a subsequent recurrence of this disability, entitlement exists to pay and allowances for not more than 6 months, in an amount which equals the member's lost civilian compensation or full pay and allowances, whichever is less (notes 2, 4, 5, and 9)	medical and dental care appropriate for the disability until it cannot be materially improved by further hospitalization or treatment. Member is also entitled to subsistence in kind while hospitalized when not otherwise entitled to BAS (notes 9 and 10).
11				X	(notes 6)

NOTES:

1. A member is considered to be traveling to the duty or training site upon departing residence with the intention of going directly to such duty or training site. A member is considered to be traveling from the duty or training site upon direct return to residence after completion of the duty or training.
2. Failure of the member to provide current and sufficient information as established by administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned may result in discontinuation of disability pay and allowances.
3. Entitlement to pay and allowances for disability beyond the period of the ordered active duty tour is not affected by resumption of normal civilian occupation, including government civilian occupation.
4. Lost civilian compensation is the difference between member's normal wages or salary or other earnings that would have been payable for the disability period had the member been fully engaged in civilian employment, less any reduced payments made to the member. Civilian earned income does not include retirement income. The member must report all leave payments and income protection payments that are received during the disability period. If the sum of these income protection plan or sick leave payments equals or exceeds the member's lost civilian compensation, no pay and allowances payments will be made. Any payments to the member will first be paid as the basic pay element and then, if necessary, as allowances (BAQ and BAS).
5. A member is entitled to compensation (but not point credit) at the rate of 1/30 of monthly basic pay for each scheduled inactive duty training period he or she is unable to attend because of the disability. This entitlement will be factored into the pay and allowances payable in note 4 so that total payments to the member for the disability period do not exceed the pay and allowances of a member of the Regular Component.
6. A member is entitled to compensation (but not point credit) at the rate of 1/30 of monthly basic pay for each scheduled inactive duty training period he or she is unable to attend because of disability incurred in the line of duty while at the training or duty site. Additionally, the member is entitled to the compensation described in the preceding sentence if disabled while traveling to or from the training or duty site unless the disability resulted from the member's gross negligence or misconduct.
7. Any military duty which the member performs will be factored into the pay and allowances payable in note 4 so that the total payments to the member do not exceed the pay and allowances of a member of the Regular Component.
8. Entitlement to disability pay and allowances exists for a period not to exceed a total of 6 months unless the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines otherwise.

Table 57-4. Disability Entitlements for the Reserve Forces (For Disabilities Incurred or Aggravated Between 15 Nov 1986 and 29 Sep 1988 Inclusive) (Continued)

9. There is no entitlement to disability pay and allowances or medical and dental care if the member is disabled because of gross negligence or misconduct and the disability occurred while traveling directly to or from the training or duty site.
10. The member is entitled to travel and transportation, or a monetary allowance, for travel incident to medical and dental care. Member is also entitled to subsistence in kind during hospitalization when not entitled to BAS.
11. Does not include work or study in connection with a correspondence course of an Armed Force or attendance in an inactive status at an education institution under the sponsorship of an Armed Force or the Public Health Service.

NOTES:

1. For the purpose of medical and disability entitlements, a member is considered in a travel status upon departing residence with the intention of going directly to the place where ordered to perform duty and terminates upon direct return to residence upon completion of the tour of duty.
2. Member is also entitled to hospitalization, rehospitalization, and medical and surgical care in a hospital or at home. Entitlement exists only until the disability cannot be materially improved by further hospitalization or treatment. Member is also entitled to necessary transportation to the hospital and return home.
3. Member is entitled to receive medical, hospital, and other treatment appropriate for the disability at government expense. The treatment will be continued until the disability resulting from the illness or disease cannot be materially improved by further treatment. Such a member is also entitled to necessary transportation and subsistence incident to treatment and return to home upon discharge from treatment.
4. Entitlement to active duty pay and allowances and medical benefits commensurate with the Regular forces is not affected by resumption of normal civilian occupation and includes government civilian occupation.
5. Failure of the member to provide current and sufficient information as established by administrative regulations of the Military Service concerned may result in the discontinuance of active duty pay and allowances.
6. The term "hospitalization or rehospitalization" is meant to include periods of disability while under medical treatment in an outpatient status. See paragraph 570604.

CHAPTER 58

PAY AND ALLOWANCES FOR INACTIVE DUTY TRAINING

5801 GENERAL PROVISIONS

580101. Entitlement and Computation of Basic and Special Pay

A. Inactive Duty Training With Pay. A member of a Reserve Component is entitled to compensation at the rate of one-thirtieth of the basic pay prescribed for grade and years' service for the performance of each authorized period of:

1. Regular inactive duty training (drill or unit training assembly (UTA));
2. Equivalent training, instruction, or duty;
 - a. Army: For details and exceptions, see AR 140-1 and NGR 350-1 (reference (df)).
 - b. Navy: See BUPERS Instruction 1001.39(C) Series (reference (dg)).
 - c. Air Force: See ANGM 50-01 and Table 11-1, AFR 35-41 (reference (dh)).
 - d. Marine Corps: See MCO P1001R.1J (reference (di)).
3. Appropriate duty;
4. Additional flying training period (AFTP); or
5. Additional inactive duty training.

To qualify for pay for a period of inactive duty training, each member must engage in such duty or training for the period (not less than 2 hours) prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. Compensation will not accrue for periods of inactive duty performed in excess of the number authorized by the appropriate regulations of the Military Service concerned. NOTE: A member cannot qualify for pay for more than two periods of inactive duty training during a single calendar day.

B. Inactive Duty Training Without Pay. Members of the Reserve Components may, with their consent, be ordered to inactive duty training without pay when authorized by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

C. Combination Active Duty and Inactive Duty. A member of a Reserve Component may be paid the equivalent total of more than pay for 360 days' pay in a year, when so directed, if this total is based on a combination of active duty pay and inactive duty training compensation.

580102. Limitation. A member cannot accrue compensation for inactive duty training performed on a day on which also entitled to basic pay for active duty or active duty for training or on a day on which entitled to muster duty allowance.

580103. Waiver of Benefits. The provisions of paragraph 570104, above, apply to members of the Reserve Components who perform inactive duty training in a pay status.

580104. Allotment of Pay. Except as prescribed in paragraph 570708, above, members of the Reserve Components are not authorized to allot inactive duty training compensation.

580105. Special Pays

A. Members of the Reserve Components are not entitled to special pay for periods of inactive duty except as noted in the following subparagraphs.

B. A member of a Reserve Component who meets the requirements of section 1901 of this volume and any additional requirements of the Military Service concerned, is entitled to foreign language proficiency pay for each regular period of instruction or period of appropriate duty at which the member is engaged for at least 2 hours. This includes instruction received or duty performed on a Sunday or holiday and each period of performance of such equivalent training, instruction duty, or appropriate duties as the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may prescribe.

C. A member under conditions cited in subparagraph B, above, is entitled to an increase in compensation equal to one-thirtieth of the monthly special pay authorized under paragraph 190103 of this volume.

D. A member of a Reserve Component who meets the requirements of Chapter 11 of this volume, based on diving duty performed on and after April 1, 1988, is entitled to diving duty pay for each regular period of instruction, or period of appropriate duty at which the member is engaged for at least 2 hours. This includes instruction received or duty performed on a Sunday or holiday and each period of performance of such equivalent training, instruction duty, or appropriate duties as the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may prescribe.

E. A member under conditions cited in subparagraph D, above, is entitled to an increase in compensation equal to one-thirtieth of the monthly special pay authorized for performance of diving duty for the comparable diving classification under section 1103 of this volume.

580106. Muster Duty Allowance (MDA) for Reservists

A. Entitlement. A member of the Ready Reserve who is not a member of the National Guard or the Selected Reserve is entitled to a MDA for a minimum of 2 hours muster duty performed pursuant to 10 U.S.C. 12319 (reference (c)). An MDA is paid once during a calendar year.

B. Amount Payable. Refer to Joint Federal Travel Regulations (JFTR), Volume 1, Chapter 7 (reference (d)), for MDA amount, established yearly, effective January 1 of each year. The MDA amount is payable effective January 1 of each year. The MDA amount is payable regardless of pay grade.

C. Collections. From the MDA, collect:

1. FITW at the rate for one-time payments.
2. SITW at the rate appropriate for one-time payments.
3. SGLI premium of $.50 or $1.00. Members who perform muster duty are covered part-time under the SGLI Program. Coverage is at the maximum Basic Coverage rate of $100,000 with a $.50 deduction unless the member elects to waive coverage or applies (elects) for SSGLI at the maximum additional rate of $100,000 with a deduction of $1.00. Members may be covered for either $100,000 or $200,000, or may decline coverage. See Table 47-1 for coverage effective dates.
4. Do not collect FICA taxes.

D. Pay the allowance on or before the date muster duty is performed. The allowance may be paid to a Ready Reservist before, on, or after the date on which muster duty is performed, but not 30 days after that date. The Ready Reservist is not entitled to other payment of any kind, including inactive duty training compensation under paragraph 580101, above, for the performance of a muster duty.

580107. Designated Unit Pay

A. An enlisted member assigned to a unit designated as a high priority unit of the Selected Reserve by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned is, while performing inactive duty training for compensation, entitled to a maximum of $10 designated unit pay for the performance of each authorized period of:

1. Regular inactive duty training (drill or unit training assembly); or
2. Equivalent training, instruction, or duty, provided each authorized period is not less than 4-hours duration. Authorized periods may be performed on a Sunday or a legal holiday.

B. An enlisted member of designated unit is entitled to designated unit pay for authorized periods of drill or duty performed with a nondesignated unit, but enlisted members of a nondesignated unit may not receive designated unit pay for authorized periods of drill or duty performed with a designated unit.

C. Designated unit pay is subject to federal and state withholding, but is not subject to FICA taxation.

★D. No payment of designated unit pay may be made for any period before the date the Secretary of the Military Department concerned designates a unit as a high priority unit, nor may any payment be made for any period of drill or instruction performed after September 30, 1998.

5802 INCENTIVE PAY

580201. Entitlement. Members of the Reserve Components who are in a pay status are entitled to incentive pay for hazardous duty performed during periods of inactive duty training if serving under competent orders and otherwise meets the requirements of this section. Members entitled to incentive pay for hazardous duty are entitled to an increase in compensation equal to one-thirtieth the applicable monthly rate for each authorized period of inactive duty training of not less than 2 hours.

580202. ACIP (Continuous or Conditional) or HDIP. Members of the Reserve Components who perform inactive duty training in a pay status are entitled to ACIP or incentive pay for flying under the conditions of sections 2201 or 2202 of this volume. Effective July 12, 1973, the provision of subparagraphs 220103.A.1 or 220203.A.1, regarding the use of hours flown during the preceding 5 months not already used to qualify for flight pay, are equally applicable to members otherwise eligible who are performing inactive duty training. Exception: Minimum flight requirements are one-half of those prescribed for a member on active duty, that is, 2 hours per month when the calendar month is the unit period. If a fraction of a calendar month is the unit period, flying time required for such period will be as shown in Table 22-2 under "Inactive Duty." A member who has performed less than the total number of regularly scheduled drills or unit training assemblies during a month or a fractional part of a month must meet the minimum flight requirements for the month, or fraction thereof, in order to be entitled to any flying pay for the drills or unit training assemblies actually performed. When scheduled inactive duty training was not attended and performed in a subsequent month, flying pay for such period(s) is payable, provided the member met minimum flight requirements for each period involved.

★A. Combined Flight Requirements. When a member performs both active and inactive duty with pay in the same month, designated flying time earned in that month may be combined to satisfy any ACIP or Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) flight requirements for that month.

★1. Active and inactive duty flying time may be combined for application to flight requirements only in the month in which the flying is performed. Combined flying time that is in excess of the requirements of the month in which actually performed, or that otherwise cannot be used in the month earned, must be redistributed into active and inactive flying time categories. Combined flying time may be applied only to other monthly flight requirements (see Chapter 22) for the appropriate status category into which redistributed (i.e., active duty flying time for active duty requirements and inactive duty flying time for inactive duty requirements). Combined flying time will be applied and any excess or unused time will be divided and placed into appropriate categories as set forth below. Note: Unless the member is performing continuous active duty in excess of 30 days, or unless the active duty period extends unbroken over parts of two months, the excess/unused active flying duty hours may not be banked for potential application to other requirements.

a. When the hours flown while on active duty are in excess of the active duty flight requirement of the month and the hours flown during the inactive duty period are also in excess of the inactive duty flight requirement of the month; all excess hours will be retained in their respective categories for application to the requirements for other months, if otherwise allowable.

Example 1: A member performed 15 days active duty and was in an inactive duty training status 15 days in the same calendar month. The member performed 5.0 hours of flying duty while on active duty and 1.5 hours while on inactive duty. The 5.0 hours earned while on active duty are excess to the 2 hours required, and the 1.5 hours earned while on inactive duty are excess to the 1.0 hours required. The 3.0 hours that are in excess of the active duty requirement will be “banked” as active duty time, if the criteria of the note in 580202.A.1 are met. The 0.5 hours excess to the inactive duty requirement will be banked as inactive duty time.

b. When the hours flown while on active duty are in excess of the active duty flight requirement of the month, and the hours flown during the inactive duty period are insufficient for the inactive duty flight requirement of the month, the excess active duty hours will be applied to the inactive duty requirement. Any remaining excess or unused active duty hours will be retained for application to the requirements for other months of active duty, if otherwise allowable. If the excess active duty hours applied to the inactive duty requirement are not sufficient to meet the inactive duty requirement for that month, then any banked inactive hours shall also be applied. If the inactive duty requirement is still not satisfied, all hours revert to their respective categories to be used in meeting the requirements for other months, as allowable.

Example 2: A member performed 15 days active duty and was in an inactive duty training status 15 days in the same calendar month. Member performed 5.0 hours of flying duty while on active duty and 0.5 hours while on inactive duty. The active duty flying time is in excess of the active duty requirement of 2.0 hours, while the inactive flying time is insufficient for the inactive duty requirement of 1.0 hours. Apply 0.5 of the excess active duty hours to the inactive requirement. The remaining 2.5 excess active duty hours may be banked as active duty time, if the criteria of the note in 580202A.1 are met.

c. When the hours flown while on active duty are insufficient for the active duty flight requirement of the month, and the hours flown during the inactive duty period are in excess of the inactive duty flight requirement of the month, the excess inactive duty hours will be applied to the active duty requirement. Any remaining excess or unused inactive duty hours will be retained for application to inactive duty requirements in a subsequent month. If the excess inactive duty hours applied to the active duty requirement are not sufficient for the months' active duty requirement, then any banked active duty hours shall be applied. If the active duty requirement is still not satisfied, all hours revert to their respective categories for use in meeting requirements for other months, as allowable.

Example 3: A member performed 15 days active duty and was in an inactive duty training status 15 days in the same calendar month. The member performed 0.5 hours of flying duty while on active duty and 1.5 hours while on inactive duty. The member has 0.0 hours of active duty flying time and 3.0 of inactive flying time banked. The active duty flying time is insufficient for the active duty requirement of 2.0 hours and the inactive flying time is in excess of the inactive duty requirement of 1.0 hours. Apply the 0.5 excess inactive duty hours to the active duty requirement. Combined, the active duty and inactive duty flying time is short of the requirement by 1.0 hours. In this case, there are no banked active duty hours and the active duty requirement remains unfulfilled. Therefore, the 0.5 unused active duty hours may be banked as active duty time if the criteria of the note in 580202.A.1 are met and the 0.5 hours of unused inactive duty time will be banked as inactive duty time.

d. When the hours flown while on active duty are insufficient for the active duty flight requirement of the month and the hours flown during the inactive duty period are also insufficient for the inactive duty flight requirement of the month, the hours will be applied in the following sequence. First, the inactive duty hours flown will be applied to the active duty requirement. If the combined active and inactive duty hours flown are not sufficient for the active duty requirement, then any banked active duty hours shall also be applied. If the active duty requirement is still not satisfied, the active duty hours flown will instead be applied to the inactive duty requirement. If the combined active and inactive duty hours flown are not sufficient for the inactive duty requirement, then any banked inactive duty hours shall also be applied. If the inactive duty requirement is still not satisfied, all hours revert to their respective categories use in meeting requirements for other months, as allowable.

Example 4: A member performed 15 days active duty and was in an inactive duty training status 15 days in the same calendar month. The member performed 0.3 hours of flying duty while on active duty and 0.4 hours while on inactive duty. The member has 0.1 hours of active duty flying time (as a result of a period of active duty that began near the middle of the previous month and was continuous into the present month) and 0.2 hours of inactive duty flying time banked. The active duty flying time is insufficient for the active duty requirement of 2.0 hours and the inactive flying time is insufficient for the inactive duty requirement of 1.0 hours. First, apply the 0.4 hours of the inactive duty flying time to the active duty requirement. Combined, the active duty and inactive duty flying time is short of the requirement by 1.3 hours. In this case, there are 0.1 of banked active duty hours, but that also is insufficient and the active duty requirement remains unfulfilled. Next, apply the 0.3 hours of the active duty flying time to the inactive duty requirement. Again, the coverage is not sufficient, being 0.3 hours short of the inactive duty requirement. In this case, there are 0.2 hours of banked inactive duty hours, but that also is insufficient and the inactive duty requirement remains unfulfilled. Finally, since neither the active nor the inactive requirements could be fulfilled, the unused time will be banked as allowed. The unused 0.3 hours of active flying time may be banked as active duty time, if the criteria of the note in subparagraph 1 is met and the unused 0.4 hours of inactive flying time will be banked as inactive duty time.

2. Active Duty of Less Than One Calendar Month Covering Parts of Two Calendar Months. When active duty of less than 1 month covers parts of 2 consecutive calendar months, flights performed on inactive duty training may be combined to satisfy requirements for the whole period of active duty if the inactive duty flight requirements for both months have been met.

Example 1: A member performed 3.4 hours of flying while on an inactive duty training status from April 1-23. The member did not fly during active duty for training period of April 24 -May 7, or while in an inactive duty training status May 8-31. A total of 1.1 excess flying hours were accumulated before April 1. Flying time of 3.4 hours is first applied to the inactive duty training flight requirements for April (1.6 hours) and then to active duty flight requirements for April (1.0 hours). The .8 excess flying hours during April added to the 1.1 excess flying hours accumulated before April results in 1.9 excess flying hours available to apply against May flight requirements. Flight time in May totals 2.6 hours (24 days inactive duty requires 1.6 hours; 7 days of active duty requires 1.0 hours; see Table 22-2.) Accumulated excess hours first are applied to the inactive duty training flight requirements. Do not credit pay for the period 1-7 May since only 0.3 unused hours available is less than the 1.0 hours requirement.

Example 2: A member performed the following flights while on active and inactive duty training during parts of 2 calendar months. No excess flying hours were available on March 1.

Periods	Time Flown	Flight Requirements
(Inactive)
March 1	1.8 hrs	1 hr
(Active)
March 16-31	1.2 hrs	2.2 hrs
(Active)
April 1-9	1 hr	1.2 hrs
(Inactive)
April 10-30	1.6 hrs	1.4 hrs

NOTE: The continuous period of active duty training (March 16-April 9) is a unit period of 25 days, which requires 3.4 hours flying time. For that reason, the 31st day of March imposes required flying time. Since this member is unable to meet the flight requirements for the active duty flight period which covers parts of 2 calendar months, it is necessary to determine if the member can meet the requirements for a single month. Entitlement for the month of March requires a composite of only 3 hours of flying time, and the month of April requires 2.6 hours. Thus, the member qualifies for flying pay for each inactive duty period and for the active duty training periods.

★B. Additional Flying Training Periods. A member who performs an additional flying training period (AFTP) in a pay status, if otherwise qualified, is entitled to incentive pay for flying if he or she meets the flight requirements of this paragraph for the month in which the AFTP is performed. Flying time accumulated during an AFTP may be used to satisfy requirements for inactive duty training and under the provisions of subparagraphs 580202 A.1 and 2, may also be used for requirements for periods of active duty or active duty for training.

C. Operational Flying. Flying duty required by competent orders and performed by members of a Reserve Component, irrespective of unit of assignment, is considered to be operational flying.

580203. Continuous ACIP. An officer of a Reserve Component who performs inactive duty training in a pay status is entitled to continuous ACIP so long as the requirements are met for an aviation service career (not on extended active duty) defined in the Definitions and the provisions of section 2202 of this volume.

580204. Submarine Duty Pay. A member of a Reserve Component who participates in scheduled drills aboard a submarine during underway operations, while under competent orders, and in a pay status, is entitled to incentive pay for submarine duty.

580205. Parachute Duty Pay. A member of a Reserve Component who performs inactive duty training in a pay status is entitled to incentive pay for parachute duty under the provisions of section 2402 of this volume.

A. Parachute jumps performed during periods of inactive duty training or active duty for training qualify a member for incentive pay for either type of duty.

B. Parachute jumps performed while on extended active duty do not qualify a member for incentive pay for inactive duty training. (See paragraph 570101, note, in this volume.)

580206. Flight Deck Duty, Demolition Duty and Experimental Stress Duty. A member of a Reserve Component who performs inactive duty training in a pay status is entitled to incentive pay under provisions of Chapter 24 of this volume.

5803 RESERVED5804 ALLOWANCES

580401. Clothing Monetary Allowances, Enlisted Members. Except as provided for in subparagraphs 580401.A through C, below, an enlisted member of a Reserve Component is not entitled to any cash clothing allowances when on inactive duty training.

A. Special Initial Clothing Monetary Allowance (Navy). Enlisted members of the Naval Reserve, who are assigned to Selected Reserve units or non-pay units, are entitled to a special initial clothing monetary allowance in the amount of one-half the special initial clothing monetary allowance prescribed for chief petty officers on active duty:

1. Upon first promotion to chief petty officer;
2. Upon joining a pay selected Reserve unit or non-pay unit, if in pay grade E-7 or above, provided they have not previously been paid a cash clothing allowance for an initial outfit of clothing.

B. Quarterly Maintenance Clothing Allowance (Navy). Chief petty officers of the Naval Reserve who are assigned to Selected Reserve units, or non-pay units, and who have participated in a minimum of 75 percent of the regularly scheduled drills in the quarter concerned, are entitled to a Reserve quarterly maintenance clothing allowance (RMA) in the amount of $9.00 per quarter. Participation in authorized equivalent drills and drills missed as a result of active duty for training will be considered participation in regularly scheduled drills for purposes of entitlement to an RMA. A chief petty officer who is advanced to that grade or who becomes a member of a pay unit in a pay or non-pay status on other than the first day of a quarter is not entitled to a quarterly allowance until the first day of the next quarter. The allowance will not be paid for a fractional part of a quarter.

C. Initial Cash Allowance for Female Enlisted Member. A female enlisted member of a Reserve Component is entitled to an initial cash allowance for the purchase of underclothing and personal items not available in the defense supply system as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. (See paragraph 290205 of this volume.)

580402. Officers' Uniform and Equipment Allowances

A. Initial Uniform Allowance. An officer of a Reserve Component is entitled to an initial uniform allowance upon completing 14 periods of inactive duty training as an officer in the Ready Reserve, provided each period is of at least 2 hours duration. See also Chapter 30, section 3002 of this volume.

B. Repeal and Save Pay Provision of Uniform Maintenance Allowance. The authority (37 U.S.C. 416(a) (reference (aa)) for payment of the uniform maintenance allowance in subparagraph 580402.C, below, was repealed by the Congress effective November 29, 1989. However, a save pay provision was enacted which provides that an officer of a Reserve Component who, but for the repeal of the authority for the uniform maintenance allowance, would have become entitled to such allowance before the end of the one-year period beginning on November 29, 1989, shall be entitled (during such one-year period) to receive the allowance as in effect on November 28, 1989.

C. Uniform Maintenance Allowance. An officer of a Reserve Component who has not become entitled to a uniform allowance during the preceding 4 years is entitled to $50.00 as reimbursement for the purchase of required uniforms and equipment upon completion of each period, after July 9, 1952, of 4 years of satisfactory federal service (SFS) in an active Reserve status in one or more Reserve Components, including at least 28 days of active duty or active duty for training. A year of SFS is any year in which member is credited with 50 points earned as a member of a Reserve Component of an Armed Force or in the Army or Air Force without component.

1. Restrictions. The following periods of service will not be included in the computation of 4 years of SFS:

a. Any period of active duty or active duty for training of more than 90 consecutive days.

b. Any period of duty during which the officer is not required to wear the uniform.

c. Any service as an enlisted member of the Reserve Components.

d. A 4 year period of SFS completed before October 3, 1964, if part of the service was performed in a different Reserve Component. However, a 4 year period of SFS completed on or after October 3, 1964 may include service in a different Reserve Component, even though such service was performed before October 3, 1964. (See example 1.)

2. Examples of Uniform Maintenance Allowance (UMA) Conditions:

Example 1: An officer completed 2 years of SFS in the Air Force Reserve on March 3, 1965, at which time the Reserve unit was inactivated. On April 1, 1965, the officer transferred to an ANG unit and, thereafter earned points as follows:

April 1, 1965 - March 31 1966	50 points
April 1, 1966 - March 31, 1967	50 points

On April 1, 1967, it was determined that the officer had completed 2 years of SFS in the ANG as of March 31, 1967. This may be combined with the 2 years of SFS earned in the Air Force Reserve unit to qualify the officer for UMA of $50.00 as of March 31, 1967.

Example 2: An officer completed 2 years of SFS in the Army Reserve on March 31, 1963, at which time the Reserve unit was inactivated. On April 1, 1963, the officer transferred to an ANG unit, and was paid an initial uniform allowance because a different uniform was required and, thereafter earned points as follows:

April 1, 1963 - March 31, 1964	50 points
April 1, 1964 - March 31, 1965	50 points
April 1, 1965 - March 31, 1966	50 points
April 1, 1966 - March 31, 1967	50 points

On 1 April 1966, it was determined that the officer had completed 2 years of SFS in the ANG as of March 31, 1966. This may be combined with the 2 years of SFS earned in the Army Reserve to give the officer a total of 4 years of SFS. However, a UMA was not payable until April 1, 1967, 4 years after the date the officer was paid the initial uniform allowance. Note that the required period of 4 years since entitlement to the last allowance (an initial allowance in this case) does not have to be 4 years of SFS.

Example 3: An officer completed 2 years of SFS in the Army Reserve on March 31, 1963, and transferred to the Marine Corps Reserve on April 1, 1963. The officer was immediately called to active duty for more than 90 days and qualified for both the initial and active duty allowances, thereafter earning points as follows:

1 Apr 1963 - 30 July 1963	(Note 1)
1 July 1963 - 31 Mar 1964	30 points
1 Apr 1964 - 31 Mar 1965	50 points
1 Apr 1965 - 15 July 1965	(Note 2)
1 Apr 1965 - 31 Mar 1966	30 points
1 Apr 1966 - 31 Mar 1967	50 points

NOTES:

1. Active duty (must be excluded).
2. Active duty (must be excluded, officer did not qualify for active duty allowance).

On 1 April 1965, it was determined that the officer completed 1 year of SFS for UMA purposes as of 30 June 1964.

On 1 April 1966, it was determined that the officer had not completed another year of SFS for UMA purposes as of June 30, 1965, because the period of active duty, April 1-July 15, 1965, had to be excluded. However, it was determined that the year of SFS was completed as of October 31, 1965. These 2 years may be combined with the 2 years of SFS earned in the Army Reserve to give the officer 4 years of SFS. However, payment of the $50.00 UMA could not be made until April 1, 1967, 4 years after entitlement to last allowance.

Example 4: An officer began a 4-year period of federal service on July 1, 1949 and earned points as follows:

1 July 1949 - 30 June 1950	50 points
1 July 1950 - 30 Sep 1950	(Note)
1 July 1950 - 30 June 1951	30 points
1 July 1951 - 30 June 1952	50 points
1 July 1952 - 30 June 1953	50 points
1 July 1953 - 30 June 1954	50 points

NOTE: Active duty (more than 90 days, must be excluded; officer did not qualify for active duty allowance).

While this officer had completed the 4 years of SFS on September 30, 1953 to qualify for the $50.00 UMA, this could not be determined until July 1, 1954, when the officer completed the year of SFS from July 1, 1953, to June 30, 1954, and was credited with the $50.00 UMA on July 1, 1954.

Example 5: An officer began a 4-year period of federal service on July 1, 1949, and earned points as follows:

1 July 1949 - 30 June 1950	50 points
1 July 1950 - 30 June 1951	30 points
1 Oct 1950 - 31 Dec 1950	(Note)
1 July 1951 - 30 June 1952	50 points
1 July 1952 - 30 June 1953	50 points
1 July 1953 - 30 June 1954	50 points
1 July 1954 - 30 June 1955	50 points

NOTE: Active duty (more than 90 days, must be excluded, officer qualified for active duty allowance of $100).

On July 1, 1954, it was determined that the officer had completed 4 years of SFS as of October 2, 1953. However, the member was not entitled to the $50.00 UMA until 4 years after date of entitlement to the last allowance, which was October 1, 1950. The member was credited with the $50.00 UMA on October 1, 1954.

5805 MISCELLANEOUS PAYMENTS

580501. Pay and Allowances While Disabled

See paragraph 570604 of this volume for entitlements when a member of a Reserve Component is disabled while performing inactive duty training.

580502. Payment on Behalf of Deceased Members

A. Death Gratuity. The eligible beneficiaries of a member of a Reserve Component are entitled to payment of death gratuity, regardless of whether death occurred in the line of duty or was the result of the member's misconduct, if member dies:

1. While on inactive duty training.
2. While traveling directly to or from inactive duty training.
3. Within 120 days after discharge or release from inactive duty training, if the Department of Veteran's Affairs (VA) determines that death resulted from an injury or disease incurred or aggravated while performing, or traveling directly to or from such training.

B. Eligible Beneficiaries. The provisions of Table 36-1 apply to members of the Reserve Components.

C. Determining Eligible Beneficiaries. The provisions of paragraph 360104 of this volume apply to members of the Reserve Components.

D. Determination Affecting Entitlement. The provisions of paragraph 360105 of this volume apply to members of the Reserve Components.

E. Amounts Payable. The provisions of paragraph 360106 of this volume apply to members of the Reserve Components.

F. Expediting Payments. The provisions of paragraph 360107 of this volume apply to members of the Reserve Components.

G. Erroneous Payment. The provisions of paragraph 360109 of this volume apply to members of the Reserve Components.

H. Settling Deceased Member's Accounts. The provisions of section 3602 of this volume, apply to members of the Reserve Components.

580503. Disability Severance Pay

A. A member who performs inactive duty training and is separated for physical disability due to injury which was the proximate result of the performance of such duty, is entitled to severance pay if otherwise qualified under appropriate personnel regulations.

B. Computation of severance pay will be as prescribed in Chapter 35 of this volume.

580504. Reservists' Special Separation Pay (RSSP)

A. Eligibility. Upon approval of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, pay RSSP to a Reservist who has served more than 20 years of service but who has not reached his/her 60th birthday and meets the following conditions:

1. The member must apply for such pay and request transfer to the Retired Reserve on or after March 11, 1993.

2. The member must have completed at least 20 years of service computed under 10 U.S.C. 12732 (reference (c)), and be qualified to receive nonregular retired pay (except for having reached the age of 60), not later than September 30, 1999.

3. Members who are authorized to receive early (completed at least 15 but less than 20 years of service as computed under 10 U.S.C. 12732 (reference (c))) nonregular retired pay at age 60 are not authorized to receive RSSP.

4. Members are not eligible to receive RSSP if they are entitled to immediate payment of retired or retainer pay based solely on military service.

B. Computation of Annual Payment

1. Using an official statement of service, determine the member's total years of creditable service under 10 U.S.C. 12732 (reference (c)) as of the date of transfer to the Retired Reserve. (Do not pay RSSP if the member has less than 20 years of service.) Round total years down to the nearest whole year.

2. Using the total years determined above, determine the multiplier from the following Table:

Years of Service	Multiplier
20	5.0%
21	5.5%
22	6.0%
23	6.5%
24	7.0%
25	7.5%
26	8.0%
27	8.5%
28	9.0%
29	9.5%
30 or more	10.0%

3. Compute annual RSSP installment by multiplying 12 times the monthly basic pay to which the member would be entitled if the member were serving on active duty on the date the member transfers to the Retired Reserve times the multiplier.

4. Subject to the exception set out below, pay the member a maximum of five installments, the number of installments being as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. Pay the first installment on the member's date of transfer to the Retired Reserve. Any additional installments are due on successive anniversary dates. Do not make any payments after a member reaches age 60. For transfers which occur after October 5, 1994, prorate any installment, including the initial payment, which is due the member after the member's 59th birthday but before the member's 60th birthday. See example 2 below.

Example 1: A member who was born June 5, 1937, and who has 23 years 10 months of creditable service under 10 U.S.C. 12732 (reference (c)), and who has 28 years total service for pay purposes (includes service not creditable under 10 U.S.C. 12732 (reference (c))), transfers to the retired reserve on June 19, 1993, in the grade E-8, and the Secretary of the Military Department concerned approves payment of RSSP. Years of creditable service for RSSP purposes is 23 years (the 10 months are rounded down), with a multiplier of 6.5 percent basic pay for an E-8 with 28 years for pay purposes is $2808.60. The member's RSSP is $2190.71 ($$2808.60 \times 12 \times .065$). Pay an initial installment of $2190.71 on June 19, 1993, with additional installments on June 19, 1994, June 19, 1995, and June 19, 1996. Since the member's 60th birthday will occur before the next installment date of June 19, 1997, no further payment will be made.
